UNCUT CORRESPONDANCE

Dear Bud,

We really enjoy FQ, for which you and the publishers deserve much praise. I find it is the only magazine I read cover to cover, every word. Keep it up!

Leo Manglaviti
Scranton, PA

Dear Bud,

FQ has made my day and my nights. I can hardly wait to get the next issue and I hope to be around when you decide on a monthly publication.

Peter Van Hellmann
Dallas, TX

Dear Mr. Bud:

I received your "Best Seller" Foreskin and my first two numbers of Foreskin Quarterly. I have read and enjoyed both of them a lot. I almost felt elated while reading them. At the same time, I felt very, very happy because at last we have an Official Journal which sponsors and defends the most important sexual part our body has, our beautiful foreskin.

Miguel A. Rivera Canovanas, P.R.

Bud Berkeley:

I was very surprised and pleased to see one of my letters reproduced in the summer issue of Foreskin Quarterly! Once again, you have come up with another stimulating, interesting issue of Foreskin Quarterly. Your article on "Male Infibulation" was most informative; although, a little more on modern-day infibulation and a few photographs of modern-day infibulated cocks would have added greatly to the article. Dr. Skinnon's description of his cock was great. How about some information (and a photograph) of yours? I would love to see some photographs of fingers and tongues under foreskins (not necessarily at the same time). Photographs of manual stretching of skins and input from readers on same would be of interest. How about interviews with some uncut porno stars (such as Lance, Rocco Rizzoli, Toby Ross, Mark Rutter, etc.) on how their skins promoted (enhanced) their porno careers and their feelings about their skins and skins in general? Relative to "keeping a skin peeled back when soft" (Wearing It Back, Issue No. 2, Page 4; Silly Questions, Issue No. 3, Page 33), I had my frenulum detached (actually, torn completely free during aggressive activity) several years ago, and my skin stays back when I desire it so. Detaching my frenulum gave the skin greater mobility. Hairy, uncut studs in the 40-year range are always exciting for me, and I hope Foreskin Quarterly is the place where I will see them. I would certainly like to see more of the sexy, uncut studs on pages 4 (beautifully shaped cock) and 5 of Issue No. 3. Continued and increased success for Foreskin Quarterly!

Dear Bud,

I have started the tape method of foreskin restoration and it is WORKING! Already I have had considerable increase in sensitivity. Johnson and Masters were really wrong about that.

Larry D.
Woodlynne, NJ

Dear Bud,

I enjoy reading and looking at the pictures in FQ very much. I am eagerly awaiting the next copy and hope it is filled with even more foreskin.

Hopefully you will have more articles on foreskin reconstruction, with photos showing the methods that can be used along with the different devices that can be used in restoring foreskin and photos showing the "end" results.

Foreskin Admirer

Dear Bud and Joe,

You might recall, Bud, that in 1972 I had a foreskin restoration. I believe that part of my letter to you at that time was reproduced in the Newsletter 4. Well, I never was pleased with the results. Last year (1982) Doctor Greer in San Antonio gave me another restoration in four stages, and the results are wonderful. Doctor Greer thinks mine has turned out the best of all. One guy who is uncut and knows of my surgery gave me a BJ one night and said that he would defy anyone to tell the difference. One thing's for sure: I now feel whole and complete. If you know of anyone who is willing to go through the inconvenience, discomfort, and expense of four surgeries, I can highly recommend Doctor Don Greer in San Antonio as the man to see.

Bill Chapman

Dear Bud,

I can't wait for FQ to appear and am always hungry for more. I read and re-read it; also the early mimeographed issues.

I remember that the first questionnaire asked about infibulation. I scarcely knew what it was.

A bit later, I became acquainted with Doug Malloy and Jim Ward. We had a number of piercing parties in my apartment, and—naturally—I learned all about infibulation as the enclosed photo will attest.

Dear Bud,

There must be lots of guys like me who could never contemplate life without a foreskin but nevertheless very much enjoy the sensation of wearing their skin retracted sometimes. The gentle stimulation of underwear against the unaccustomedly uncovered head adds an element of pleasure to even the dullest working day.

But how to achieve this simply, effectively and comfortably? And, of course, only temporarily!

There are those who claim that they only have to pull it back and there it stays (although I find it difficult to imagine a foreskin tight enough to survive such normal movements as leg crossing when completely soft, that is not going to be unbearably tight when erect) but I think this must be a facility enjoyed only by those with a gloriously prominent ridge behind which to lodge it.

So how does a guy go about it if his cock has no remarkable features and a pleasantly loose foreskin with a strong tendency to do precisely the job that nature intended?

I really would be glad to read about the methods others have found effective (and preferably with simple-to-follow instructions). Not that I haven't tried—just that I've run out of ideas and none of them worked very well.

And does anyone have experience of anti-circumcision rings which are mentioned in Bud Berkeley's book

"Foreskin"—if these were kept in place for several years they were presumably both effective and comfortable, but how were they fitted?

Congratulations to you all on the FQ—keep it up!

USA member UK2

Dear Bud,

I received the FQ #2. I surely enjoyed it very much. It had very exciting articles and wonderful pictures of cocks with lovely foreskins that made my mouth water, and regretted that I had to have mine cut for medical reasons as I have told you! If I had known you earlier maybe I could have tried stretching to prevent phimosis, and would have kept my foreskin, which was really more sensitive than my bare cockhead! But it's too late now!

Van A.

Dear Bud,

Your cover boy I'm sure I recognize as a really kinky kid that I used to get it on with at the Slot. Could he be the one? He sure looks familiar. Alas, those days are over. It is just not possible to "let go" in these trying times in the ways that we used to, which brings me back to foreskin because there are so many neat, safe things to do with it. I just last night got together with one of the Seattle people listed in FQ and it was wonderful. I hadn't had sex in a long time and pulling and docking and chewing and stretching with someone who "understands" was sheer joy.

Name and Address Withheld

Dear Bud,

An Australian woman's point of view re circumcision, her written reply in part "...Some of the guys I've made love with have been circumcised, but most of them have not. The only thing that I've noticed is that a circumcised dick tends to push the lips of my pussy in as the guy tries to enter me, and this generally doesn't happen with an uncircumcised dick. This can hurt a bit at first, but once in and wetted up a bit, I can't really notice any difference. If a guy wants you to wank him off, it's easier if they have a foreskin, and quite difficult without one. And that seems to sum up the knowledge about the matter."

Am looking forward to my next copy of FQ.

Dear Bud,

Circumcision has, for centuries, been practiced as a "coming of age" ceremony amongst tribes and civilized peoples around the world. Now, cleanliness and a sense of social well-being are added to this fact. Those trying to defend the foreskin are always harping on the "natural man" bit. Natural, indeed. Do we go around all our lives with the umbilical cord tucked into our trousers like a giant phallus? Do we not shave, pare our toe and finger nails? Do we not have our hair cut, have adenoids and tonsils removed when they interfere with our health? We have appendices removed, other organs are routinely removed as they threaten our health. So, no part of us, with which we are born, cannot be kept if the removal helps us to a better life.

Kenneth Williams

Dear Bud,

I read the ads in the Quarterly, not only the New York ones, but all of them. I also found them interesting. It seems that so many cut guys are interest in "aroma," "smell," "sweat," "taste" and "cheese"—a couple seemed like real gourmands. In my younger athletic days, after track and football, I could work up enough stuff to satisfy a moderate guy's appetite, but never the gourmand's—which brings me to another sensation. With all the modern chemistry today, there seems to be a substitute for everything—i.e., oleo for butter, imitation vanilla for pure vanilla (no alcohol), BacOs for bacon (and good, too) and way back during the war, there was imitation pepper, but alas, no

"cheese." But there is aged Romano or Parmesan, freshly grated for the guy who can't get enough. Simply dip the guy's dick into it, pull the skin over it, and start chewing—or—make a paste with a little hot water, apply, pull skin over, and let "steep" for an hour—taste and aroma will linger longer.

Dear Bud,

God, what a trip your stretching technique provides! I love to watch late TV and stretch it with thumb and index finger until I shoot. This is a terrific and sensational new experience I've learned—the thought never crossed my mind. That sucker is tough and fun and loaded with sensation. Thanks, FQ!

My friend and I like an occasional teeth and throat 69er. The other night he got his. In the semi-darkness of the bedroom I gave him the works. I chewed the hell out of his terrific foreskin, then pushing it all the way back, deep throated a little, and then sucked it back over for another prolonged chew. He about went nuts and had one of the best climaxes I've ever provided for him. When I told him what I had done he said he didn't know at the time but was too hot to care.

USA UPDATE

Dear Bud,

I enjoy your column. Several times you have mentioned foreskin retraction which, of course, doesn't work. But an uncut guy can still have the normalcy and handsomeness of a bare glans, even without circumcision. Here's how:

1. Don't pull the foreskin back. Leave it alone.

2. Just hold the foreskin gently with the thumb and index finger of one hand.

3. With the thumb and index finger of the other hand, reach in and gradually pull the glans, and also the inch-or-so to which the glans is joined, out and down (in "tune" with the force of gravity).

If an uncut guy does this as often as possible for at least three months he'll get fabulous results (and even the bonus of a longer penis). But he must never stretch his foreskin as it would be counterproductive. You may want to pass this information along to your readers.

Bare Glans

Dear Bare Glans,

First, Bare, some of my readers would dispute your contention that bare glans look normal and handsome. Well, maybe handsome...but what could look more normal than a long, drooping foreskin? But that is beside the point...the point is that your method sounds like fun and I wish you were here to demonstrate it. I am not sure of the mechanics of your procedure. I am always ready to learn new tricks with foreskin. I am sure some of my readers (the ones who desire to remain retracted) will try your method and some will report success after three months. Actually, if an uncut man successfully retracts his foreskin for that long he will probably be able to keep it back permanently no matter what method he used. His glans-corona will have flared out in search of its normal skin covering and once flared it will trap the skin behind it. However, I still insist that most uncut cocks will fight back...they don't want it retracted either. But, what the hell...we'll reach inside the overhang and tug the ole head out and see what happens. Right, men?

Dear Mr. Berkeley,

I was visiting my gay brother recently and he gave me FQ to read. Even though I am not gay, my dick went on bone while reading it. I am uncut, but my brother is cut and so is his lover. Well, after a little wine they had me naked and said they wanted to try something out on my dick. They had read that bit about two college students who "rolled" the jock's dick between their palms and they started to do it to mine. Whoa man! They almost turned me queer! They rolled my dick for a good two to three hours and my hard-on stood rigid the whole time. It felt sensational with my cock spinning inside its own skin. The skin was spinning faster than the rod. It didn't bring me off, but it got me so damned hot I jacked-off with just a few strokes with the fellows watching. I wasn't embarrassed because I used to fuck around with my brother (he says my dick got him hooked on skin) and I have known his lover for years. His lover is a bodybuilder and he really squeezed my meat between his paws and tenderized it like a sausage. Now I can't wait to get my dick rolled again. My problem is that I don't live near my brother and I don't know any gays in my town. I dig chicks but I couldn't ask a woman to roll my dick. She would think I was weird. Do you think a USA member on your FORESKIN FINDER list would like to roll my dick and let it go at that? I don't really want to get into anything else with a man, especially with this health thing going down. Oh yea, Mr. Berkeley, I guess rolling dicks is safe enough, isn't it? I am 21, blond with blue eyes, 5'10 and 30" waist and weigh in at about 155 lbs and my dick is pretty long and my foreskin overhangs even when I'm on bone. So where can I get rolled?

Meat Roll

Dear Meat Roll,

Yummm! Oh, pardon me...you only want it rolled. Well, yes, I suppose there are USA members who would be content to merely roll your penis between their palms and nothing else...although it might amount to torture! It certainly is safe enough. As far as "safe sex" goes, one important ingredient is visual appreciation and as you described yourself I can't imagine any gay man with good taste turning down your offer. After a couple of hours of "rolling" I'm sure you wouldn't be too embarrassed to come off for your audience, either. That should satisfy anyone...these days. Meat, one more thing and I might get lynched by my readers for suggesting this, I am not sure a woman wouldn't enjoy rolling your penis in her hands, too. Inventive foreplay is half the fun of sex and if having your dick rolled gets you as hot as you say it does I'll bet any partner would find their efforts well rewarded.

Dear Bud,

I am into astrology and I noticed your USA membership questionnaire asks for birth data including time of birth. I assume you want that information for astrological data. If so, have you been able to determine the celestial indicators which destin a man for circumcision or to have a foreskin throughout his life? I have a list of indicators which describe the man's penis (size, performance, etc.). Unlike the sun-sign astrology one finds in the newspapers (which is crap), real astrology uses the planets Mars and Venus (plus sometimes the rising sign and the position of the Moon) to determine what a man has swinging. The way to start this research is to find out in which sign his Mars was placed at the time of his birth. The planet Mars signifies male sexuality, the penis and other aggressive things. After that you must find out just how strongly placed his Mars is in the overall horoscope and especially how strong it is compared to his Venus. Venus signifies beauty and the more artistic, passive things in life. I can look at a client's horoscope and conjur up a pretty good mental picture of his penis. If I get a chance to see it in person I am usually right. When done right, astrology works! For your readers, I have enclosed a list of Mars positions and what they signify in terms of cock. This list doesn't tell the whole story, but it's a start. I still can't figure whether or not my client has a foreskin.

Mars in Scorpio

Dear Mars in Scorpio,

I recall reading Max Heindel's Message of the Stars (1928, Rosicrucian Fellowship publication) in which he wrote, "Scorpio boys should be circumcised." Heindel was influenced by the anti-masturbation hysteria of his era and he figured that sexy Scorpios beat their meat too much. So, Mars in Scorpio, we all know something about you! However, whether or not you are circumcised like Heindel recommended we don't know. Heindel was a "real" astrologer, as you say, and did use the position of Mars instead of the Sun to determine sexuality. His books were classics and well-loved during the gloriou days of San Francisco's "Flower children." I hope no one believed him if they had Scorpio sons! Anyway, yes, we did include the birth data question just in case some astrological researcher wanted to find if there was a correlation between planetary influences and predestined circumcision. Frankly, no such person has come forth and we have been too busy with other aspects of the USA to give much thought to astrology. I have picked up from my correspondents that possibly the planets Mars and Uranus in some configuration has something to do with American-style routine circumcision. But that gets too deep for this column. For those readers interested, I shall print your "Mars-penis" list (with some embellishment) because we all want to know who's got what (is nothing sacred?):

Mars in Aries: This cock is fat, with a wide bulbous glans but the shaft isn't all that long. This penis was meant for a patriarch (breeder).

Mars in Taurus: This cock is big, meaty and well-proportioned. It hangs well in its languid state but doesn't gain that much more in erection. This penis was meant for a Playgirl centerfold.

Mars in Gemini: This cock is long, thin and, although the head is rather small compared to the previous two, it is very well-proportioned. This penis was meant to fit down any throat.

Mars in Cancer: This cock is voluptuous in girth but is not all that long. It has a meaty cockhead which often hides the thinner shaft. This penis was meant to be a red hot performer. Another breeder.

Mars in Leo: This cock is full of surprises! It starts out looking very innocent although its bigger-than-usual head might make you suspicious. In the right situation this little boy's dick becomes a huge, tough, lustful gratifier. This penis belongs to the shy, bookish, handsome boy-next-door who you'd never think was so sexy.

Mars in Libra: This cock is a patrician's cock. Not the biggest, not the fattest, but just about the most handsome cock you'll ever see in the Country Club showers. If he is turned on by you, he makes sure you enjoy him. This penis belongs to the aristocrat. Another breeder.

Mars in Scorpio: This cock is hot! Redder than most, erect more often and gets as stiff as the Leo even if no one is looking, he belongs to a man who can't get enough. Not as big and fat as most, he is hypnotic in his pure desire to be busy. The penis belongs in the glory hole.

Mars in Sagittarius: This cock starts out looking elegant and little and very edible. Another patrician, but this time he's a roamer rather than a breeder. But, what a surprise you've got because once this little morsel is in your throat he will grow and grow and grow in all directions! This penis was meant to be eaten, if it doesn't choke you.

Mars in Capricorn: This cock is not so voluptuous or pleasing to the eye but it beats them all when it comes to pure lust! It has the greatest staying power of all and will serve its owner well into his twilight years. This penis belongs to your clandestine lover.

This cock is handsome, well-shaped and, while not the biggest, it is definitely a man's cock. This penis belongs to the all-around good fellow who will share it if the time and place is right.

Mars in Pisces. This cock is a sweetheart. Not so huge but succulent, responsive and versatile. Like the Scorpio, it gives off sex vibrations all day long! It's hypnotic as an electric eel. This penis belongs to the quiet, nice-looking husband next door who'd like to be strung up in your garage...well, he'll leave that up to you!

Now, if the Venus in the horoscope proves to be more strongly placed (if it's rising, close to the moon, etc.) than the Mars, then you can add about an inch in length to all the above penises, whittle down the one's with fat heads and shafts and fatten up those with thin heads and shafts. I suppose if a foreskin remains on any of the above cocks, a strong Venus would contribute to a longer, more voluptuous overhang, while a stronger Mars would probably shorten the prepuce. However, a stronger Venus makes the man more passive so you have to work harder. C'mon men, where's your Mars?

Dear Mr. Berkeley,

As editor of FQ I am sure you are an anti-circumcisionist. I think FQ is great but it has two serious flaws: Acorn and Sarge. These columns are contrary to your ideals and I am surprised you print them. They appeal to the lowest and weakest SM types who might be influenced to let a sadist cut off their foreskin. Their thrill would be short-lived and they would soon regret it. It is becoming evident that circumcision is on the way out and you should be a leader towards that goal. Use the scalpel on Sarge and Acorn, not on foreskins!

Fuck Sarge

Dear Fuck Sarge,

Hey, Fuck, I know where you are coming from and, believe me, I appreciate your sentiments. Anti-circumcisionist? Certainly! The USA files are crammed with letters from men who resent their circumcisions and anyone reading these sad commentaries would be heartless if he failed to be sympathetic. Of course, I am speaking of routine neonatal circumcision...a practice which is contrary to our current attitudes on individual rights. I hope you are right and it is on the way out! However, both the Sarge and Acorn columns deal with adult circumcision as an erotic fantasy...something only a man with a foreskin can fully appreciate.

The USA files also confirm that almost half the uncircumcised men admit to having circumcision fantasies. Even more uncut men have a fascination with the practice of circumcision (history, methods, etc.). Like it or not, Fuck, adult circumcision is performed every day in hospitals, clinics, etc. all across America and doctors agree that most of these circumcisions are performed for "cosmetic" reasons rather than medical. Well, "cosmetic" means "erotic" when it comes to the penis. Personally, I hate to see any foreskin sacrificed to eroticism but, hell, I respect a man's right to his own sexuality ever more strongly! It wasn't very many years ago when *uncircumcised men in this country felt the sting of intolerance...especially in the gay community. Intolerance of another man's penis, or his sexuality, is what goes against my ideals! FQ must address all phases of the foreskin/circumcision situation if it going to be an honest voice. Why shouldn't those uncut men who have circumcision fantasies be allowed to bring them into the open without guilt just as should the cut men who have foreskin restoration fantasies? Whether or not these fantasies become realities is no one's business but the man whose cock has been remodeled. Whether he will regret it is tempered by the fact that it was his choice. And choice is the biggest argument against infant circumcision. As FQ editor I feel that Sarge and Acorn serve an important function in the fight against infant circumcision. They both expose the eroticism (SM instincts involved in all circumcision. Sarge is no more sadistic than the ritual circumciser in Africa or the head nurse (the bitch!) in the American maternity ward. Besides, like it or not, both Sarge and Acorn are popular columns with many of our readers. Scalpels belong in the operating room and not in the maternity ward or the editorial room.*

DR. SKINNON

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

My ex-wife informed me on our wedding night that she preferred circumcised cocks. Well, shit, I wasn't going to get my dick clipped for any woman! To make her happy I began wearing my foreskin retracted and I let them circumcise our son. After several years my skin just stayed retracted on its own and my dick lost some feeling. As soon as I dumped her I pulled my foreskin forward again and wore it that way. My dick regained some lost sensitivity. Doc, after wearing the skin shoved back for so many years I guess I got the works out of shape because it no longer comes to a conical, pointed tip and it tends to creep back off the cockhead even when I am soft. My foreskin used to have a nice tight fit over the head and stayed back even when I got stiff. Now that I am divorced I want my tight skin back! Is there any procedure that would re-shape my loose foreskin to make it conical again? I mean surgically, if necessary! What kind of doctor do I see about this? Man, there is nothing better than having a snug fitting foreskin on your dick.

Out of Shape

Dear Out of Shape,

As I was watching the Wilander/Lendl French Open tennis final, I thought deliciously about the wondrous uncut cocks on those two Europeans, carefully covering their sweaty balls beneath snug white tennis shorts. If anyone disputes this anatomy from first-hand knowledge, what a story that would make! However, both the Swedes and the Czechs are adamant non-circumcisers so I think I am safe. Likewise with the spectacular 17-year-old Boris Becker for Germany, the champion at Wimbledon.

How long will American males bow to woman's wishes on the fate of the most private personal part, the penis? Indeed, it is nearly always the female (mother, spouse, grandmother) who insists upon circumcising the foreskin off the males in their lives.

For you, Out of Shape, there is some good news and some bad. The good news is that you retained your foreskin. The bad news is that it will not be "snug fitting or conical" again. You can get your sensitivity back. Look closely at a friend's foreskin (always a pleasure!); the rolled, wrinkled edge at the tip is where that which is dry meets that which is moist. As soon as you get moisture you get sensitivity. Increasing moisture you increase sensitivity. Now, pull the foreskin forward and affix it with tape, a rubber washer or even a rubber band (with caution) to prevent it from "creeping back off the cockhead." If you have someone who can oblige you, nibbling and chewing will tell you how much sensitivity has returned and give it a few strokes and some strong tugs forward in the process. Above all, you don't need surgery!

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

I was circumcised at birth very tightly... "back to the balls," I think the expression goes. I have resented my circumcision ever since I noticed my first uncut cock in the showers at junior high. I was a smart-ass and asked the kid why his dick looked so funny. He replied by telling me a part of my manhood had been cut off and that he was the way God made men. I never got over that! After reading about foreskin restoration through self-stretching, I went for it. I have stretched an amazing amount of skin forward and now have skin half way over my glans when flaccid. I am in touch with other fellows doing the same thing and some of them have had complete success in creating a new foreskin for themselves. In my case, though, I think I have gone as far as I can go with stretching because I am beginning to break blood vessels in my penile skin. Do you think I should stop the stretching and seek surgical restoration to complete the job?

Half Way

Dear Half Way,

The sentence, "I never got over that!" is the most telling in your question and reveals your depth of feeling about the absence of foreskin. You would have to feel very intensely to seek surgical restoration. If you opt for it, be prepared for some disappointment since the restored foreskin is not quite as natural looking as the real thing. Seek out those men who have had successful restorations (possibly with the help of the USA FORESKIN FINDER list) and ask to see for yourself if the results are satisfactory to you. If so, do not take any surgeon's recommendation without first seeing his work. As with any surgery, it is best to shop around first. In the meantime, do not slack off on your stretching program and, above all, jack-off (the best therapy I can suggest).

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

I am an uncircumcised American in my thirties and have an erotic obsession with circumcision. I intend to get circumcised. I have hesitated going through with it because I have seen too many bad results from adult circumcision. Recently I received literature from the ACORN Club (foreskins anonymous) and it described a newly patented tool which removes excess penile skin from the base of the penis. The advantage of this new circumcision procedure is that no foreskin is removed at all and ugly stitch marks can be hidden in the pubic hairs. The results are supposed to be wild because the whole foreskin is permanently laid back on the shaft exposing the sensitive nerves of the inner foreskin. I first read about this procedure in a "Foreskin Update" column in Drummer magazine which said the procedure was first developed in Nazi Germany but was continued by the Japanese. The ACORNs claim a Japanese inventor had the above mentioned tool patented here in the US, but I have inquired around and I can't find any doctor who knows anything about it. Do you know anything about it? Now, with all respect, please don't try to talk me out of circumcision because the thought of it gives me an instant erection and you can't argue with your penis!

Want Wild Shaft

Dear Want Wild Shaft,

I wouldn't argue with you or your penis. Such a personal decision is yours and yours alone to make and to live with and I am sure our readership would agree. I am not familiar with the instrument or the procedure and have never heard of it. The fact that you have inquired around and can't find any doctor who knows about it should tell you something...it sounds extremely suspect! I have been described as having S.T.A. (superior technical ability) and I love penises (especially those left whole...uncircumcised) and am a well-experienced professional but I can't help you with this one.

(Editor's note: The instrument described above was pictured in FQ 3, page 11. It was invented by Dr. Michitaro Honjyo of Kyoto, Japan and patented in the United States in 1973. According to one of our readers, a medical doctor who corresponded with Dr. Honjyo several years ago, the instrument was used in Japan. Dr. Honjyo died a few years ago and, evidently, the instrument has not been used since. Before his death, Dr. Honjyo stopped using the instrument because he wasn't satisfied with the eventual results. He found that in time the shaft skin would become so loose that a subsequent re-circumcision was necessary. Dr. Honjyo, according to your medical correspondent, had a career in circumcising phimosed Japanese, recommending it prior to marriage. His main concern as a circumciser was the retention of as much erotic pleasure as possible for his patient and invented several instruments (some of which were patented in the US) with that aim. Our correspondent knows of no American doctor ever using the instrument in question.

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

My foreskin is the thin type. It is long enough and covers most of the glans but is stretched so thin that you can almost see the pink coming through the pale skin. I am blond. My foreskin retracts without difficulty, but I prefer having sex with it over my glans. My problem is that when I get really hard I get tiny splits in the top of the foreskin which bleed and sting. I have to give up sex for a few days waiting for the splits to heal. Is there any therapy that can remedy this condition? I am asking you, Dr. Skinnon, because I know you are a doctor who prefers not to circumcise and you hopefully have a mroe preferable solution.

Thin Skin

Dear Thin Skin,

You have just described the ultimate drool tool ... pink, pale, blond and beautiful. My own foreskin is the "stretched" type right now just thinking about yours. If you have sex "with it over the glans" it is tight by definition or else it would naturally retract regardless of the activity in which you are a participant. The splitting actually identifies the point of tightness and friction which produces the problem. You must come to the realization that you can get rid of the splits by a regime of stretching, but the tightness that you like must inherently go in so doing. Your own fingers will do the best, plus lotion (vaseline or, better still, an over-the-counter cortisone-type vanishing creme). Soap can be used in stretching, but in your case it might cause some burning on your delectable, sensitive, tender unit. Another therapy ... I could kiss it better.

TELL IT TO THE SARGE

"Still Uncut?" the ad in Drummer reads. Running for several months in Alternate Publishing's magazine, Sarge has been offering his special brand of circumcision for anyone who qualifies by sending him their circumcision fantasies. As you have read in previous editions of FQ, Sarge is a genuine prepucephobe and is happy to admit it... and even happier when he is "taking care of" skinheads.

Well, Sarge is temporarily unavailable for his services, having received duty elsewhere. He has allowed FQ editors to accept his letters, include our "Tell It To The Sarge" column and to promote the cause of circumcision for those who are seeking it for erotic reasons. If you have such fantasies and want to share them with FQ readers, please send them to the editor (Bud Berkeley, PO Box 26011, San Francisco, CA 94126). Your confidentiality is safe and anonymous letters gladly accepted. At this time, successful letter writers will not commit their foreskins to Sarge's talents (contact the ACORN society for such commitment, address elsewhere in FQ). We feel that uninhibited self-expression of our reader's sexuality is an important ingredient in FQ's message. All letters will be forwarded to Sarge.

Dear Sarge, Sir!

Sir, I need you, Sir! Sir, I read that you give skinheads some far out preliminaries before you skin their dicks for them. Please Sir, how soon can you do that to me? I am 19 and have a sloppy two inch overhang which I can't hide from no one, Sir. Sir, I am signing up as soon as I finish school and I just know they'll skin my dick in boot camp and besides I'd shit if an officer made me skin it back in front of all the circumcised recruits. Besides, Sir, I don't think they'd give me preliminaries when they cut my dick. Sir, as long as I can remember I beat off thinking about circumcision and I pop my best loads when I think of you preliminarily my skin. Sir, will you tie me up and then burn and scrape and chew and stomp on my skin with your boots before you clip my dick? Some dudes will get mad at me for getting clipped but I don't give a shit. They dig my skin because its the only one in this town that's available but they don't know how to rough it up and all they do is suck on it. Sir, recently I have been getting off in front of the mirror standing there naked and beating my meat and saying over and over again, "Please Sarge, Sir, circumcise my penis! Please Sarge, Sir, circumcise my penis!..." Then I take a hit of poppers and make believe that you are giving my skin some hot preliminaries and then I can just feel you skinning my dick. Sir, I finish school in the Spring so it's got to be soon.

Dear Sarge,

In high school I became involved in Dungeons and Dragons and from some of the creatures in the rules I developed fantasies. My favorite involved a Succubus (a female demon). A Succubus resembles a tall and very beautiful human female, but her bat-like wings, her razor sharp fangs and small goat-like horns protruding from her forehead immediately reveal to the observer that she is a creature of the abyss.

My fantasy began with being kidnapped by a demon worshipping cult who require humans for their rituals. After a brief ceremony I was stripped naked and thrown into a pit. At the bottom of the pit was a subterranean passage that lead to endless catacombs deep beneath the surface of the earth. Bruised and shivering from the cold, I crouched among the shadows in a vain attempt to conceal myself.

The quiet of the night air was intruded upon by a low guttural growl, the sound of which was reminiscent of a Lycanthrope after it has degenerated into the form of some ravenous beast. Two glowing red eyes appeared at the mouth of the cave, those devilish orbs immediately spied me and the growling became more menacing. Then it sprang or flew, I'm not quite sure, but its speed was incredible. The pale moonlight revealed something humanoid, but I failed to acquire a clear view before it was upon me. It had the strength of several men and it or she (as I could now clearly see that the creature was female) easily pinned me against the floor of the pit.

She then started to purr and leaned closer towards my exposed throat. She began to lick my throat; her tongue was as smooth and slimy as the belly of a snake. Lower and lower her tongue traveled down my body until she had descended upon my penis. Before I had realized what was taking place, she had pulled my foreskin tightly over my glans and neatly severed it with her razor-edged teeth. I shall always remember staring down between my legs and seeing her fanged grimace as my blood dripped from those voluptuous lips.

After that, everything went into a dream state. She was completely submissive and I easily mounted her. The pain derived from my sexual penetration only served to heighten my demonic lust. I was thrusting inside of a volcano. As I reached climax she began to writhe and shudder and wail like a banshee as she flailed and clawed my mortal flesh. My orgasm was frightening, while I had the sensation of sexual bliss, I also had the feeling that my lifeforce was being drawn from my body. I had the feeling that my soul was being drawn into a black void as I lost consciousness.

The next morning some hunters found me wandering naked in the woods, apparently suffering from traumatic shock. I do not blame them for not believing my story for my penis was totally healed when the doctor examined me, but he did note that I did suffer from severe cuts and bruises. There is one unusual fact about my circumcision scar and that is my scar is blood red and after over a year it has remained a flaming vermilion color.

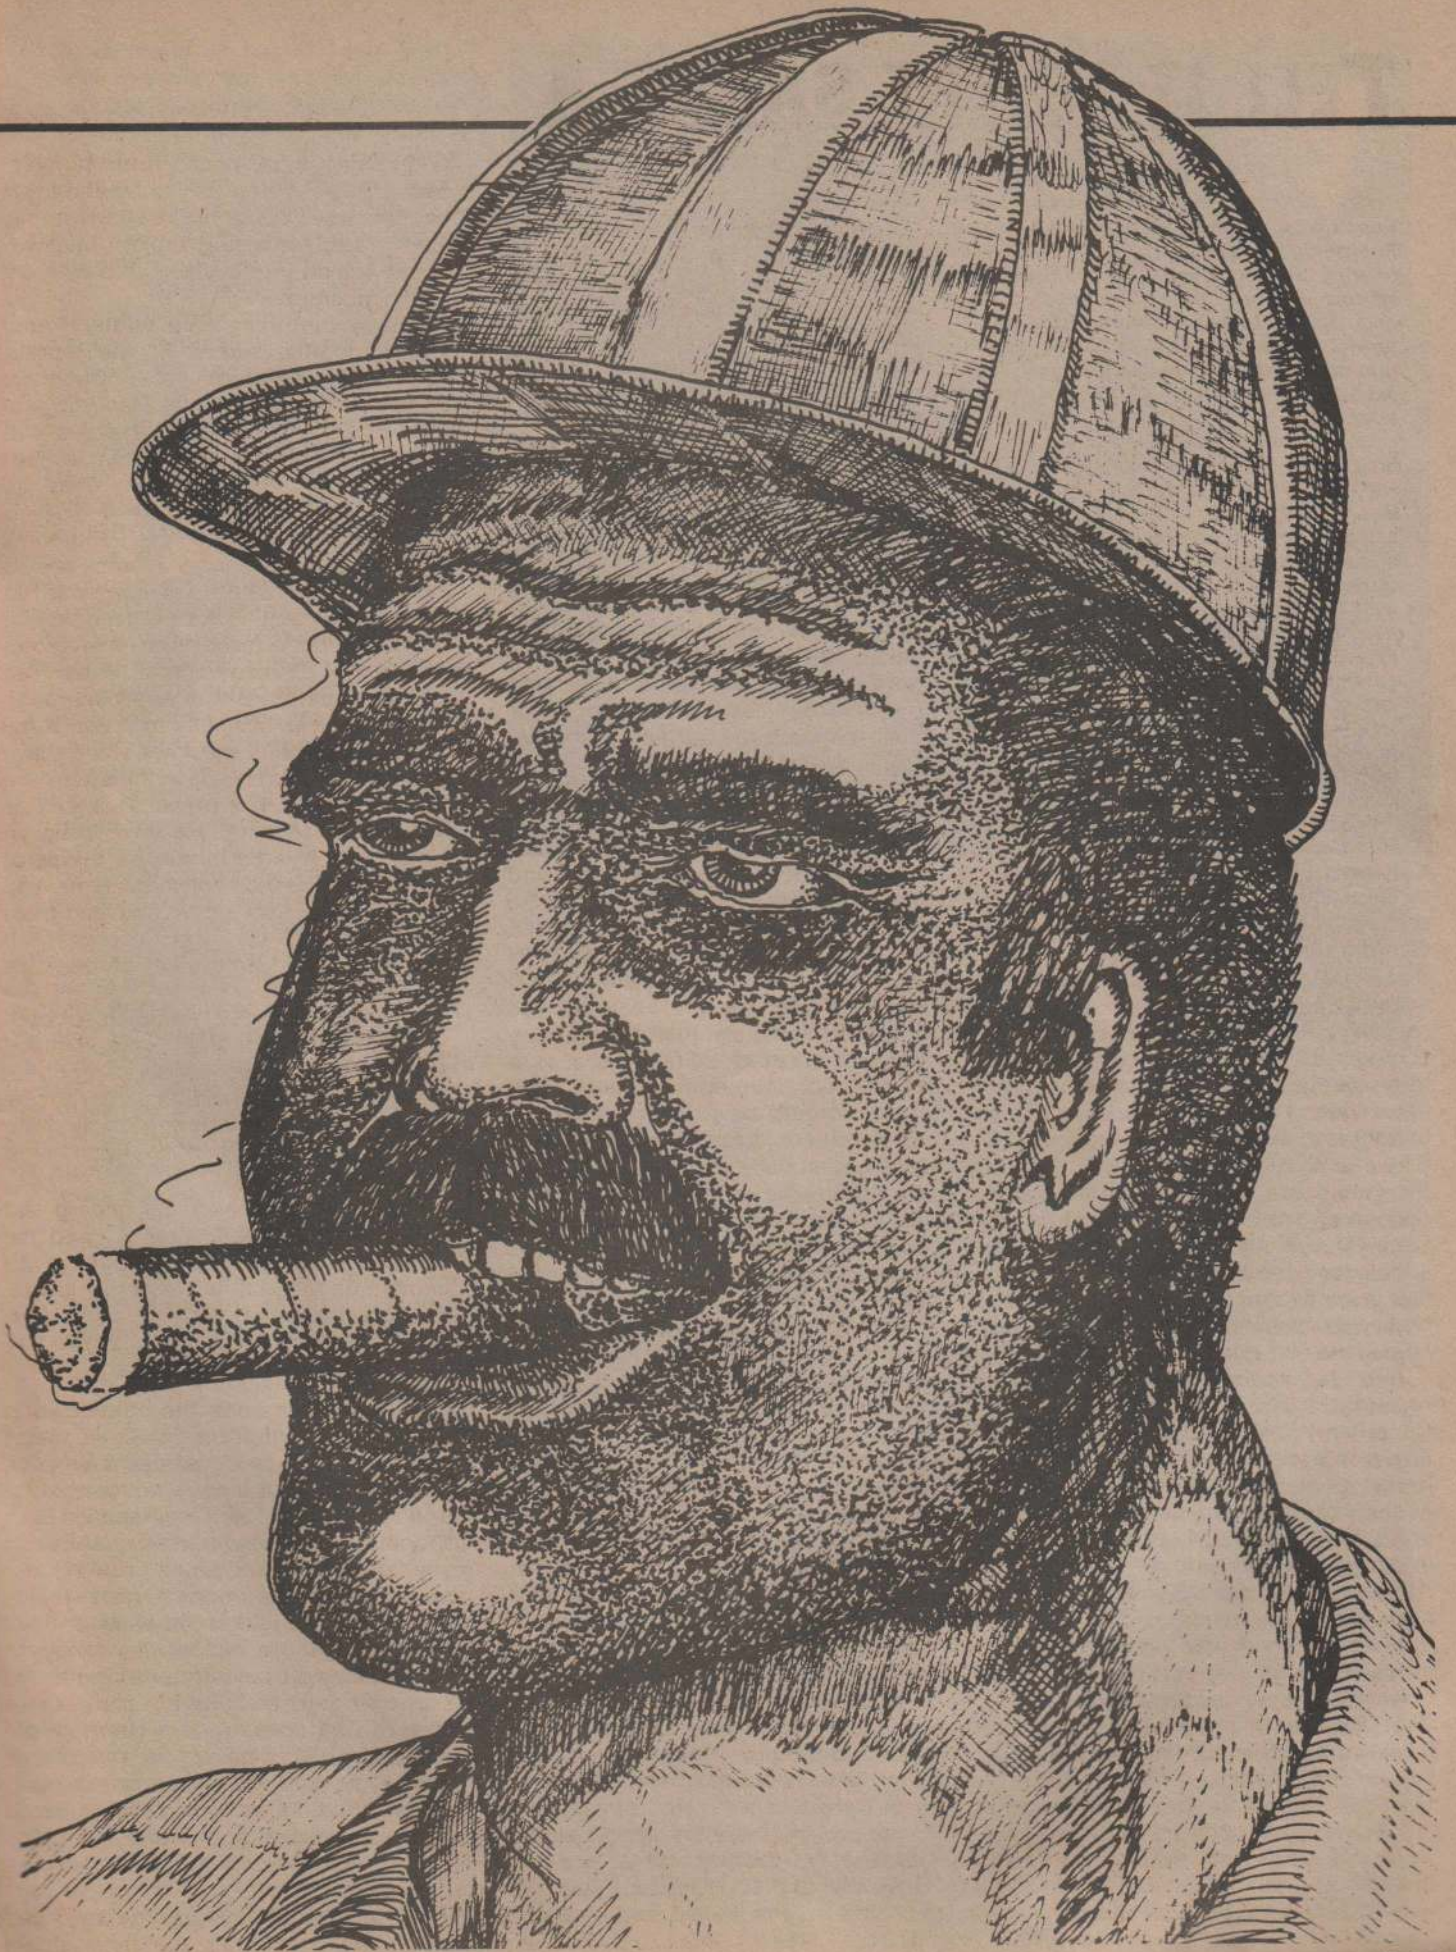

What I later discovered was rather disturbing. It seems that I was an unwilling participant in a fertility ritual. The ritual was basically to breed some form of Succubus and it was vital to have an uncircumcised male in the ritual. The reason for this was practical as well as symbolic. In the Hebrew religion circumcision is performed as a type of ceremonial bond between man and God, therefore an uncircumcised male was required to form a pact with Asmodeus, the arch-devil of the nine planes of hell.

Any male who is circumcised by a Succubus and then has his blood mixed with the she demon during intercourse has the mark of the Succubus placed upon him. A sort of sexual version of the mark of the beast, which is a flaming red circumcision scar.

I was greatly shaken by finding and convincing myself that I had to terminate my sexual liaisons with women. In fact, I now prefer gay lovers, especially those with circumcision fetishes as they are totally enthralled by my unusual circumcision scar.

We continue with the "Spaceaging David" segment from FQ 3, in which Sarge and a naval corpsman have been assigned to circumcise a roomful of college jocks on the Circumcision Ship in San Francisco Bay. The ship sailed up the coast of California picking up volunteer uncircumcised men at the request of the government which was working with its Arab allies trying to perfect a laser beam circumcision tool to use on troops stationed in the Arabian desert. The college jocks gave the ole Sarge a bad time as he introduced himself as their circumciser and in anger he grabbed the penis of a husky, blond boy who was waving it at him in jest. "It's time to circumcise this penis," Sarge announced...

"What's your name, college boy?" the Sarge bellowed into the face of his captive as I readied the laser circumcision tool. "Campbell," the kid replied. "Where in hell were you born, Campbell? Siberia or something like that?" Sarge taunted. "Los Angeles. I was born in Los Angeles," Campbell replied softly. "LOS ANGELES!" Sarge screamed, "Then how come they didn't take care of your dick when...hey, mister, wait a minute. You are forgetting to address me as SIR! ADDRESS ME AS SIR! DO YOU UNDERSTAND, PUNK? Sir...er...oh...I mean." Poor Sarge really embarrassed himself that time. He forgot that it wasn't military subordinate's penis he had locked in his fist. Campbell broke out in a wonderful, boyish grin and said, "That's OK, Sarge. I'll call you Sir, Sir."

That really mellowed the Sarge and he replied, "Oh...er...well, thanks, Campbell." With that Sarge relaxed his firm grip around Campbell's penis and let go of it just long enough for the audience to see that the cock was fully erect. Sarge looked down at it, placed it in one palm and with his other hand fingered the overhanging blond foreskin, contemplating. Then Sarge broke the silence, "Son, why didn't they cut this off when you were born?" "If you mean by that why I wasn't circumcised, Sir, it is because my father was against it," the boy replied calmly. "WHAT IN HELL IS WRONG WITH YOUR OLD MAN ANYWAY?" Sarge bellowed again, "I'll bet he's a goddamn skinhead and wanted his little boy to have one just like him. Isn't that right, Campbell?" "Not exactly Sir," Campbell explained, "They took off dad's foreskin when he was in the army. He had been injured and claims that some fruit medical corpsman came through his ward and cut off all the foreskins one afternoon." "WHAT IN HELL DO Y' MEAN? THERE AIN'T NO FRUITS IN THE U.S. MILITARY!" Sarge protested, "Probably just an ordinary corpsman detailed to take care of a bunch of goddamn skinheads. Hell, your ole man should have been grateful to him!" "Well, Sir," Campbell continued in his calm manner, "Dad claims he liked his dick better when it had its foreskin." Sarge's eyes widened and then he asked, "Well, if that's the case, college boy, how come you volunteered for this here circumcision ship?" "Well, Sir, I didn't exactly volunteer. My coach told me and the other two uncut team members we had to do our patriotic duty in the name of the school so we agreed and here I am with my dick in your fist, Sir, about to get it peeled," Campbell continued, "I sure hope my dad never sees me naked again because he would probably kill my coach." "FUCK YOUR OLD MAN, CAMPBELL, IT'S YOUR COCK, NOT HIS! YOU CERTAINLY WANT ALL THAT SKIN CLEANED OFF YOUR MEAT, DON'T YOU?" Sarge asked. "Not really, Sir. I sort of dig the feel of the skin when it rolls over my dick," Campbell said as his eyes twinkled. Suddenly the crowd of naked college jocks broke their intense silence and broke out in an uproar of whistles, cat calls and cheers as the crowd yelled, "RIGHT ON, CAMPBELL! HEY, SARGE, LET'S WATCH CAMPBELL ROLL IT ONE LAST TIME! ONE LAST TIME! ONE LAST TIME..."

The jocks began to chant as they began to roll their own skins in unison. What a sight! The Sarge realized that he couldn't fight the sexual exuberance of these youths and shrugged his shoulders and announced, "Campbell, you've got twenty strokes, but for chrissake don't pop off because I sure as hell don't want to work on a limp dick.

"SIXTEEN...SEVENTEEN... EIGHTEEN..." the crowd chanted as Campbell slowly, deliberately rolled his foreskin up to a point and then back off the fat, pulsing shaft. "NINETEEN... THIS IS IT, CAMPBELL...YOUR LAST ROLL, CAMPBELL...WHAT'S IT LIKE, CAMPBELL?...UP FRONT, CAMPBELL, THAT'S IT...BACK, BACK IT GOES...THAT'S IT, CAMPBELL... HURRAY!"

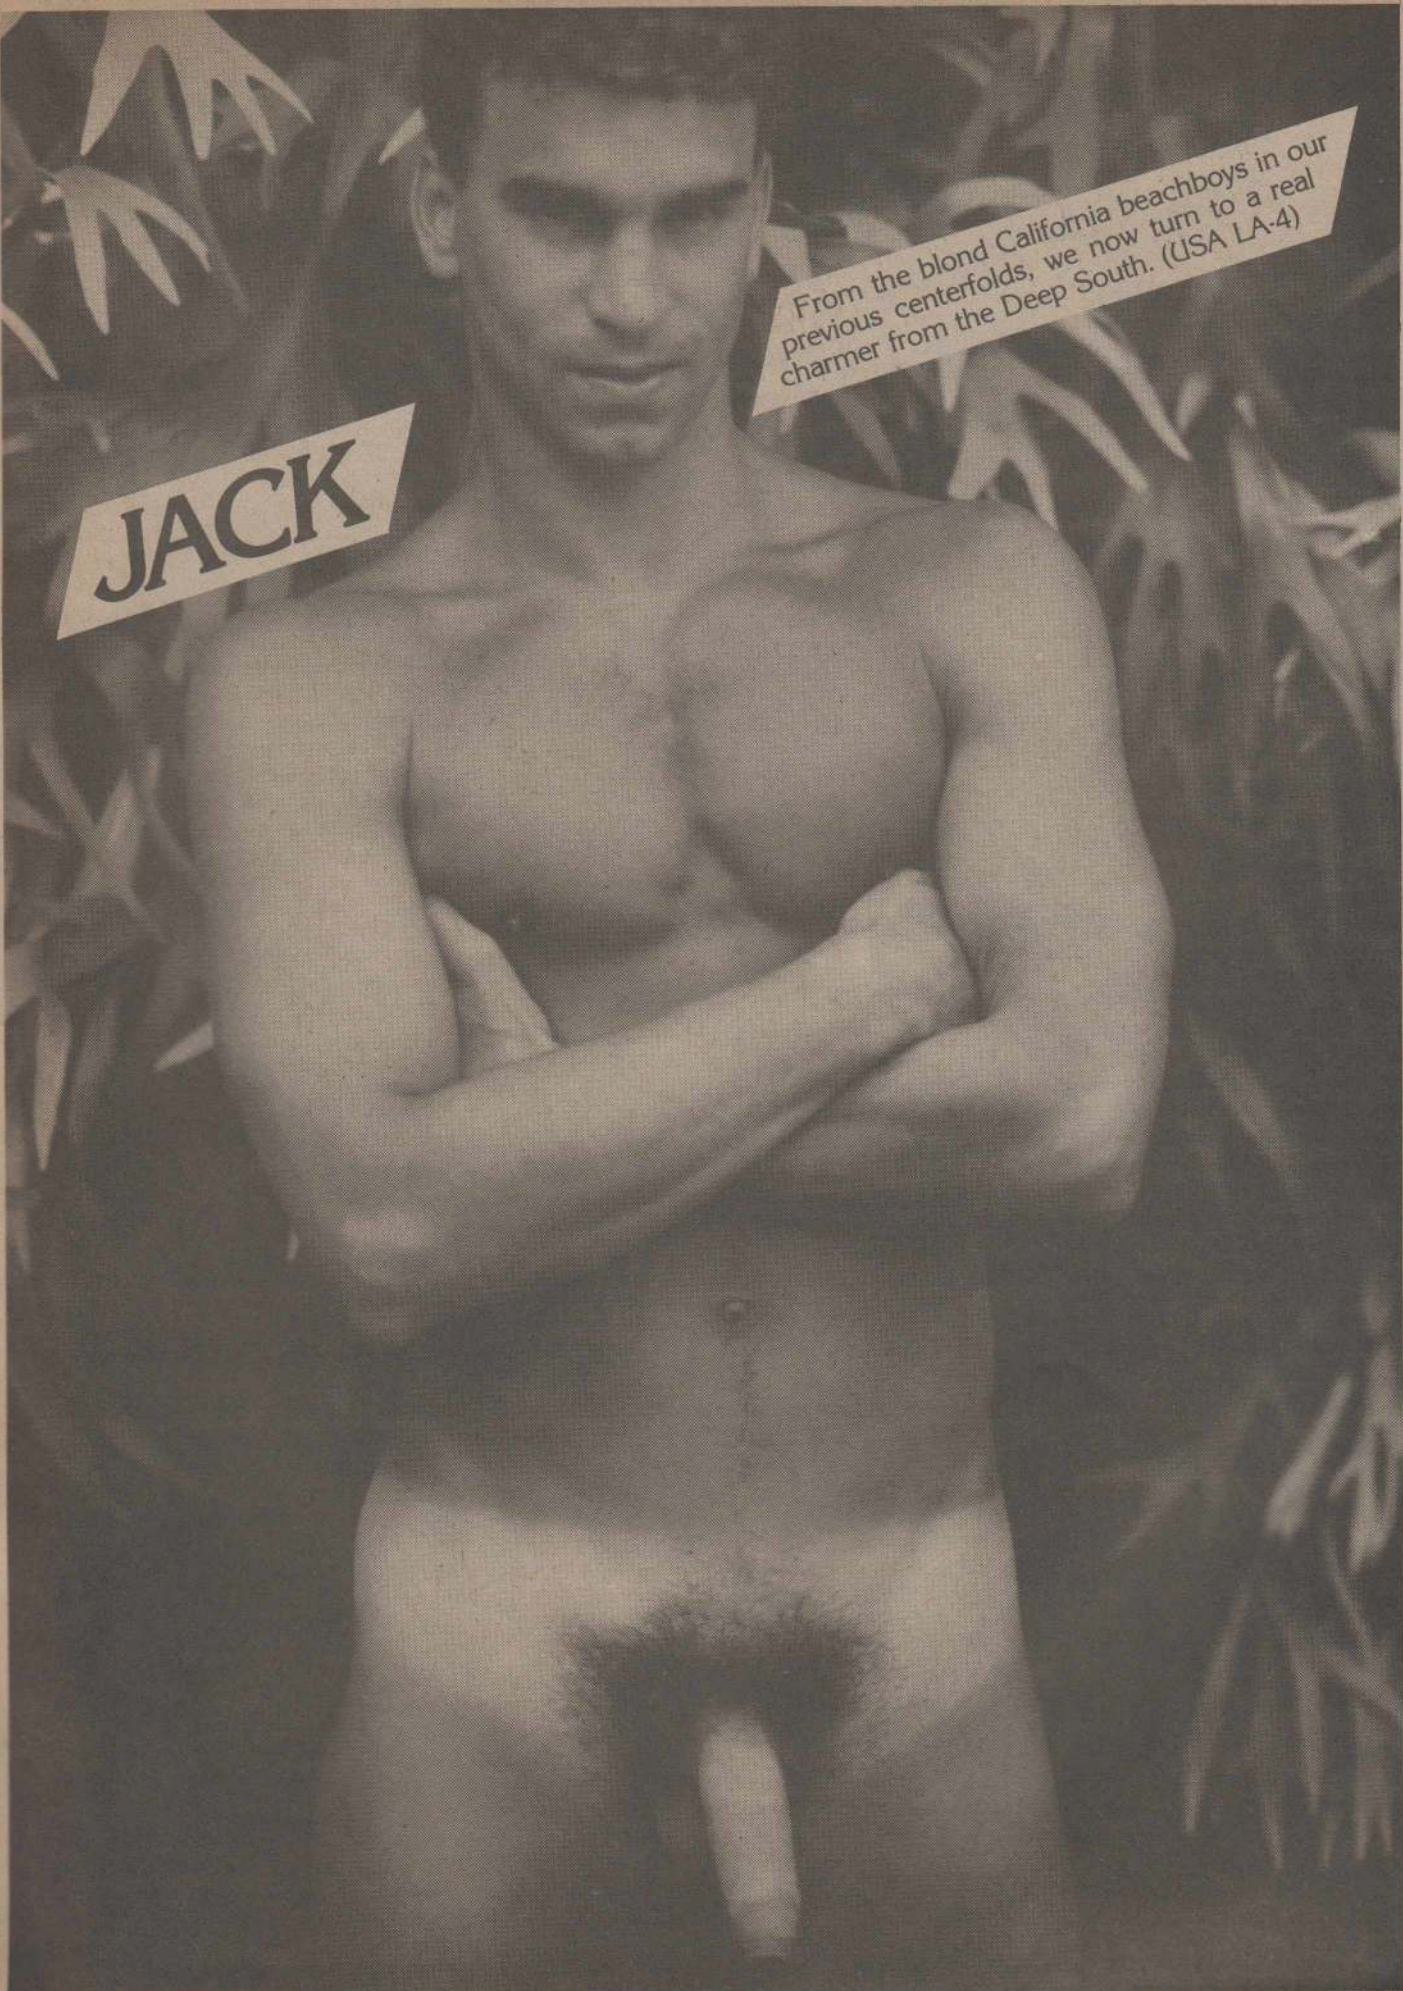

The Sarge squared his shoulders, picked up the laser tool while I secured Campbell's huge hands behind his back. His muscular thighs thrust forward and his long, fat penis bounced freely in the air. All eyes were on it as the crowd came to a hush once again. Sarge turned to me and asked, "How far back do we trim this one?" I pointed to a spot not too far down the shaft as I hated the thought of all that thick skin coming off the pole. "SHIIIT! THAT'S NOT ENOUGH!" Sarge growled, "WHEN THE MARINES SKIN A DICK, WE SKIN IT RIGHT! I'M SKINNING THIS PIECE OF AMERICAN MANHOOD RIGHT BACK TO WHERE IT BELONGS. BACK TO THE BALLS!"

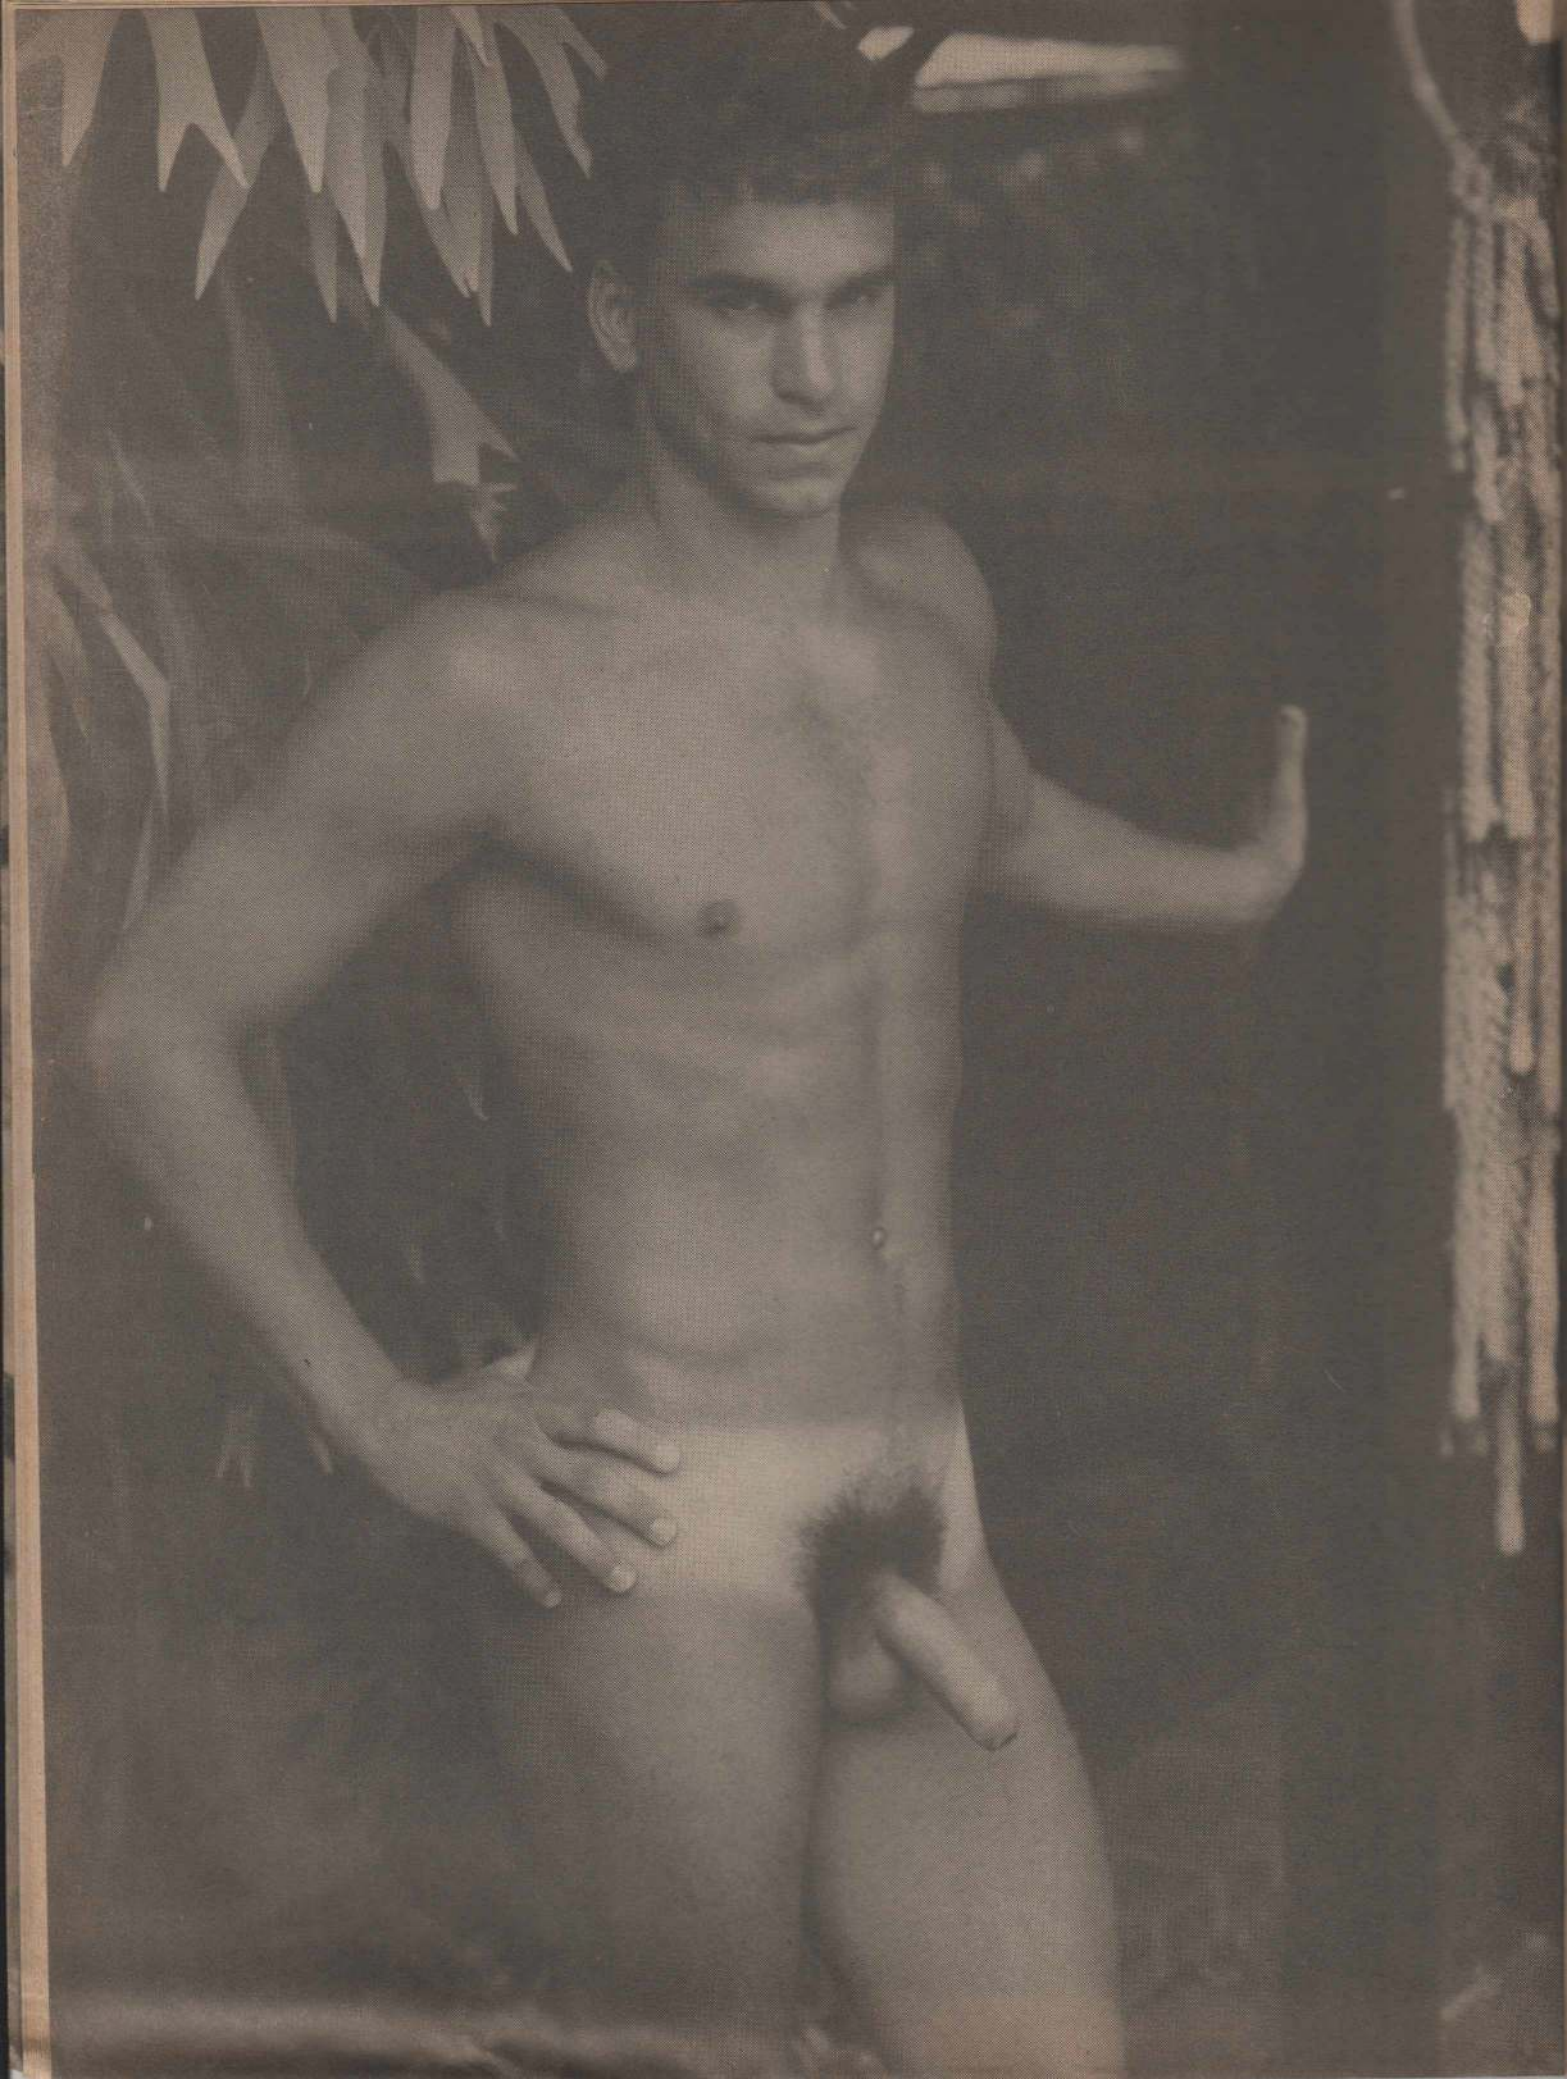

Campbell turned pale and softly asked, "Aren't you going to leave enough for me to fiddle on, Sir?" "FIDDLE?" Sarge asked with disgust, "Mister, all you need to do with this thing is to fill holes." After I'm through with it it'll be so tight that you won't want to fiddle." Sarge began circling the penis with the laser almost two thirds of the way down the shaft. "Jeeze, Sir," Campbell said as his eyes widened, "That's too far down me. Oh! What's that feeling? Oh, shit, that feels good." Campbell was beginning to feel the beam vibrating around his rigid shaft. "Ooohhh! Sarge, I don't really want to get circumcised, Sir! Is it too late to stop? Sir? Ooohhh, shit, man, what are you doing to my meat? Sir? Sir, keep doing it! Ooohhh, yea! Ooohhh, right man, skin my meat! Yea, Sarge, skin it! All of it! Oh fuck, peel that skin off my meat, Sarge! Yea, that's right, take it off! Yea!!!"

Suddenly, Sarge put down the tool. The audience was spellbound. As they watched Sarge slowly pull off Campbell's foreskin unveiling his handsome new circumcised American penis. Then Sarge looked around the room at all the naked jocks, each with a pulsating uncut dick pointing right at him and his laser gun, waiting until tomorrow when he is scheduled to take care of all twenty college boys for the sake of the country.

From the blond California beachboys in our previous centerfolds, we now turn to a real charmer from the Deep South. (USA LA-4)

JACK

The Acorn Club is a "foreskins anonymous" club made up of men circumcised as adults, men interested in being circumcised, men interested in the subject of circumcision and men who worship the All-American clean-cut cock. As a result of our FQ column we now have developed a line-up of men interested in watching, or being SIRcumcised at our festivities. If your penis tells you you should join our club, please write to: Acorn Number One, Box 547, 633 Post Street, San Francisco, California 94109. Here are a few of our recently received letters:

Dear Acorn One,

You are just the club I have been looking for! Four years ago I was circumcised at the age of twenty-one. Although I am thankful that I had foreskin while I was a boy and I still like to play with it on other men, I really prefer my cock now that it is circumcised. I asked the doctor to give me as tight a circumcision as possible and he did a perfect job. When I am erect my shaft is sleek and sculptured-looking and my cockhead has expanded. I can still jack-off without lubrication and all this talk about how much circumcision takes away from masturbation is just not the case with me. It's just great fisting my dick because I can feel every inch of it now! However, I now realize that there is a difference between those cocks circumcised at birth and those circumcised later. I think it might be true that some cocks cut at birth end up with dried-up and tough heads, but once the head has developed and freed itself from adhesions to the prepuce it doesn't need the foreskin to protect its sensitivity. However, circumcision isn't for everybody and I think that anyone who grew up with circumcision fantasies (as I did) really has a unique opportunity to experience the ultimate experience a male can have and that is adult circumcision. Now I want to share the commraderie of other males who have had this experience and the thought of observing an Acorn SIRcumcision gives me an erection. Yes, my penis tells me to sign him up!

Dear Acorn,

From an early age, I felt embarrassed by my uncircumcised penis. All my friends but one were circumcised, although at the time I didn't know what circumcision was, just that they looked different and teased me about my strange looking cock. The other uncircumcised boy and I became very close buddies and J.O. partners. Then the parents of my buddy caught him masturbating, and had him circumcised!—in the doctors office, freehand with local anesthetic. Thus I learned what circumcision was, how it was done, and how painful it was afterwards. This made me fear circumcision, but there was something erotic about it and I still wanted to look circumcised. I tried unsuccessfully to train my foreskin to stay back. As I grew older, I read everything I could find about circumcision. In those days everything was pro circumcision. I tried many devices to hold my foreskin back. The most successful were plastic, rubber, or leather collars that I wore in the groove (sulcus) behind my glans. But they irritated my frenum. When I was 13 I pierced my frenum at the sulcus with the small blade of a pen knife held flat against the sulcus. When it healed, a tie or thin section of collar could pass under my frenum. This made it possible to wear restraining collars for extended periods comfortably. My favorite foreskin holder was a short string of large artificial pearl beads tied into my sulcus with the string passing through my frenum. The ugly glassy purple color of my glans soon change to a velvet pink. My cock could then pass for a circumcised one, except my foreskin would not stay back by itself.

By the time I was 21, I had read widely about circumcision: in medical journals, army and navy reports, medical and surgical textbooks, patents, etc. Since my dad remained negative toward my getting circumcised, I decided to do the job myself. I chose the ecraseur, or strangulation, method. I pulled my foreskin forward over a small spool with a deepened groove at the end toward me and held it with a rubber band. I looped a fine wire tightly twice around the back part of my foreskin over the spool and pulled and twisted the ends together with pliers. The skin grew together where the wire pinched it to the spool, and on the sixth day my dead foreskin and the spool, still bound together, fell off while I bathed. The remaining foreskin retracted by itself behind my glans and stayed there. I still can pull my foreskin forward to cover two thirds of my glans, and the skin is taut only during an erection. When I think of removing more skin (this time near the base of my penis) or circumcising someone else, my cock gets hard.

Dear Acorns,

I am a 30 year old engineer (recently married) living in India and I am a Hindu. Recently while my ship was on your West Coast I happened to come across the magazine called FQ. Reading about the Acorn society got me excited because it reminded me of my own fascination with circumcision and my own eventual circumcision. To begin with I was not circumcised because all Hindu males are never circumcised. In fact, in my country with its varied religions and customs and rituals, the sole means of identification of a male Hindu is his uncircumcised penis. As you might read we have religious riots here every year and rival mobs sometime strip their victims to identify their religion. Now in my case I didn't know such a thing as circumcision existed until my 13th year in school. I made friends with two Moslem boys at my boarding school and while showering I became fascinated by their penises. I asked them why they were different and they got aroused as they related how they got circumcised just a few years prior. They were circumcised by a barber when they were eight years old. On the appointed day their local barber applied some herbal potion to the prepuce of the boys who were being powerfully gripped by their uncles. Then the barber stretched out each prepuce and with a quick flick of the razor their penises were forever circumcised. Then the barber applied a healing herb around the cut skin, bunching it up around the corona. The results were very successful as I admired the looks of their smooth glans (acorns) and that bunch of skin which rested in a ring like formation just behind the corona. I have never had homosexual urges but their story turned me on. I immediately knew that I would have to become one of the circumcised. I became obsessed with looking at circumcised penises because they seemed so beautiful and cute to me. I would go out of my way to look at naked men to see if they were circumcised. In my country where 90% are poor, seeing naked men and boys is not a problem. I soon laid my hands on as many books as possible to gain a better insight on the ritual, procedures and pros and cons of circumcision. By my twenties I knew whatever there was to know about it. I mentioned my interest to my family and my mother immediately dissuaded me. In my 24 year and final term at college I went over to the local government hospital and told them I wished to be circumcised. They took down all the particulars without any hesitation and appointed me a day. On the appointed day, the doctor laid me on the table, injected local anesthetics with about 9 injections around my prepuce and then let me watch while he cut it off. I returned to class, but returned everyday to have an antibiotic injection. After a week he removed the bandage and I saw my circumcised penis for the first time. I saw that my circumcision was crudely done and not complete. I regretted going to a medical doctor instead of a Moslem barber.

In my recent years of world travel for my profession I have been to practically all countries of the world and observed hundreds of penises from every race. I have seen the results of various circumcision methods, but only in the United States do I see penises which have been entirely stripped of the frenulum causing the skin of the shaft to be so nice and tight that the whole appearance of the penis is one of beauty. There is interest in the American penis worldwide and I think it is because of this style. I find that only 30% of American penises are so well cut now that I have been in your country to observe them. Now back to my case. I wistfully long to come to your country one day and have my own penis recircumcised in your best style. This is one reason I am writing to your exclusive society.

Dear ACORN:

I am mainly interested in supporting ACORN as it contributes to the eradication of the anatomical catastrophe, the foreskin. A circumcised cock is the epitome of masculinity, the triumph and crowning glory of the mature male. Someone has called the circumcised penis "an instrument of precise intent" as opposed to the uncircumcised penis hanging between the thighs in apparent shame and modesty, hiding and covering up a male's true self.

I grew up in an area in the midwest that was like a patchwork quilt when it came to circumcision. The town where I was born had only a couple of doctors, but they seemed to be really convinced that clean-cut was the way to go! So just about all of us male babies were cut shortly after we arrived on the scene. A few miles away in another town it seemed as though no one had ever seen or heard of a cut cock. We moved there when I was in the third grade. All my good buddies were uncut. I was both fascinated and repulsed and figured they must basically be different in all ways than I and maybe some people were born with a pointy, loose funnel on the end of their cocks, and even looking at figures of statues in the dictionary showed me that they too had that strange look. My dad and brother and I, however, all had the same kind of beautiful rounded cock and my dad's was particularly big and beautiful with a jaunty, flaring head.

In the fifth grade I began to hang around the local swimming pool in the summer catching sight of as many cocks as I could. I don't remember seeing any cut ones. One time a group of stalwart country boys were in there, they must have been at least three or four years older than I—pubescent teenagers probably. I was hanging around and taking my time getting undressed while they horsed around changing into their trunks. One looked over at me and said, "Boy, I haven't seen one like that in a long time. He must be Barnacle Bill the Sailorman!!" Stupid ass! They were all uncut with long tubes hanging down, not even the hint of an acorn tucked up there. Their mockery rather turned me off and I never did change in a locker room for a long time after that. It did, however, give me an unceasing desire to match cocks and play around with cut cocks only. I never did see a retracted foreskin pulled back over a glans until I was in highschool. I thought that an uncircumcised cock actually had its head cut off and that was what was left afterwards, a long, floppy tube. My buddies in grade school, when now and then we would get around to "I'll-show-you-mine-if-you-show-me-yours" games, all had tight foreskins and could never pull them back. They would complain that it hurt all the time.

FORESKIN RECONSTRUCTION

PSYCHOLOGICAL EFFECTS OF CIRCUMCISION

Illustration by Joe Johnson

A SPECIAL REPORT FROM THE DIRECTOR OF B.U.F.F. (Brothers United for Future Foreskins). BUFF is the nationwide organization dedicated to non-surgical methods of foreskin restoration. It is headquartered at: BUFF, P.O. Box 26377, Temple, AZ 85282.

While many males, circumcised at birth and growing up with other circumcised males, don't think much about it, there are exceptions. It's hard to estimate how many, because circumcision is not a popular topic of discussion, because the subject is threatening, and many are uncomfortable discussing it.

There's been considerable documentation in the medical journals of the physical complications of circumcision. This mass-production surgery is not always done competently, and in fact often medical students and nurses do it, with the permission of a doctor who wants to save his own time.

Most, if not all, parents who consent to circumcision are not aware that their sons may resent this in later years. Medical personnel tell them that their infants are too young to remember the operation, usually performed without anesthesia, and some even claim that they're too young to feel pain. This is a white lie that they tell the mothers to ease their worry.

Over 100 men, responding to a recent survey, detailed their experiences with circumcision. The youngest is 25 years old. The oldest is 86, with a mean of 37.

Seventy-one percent were circumcised at birth. The rest were circumcised after infancy, in childhood, adolescence, or as adults. The ones circumcised as adults gave their consent to the surgery, and it was invariably done with either local or general anesthesia.

Dr. Paul Williamson, writing in the February, 1984 issue of Consultant, points out that infant circumcision is almost always done with even local anesthesia. There's concern over the effect of drugs on the baby's system, despite that fact that American mothers are often heavily drugged during labor, the drugs passing through the bloodstream into the baby. As we've seen, the mother is told that the baby doesn't feel pain, anyone who has seen a circumcision done knows otherwise.

INITIAL REACTIONS

Although the baby is too young to remember it later, circumcision produces a severe reaction. It's hard to believe that a piece of a very sensitive organ can be cut off without consequences. In fact, the mother of a baby who's just been circumcised notices that he's more irritable than before the operation, and takes feeding less well. A wet diaper produces more crying than before the operation, as the hot, acid urine hitting the raw cut edges and the exposed sensitive surface of the glans produces pain. One male states:

"My mother told me that after I'd been circumcised I cried almost constantly, and the pediatrician prescribed aspirin. I got a great deal of aspirin, and as a result I've had bladder problems all of my life. The head of the penis often gets very irritated."

As the wound heals, these effects fade, but there's no way of knowing how this painful start affects later life. Today, with natural childbirth and concern over gentle birth and bonding, we know that anything which disturbs the baby's comfort during the first days out of the womb can be harmful.

FINDING OUT

Sooner or later the boy will discover that he doesn't have everything that nature gave him. The way in which he finds out will often color his attitude. Sometimes one of the parents will take the initiative and explain it to him:

"I remember that when my mother would give me my bath she'd always soap up the washcloth and wash my penis very thoroughly, always producing an erection. She would tell me 'Always wash yourself carefully there. Your penis was cut to make it easier to clean, and to avoid disease. Boys who aren't cut get infections, and they have to go to the hospital to get the skin cut off.' I knew that my father wasn't cut, and I'd always watch, fascinated, whenever I saw him in the bathroom, staring at the skin that covered most of the head, leaving a dime-sized opening through which I could see his tip. Many of the boys on my block weren't cut, either, and I would envy them when I saw them slipping the skin back and forth to masturbate. I always resented having been cut, from the first time I found out about it."

Others, growing up in a family in which all males were cut, and in an area in which all of their playmates are, simply accept it. Whatever the explanation they hear, life is simpler if they regard the circumcision as a necessary health measure. They may notice the occasional foreskin in the school locker room, but view it simply as a curiosity.

If they've been taught that having a foreskin is "dirty," as many accept, they may even consider themselves lucky to have been clipped at birth, before they were old enough to remember. It's reassuring to view circumcision as a positive thing. Doing otherwise would bring up the fact that they've been uselessly mutilated, having lost something from a very sensitive part of their bodies which they can never regain.

LATER CIRCUMCISION

If they experienced circumcision in childhood, much depends on the situation. Sometimes, it's done at the doctor's instigation, and if most of the boys in the neighborhood have been cut, the child may have felt uncomfortable at being different from the others, and may accept the circumcision willingly. Conformism is a powerful force in American society, and peer pressure can produce an acceptance of the operation, just for the sake of being like the others.

Sometimes, the child will see it as a punishment. Often, if the parent lies to him, it aggravates the situation. One male, circumcised at age 10, related his experience this way:

"I went into the hospital for a minor foreskin adjustment, because it was very long. My mother would always complain about this when she gave me my bath. She and the doctors said that they would not circumcise me, but only wanted to make it peel back easily. She took me to the county hospital, where she was able to get it done for free if she let them use me for a demonstration for medical students. There were a lot of them standing around when I was strapped down to the table, and they laughed up a storm while the doctor handled my penis, explaining what was to be done. I was frightened, and they put me out with ether. When I woke up, I was circumcised. It was very painful, as they cut off too much skin and removing the stitches hurt like hell. I remember the nurses laughing when that happened. I was left with a huge scar, and now erections are tight and painful. I always resented my mother for this, especially as she did it to my brother, too. She hated the intact penis."

One boy, not told what was to be done to him, was given general anesthesia and found out in a frightening way when he regained consciousness:

"I woke up vomiting, in a hospital bed. A nurse was smearing vaseline on my penis. It was a terrible sight, with the protruding red head and an ugly cut where the foreskin had been. She wrapped the whole thing with gauze, and I asked what had happened. 'You've been circumcised,' she said. For years, I didn't want to hear, read, or say the word!"

Another, circumcised at age 5, also found it frightening, also because his mother lied to him:

"My mother was persuaded to have me circumcised by the doctor, because my step-brother was circumcised and he thought that the difference would cause us to be curious and explore each other. He came and did it on the kitchen table, while the housekeeper and the gardener held me down. He put an injection in my penis and started cutting. The injection wasn't enough, and I felt the pain, struggling against the hands holding me down. It took a long time, and when it was over I looked at my bloody penis. My mother hadn't told me I was to be circumcised, but only that the skin would be 'sewed back.' Later, I found out that I'd been cut, after all, and I resented this all my life."

RESENTMENT OF PARENTS

Sixty-one percent said that they resent their parents for having had them circumcised. Although the doctor does it, the parents give their consent, and the circumcised male sees this as a betrayal. One described it as a loss of his "birthright."

Often, the male sees the reason given by his parents as inadequate. This is especially true if the reasons are social or cultural:

"My mother told me that they had me circumcised so that I'd look like my father. I never felt right about this."

"My mother told me it looks better circumcised. I wish she'd let me decide for myself."

"I felt that I'd been mutilated. I was upset and wanted it back. I blame my mother, even though she said she thought it was hospital policy."

There is strong resentment if the circumcision was to stop masturbation:

"My grandmother took me to the doctor when I was 17 because she'd caught me beating off. She didn't tell me what was going to happen, but the nurse strapped me down and the doctor came in and gave me an injection in my penis, and then started cutting. It was then that I realized what he was doing. When I got back to school, I was self-conscious about my red-looking penis and the wide scar I had on it."

Another reports:

"I was circumcised at 14½ to stop my jacking off. I resent my parents for it sometimes when I'm depressed. Now, I don't feel whole and I don't think Mom loved me then."

We see from both of these accounts that there was a feeling that punishment was involved, because of the masturbation.

Not all resent their parents:

"My mother did not realize she had a choice in the matter. Her obstetrician told her that all male children had to be circumcised at birth to prevent 'problems' later on."

Some resent the doctor:

"That knife-happy S.O.B. cut me as tight as a drumhead."

"It's the doctors who are the culprits. My mother's Ob-Gyn told her my foreskin was too long, and she saw that it hung off the end of my penis like a nipple. She agreed, thinking he would remove only the excess."

Nine percent were circumcised as adults, with their consent. All in this survey regretted it:

"I was circumcised at 28, because my wife told me that she preferred a circumcised cock, that it looked more masculine. I made a mistake, and I've been sorry ever since."

"My sex partner was circumcised, and he wanted me to be like him. He said it was more fun to suck a cut cock. I was circumcised at age 20, and never felt right about it. Now, we've broken up, and I'm left with a scar instead of the foreskin I was born with."

SELF-IMAGE

All of the males in this survey reported feelings that come under "degraded self-image." They state it in different ways:

"I feel incomplete."

"I feel that I'm not quite a man."

"...mutilated..."

"I envy those who were not cut."

"I feel rage that this was done to me."

"Incomplete, violated, revulsion at the invasion of privacy."

"...feeling of not being complete..."

"I feel incomplete, naked, deprived, and violated."

"My main reaction was that I'd been cheated. I felt angry that this had been done to me."

In some instances, circumcision resulted in extreme self-consciousness, and reluctance to be seen naked:

"I was always shy about disrobing in front of other boys, always worried about being seen circumcised. If they were uncut, I'd feel very inferior, and envy them."

"At work, the others are uncircumcised, and in the men's room they flaunt their penises to be sure I get a good look."

"My partner would prefer me uncut."

This is especially true for those who spend some time in foreign countries, where circumcision is almost unknown:

"I attended high school in Norway, as an exchange student. All of the boys in my class were uncut, and seemed to have no trouble with their foreskins. When they saw me naked, in the locker room, they asked me what had happened to my penis. I became very self-conscious and resentful of the mutilation."

"When I went to Sweden, I was very self-conscious in the public bath. All of the others were intact, and stared at me."

"In a bathhouse in Quebec, I was the only one without a foreskin. All of the others had foreskins covering their tips, and this made me very envious."

This can happen in America, too:

"I once had an encounter with a European. When we got naked, he looked at my cock, picked it up, and laughed. He said all Americans were that way. I didn't really enjoy sex that night."

"Although I was born in Pennsylvania, I now live in the South, and in this locale circumcision isn't common among some groups. I always feel self-conscious about it."

Some saw circumcision as a direct attack on their masculinity:

"I feel depressed, less of a man, without the options for sex play that a foreskin allows."

This last comment touches upon a very important and easily understood area, the loss of some sexual capacity.

SEXUAL EFFECTS

Some reported no effects on the most basic sexual activity, masturbation, but others recalled serious effects:

"I felt a loss of pleasant sliding action."

"Less to play with."

"I always have to use lubricant. Can't do it like the others."

"I have to wet my hand and slide it over the head."

"Masturbation is not pleasurable."

"I can't make the skin slide over the head."

"I know that masturbation would be better, but I still get a lot of pleasure from it."

"When I first started J.O., I was constantly frustrated in my efforts. I used two or three fingers on the shaft, but wanted something moving over the head. Later, I used a full-fist grip on the shaft, pumping the corona with the cuff of skin. Near the climax, my pre-cum would let my fist slide over the head."

"The doctor who cut me removed everything, including the frenum. The skin was cut so tight that I bled the day after, when the edges separated. The doctor had to come and put stitches in, which left scars. I lost the entire sensitive inner lining of my foreskin, the frenum, and the constant exposure left my tip dry, rough, and insensitive. I found out early that I couldn't jerk off like other boys, because I couldn't move the skin at all. Some circumcised boys had enough skin left to slide, but I didn't. I learned to use lubrication, and later on I discovered vibrators. The type that has a cup that covers the entire head gives me the best sensations."

Not all report a serious impairment of masturbation. Some, who were not cut tightly, say that they manage to stimulate a foreskin's effects:

"I wasn't cut too tight, and use the remaining foreskin as best as I can. I do the same for insertion."

"Although I was circumcised at birth, the doctor didn't cut too much off, and I still can slide the loose skin over the head when I beat off. I envy those who were not cut, though, because their cocks are more sensitive."

Ironically, circumcision sometimes leads to masturbation:

"I was circumcised at birth. I learned masturbation from trying to make my skin stay 'up' like other boys."

SEXUAL INTERESTS

Some report that circumcision has affected their sexual orientations:

"I am always curious whether other men I meet are circumcised."

"I think it has led to my sexual interest in men, especially uncircumcised ones."

"I always wonder if any male I meet is circumcised, and I think that this has led to my being bisexual."

"I can remember, even today, which boys in high school were cut and which weren't."

"I can't help staring at any uncut cock I see. I have to do it without being noticed. Not everybody would understand."

"Ever since I was a boy, and discovered the difference, I've been interested in uncut cocks, seeing them, handling them, watching the skin slide back and forth."

"I've always preferred sex partners who were uncut. The several guys I've lived with have been uncut, and I handled their foreskins for hours, fascinated by what I don't have for myself. They enjoyed the attention, too. I always try to figure out if a new guy I meet is uncut. Sometimes you can guess by the part of the country he comes from, or his ethnic background."

PAIN

Some physical complications were reported. In the intact penis, the glans is normally covered, and exposing it with circumcision can cause a feeling of extreme tenderness:

"...extreme sensitivity of glans...masturbation is not possible due to discomfort..."

"I was cut two years ago. There was a lot of pain and sensitivity afterwards, and now, the end of my penis always feels cold. The doctor never told me it could be partly slit to correct the phimosis, and the surgeon cut me so tight that erections are almost always painful."

Sometimes, actual physical damage occurs:

"The doctor damaged some nerves when he circumcised me. I have had pain during sex all of my life."

"Part of the skin grew into the side of the glans. Apparently, part of the glans on the left side was cut off, and during the healing the scar was in contact with this and they grew together. This caused my penis to curve to the left in erection. When I was 20 a doctor cut this skin loose under local anesthesia."

"I feel that too much skin was cut off. When the penis is erect, the skin is stretched so tight that it deforms the glans."

LOSS OF SENSITIVITY

By a man who had had a dorsal slight at age 2 weeks:

"The partial amputation was unnecessary and sensitivity could probably be even better if never trimmed."

"I take too long to come, and in fact can't, unless I tighten my crotch muscles. Circumcision left my penis insensitive."

OTHER EFFECTS

"I think circumcision is partly responsible for intermittent impotence."

"The general loss of sensitivity makes sex less enjoyable for me, whether alone or with a partner."

"I need to use lubricant for everything."

We see that males do resent having been circumcised, and are outspoken enough to discuss it. Few males realize that there is anything that they can do about it, believing that circumcision is a mark for life. Some of those few have had plastic surgery, about fifty during the last decade.

We have no way of estimating how many of the circumcised male population of this country resent or feel uncomfortable about having been circumcised, as our sample, about 100, is too small, and the method of selection does not produce a representative sample.

The strongest reactions, understandably, come from those who were circumcised without their consent, as infants or children, sometimes for odd reasons, such as to "cure" masturbation. Nowadays the reasons tend to be psychological and social, such as having the boy "match" the father. There's no consideration of the possibility that the boy may feel he's been mutilated when he learns what's been done to him.

If parents were aware of this, they might be less willing to consent to this mutilation, especially as the American Academy of Pediatrics has stated that there's no medical reason for "routine" circumcision. □

TRUE TALES OF FORESKIN & CIRCUMCISION

THE BIGGEST PRICK

The biggest prick I've ever seen, I saw doing one of my favorite things: jerking off in a public toilet. German cities have ample public toilets, and in the big cities there are always some which seem to be set aside for the jerkers; this one was in Dusseldorf, and the guy was big—as tall as I, and heavier—strapping, blond, wavy-haired, blue-eyed. Dressed in a blue overall, he came in, took out this tool that was at least 14 inches long, and full sized when it was still soft. The proportion was similar to mine, and with the length, it was the proverbial beer can thickness. It must've been a little hard, because he could never hide such an instrument in his pants, especially with the extra problem of the enormous pale balls that popped out next. It promptly stood up, and he began to slide the soft, loose pale foreskin all the way forward and then all the way back. When it was all the way forward there was some overhang, loose and fleshy, and when it was back, there was no sign of it. He walked around the room, from person to person, watching them jerk themselves off. If they tried to touch him, he moved on, or when they came, he moved on to the next. I was trying to be cool, because I saw that the guys who were pushy were getting nowhere, so I waited for him to come over to me, and when he did, my patience was rewarded. While my cock is nowhere near as large as his, it's still a very unusually large one, and this was clearly what he was waiting for, and by now he was very hot from having seen a half-dozen guys dump their loads. He put his hand out and touched my dick, and I was so hot by now (after at least 15 minutes of watching and beating my meat) that all I managed to do was slide that magnificent foreskin back and forth a couple of times when I shot like a cannon on the wall, and then his huge ham-like hand clamped his prick and pumped it hard a few times and dumped one of the most impressive loads I've ever seen, shooting into the air as he arched his back and groaned. He left like a shot, stuffing this thing back into his overall without bothering to clean it or wait for it to go down. I never saw him again.

I could sit here for hours, telling about the fat cocks I've seen at the toilets in Frankfurt (the Theaterplatz toilet is one of the best in the world for jerking and watching, especially on business days between 10 am and 4 pm). I was there last week, and in a couple of hours I watched 23 guys shoot off—that is, 23 guys shot off watching me, plus many others who had their own scenes going.

One of my fantasies is to find another cock at least as big as mine, with a big loose foreskin, so I can put the end of my dick into his foreskin and jerk us off together, and come together inside his skin. Still looking... One of my favorite sex partners likes to have his foreskin chewed on and his balls pulled on while I'm sucking him. I usually save the heavy chewing for when I'm ready for him to come, because that is sure to do it to him. But that's nothing unusual here; Germans very frequently like to have their cocks and foreskins chewed on, and one of the problems I have is that my cock is very sensitive and I do not like being chewed on myself. Coupled with the difficulties of sucking a dick as big as mine, I don't get my dick sucked here much. I prefer sucking, fucking, and watching. I have a date this coming weekend with a married couple who are driving down from up north to have a three-way (or even more if I want to invite another guy or two). They're both good-looking—she's got big tits, a hungry pussy, and he's got a very athletic body and a long thinnish prick with a long tight skin. I can pinch his skin shut when he comes and collect the whole big load under the skin, then watch it drip out onto her tits while I pump her full. Can't wait!

ENORMOUS FORESKIN

When I went to the Navy (age 17½) I saw a really obvious foreskin. A straight fellow from L.A., blond, compactly built and hairy—and an enormous foreskin on a moderate cock (mine was bigger). At first I thought something was wrong—as if his cock head wasn't there! But then I later realized the head must be under the skin! And I sneaked a look while he cleaned himself in the shower. His cock head was there all right.

I was kind of curious, but I did not really feel much. I was not gay or bisexual—consciously—at that time. (I have been happily married for years now). At that time I could not get into it. However, while in the Navy, I came back to the ship one night quite drunk. One of the sailors on watch said he'd help me below. He was from Maine—Canadian extraction. Instead of taking me to my bunk he led me to a storage closet; said I'd have to rest so the Chief would not see that I was drunk. We went into the closet—actually a room—and I felt his hand around my chest and waist. Then he opened his buttons. I was surprised but still so drunk that I could not really say much. He took out his cock. It was small—replete with a foreskin covering all. I asked, rather weakly, "What's that?" He then pulled back the skin to show his very, very red cock head. He said to me, "See, like it?" I said that it looked funny." He took my hand—I pulled away but then my curiosity overcome me. I used two fingers rather gingerly. He encouraged me to grab it. At that, I felt very dizzy and I told him I was too drunk. He said "Don't worry, just keep it up."

The next thing I knew he was feeling my cock. It really wasn't very stiff—but even semi-hard it is about 6½", and he tugged at it. Next in my stupor I felt him take my shoulders and push me down. He put his skinned-back cock in my mouth. I was horrified, but fascinated in my stupor. Seeing that I was afraid, he stopped a bit and gave me a big hug and held me until I relaxed. Then he showed me how the red-hot head could be covered by his very luxuriant foreskin. I took his cock. Then something happened. I felt something warm and salty in my mouth. At first I did not know what it was, but then I realized it must be cum. I gagged and jumped up, crying like a baby. He held me and would not let me go—I might have fled and fallen off the ship. I finally relaxed in his arms, while he then gently took my cock and placed it in his mouth. Perhaps it was a very primitive sense, but the gentle warmth around my cock soothed and calmed me. He said he loved my big straight cock. He gently massaged under my balls. I gradually felt better. He said he wanted me to cum. By this time the liquor began to wear off a bit. I understood what had happened and what was happening.

I started jerking myself off. I was almost embarrassed with him avidly watching me and running his hands through my bush (even then quite full). But I could not cum!

I started to cry again—I suppose a boy of 17½ is vulnerable. Again he comforted and held me. Then I watched him move his foreskin back and forth over his soft cock. It was even more fascinating. I started to feel those pangs coming and while watching him move his skin back, showing me the soft, but red head, I felt a special thrill; a kind of association as if I were he, complete with a new cock.

I rubbed my cock head furiously and came in a rush. I almost fell over, so wild was the sensation and thrill. My eyes and entire vital focus was on that small soft cock with its red, red head (now again growing large). After cumming, I slumped down panting: I realized that I found what, I was looking for!

FORESKIN WORSHIPPER

I've got an erection up to here just writing to a guy with foreskin. I've been a worshipper for as long as I can remember and your book is the most erotic and exciting I have ever read.

Some of the photos induce instant masturbation every time I open the page. You Americans are so lucky, every kink, fetish, perversion is acknowledged and catered for over there; I cannot imagine such a book being produced by an Englishman.

I have other fetishes but nothing that approaches my near-obsession with uncut cocks. If a guy can take it, I like to chew foreskin. To hold the tip tight shut while the guy comes in the sack, then let it explode over my face. To fuck a guy while one hand holds his balls and the other slides his skin till he's shooting through foreskin. I'm also a watersports freak and love to see uncut guys pissing, preferably over me.

You infer in the book that Englishmen are predominately uncut. Not so, a wandering eye in any toilet shows that for every foreskin there are ten hideous naked knobs. The average improves in what we call working-class areas. And the advantages. You can get a lot out of labourers whose egos are flattered by worship of their foreskins. I live near a motorway rest-area and some of the truckers from the European mainland have beautiful meat. And curtains in their cabs! I also live near the army camps on Salisbury Plain and there's plenty of skin among the soldiers.

SEWN SHUT

One night I brought home a number who was very "M" and very uncut also. When he commented about my beautiful uncut cock I realized he appreciated cut dick as much as I did uncut dick. I then figured that maybe he was ashamed of his foreskin and/or wanted it worked on. When I tied him up and loose with poppers, I started pulling back his foreskin which didn't pull back very easily. Sliding it back and forth a few minutes, I realized by his jerks of pain that any further back than half exposure of the head was painful for the guy. Although I was playing "S", I secretly sniffed for some cheesy smell. The guy had just enough to turn me on. I didn't need anymore poppers. He must have smelled his own cheese at that point because he called his own dick dirty and smelly. With this admission he began to loose his erection. Having enough experience in S/M, I knew something had happened to turn the guy off. I took a chance that perhaps it was his being uncut and being "exposed" that bothered him, so I decided to play on his own ideas. I told him he had a "dirty uncut cock and it should be sewed up so that smell couldn't come out." He loved the idea... his dick became twice as hard as it was before. I took out a needle and thread. I told him I was going to "sew up his foreskin so that it would never go back again." My "M" smiled from ear to ear. I pulled the foreskin forward until about one inch of overhang was between my fingers. I put the point in the needle against the skin and pushed quickly and directly. It pierced the foreskin and came out the other side with its cheesy smell, and he didn't like it. I wish I had it, I thought to myself. I composed myself and quickly cut the thread and tied a knot to secure the two sides of the foreskin. I untied his hands and made him play with his sewn-up cock, he started to jerk-off and I shot my load just watching—not because of his being tied shut, but just because I was watching his uncut cock. The number left my apartment with a sewn-up foreskin smiling and suggesting that next time I would let him stay until he had to piss inside his penis covering. I felt very sorry that here was someone who had what I wanted and he didn't appreciate it.

MARINE SUCKS SAILOR

A very cute sailor told me how a marine, yes, sucked him off (imagine a marine sucking off a sailor! charming in itself!). But with the additional delight of The Hot Water Treatment (as the sailor delightedly called it). He said the marine had asked him "Hey, sailor! Have you ever had The Hot Water Treatment?"

Naturally intrigued, the swabby said no. The jarhead promptly filled his mouth with hot water, and when he went down on the sailor's already hot cock, the sailor almost went out of his mind.

Now, how does this tie in with our mutual love of foreskins?

Well, Bud, your description of masturbation of an uncut is positively lyrical: "The foreskin... massages the glans with no friction... its sliding motion giving a slow velvety build-up towards an incredible orgasm."

Velvety! Inspired word! It's been a long time since, and will be a very long time indeed, before I "beat my meat." Forcing a quick, hard, soon-over orgasm seems such an abuse of a lovely thing. A nice, slow, confident, gentle variable stroke, but...

Why all this? Well, those of us lucky fucky sucky ones who have skin can dip their dick into hot water (Careful! Start on the low side. No pain! Just as warm/hot as makes the cock hot).

Sliding skin back off the head so the head can feel that lovely warmth: if not as good as a mouth or buns, it's still great! Each time the skin uncovers, yipes! Each time it covers, yummm!

This is the nearest thing to The Hot Water Treatment you can get if (as sometimes some of us find ourselves!) with urge, but without partner. I use a plastic insulated (double-wall) "glass," and even then the cock absorbs enough heat from the water that one needs a refill if one (wisely) is going to keep the good feelings feeling good.

Surely an extremely old and presumably very popular ruse is the use of a condom for either of our "types" (to J.O. of course). However, an adequately sized dildo gently (but firmly) pushed into the throat to the point of gagging a little not only is a means of practicing but brings up some nice thick lubricant to slip over the dick and into the condom. But when in the same reply you say "...beat off over the bared head and skinned-back foreskin" let me be a little more explicit. For those lucky souls of either "type" who still have even some of those lovely nerve-endings left, and who have won't power ("I won't come yet, no matter how good it feels and no matter how strong the temptation") keeping the friction only on that part of the skin (just behind the head) and off the head produces a different and really great experience.

By the time I entered the Army in 1954, I was able to set my prejudice against foreskin aside, and had a good mix of cut and uncut friends. In our camaraderie, circumcision never was a topic. I was able to touch my first foreskin in 1956, a long, loose skin on the cock of a young German man. This was only my second sexual contact. I cautiously pushed the skin back, and wonder of wonders, there was a real cock inside! For the next ten to fifteen years, foreskin was just something to push out of the way to get to the real meat. If I encountered phimosis, I just became very passive and let him get to my meat.

By this time of my life, I was making friends without seeing their cocks first. (These were all straight men.) As it turned out, the overwhelming majority of these friends, and the ones I became closest to were uncut! The first couple of foreskins I saw made me feel betrayed. I had to actually assure myself that these were the same good friends I enjoyed before I had seen their cocks. Finally, as any self-respecting gay man would do, I began getting off on thoughts of these foreskins in my jack-off fantasies. Soon, I was really into foreskin in my gay contacts, when I could find them. But strangely, expected skin (as in Latinos, Asians, and older Europeans) doesn't do nearly as much for me as the foreskin on an all-American hunk. Conversely, a beautiful cut cock on an Oriental-American or Latin hunk can send me into a head-spin.

FASCINATED BY FORESKIN

The old Mena House hotel overlooking the Great Pyramid was one of Egypt's great historical sites. Napoleon, Sir Richard Burton, Aleister Crowley and many more seekers of Egypt's ancient mysteries had slept at this grand old manor. It was my first tour of Egypt and my group was spending a couple of nights at this hotel. The Russians were still in control of Egypt and they were everywhere; Russian Army officers, engineers, party workers, factory workers on vacation and young, blond, wide-eyed Russian soldiers. The Russians were building a new wing for the hotel and the vast gardens and swimming pools around the hotel were swarming with them. We were one of the very first American tour groups to enter Egypt in many years and the Egyptians were extremely friendly—the Russians stared at us, but never talked. It was the last night of our tour and I had just said goodnight to my group and was walking towards the hotel when from the bushes a tall Arab was beckoning to me to follow him. Feeling adventurous and glad to be free of my tour group for a few hours I decided to follow him, mostly out of curiosity. I certainly hadn't learned the ways of the East as yet, but I was confused by the hotel employees', all male, constant insistence, "May I be of service to you, Sir?" This beckoner in the bushes wore the uniform of the hotel's porters. With some apprehension I followed him in the dark until we came to a building which I recognized as the quarters for the hotel employees (all male, of course, Egypt being a Moslem country). We entered a dimly-lit, smoke-filled room and I couldn't believe my eyes. Standing in the midst of about twenty

Arabs were two young Russian soldiers with their pants down around their ankles and their penises standing straight out into the room. Each one had a tall Arab standing behind him whose long fingers were wrapped around their cocks and jacking them off. The Russians were so transfixed by their own cocks that they didn't notice me as I entered the room. The Arabs' eyes were also intense of the Russian cocks. My host took my arm and led me into a separate room. It was soon obvious that he wanted to fuck me... no way! He got my pants down and I kept saying "No, no"—he just smiled. Then I began to pretend I was masturbating my cock and he said, "Aaahh! Yes!" and he took me by the arm and led me back to the crowded room and stood me next to the Russians whose cocks were still being pumped. The Russian's were startled to see an American in the line-up and the Arabs turned their attention to my cock. My host began to pump me from behind and it finally dawned on me that it was my foreskin, and those of the Russians, that fascinated these guys. I couldn't figure out whether I was having a dream or a nightmare, but the scene was too much and I popped my load quick while the Russian soldiers watched. I quickly grabbed my pants and wanted out. My host led me by the arm and as we left I noticed that the Russian soldiers were once again being pumped like crazy. My host was good enough to return me to the hotel and as we parted he asked me if I had some extra shirts or underwear for his seven sons (he had three wives). That was my first initiation into the wondrous ways of the East!

UNCUT BEAUTY

Went to the pornos the other night and as I got in my car to go home, I saw a guy sitting in a company van. I drove next to him and we struck up a conversation. He asked how the movies were and I said there was probably more activity in the parking lot than in the theater. "Not so far," he replied. "Could there be?" I asked. "Probably come on over and let's see." I did, and we saw! What I saw was a very hot seven inch uncut beauty with a big tear in its single eye, just begging to be kissed and made well—or something. Well, it was kissed, licked, sucked, and the heavier-than-usual foreskin nibbled, chewed and generally made love to for about 30 minutes with me kneeling between his outstretched legs while he watched people drive in and out of the parking lot! Finally his balls literally popped up against my lower lip and chin and unloaded the sweetest cream I've had in a long time. His name was Weldon and he assured me he had been "well done."

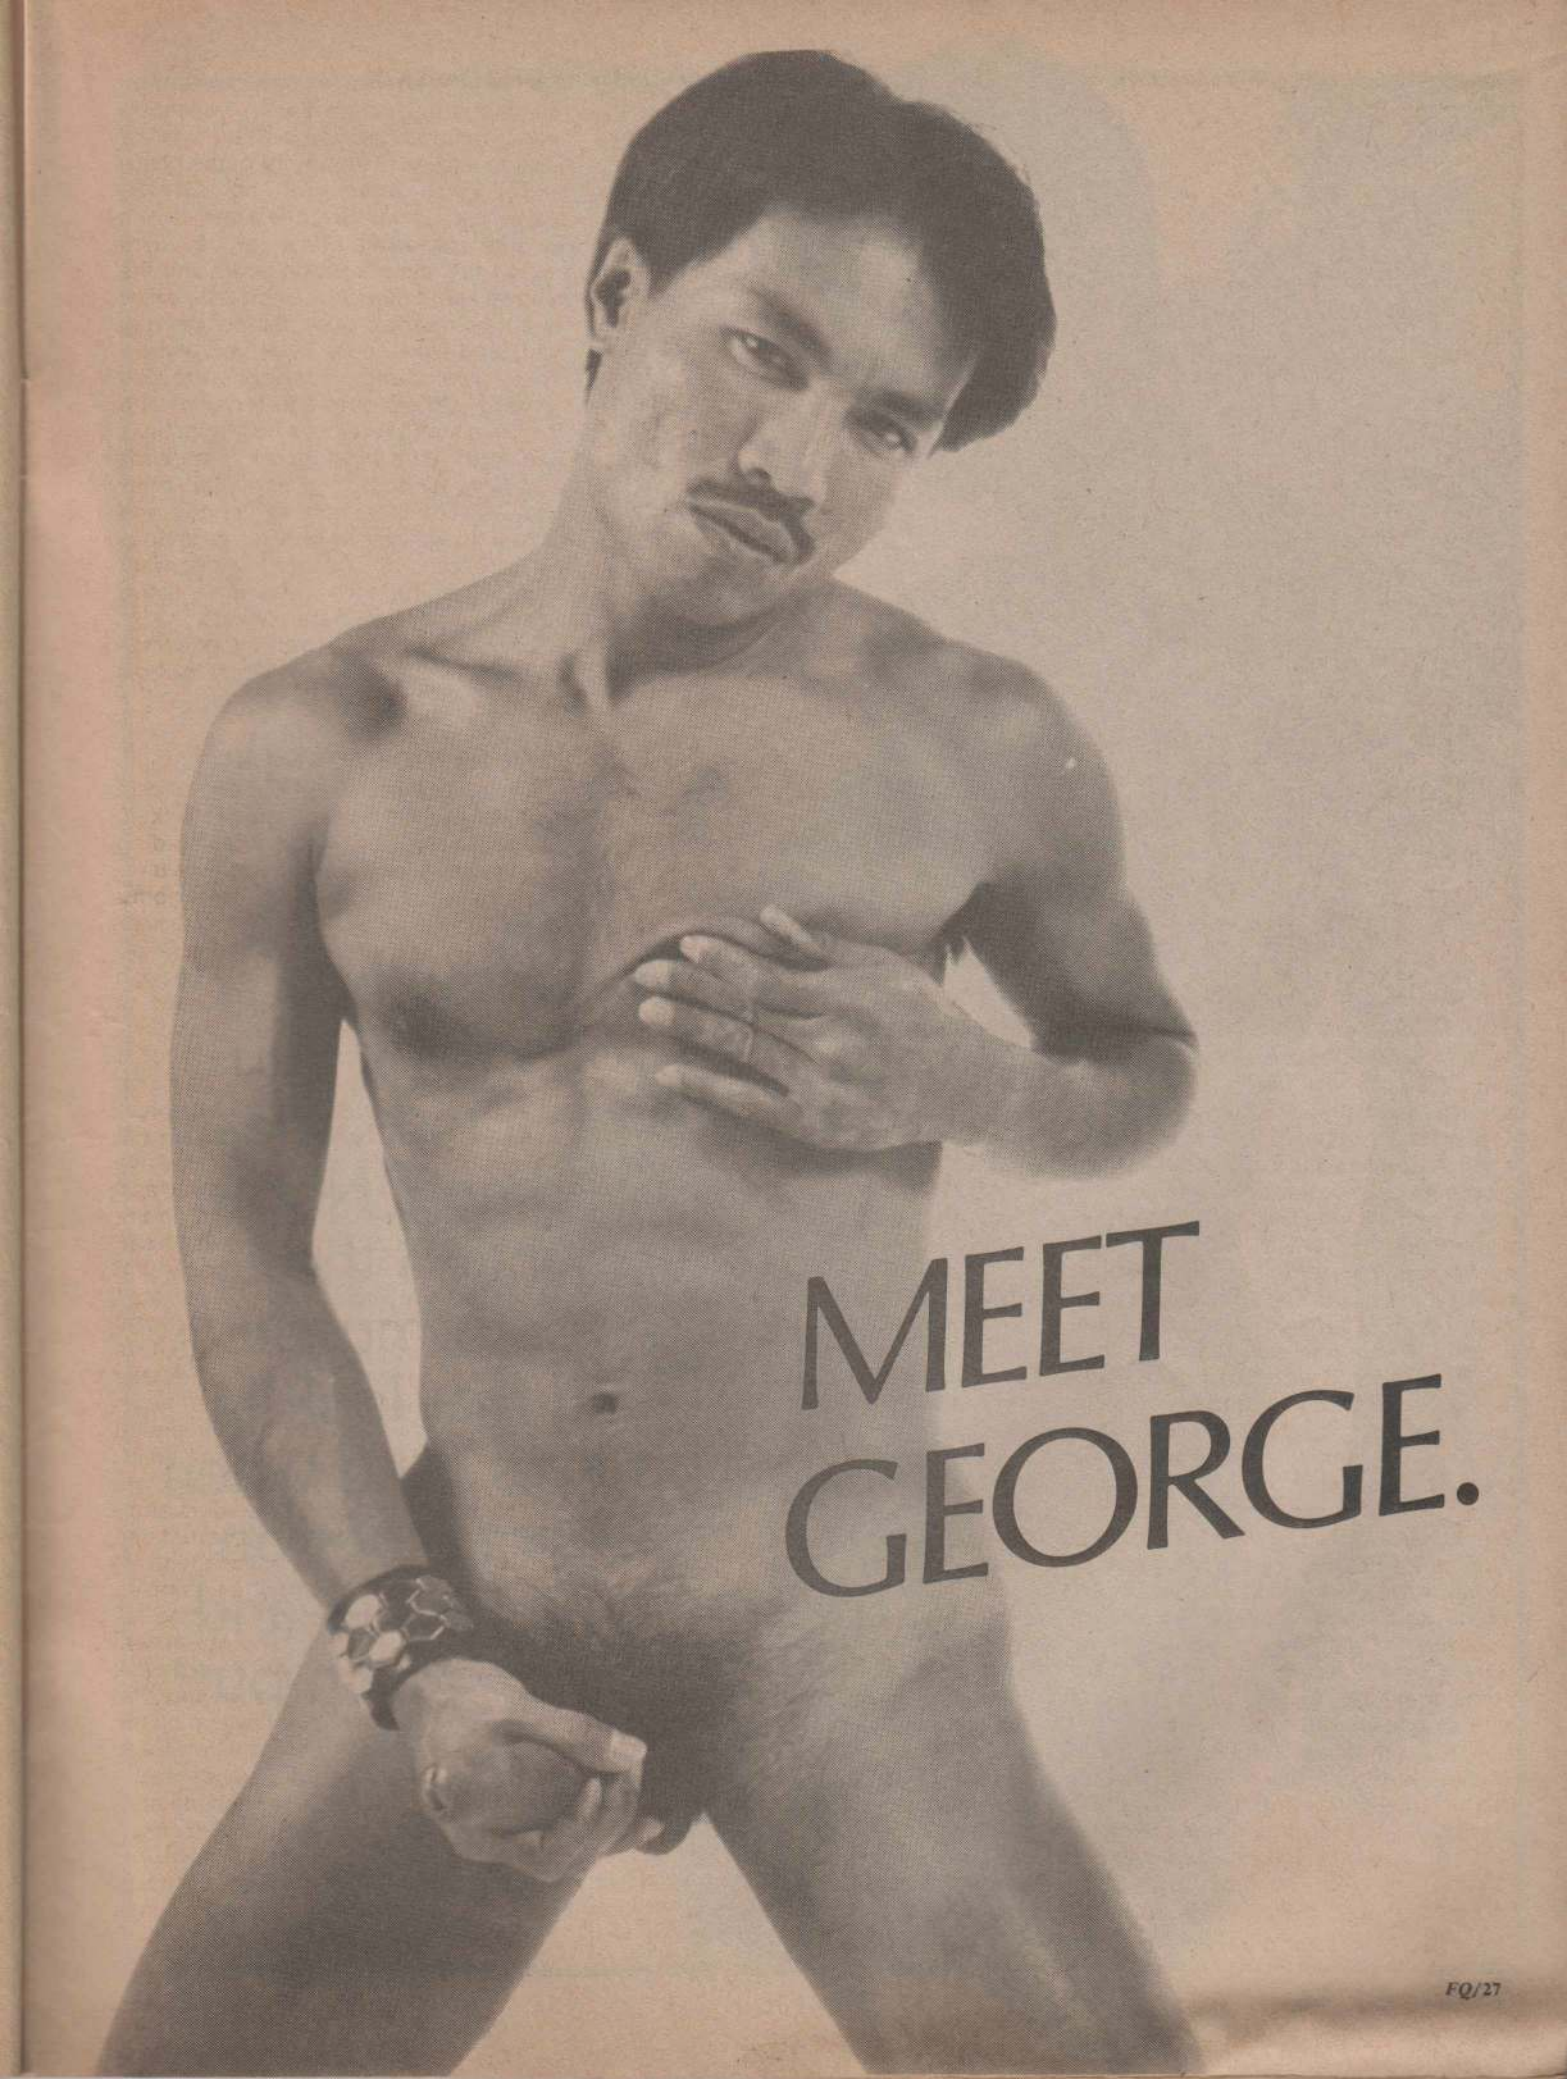

LONDON SKIN

I just returned from a week's vacation in London and I wanted to share with the USA members the memory of the beautiful English foreskins. The "Gentlemen's" toilet in Victoria Station is a favorite gathering place for gay men during the late afternoon hours and the fellows stand there and show their skins in all their varied glory. Some are very long and don't peel back very much. Their owners enjoy squeezing the skin forward. Others have shorter skins and the guys stand there and pull them back and forth showing their smooth heads and long, fat cocks and small thin ones and all combinations of length and radius imaginable as well as all shades of skin color from palest pink to dark ebony (London now has many native Africans and they are all uncut).

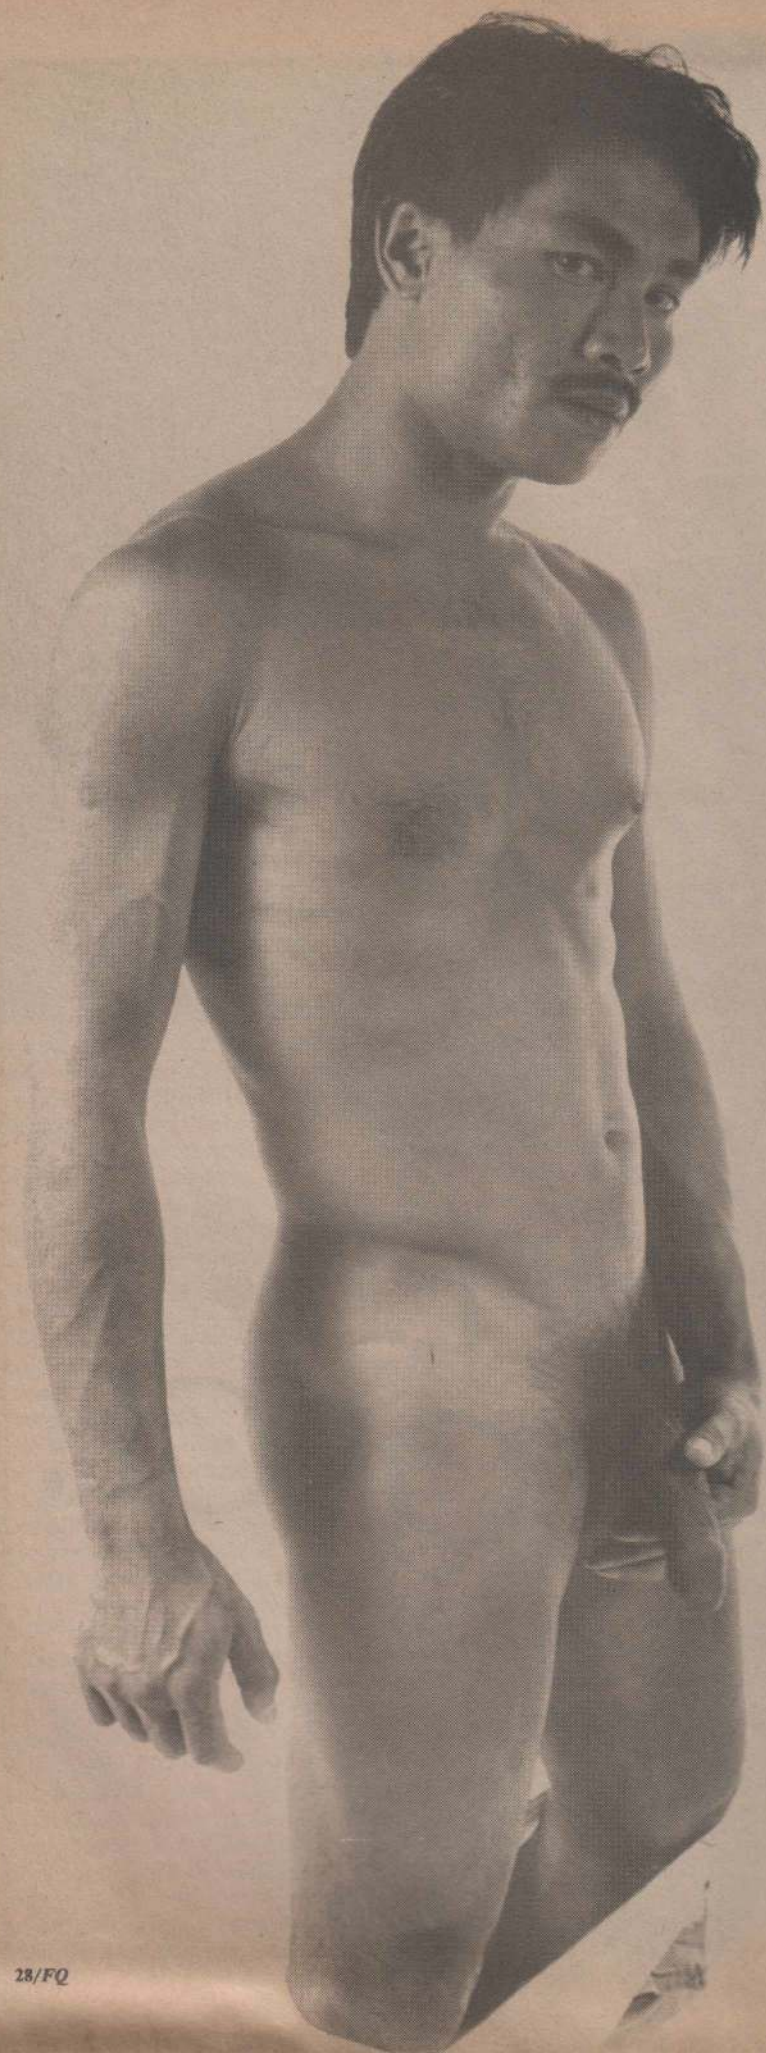

London men seem to enjoy their foreskins immensely and are happy to show them to kindred souls.

MARINE DIGS FORESKIN

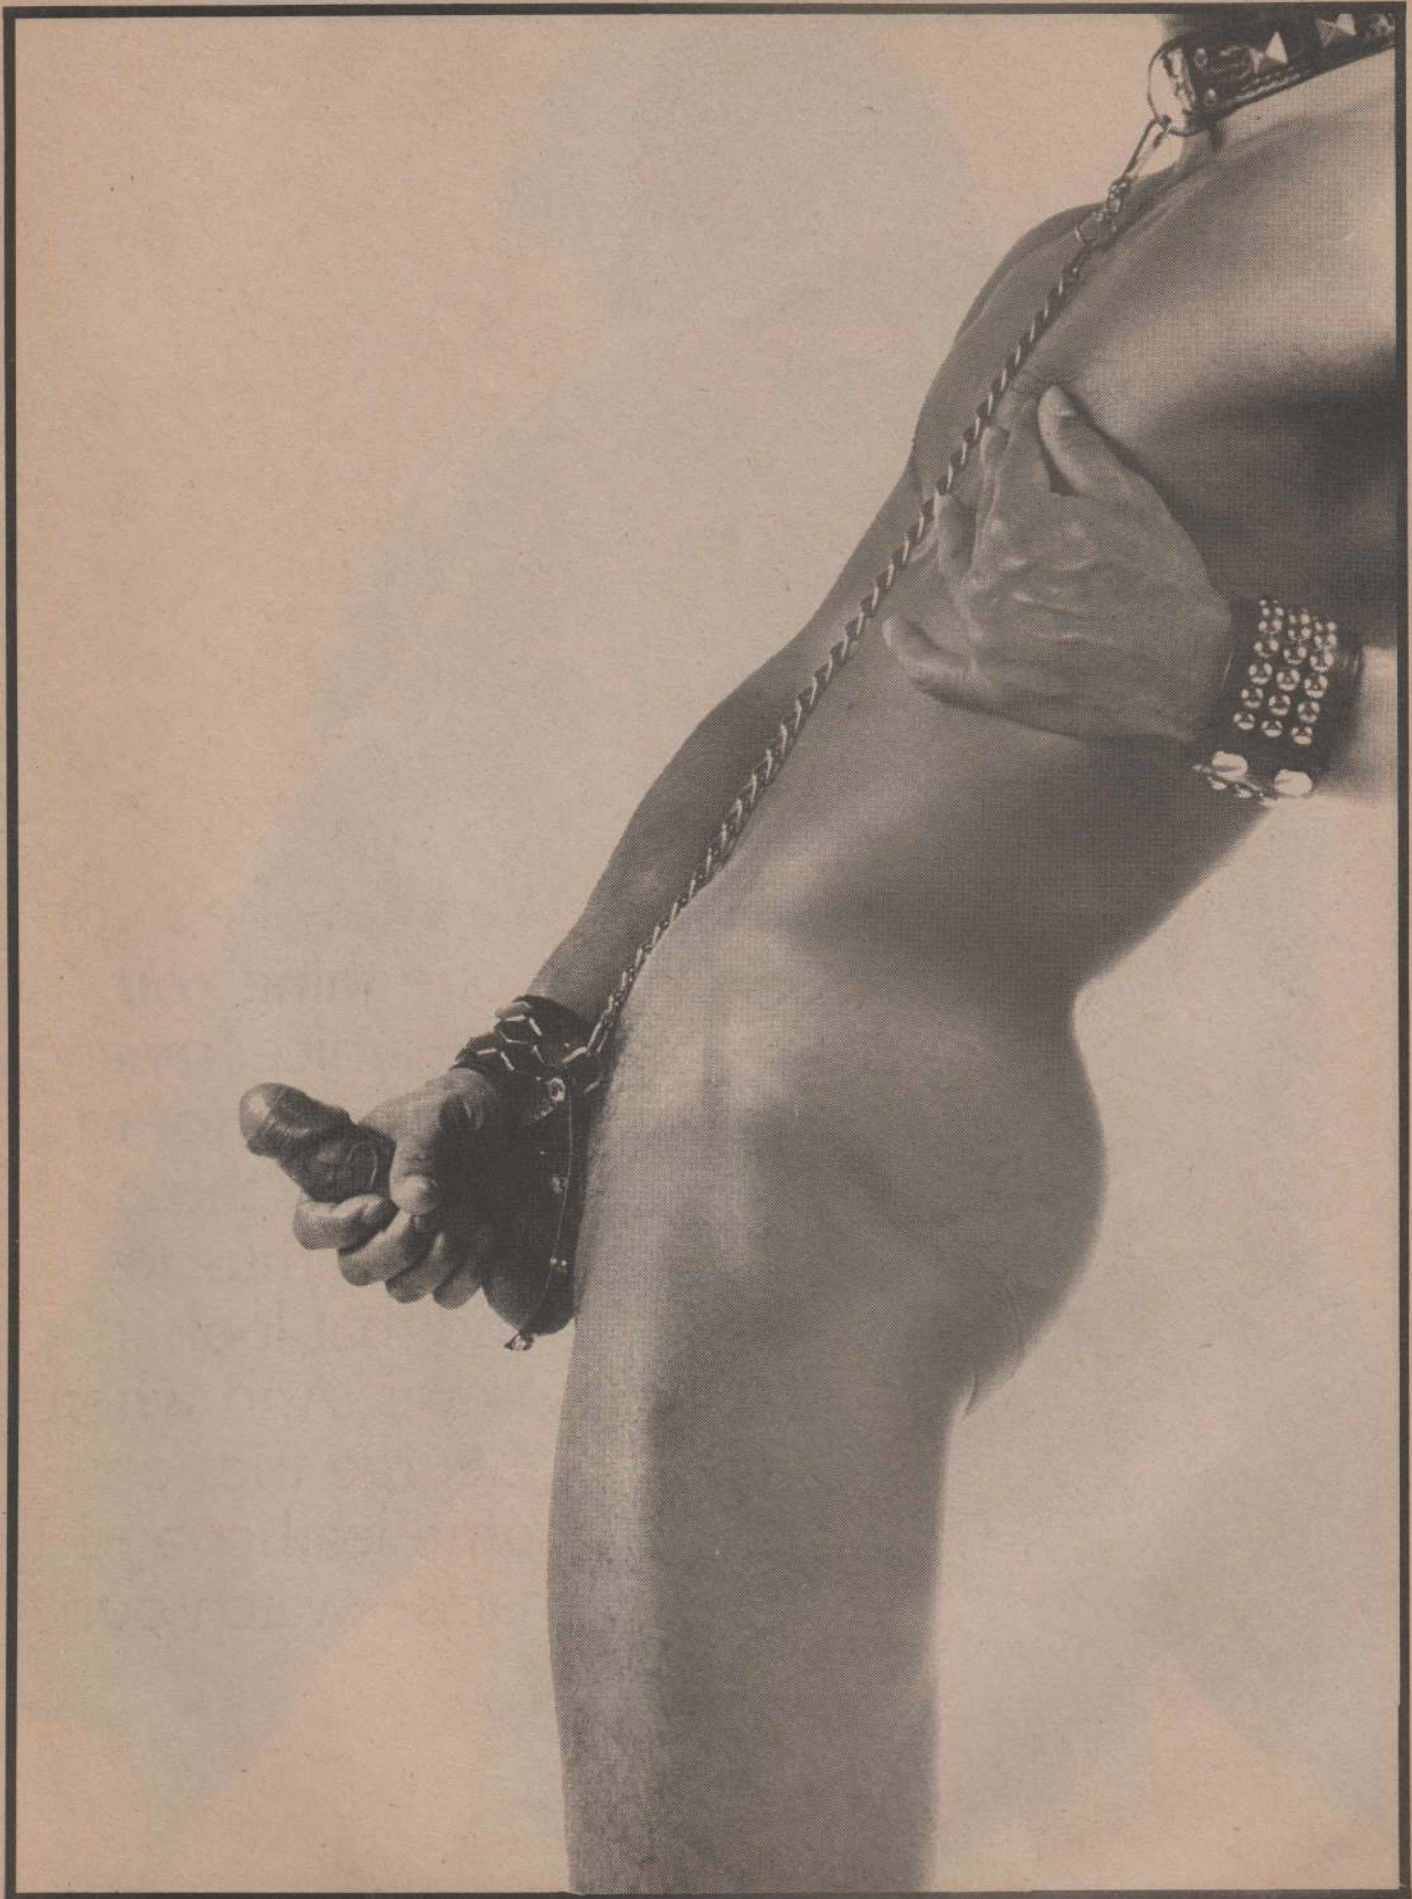

The night I received your newsletters I camped out at the beach and got fucked. It was about 10 pm, and after reading your material and watching cock bouncing around the beach all day, I was horny as hell. I decided it would be fun to float out on my inflatable boat and jack-off under the stars. I paddled out far enough so I could not be seen and started to work on a hard-on when I realized someone was swimming toward the boat. I stopped what I was doing and he came alongside. It was one of the Marines I had seen on the beach in the afternoon. He grabbed hold of the side and we started talking. He said he was tired and asked if there was room for him on the raft. My heart started to pound as he slid his wet, naked body over the end of the raft. I was laying on my back and I instinctively spread my legs apart and he slipped his body into the saddle. I felt his hard cock against mine as our mouths met. His lips felt cool with the salt water and I did not want the moment to end. It was the kind of stuff I had dreamed of, but never thought would happen. He lifted my legs up to his shoulders and I felt his cock searching. I had never been fucked before, but I knew I wanted him inside me. I have never felt anything so good as he began slowly thrusting his cock in and out. We both came in less than five minutes and then we laid back quietly while our cocks softened. We were both winded and fell asleep on the raft. It was about midnight when I was awakened by our raft getting beached. I got out to pull the raft higher on the sand and he looked up at me and said, "Hey, man, look at you! You've got foreskin. Hey, I dig that!" With that I had an instant full-blown hard-on again, and we had another hour of uninhibited oral sex. I was so tired the next day.

FORESKINS IN THE NEWS

2 KENYANS CIRCUMCIZED FOR 'MATURITY'

Two porters in Nairobi's main market were forced by co-workers to undergo circumcision, The Standard newspaper reported today.

The operation is traditionally carried out on youths in Kenya to market their coming to manhood.

Six more porters are due to be circumcized on Sunday, the paper said, quoting co-workers as explaining that yesterday's "swoop" was part of efforts to ensure that all the porters at Wakulima market are circumcized.

The circumcisions, carried out by a doctor at a clinic to which the two were taken in a truck, were deemed necessary because the men, aged 24 and 32, were thought not to have been "mature" in their behavior, the paper said.

A collection was made to pay the doctor for the operation, the report said. A crowd of about 300 market workers, including women, accompanied the two in the truck or followed in other vehicles chanting initiation songs, the report said.

After the operation the two were escorted to place of rest where their washing and cooking would be done for them while they recovered.

Male circumcision is practically obligatory for the Kikuyu and Masai tribes in Kenya. The two men forcibly circumcized yesterday are both believed to be Kikuyu.

S. AFRICANS PASS PAINFULLY INTO MANHOOD

High on a busy hillside, across a highway from a college campus and overlooking this urban center, there is a simple campsite consisting of about a dozen tents made from cardboard, tree limbs and plastic.

Hundreds of men 18 to 24 years old come to this spot each year to pass into manhood through an old Xhosa ritual of circumcision with anesthetic.

"You must feel the pain first, then you can be a man and do what you want," said Sizakele Makwetinana Songwiqu, who underwent the ritual.

"You can't marry or live by yourself until you have earned the title bhati, and to do that you must come here and have this thing done."

Adult circumcision was a ritual once common among black South African men, but now it has been abandoned for modern ways—except in a few rural areas.

Last week eight initiates came to the site above Klein Skool, in Cape Province about 400 miles east of Cape Town. Each had white clay paint on his face and torso and was wrapped in a wool blanket. The paint was to mask their identities to avoid the bad luck that is believed to come from being recognized. The blankets are all they're allowed to wear; they abandon their clothes when they enter the camp.

The initiates are tended by young boys from their villages, called amanqalatha. They bring them pots of food from their families three times a day. An Emnquate, a man hired by the parents, visits the camp daily to tend to the young men's medical needs. Nobody else may have regular contact with them.

In bygone days, the emnquate lived in a camp with the youths. But job requirements of modern life have altered this, just as they have forced some youths to wait for age 24 for the initiations. The traditional age for it is 18.

Families hire a man called an ingcidi to perform the rites. A male relative keeps a watchful eye as the youth approaches the knife-wielding ingcidi "to make sure he doesn't do the wrong thing and cut too much," Songwiqu said. "If it appears that he is getting carried away they will kick him."

After the circumcision the initiate is congratulated, declared a bhuti or "expert," then wrapped in his wool blanket.

For the next six to eight weeks, life revolves around the tent, or amabhumes, the initiate has built. The new men spend their days playing dominoes, speculating about how life will be different at home, and reading and listening to music on stereo cassettes.

Songwiqu said the initiates must not listen to music or read materials that would "raise virile thoughts and body heat." That, he said, would cause discomfort and prolong recovery.

The bhuti's meals consist of moistened maize and dry bread. Liquids, salt and meat are prohibited. Fires, tended by the amanqalatha, must be kept ablaze inside the tents at all times to ward off the wizards or evil spirits who would hex initiates and make their recovery difficult.

After recovery, the initiate dismantles his tent and returns home. All must be new, from the clothes he wears to the women he sees. Male friends must also be "experienced ones."

He is given his own house; in the past this would have been a hut of his own, but nowadays it often is an addition to the rear of the cramped houses to which most black families are relegated here.

The initiate becomes the envy of younger brothers who still must sleep several in a room and who along with women in the household, must preface his name with the honorific bhati as a sign of respect.

THE UNREMEMBERED TRAUMA

The trend in human events is for men to lead men's interest campaigns while women work for feminist goals. On that account, I found a shadow of anomaly in Marilyn Milos' campaign against something that never happens to women: circumcision.

Like most people who have not looked into it lately I hadn't known it was controversial or questionable.

Milos, who as Marilyn Mumford grew up on the Peninsula and attended Menlo-Atherton High School, now is a registered nurse and lives in the tiny Marin community of Forest Knolls.

With another nurse, Sheila Curran, Milos is operating an information center called Informed Consent, part of a network spreading the news that circumcision is neither a nice nor necessary thing to do to an unsuspecting baby boy. In fact, it hurts a lot, she told me during a conversation the other afternoon. Typically it's done without anesthetic.

"He was strapped down. I'd never heard a baby scream like that," she said, recalling her first experience of witnessing a circumcision when in nursing school. "And while it was going on the doctor said, 'There's no medical reason for doing it...'"

A few decades ago, at least 90 percent of boy babies were getting the treatment. Most still do. My sampling of a few Peninsula hospitals suggests the circumcision rate is about 75 percent.

Grown men don't remember it, a fact which doubtless permits the practice to continue. "Of course you don't remember it," Milos said, "both don't ignore the feelings. This is the time when the child is supposed to be learning trust. You can't document the psychological part, but you can't ignore it."

The practice of circumcision dates back thousands of years, but it came to be done widely in this country only in the late 1800s, according to Milos. First it was to prevent masturbation, when that practice was believed harmful to the health. More recently it was done to prevent various cancers—for reasons since disproved. There is, moreover, the argument that it should be done to newborns because circumcision is a serious and extremely painful procedure if it must be performed on adults. Is it sensible to circumcise 99 babies on behalf of the one who will need it later?

Milos was brimming with statistics. The U.S. is the last civilized country to routinely circumcise infant boys, she said. When the national health in Britain stopped paying for it, circumcision dropped from 50 percent to 0.5 percent, she said. "Canada is down to 30 percent, New Zealand to less than 2 percent, Australia less than 30 percent."

Circumcision was done in 95 percent of cases in the United States as recently as the 1960's. Now it has dropped to 76 percent nationwide. Milos wonders why it hasn't dropped to near zero as fast as tonsillectomies went out of vogue.

"Nurses see fewer parents choosing it," said Carla Schoof, spokesman for Sequoia Hospital. "The doctors and nurses are really presenting information, allowing the parents to make decisions."

"There is a definite movement against it in the medical world," commented Dr. Howard Rosenthal of Burlingame. "It's no longer done without thinking. It is voluntary, the parents' choice."

So, perhaps circumcision is on its way out of style.

DEMONSTRATION AGAINST CIRCUMCISION

Kenneth David Hopkins and Carol Ann Babyak are carrying the banner of CARV (Citizens Against Ritual Violence) on the streets of Sacramento. They protest strongly that there is a "national cover-up occurring on the issues of circumcision."

Hopkins and Babyak are serious and they state their case with no circumlocution.

Hopkins and Babyak hail from the North Coast city of Eureka where, last July, they started carrying their anti-circumcision placards in front of the courthouse, the city's general hospital and selected churches.

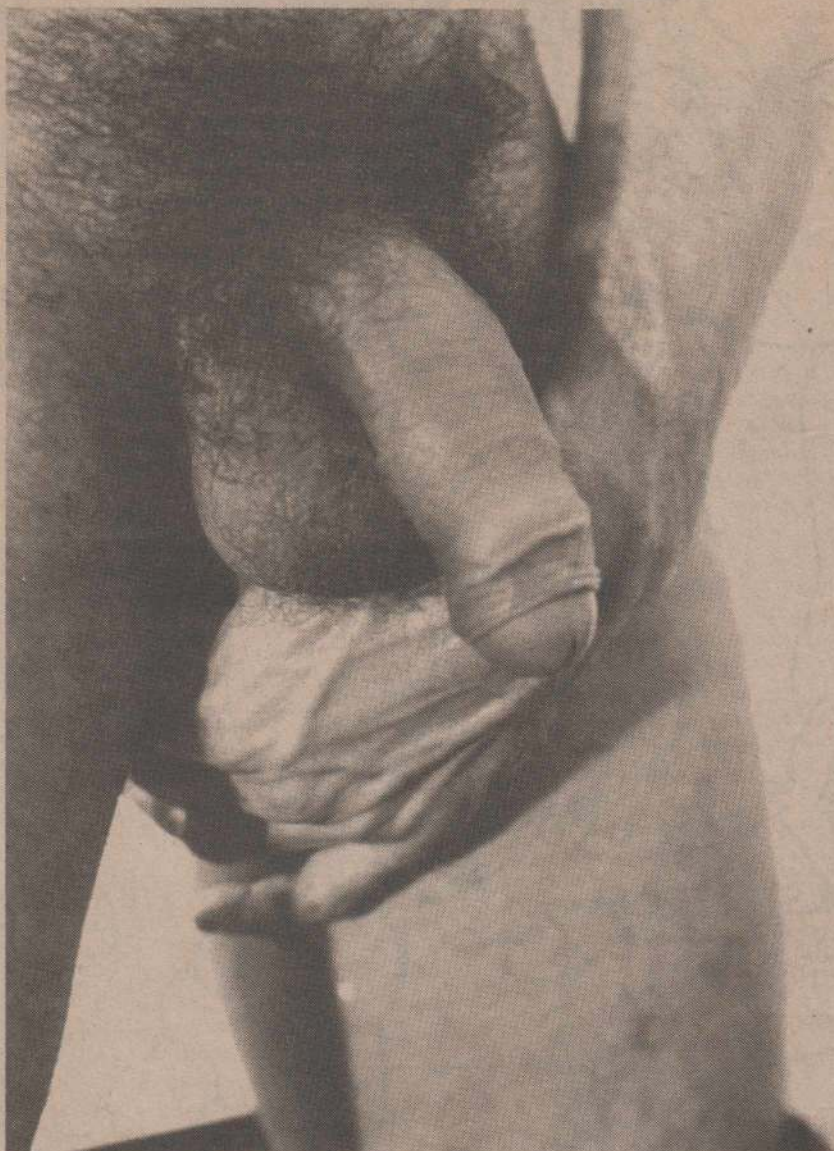

Then, said Hopkins, he and Babyak were handcuffed by the local police until the authorities were convinced they were not a threat or trying to incite a riot.

Perhaps what stirred the interest of the police was the fact that Hopkins and Babyak wear masks as they deliver the message of CARV.

"There's a lot of symbolic power in these masks that touches the subconscious," said Hopkins as he and Babyak passed out literature and confronted passersby in front of the State Capitol on what they consider to be a burning issue.

Besides, Hopkins said, "We find we are dealing with a terribly emotional controversy and I get a lot of castration threats. And there are people offering to beat us up."

Hopkins and Babyak say older women, especially, seem to be offended by their stance against circumcision.

MARIN JUDGE KILLS SUIT OVER CIRCUMCISION

Greetings,

We haven't received the documents from the court yet—having learned of the decision only from the article below. Richard Morris will be working on the appeal once he has the actual legal papers and it will be filed as soon as possible. We'll keep you posted. Certainly, this is a disappointment, but not unexpected...merely another round. It would have taken a courageous judge to rule in our favor, even if he had understood the issue.

Sincerely,
Marilyn

A Marin County judge dismissed yesterday a San Rafael mother's lawsuit that claimed a routine circumcision performed on her infant son amounted to torture.

Trudie London—the wife of a Kaiser

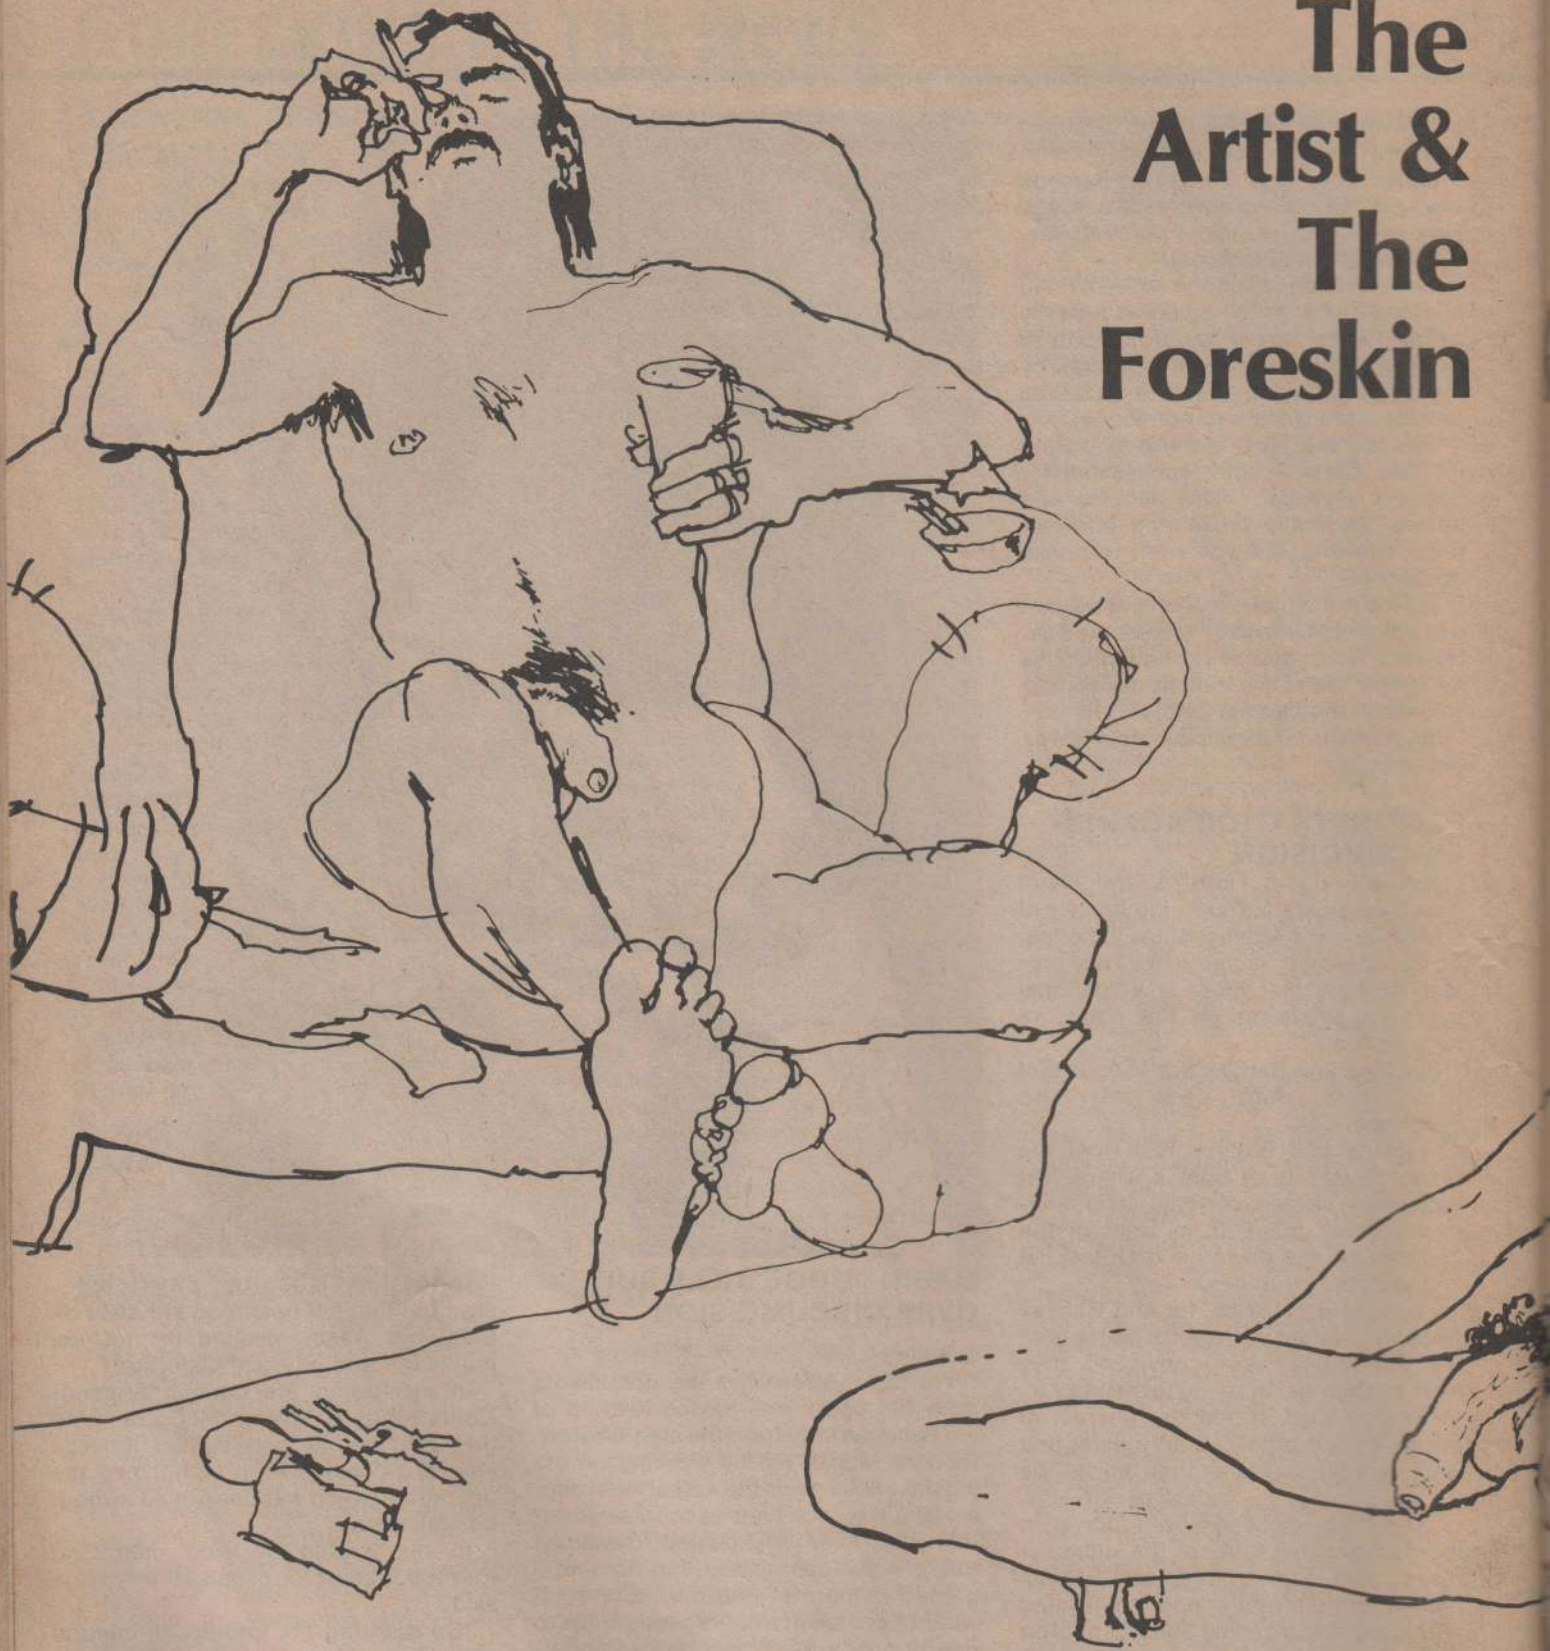

Foundation Hospital physician—asserted that the operation at Kaiser on 6-day-old Adam resulted in "torture, mutilation and physical distortion."

In dismissing the lawsuit, Superior Court Judge E. Warren McGuire noted that the mother had signed Kaiser's standard consent form authorizing the operation, which was performed without complications.

In his written decision upholding Kaiser's motion for dismissal the judge said:

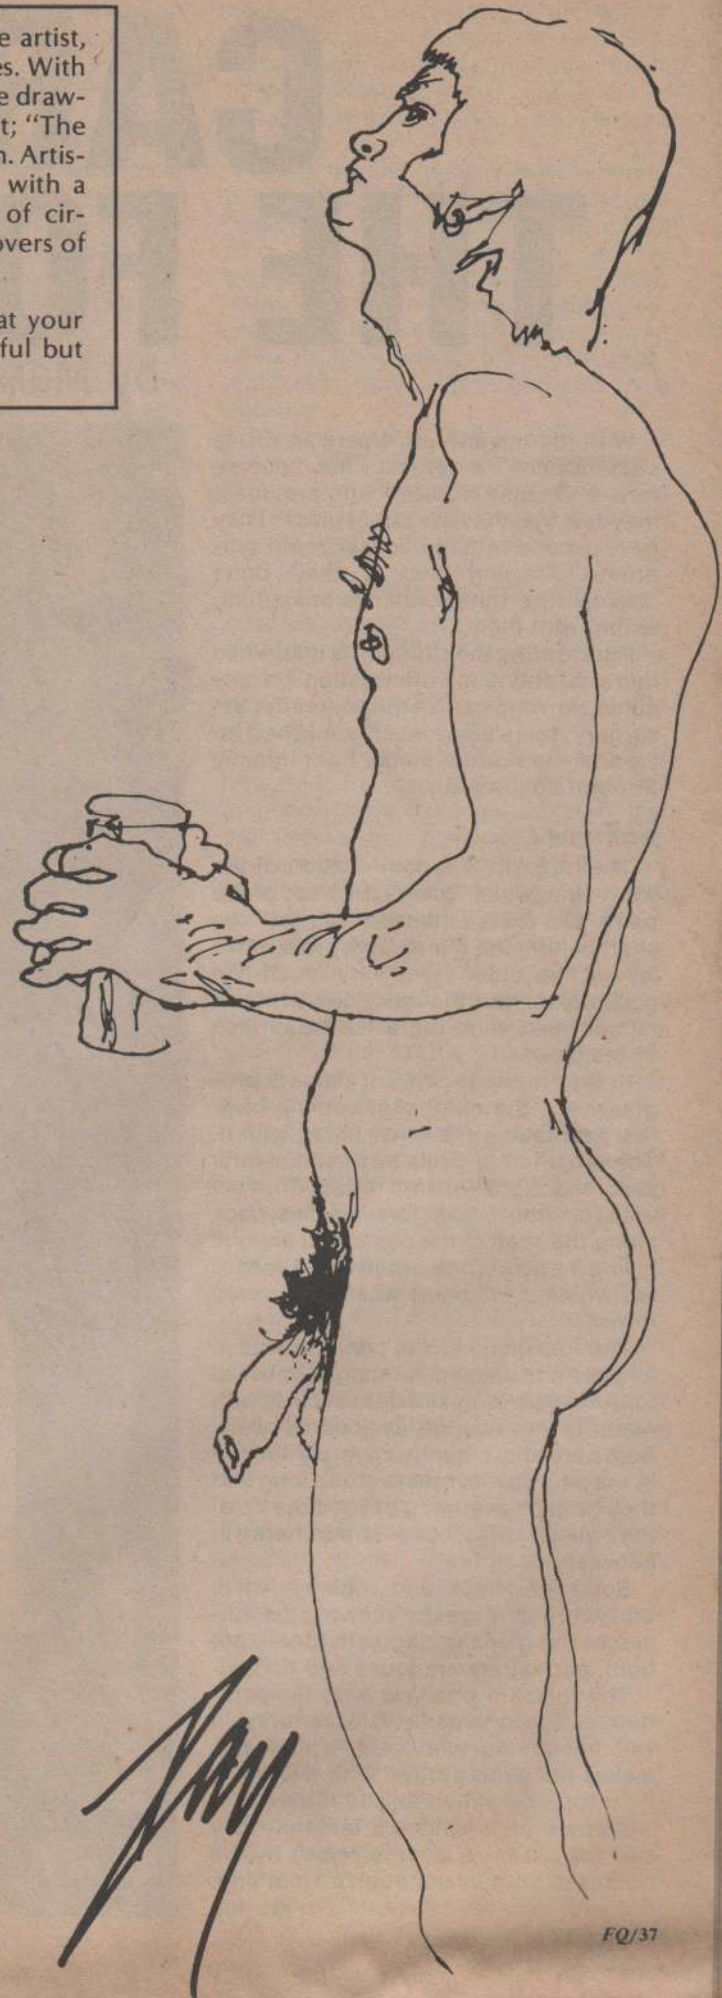

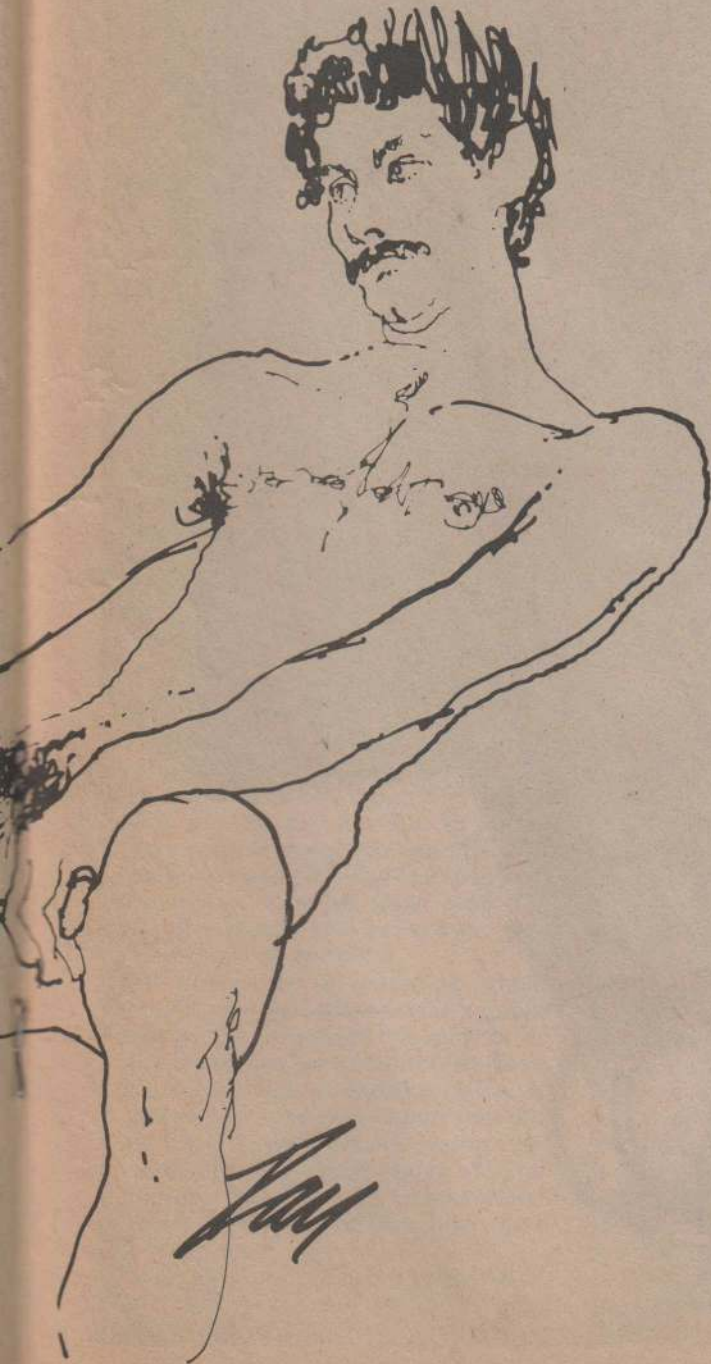

"Considering the traditional, cultural and religious history of circumcision as one of the most widely performed operations in human history and the constitutionally recognized right of raising children and to privacy in the realm of family life...parents would appear to have the right to have their male child circumcised without the need for governmental intervention or permission...."

The Artist & The Foreskin

From the private collection of a world renowned figure artist, Dan (USA member CA17), we present these superb sketches. With the trained eye of a successful artist, Dan contributed these drawings to FQ with a request that we print his critical statement; "The penis is one of Nature's masterpieces of function and design. Artistically speaking, the circumcised penis is the Mona Lisa with a moustache...an outrageous violation! The perpetrators of circumcision were never the artists, nor the sensualists and lovers of life." Well, great artists make great statements!

CARE OF THE FORESKIN

by Mark Beaumont

With the majority of American males circumcised, the foreskin has become rare, and some of those who are intact may feel that they are out of place. They have to cope with the "locker-room syndrome," feeling that if they don't "match" the others, there's something wrong with them.

Aggravating the situation is that, while there is abundant information on circumcision and care of the penis after the surgery, there's not much published on care of the normal penis, from infancy through adulthood.

ANATOMY

The foreskin is a continuation of the shaft-skin, which covers the head of the penis and folds underneath to join the shaft behind the glans. This gives it two layers, the outer layer very much like penile skin, and the inner one which is mucus membrane, more like the surface of the glans.

In the "normal" penis, it retracts progressively, the outer skin coming back first and taking the inner lining with it. The inner lining peels back and inverts with retraction. With full retraction, as in erection, the entire foreskin lies back along the shaft of the penis, and anyone giving it a quick look would find it hard to tell whether the penis was circumcised or not.

The foreskin, like the penis, comes in all sizes and shapes. Although almost all foreskins are long and tight at birth, with maturity they change, as does the penis. Some are short, barely covering the rim in the adult, while others are so long that they have an overhang beyond the tip of the glans. Most are somewhere in between.

Some are thick and rubbery, while others are thin, clearly showing the outline of the glans underneath. Some are tight, and others are loose and floppy.

The foreskin changes with temperature, as does the penis. A loose foreskin will tighten up with cold, which also makes the penis shrink. With warmth, a tight foreskin will relax and loosen.

Some crotch-watchers feel that they can tell if a male is circumcised by the outline of his penis through his clothing. If they see the tell-tale outline of the rim, he's circumcised. This isn't always true, as it depends on individual anatomy. A circumcised penis that has a small glans, with a flat rim, may not "show" enough through the clothing to enable the crotch-watcher to tell. A natural penis, with a thin foreskin, and with a large, mushroom-shaped glans that shows its outline through both the foreskin and clothing, gives the illusion of being circumcised.

EARLY YEARS

The normal baby is born with a foreskin. It's not a birth defect that needs surgical correction. Its purpose is to protect the sensitive glans during the diaper stage, and in fact only circumcised babies get ulceration of the meatus from urinary irritation.

It's unnecessary to wash under the foreskin in early childhood, any more than a young girl need douche. The foreskin normally loosens up well before puberty, allowing washing.

Normally the foreskin is tight in a baby or young child. This is because the penis and foreskin grow together inside the womb, and are not yet separated at birth. It's unwise to try to retract the foreskin in young boys. Retracting the foreskin by force, whether for washing or for circumcision, will tear the delicate tissues. This is the cause of the pock-marks occasionally seen on the glans of a circumcised penis.

Forcibly retracting a tight, immature foreskin can cause it to become lodge in the groove behind the glans, a condition known as "paraphimosis." If it's very tight, it can block the blood supply to the glans, which is very dangerous. It's possible to reduce a paraphimosis by compressing the glans with two fingers while gently slipping the foreskin forward again. Sometimes, lubricating it with a little vaseline helps in the effort to bring it back to its normal position.

As soon as the young boy is old enough to stand up to urinate, he'll learn whether or not he has to retract his foreskin. Some foreskins direct the stream neatly, and the boy has only to aim it. Others cause a spray, requiring the boy to bare the head part-way to expose the urinary opening in his glans. He'll discover the pleasurable sensations that come from such handling.

The young boy will naturally handle his penis, simply because it feels good. Formerly, people viewed this with horror in the belief that masturbation was sinful, unclean, and produced a variety of diseases, including VD. Others thought that circumcision would lessen the chances of the male contracting VD. The high rate of VD in our circumcised younger generation shows how false this belief was.

Erections, far from being abnormal or a sign of precocious sexuality, help loosen the foreskin.

Originally, the widespread adoption of circumcision was an effort to prevent or stop boys from masturbating. At the time, people, including doctors, believed that removing the foreskin, used for masturbation, would stop the practice. Decades of experience have proved that this is false.

Actually, masturbation is normal behavior, part of a boy's developing sexuality, and it's common even in very young boys. We now know that it's harmless, and even beneficial.

The positive aspect of masturbation is that it's an active measure to loosen the foreskin and permit retraction. By age four, over 90% of boys can pull back their foreskins for washing. By puberty, the tight foreskin is very rare.

Another fact in favor of masturbation is that it does not result in pregnancy, syphilis, gonorrhoea, or AIDS.

HYGIENE

Washing underneath, after the foreskin loosens enough to permit retraction, should be gentle. Many, with an exaggerated fear of odor, use excessive or harsh cleansers, which cause irritation.

We've been taught to believe that any sort of body odor is nasty and unclean. The companies which sell soap and deodorant are quick to take advantage of this viewpoint, and do all they can to promote it.

The normal human body has many odors, some due to sweat, and others due to hormonal secretions. Odor is sexually arousing for many people.

Some people confuse normal odors with those resulting from lack of cleanliness. Having been brought up to think that any odor is undesirable, we have to be careful to distinguish between fresh, healthy sweat and the rank smell of someone who hasn't had a shower for a week.

In the normal penis, there's a secretion under the foreskin, called "smegma." This is a combination of fluid from Tyson's glands and the normal sloughing off of epithelial cells. It acts as a lubricant for the foreskin. Many people, especially Europeans who don't come from countries which practice circumcision, find it pleasant and even exciting.

Simple washing, with a mild soap, is enough, as it is with the rest of the body. Pulling back the foreskin and washing underneath takes less time than brushing the teeth.

HOW THE FORESKIN PROTECTS

We've already seen that the foreskin protects the baby boy's tender penis against ammonia burns from urine. It protects against other problems later in life, too.

Some people say that the foreskin is outdated, no longer needed now that man no longer goes naked. They feel that there's no longer need for protection from sharp thorns and other dangers of the forest. Anyone who says this has surely forgotten what it's like to catch his penis in the zipper.

Those who smoke while on the toilet sometimes throw the butt into the water between their legs. A slight error in aim, and the man with a foreskin-covered penis will be glad it's still there to protect his tender glans.

Nudism is becoming more popular, and the need for protection while naked is becoming more evident. With nudism comes the threat of sunburn. The body's skin contains pigmentation to protect partially against the sun's ultra-violet rays, but the mucus membrane of the glans does not. It's more vulnerable to sunburn than the rest of the penis. Most people today are aware of the drying out of the skin that ultra-violet rays produce. The drying will desensitize the glans eventually.

A few find sunburn erotic. One man said that he liked the tingling sensation that accompanied a mild sunburn on his exposed glans. The intact male can choose, as he can expose his glans to sunlight, or keep it covered for protection.

SENSITIVITY

Some people believe that sensitivity of the penis is mainly psychological. Perhaps sexual arousal is, but sensitivity of the penis is mainly physical.

Retracting the foreskin of a normal, uncut male reveals a glans that is moist and pink, compared with the rough, dry surface of the glans from which the protective covering's been removed.

The male with a glans normally covered by a foreskin finds that, if his foreskin becomes inadvertently retracted, friction against clothing or bedsheets produces a feeling of tenderness, unconnected with sex. This shows that the surface of the protected glans does not dry out and harden as when the foreskin is removed.

The ignorance concerning sexual anatomy is surprising. Some still think that having the foreskin removed enhances sexual sensations because the sensitive rim is now unobstructed by a covering of skin. Actually, during erection the foreskin retracts by itself or with a little help, exposing the entire glans to sexual sensations.

The inner lining of the foreskin has many sexual receptors, nerve endings that contribute to sexual pleasure. So does the frenum, the "G-string" under the glans, that connects the foreskin to the groove on the underside of the head. Some circumcisions are so radical that this is removed along with the foreskin.

Some find the circumcised penis more attractive than the hooded one, because they like to see the glans fully exposed. They sometimes describe the circumcised penis as "streamlined," with the glans unshrouded by a sleeve of skin. There's no arguing with taste, and those who prefer the exposed glans are certainly entitled to their choice. However, this is often because they themselves were circumcised at birth, and have grown up believing that the remodeled penis is "normal."

The intact male who is faced with this situation can handle it by retracting his foreskin and tucking the forward edge under, which will form a collar to keep the rest of it back.

Others believe that when the foreskin is removed at birth, the glans, freed from the tight, confining foreskin, will mushroom out to its full growth. This is false, as a quick look around any locker room will show many penises, most with the foreskin having been removed at birth, with small tips. Actually, the size and shape of the glans is determined by heredity, as is the size and shape of the rest of the genitals.

It is true that the unshrouded glans sometimes seems to have a fatter rim, but that's only because the groove behind it is not filled by the retracted foreskin, giving the illusion of a sharper drop-off to the shaft.

Those who prefer the foreskin-equipped penis point out the aura of mystery that goes with it, with the male's secret parts shrouded until sexual play reveals them. They find it exciting to watch the penis grow to erection, with the body and head filling out and the foreskin gradually sliding back to reveal the shiny pink glans.

THE PLEASURES OF THE FORESKIN

What of the positive aspects of having a foreskin? Americans have been taught to believe that it's dirty, ugly, and an obstacle to normal sexuality. Many Americans have never seen one.

The rare boy who reaches adolescence with his foreskin finds that it makes masturbation very pleasant. He can move his foreskin back and forth over his erect penis, covering and uncovering the glans in a way that the cut boy cannot. His glans remains more sensitive, enabling him to have sharper sensations during sex. By contrast, the circumcised boy must stimulate himself by various improvisations, such as pulling the remaining shaft-skin up over the rim, or using artificial lubrication.

The male with an intact penis can have the best of both worlds during masturbation. He can use his foreskin in a number of ways, varying his strokes. Apart from the usual back-and-forth motion, he can apply a twist as he pulls it forward or back, stimulating the deep-seated nerve endings. If he likes direct friction on his glans, he can keep the foreskin back and place his palm and fingers directly on the head, using his natural lubricant to prevent irritation.

Boys with foreskins experiment with different methods of masturbation. If the foreskin is loose and long enough to cover the glans during erection, they may pinch the end shut during climax, trapping the ejaculation inside, where its warmth in contact with the glans will enhance the sensations. Others find the feel of cool air on the normally covered glans erotic, and will masturbate with the head uncovered.

The one who uses a vibrator has several choices. He can direct the stimulator to all parts of his penis, with the foreskin forward or back. If he uses the tube-type appliance he can apply it to his skin-covered penis, or can insert his penis with the foreskin retracted for stronger sensations.

If he has a "cum-cap," a small and inexpensive appliance that comes with some vibrator kits, he has more choices. He can place it directly on his bared glans, or over his foreskin. A third way is to retract the foreskin, place the cap on the glans, and slip the foreskin over it, getting stimulation inside and outside.

SEX FOR TWO

Anyone with an intact male for a partner will find it easier to stimulate him because of his foreskin. The instinctive movement of sliding it back and forth arouses the uncircumcised penis quickly. Without a foreskin, the choices are more limited. It's possible to arouse the cut penis by pulling, squeezing, or by light touches. Some will gently pinch the rim of the glans, working their way around to the G-string on the underside, which many consider the most sensitive part of the penis. If, as we've seen, the circumcision was radical, the G-string may no longer be there. All of these methods will work equally well with the intact penis.

An intact penis offers more variety in technique of fellatio. As a start, nibbling on the end of the foreskin usually produces an erection. If the foreskin retracts, continue by applying the lips, tongue, and teeth (gently) to the exposed glans. If the foreskin is so long that it still covers the head, running the tongue under it and over the glans, probing the inside of the foreskin, will build up excitement.

Keeping the foreskin pinched shut with the lips or teeth (gently, please!) contains the ejaculation for those who don't want it in their mouths. Some like to feel the throbbing of the glans during the partner's climax. Others like to feel the hot jet on their tongues. Pushing the foreskin back with the lips or fingers will uncover the head.

Penetration brings another advantage of the foreskin. Starting with the head fully covered, the gliding action of the foreskin as it progressively retracts offers new and more pleasurable sensation to both partners. During the thrusts, it may alternately cover and uncover the head, enlarging the diameter with the added bulk.

Those who are uncircumcised usually have more pre-cum lubrication than circumcised males. This lubrication is all-important for sex, and often eliminates the need to break off sex temporarily to apply artificial lubrication.

Some men feel that excessive sensitivity degrades sex, in that they have "premature" ejaculation. Labeling such a quick reaction with a medical-sounding term makes it seem like a disorder, which it is not.

Men vary in the speed of their sexual reactions, as they do in their need for sex. Today, we're less likely to label as "abnormal" someone who feels the need for a climax only once a week, or another who must have four a day. Likewise, the time it takes to come to orgasm varies widely between men, without being abnormal.

Some people, feeling that it's a medical problem, have turned to doctors for relief. Not surprisingly, doctors have used various forms of treatment to slow down the patient's reaction, usually by desensitizing the penis. Some have tried anesthetic ointments, others have used circumcision, if the patient still had his foreskin. Not surprisingly, circumcision hasn't seemed to work, as there are still many complaints of rapid ejaculation in our predominantly circumcised male population. More complicated methods not depending on drugs or surgery are now popular, such as the "squeeze technique."

With all this, the simplest, safest, and most effective technique of slowing down the onset of orgasm has been overlooked. Whatever a man's sex drive or speed of reaction may be, he's always slower the second time around. The male concerned that he'll come too quickly during a sex encounter can easily masturbate beforehand. An alternative, if his partner is sympathetic, is for the partner to bring him to climax as a part of foreplay. Once he's relieved the small internal tears in the tissues, which scar when they heal, often causing increased tightness.

Human skin stretches. This is the basis for loosening the foreskin. Gentle, persistent stretching will do it, over time and without injury.

If the tightness is mild, frequent retraction, during urination, or washing, will stretch the foreskin. Frequent sexual activity will also prevent or relieve tightness.

An oft-used, but rarely discussed, technique is to pinch the end of the foreskin shut when urinating. The pressure of wood. The rubber band will keep the spacer in place.

It's important to emphasize that gentle tension, over a period of time, will do more than a sudden, sharp pull. A way to do this is to keep a spacer inside the orifice almost 24 hours a day. The spacer should be a short piece of plastic tubing, carefully sanded to remove sharp edges, and held in place with tape.

A hot soak will cause the foreskin to relax, permitting insertion of the spacer. It will contract when chilled. The most stretch occurs when it contracts against the spacer.

initial tension, the male will have more control over his timing.

CARE OF THE TIGHT FORESKIN

Although most foreskins loosen naturally, some remain embarrassingly tight. This can be a turn-off during sex with another. It also impedes cleanliness.

Some with this problem consult doctors who advise circumcision. This is a radical solution to a simple problem, and is really only a last resort. There are several ways to loosen the foreskin without causing injury or pain. Applying force, as when a doctor uses a "dilator," causes of the urine causes the foreskin to balloon out, prying apart adhesions and stretching the skin. Many men do this in the shower, as the urine comes out with a gush when releasing the foreskin.

In more severe instances, taking a hot bath will relax the foreskin, allowing the insertion of two well-lubricated popsicle sticks under it, on both sides, holding them together with a rubber band. This spreads the orifice. To get further stretch, a spacer between the sticks will put more tension on the foreskin.

Almost anything will serve as a spacer: a piece of plastic, a cork, or a small piece

The principle of gentle, progressive stretching involves using spacers of larger sizes as the stretching moves along. The larger ones should only be used when they don't cause pain. This is the critical point, as pain signals tissue damage, which will cause more tightness.

GET THE MOST OUT OF YOUR FORESKIN

Men who are still whole should be glad they are, and know how to take care of their rare foreskins, and enjoy them fully for sex. Many didn't have the chance.

SEASIDE DETOUR

by T. C. Mothersuda

Driving up the coast was always a pleasant pastime for Jim. It was almost a hypnotic effect to gaze at the crashing waves, the vastness of the ocean, and the hazy fog in the distant background. A great way of relaxing one's senses.

Five years ago Jim came to the big city with hopes of hitting it big as an aspiring actor. Seemingly, it was a natural move, what with his interests in the arts, his sparkling personality, and boyish good looks. However, vanity was never a short-coming with Jim, as he took it only for granted. Now at twenty-five, Jim had matured both mentally and physically into a fine quality of manhood. He had experienced the ups and downs in his profession, and quickly learned that rejection was merely a small detour, an inconvenience, but never to discourage him and his goals.

This particular week had been a grueling one, what with a tedious schedule of meetings and rehearsals for an upcoming play, in which he had a good measurable role. A part in which actors can only dream about.

It was shortly afternoon when Jim arrived at his apartment. "Christ," he thought, as he sat on the large sofa, "what a week." But soon his thoughts about his busy schedule changed, and the idea of taking a drive up the coast seemed more than appealing. "Why not?" Jim thought.

Before long, he was driving away from the city, away from the maddening crowd, away from the present demands, away from everything.

Miles up the coast, the sea breeze felt good as Jim leisurely drove up the endless highway. His thoughts turned to his friends, Tom, Bruce, Mark, Tim. Ah yes, Tim. The two of them met at an audition for a TV commercial and became instant friends. Thinking of Tim and the nights he spent at Jim's apartment made Jim's cock tingle with desire as he thought of the two of them in one of their many lovemaking sessions.

By now, Jim had long passed his usual turning around place, and had driven further up the coast to new and even more spectacular scenery. The traffic had become sparse, making it even more enjoyable. As he looked up the distant highway, he noticed a small narrow road leading to the beach area. A perfect place to stretch his legs, and relieve himself, now long overdue.

As he drove on the deserted beach road, he saw what looked like an old, long forgotten public bathhouse. Jim stopped his car and walked to the dilapidated building, his mind filled with curiosity. As he entered through the doorway, much to his surprise, he saw this beautiful boy of about twenty, sitting on an old wooden bench. The room was dimly lit. For an instant Jim studied the good looking blond boy dressed only in very short cut-offs, as their eyes met with that all too well knowing look. The blond smiled and said "Hi" to Jim. Jim's heart pounded as he answered back "Hi" to the suntanned youth sitting perhaps fifteen feet away. As Jim stepped up to the long urinal and began peeing, the youth immediately joined alongside of Jim, taking out his nicely shaped uncircumcised cock, and also started to piss. Finally the youth spoke, "My name is Randy, what's yours?"

Jim looked at Randy and said, "Jim. I was taking a leisure drive from the city and was glad to find this place."

"Know what you mean," said Randy, "very few people come here anymore since they opened up the new freeway. I'm home sitting for my aunt and uncle who are spending the summer in Hawaii. They have a neat beach house not far from here. Only trouble is, it gets kinda lonely once in a while. Anyway, I'm glad I decided to come here today."

"So am I," thought Jim as he began shaking the last few drops from his thick uncircumcised cock. Randy glanced down at Jim's semi-hard cock and said, "Keep that up, and you will have a big problem on your hands."

Jim smiled and said, "Nothing that can't be taken care of."

With that, Randy reached over and began gently stroking Jim's now swollen cock. "Jeez," said Randy, "that's some cock you've got there." The two now facing each other, Jim automatically reached down and began to simultaneously rub Randy's huge cock.

"I like yours, too," said Jim. At once their lips met, sending hot chills throughout Jim's entire body, and for what seemed an eternity, their tongues probed the other in a lustful manner.

Finally Randy slowly broke away saying, "Follow me." Randy led Jim into a small adjoining empty room, except for a well worn mattress lying on the floor. Once inside, Jim hurriedly undressed, as Randy had quickly stripped off his brief cut-offs. Soon Jim joined Randy on the mattress, their nude bodies entwined as one hard, smooth flesh against hard smooth. And again their lips met in a raw, wild, passionate frenzy. Their lips parted, and Jim lowered himself on Randy's hard, smooth body, licking all around and down his chest, past the naval, past the few sparse hairs, savoring all he could. His lips touched the foreskin of Randy's throbbing cock. Slowly, with parted lips, he eased the foreskin past the head. With his tongue he gently licked the smooth head, tasting a slight trace of urine. This excited Jim even more. He went on down slowly until his lips touched the base of the enormous cock.

Randy moaned with ecstasy as Jim slowly slid the mouth up and down the full length of Randy's eager, pulsating cock. Jim sensed that Randy was nearing a climax, so he gently released that beautiful weapon to let it twitch on its own. Again their lips met hot and passionately, their warm, sweaty bodies grinding against the other, both softly moaning in unison.

After what seemed to be another eternity, Randy carefully rolled Jim off him, and kissed Jim's neck, on down to his chest, kissing and licking his erect nipples, sending shock waves through Jim. On down, licking every part available. With expert care, Randy pushed Jim's legs up, and inserted his tongue slowly and deeply into Jim's rounded ass, savoring that special pleasure. The feeling was too intense, it caused Jim to cry out, "Oh, Christ, Randy, tongue-fuck me more, please, oh more baby, oh yes, yes."

The feeling was incredible to the both of them. After a long and luscious rim session, Randy lowered Jim's weakened legs, and applied his mouth over Jim's turgid uncut cock, feeling every ripple, every vein, now at its fullest. Randy maneuvered his body into a sixty-nine position, aiming his steel hard cock at Jim's receptive mouth. Once again, Jim gladly took Randy's cock into his mouth and devoured the slippery tool with pleasure.

A short time later, Jim tasted the tell-tell signs of pre-cum that Randy was nearing climax. His own cock had now reached its zenith, as he shot his thick sperm deep into Randy's welcome mouth. Simultaneously he felt and tasted hot gobs of creamy cum erupting wildly from Randy's fleshy cock. Both of them sucked greedily and swallowed the love juice so as not to miss a single drop.

For a long while they laid close, touching each other in a peaceful silence. Their lips met in a tender kiss, mixing the combination of saliva and traces of sweet sperm. In a soft voice Randy whispered, "Jim, if you've made no plans for the weekend, I'd enjoy having you stay with me here at the beach house. I'm sure we could find lots of things to do." Jim smiled and looked into Randy's clear blue eyes and said, "I'm free for the whole weekend, and I'd like that very much. And I agree, we can think of all kinds of things to do."

After they had dressed and were walking through the doorway, Jim was thinking happily to himself, "Looks like I'll be taking many leisure drives for many weekends to come."

His lips touched the foreskin of Randy's throbbing cock. Slowly, with parted lips, he eased the foreskin past the head. With his tongue he gently licked the smooth head, tasting a slight trace of urine.

DON & WALLY AT THE GLORY HOLE

by Don Dean

It was a cold night outside and we had just entered the club when we spotted this black male dressed in a white Navy uniform. He was 6 feet tall and had a moustache and he weighed about 170 pounds and his name was Tom. He had entered one of the many stalls and so we entered one that was next to his. As we peeked through one of the large glory holes into his stall, he stood facing us and undid his pants and he took out his cock. It was a beautiful uncut cock that was easily 10½ inches long and all of 6 inches around. I beckoned him to shove his cock through the glory hole and, as he did, I got on my knees and guided his cock into my mouth, and I sucked his cock for a time. I then I got his balls through the glory hole and I began sucking them as Wally took the cock.

It was then that Tom whispered for us to come join him in his stall, as he wanted more direct action, so we walked out of our stall over into his. I then asked Tom if he would fuck my ass for me as I sucked Wally's cock, and he quickly said Yes. I then dropped my pants and Tom knelt behind me and he began eating out my asshole and getting it all wet. Once my ass was all slick with his saliva, he stood up and began slowly shoving his big cock into my ass. It hurt a bit and I tried to let out a sound, but as I now had Wally's cock in my mouth, I could not make much noise. Tom just kept shoving his hot, big, black cock into my asshole, till I finally felt his large balls against my ass cheeks. Once he had all his cock into my ass, he just let it rest in me there till he was sure I was ready for his hot, fucking cock to give me what I wanted. Tom began taking his cock out of me, till only the head was in my ass, and then he would shove it all back into my ass, and as he went along, he began taking longer, faster jabs of his cock into my ass. As his cock was so big, I could really feel this and I felt as though his cock was going to come right through my own cock.

All too soon, I felt his cock begin to throb in my ass, and I felt it expand still more in my ass, so that I could tell he was ready to shoot his hot cum load into me, so I quickly pulled off his cock and took Wally's cock out of my mouth, and I dropped on my knees before Tom and guided his hot cock into my mouth. I began sucking it hard as I took all of his cock into my throat. My move was just in time as his cock began to shoot hot globs of cum into my throat. His cum was very thick and had a very strong taste to it. I gulped and swallowed as fast as I could to get every bit of his cum into me.

Wally was next to me, kneeling on the floor, so I pulled off of Tom's cock and guided his cock into Wally's mouth, and Tom took hold of Wally's head and began to fuck his face with long, deep thrusts of his cock into Wally's mouth and throat as he continued to shoot his hot thick jets of cum into him. The cum was still too much and Wally could not swallow it fast enough and so there was cum running down Wally's chin, and so I began licking his chin to get some more of this black stud's cum. I then got on the floor to take Wally's hot cock into my mouth, just in time to feel him expand and his cock begin unloading his cum into my mouth. I kept sucking Wally's tool as he sucked Tom's cock for the last spurts of his thick cum. All too soon, both cocks were drained of cum, and I got off of Wally's cock as he took Tom's cock out of his mouth.

Wally had his cock up Tom's hot ass, and he was fucking Tom with long hard driving thrusts.

Tom then just rested his back against the wall and he then announced to us he had to go to the restroom to take a piss. I then told him not to bother and I begged him to let me suck his cock as he pissed down my throat. He told me he had never had a guy drink his piss before, but that he was glad to at least try it, so I took his cock into my mouth and held it in my throat. In a couple minutes, he began to piss, as I had my tongue in his big piss slit. His piss was salty but also had a very sweet taste to it. I now kept my mouth open and held his cock with my hand, so that he could watch his piss flow onto my tongue and back down to my throat. I was rapidly swallowing all his piss. As I was drinking Tom's hot piss flow, Wally had drawn down Tom's pants and he was busy eating out Tom's hot asshole. As Tom bent over me, with his cock pissing into my mouth, he reached down and took my cock into his hand and he began jacking me off. At this time, I thought that I was going to drown in his hot piss. He just kept pissing and pissing, until I felt his piss flow stop and then just a couple of hard squirts of piss, and I knew he was done. I now began sucking up and down his cock shaft and soon his cock was again fully erected. Tom was groaning and he held my head between his hands as he began to fuck my face with his big black cock. He was taking long streaks of his cock deep into my mouth on down into my throat. Each time his cock went into my throat, Tom held his cock in my throat for about two minutes before he would slowly withdraw his cock till only the head was in my mouth, then he would thrust all of his cock back into my throat. He slowly picked up speed and then he really went wild as he began really fast fucking my face. His breathing became fast and heavy as I felt the throb of his cock, shooting his hot cum deep into my throat.

As Tom shot his cum into my throat, I now noticed that Wally had his cock up Tom's hot ass, and he was fucking Tom with long hard driving thrusts of his cock up Tom's ass. As Tom was shooting his load of cum into my mouth, Wally was cumming up Tom's ass. This, with Tom's hand jacking my cock, made me begin shooting my cum into Tom's hand. All too soon all three cocks were drained and I looked up to see Tom licking my cum off of his hand.

Now Tom and Wally both told me that they had to piss, so I just had them both stand in front of me as I kneeled on the floor, and I took one cock in each hand and aimed them toward my mouth and they both began pissing into my open mouth. I swallowed fast and just kept swallowing till both had emptied their full bladders of piss into my mouth. Once the piss stopped flowing, I just leaned back against the wall slowly jacking off a cock in each hand, but they were both spent for the moment and neither one would get hard, so we decided to have a cigaret and rest for a few moments and look through the glory holes to see what was happening in the adjoining stalls.

I now noticed that there was a tall white male, with his cock out, slowly jacking off his cock in the next stall, who had been watching us. He was dressed all in leather with only a vest and cowboy chaps and cowboy hat and boots on, and his cock was a beautiful long 12 inches cut with about 5½ inches around. I beckoned him to shove his cock through the glory hole and I got on my knees to take his cock into my mouth. He began really fucking my hot mouth through the hole, and very soon my mouth was full of his hot cum as I heard him groan and felt his body tremble as he shot his load of cum into my mouth. I then took his cock into my throat and he shot his cum direct into my stomach. As I felt this leather stud unloading his cum into my mouth, I felt Tom grab my hips as he once again began inserting his big black cock up my ass. I just shoved back and felt his cock slide up my asshole till I could feel his heavy balls hit my ass cheeks. He quickly began fucking me fast and hard and he started riding my ass—really fucking my ass. The feeling in my ass was true heaven and I began tightening my ass muscles around his hard driving cock. It had such a wonderful feeling of both pain and hot pleasure, that now my cock was hard as I felt Wally's mouth close over my cock, as he began sucking me off. The leather guy had shot his cum but I kept sucking his cock, even though it had gone soft in my mouth. All at once, I felt him begin pissing into my mouth, so I just started swallowing his salty piss load, while Tom continued fucking my hot ass for me.

All too soon Tom shot his load of cum up into my ass as I felt his hot cock expand and his throbbing cock held still deep in my ass. Then almost instantly as he shot his last spurts of cum into my ass, he told me to hold still on his cock and he began to fill my ass with his hot piss load. I was now being pissed into on both ends. Piss was flowing down my throat and also up my ass, from two hot cocks. I almost felt like blacking out with the ecstasy of these two big cocks in me. My head was spinning as I was being flooded with hot male piss.

All too soon the piss flows stopped and I stood erect back against the wall and I took out a cigaret to have a smoke and rest. I passed the pack to Wally and Tom and they lit up also. We stood chatting and the leather guy came over to our stall to join us. He introduced himself as Jim, and he sure had a body on him with heavy chest hair and a mustache and he had a slave leather collar on. I asked him if he had a master and he said no, but he would love to be our slave, a slave to all three of us. Tom then remarked that he would rather be a slave than a master, so it was determined that Wally and I would be masters in our next get-together at our apartment in about three days, and with this, Tom left to go to work and Jim had to go home, so that now, once again, Wally and I were left sitting in our stall alone.

I had to take a piss myself and also felt that my ass was overloaded with piss and cum so we both went out to the restroom and I got on a stool and began to empty my ass of all that piss, and as Wally had to piss, I had him stand in front of me as I took his piss load into my mouth. What a feeling, pissing out of my ass and my cock as he pissed into my open mouth. A cute tall blond stud stood against the wall and just watched us. I had Wally stand in a way that the blond could see his piss flowing into my mouth, and I beckoned to him to join us. He then walked over to us, and we pulled down the zipper on his blue jeans, and I took out his cock. As soon as it was out, I had him put his cock into my mouth and Wally was pissing on his big 9 inch uncut cock, in my mouth. Then, all at once, the blond began to piss also. I could tell the blond liked the flicking of my tongue on his pissing cock and he kept shuddering each time I touched his cock with my tongue. His piss was very sweet and was a very dark yellow in color. His chest was covered with heavy blond hair and he had a heavy mustache. His piss slit was big and so I kept fucking that with my tongue as he pissed. By now Wally was finished pissing and only the blond's cock was in my mouth pissing, and Wally was behind him eating out the blond's asshole.

Now the blond stud began to moan and he kept saying that he wanted a hot cock in his ass, so Wally stood up and slowly eased his cock up into the blond's asshole. He then took a full lunge into the stud's ass, as he shoved his ass back onto Wally's hot stiff cock. As Wally fucked hard into the blond's ass, the blond finished his pissing and he took hold of my head with his hands and he began fucking my hot mouth with long thrusts of his hot piss tasting cock. Now his cock was very stiff and fully erected, and I could feel his cock enter my throat each time he thrust it into my face. All too quickly, the blond started shooting a big load of cum into my mouth and throat, and as he did, it triggered a response in Wally and Wally began shooting his load of cum up the blond's asshole. As Wally finished his shooting cum, the blond asked him to now try to piss up his ass, and so Wally soon let go a big hot stream of piss into the blond's asshole. I now too felt like pissing so I got the blond's head down onto my cock, and I began pissing into his open mouth. The blond stud began swallowing fast and hard as my piss flowed into his mouth and throat. I took my cock out of his mouth and then started pissing all over the blond's upturned face giving him a hot golden shower. As I sprayed his face, the blond began begging me to let him suck my cock and feed him my hot piss load. So I put my hot cock back into his open mouth as I continued pissing. Wally had now finished pissing up the blond's ass, and he had now knelt on the floor and was actively sucking the blond's hot big cock.

As I finished pissing into the blond's mouth, I got behind him and now started eating out his asshole, sucking out Wally's piss from his ass. The blond stud was moaning and kept fucking his hard cock into Wally's mouth as I was sucking out his hot asshole. I was tasting the mixture of piss and cum that Wally had shot up his asshole and really was turned on. I could see the blond's cock going into Wally's mouth and I could tell that the blond was filling Wally's mouth with hot cum, as he was just holding Wally's head still on his cock. I could see some cum coming out of the corners of Wally's mouth and dripping onto the floor. From the back, I went deep between the blond's legs and began sucking his hot balls, one at a time as he held his cock in Wally's mouth and throat. Once the blond had finished shooting his cum into Wally, we all three got up and each lit a cigaret and leaned against the wall, slowly stroking each other's soft but satisfied cocks. The blond told us his name was Terry, and he gave us his phone number as he left the restroom stall.

Wally and I also decided to get out of the restroom and so we went to the hallway to cruise for some more sex action. As we walked down the hall, we spotted a hot stud in construction worker's clothes with a white fiberglass helmet on. He was about 5'9" tall and weighed about 165 pounds, with blue jeans and piercing black eyes and jet black hair, and he had a mustache and he also was wearing a slave collar. There was the outline of a big cock in his crotch. He smiled at us as we walked by and he just kept his eyes on us, so we went into one of the stalls, and left the door open.

In about two minutes this guy came to our stall door and poked his head in to look at us. Wally and I had taken out our cocks and we were slowly jacking each other off. I said, "Hi, slave. What is your name?"

He replied, "I am Jack," and he asked what our names were, and we introduced ourselves as Masters Don and Wally. I told Jack to come in, on his knees and start sucking our cocks. With that, Jack was on his knees in a flash and he guided our cocks into his open hot mouth and he began sucking both cocks at the same time. I then told Jack to take his time and if he was a good cock sucker and made us both cum, we might let him use our mouths to fuck his cock into. I also told him that I would order him to piss into my mouth and I would drink all the piss he could give me, if he would first drink all of mine and Wally's hot piss loads. Jack nodded his head yes as he kept sucking our two hot cocks. He was slowly taking the two cocks into his mouth and then he would back off till only the cock tips were in his mouth and then he would take them both down to the balls all the way into his mouth.

This jack was an expert cock sucker and as my cock slid into his throat, I could feel his throat muscles massaging my cock, as he tried to swallow my cock all the way. This action soon had me going out of my head, so that I took his head between my hands and I began really long-dicking his face. Then all too fast I felt my balls explode as I shot my cum load down his throat, and this feeling of my cock cumming made Wally explode also, so that Jack was taking two hot cock cum loads at once into his mouth and throat. Jack kept sucking our cocks until we had both gone limp in his mouth and I reached down and pulled him up into a standing position. As I did this, I noticed a very wet spot over his cock, through his jeans. I quickly unzipped his jeans and Wally took out his hot throbbing cock. It was a beautiful cut cock, all of 10 inches long and it was all slick and wet with his pre-cum on it. I just dropped onto my knees and took his pants all the way down, as I guided his hot cock into my mouth and I took it all, in one motion, all the way to Jack's balls. His cock was at least 8" around and so my jaws were hurting as I took all of his cock into me. His cum was very sweet.

Jack took up a steady thrusting of his cock into my mouth and as he did this, I reached behind him and spread his ass cheeks and Wally quickly thrust his tongue up the slave's hot asshole, lubricating it with spit, so that he could fuck Jack's ass. As Jack fucked my face, Wally soon was fucking Jack's hot ass. I kept Jack's monster cock in my hot mouth and as I got his cock deep in my throat, I began massaging his cock shaft with my throat muscles as he had done to my cock when I fucked his mouth. This drove Jack over the breaking point and he started shooting his cum right into my stomach. Jack just held his cock deep in my throat as he continued to shoot his cum load into me. Then I felt Wally shooting his hot cock load of sperm into Jack's hot asshole. Finally Jack stopped shooting his cum and he drew out most of his cock from my mouth, leaving only the tip in my mouth for me to last with my tongue, as Wally finished his cumming in Jack's ass. Then Jack said for Wally to piss up his ass, and so Wally held his cock deep in Jack's ass as he began filling him with a very hot piss load. I got off of Jack's cock and looked up at him and told him to try and piss into my mouth as I was thirsty. I got back on Jack's cock, and he began to piss into my mouth. His piss was very hot with a salty acid taste to it, but I really dug it, and I swallowed fast trying not to miss any of Jack's hot piss.

Jack took my head between his hands and again he thrust his cock deep into my throat so that he could piss directly into my stomach. This did cut off my air supply, but I just did not care as I was very happy with his big cock all the way down my throat pissing. Jack must have pissed all of two quarts into me by the time he took his cock out of my throat, and he just continued to let out small spurts of piss onto my tongue. Wally had finished his piss up Jack's ass and was just watching me take the last of Jack's piss drops on my tongue.

Now I had to piss, so I ordered Jack to get on my cock, and I immediately began pissing down Jack's throat, and he swallowed fast as Wally got Jack's cock into his mouth. Wally was busy sucking that big cock of Jack's as Jack was sucking mine and taking my hot piss down into his stomach. As soon as I had finished my pissing into Jack's mouth, I pulled my cock out of his mouth and I got behind Jack and spread his ass cheeks. I got my tongue up his ass and was sucking out Wally's piss and cum from Jack's asshole. I told Jack to slowly begin expelling Wally's cum and piss from his ass, as I was sucking it. Jack had good ass control and he slowly fed me Wally's hot piss and cum mixture from his ass. This had me very turned on and as Wally sucked Jack's cock, Jack took my cock into his hand and he began jacking my cock off. I quickly unloaded a hot cum load into his hand as I continued to eat out his hot funky smelling asshole. This sat off a chain reaction in Jack and he started shooting another hot load of cum into Wally's mouth as he was sucking his cock. Jack just trembled all over as he shot his heavy load of cum into Wally's sucking mouth. Once Jack had finished his cumming into Wally's mouth, he let loose with a sigh and he really flooded my mouth and face with a big load of Wally's piss and cum from his ass.

I tried in vain to swallow all that funky piss and cum. There was just too much and my face was drenched with all that liquid from Jack's asshole. I did manage to catch most of it and was able to swallow most of it. Jack took his ass away from my mouth and he began lapping up the excess piss and cum from my face. As Jack did this, I threw my legs over his shoulders and reached back with my hand and guided his cock into my hot aching asshole, as I ordered him to fuck my ass till I ordered him to quit. He took one lunge and buried his cock in my ass up to his balls. What a full ass feeling he gave my ass, as he held his cock deep up my ass. I was on my knees taking Jack's cock up my ass, now dog fashion and I was facing a big glory hole into the next small stall.

As I looked through the hole I could see a tall black man about 20 years old who was watching me getting fucked, and had his black cock out of his fly, stroking it. I spoke low and told him to come feed me his cum and piss. His cock was uncut and was easily 10" long and about 5" around. He stepped up to the glory hole and shoved his cock through, and I took it in my hand, guiding it into my mouth.

As soon as my tongue made contact with that black cock, he started to piss. His hot piss was very tangy and I swallowed fast and hard, trying not to miss a single drop of this black stud's piss. All the time he pissed into my mouth, my ass was being thoroughly fucked by Jack's big cock. He was just driving his hot cock up my ass in savage thrusts, and driving deep into my ass. I now noticed that Wally had mounted Jack's ass and was busily fucking Jack's ass as Jack was fucking mine. Jack let out a howl and shoved his cock deep into my ass, as he shot his cum into my ass. I could feel each spurt of Jack's cock as he unloaded his cum into me. I thought that I would pass out as I felt my ass being filled with his cum. As soon as Jack finished shooting his cum, I felt him start pissing up my ass, so that now, I was again receiving hot piss in both ends at the same time. This caused Wally to shoot his cum into Jack's ass and I also started to cum into Jack's hand as he was jacking me off. The two cocks I had in me soon finished pissing into me and then I felt Jack's cock pull out of my ass, as I continued sucking the black cock in my hot mouth, and soon I tasted his thick cum in my mouth as he came.

His cum was thick and chunky like cottage cheese but very sweet and his piss slit kept opening wide as he shot his cum into my hot mouth. I could hear him moaning and feel his cock twitch each time he shot another hot spurt of his thick cum into my mouth. I began to tongue fuck his piss slit and I thought he would never stop shooting me his hot cum but I was able to swallow every drop, as Wally and Jack watched me work on this black stud's cock. He finally had shot his last jet or spurt of cum into my mouth and I licked his cock and milked it with my hand to be sure that I had taken all his cum and that his rod was empty of all that sweet thick cum.

Jack now was getting himself back in order and he told us he had to leave to go to work. As Jack left, he gave us his phone number as we gave him ours, and then he walked out of the stall, and as he did, I turned back to the glory hole and asked the black stud to come over and join us in our stall, if he wanted some more sex action with us. He quickly joined us and told us his name was Ken, and we gave him our names as we offered him a cigaret.

Ken still had his cock out of his fly, and Wally was slowly stroking it, as Ken stood up against the wall smoking his cigaret. My mouth was raw inside from all the cock sucking I had done, but I could still taste Ken's cum in my mouth. My ass was full of hot cum and piss from Jack, but I knew I had to have Ken fuck it, and I told him so. Ken was quick to reply that he would love to fuck my ass, if he could suck Wally's cock while he was fucking me. Wally told Ken he would have to piss first, and so Ken quickly got on his knees as he told Wally to just go ahead and piss, as he was thirsty. So Wally let go his piss flow into Ken's open mouth, and as he did this, I got on the floor and took Ken's hot cock into my mouth and began sucking his cock to get it erected and hard so that Ken could fuck my hot, raw asshole for me.

As Wally continued to piss into Ken's mouth, I just kept busy sucking his cock, and it quickly got very hard. I now got on my stomach under Ken and took hold of his hot cock and guided it up my asshole. As my ass was so full of piss and cum, Ken shoved his cock into me up to his balls in one fast thrust of his hips. It was a real pleasureable feeling mixed with some pain as he drove his cock into me. Then he started to really fuck my ass as he drove his cock into me and then pulled out till only the cock head was yet inside my ass. Ken was a stud that really knew how to fuck a tight ass and he was really long-dicking my ass as he fucked me. My ass was raw inside, but I was thrashing around on the floor as he fucked my ass long and hard, till after Wally had finished pissing into Ken's mouth and he was now face-fucking Ken. They both came at the same time, Ken up my ass, and Wally down Ken's throat. As Ken came in my ass, he just kept fucking my ass hard and as he shot his load of cum, I could feel some hot piss running out of my ass, as I was filled to overflowing and he kept sucking Wally's hot cock. Then as I felt the last throb of Ken's cock, he took his cock out of my hot asshole. I then got back into position to start sucking his cock again, and Ken took Wally's hot cock out of his mouth and he told me he had to piss, so we did a quick move to get into a 69 position and Wally got on top of Ken and as we were sucking each other's cocks, Wally drove his cock up Ken's ass. This made Ken start pissing deep into my throat and so I began swallowing Ken's piss. I let myself relax and I started pissing into Ken's mouth as he sucked my cock.

I was really turned on now, as I tasted Ken's piss in my mouth and I could look up and see Wally's cock going in and out of Ken's hot asshole as Wally fucked him. I just loved the tangy sweet taste of Ken's hot piss and Ken was gulping down my piss flow. Once we had finished pissing into each other's mouths, I started really fucking Ken's hot mouth and throat. Ken was expertly taking my cock into his throat and he was massaging my cock with his throat muscles as he took my cock to the balls, and he applied lots of hard sucking power to it. As I was so hot, it only took about ten deep throat thrusts of my cock before I began to fill his throat with my hot cum load. After I had shot my load of cum up into Ken's mouth, Wally started to cum in Ken's hot asshole and this made Ken start shooting his hot thick cum into my throat. I just kept sucking his cock as he shot his load, and again I loved how hot, salty and thick each of his spurts of cum were. Ken's was the thickest cum I had ever had, and I was really turned on by his hot big black cock with the big hot piss slit and the bright red color of his cock head. His cock had a large vein or tube that I could feel each spurt of cum travel down as he shot it into my mouth. So I just kept on sucking, till I was sure that there just was not any more cum for him to give me.

We then separated, and I passed a cigaret to Ken and one to Wally and lit one for myself, as we leaned back against the wall. Ken told us he was bi and had a girlfriend that liked sex with three guys all at the same time. I asked him if she would piss into my mouth and if she was into drinking piss, or would let us piss up her cunt. He told us she would dig it, and he showed us some photos he had in his wallet of her, including a hot close up of her cunt with a big white cock in it, then one that showed her cunt pissing. We then decided to meet in a week for some hot pussy fucking and eating, and we exchanged phone numbers. As Ken had to leave for home and I had to go unload my ass, we parted, going each each to his own thing, and me on a fast trot to the restroom with Wally following close on my heels.

I am 21 or older.

As we entered the restroom we found two nude men standing over a stool, kissing each other as they pissed on each other's hot cocks. We went to the next stall which was empty and I sat down on the stool to empty my ass of all the piss and cum that was in it from both Jack and Tom. Wally knelt on the floor before me and he began to piss between my legs onto my cock and into the stool.

As I looked around Wally, I spotted a hot stud watching us. He was about 6'2" tall and was about 180 pounds in weight, with blond hair and blue eyes and about 20 years old. He just kept watching Wally piss between my legs as he began to massage his cock through his pants. I could see a rather large bulge form down the left thigh of his pants leg, and there was a distinct wet spot at the end of his cock, so that I knew he was hot and ready for action as I motioned him to join us in the restroom stall. As this stud stepped up behind Wally, I asked him his name as I unzipped his pants. He said his name was David, and I told him I was Don and the one pissing was my lover, Wally. He said hi, and then added, "You better be ready for a shock when you get my tool out." I had no idea what he meant. David was a white man, and all I could think of was that big cock in his pants. I got his pants down and then his boxer shorts, then I let out a whistle as I looked at his big fat BLACK cock. He was white all over his body but he had a black male cock and balls with heavy blond hair all around it. His cock was at least 11" long and about 5" around and uncut. He just smiled as I leaned forward and took his cock into my mouth. He then said, "See, I got my daddy's cock and the rest of me is mommy's. You see, my dad was a negro and my mom was French." I took his cock out of my mouth and laughed and said, "Well at least you got the best part of your dad."

David then asked me if I wanted to talk or suck cock, so I just guided his cock back into my hot mouth and started sucking again. Wally finished his pissing and he now began sucking on David's hot balls, one at a time. This got David really hot as he started fucking my mouth with long thrusts of his cock into my throat. He was begging us to eat his balls and suck his cock, which we did not need any urging as we were both turned on by his big black cock. I slid off his cock and began working on his big balls as Wally deep throated his cock shaft. I had never seen a white male with a big black cock before, and found David to be a real turn on. I kept wondering if his cum would be rich and thick like other negro males cum was, or what. Now David was moaning and driving his cock into Wally's hot mouth, and begging for someone to fuck his ass for him. I now got up off of the stool and got behind David to eat out his hot ass.

As David spread his ass cheeks, I could see that his asshole had a very distinct brown ring around it. I sank my face into his hot asshole and shoved my tongue up his asshole sucking hard. David's asshole opened to my tongue and then closed tightly around my tongue. David's asshole opened to my tongue and then closed tightly around my tongue. David's ass and his big black cock had done the trick and soon my own cock was rock hard as I sucked and ate his asshole. The taste of his ass was intoxicating to me, as I could taste shit, piss and hot male cum on my tongue.

David was moaning and begging for me to fuck his ass, so I stood up and guided my cock into his hot clutching ass. I just put the tip or head of my hot cock into his ass, and then felt his ass draw my cock up his hot ass till I was in balls deep. I could tell that he had already been fucked by someone else, as there was some cum lubricating my cock and making penetration very easy. I began a steady thrusting of my cock up his hot ass as he was still fucking Wally's mouth. I was so hot, I was only able to fuck that hot ass for about 20 minutes and then I felt as though I was exploding through my cock as I shot up his ass. He had still not cum, as I shot the last spurt of my cum up his ass, and so David began begging me to piss up his ass, and as I did feel like pissing, I just held my cock up his ass and started pissing. David kept grunting and moaning as Wally sucked his cock and I pissed up his asshole.

After I finished pissing up David's ass, I took my cock out of his ass, and went in front to help Wally suck his big black cock. Wally began sucking his big black balls, and I started working up and down on his cock shaft. I had been sucking his cock for about 15 minutes, when David began to tremble and I felt his cock sperm tube expand as his cum raced for the piss slit. I was right, his cum was typical negro, very high and thick like cottage cheese, as he shot it onto the tip of my tongue. It was tangy and sweet, and I was sure he had not cum any before that night, as he must have shot at least 6 ounces of cum into my mouth and throat.

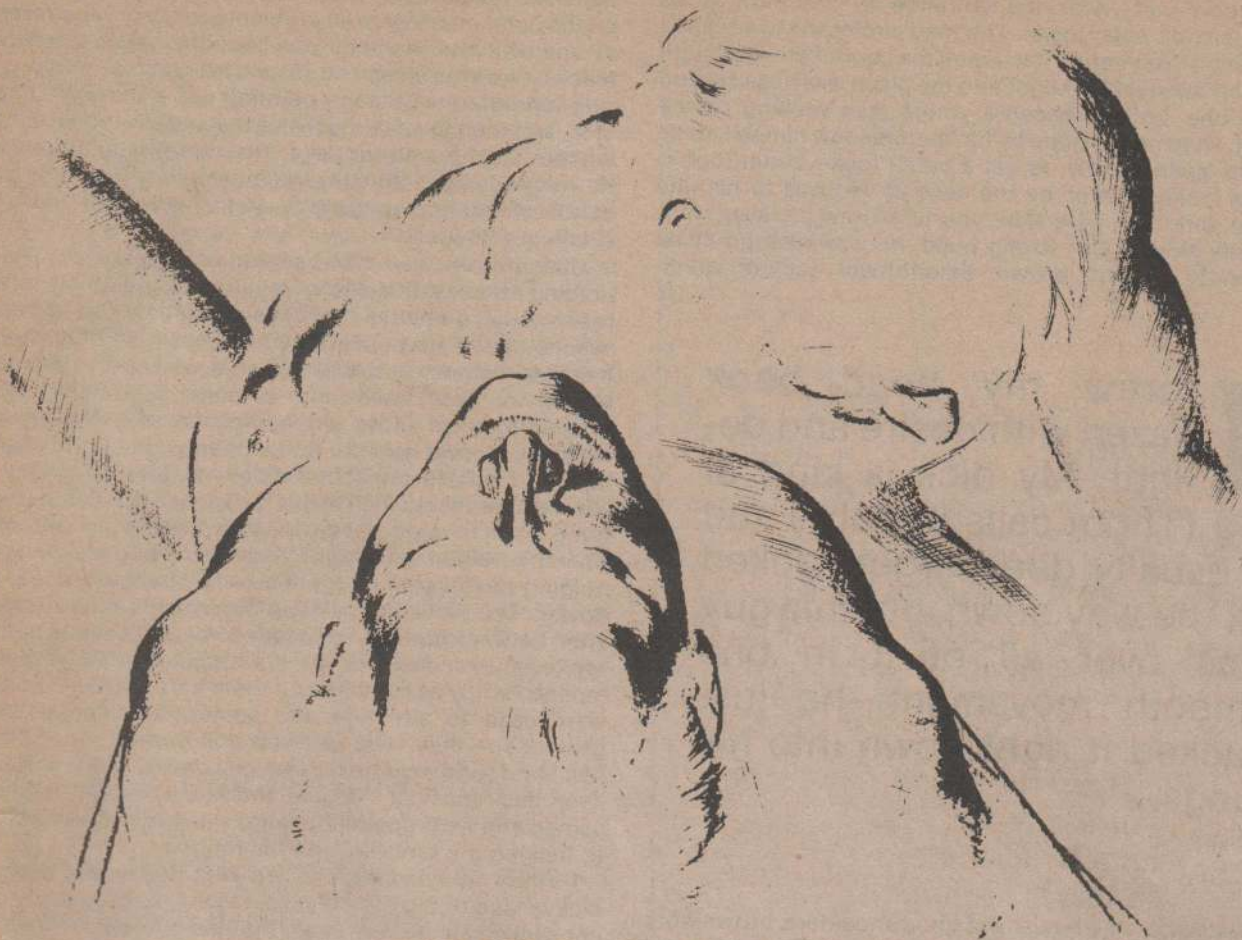

I held every ounce of David's cum in my mouth till I knew he had shot all he had into me, and I then kissed Wally on his mouth savoring the taste, and then he swallowed it down. All I knew was I wanted that hot big black cock up my ass, and I told David so. I was happy to see that his big black cock was still steel hard and ready for action, so I got in a dog position and he quickly got behind me and drove his cock up my ass and without any pause he started fucking me hard, driving his cock in and out of my ass, as I got Wally to feed me his cock into my mouth. In no time at all, I felt them both shooting hot cum loads into my mouth and ass at the same time.

As they pulled out of me, I told David we would like to be his steady friends. David just smiled and said, "I guess you two dig my big black cock, eh?" And I said, "We sure do." He then asked us if we could dig fucking a hot black cunt, as he had a cute female that he was dating that liked having three cocks in her fucking her all at the same time. David told us that her name was Susan and he then showed us some photos he had of her. I just had to ask him if Susan was into anything kinky, like I was, and then I asked him if she would drink piss or let me drink her hot piss, and he just laughed and told me, "Hell, yes, Susan drinks my hot piss load at least twice a day, and I usually drink some of her hot piss once a day too." I then asked David if he could contact Susan and come over to our apartment in about two days. He said he could and so we gave him our phone number and address and he wrote down his phone number and gave it to us. As we were talking, I had kept my hand around his cock, slowly jacking it off. It was now hard as a rod of steel, so I dropped down to my knees and began sucking David's hot tool again for him. I took his cock deep into my throat as he began to face fuck me, as he held my head between his hands and he kept telling me to suck hard on his cock, and with every thrust of his cock, he said "Suck!"

I just kept sucking till my mouth was really sore and my jaws ached from his big black cock driving into my mouth and throat. I was just wild and my own cock was now being sucked by Wally. All I knew was I had to taste David's hot cum and so I let him face fuck me hard and with long thrusts of his cock back into my throat. After David had face fucked me for about fifteen minutes, he began unloading his cum right into my stomach and then after I had taken about four hot spurts of his cum, he just eased his cock out till it was just on the tip of my tongue as he continued to cum, and he soon had completely filled my mouth with his cum. This then triggered me and I began to shoot my load of cum into Wally's hot cock-sucking mouth. I kept shooting my cum, till Wally's mouth was also full of cum as I was with David's.

As David shot the last of his cum into my mouth, I began tongue lashing his cock, and as I swallowed his cum, he let out a groan and he began pissing in my mouth as Wally got off of my cock. I swallowed fast and hard trying to get every drop of that hot piss from this big black cock. I swallowed fast but still some of his hot piss was leaking out of my mouth. I now took hold of his cock and began to spray his piss all over my face and hair and onto my chest. His piss was hot and it sure had a mild sweet flavor to it but no smell at all. I then took the last of his piss back into my mouth.

It was now time for us to leave the club, and so we got our clothes back in place ready to leave. We did make a date for tomorrow at our place as we left.

THE MAN IN THE TOWER

An erotic recollection by James Herald

The signs at the entrance to the park read "Closed 12 Midnight to 6 am" in big red letters and after I grew up I occasionally used to wonder if people wondered why. In fact I remember one time, years ago in the park with my parents when my mother said to my dad, "Why would anyone want to come here at night, Dear? Why would they have to tell people not to?" My dad said, "It's probably when they do the watering." Good old dad. The park is a truly beautiful place and many of the happiest memories of my childhood took place there—picnics, band concerts, the orchids in the conservatory, having my picture taken, as all Seattle children do, on the stone camels and Foo dogs—and mind you this was long before I knew what went on in the bushes.

At the time of this adventure I had a lover, Baby Thom, and we were happy. I was in fact happier then than I have ever been, before or since. Thom was twenty-two that spring. I was twelve years older, Baby Thom looked about twelve. He was small and perfectly formed with clear, grey eyes, translucent skin, unruly ash-brown hair, a funny, candid disposition—a regulation Little League saint. And he loved to get fucked. He'd hook his elbows behind his knees and give me his certain look, his "What are you waiting for, Big Fella?" look, I'd come fast. What made it so wonderful, especially at the beginning, was the he looked like the last person in the world to ever look that way, a kind of lascivious innocence. We fucked a lot. So what was I doing driving through the park at dawn one Spring Sunday morning when Baby Thom with that beautiful, willing butt was home asleep in our big bed? Well, the psychology of that is a little heavy for me. I probably don't even know why, and, if I try to get into it now I won't get to the good part.

The good part—near the entrance to the park is an enormous brick water tower. The road circles the tower and I was driving slowly round it to reach the central drive through the park. It was just first light and the place was deserted, no cars, no one, until I noticed a young man walking on the sidewalk. I had nearly gone by him before I saw him so I made the circle again, slowly, to get a better look—better look is right, he looked better by the second. He was in his late twenties, dark hair, pale skin, you just knew his eyes were deep blue, slender but strong build. he was wearing khaki pants and a light brown Eisenhower jacket which accentuated his small waist and good shoulders, brown work boots. He was sensational. He was watching me as I went slowly past and then held him the the rear-view mirror as long as the curve of the drive would let me. My heart was knocking like a jalopy that had thrown a rod, my mouth was dry, I could hardly drive. The water tower is on a srot of little hill, then the road around it, then the sidewalk where this guy was walking. I drove slowly around again—it was the same, as we watched each other. Lust and pain and want were roaring in my ears like the sound of the surf in the shell of the still morning park. I noticed that he kept putting his hand up to his face, his nose. I wondered if he had a cold. This time, after I'd driven around, after he'd left my mirror, I had decided to park and he'd have to walk right by my car and if he looked in (I knew he would) he'd see I had my cock out, so hard it hurt, and hardly covered by my hand but before I got a chance to do this I saw that he had walked up the path on the little hill to the tower and was standing in the entrance. He had one hand to his nose and the other was clearly holding his cock through his pants. As soon as he saw that I saw him he turned and went on inside. I immediately parked... I was a wreck.

After taking a moment to put myself back in my pants and attempt to recover I got out to follow him. When I got inside the tower I could hear him on the stairs way above me. It's quite a hike up to the top, metal stairs circle the water tank between it and the outer brick wall. One good thing about this arrangement is that when you're at the top you can usually hear someone coming. I started up, weak knees, beating heart and all, and shortly after didn't hear anything anymore. He had gotten to the flat, covered observation area at the top. When I got there, finally emerging onto the deck, at first I didn't see him. Then I turned. He was standing on the other side of the deck, say, twenty-five feet away, quietly waiting for me. He was totally naked. It was breathtaking. I nearly fainted. We stared at each other like animals in the forest. It was a moment out of time—I will never foreget it. I sat on one of the benches near, where his clothes were neatly folded, his boots on the cement under, a heavy wool sock hanging over the top of one of them. His body was beautiful beyond belief—fine black hair on his chest and around his nipples (a small golden ring through one of them) pointing out in the slight morning chill, and then the hair much heavier and vary apparent on the whiteness of his strong legs. His skin was luminous in the dawn's early light. When I remember it now I can only wonder at the staggering generosity of the universe—then, I was totally mesmerized.

Miraculously my nervousness disapperared. He was holding a small bottle of amyl to his nose, breathing in (I dimly realized that's what he had been doing down on the street). I reached down and pulled the wool sock out of his boot and held it to my nose. It smelled of what, of laundry detergent, of leather, of fresh sweat, and of some secret thing (him?), greater than all these yet composed of them. He slowly walked over and held the bottle of amyl under my nose. As I inhaled I beheld his cock before me, just before my eyes. (Remember Macbeth? "Is this a dagger I see before me?") It hung down in huge, heavy ripeness. I swear it was trembling. The rich, veined tapestry of his foreskin entirely covered the bulging head coming together to form a mysterious, exotic flower. The amyl was rushing through my bloodstream. He knelt between my legs and began to undo the metal buttons of my levis. I reached for his tits tugging on the ring and he moaned softly as I pinched on them hard, harder. His nipples were used to attention and somewhat enlarged but not grossly so—they were in exact and perfect proportion. His lips had found my foreskin which is really loose and which I keep back most of the time and keep clean. It is thick and veined and he brought it forward with his tongue deep inside it, fucking my foreskin with his tongue.

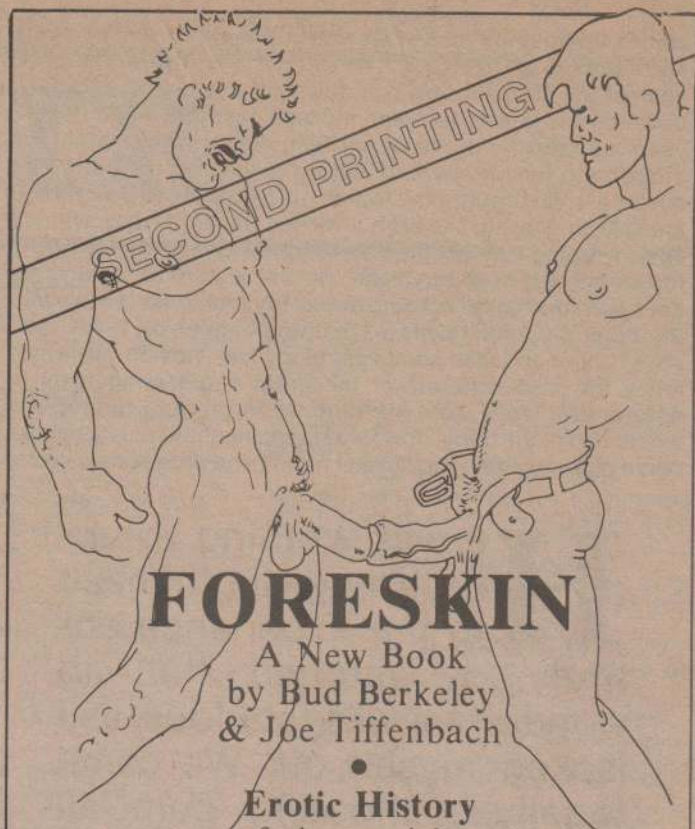

I threw my head back dazed with desire and delight. My dick is kind of big (Thom calls it Moby) and it usually doesn't get sucked all the way down but this guy was over all of it in one smooth movement—he just sucked it right into his lungs. After a couple minutes of this he gradually disgorged it and then sat back on his haunches. His fingers lightly tracing the of my lips, where I trim my moustache, brought my head forward again and I watched as he very deliberately began to pull off my boots, unbutton my shirt, pull down my jeans and jockstrap, until I was as naked as he was, in that morning light (I am remembering a Hindu phrase, "sky-clad," as they sometimes say of wandering sadus). He stood up. I took his foreskin in my teeth, chewing, darting my tongue inside it. He was fresh, immaculate. Sliding that loose, delicate, unutterably soft skin back and forth along his semi-hard shaft and gathering it into a wad in my teeth was ecstasy of the highest order. This time it was his turn to fling his head back in joy, moaning and murmuring, pulling on his tits. After a while I let his penis fall from my mouth. I put my hands on hips and turned him around to bring his ass near my face. His smooth white back was without blemish and his ass curved toward me, suddenly quite hairy just below the waist. He was completely unresisting, the finest clay in my hands. I put a hand on his back bent him forward, then pulled his hirsute cheeks apart. He spoke the ony words of our entire encounter. He said, "I just came from the baths. I'm clean and out to be pretty loose."

This was no modest, puckered little hole. Surrounded by dense, curly black hair the area of his asshole was a big as a hand, deep pink and red and purple with mysterious ridges and folds, loose and sloppy, glistening and pulsing, as dramatic as anything in open-heart surgery. He reached back to hold the amyl under my nose again, waiting for me to inhale several times before taking it away to do the same. (Part of what was so exciting about this whole experience was the slow deliberation of all his movements. There was all the time in the world. In this world of aching desire and abandon we could go on forever, forever.) His ball sac was real loose too and fell in low in soft waves, weighted down by big balls—I couldn't get both of them in my mouth at once. I sucked on them in turn filling my mouth with his factory of life. His head was way down between his legs—he was very limber. I was jacking myself off with one hand. He set the amyI on the floor and reached back between his legs for my other hand and put the fingers in his mouth, sucking on them tenaciously. He reached back with his own hands tightly pulled his ass cheeks apart. He began to grunt and push down on his gut. His asshole opened completely. I could see into the center of the world. It was a anatomy lesson in lust. I buried my face in his ass, working on the slippery, smooth sides of the inside of his asshole with my mouth, my tongue, even, carefully, with my teeth. It was asshole from ear to ear, a perfect fit, right off the rack. I had, have, never been so deep inside someone's ass before with my face. The indescribable taste of his juices, a taste like nothing in this world, nothing else comes even close, went to my head like wine of the rarest kind. He kept grunting and pushing and the deep insides of his ass pulsed against my lips and tongue, sucking back. It was all so unlikely, unheard of—his grunting was a sound of unbearable elegance. It was pure. I was lost in there, in his ass. I just let go completely and I think he did too. I was drinking liquids from the most secret part of this beautiful person. They were mingling with my tears and snot and spit. I was beyond reason.

He reached back with his own hands and tightly pulled his ass cheeks apart. He began to grunt and push down on his gut. His asshole opened completely. I could see into the center of the world. It was an anatomy lesson in lust.

He moved his ass, sliding it down my face and chest and stomach and sat on my cock. He reached down and pulled hard on my balls and then one at a time, pushed them inside his ass too alongside my prick. We were both gasping and panting. With the agility of a gymnast he lifted one of his legs over my head, keeping my dick deep inside his butt. Now he was facing me, straddling my hips as I sat on the bench. He was hunkered over my dick, slightly bouncing up and down with my dick and balls buried in his ass. I touched his feet. I could not help but notice how beautiful they were—narrow, high arched, aristocratic, vivid black hairs right in the center of the top of his instep and a few on the top of his big toes. Just like the rest of him, his feet were meticulously groomed. I looked up, into his eyes for the first time. They were as clear a blue as I had imagined, lifetimes ago down on the street below but now they were glazed over with pleasure. He kissed my eyes shut. He licked the mess that covered my nose and chin and then put his tongue deep in my mouth. He played with my tits as I reached down and began to stretch his foreskin. He kept at his inimitable moaning as I slipped my fingers into it, slipping his foreskin up over my fingers. His cock was fully hard now. He brought our faces close together and held the amyI under both our noses. My cock began to throb, the unmistakable sign of near orgasm. I hardly noticed it, the whole time was one long orgasm for me, I'd been coming since I first put my face in his ass, but he was instantly aware and stood up abruptly. My dick slid out of his ass and slapped against my stomach. He got down off the bench and back down on his knees, between my legs, just as we had begun, years ago. He held one of my feet, caressing the arch, his other hand flexing my calf, lightly pulling on the hairs that covered it. He brought my foot to his mouth, sucking on each toe in turn, kissing the arch. I leaned back, playing with my cock, keeping it at just the point of coming then pulling on my foreskin when I got too close. He was watching, jacking his cock with one hand, holding one of my feet to his mouth with the other. I couldn't believe what was happening to my foot. I'm a runner and take good care of my feet. Now I knew why. I knew the foot was one of the great engineering feats in nature, that there were more bones in the foot than in the whole rest of the body, now I was realizing there must be more nerve endings there too. What I hadn't known was how erotic

He was writhing voluptuously giving himself to the experience entirely. I watched him in wonder, he was fabulous, as I jacked myself off. We came together, shooting cum all over each other, exalted, devastated.

they are. His incredible mouth moved to the other foot. I began to sob softly. He was watching as he sucked. My sobbing was totally involuntary. I was too far gone to be embarrassed—it didn't even occur to me. He watched all of this.

By this time the early morning sun was beginning to slant through the barred openings of the tower deck. I don't think either of us remembered we were in a public place. In any case no one came up those metal stairs. The sun glinted off a light film of sweat on his back. Brilliant darts of light shot from sweat trickling down his rib cage from his arm pits. I wanted to swallow him whole but I couldn't move, the pleasure was too intense. I was arrested in pleasure as surely as an insect caught in amber. His tongue began to move up the back of one of my legs as he lifted it up, higher, higher. His lips on my asshole, his tongue soft at first, probing, then suddenly firm and penetrating. I bore down with all my might, groaning. I absolutely gave myself to what was happening. I was losing my mind, lost it. Something in the sounds I was making, I have no idea, made him stop. He must have realized I could not go on much longer without coming. He still had things in mind. He gently lowered my legs to the floor then took a deep breath. He reached behind him for the aml, took a long hit and handed it to me. He took my other hand and put all the fingers in his mouth as I sniffed on the poppers. When I put it down he stood up and put one leg up on the bench and guided the hand he had just been sucking, covered with his silver saliva, to his asshole. I began to push my fingers into the still wet opening. It took all four fingers right away. I bunched them together so that my thumb could slide in with them. My fist went in him with almost no effort. He began to squat down over it, pushing his ass well down over my wrist, onto my forearm. He took my face in his hands and brought his mouth down to mine with a grace and gentleness that took my breath away. I can feel the lush astonishment of it still as I write these words, nearly five years later.

I sat there on that bench moving my fist around inside his ass as he pushed against it. Velvet is rough, coarse when compared to the feel of these inner membranes. One of his hands was jacking his cock, the other was pulling on the ring in his left tit, I was afraid he'd pull it out. He was writhing voluptuously giving himself to the experience entirely. I watched him in wonder, he was fabulous, as I jacked myself off. We came together, shooting cum all over each other, exalted, devastated. Finally I pulled out of his ass and he immediately was all over my hand with his tongue, licking and sucking. I just let him. Then, when he had it clean, when he was through, we began to lick the cum off each other, like two puppies in the sun.

We dressed silently. Part of me desperately wanted to find out who he was, find a way to meet him again, but I knew, I think we both knew, that encounters like this one, probably merited through lifetimes of discipline and distraction, can never be repeated. They simply exist in their own isolation and perfection, splendid, undefilable. I am suddenly pierced with concern that I have defiled it by telling you. I hope not. No, I don't think so for I am humble before this memory and I honor it. I finished first and stood up. He was sitting on the bench looking down lacing up his boot. I bent over his bowed head. His hair was clean and shining as the spring morning outside and smelled faintly, of what, incense? The back of his neck was exposed. His top vertebra was round as a coin, numinous. I brushed my lips against it. He shuddered. He butted his head against my leg and grabbed the ankle of my boot, then released it. He did not look up. I headed for the stair. I did not look back.

A nonsense rhyme I hadn't thought of since I was a child in that very park came to me out of nowhere as I was going down:

As I was going down the stair
I saw a man who wasn't there
He wasn't there again today
I wish that he would go away.

Though I let myself into the apartment quietly, Baby Thom half woke up. He called me from the bedroom, "Where have you been?"

"I went to get the Sunday paper."
"So you can read me the funnies?"
"Right."

I stood in the doorway of our bedroom. Thom had been sleeping on his stomach when I left. Now he had his knees pulled up under him. His alabaster ass was sticking up like an altar boy's in full genuflection. He mumbled as I came into the room, "First I want Charlie Brown, then Batman, then the Dragon Lady. No. First I want. . . I think we'd better put Moby in his place first. The place he likes."

"You want me to read you the funnies with my dick up your butt?"

"Well, why not? What's Sunday for?"

He could always make me laugh. I sat on the bed and laughed perhaps a little more hysterically than the situation called for.

"Moby knows where it's nice," Thom said. Then he began to look at me, kind of concerned, as I kept laughing. He patted me on the back in his special, little way and said, "Are you alright, Big Fella?"

"Absolutely."

He put his head against my chest. "You sure smell sexy," he said.

I quickly countered that with, "That comes from sleeping all night up against a hot little fellow. Do you want me to take another shower?"

His answer was as quick, "No." He sighed contentedly.

I held him very close. "Dear God, I love you," I said.

"I know."

"Please know."

"I do know, Big Fella, I do. Don' worry, don' worry."

MISTER BENSON

The novel that electrified leathermen across the country when it was first serialized in Drummer, revised by the author with an epilogue from Mr. Benson himself. Cited by Penthouse as one of the Top Ten SM Novels ever written, praised by Phil Andros as "an SM masterwork," and acknowledged "a classic underground novel" by the Village Voice, John Preston's Mr. Benson is must reading for all leathermen, and for anyone who wants to understand the phenomenon of gay SM in the 1980s.

THE BRIG

A major novel of military discipline and institutionalized SM. Victor Terry in Dungeon-Master calls it "one of the best erotic novels of dominance and enforced submission I have ever read... This book is hot!"

Set at the close of the Vietnam War, The Brig chronicles a young conscientious objector's ordeal at the hands of his Marine tormentors, his surprising self-discoveries in the midst of torment, his ultimate triumph—and the price he pays for it.

HE AIN'T HEAVY, HE'S MY LOVER

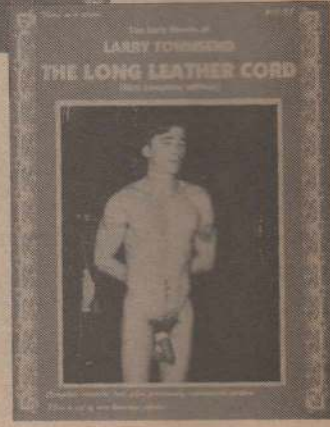

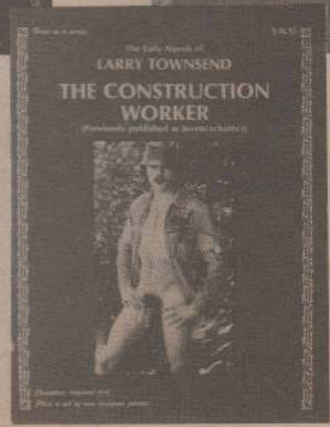

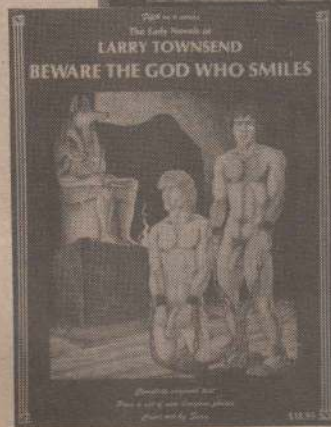

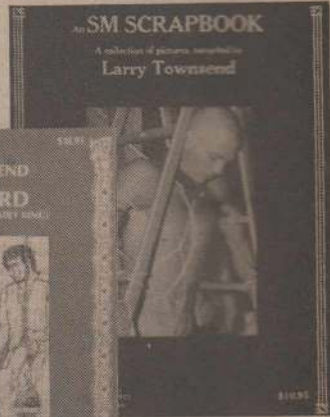

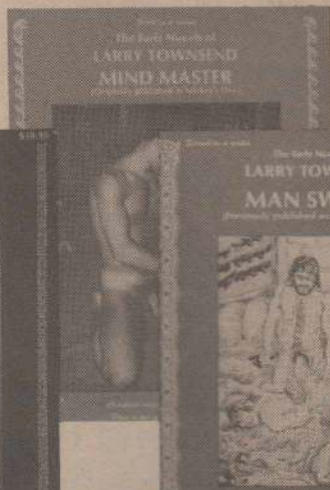

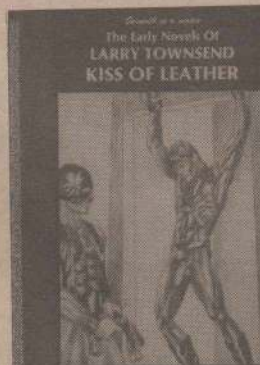

Had enough of whips, chains, and heavy-duty SM? You won't escape them here—but you'll rediscover them with a decidedly humorous twist, along with Carlo Carlucci's glowingly humorous look at every other aspect of gay life, from the pangs of coming out to a Thurberesque cartoon series "War Between the Machos and the Sissies" that will have you in stitches!

Gay cartoon books have come and gone, but this one is really special. "A must-have cartoon book," says the Baltimore Gay Paper; "a sharper wit could not be found!" Cruise Magazine says it's "the kind of book you'll read over and over, getting a fresh chuckle or grin each time." And the San Francisco Review of Books declares that Carlo Carlucci "has the talent of Thurber."

SADO ISLAND
 Illustrated by Matt

Beyond Road Warrior and Chrome lies a new dimension in sophisticated science fiction SM. Welcome to Sado Island, stronghold of the notorious Baron Heinrich von Sado and his menacing muscular/metallic hench-men!

Zeus commissioned New Orleans artist Matt to take this quantum leap into the illustrated future of SM adventure, where its 2139 and hell on earth is a place called Saso Island. Two musclebound heroes fight a police society that forbids their "deviate" love—then take on the sadistic battlechief of world terrorism, Heinrich Von Sado. Sado Island catapults your fantasies into the future and penetrates the darkest recesses of your imagination.

SLAVES OF THE EMPIRE 9.95
 by Aaron Travis
 Illustrated by Cavelo

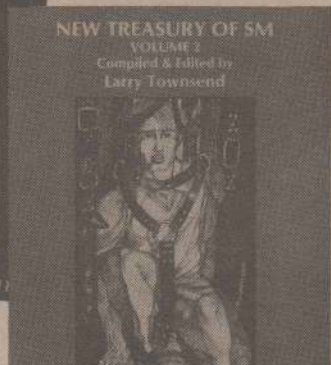

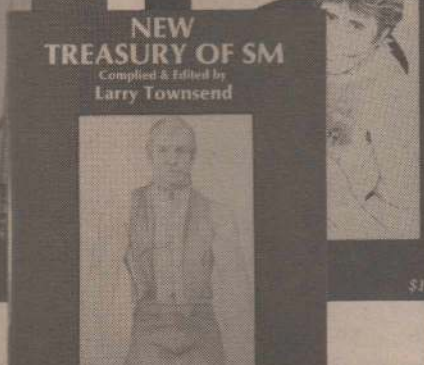

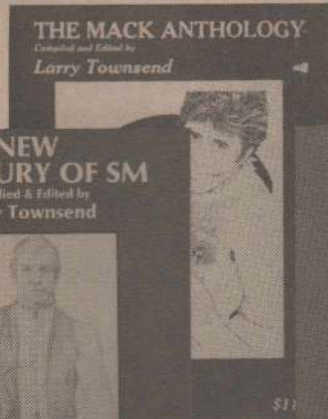

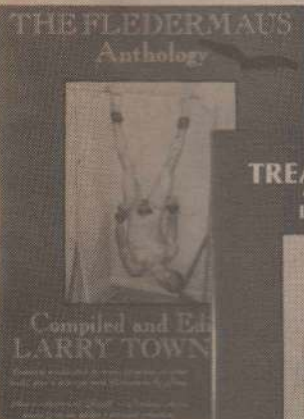

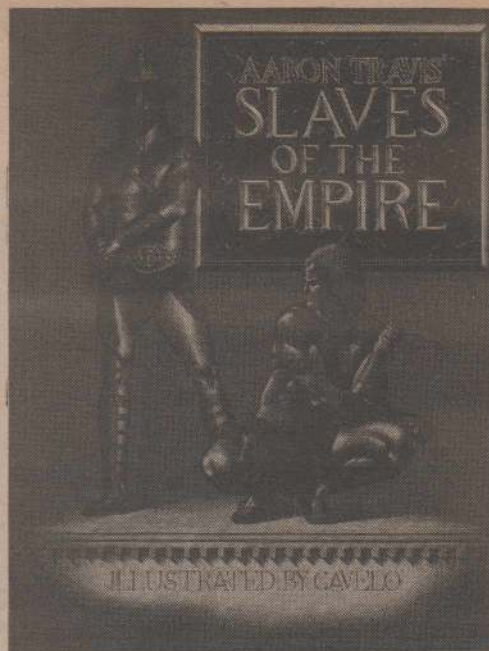

Hot off the press—the long-awaited paperback edition of Aaron Travis' SM Roman epic, with twelve richly detailed illustrations by the master of erotic fantasy art, Cavelo.

Set against the barbaric splendor of ancient Rome at the height of its empire, Slaves seduces the reader into a steamy world of flesh and steel, where a famed gladiator must ultimately choose between his own brutal nature and his love for a pair of twin-princes, while a sadistic senator plots to enslave them all.

John Preston calls Slaves of the Empire "a wonderful mythic tale," and Phil Andros has called it "taut, tense, and absorbing."

"With hardly a pause," says the Bay Area Reporter, "Aaron Travis torments us from sex scene to sex scene, each building higher than the one before, all satisfying, original and leading surely to the hair-raising last chapter... I got bruises just from reading."

Lavish, unusual and compelling, Slaves of the Empire is a novel you'll read more than once—the first time for its suspenseful story, and after that for lingering fantasies and pleasure.

BLACK ON RED

You saw the photo article in Drummer—now see the tape! Brick Samson, a Master of enema techniques, and Chris Burns, shaved hairless and ready to be filled, star in what may be the definitive video exploration of the erotic enema. The heavy action also includes dildos, licking, catheters, piercing, shaving, and more in this epic of a leatherclad Master and his hungry slave. From the producers of "Enema Night/Enema Slave."

Drummer says: "Chris Burns is dynamite as a young bottom enslaved by the only Master, and the only man, able to satisfy his deepest need!"

ENEMA NIGHT/ ENEMA SLAVE

From the makers of "Black on Red," two previous erotic shorts featuring leather, asshole shaving, and multiple enemas. (There's also some nipple-twisting, ball-crushing, and well-directed ass-slapping—but it's the water spout that steals the show.) "Enema Slave" features a young man who takes an enema bent over a motorcycle before ending up in his captor's sling for more of the same; "Enema Night" goes even further with two leathermen administering a deep plunge to a hapless slave bound to a rack—and some interesting role-reversal. A must for the video collector and the enema connoisseur!

GAMES

From super-director Steve Scott ("Sceenplay" and Non-stop") comes a rivetting tale of gay sexual athletes scoring heavy and setting world-class records from the playing field to the locker room to the bedroom! Superstar Al Parker breaks all previous records; Leo Ford, hung, blond and young, gives him a run for the money!

79⁹⁵

CLASS REUNION

One of the greatest gathering of male flesh ever assembled! At a poolside party, these veteran erotic superstars (and even a few new kids on the block) get together "in the William Higgins tradition"—meaning lots of nonstop action, hot and heavy. The huge cast of almost two dozen stars includes Micheal Christopher, Leo Ford, Lee Stern, Cory Adams.

79⁹⁵

FALCON HEAD

The original hardcore cult classic—Micheal Zen's stylish, uncanny tale of sex and desire with a supernatural edge. Pass through the magic mirror and encounter the menacing, mysterious Falconhead. Plus the award-winning short "Tattoo"—"a shocking study of penetration."

79⁹⁵

CHAIN REACTIONS

From the men who gave you the classic Born to Raise Hell comes a look inside a leather bar where nothing gets held back, including the confessions of horny leathermen eager to share their latest exploits with each other—and the camera. Chains, rope, motorcycles, bondage, slings, clothespins and enemas are a few of the festishes that inhabit their dreams-come-true. The cast alone makes this one a must for men in the leather scene—Rydar Hanson (Mr. Southern California Drummer 1985) in his first film role, beefy Ken Bergquist (Mr. Southeast Drummer 1984), along with Daniel Holt, Dwan Les Price, and Lee Stern.

TOUGH COMPETITION

Quite simply one of the hottest nonstop erotic videos on the market. Newcomer Kyle Carrington, incredibly hung with a superbly sleek physique, is the star—and once the camera encounters him, it almost never leaves, as we follow Kyle home from locker room sex to an encounter in the parking lot, to a solo-jerk at home and a final, dynamite orgy scene.
