UNCUT CORRESPONDANCE

PRaise THE LACE...

I just received my first issue of Foreskin Quarterly and must compliment you on such a great publication. Unfortunately, there is little or nothing out on the market to satisfy one's fancy with reference to foreskins. Thank you and much luck with future issues.

C. M.
Los Angeles

Impressive and gorgeous first issue, especially the centerfold. FQ is certain to attract many admirers. Great work. Mark me down for a lifetime subscription.

San Francisco, CA

After perusing the first issue of FQ, can't resist the urge to send off a word of thanks, congratulations, and admiration. My marine experience with tide gauges leads me to believe you are raising the level with masterful intuitive management of the flood gate.

J.S.
St. Petersburg, FL

First, with the Uncircumcised Society of America Newsletter, you got the foreskin/circumcision closet door open. Then, with the book Foreskin, you got the door off its hinges. Now, with FQ, you have removed the hinges, if not the whole wall. You have thrust the foreskin consciousness of this country ahead by light years. You deserve the Nobel Prize.

J.E.
Biloxi, MS

I first saw FQ at a meeting of the Uncut Club of Los Angeles. I jacked off three times while reading it.

J.S.
West Hollywood, CA

I received FQ last week and haven't been able to put it down! It's wonderful! No matter how many pages there are, there will never be enough!

B.K.
Lindenhurst, NY

I enjoyed FQ immensely. On first reading I thought it was too oriented toward anti-circumcision (I am pro-circumcision). But subsequent readings brought my cock to full-erection, so there was enough in the magazine to satisfy my interests.

London, England

WEARING IT BACK

When your correspondents mention uncut males who wear their foreskins peeled back, they generally assume they are trying to pass as circumcised. I doubt that is always true. One of the advantages of having a foreskin—at least for some guys—is you can wear it either way, depending on weather, activity, or mood. In the summer it's nice to be cool and dry. If you're going to a party, having the underside of the skin exposed and gently rubbed inside your clothes can be erotically stimulating. Unless the frenulum is cut, most guys can't keep the skin back without some aid: a thin strip of surgical tape or a small rubber band will do. Isn't there a market for a simple, non-abrasive, plastic device for the uncut when they want to show some head?

In this area, health plans are beginning to refuse to pay for routine neo-natal circumcision and pediatricians are beginning to recommend against it. One local pediatrician tells new mothers it is barbaric. Is this a national development?

UNCUT GENERATIONS

Am uncut, nearly 60 years of age, with two uncut sons and one uncut grandson. In this day and age with all the pressures of circumcision in the hospital and elsewhere, this seems rather remarkable. Having been born in the depression, when money for such unnecessary things as having a circumcision was just not available, I was spared being cut, but was told "if we catch you playing with yourself we'll have the end cut off." Later, in the army, I was lucky to escape the mutilation, although sometimes I wonder how I managed to avoid it.

SKIN AT LAST!

It's about time someone came out with a great skin magazine. It's hard to find good stories and pictures of uncut cocks elsewhere. I walked into my favorite bookstore and saw your magazine and bought two, so I could cut some photos out of one copy and still have one to keep.

I'm sorry to say I lost my lace at age fourteen. It was tragic for me, but I had to. Now all I can do is hunt for hot skin dick and try to get my fill.

I'm married, and my wife completely understands me and my likes, so that's no problem. The problem is finding draped meat. I come across it once in a while. I have a regular, a dude who comes over when he wants some raunchy sex. He's hung well and has one of those long, loose and wrinkled-up skins. When he comes over it's to get it cleaned out. He does not wash and his body smells of sweat. I lick and clean his hairy armpits, then lick down his smelly body and take long sniffs at his stinking crotch. I like to take my tongue and slip it under the skin and lick it away. When he's ready to make it, we kneel, facing each other, and he clamps his skin over the head of my dick and we masturbate. When we both come off, he holds the skin tight and lets me get down on his cock to drink both our loads.

Other times he kneels over my face, slaps his smelly balls against my mouth, and jacks off. When he comes he sprays that slime all over me and rubs it into my face, over my lips, and lets me clean him off, working from his cock, over his balls, and into his sweaty, hairy asshole.

Sometimes he likes to fuck, and I

WET SKIN

I read the first issue of your newspaper and really liked it. I've always wanted to read a magazine like Foreskin Quarterly and am glad that now there is something like this for all us foreskin freaks.

Other than playing with my foreskin, my favorite thing is pissing through it. I know some guys pull their skin back when they take a piss, but I like to watch the golden stream come out from under the folds of my skin. There's a toilet in the train station that has a peek hole between one of the stalls and the urinal that runs along the wall. It's not a glory hole, so you can only look through it, but I have watched many, many uncut guys piss into the urinal from this peek hole. Sometimes you'll see two guys there and sometimes they'll be checking each other out while they're pissing. I've only seen a few blow jobs happen at the urinal—but there's a lot of traffic in this toilet, being a train station, so it probably isn't very easy to suck someone off all the way.

The uncut guys usually pull their foreskin back before they piss. I guess they are trying to keep from getting piss stains on their pants. My dad taught me to pull my foreskin back when I pissed. He was uncut too, and he showed me how when we both stood at the toilet bowl and pissed together.

Sometimes I'll see a guy piss in the urinal that only pulls back his skin a little bit, just to clear the slit. I like to stand over the toilet and just let my go crazy over the feel of that skin up my ass. His come is hot and sticky and smells so fucking wild.

My wife likes giving my cut cock head—but there's nothing as tasty as uncut pricks, in either flavor or odor.

R.F.

dick hang down when I piss.

One time I tricked with a guy who clamped his foreskin closed with his fingers so that the piss would fill up the foreskin and make his cock look like it had a big ball on the head, then let it go. I've done that, too. I think it stretches the skin real good. If you've got a tight skin and do that every time you piss, I'll bet it will make the skin loose.

N.M.
Phoenix, AZ

EROTIC TASTES

Since I was born of orthodox Jewish parents, I was cut eight days after birth. There is still some skin left (enough, I hope, to someday stretch into a full foreskin); there is also a circumcision ring on my shaft.

As I have become more erotically sophisticated in my tastes, I have learned that I find uncut men's cocks more beautiful and more natural. There is more to play with, and I feel that cocks which are uncut are more sensitive than mine.

During college I didn't find uncut cocks attractive. But when I was nineteen, I heard my older gay brother tell someone that he preferred uncut cocks. That set my mind to wondering why. I began to research this subject every opportunity I had. Soon I understood perfectly well why he felt the way he did about the subject.

M.S.
New York, NY

ONLY MORE

I wanted to tell you how much I enjoyed the Premiere Issue of your magazine and to suggest a few things.

More photos of uncut men! I liked both "Daddy" and "Hung, Blond and Uncut," but would like to see more! There has to be a lot of hot uncut models out there. Once in a while I see one in other gay magazines. I'd think that Foreskin Quarterly would be flooded with uncut models wanting to show their foreskin off in the one magazine that wouldn't ask them to skin it back for the camera.

Also, I hope that more men will run photos of their uncut cocks in the classified ads.

L.H.
Washington, DC

ARMY CLIP

While in the Service I was stationed at Tripler Army Hospital in Honolulu. It seemed that every serviceman in Hawaii was coming in to be cut (mostly sailors). They roamed around the hospital with their little cans of anesthetic spray. I kept asking them why they had done it and the answers all boiled down to the same thing—they had all been given the story that by being cut, all the nourishment needed to feed that extra skin would, on average, double the size of their cockhead, or make their meat grow longer or thicker.

Well, what short-dicked man would go for that? But I decided to keep my skin and try to find other ways to make my cock bigger. Now I have all that skin to do interesting things with.

SUGGESTIONS...

Why don't you do travel articles on places where there are lots of uncut men, like Puerto Rico, South America and most of Europe? You could tell your readers about which countries have the most uncut guys and suggest places to go in those countries.

I realize that FQ isn't a travel magazine, but perhaps each issue could focus on one country or a group of countries in the same area, and give the lowdown on foreskins. Then readers could plan their vacations and maybe go to some of those places.

You could do the entire Caribbean one time, and the Scandinavian countries one time, then the Mediterranean, then Africa, then Western Europe, then the rest of Europe.

For instance, what about foreskins in the Soviet Union? In China? I think this would be good information for your readers, and prove a great reason for showing photos of uncut guys from around the world.

M.P.
San Francisco, CA

LETTERS: Foreskin Quarterly invites letters from its readers on all subjects, but especially on the subjects of foreskin and circumcision (we'll read anything, but we will only print letters that apply to the subjects at hand). Don't bother being brief, use your letter to explore the subjects in as much detail as you wish. We'll edit out the uninteresting and redundant parts. We only use initials for signatures in letters that we print, but you should sign your letters and include your address (in case we want to write to you). Send letters for Foreskin Quarterly to: FQ/Alternate Publishing, 964 Folsom Street, San Francisco, CA 94107. Matters directly related to the USA and not to the publication should be sent to: USA/Bud Berkeley, Box 26011, San Francisco, CA 94126.

FORESKINS IN THE NEWS

RESEARCH ASSISTANCE

Two research psychologists (one of whom is a USA member) are beginning work on a major study of masturbation among uncut and circumcised men. The work will cover every aspect of masturbation, with detailed work in corresponding aspects of men with foreskin and men who have been cut. Among the questions the project hopes to pose, as well as answer, are: What effect does the loss of foreskin have on the practice and enjoyment of masturbation? What are the most favored techniques used in masturbation by men with foreskin? What are the most favored techniques used by men who are circumcised?

How can men with foreskin teach their circumcised brothers to get more out of masturbation? How can circumcised men teach their brothers with foreskin to get more out of masturbation?

How can mutual masturbation between males be improved through the understandings of the needs of those with and without foreskin?

What are the personal and psychological barriers about masturbation that are currently present in both men with foreskin and men without foreskin?

How was masturbation first discovered (by the individual)? When first discovered, who often was it done by both men with and without foreskins?

And more: The project hopes to unearth the entire custom of masturbation in all its forms, and be able to share that information with the general public.

If you are interested in participating in this project—which will most likely require filling out a detailed questionnaire, drop a note to USA WA8 (USA members can look in the Foreskin Finder List). Readers of FQ who are not USA members can send their note of interest in participation to USA WA8 in care of: Bud Berkeley, Box 26011, San Francisco, CA 94126.

GERMANY

Here in Germany, less than 10% of all men are circumcised. It is absolutely unusual to circumcise neonatal boys. Nearly all the cut men got circumcised for medical reasons (mostly because of phimosis), a few for erotic reasons.

During the last few years, some younger parents started getting their boys circumcised, but it isn't an easy exercise, because most German doctors won't perform circumcisions unless there is a medical reason. The overall view of German culture is that circumcision is mutilation.

INDONESIA

Some 450 Indonesian boys were circumcised in a mass ceremony on June 22, 1984 to commemorate Independence Day and the Idul Abha Moslem pilgrim's holiday of September 6th. The operation was performed by 75 doctors and each boy circumcised was given a fez, a sarong, a shirt, and a pair of sandals. The Moslem religion requires that male children be circumcised. In Indonesia, the usual time is between five and ten years of age.

MANDATORY TRIMMING?

When a doctor in Hong Kong told the mother of a nine-year-old boy, who was planning to study in the U.S., that his tight, unretractable foreskin should be circumcised before travelling to the States, word somehow got around that circumcision was mandatory in this country. The local Hong Kong press ran with the story (which must have looked like the most blatant example of creeping U.S. imperialism), and the U.S. Consulate-General was moved to write a letter to all the newspapers setting the record straight:

"Our visa requirements may strike some as quaint or complex, but they most certainly do not embody forced circumcisions." Neither should parents worry, he continued, about their sons "being compelled to undergo the procedure once in the United States. I am confident the American constitution provides firm safeguards against this."

To wit us add: If there are safeguards against circumcision without consent, they seem to be reserved for visiting foreigners—since the practice still continues in American hospitals without government intervention.

FIRST ISSUE BLUES

If you haven't figured it out by now, two stories that appeared in this department in the first issue of FQ had paragraphs from one mixed into the other. But knowing how intelligent our readers are, we assume you have already sorted them out for yourselves, and will forego reprinting them here. We'll try not to let it happen again. Chalk it up as an example of us tripping over our own foreskins.

CANADA

According to an article published in Pediatrics by John L. Wirth, neonatal (infant) circumcision is decreasing dramatically in all the Canadian provinces except Saskatchewan and Yukon. The following percentages represent the number of male infants circumcised of the total born in the years from 1970 to 1979:

Province:	1970	1979
Alberta	11,111 (67%)	8,598 (50%)
British Columbia	11,720 (61%)	8,499 (49%)
Manitoba	5,395 (57%)	3,843 (46%)
New Brunswick	2,856 (45%)	1,640 (30%)
Newfoundland	(1972) 188 (04%)	(1977) 70 (01%)
Nova Scotia	3,062 (42%)	1,400 (21%)
Ontario	(1973) 38,066 (59%)	(1978) 32,673 (52%)
Edward Island	14,402 (29%)	6,403 (12%)
Saskatchewan	4,328 (51%)	4,353 (51%)
Yukon	(1974) 169 (65%)	(1977) 169 (74%)

Editor's Note: Quebec is obviously the "skin land" of the north (and readily available to foreskin fanciers on the East Coast), while Ontario is probably the most "Americanized" of the provinces and in past decades reported circumcision rates as high as 80% of all males born. The socialized doctors of Saskatchewan obviously need the money, coupled with the fact that it must be pretty cold up there, as well as in the Yukon, if they're afraid of frostbite of the foreskin. Many of our USA members, now living in the U.S., claim they missed the knife because they were born in Canada.

TRUE TALES OF FORESKIN & CIRCUMCISION

AN UNCLE'S TOUCH

My first real experience was with the penis of my uncle. During the summer, when I was in my teens, I had gone to stay at my grandfather's farm, which was a considerable distance from my father's farm. One of my uncles, a bachelor, did the farm work for my grandfather.

He had taken a liking to me and one night asked if I wanted to sleep with him in his large bed. We usually went to bed around dark since he had to get up early to milk the cows. He slept in a pair of tight briefs and I slept in a t-shirt, but nothing on below.

One night, although it was summer, it was cool and he snuggled close to me from the back, putting one hand across my crotch. His warm hand gave me an erection. He moved closer until I could feel his stiff cock bulging through his underwear against my butt. I got very excited and took one hand and tried to feel him through his underwear. He helped me by taking it out through his fly. It was so big, it didn't come all the way out. I stroked it, and could feel the foreskin move on and off the head. I whispered that I wanted to see it, and he took a flashlight off the nightstand and turned it on under the covers. I put my head down next to it. I was amazed at the size, which was enormous compared to my own hard dick. I was also surprised at how easily the loose skin moved back and forth, exposing the head, then completely covering it up.

His head ducked down under the covers and he began to play with my boner. He tried pulling the foreskin back, but it wouldn't budge, and it hurt after a while. He told me that when it was soft I should put vaseline under the skin to soften it and help make it slide back and forth easier.

The very next day, when I was alone, I experimented. I finally got the skin to come completely off the head of my dick for the very first time in my life. I noticed that there were rolls of white stuff under the folds of the foreskin, and I instinctively knew that it needed to be cleaned off—there was no such stuff under my uncle's foreskin. It still hurt, and it was only after many such trials that I was able to retract the skin while I had an erection.

ARKANSAS SKIN

I had stopped at the roadside rest stop on I-40 near Ozark. As I entered the men's room, this burly—but not fat—guy was exiting. I was still pissing when he came back in and stood at the urinal next to me. The urinals were bowl-types suspended from the wall without any partitions, so I had a good view as he unzipped his jeans and hauled out his stout cock, which had an overhang of about an inch. I have seen longer, but I have never seen one with a reverse taper. The foreskin outlined the head of his cock, then flared out. The end of the foreskin hung open rather than puckering closed like some.

He just stood there until I finished pissing through my own foreskin. I shook my cock up and down to make my foreskin flap. "That's a nice piece of skin you have there," he said, and then reached over and pulled the skin back to uncover my slime-coated head. I was already half-hard.

He pulled his own skin back with his other hand and guided the tips of our cocks together. With my foreskin still retracted, he rolled his skin forward and enclosed my uncovered cockhead in his foreskin.

We were interrupted by a guy entering the restroom. The new guy was cut, but obviously not there just to piss. The burly guy seemed to have lost interest in me, so I went outside.

After about five minutes, the new guy came out and went straight to his car and drove off. I went back inside. The burly guy was at a urinal squeezing the ends of his foreskin closed with a thumb and forefinger. As soon as he saw me, he said, "I'm holding this load of come if you want it."

I went down on one knee and sucked out the load and probed under the wide foreskin opening with my tongue.

He asked if I had time to stop by his place for an hour or two, so I followed him for 4 or 5 miles before he turned into a mobile home set in a grove of trees.

We spent an hour playing with our foreskins and drinking his piss. I fucked his foreskin and sucked out my own come. As I did that, he got a real hard-on for the first time and started to fuck my mouth until he blasted his load down my throat.

MASTER LOCK

My master would kill me if I ever got circumcised. That extra bit of flesh on my cock is his favorite plaything. It's pierced and he keeps a padlock in it which is always locked and he hides the key from me. Whenever I need it unlocked to take a piss or if I get real hard in the middle of the night and my cock strains at the lock, he makes me beg, "Please, Sir. Unlock my prepuce." He believes in using proper words. But when we are playing around is when he enjoys my skin. I sit tied to a bench with a spotlight on my dick. He sits facing me and studies my foreskin by the hour. He smears a little (but not much) alcohol on it and then starts sticking it with pins, stroking it with wire brushes, hot-waxing it, rubbing menthol into it and all the time he keeps looking right into my eyes to observe my reaction. He is cut and I think my foreskin is something he is still trying to figure out. He wants to know where each nerve is and I can tell you he has found them all! He takes notes, too. Maybe he'll give them to you to publish someday. He had been threatening to hang me by my foreskin, but hasn't yet been able to figure how he'll do it. I'm glad I have my foreskin so I can keep my master happy.

TRUCKER SKIN

I was driving through the countryside and the highway was pretty empty, so I pulled my cock out and started to J/O. Before I knew it a huge 18-wheeler was on my tail. I let him pass, forgetting that my cock was standing up naked next to my stomach. Then I noticed the truck slow up in front of me and he started flashing his lights. I pulled next to him and stuck my head out the window and asked what was wrong. He asked me to follow him. I did and we went off the highway a little and stopped near a bunch of trees.

He got out of his truck, stroking his pants. "Was that a wad of foreskin I saw?" he said. My mouth flew open. "You'd be surprised at what we drivers see," he explained. "I don't always do this, you understand," he said, "but when I see brotherhood I can't let it pass by. See what I mean?" He pulled out a whopper and it was loaded with flowing foreskin.

We went into the trees and took turns sucking on the uncut cocks for a couple of hours. I always said that it takes another uncut guy to know how to handle foreskin and this guy agreed. We tried all the tricks. His skin was looser than mine. He liked his skin pulled all the way back and I sucked and slurped all over his bare cockhead and down the pulled-back shaft skin. His cockhead spread itself out like a piece of sirloin steak. He liked the pulled-back action. He realized that I preferred my skin forward, and he ran his tongue inside my foreskin. We finally got into mutual masturbation and you should have seen this big hunk 18-wheeler pound away at his fully-foreskinned dick. He had something of a belly and he pulled his shirt away (our levis were down around our ankles) and wanted me to shoot on his hairy chest. I did and he rubbed it into the hair. Then he shot off and he grabbed some of it in mid-air and rubbed that into his chest too.

He gave me some advice, "Whenever you drive at night with your cock out of your pants, leave the lights on inside your car. Let the drivers see that foreskin!" Sure enough, his advice really works. But I have often wondered what that guy must have smelled like by the time he hit the next truck stop to shower.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON

My next door neighbor knew I was gay but never said anything about it. He also knew I was uncut because we often ran into each other at the showers in the country club. He was cut as was his son. They looked exactly alike, even though the dad was in his early forties and the son in his twenties. Their cocks would have looked alike except that the father had a tighter circumcision. The son had a good deal of skin left behind the corona. I had no idea that they were checking me out at the same time I was giving their cocks a look.

One Saturday we were mowing our lawns when he said, "Hi, want some beer?" I said, "Sure," and went to his house. "Wife and daughter gone for the weekend. My son is gone for a while." I took that as an invitation to stay for a while. So, we drank and discussed football. He began getting very personal, discussing his sex life. "You know, one thing I have always regretted is that I was circumcised." I told him that I was uncircumcised. "Yes, I know!" he said. I was surprised. "Hell, I've always wondered what skin felt like." He began tugging at his basket. I never dreamed he might be interested in me sexually. We continued drinking and he began asking me questions like, "Does your skin slide back when you get a hard-on?" "Have you ever had a guy stick his dick into your skin?" I said yes and his eyes lit up. Well, it wasn't long before he had his circumcised cock out of his fly and trying to poke it into my skin. His dick was soft and I was trying my best to keep from getting a hard-on. He were both fully dressed and I expected we'd stay that way. He got his cock docked into my skin. Then we heard the front door close and he yelled out, "Son, c'mon in here. I want you to see something." I almost died. The son opened the door and his eyes popped out. "Pull out your joint, son. Here's your chance to feel foreskin." The father pulled his still-soft cock out of my skin saying, "You know the old lady insisted that the kid get circumcised. I was against it, but you know mothers!"

The son very hesitatingly pulled out his soft cock and that did it; I started to get erect. Well, I got my skin over the kid's cockhead and all his remaining skin felt so warm in my skin. Sure enough, his cock shot out to a roaring hard-on in no time. The father began laughing out loud, pulling at his dick. "You sort of like that skin, huh son?" Then the

with your cum." I said I didn't mind. So, the kid gave out a loud groan, his stomach buckled and he poured out his nuts with gush after gush until my skin was so full it couldn't take anymore. He pulled it out, blushed a little and went into the bathroom. The father was standing there with his cock in his hand and panting like crazy. "Son, bring out a towel. Clean up after yourself." The son came out and wiped his cum out of my cock. Then, the father satisfied that his son's seeds were wiped clean, he came over and docked me good. "This is real neighborly of you," were his last words as his balls emptied their load into my skin. "Son, bring out a fresh towel and clean out his dick again." I zippered up and headed for the front door while his was bigger than mine and his foreskin covered the head of it when he got hard.

I was staring at his dick, watching the foreskin roll back and forth as he stroked it, when he asked me if I wanted to jack him off and see what it felt like. Well, I did. I knelt down between his legs and jacked him with one hand, then the other, my face very close to his cockhead, watching the skin.

He moaned now and then and said, "Please, don't stop." After a while he whispered to me, "Lick it, please lick the head."

I hesitated, but I leaned forward and licked the underside of the head with my tongue on the downstroke and that made him moan louder. I licked it that way for a few strokes, my mouth until I could feel it sliding down my throat. He was very gentle. I guess he didn't want me to choke; probably afraid that I wouldn't want to do it anymore if I gagged.

But I grew accustomed to the feel of it, and it really turned me on, so I tried to swallow all of it. Every few minutes he would slow down and stop—and I must have realized that he didn't want it to end right away, because when he'd slow down, I'd stop sucking on it and just let it rest in my mouth.

I guess he was at the point of no return, because he started up again and this time he was making long strokes into my throat, pulling almost all the way out, then sliding it all the way in. He kept doing that while he shot his load—which I father's dick quickly stood up straight in front of him. He said, "C'mon, son, pull it out. It's my turn again." This time I began to masturbate him with my skin. The son began to masturbate his cock while he stood there watching. "Hey, dad, it's my turn," he said. So I beat my skin over the kid's cock. The father began to strip. He was hot to go! What now, I wondered. Do they want me to suck their cocks. Wow! This was the first time I had ever had sex with a father and son! The son began to strip. Strangely, they didn't invite me to strip. I couldn't, because I was busy taking one cock and then the other into my skin. Then the son said, "I'm almost over the top. Can I cum into your skin?" "Wait a minute, son. Don't be so impolite. Maybe he doesn't want you to mess up his dick father and son, still naked, thanked me all the way out. I went home and beat the living hell out of my uncut cock. My skin was loose as hell. You never know what is going on in the neighborhood, do you?

MY BROTHER'S LOAD

For some reason I am cut and my brother, who is three years older, is uncut. I've never known why, but I've never asked, either. My father is uncut, and I've only seen his dick once, but I am sure about his foreskin.

My brother taught me how to suck dick, for which I am still very grateful. One night when we were alone in the house he suggested we jack off. I was sixteen and he was nineteen. I had a good-sized dick back then (which has only gotten bigger), but then I pulled his foreskin over his dick and licked at the opening. There was the slightest trace of clear fluid, which tasted okay.

Then he asked me to take the head of it in my mouth. I went further down than that, taking about a third of it. He started humping his cock in my mouth, but stopped. "Lay on your side," he said—which I did—and he slipped his dick in my mouth and, holding my shoulders, slowly began fucking my face. I was fascinated, watching his crotch come closer and closer. His dick hit the back of my throat (it was about halfway in), and he told me to relax my throat and try to take more of it.

I was very excited by this point, and my cock was throbbing and jumping against my stomach. He kept easing more and more of it into could feel filling my mouth and sliding down my throat. I remember how warm and sweet it tasted (but it wasn't until much later that I realized he had exceptional come—exceptionally thick and exceptionally sweet).

He kept pumping while his cock started getting soft, and I kept it in my mouth, because I really liked sucking it and I really didn't want him to pull it out.

Then he reached down, grabbed my cock and started stroking it. I came immediately.

He gave me the standard lecture about not telling anyone what we had done, and asked me if I liked it—and I said that I did. He asked me if I wanted to do it again, and I said yes—all the while I was holding his soft cock in my hand, watching the foreskin slip back and forth over the head.

He said we needed to clean up, and we both walked around the house, naked for a while, which was nice because I got to watch his uncut cock swinging down between his legs as he walked.

When it was time to go to bed, he snuggled up next to me in my bed (we had separate beds in the same bedroom), and put my hand on his cock, which I played with as he went to sleep.

The next morning when I woke up, he was back in his bed and my father was calling us to come down to breakfast.

I had many chances to suck his uncut cock over the next two years, until he went away to college. Not only did he teach me how to suck cock like a champ, but he instilled in me a great love for uncut cocks.

RICAN SKIN

Every year, for the last four, I have traveled on vacation to Latin Skin Land—Puerto Rico. Being a foreskin freak I really love playing with hot latin skins and Puerto Rican boys love LOTS of sex! I stay at a gay hotel right on the main side street used the public to go to the beach. It's a surfer area—lots of young studs. They know the hotel swings. I met several in the first two days who were hot, beautiful and their uncut dicks were ready! Julio was 19, 5'7", 135 lbs, black wavy hair. His face, both handsome and pretty, it would stand out anywhere. His smile was broad and dimpled and displayed perfect white teeth. He came to my room for a drink, acting typically "macho." His inhibitions wore down after a couple of drinks, but when I complimented him on his beautiful face, his clothes began coming off. Complementing a Puerto Rican is the key to success. I found myself looking at a silky, straight-haired bush with a 10"-long hard-on and, yes, a beautiful tip completely covering a bulbous head and it pouted at me like puckered lips. His skin felt very smooth as I retracted it easily to reveal a super-sensitive, deep-purple head and wide, quivering ridge. Being a swimmer he obviously bathed often and there was no sign of cheese, but I could get a whiff of a slight, intoxicating smell. He enjoyed jacking-off my dick and even got his tongue into my foreskin. I was sucking him and jacking him off so I could watch his fantastic foreskin pop back and forth. As we came close to our climaxes he asked me to hold the skin closed over his dick head so he could shoot inside his skin. He came in his own skin. So did I. Then, with all the juice trapped inside, we both came again and had double loads trapped. We kept our skins pinched closed as our cocks went limp. Then he let a drop out and he caught it and tasted it. I did the same. It was so sweet. He then took out his wallet, opened it and told me to pull my skin back and let it drool out into his wallet. Then he did the same with his. He said that his three younger brothers got off on cum. The next day he brought Charlie around. He was twenty-one, but his skin could only be pulled back when he was soft. Hard it formed a long, tapered tube over the end, loose enough to play with. He was very cuddly and really loved his phimosed cock. After he came he waited anxiously for his cock to soften and while the cum oozed out he finally pulled the skin back to look at his hidden treasure. Well, the parade of latin skins continued. I heartily recommend Latin Skin Land for your next vacation.

GLORY HOLE CHEW

I stopped by my favorite glory hole at lunchtime and hit the jackpot! Through the hole came a foreskin pointing itself right between my eyes. I went cross-eyed quick! I began sucking on it, gradually skinning it back. He pulled his cock out of my mouth and out of the hole and whispered, "Chew on it, man." He stuck it through again. I wasn't sure what he wanted so I began sucking on it and using my teeth to give a little rough action. He pulled it out again and whispered, "Use your teeth, man." Confused, I wanted to say that I was using my teeth, but I didn't want to argue. I came down a little harder with my teeth, pushing his foreskin back off the head and scraped my teeth a little on his sensitive cockhead. Damn, he pulled his cock back again! "Teeth on the skin, man!" Getting pretty fed up I wanted to tell him I know how to suck cocks and I don't need to be told how to do it! Instead, I said, "Why don't you come around here and show me what you want?" He was silent as if he couldn't make up his mind, and then slowly his cock came back through the hole. This time I was angry and came down with my teeth right on his overhanging foreskin. "Yea, man, yea," he groaned. So I began chewing like crazy. Fuck, he pulled it out of the hole again! This time there was a knocking at my stall door and in he came, pointing his foreskin right at me. "I want to watch you eat my skin, man," he said excitedly. He stretched out his overhang and aimed it for my mouth. I clamped my teeth on it and began to chew. "Oh yea, man, I want to feel your fucking teeth eat my skin, man!" Well, it wasn't exactly what I had in mind, but I wanted to make this guy happy. Suddenly, he grabbed my upper lip and raised it so he could actually see my teeth clamping on his foreskin. "Ohhh! Shit! That looks good, man!" and he shot his load right into his clamped-shut foreskin. "Keep chewing it, man," he pleaded. I wanted to let his cum out, but he obviously wanted it to stay inside the skin. As I chewed I could hear the cum gush around inside. His cock went limp right in my mouth. Suddenly he said, "Keep your teeth on it, man!" and he pulled his soft cock back from me as if to see how far back he could go with his stretched-out foreskin. It was stretched out a good three inches from my teeth when he took his fingers and twisted it and squeezed the cum from one place to another inside. Then he suddenly said, "That's enough. Thanks, man." He yanked his foreskin out of my teeth so fast I thought it would rip off. Out the door he went. Strange encounter, I thought. Next time I really have plans for my teeth!

CALIGULA

Scores of uncut Italians decorate scene after scene in the most famous adult film ever made. Malcolm McDowell stars as the perverse emperor who shocked even the decadent Romans of his day with his unrelenting obscenities. This is the complete 2½ hour theatrical version recently cleared by the courts.

BETA/VHS 89<sup>95</sup>

HARD HAT

A rediscovered little gem that was originally titled "Crow Bar Crew," and with a sprinkling of very well-hung and very uncut actors. This classic little tale of a road crew gang and their sadistic boss is almost a nostalgic look at pre-hippie men; with a cast that never made another film. A novelty that you'll watch again and again!

NON-STOP

Top flight director Steve Scott looks at the lives of transcontinental air stewards in this non-stop action story that has two spectacular uncut actors: Steven Anthony, the star, and a super-hung Puerto Rican that will leave you (like he does Casey Donovan) breathless! Daniel Holt, Eric Ryan, and an uncut blond who gets off on New York rooftops only add to the thrills.

LE BEAU MEC

Karl Forest is the star of this classic French film about a young man's coming of age. From early manhood, to police problems, to hustling, to dancing nude in a Paris gay bar. If you like your French studs muscular and hung, you'll be glad you added Karl Forest to your collection.

79<sup>95</sup>

ALL OF ME

Jean Daniel Cadino's look at one of France's most popular male models (with a truly gigantic uncut cock) and his sexual exploits. Gang-raped at his bakery job, seduced by his equally-hot schoolmate, tackled by a jogger along the River Seine, and the longest JO scene in history highlight this French import.

HEAD TRIPS

Al Parker's latest look at sexual fantasies includes an uncut father (Ryder) seducing his son, an uncut blond bombshell seducing Al Parker, Ed Wiley as a fireman with a huge hose, and a restaurant orgy scene that will have you gasping! Hot stuff from start to finish, with Parker's adoration of the uncut blond stud one of the highlights.

SING-ALONG-SKIN

Frank Slay has written an anti-circumcision song in the finest counter-culture tradition (he actually wrote it in 1983) called "It's The Unkindest Cut of All." We don't know if this number has been recorded as yet although, as you can see, both lyrics and music have been aptly joined.

In part, the lyrics say: "Someday I hope I can rejoice/When given back freedom of choice/Don't mutilate his little bod/You know you can't improve on God." Sentiments that would stand against a number of inhumane medical practices, but really make their point in this context.

If you're a hot, rising recording artist who wants to cut a tune that may not get Am play, but is guaranteed to get you a lot of media attention, you can contact Frank Slay at: Box 1776, Hollywood, CA 90078.

GLADIATOR FORESKINS

Aureus, the jewelers who make the USA symbol pendants (circles representing the cut and uncut cock) are introducing their "Midnight Collection," among which is an authentic reproduction of the Fascin. This good luck charm was worn in classical Rome as a replica of the erect penis. Since Romans were never circumcised, the Fascin is shown with the foreskin retracted to represent an erect, virile phallus. (Talk about good luck!) The Fascin was therefore already ready for action. The Aureus Fascin is also ready for action, but you can see the foreskin rolled back just behind the head.

The charms come 1 3/4" long and are made of silver. They weigh one ounce. Like all Aureus jewelry, this piece of sexual history is beautifully crafted. Aureus is also planning a second version with the foreskin covering the head of the cock for those among you who are not Roman purists.

For information on the Fascin and other Aureus delights, write: Aureus, 23906 Sofia, Mission Viejo, CA 92691. You can call them at (714) 855-8088.

Celebrity Foreskin

A couple of years ago, Albert Goldman's biography of Elvis Presley, ELVIS, set off a wave of controversy about Elvis' penis. Bud Berkeley of the USA received the following letter from the editor of Elvis World magazine:

Dear Mr. Berkeley,

Your organization has been recommended to us by one of your readers in the hope that you can offer a statement regarding the degrading remarks made by the author, Albert Goldman, in his best-selling biography, ELVIS, a very degrading account of the life of the King of Rock and Roll, himself uncircumcised.

Mr. Goldman writes that Elvis "saw his beauty disfigured by an ugly Hillbilly pecker." Not only is this generalization in bad taste, but it is not verifiable. Mr. Berkeley, would you comment on Mr. Goldman's statement for us, please? To me, this tells more of what Mr. Goldman thought of his own circumcised penis than it does about what Elvis thought of his.

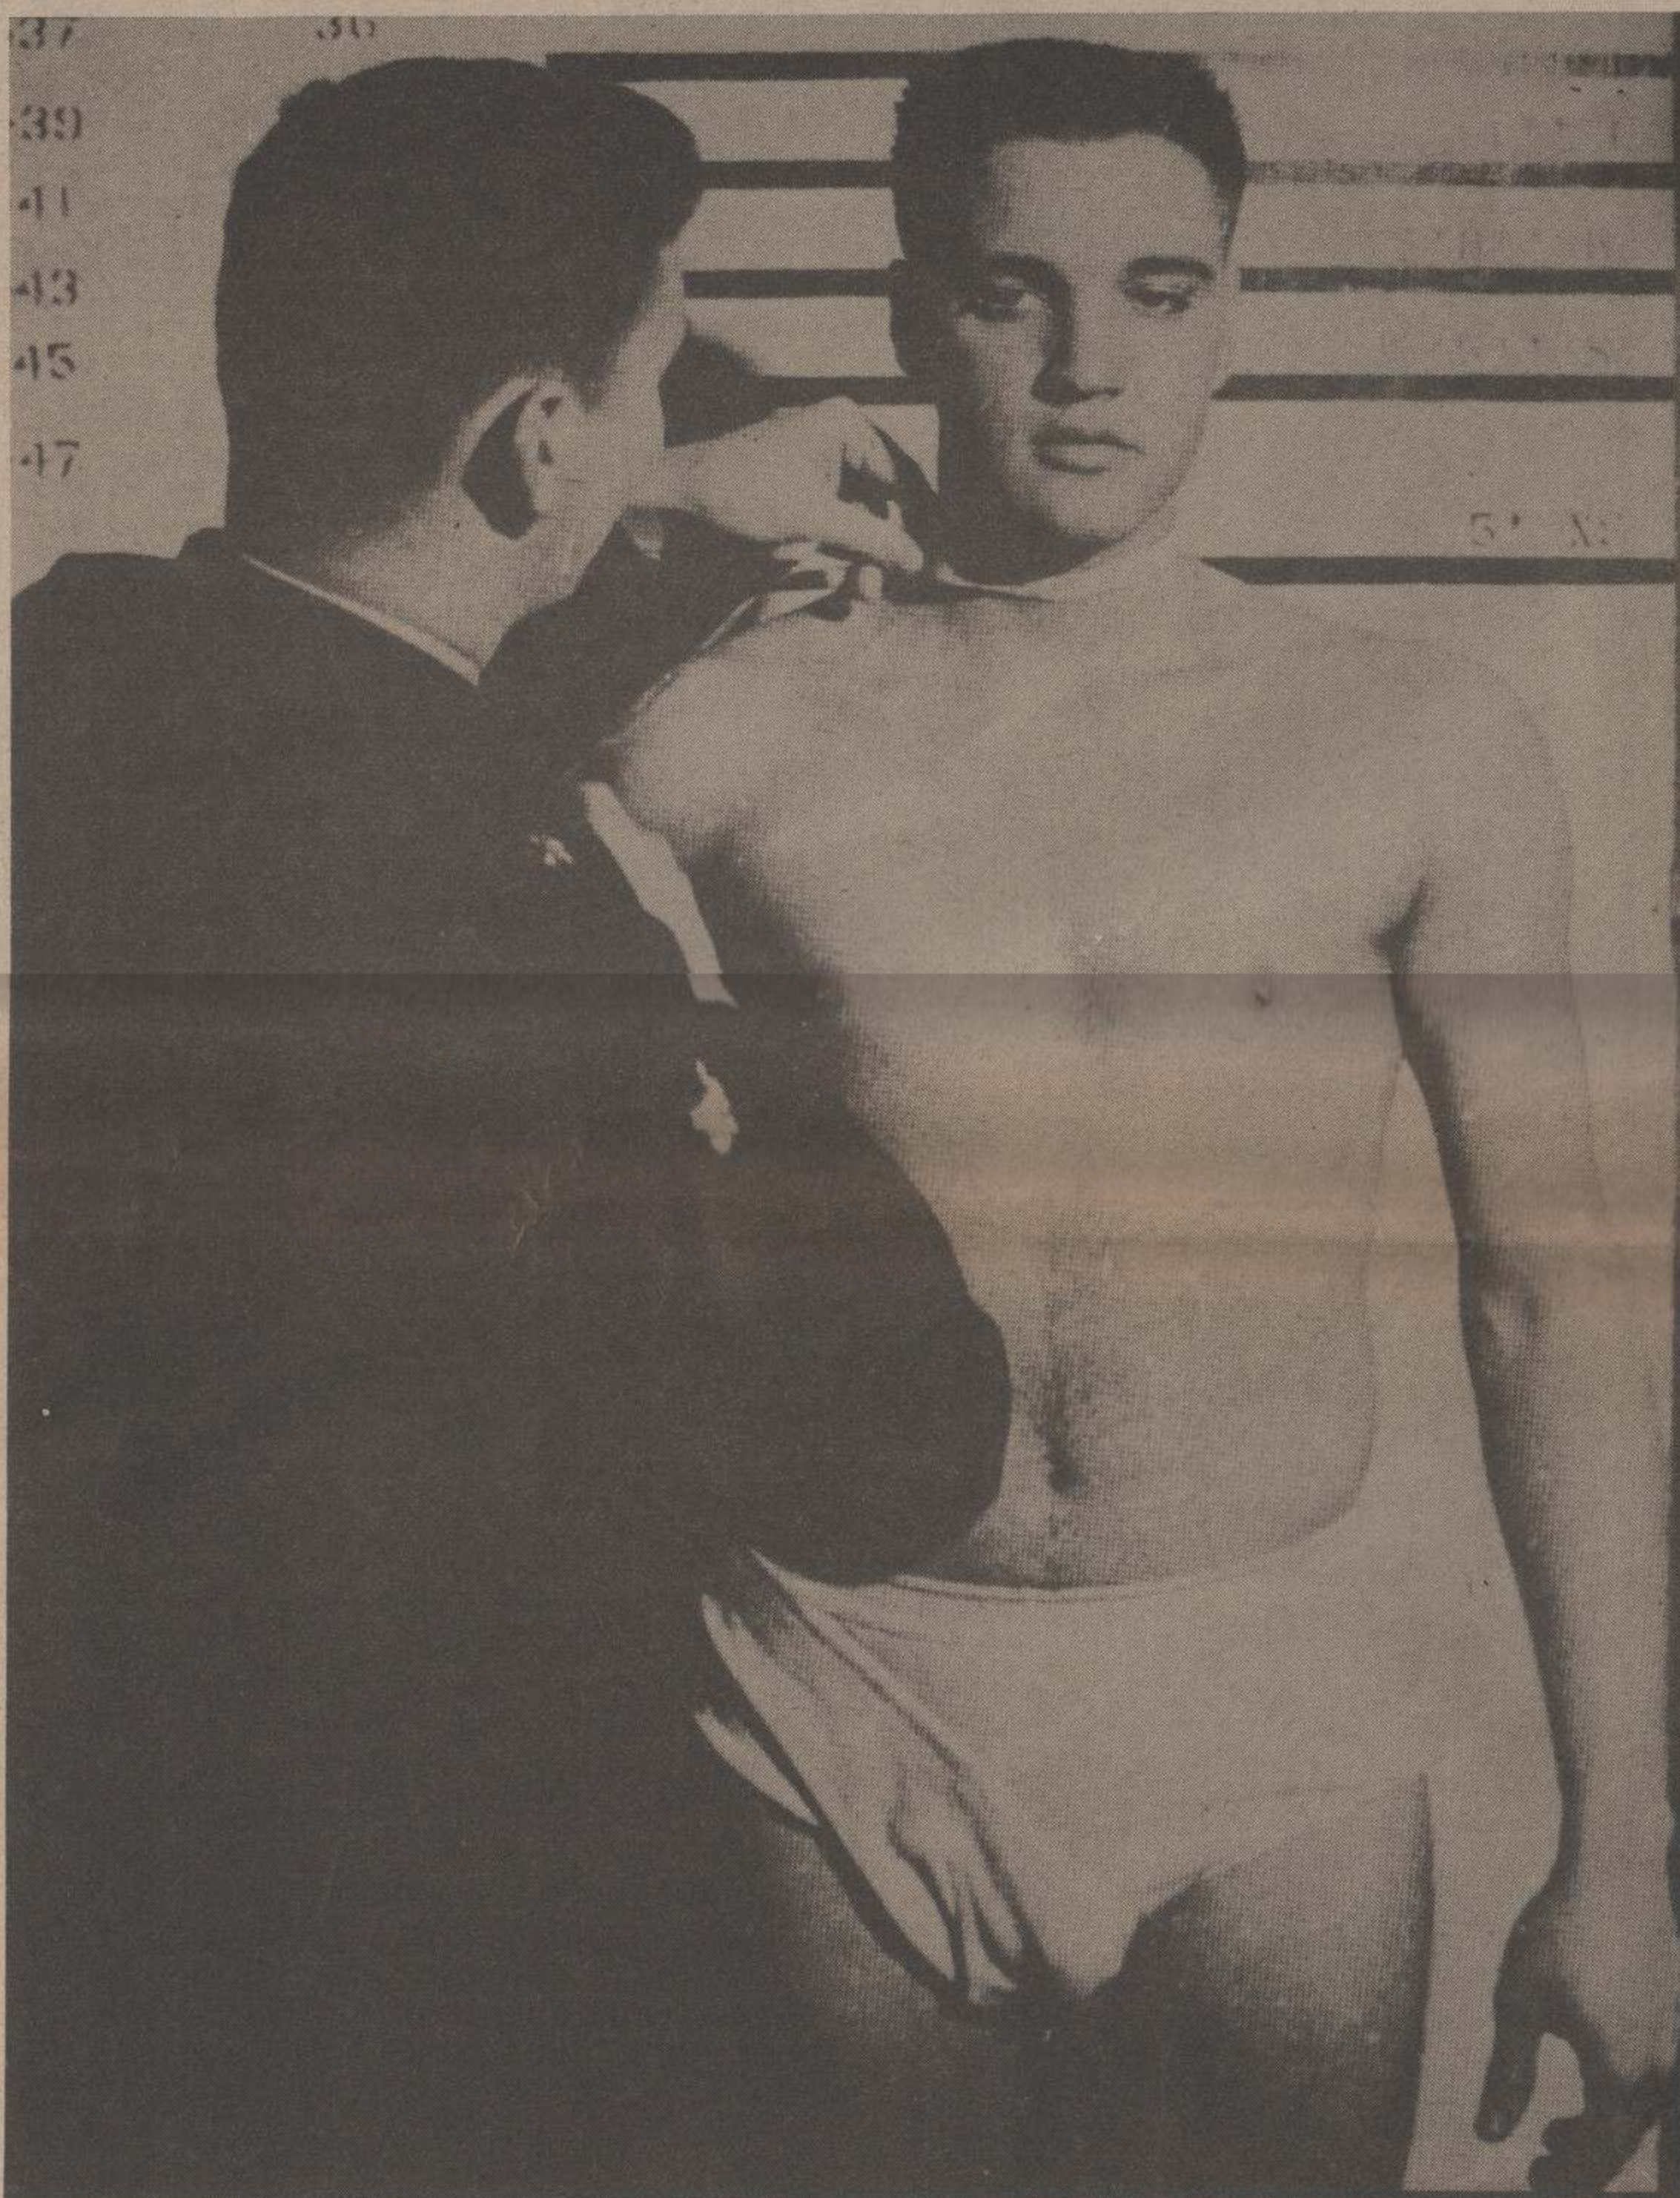

Bud replied through an article printed in Drummer Magazine: "In the fifties, the only time foreskin was mentioned was in jest. Chances are what Goldman is referring to was a remark Elvis made in jest. Certainly if it did bother Elvis, he had the money to get circumcised. The very fact that he was in the Army and got out with foreskin intact...he must have been pretty firm about keeping it."

The fact that Presley was uncircumcised was verified by the wide publication of his death certificate which had a check after "uncircumcised" rather than "circumcised"...a means of identification in many states. As to whether or not Elvis really disliked being uncut was complicated by author Goldman's convincing argument that the only reason he didn't get circumcised was because he had a great fear of "the knife."

Well, Elvis Presley would probably be amazed today, in his fiftieth year, at how uncircumcised cocks have become fashionable. But it is certainly true that when he was waving his hips at audiences in the fifties, the Hillbilly pecker he was pushing in his pants was very unfashionable. He wasn't the only uncut American who felt "odd" about his foreskin. Hey, King, times have changed!

And, while we are speaking of celebrity foreskins, here is a list of some which, according to a USA source, are still intact...or were as long as they lived:

Many boys and men, having been circumcised in infancy, have never known their penis any other way and don't give much thought to how their surgery has affected one of life's pleasures—masturbation. If all of the males in the community are cut, there's no way to compare.

On the other hand, the boy who sees a friend's intact penis has cause to think about it, and if there's mutual comparison and examination, will learn about the differences. The natural and instinctive method of self-pleasure is to fist the foreskin up and down. This stretches the orifice, and moves the skin over the glans, stimulating it and the nerve endings in the foreskin's inner lining.

Circumcision doesn't prevent masturbation, as decades of experience have shown. The mostly-circumcised younger generation has shown no sign of being less interested in self-relief than their uncut elders. Only the methods have changed somewhat.

The circumcised male is partly or wholly deprived of this form of masturbation. If he's been cut loosely enough to have enough slack, he'll try to pull his shaft skin up over the head. How far depends on how much slack he has in his shaft skin. In some fully-grown males, there's only enough skin left to bump against the rim. The lucky ones will be able to cover the glans half-way. In those who were cut very tightly, there isn't enough slack to allow even this, and they have to find another method.

PENILE SENSITIVITY

The amount of sensitivity lost depends on the technique of circumcision, the amount of tissue removed, and the age at which it happened. If the entire inner lining of the foreskin, with its mucus membrane character and many erotogenic nerve endings is removed, those nerve endings are lost. The frenum, the very sensitive band of tissue on the underside of the head, is also removed in some circumcisions, resulting in another loss of erotic receptors. Some doctors do radical circumcisions, removing as much as possible of the sensitive tissue and leaving no slack for masturbation.

Age is important. Removing the foreskin shortly after birth exposes the delicate glans to the ammonia irritation of diaper urine. The foreskin may have been still-adherent to the glans and ripped loose, along with some of the surface cells of the glans. The male circumcised in late childhood or later tends to retain more sensitivity, partly because his glans have been protected under the hood until his operation, unlike the dried-out, denuded glans of the neonatally circumcised.

LUBRICATION

Lubrication is their first choice. Early on, noticing the pleasant, wet friction when he washes his penis, the males discover that this is far more pleasant than dry friction, which often is more irritating than erotic. One male learned the value of so commonly available that it's the choice of many, but it's very heavy-bodied, and for some doesn't feel as good as a lighter oil, such as baby or cooking oil. This makes a significant difference, as the circumcised glans doesn't have the delicate sensitivity of the naturally-covered one.

Vegetable lubricants, such as KY, are thin enough, but being water-based, they dry quickly and it's necessary to interrupt the session to apply more lubricant or some water. Saliva is a medium that many use. It's often too thin, causing some irritation, and evaporates quickly.

Natural lubrication, pre-cum fluid, is ideal, but it dries quickly, being water-based like KY. There's a great difference between males regarding the amount they secrete. Some have hardly a drop before they come, while others have a steady dribble.

There's variation in amount, and in timing of pre-cum lubrication. Some start to secrete even before full erection, sometimes when just talking or thinking about sex. Others secrete when they're fully-hard, and continue to flow until they come.

Some who use their pre-cum for lubrication are very artistic in their methods of inducing erection. They'll pinch all around the rim, working down to the underside and completing the circle, coming up on the other side. Some find that placing the thumb on the upper surface of the glans and the index finger on the urethra below the head stimulates the deep-seated nerves when they squeeze. By these means, they bring on the first drops of pre-cum, which enables them to change to a more conventional method of stimulation.

Various hand creams and lotions are other choices. Each man has to find his preferred lubricant, as both individual tastes and penile sensitivity vary.

Seeking greater pleasure and more intense sensations, some will try a form of liniment mixed with the lubricant. The irritation is mild, if properly diluted, and the warm feeling it produces heightens sexual pleasure. The problem with any sort of liniment is that it's long-lasting, and the effect doesn't stop after orgasm, but changes to an unpleasant burning sensation which persists for hours.

STROKING TECHNIQUES

The timing and pattern of the strokes is different with each individual. Some use a full-fisted, full-length action on the shaft and head. Others stay on the shaft, while yet others concentrate on the head.

The sensitivity of the head varies with the individual. Some like to stroke the entire head, back and forth rhythmically, until they come. Others find the rim to be most sensitive. Some find that palming the front surface, the area around the orifice, exciting. Those who still have their frenums may concentrate on this area.

A full-fist, full-length stroke offers an exciting variation, if the hand rotates around the rim when it reaches it. This increases the stimulation, for those who are rim-sensitive. Rotating the fist also gives extra stimulation to the area right behind the rim, where the remnant of the severed inner lining is. This area is often very sensitive too.

WEAK-HAND METHOD

Some try weak-hand masturbation, for a change of pace. Using the weak hand gives a feeling of unfamiliarity, which goes well with a fantasy of being stroked by someone else. This can be very exciting, yet the weak-hand manipulation lacks the practiced motions of the strong hand, and it may take longer to come.

One man did exactly this, as he found masturbation uninteresting compared with sex with a partner. When he had gone without sex for a week or more, and felt an urgent need, he'd lie back, close his eyes, and stroke himself with his left hand while he fantasized that someone else was doing this to him. This was especially easy for him, as he had a small penis and enough shaft skin was left for him to cover most of the head on the forward stroke. He had to use rapid strokes, because he felt that he'd suffered a significant loss of sensitivity from circumcision.

PROLONGING PLEASURE

Some experiment with low-key methods of masturbation, seeking to prolong the act for hours, instead of coming to a quick climax. Glans sensitivity varies, circumcised or not, and some find that full-fisted strokes bring on the climax more quickly than they like. The ones with high sensitivity find that a light stroke, fingering the rim, or the urethral orifice, will bring them to a controlled climax.

One male stroked his frenum, which had not been removed in circumcision, because he found that he could bring himself to the brink of orgasm this way, yet the sensations were not so intense as to cause him to lose control and plunge over the edge before he was ready.

He had developed his masturbation to a fine art. He'd drink enough coffee beforehand to give him a mild case of "coffee nerves," which he found increased his awareness and pleasure. He'd secrete a copious amount of pre-cum, and would keep a tissue handy to absorb it, as he found that wet friction would bring his climax on too rapidly. He'd spend an hour or more, in bed, looking at a magazine filled with photographs of naked males, keeping himself just below the peak by gently stroking his frenum. His orgasm, when he brought it on, was a controlled release, because he slowed and lightened his strokes as he approached, trying to make the moment last.

Another found it exciting to insert plastic tubes into his urethra. He was aware of the dangers, and avoided glass or tubes with sharp edges. This would work him up to erection, and he'd finish the effort with full-fisted lubrication.

One common experiment is to insert a finger into the anus. This is a sexually exciting area in some, and the presence of a lubricated finger stretching the anal ring heightens the pleasure. Some reach farther, probing for the prostate, and this often triggers the climax if the level of excitement is high enough.

Some find that a light, teasing stroke on the insides of their thighs or their scrotums, using their other hand, adds to the excitement. Others are nipple-sensitive.

Tightening or relaxing the crotch muscles offers another variant. Some tighten up when masturbating, and this usually brings the climax on faster. Others prefer to make it last, consciously relaxing their crotch muscles as much as they can, except for involuntary spasm. With practice, relaxation can make the sexual excitement last for over an hour in some individuals. Prolonging the pleasure, supplementing it by looking at nude photos, can provide a long and satisfying session of self-love. The male who consciously relaxes during self-stimulation often finds the climax more intense when he finally comes, because the length of time has excited his sexual nerves to their highest point. He knows that, after an hour or more of slow stimulation, he can bring on the orgasm within seconds with a few quick strokes and tightening his crotch muscles.

Some prolong their pleasure by careful control, working themselves up to just before ejaculation, then stopping long enough to let their excitement subside. Those skilled at this can go through several cycles, approaching close enough to feel the first involuntary throb and then stopping, waiting for the tension to abate.

One man did this regularly. He'd rapidly bring himself close to the peak with full-fisted strokes, and stop just before he lost control. He found that his secretion of pre-cum was heaviest just before climax, and he used this method to replenish the lube that dried out. Often, he'd hang on the edge, stroking very lightly and slowly, to keep himself at the critical point for several seconds before he was forced to back off.

ENHANCING ORGASM

Handling the climax is also a matter of personal preference. Some stroke faster as they approach, while others slow down. Some find that bucking their hips increases the pleasure.

Pelvic thrusts increase the sensation of the orgasm in some. They don't stroke the penis, but place the fist on the bed and thrust into it.

Enhancing the climax is possible by many techniques. Some use drugs. A stimulant as mild as caffeine will do a lot for some. Others use stronger drugs, including "poppers" and various illegal chemical. (Publisher's Note: Because of the most recent clinical connection between the regular use of "poppers" and the possible development of KS in AIDS-prone individuals, we strongly urge that you do not use any of the illegal or legal nitrates being sold. Medical research has proven that there is no substantial difference between the effects of amyl nitrate, butyl, or isobutyl nitrates on the body's biochemistry.)

One way of to heighten the climax is to dam up the ejaculation. Pressing a finger on the urethra, on the underside of the penis will dam up the fluid, each jet building up the sensation until the male releases the pressure, when it comes out in a long stream instead of spurts. The variant available to intact men is to pinch shut the end of the foreskin, trapping the hot fluid under it, where it spreads around the glans.

Another way is not to urinate before masturbation. This may be uncomfortable at first, but with erection and increasing excitement, the need to pass urine vanishes, but the pressure increases the sensations.

The physical sensations that accompany the climax vary with the individual. Some feel the onset as an urge to urinate. Others feel a tickling or tingling in the head of the penis. Yet others feel it as a pressure or pounding at the root of the penis. In some, the sensitivity of the head increases suddenly at the point of release, and they slow down or stop stroking. Some feel a hypersensitivity of the glans after orgasm, and can't stand to have anything touch it for a minute or more. Others don't become sensitive, and keep stroking full-force during the climax, trying to draw out every last possible jet.

MECHANICAL AIDS

MECHANICAL AIDS

Mechanical appliances often come on the scene sooner or later. Some try to simulate the action of a foreskin by using a lubricated condom. This has the advantage of permitting masturbation in bed, concentrating on the fantasy without concern over spilling on the sheets. The need to direct the jets of fluid into a tissue or the toilet often takes away from the pleasure of the climax.

Some use tubes of various sorts, both lubricated and dry. Some of the appliances that have given service are: toilet paper tubes, a vacuum cleaner hose, a rolled-up piece of steak, plastic wrap, and condoms.

Vibrators seem to be made for the circumcised penis. The surface of the glans is desensitized, yet the deep-seated nerve endings are intact. The vibrator reaches down and stimulates them.

The usual drugstore vibrator has a number of attachments, none of which is ideal for the penis. There is usually a plastic cup, but it's too small for the glans of most fully-grown men. It and other attachments will work, stimulating one side of the penis or the other, but none of the usual accessories is ideal.

There's a device known as a "cum cap," or "glans cup," sold in adult stores, which fits over the glans fully. The silts down the side allow fitting to almost any shape or size glans. A rubber band holds the flange tightly against the rim, allowing maximum stimulation. This hits the entire surface of the glans, and usually the first use is a shock, because the sensations are very intense.

One male enjoyed the vibrator very much, using the cum-cap attachment. He found that when he turned the unit on, the intense buzzing, penetrating deeply into his penis, would bring on the climax within a minute, no matter how hard he tried to relax. He'd lie back, close his eyes and relax completely, and let the vibrator bring him to an intense, shuddering climax.

Some vibrators are two-speed types, and the high speed brings on orgasm quickly.

There are self-stimulation kits, sold in adult stores, based on vibrators. Most have a sleeve that encases the entire penis, and a socket for a vibrator stud. Others have the vibrator built in.

ALAIN ROBERT

The ones which have a vibrator that works off a battery are less powerful, and it takes longer to come with them. The sensations are less intense at any particular point. Some prefer them, their purpose being to prolong masturbation as long as possible.

The ones which operate from house current are usually more satisfactory, and allow full control of stimulation, from low to high, depending on the model.

There are elaborate masturbation devices, some costing several hundred dollars and able to accommodate more than one penis by means of multiple attachments plugging into one power box. Some operate on vacuum, others on vibrators.

Not every circumcised male enjoys a vibrator. Some find the sensations too intense, and prefer another, more low-key method.

VISUAL SENSATION

Sight is important to some. While some males close their eyes during masturbation, possibly to intensify the fantasy, others watch themselves. To many, the penis is attractive, the compound curves of the glans and its purplish-pink color exciting. Watching gives an additional way for the person to monitor his rising excitement, as the glans grows and hardens with the stimulation. The circumcised penis is equal to the other in this way, because the glans is permanently open to view, and the male can see it from start to finish. The intact male, if he wants to watch his glans, must draw back the foreskin. He can keep it skinned

ATTITUDE

Attitude is important, and this too varies with the individual. Some use masturbation only as a hurried, frenzied release, when they have no other outlet. They tend to bring on orgasm as quickly as possible, to relieve the tension.

Others see self-love as an end in itself, and seek to heighten their sensations during the act. They usually try to prolong it to get the most out of each release. They find that delaying the orgasm increases their pleasure, not only because the act lasts longer, but because the climax is more intense. When they delay release, they find that they ejaculate more powerfully, the jets shooting farther, and that the spasms are more pleasurable.

SELF-SEX AFTER SURGERY

Some events can change the pattern of masturbation. Men circumcised as adults often find that they have to change their technique. Much depends on how closely they're cut, and personal preference.

One man, who'd customarily use a full-fisted stroke of his foreskin, covering and uncovering the glans, found that he now had to use lubrication. He preferred a long stroke, but his circumcision, although not tight, didn't allow this anymore.

Another, circumcised as a baby, was always envious of boys who still had their foreskins and the advantage this allowed in masturbation. He had a surgical reconstruction of his foreskin, and although the result was far from ideal, he ended up with a hood over his glans, which he could slip back and forth during masturbation. His surgery brought about what he described as a "sexual re-birth." Although he had other outlets, he started masturbating much more frequently, enjoying the new and different sensations, making up for lost time.

Whereas before he'd used lubricants and vibrators, now he enjoyed fisting his foreskin the way he'd watched other boys do it when he was a child. As his glans was now covered and kept moist by the new sleeve, it regained some of the lost sensitivity.

This enabled him to relax and enjoy masturbation in a way he'd been denied before. When he's been forced to use lubricants, he'd customarily tighten his crotch muscles, as otherwise he had trouble coming. The increased sensitivity allowed him to lie back and relax, enjoying each slow stroke, and the pleasures he'd been denied in adolescence.

THE JOYS OF SELF-SEX

We no longer see masturbation as unhealthy and disreputable. It stands as an alternative method of pleasurable release, always conveniently available to the male who feels the desire. It has positive advantages, as it never results in venereal disease or unwanted pregnancy. Without a partner, there's no fumbling on inept experimentation to discover what the other likes best.

Circumcision, started to discourage masturbation, imposes a handicap, but people are skilled at improvisation, and work their way around the problems. The circumcised male must be more creative, and often experiments to find the method that suits him best. With a little ingenuity, he'll find self-sex to be worthwhile, not only as a safety valve, but in and for itself. ■

Charlie's Run

by Peter Baker

"We're in luck, boys. We're making the crossing on the Bel-Ami and I betcha that hot little deckhand will be waving his stick of French bread at us again!" Charlie wiped the snail-trail of sweat from his left temple with the back of his hand.

The afternoon run to the coast from London had been a sticky one for them all, particularly Yank and Joe who had ridden shot in the interior of the armoured truck. An unusually fierce sun was setting like a ball of fire beyond the harbour wall; by sunup they would be on the road again. Rotterdam, Hamburg, Munich...the cities of Europe would be ticked off the list, one by one, till this particular Intersec unit made the return crossing in ten days time. Charlie's run. The equipment might belong to the Inter-Europe Security Corporation, but the way the team operated was the way Charlie told them to operate; if anyone stepped out of line they'd be answerable to Charlie, and to no one else.

"You're a great teacher, Charlie," Greg said. "But I canna' help feeling they're going to break into a thousand pieces under me unless they have hair on their chest."

Greg was Charlie's co-driver, a lean, leather-skinned Scot whose height, set against Charlie's squat, almost overweight frame, left a fleeting impression that he was delicate. But under the blue serge uniform Greg's muscles had the constant nervous tension of a predator. He slept but never rested. Many had been the time Charlie had watched the former guardsman flaked-out, naked on his bed, his weapon constantly at attention, flooding out its thick jism without any masturbatory stimulation, just swinging about there like a reptile with a life of its own as Greg wet dreamed.

"And do you reckon I'm going to be able to teach Blue Eyes a few tricks?" Charlie asked.

They looked toward the cab where Leslie was still reaching into the bunk behind the driving seat to find his passport in his overnight case. The youngster had fair hair that bobbed about his uniform collar and a crop of acne that made him look still in his teens rather than a married man of twenty-three.

"He hasn't handled a cock in his life, I'll swear to that," Greg said. "I'll bet he didn't even circle jerk in the school bog."

When they'd pulled into the lay-by on the run down to the coast, Greg had followed Leslie into the toilets and stood next to him at the pissers. The kid was well-hung, no doubt about that, the yellow stream corkscrewing from a thick piece of skin that extended a good two inches beyond the bulbous glans. But he took not the slightest interest in the former guardsman's equipment and although Greg had given his staff a few strokes to get it in an interesting condition after he'd emptied his bladder, Leslie had buttoned up and walked back to the truck without looking either right or left. He hadn't even noticed the eye watching them avidly from behind the hole in the side of the nearest closet. Greg savagely poked at the eye with his skinned-back, purple-tipped prong and, as he expected, felt a wet mouth instantly suck in his urgent flesh. He was so tense at the start of another run that he shot his load before he was fully erect.

"Just my damned luck that when I get one boy broken he has to ride a motorbike through a plate glass window," Charlie moaned. The replacement had to be made within only a few hours notice and Charlie knew damned well he couldn't buck the depot manager's choice.

Charlie returned to the truck to unlock the security doors. "You stay, Joe. Yank will take over when we get on the ferry."

"Sure, Charlie." Joe's black face was wreathed in smiles. "Did I hear you say we got ourselves chicken and French fries for supper?"

"Maybe. But don't you go scaring him again with your stories of witchcraft or savage initiations!"

"He didn't understand a word, man. All that little French chickadee understands is...YESSIR!" Joe's teeth flashed white in the dark interior as he roared with laughter.

"We gotta be careful with the new boy, Charlie," Yank said, as he came from inside the truck and stretched his legs. Yank's real name was Rick and he was a Canadian, but Charlie had at once called him Yank when he joined his team because Charlie, like most limeys, couldn't tell the difference in accents.

"The bastard will have to be careful with us," Charlie said. "I ain't going to have no pimple-faced pansy louse up my team!"

Some fifty commercial vehicles were making the crossing, but Intersec, being the only top security vehicle amongst them, was processed first. That meant they got the first choice of chow, the first use of the showers and the bunks that weren't either over the engines or under the disco.

"Yes, man, he's on board! The chick's on board!" Joe said, as he came up from the vehicle deck as soon as Yank relieved him. "I jus' seen him coiling a hawser like it was pure cockmeat!"

Charlied waited till they had been at sea for quarter of an hour before he went on deck. It was dark, except for the occasional pools of light guarding the companionways. One or two other truckers were exercising before turning in for a short kip before unloading.

"Bon soir, monsieur."

The boy had appeared from nowhere, silent in the white plimsolls, almost luminous against the navy blue pants and the navy blue jumper with the Bel-Ami logo across the chest. Not that the kid had developed a chest yet. He must be eighteen to be working, but he looked younger with his tousled hair, snub nose, and freckled complexion.

"You have for me the Iron Cross you promise?" the boy said, seaching for the right words in English.

"Yes, kid."

"Gimme!"

"Later. Okay?"

The young man hesitated, as though calculating if he was being tricked, then his face broke into the kind of smile that can only be described as lewd.

"Okay," he said. "I go same place. You follow few minutes."

The same place was a toilet below the vehicle deck, below the waterline, next to the ship's stores. It was a deserted part of the ship except during turn-around.

"Give me a few minutes to warm him up," Charlie told Greg, "then we can all get down to the serious business of getting our rocks off."

Greg knew exactly what to expect when he made his way aft. He'd seen Charlie work on other young hunks during the crossing. The French kid's shoes and pants were off. He was sitting on the porcelain pan, his arms stretched high above his head and both wrists handcuffed to a water pipe running parallel to the deckhead at a convenient height. His navy blue jumper was rolled up under his arms to expose two delicate pink nipples; but what instantly hit Greg in his gut was the kid's hairless, white body, all but a fluff of sandy pubes, and the monstrous size of his skin-draped cock.

"Let me have your cuffs, and we'll have him up," Charlie said. He was producing moans of delight from the French boy as his experienced hand friggged the smooth pink phallus.

Greg felt his cock straining in his uniform pants as he slipped the cuffs from his belt. Charlie grabbed the young hunk's ankles and pulled them up in one fast sweep to jack-knife him with his back cradled by the porcelain pan. The ankles were snapped in the cuffs and anchored to his raised arms. The hairless butt was fully-exposed to attack. The light brown sphincter like a delicate sweetmeat, and above it a glistening pad of balls trapped between the close white thighs.

"Suck his nuts while I get greased up," Charlie demanded.

The lean Scot opened his mouth and took in both balls at once, flooding them with tongue-lashed saliva.

"Formidable!" the French boy groaned, as Greg reached under the thighs with both hands to masturbate the throbbing rod and tweak the pink tits.

Charlie never traveled without a tube of Vaseline. Old-fashioned it may be, but he'd found no better when the aim was to give pleasure and not pain to an ass so tight. He put a hand on Greg's shoulders and pushed him away. He'd dropped his pants and rolled up his shirt, and his shiny cock was rearing almost out of control as he guided the circumcised crown to the delicate entrance. Firmly, yet gently, he pressed and the flesh yielded, the man-cock disappearing, inch by inch, into the warm, elastic channel. Greg felt his own pre-cum soaking into his underbriefs. He'd have to free it or he'd have an uncontrollable mess in his crotch. He looked at Charlie's sweating face as the man fucked, the hard lines softened by pleasure, the blue stubble of his unshaven chin momentarily betraying his age. At times it was hard to realize that Charlie was in his late thirties, that he was a married man with a son.

"Make sure he's enjoying it," Charlie gasped. "He's big enough to blow himself. Otherwise, pull it out sideways and suck it for him."

Greg had freed his own organ and was pulling on it urgently. He knelt at the side of the pan and, sure enough, the kid's knob was barely an inch from his lips, thrust nearer and nearer with every lunge Charlie gave against his upturned thighs.

"Open your mouth, boy," Greg whispered in the French man's ear.

"That's it, baby, make love to yourself." He wrapped his hand 'round the smooth cock and pulled it closer to the open mouth till the lips were able to close over the rim of the glans.

Greg was so intent on making sure the French youth was properly under control that he hardly noticed Joe's arrival. The black security guard squeezed into that tiny toilet and dropped to his knees behind Charlie, burying his face in the bucking, hairy ass. He tongue-fucked Charlie for a few minutes, then moved further between the fucking man's legs till he was able to suck the low-swinging balls and tongue 'round the Frenchman's rim as Charlie's piston drove to and fro, in and out, up and down. Charlie couldn't hold back any longer. He flooded the rectum with his sperm, so much so that when he drew out, the upturned ass was seeping with the stuff like an overflowing goblet.

"You won't need any grease with that load in him," Charlie said, wiping his slackening organ on his shirt tail.

Greg was standing in position now, exciting himself almost to breaking point by sliding his long, straight cock between the French youth's smooth, white thighs and along the underside of the upturned penis.

"Open your mouth wider," Charlie was urging. "That's it, you can suck yourself and Greg at the same time."

Charlie got a grip of both throbbing organs and moments later the two, together, were flooding into the young French man's mouth.

"Christ, I wanted to screw his butt-hole!" Greg protested, as he shot load after load. He could feel the young man gagging on both loads, soaking Charlie's hand in their cum cocktail.

"You can get in for seconds after I've done him, man," Joe said. He, too, had dropped his uniform pants and was beating a piece of black meat, rubbery, like a length of hose-pipe, dusted with the white crystals of dried sweat, a thin, black forskin sliding to and fro over a glans raw and red and slippery as a large dog.

Charlie and Greg stood on either side of the defenseless Frenchman, his wrists and ankles straining against the restraining cuffs, and watching the black dong sink into the spunky anus till the wiry patch of pubic hair was rubbing hard against the distended sphincter.

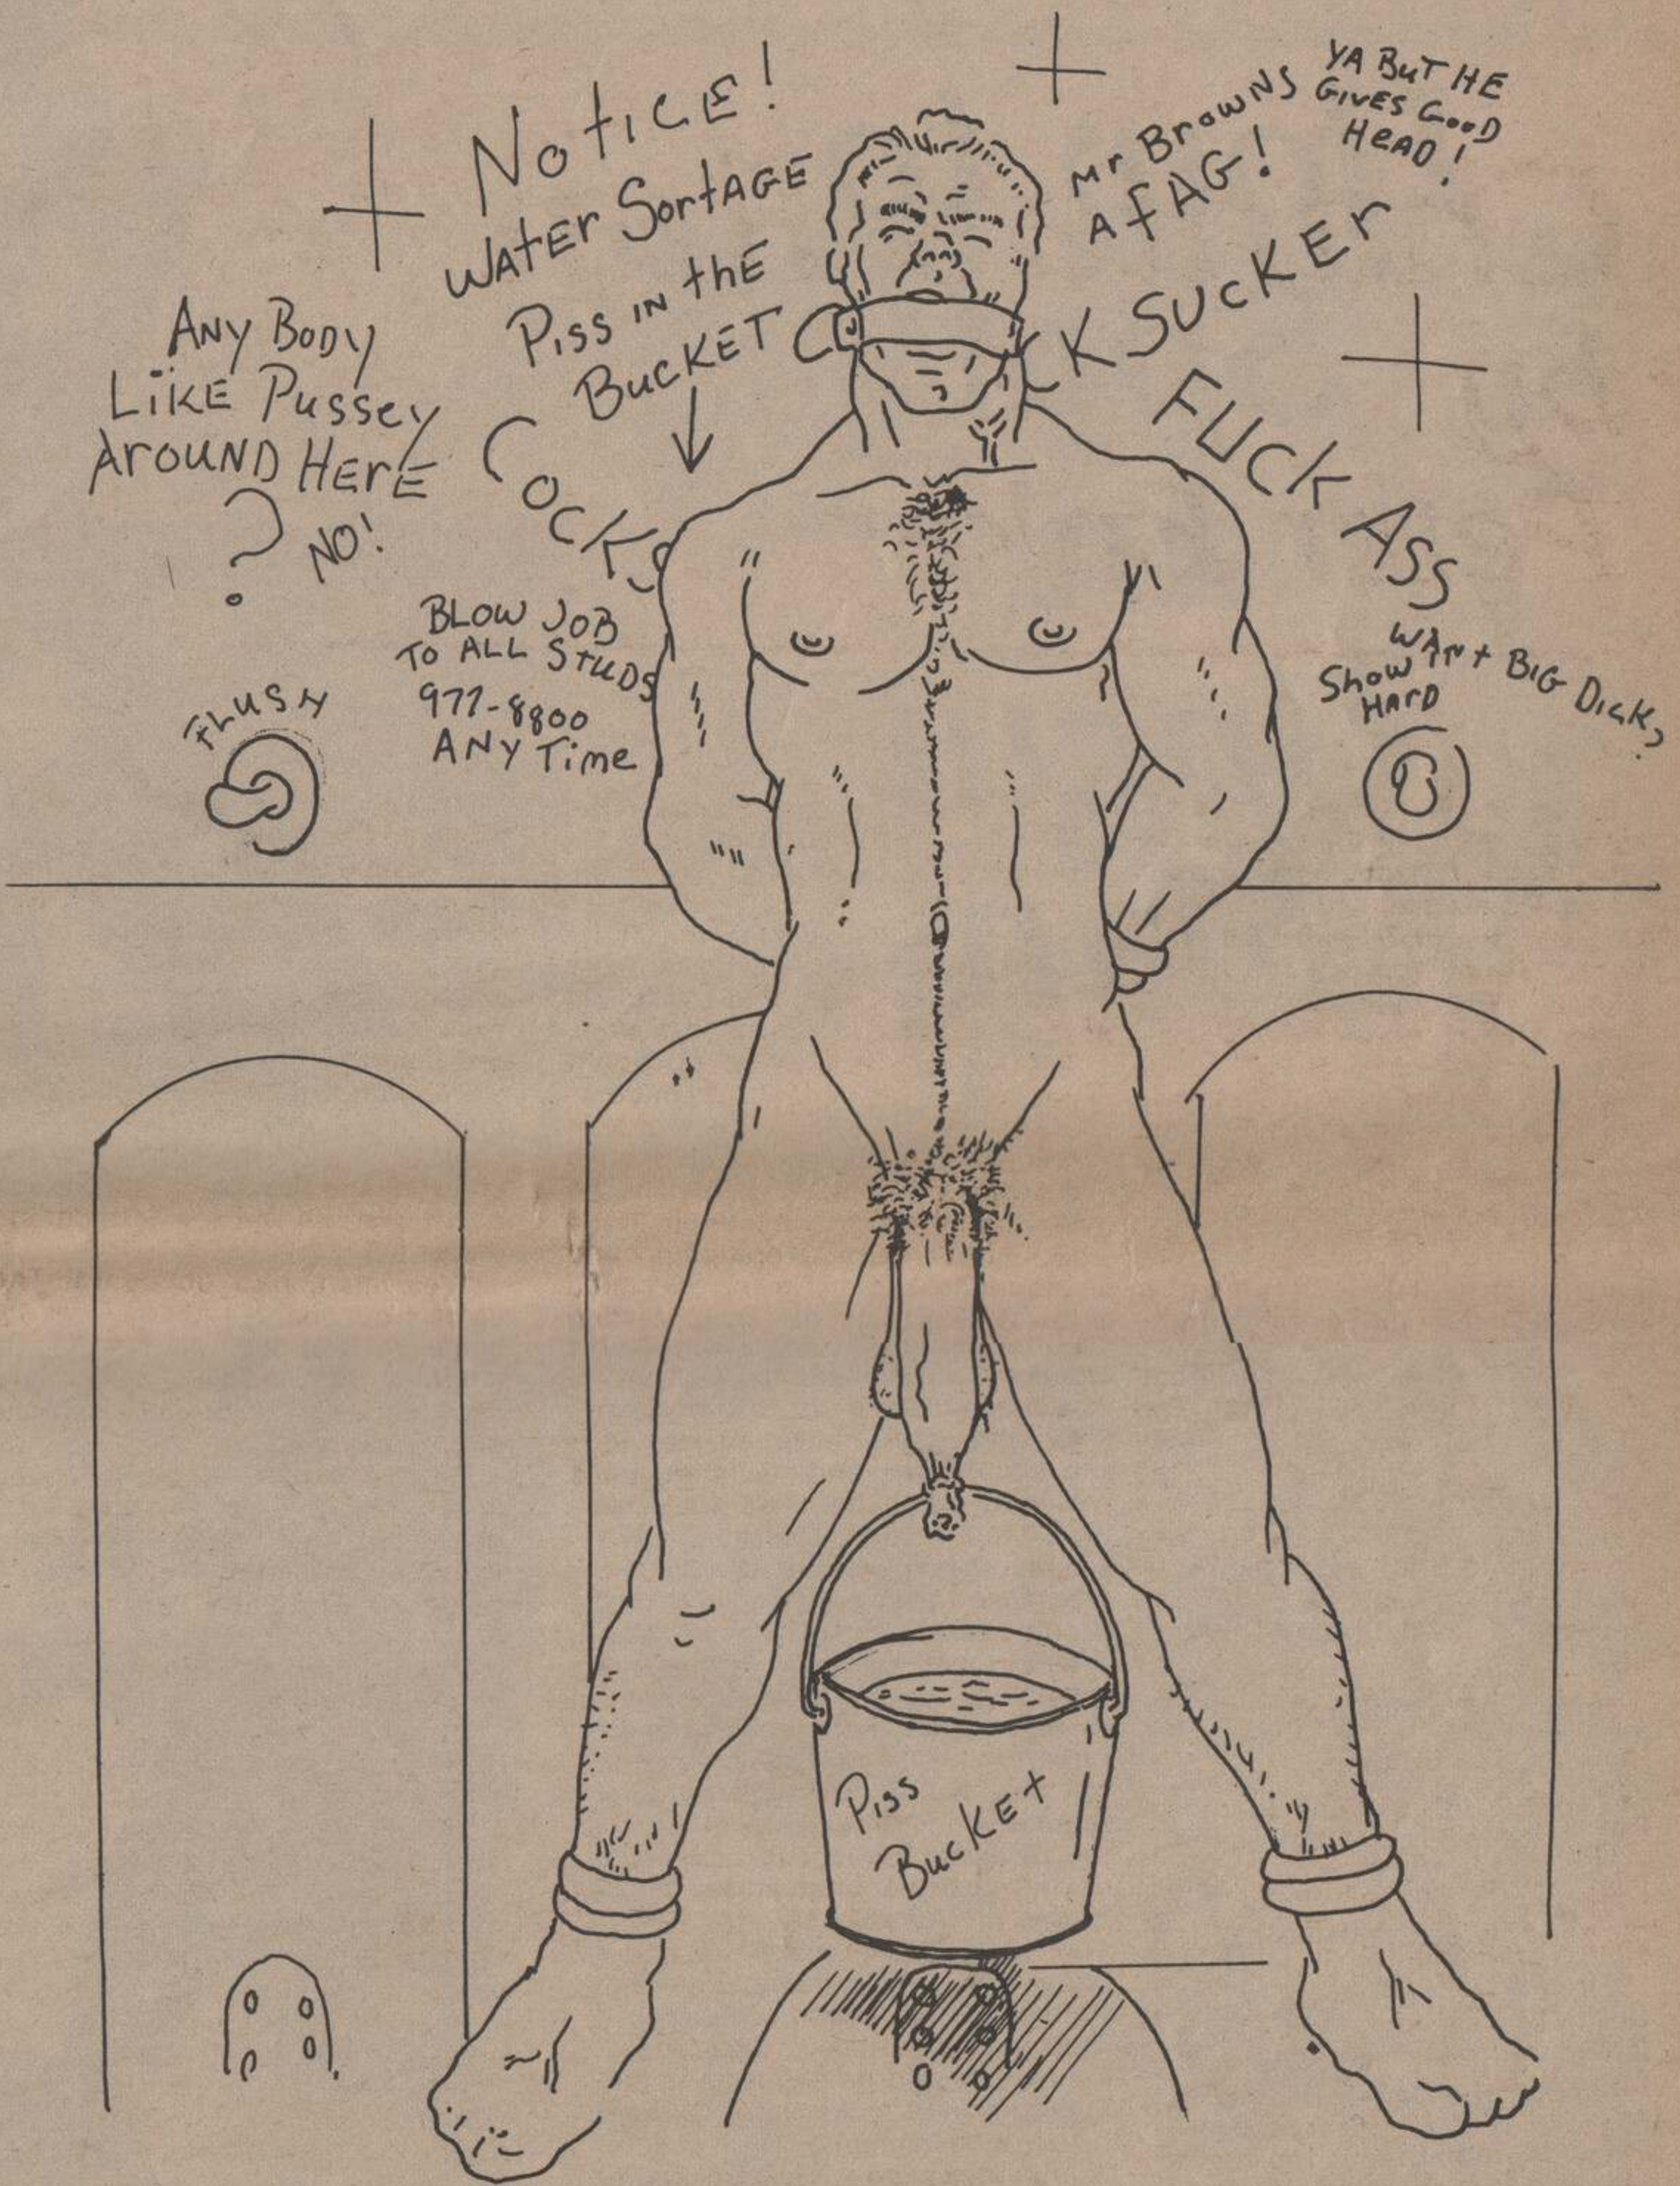

For several minutes no one noticed Leslie standing in the doorway. The blue-eyed young man could hardly believe what he saw. If the scene gave him some passionate urge, he didn't yield to it.

"You damned lot of perverts!" he shouted, his voice almost girlish with indignation. "Let him go this instant!"

"He won't thank you if we do," Charlie said. "Come and ask him for himself, if he can talk with his mouth full!"

"I...I..." Whatever Leslie was about to say, he didn't say it, but turned and fled in the direction of the upper decks.

When Joe had shot his load in the young man's hole, Charlie took the keys and released the handcuffs. He was obviously in some pain from being pinned in that position for so long, but he made no protest, only asking, please, could he have the present he'd been promised. Charlie took him to the armoured truck and rummaged under the bunk behind the driving cab, finally coming out with a black leather jacket to which was pinned a German Iron Cross.

"Is the jacket mine as well, mon-sieur?" the excited Frenchman asked.

"Sure it is. You can't wear an Iron Cross without leather, now can you?" He patted the well-fucked butt through the coarse trousers. "With luck, we'll see you again in a couple of weeks. Keep wanking!"

As he went up to join the others, he told himself the French youth would make someone a fucking good M in a few years time. Greg met him at the top of the companionway.

"We're in trouble, Charlie," the ex-guardsmen said. "Our new boy, Leslie, is blowing all his fuses. You know what he used to be before he landed this job?"

"No."

"A bloody police cadet, that's all."

"Was he, indeed!" There was one thing that could always be said for Charlie, he never lost his cool. "Then we'll just have to find some way to repair those fuses for him, won't we?"

"But a baby pig!" Greg was both apprehensive and indignant.

"Baby pigs can be made to squeal in more ways than one," Charlie said.

How to Spot an Uncut Man

You are hankering for uncut meat. You don't want to go to the baths where you can check out the equipment in advance. You don't want to ask the guy next to you at the bar whether he's got foreskin dangling on his dick. You can't quite tell whether the guy's basket displays a cut cock or not as he cruises you on the subway. How in hell do you find an uncircumcised man when you need him? Well, for one thing, you can join the Uncircumcised Society of America and receive their Foreskin Finder List. But, besides that, there are ways to spot a foreskin carrying dude, according to some of our readers.

One man insists that the thumb tells all! Not the thumb in particular, but the thumbnail. If it is set high on the thumb and the nail is inclined to overhang the flesh of the thumb, (whether or not it has recently been trimmed) then there is a good chance there is an overhang on the corresponding penis. If the nail is set far down the thumb and a large amount of flesh precedes it on the thumb, then chances are there is a large amount of flesh (glans) preceding the penile skin. Palmistry seems to back up this theory by stating that the thumb does represent the penis, sexual aggression (or lack of it), etc. Supposedly, the hand in all its features is a direct reflection of the brain and how the person sees himself (and his penis). Well, since being alerted to the thumbnail I have been watching thumbs! Amazingly, I have noticed more overhanging thumbnails on European and Latin American men than otherwise, (whom you would expect to be uncut) while the opposite is true of American men (mostly cut, of course). However, while my overhanging thumbnail does give away my foreskin, I have found that there are notable exceptions to this theory among my friends. Oh well, it's fun to look at thumbs anyway!

Another man claims that circumcised men show anger on their faces (this man is circumcised himself) while uncircumcised men have softer expressions. He thinks it is possibly because of the pain they experienced during their neonatal circumcision. Another man claims that circumcised men are more sexually aggressive, have anxiety in sexual relations and really pound your ass when they are fucking! Well, a recent clinical test might give this theory a slight credence... as generalized as it may be. Scientists circumcised a group of male mice and let them loose among female and uncircumcised male mice. They observed that the circumcised mice had a more difficult time attracting mates and thus did become more aggressive in their general attitudes and developed leadership qualities lacking in the uncircumcised mice (oops!). Sounds stupid, right? Well, a college coach recently explained to a USA member that he prefers his track stars to be circumcised because it makes them more competitive and he suggests to his uncircumcised jocks that they see the doctor! Hm... Well, coach, I know some prize-winner jocks who were the first to cross the line and they did it with uncut cocks swinging! Personally, I am inclined to think that the reason the female mice failed to show interest in the circumcised males is because they couldn't smell their smegma. Right men?

I think most of us in the scene develop some "intuition" in trying to figure out just who is cut and who isn't. So, to help you develop your "intuition," here are a few photos from which you can test yourself. See page 45 for the correct answers. OK, which of these dudes carry foreskin?

VIVE LA DIFFERENCE!

Let's talk about the French. The nationality, not the act. If you wanted a sure fire bet for finding a gaggle of foreskins, then start looking at the imported French porn film on video cassette. While there are currently only a handful on the market, the reception they have received has been so strong that we can expect to see a steadier flow of new titles in coming years.

One of the first French porn imports to America was Men Between Themselves, a light romp about some French Foreign Legionnaires on a three-day pass. One of the group has an uncle who has an estate in the country, and he invites his buddies to bask in the fresh air and partake of the estate's grandures. The latter turns out to be a dozen local youths who are as anxious as the Legionnaires to cram a lot of sex into 72 hours. Not top-of-the-line in visual quality (remember, this is one of the first French porn films to be transferred to video), still watchable, and a few good moments to boot.

The work of Jean-Daniel Cadinot, on the other hand, has been wowing them in Europe for quite a while. In the last couple years a number of his features and short films have been imported. The first, Dream Boys, was introduced to these shores by Buckshot Productions, and was a collection of three films, each different, all dazzling. In the title piece, a blond Frenchman confesses the strange experience he recently had in the hospital, where he was sexually ravaged by two extremely well-hung—and uncut—Morrocan orderlies. In Tender Friends, two Eighteenth Century French peasant youths play around while doing their chores, then help each other bathe in a tin washtub—at which point help turns into hunger. In the third piece, Stop, a hitchhiker shows off so much of his uncut equipment in his torn shorts that he gets a ride from a hot, young man on a motorcycle who promptly takes him to a deserted part of the woods for a sample. The French guys in this and all of Cadinot's films are a combination of angel and street punk: the faces of angels and the sexual appetites of street punks.

Cadinot's All of Me (Aime Comme Minet) is centered around the experiences of one of his favorite models, Pierre Buisson, and it's easy to understand why. Buisson has classic French good looks, a trim, hairless, sculptured physique, and an awesome, thick, beautifully uncut cock. The film opens with Buisson at a modeling session for Cadinot (whose voice we hear through the session, but who never appears himself). As Buisson shows off his good looks and sterling equipment, he tells Cadinot about how he came out (raped by his boss' son and another pastry chef in the bakery where he worked), how he seduced his best friend (on the stairs of their apartment building), how he was seduced by a jogger in the park one day—all cross-cut with the modeling session itself, in which Buisson twists and turns and strokes and flexes and pouts and seduces...until he unleashes a torrential load. Every cock in this video is well-draped with French foreskin.

Another Cadinot jewel is Becoming Men (Devenir Des Hommes). A basic and simple tale on the surface: a young French boy is on his way home from school, stops at a cafe, the waiter accidentally spills coffee on his shorts, takes him to the kitchen, cleans him up, strips him down, fucks him silly. The boy continues home, his lover takes a bath—and tells him all about how he was seduced as a youth back on the farm. The video moves into high gear here—because the farm story has one surprise after another: a strip-poker game, an auto-fellatio exhibition, corn-cob-ing (it's like using a dildo, but you use a corn cob), fucking in a swing, and the like. Well, such a tale would get you in the bathtub with your lover too, which is just what happens. Foreskins abound both in the contemporary Paris section and in the farm flashbacks.

Cadinot's newest import, Tough and Tender, may well be the glittering jewel in the crown of his work—at least for now. Set in a French detention home, the cast is a combination of street punks and angels. The story opens with the newest little delinquent getting gang-raped by his entire dorm, which means he gets to taste and feel about a half-dozen uncut French cocks, then only gets even better (better sex scenes, well-developed story, nice resolution). Filled with wonderful little details, if there were no sex in this movie (and there is loads and loads) you might find it on the film festival circuit.

Cadinot may dominate French gay porn, and he well deserves to, but there are other filmmakers over there. Johnny Dark's Sex Bazaar (which was produced by Cadinot) takes a young French boy to Morroco on a holiday. He stumbles into a bathhouse (or a church, it's hard to tell the difference) that is conducting a non-stop orgy of both uncut French and often-cut, but extra-hung, Morrocan men. Afterwards, he goes shopping—and it's a shopping trip you'll envy—where every merchant he meets has a hard-on under his robes and would rather plow the tourist than sell him something. He goes from one stall in the bazaar to another—with an occasional break for a trip back to the baths/church. Then he meets a waiter (I think he's a waiter) who takes him home. More sex. Than back to the bazaar. Finally, the young Frenchman goes back to France; but only because his asshole wore out, I'm sure.

Dark is obviously Cadinot's understudy; although he has his own vision about how sex is played out, Cadinot's influence is all to the good.

Wallace Potts has only had one feature reach American shores, Le Beau Mec, but what an introduction! Centered around the life of Karl Forest (who also stars as himself and who wrote the script), as he wishes to present it, Le Beau Mec is a breathtaking look at an emerging gay man in the early part of this decade. Karl Forest is a dream, the James Dean of French porn stars, and his life—as we see it—is a combination of heaven and hell. Seduced by a soldier from an army camp, raped by the police, a hustler in the seediest parts of Paris, a nude dancer in a gay bar, finally a self-made demi-god; Karl Forest is both extraordinarily seductive and frighteningly sexy. Beautiful, powerful stuff. One could have wished for just a few more shots of Forest's classic uncut cock, but you can't have everything!

Karl Forest also has a brief cameo in Men Between Themselves as one of the Legionnaires; in fact, his sex scene is the highlight of the story.

Dream Boys and Becoming Men are released in America by Buckshot Productions; Le Beau Mec is a Le Salon release; All of Me and Tough and Tender are from Marksman Video; Men Between Themselves is from PM Productions. Marksman is expected to have a new Cadinot title in 1985. Also, Trophy Video will release a new Jean-Daniel Cadinot title this year.

FORESKIN RECONSTRUCTION

Recently in a telephone conversation with Bud Berkeley I mentioned to him that I was about to undergo a surgical foreskin restoration procedure. Bud knew of my efforts to restore my lost foreskin via the manual "stretching" procedure as advocated by the BUFF group (Brothers United for Future Foreskins). Bud asked if I would be willing to share the events which led to my decision to go under the "knife" with other members of USA. I have agreed to do so, and will, at the appropriate time also provide before, during, and after photographs.

Because I wish to be totally candid and honest in the process of relating this to you, the members of USA, I've asked Bud to allow me to use another name. For the time being, sign my name as David.

Like the majority of American males born in hospitals during the early and mid-1950's I was circumcised as a newborn infant.

I always wondered why my father, a German immigrant, and uncut allowed my mother and the doctor to clip me. He died when I was thirteen, before having that "little talk" with me about sex.

When I was eight years old I first noticed a "difference" between my own penis, and those of the boys who were my friends and peers in school. We had moved to a large eastern seaboard city, and while my family was not Catholic I attended Catholic schools, thought, at the time, to provide a stronger educational background than similar schools in the public domain.

My best friend at that age was named Dwight. His family background was Italian, and we did everything together. We went to the Saturday movies together, stayed overnight at each other's houses, and we took occasional showers together. Dwight had been left uncut. Dwight would probably have been my first "experiment," but he moved before we reached the sexual awareness stage.

Instead, when I was eleven years old, a new family moved in next door, and their eldest son, Sam, who was fourteen at the time became my best friend. Although there was a three year age difference, we liked each other.

When the weather was decent we camped out in our backyard or Sam's. Sam's family owned a tent and we usually put our sleeping bags inside when it got cooler as the evening progressed.

When I was twelve, and began noticing my own erections Sam said there was a way to make the erections go away and make you feel good at the same time, but made me promise not to say anything to anyone. Of course, at age fifteen Sam had a tuft of coal-black pubic hair and I was bald. Still, he took my penis in his mouth and I know that it felt good. I obviously didn't experience an orgasm, but puberty was just starting for me, but Sam asked me to do the same for him.

I watched in fascination as his foreskin slipped back and forth across the glans of his penis, and remember being sprayed with a ribbon of semen the first time I tried sucking on his penis. He was an "anteater," in effect his penis was completely covered by the foreskin and came down to a point.

In junior high school the mandatory after gym shower provided me with ample opportunity to compare my cut penis with several uncut ones.

By the time I was fourteen I had sprouted a fair amount of hair on my legs, groin and even under my arms. It was at that age that I experienced my first real climax. At the hands of my cousin, Paul, who was only two years younger than I.

By the time I left junior high school I had been voted the "hairiest armpits in the school," a distinction which I am still not so sure was a compliment.

Masturbation was my main form of sexual release. At sixteen I lost my virginity to a girl, whose first name I have trouble recalling. She was, however, the "older woman"—she was nineteen. From sixteen through twenty-one I did all the mandatory things high school and college-age guys did. I sneaked into drive-in movies in the trunk of cars, I tried to get girls to give me blow jobs, or even have intercourse (my success rate in that department wasn't all that great), bought my first car, etc., etc., etc.

In college I lived in a dormitory my freshman and sophomore years, and joined a fraternity.

Soon I gave up both the dorm and the fraternity in exchange for an apartment of my own.

Sexual encounters were sporadic with girls. There was one guy who lived in my complex, however, whose father distributed porno films, and on Thursday nights we would gather for poker games, hard drinking, cigar smoking, and the latest porno flicks, many of which were gay.

None of us he-men would admit to being turned on by this, but a pattern evolved of circle jerks for the "straight" films. Many of the guys who participated in the Thursday night parties were uncut. They always seemed to go off into space each time they climaxed, and complained that following a climax their penis was just too sensitive to touch.

It was probably during that period, when I was a college junior, that I began to consciously wish I hadn't been circumcised. Of course, at that time, there was nothing that could be done about it.

As David undergoes his foreskin reconstruction, we will monitor the progress and David will report on each step for FQ. In the next issue (FQ 3), we plan to have photos of David's cut phallus and periodically show the progress he makes in attaining a new foreskin.

Another reader, who regrets his loss of foreskin, but who had not decided on a particular reconstruction technique, submits the following:

I am 52 years old, and was circumcised when I was 32. At that time I was married and enjoyed fucking very much. My foreskin was very long and did not retract completely during intercourse. I also had a lot of curiosity about circumcision, and wanted to see what it felt like.

Well, I found a doctor who would do it in a hospital on a Saturday morning. Friday afternoon I checked in and a male nurse "prepped" me by shaving my cock and balls completely. This was a very enjoyable experience. The next morning I was wheeled into the operating room and the anesthetist asked me if I wanted a local or general anesthetic. I said local, but he said the doctor wanted me to have a general, and that it would be better for me.

That was the last I remember until I woke up later, back in my room with a bandage on my cock. The head of the cock was extremely sore. I thought the scrub nurse had probably scrubbed my cockhead more than was necessary. Anyway, I felt cheated out of the experience of circumcision, and would like to watch another adult being circumcised.

The doctor did a good job, leaving plenty of skin. The head of my cock has toughened a lot. At this point, I would like to get my foreskin back. I am interested in the stretching technique, as well as looking for a doctor who does foreskin restorations.

TELL IT TO THE SARGE

The Sarge is a man with a mission. Through an ad he runs in Drummer and other magazines, he solicits uncircumcised men who want to have their foreskins clipped. They apply to with him with exacting details about why and how they want to have it done. If the Sarge thinks the applicant is worthy, he sets it up. Each issue of FQ will bring you letters from applicants that the Sarge thinks are worth sharing.

Dear Sarge,

At last I have found a man I can share my problems with. I need to be circumcised—clipped to make a man out of me. You see, I have a 7-inch cock that many men would envy, except it still has foreskin that covers it up when it's soft. I'm sorry to say that when I was born a high-risk, premature infant, the doctor spared my skin. My Dad "got it" in the military, and used to tell me that the Army would make a man out of me, just as they had with him. When I was a boy, my Dad would sometimes let me shower with him. I would sneak peeks at his big knob and rod, and would dream that someday I would have one just like it. I went off to college instead of the Army, and never got my official U.S. Army clip job. Maybe you can help me out.

When my big dick rises to a raging hard-on, the skin slides back to expose a fair-sized head with a large piss slit. And when I'm hard, I can barely push my skin over my high corona. So many men might think that I have the best of both worlds—a large, uncut prick that exposes (converts) to a nicely-knobbed rod. My only problem is that I want an all-American, man-styled circumcised cock all of the time! When I show off my dick to other men, I want to flash a fully-exposed glans—soft or hard. I want to share the common experience of most men—having had the foreskin clipped off. I want to be a circumcised man.

Of course I have some favorite styles of cut cocks. I'd really like to be clipped so that a dark ring of scar tissue encircles my shaft, something to prove that I "got it" just like my buddies. I realize that the "ring boys" were probably branded by the Gomco clamp—something adult men rarely get to experience because of possible surgical complications. And after I've been cut, I'm sure that my cock head will grow fatter so that I can show a big mushroom in my jock, jeans or shorts. And I know that I'm asking for a lot more pain when I say I want my frenum stripped along with the skin. I have to confess that what I really want is a "clipped tight" cock that is taut when I'm erect, so that I have to rub and pull at my tight shaft skin and bare knob when I want to shoot my load. I realize that I'll have to use a lot more lubrication after my clip job.

Speaking about shooting a load, a gay man should be clipped whole his circumcised brothers and buddies watch the operation. They could celebrate my circumcision by jerking off as it takes place. Of course, I wouldn't be embarrassed to have my buddies watch as I undergo the most masculine and private operation that a man can have done to him.

Hi Sarge,

I'm 46 years old and uncut as hell. I've got a foreskin that not only covers my knob completely, but hangs down below it in a tight, little fucking rosebud. Sure, I can skin it back with no problem or pain, but the bastard won't stay back!

I was the youngest of five brothers, all of whom were cut. And so was my old man, who was never shy about showing his meat around the house. I saw him plenty of times in the bathroom.

My olders brother (we shared two bedrooms) used to tell me that I was adopted, that I couldn't be a member of the family with all that skin hanging down over the head of my cock.

Finally, when I was a teen, I asked my Dad if I was adopted. When he asked my why I was asking a dumb question like that, I explained what my brothers had said about my dick. He laughed about it and said, no, I wasn't adopted; but when I was born money was tight and he couldn't afford to have me circumcised. He figured that he would have it done in a few years, but never got around to it for one reason or another.

Three years later I asked him if he could afford to have me circumcised. Well, it just never happened. I finally gave up asking, mainly because my brothers had stopped teasing me about it. I joined the Navy to avoid the draft, and again my foreskin started embarrassing me, as it seemed like everyone else in the Navy was cut. Before showering, I would skin it back so that it looked more like the other guys. But as soon as I would bend over to wash my toes, the skin would automatically slip back down over the head of my knob.

I seriously thought of converting to Judism to get my cock cut that way. But I haven't done that, and I still have my redundant foreskin.

A real fantasy I have is to find a doctor who would be willing to circumcise me in front of a class of interns who could watch the operation being done on my 5½" soft cock (6" with foreskin overhang)—instead of having to watch such an operation on an infant to get rid of such a little piece of skin on some 1" dick.

ACORN is a "Foreskin Anonymous" club. ACORN is interested in you (and your dick) if you belong to any of the following categories: 1) A man whose penis was circumcised while he was a youth or an adult and he gets off on it and wants to share that experience; 2) A man whose penis has not yet been circumcised and he is erotically turned-on by the thought of having it circumcised; 3) A man who is fascinated by the art and practice of circumcision and wants to share his knowledge, researched material and stories; 4) A man who enjoys erotic circumcision fantasies and wants to share them in correspondence or meet other men who beat off to similar fantasies; 5) A man who desires to watch another man's penis being circumcised; 6) A man who has talents as a circumciser and wants to demonstrate them during a SIR-circumcision; 7) A man who desires to contribute his foreskin during a SIR-circumcision for the enjoyment of his ACORN brothers; or, 8) A man who idolizes the beauty of the sleekly-sculptured, distinctly-ringed, well-circumcised all-American cock with its proud, flaring, liberated glans (acorn in Latin) exposed to the world. If your cock responds favorably to any of the above (check him out now!) then sign him up. ACORN, 633 Post St., Box 542, San Francisco, CA 94109.

Here is an ACORN who wants to share his circumcision story:

I was born in London, England in 1950, after National Health stopped routine infant circumcision in that country. As a young boy I immigrated to the United States with my parents and older brother. As soon as we were in school, my brother and I began getting shit from other kids because of our uncut dicks. I was the only boy in my class whose dick hadn't been circumcised and I was extremely embarrassed about being seen naked in the school gym. To make matters worse, I learned from my older brother that our father got circumcised by the Navy.

When my brother and I discussed circumcision it turned me on and thinking about it became a part of my sex act. Then, when I was 16, I had my first real sex experience with an older man who was a doctor. He had a real tight circumcision job on his dick and I told him how much I admired it and how I hated my foreskin. He offered to circumcise me if I got my father's permission. Dad not only agreed to it but he wanted my brother to get circumcised at the same time and he wanted to be there to watch the circumcisions. My father wanted to make sure the doc did a good job on his sons and he wanted to make sure our frenums were excised as the Navy had excised his.

I think the most erotic happening was seeing my foreskin circumcised. My circumcision is very tight, no movable skin on the shaft when erect, no loose skin when flaccid. I have a wide, dark circumcision scar half-way up the shaft, which I think is beautiful.

Being circumcised made me feel like all the other guys, increased the size of my penis and glans, which really flared out and stayed that way.

I later joined the Navy myself and ended up in the Medic Corps and witnessed many a sailor being circumcised. The Navy urged it at the time and so did I whenever I got a chance to discuss it with an uncut recruit. I really got off on examining all the circumcised Navy dicks, checking out the variety of circumcision styles and especially enjoyed studying their scars.

Now my lover (who is Jewish) and I discuss and read about circumcision every time we have sex. Once, when we were high, I cut off his frenum because he admired my cleanly-circumcised dick and wanted one just like it. His dick was back in working order in a day or two. We would never consider having sex with an uncircumcised trick because I can't stand foreskins. When we do have tricks we always ask them about their circumcisions and you'd be surprised how hot it makes them to discuss the subject.

I have fantasized about being re-circumcised but there isn't any skin left to cut. I guess I'll just have to watch someone else get circumcised. If you want to write to me through ACORN, I am ACORN #5.

BROTHERS OF THE RING

I call you, my brothers, because we have been bonded by a mark, a ring that has been worn by men, and only men, since the earliest civilizations. I am speaking to you so that you may realize the importance and beauty of your gift. I hope that you will have a new feeling of pleasure and pride in your manhood.

Look at your circumcision. Get a magnifying glass and look at every detail of it. Find all the lines, curves and variations in the scar. See how your circumcision makes your phallus different than any others in the history of mankind. Look at its shape, its color, its position, its width. Does it come to a point underneath, leaving the frenulum completely or partially there? Or is it a perfectly round ring with the frenulum completely cleaned off? Is the circumcision partial or complete? Notice how the scar is big and jagged or thin and sleek. There may be loose pieces of skin underneath, or skin adhesions to the head.

After you see the beauty of your circumcision, take a closer look at the circumcisions of our brothers and you will find a new world of manliness and mystery.

Think about how your circumcision makes your penis more masculine. Men want their bodies to be hard and tight, because hard and tight is more manly and that is what circumcision makes our cocks. Any scar on the body is very masculine and a scar that circles our manhood is the most masculine mark a man can wear.

Circumcision allows the head to grow larger. Circumcision toughens the glans. In many cultures, circumcision has been performed as a rite of passage from boyhood to manhood. A circumcised man puts his cock into the foreskin of an uncircumcised man and assumes the masculine role.

Read and talk about circumcision. Once you learn more about it you will have a new view of your circumcision and your manhood. There is so much history and information that you could spend the rest of your life discovering it all. The more you know and understand about circumcision, the more you will be able to enjoy your mark of manhood. Learn about the physical and spiritual value of the ring we wear.

Overcome any personal resentments you have about circumcision.

—Marksman

Bud Berkeley is keeper of the files for the Uncircumcised Society of America. Obtaining material from these files, plus his own research and the interviews he conducts regarding the foreskin/circumcision subject, Bud answers your questions in this regular FQ column.

Dear Bud Berkeley,

My foreskin is long and tapered and overhangs longer than most other skins I've seen. Now that foreskin is popular I have all these cut dudes wanting to know what my skin would feel like over their naked cockheads. We poke at it, try stretching it out wide, yank and pull at the foreskin but my cock just won't allow another cock to get inside. I can't figure it out. My skin is loose enough. How do you dock cocks?

Stubborn Skin

Dear Stubborn Skin,

The key to your problem is that your foreskin is "tapered," as you described it. I'll bet your skin is the type which stays forward when you get erect. Right? Tapered foreskins usually have weighted tips. That is, the skin around the tip is thicker than the foreskin which covers the glans, etc. It is the weighted tip which is necessary on a penis for the which is necessary on a penis for the foreskin to remain full-forward over a hardon... otherwise it will slide back further over the glans as the cock gets harder. Only about 40% of uncut cocks have weighted tips. Many men have long foreskins without having weighted tips. They often have to pull at their skins to keep them forward over a boner, but their cocks are real pleasers to any would-be docker. Easily docked! Your skin will never be easy to dock. You can stretch it, but it will only make it longer and bulkier (yum!), but I doubt whether that stubborn ring of foreskin tip will yield much. Count yourself lucky, pal, because that weighted tip is something extra and feels sensational when it stretches over your throbbing joint as you beat it; it almost feels like a rubber band dancing up, down and around your cockhead and shaft. But as to dancing on other cockheads? Well, you asked how to dock and I think the easiest way is to stretch the foreskin (or foreskins) all the way back and place the two cockheads together and then bring the skin up over them. Sounds easy but, alas, it will be a struggle with your tip. If possible, start the procedure with both cocks dead soft. Anyway, keep struggling because you never know when someone's dick might pop inside yours and then it will be worth all the effort.

Dear Bud,

I'm sorry, but I just can't ever get enough head cheese. My friends think I'm raunchy and that cheese is filthy. I've been eating it ever since high school when me and this uncut jock used to hide under the bleachers after school. He'd be running laps and see me waiting there and he'd scoot in and yank out his pecker. It was always fucking hard by the time he pulled it out of his athletic strap and peeled it back to show me what he had saved up. We had a deal; if he saved it for me I'd give him head. And this guy wanted head! So, that's how I got hooked. Now, sir, I think you are the man to tell me this: What is head cheese? Is it filth like my friends say or is it the most delicious delicacy that my taste buds keep telling me it is?

Cheese Eater

Dear Cheese Eater,

No, it is (usually) not filth. Yes, it is a delicacy to you, because your taste buds and your nose have been conditioned to one of Nature's magical aromas. As I have mentioned in previous columns, the French created Musk as a fragrance by extracting fluids from the preputial (foreskin) glands of the Musk Ox. Now, there seems to be scientific proof that the French knew what they were doing. According to biopsychologist Dr. Mary Ellen O'Connor at the University of Tulsa, "Musk is the only odor demonstrated to attract sexually." Of course, the odor of which we speak so mysti-cally is that which comes from fresh smegma. Like everything else, smegma changes with age and ripens into head cheese. Several doctors have written to me saying that it is not crucial for an uncircumcised man or boy to swab out his foreskin every day, but sooner or later that cheese has got to go! Of course, your high school jock discovered the best way to clean it out, but everyone isn't so lucky (unless you belong to the USA). Cheese can become a health hazard if it is neglected for long, long periods as it curdles and irritates both the glans and the inner lining of the foreskin. But, hell, with all the cheese hounds out there, there is no excuse for such neglect! Oh yes, to answer your question. What is cheese? Its an excretion that (according to some medical theorists) comes from those tiny glands which circle the glans-corona. You have seen some cockheads which have rough-edged circles circling the flare of the head. Those are the glands which produce smegma. All cocks have those glands, but on some they are hardly visible. Everyone produces, but on circumcised penises the aroma so loved by the French just evaporates into thin air. All of which adds up to one more good reason for keeping foreskins right where Nature placed them. Right, men?

Dear Mr. Berkeley,

I loved that photo of the naked, parading uncircumcised Hindus in the first edition of FQ. They seemed so happy and natural. I understand that the Hindus are an uncircumcised population, but that at one time Moslem rulers forced circumcision on them. Recently, I read that the Sikh religion is a combination of Hinduism and Islam. Do you know which tradition the Sikhs adopted in regards to the style of their penises? I find myself strangely attracted to dark men who wear turbans on their heads and hope you are going to tell me that they also wear turbans around their cocks.

Strangely Attracted

Dear Strangely Attracted,

Yes, the Hindus are not only resolutely opposed to circumcision, they are known by anthropologists to have some of the longest foreskins possible perpetrators of the Sikh rebellion (according to the Indian government) was Pakistan. The article continued: "The evidence of foreign intervention is extraordinarily flimsy. Two 'Sikhs' shot dead as they tried to escape from the Golden Temple turned out to be circumcised. Ergo, they must have been Pakistanis (Moslems). This ignores the fact that, in the smuggling of Punjab, circumcision is commonplace because it makes it easier for the Sikh to pass himself off as a Moslem once he crosses the border."

Dear Mr. Berkeley,

I have heard so many different explanations of how circumcision got started. Most writers say it started in ancient Egypt. I believe in reincarnation and although I am uncircumcised in this lifetime, I have a recurrent dream of being circumcised as a youth in a very early society that predates Egypt. I believe I am experiencing something deep in my subconscious mind from the past and it was probably only the first of many times I have been circumcised. Does this make sense to you?

Circumcised Many Times

Dear Circumcised Many Times,

Well, assuming you have been born many times you probably have been circumcised many times (even if you had been born a female). After all, most of the societies which were the progenitors to Western Civilization did circumcise. As far as circumcision predating Egypt? Of course. Anthropologists have found evidence of circumcision among stone age dwellers. Look at the Australian Aboriginies who have been avidly whacking off part of their ample penises since the beginning of time! However, the ritual circumcision we know in the West definitely came to us by way of Egypt. Prior to Egypt I am inclined to agree with those anthropologists who believe it all started in the area of the Blue Nile (Southern Sudan and Northern Ethiopia). Today, travelers in that area notice the various amulets hung over the doorways of native huts (dead pigeons nailed to a doorway supposedly brings plentiful food to the household, etc.). According to reports, some remote villages in the area still practice a very early form of phallic worship by nailing penises to the doors to insure fertility to the household. Whenever they need a new supply of penises they simply go on raiding parties to nearby villages. Of course, they must be certain that the penises they are using as amulets came from a fertile man, because hanging an infertile penis over the door would bring infertility. But, as in the minds of all ancient people, they are content that all circumcised penises are fertile because they appear to be erect. Thus we have a very early need for circumcision... and, to my mind, circumcision started as a result of phallic worship and the idolization of the fertile penis. So, Circumcised Many Times, I don't want to give you nightmares, but that penis of yours, circumcised so long ago, possibly ended up as a magical amulet for a needy household.

DR. SKINNON

Dear Doctor Skinnon,

I want to build a succulent tassel, so have recently started stuffing cotton balls inside my tongue-rug to stretch it. By steadily increasing the number of balls, I can now stuff a whole bunch, and it's great fun watching them pop out one by one while my chubby dick is getting hard. So far have attained a half-inch overhang; no adverse effects have been observed, other than chronic horniness. Do you foresee any problem if I try for a one-inch floppy fringe? Two inches?

Cotton Ball Cannon, CA93

Dear Cotton Ball Cannon,

My, but you must show a wonderful basket! You are surely very popular at the cosmetic counter. Little do they know that now the penis is a "cosmetic" organ. Yes, indeed, times have changed.

Cotton balls are emmantly safe. I, personally, use methods that are not so safe—surgical towel clips, for example—but perferable to me since cotton balls dry up the natural secretions and moisture (which I particularly like the feel of).

Since not everyone has access to the operating room and you are successful with your cotton balls, keep up the good work.

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

I got circumcised when I was 19 because I was leaving for college and wanted to look like all the other jocks. I like the results ok, but something went wrong. My circumciser told me the stitches around my shaft would self-dissolve and I wouldn't have to return to him to have them removed. That was four years ago and the stitches are still there and haven't dissolved. They circle my shaft like a ribbed corset. They feel great when I am jacking off and the people I fuck like the feeling, but they are unsightly and turn off a lot of tricks from giving me a blow-job. I can't return to the doctor now because I live too far away. Is there anything I can do to clean up my shaft?

Fucked-Up Dick

Dear Fucked-Up Dick,

How disappointing that you ended up with "less" but got more than you bargained for. The stitches, at this point, will not dissolve, and by all odds, were not absorbable to begin with or you would not feel them now. Your only option is to have the circumcision re-operated with removal of the "hard knots," and re-closure with a definitely absorbable suture. You could even consider "removable sutures" if you are into pain and actually watching the sutures leave your freshly-operated cock. Theoretically, you could have been allergic to the stitches in the beginning, but then you would have developed infection and the stitches would have "split" themselves out. Yes, there are times when other than the hole in the penis can split.

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

I understand you are an anti-circumcision activist in the medical community. Congratulations to you! Although I was circumcised at birth, I have been an anti-circumcisionist all my life. I argue against the barbaric practice of routine infant circumcision at every opportunity. However, I constantly find myself on the defense fighting against all the misconceptions and myths people use to condone circumcision. There must be some good, positive reasons not to circumcise. Could you give me a few?

A Fellow Crusader

Dear Fellow Crusader,

The Specialty Society of Urologists—The American Urological Association—stated categorically nearly 10 years ago that routine circumcision of the newborn was unnecessary. How individual urologists respond to that, since dollars are involved, will always vary. Some can still "buy" the operation from me if they have listened to my reasons for not circumcising and are unalterably opposed to changing their minds. After all, I would rather do it myself as a specialist who appreciates the beauty of the penis—albeit, I consider it to be more beautiful in its natural state! There are too many doctors who consider circumcision too minor an operation to care much about, but I wonder how many of them consider their own penis to be of minor interest?

As the father of only daughters, I never had the privilege of taking a natural son home from the hospital, but a new opportunity has arrived—my grandson is intact against the wishes of my cut son-in-law and his father. The decision amounted to a war, ultimately to dollars, as I threatened to disinherit him if that precious piece of skin were not left in place according to my daughter's (and my own) wishes. I gave them ample reason to not circumcise, which I prefaced from many sources, and which I give to you (that, after all, is the meat of your question). In circumcision:

1. A normal structure is removed;
2. No anesthesia is used (newborn);
3. The patient does not give his consent;
4. Complications involve—bleeding, infection, excessive skin removal (up to the point that hair-bearing surface can reach the glans), urethral damage and total amputation of the penis.
5. Up to one-third of the sensitive skin of the penis is lost forever.
6. The exposed glans is subject to trauma during the male's entire life. In infancy, feces and urine-soaked diapers, and in later life, abrasive clothing, can scar and tighten the urethral opening requiring a meatotomy in later life (meatotomy is the surgical enlargement of the urethral opening).
7. The glans becomes tough and skin-like, less purple-red, less smooth and less sensitive; and
8. Circumcision destroys the mobility of the loose penile skin sheath.

I emphasize that functioning with a penis without a foreskin is like putting your feet into shoes without socks on. Who can presume to improve upon that which is natural?

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

Even though I am uncut myself, I only recently discovered the thrills of sucking the uncut cocks of other men. I am hooked on skin! Toughing out the overhang, prodding my finger around the sheath-wrapped cockhead, slowly skinning the foreskin back with my lips all the way down the shaft and then bringing it back up to its tipped glory and gently chewing on the delicately-flavored soft skin. I want to get my hands (and my mouth) on every foreskin left in America, but with the health crisis I am hesitant. I am confused about how oral sex fits into the "safe sex" category. Can you tell me?

Starving for Skin

Dear Starving for Skin,

"Safe sex" should be on the minds of all of us as steadily as "just sex" is. The answer is really a closer relationship, but not everyone can achieve that, nor is it always possible for you to have the one important guy supply you with an uncut cock.

Wild promiscuity is certainly no longer in vogue, nor is it wise to assume other men will restrict their "safe sex" to only familiar and healthy partners. The following recommendations are made by the Safe Sex Committee of New York regarding oral sex:

1. Shower thoroughly—make sure his cock and balls are washed before you put them in your mouth. Wash yourself, too.
2. Don't allow a cock to come inside your mouth and don't come in someone else's mouth. Pull it out before ejaculating.

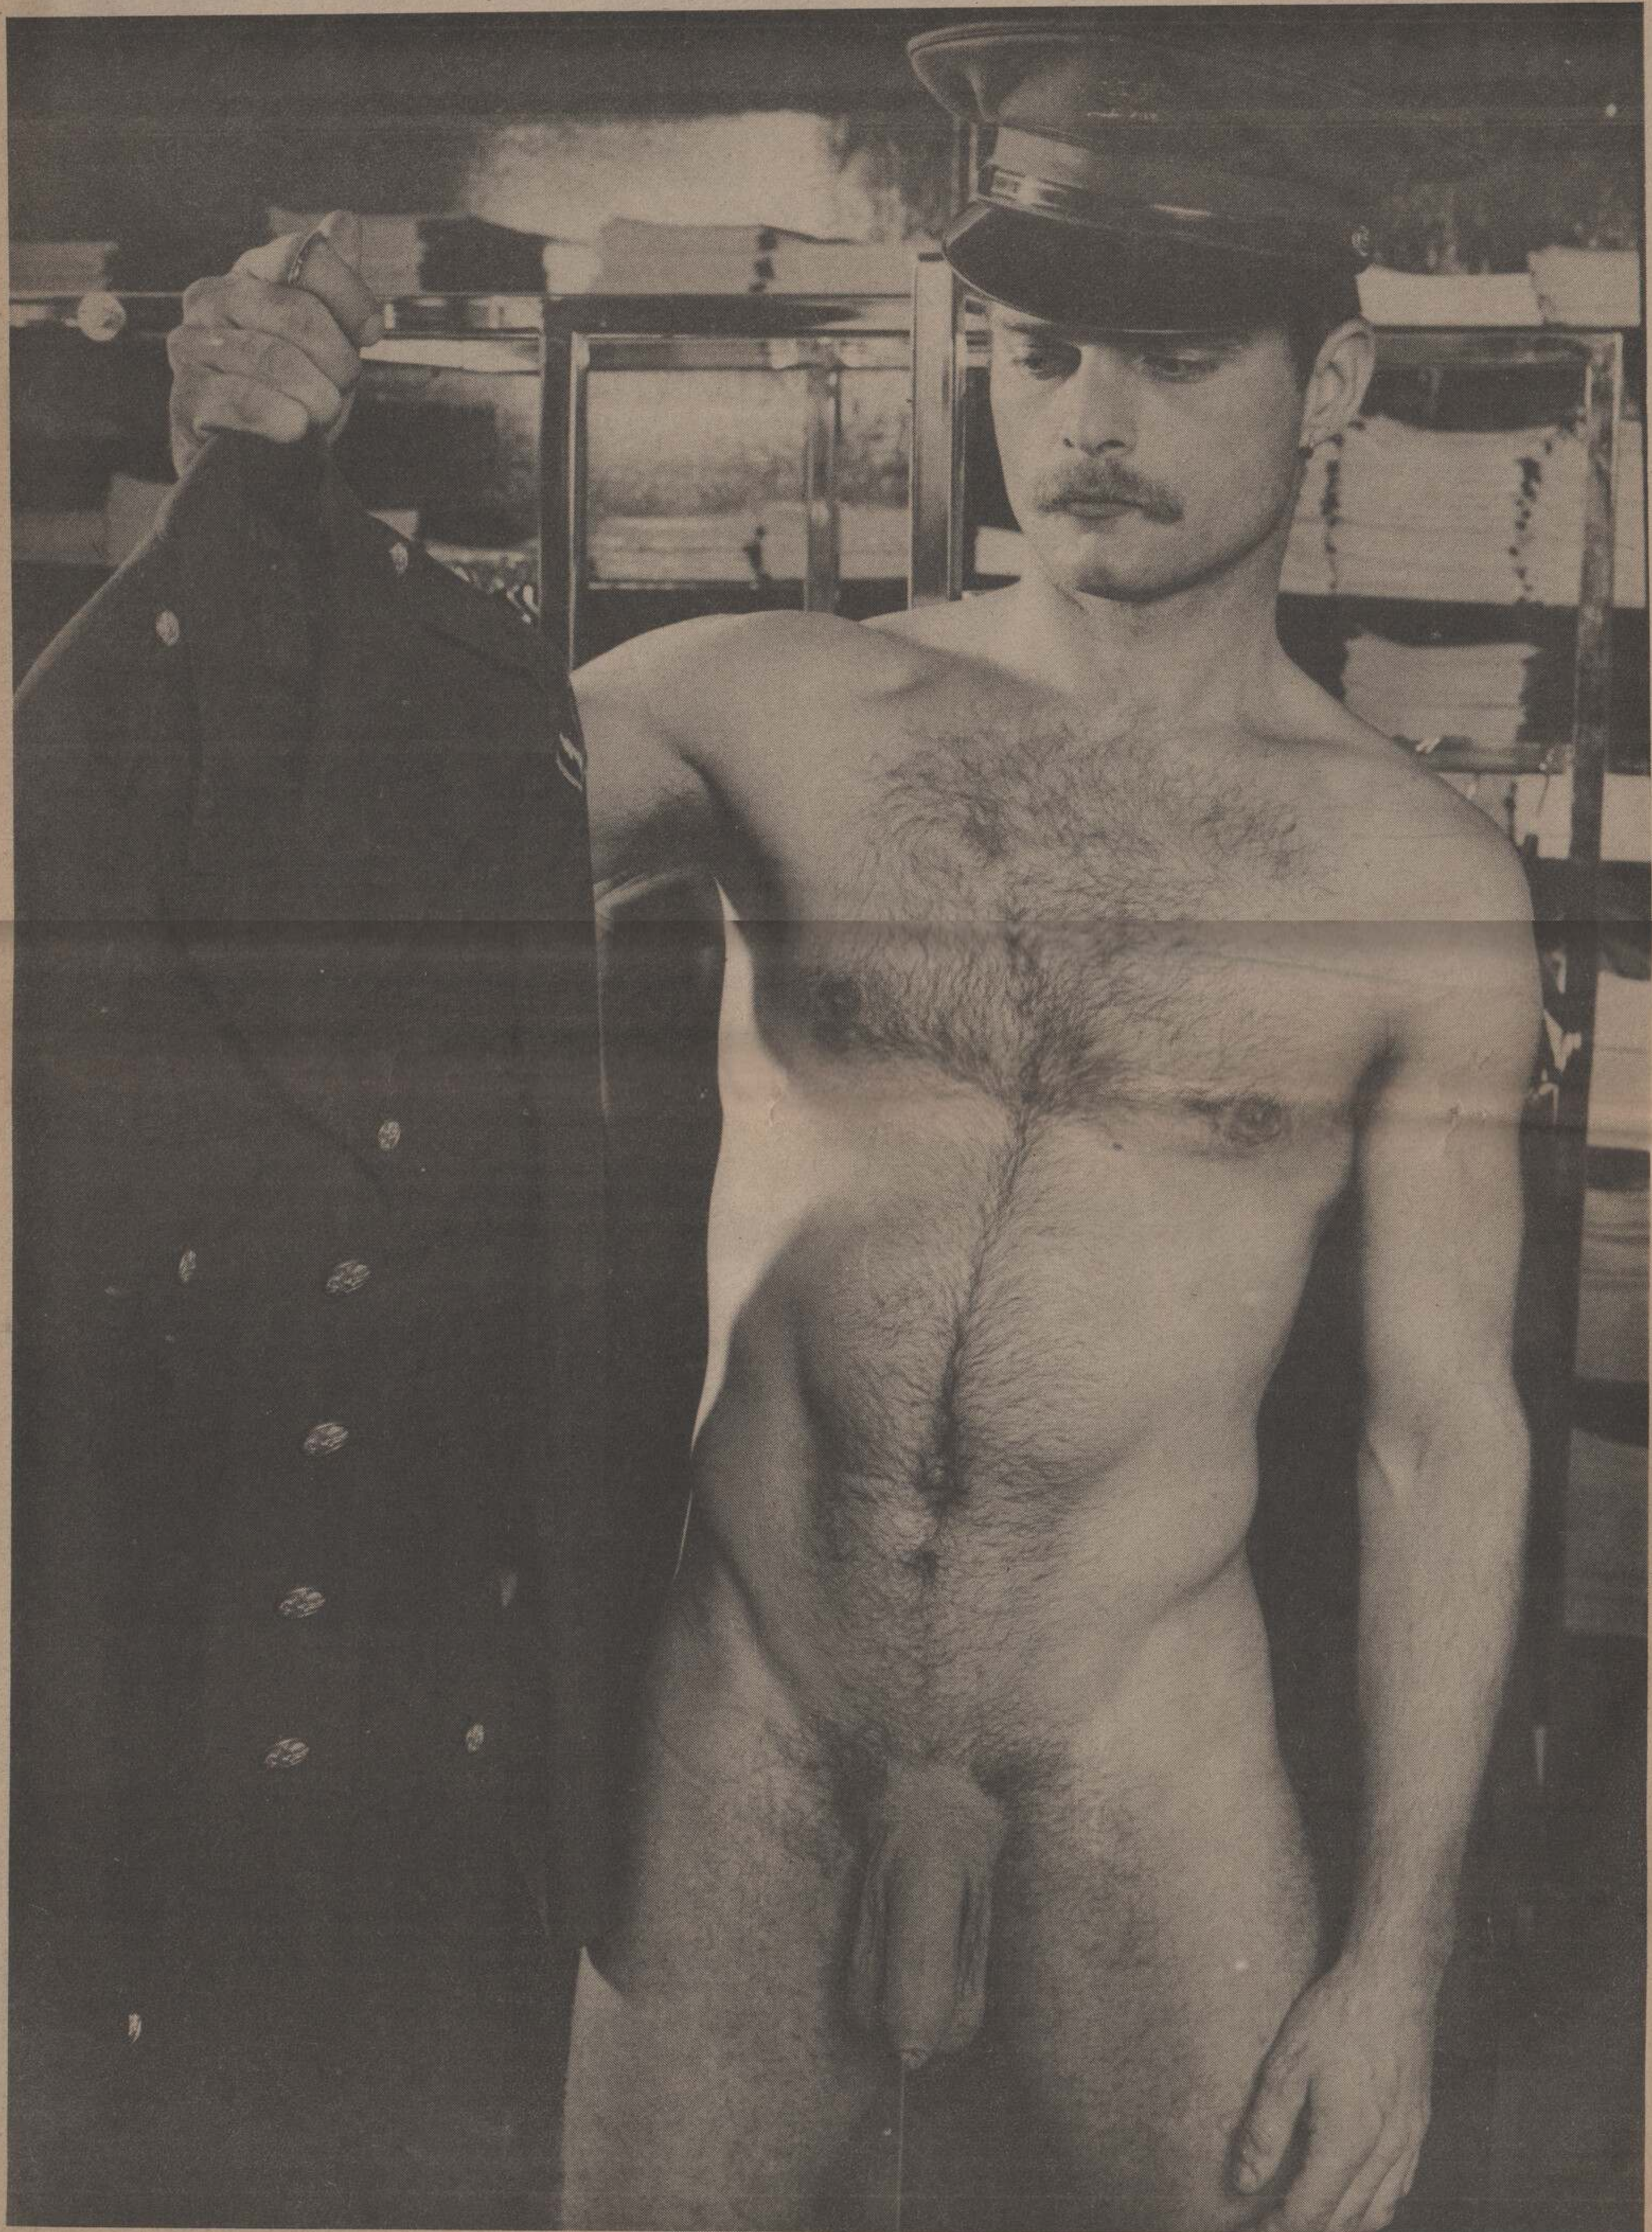

In my opinion, exchanging secretions is dangerous, but I personally feel that oral sex is an activity in which most men will continue to engage. Spitting it out simply does not protect you.

PEARL FOR THE DAY. All of the above is less crucial if you are within a monogamous relationship. Healthy cocksucking is essential to continuing a wonderful sex life. Don't give up skin—just be careful!

DRESSING & UNDRESSING AU NATUREL

As our coverman from Issue One illustrates, you're never really uncovered if you're uncircumcised. But even the natural man needs a good topcoat now and then... and Dieter has a hankering for the military long look. Drummerfoto.

THE ARTIST & THE FORESKIN:

Rex

There are no more famous foreskins in the world than those of Rex... A master of the underbelly of sexuality, a purveyor of images and men macabre, Rex has set more wet dreams in motion, sent more men looking for Valhalla (a paradise populated with heroic sexual gods and demi-gods), caused more hard-ons than any other gay artist in history. This sampling of his uncut men range from the starkly sexual to the seductively sleazy. But by no means in this the gamut; you can find infinite variations on the foreskin in countless Rexwerks.

to stretch a skin...

And the effect can turn

CLASSIFIED AD FORM (NON-USA MEMBERS)

If you would like to place a classified ad in Foreskin Quarterly but you are not a USA member, then fill out this form (USA members should use the form that is provided by the USA). You may also have a box number, so that replies to your ad can be forwarded to you. It will be listed as a FQ Box number. FQ will provide gratis remailing service for replies to your ad. Fill out this form completely, indicate the number of times you wish your ad to appear, and send it with your payment.

HOW TO REPLY TO A FQ BOX OR A USA BOX

If an ad has a FQ Box number, send your reply in a stamped, self-addressed envelope and write the FQ Box number on the front or rear flap in pencil. Send it to: FQ/Alternate Publishing, 964 Folsom St., San Francisco, CA 94107. Include 25¢ for each letter to be forwarded.

If the ad has a USA Box number, follow the same instructions, but send it to: USA/Bud Berkeley, Box 26011, San Francisco, CA 94126. Letters not properly prepared will be destroyed.

UNCUT CLASSIFIED AD RATES

Classified ad rates are 25¢ per word. Age, weight, cock size, etc, all count as one word each. Name and address, if included in the ad copy, counts as two words. Box numbers assigned by FQ do not count as words. There is no extra charge for Bold Headings, but headings should be under five words. Headings that do not fit will be edited to fit. Ad copy will be edited if incomprehensible. Alternate Publishing reserves the right to reject ads that it feels would result in litigation.

PHOTOS IN ADS

There is currently no charge for photos in the Personal ads. Photos may not appear in Commercial classified ads. There is also no guarantee of reproduction for photos in personal ads—in other words, the better quality your photograph (black and white is best), the better your chances of getting good reproduction.

We're on your side buddy.

What makes the men in our community so susceptible?

Any number of reasons, including late hours, close physical contact, overexertion, poor diet, smoking, drinking, stimulants, and antibiotics all take their toll on your vitality, your immunity and your general well-being. VITA-MEN is doctor-formulated for the sexually and physically active man on the go. Its ingredients are more expensive to manufacture, not only for their contents, as well as what they do not contain. There are no oils (our vitamins A and D are dry) for the body to retain, no starches, no shellacs, no sugars. Take a look at the formula. It is specifically designed for men and it is awesome. A supplement to the VITA-MEN formula is our new IMMUNITABS. Take a good look at that doctor-designed formulation and add it to your diet. It is the only immune system you have.
