DEAR READER

A NOTE FROM THE EDITOR

Welcome, once again, to FQ. We hope in these 68 pages you'll find something that hits you where you live; something new; something interesting; something that's a little unsettling, perhaps; maybe even something you don't agree with at all.

There are lots of us foreskin lovers around. None of us, however, seem to agree on much of anything except that skins are beautiful.

To us here at FQ, all skins are beautiful. And certainly not all of our readers will agree with that. But that's okay. We hope to generate a little controversy among our readers from time to time. That's one of the reasons we're here.

Another is to help inform each other about our options. In upcoming issues, we'll explore what's available to us medically. What does the other side think? Who started all this cutting business, anyway? Where could you find a husband and wife who'd love to share your skin with you? What are those toys? Where do you buy them? And how the hell do they work? Who's stretching their cut skin back over the tip? Does that work? Where are the hottest places around to meet up with uncut men?

But most importantly, we're here to entertain you. FQ promises the best in Articles, Erotic Fiction, Art, Photography, and hopefully, a little humour along the way. (Something we think we could all use a good dose of, these days.)

So let's hear from you out there. What do you think? What do you want to see? What do you want to read? Send us those photos of your beautiful skin (or your main man's). And if you're looking for action outside our pages, why not place an ad in FQ's Skin Search. Then write us, tell us what came about, and we'll publish it in our True Classifieds section in an upcoming issue.

FQ is always on the lookout for exciting new fiction, or articles of interest to our readers and, of course, art and photography on our favorite subject.

But for now, skin back and relax, folks.

For those of you that have 'em. . .for those of you that want 'em. . .turn the page and turn on.

Enjoy yourselves. See you next time.

A NOTE FROM THE PUBLISHER

After a period in limbo FQ is back! Foreskin Quarterly was begun several years ago as a cooperative venture by Alternate Publishing and The Uncircumcised Society of America. Alternate owned the name and published, paid for, and sold the magazine. USA provided a large percentage of the contents and paid a greatly reduced subscription fee for its distribution to USA members.

In late 1986 Desmodus, Inc. purchased several magazines from Alternate Publishing, including FQ. We continued to work with USA on publication of the magazine. However, problems that existed prior to our arrival continued and new problems arose.

Materials for FQ were slow in coming in and the number of complaints from USA members grew steadily. Most of these complaints centered on changes of address, classified ads and renewals of subscriptions for which the information (and payments) were not passed on to us by USA.

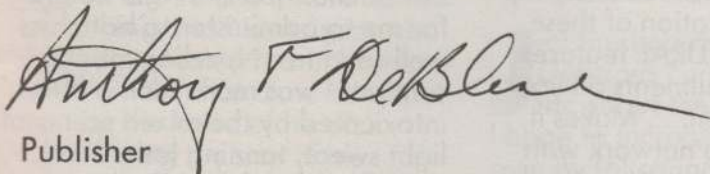

Because of these problems we published very few issues of FQ in 1988 and in September of that year suspended publication of this title indefinitely until things could be worked out. It was finally decided to terminate the relationship between USA and FQ.

We will continue to honor all subscriptions and ads placed through USA and for which USA provided the appropriate information and payment. We cannot be responsible for subscriptions, renewals, address changes, ads, etc. for which we have not been appropriately informed or reimbursed by USA.

Your new editor has his thumb, or some part of his anatomy, on the pulse of production here at Desmodus and will be seeing that Foreskin Quarterly does get out to you on a regular and timely basis. He is also bringing in new ideas and approaches that we think you will find interesting.

As always FQ will place a heavy emphasis on reader contributions, so send in your letters, articles, photos, experiences, fantasies, lusts and clippings —of paper, that is!

Dear FQ

I've finally had the chance to sit down with Issue #11 and as usual, it's terrific!! Yours is the only magazine I choose to buy on a regular basis, I only wish it was monthly rather than quarterly! Has your staff considered running it more frequently? I, for one would buy it monthly! I want to compliment you on your great articles and thank God for your photo spreads.

I had my skin taken at birth so when I don't have one of my uncut fuck-buddys around to admire that wonderful foreskin, it's nice that at least there is FQ with your great shots of terrific foreskins. Even the illustrations of some great skins are a turn on for me! Specifically those on Pages 34 - 39, Marks Man. Now there's a beautiful skin. Looking at this guy's skin, I can almost imagine dining on that delicious looking banquet of cockmeat and foreskin. I could chew and nibble that HOT skin for hours! Gets me hard just thinking about it. You Uncut guys better appreciate your good fortune in still having your foreskins. Most of us CUT guys can only DREAM.

I have been following your stories on stretching techniques and foreskin restoration and find them a great help. Using a few of your techniques myself, I'm starting to actually make some noticeable progress in stretching what was left of my skin. Although you can't see any indication of my "skin" when my cock is hard, when it's flaccid. I can actually pull the skin over my cock head.

My favorite stretching technique is pulling my skin over my cock head and then inserting two fingers from each hand into that tighter tube of skin. I use a little baby oil or lube in doing this to try to keep it soft and get more "stretch" out of the exercise.

FQ 11 Skin lovers all seemed to agree. . . one of our most popular issues ever!

Maybe one of these days I'll have a respectable amount of foreskin. . . sufficient enough to get a good chewing from a fuck buddy. Until then, I'll do the chewing as long as I can find a tasty uncut cock to satisfy my special appreciation of these wonderful NATURAL features.

Also, compliments on your classified section. . . Makes it a little easier to network with uncuts in our area. Keep up the great work with your fine mag. I'll be anxiously awaiting the next edition! Sign me

A Happy Skin lover!

This is the second letter I've written because of your Issue 11, both about the same thing. That thing is Mark's thing! I wrote to the gallery in Amsterdam to get further info on Mark's works as you suggested. I would now like to thank you for presenting that incredible cover illustration and accompanying article. Words such as gorgeous, incredible, delicious, furry and fantastic don't quite express how I responded to those illustrations. Please do whatever you can to get more of Mark's works and find out if that hirsute hero really exists beyond Mark's and now my dreams.

Beyond this specific issue I would like to thank you and your brother publication Drummer for presenting the hottest real men in magazines. Since I want to keep myself and my lover healthy I gave up cruising about seven years ago but I still have many hot memories to keep me warm when my lover is asleep.

My favorite memory centers around a man I met when I was about twenty-five years old and he was about fifty years old. He was the perfect image of a daddy any son would die for. He was about six foot six, deeply tanned and had a full salt and pepper beard. Since I'm only five foot eight, he towered over me and as I unbuttoned his shirt I found his salt and pepper pelted barrel chest just the right height for me to administer to both his well-used tits. Nuzzling into his arm pits I was more than a little intoxicated by the mixed scents of light sweat, tanning lotion and soap from his day at the beach and his shower after.

By the time I was on my knees in front of him I had nearly forgotten about my own hard-on, which was still in my pants. After making my lips almost chapped from kissing and licking the crotch of his worn jeans I gave up trying to outline the full length of his dick and I went for his zipper and then tugged the levis down around his knees. Though I already had a pretty good idea of how big he was, there was nothing to prepare me for what I had before me. At twenty-five years of age I was holding in my right hand not only the biggest dick I had ever seen up to that point of my life, but the first uncut dick I had ever touched. In truth I was not really holding it in my hand but more embracing it at its base down by the balls. I could never encircle the whole width with only one hand.

Never having had any experience up to that point with a natural man I felt a little lost and unsure what just to do. Besides the intense erotic energy of the situation, the sheer breath taking beauty of his fully sheathed erection was all the inspiration I needed. Much of what happened after that became awash in near ecstasy for me, I'm not even sure I ever came though I do remember fumbling my dick out of my pants. Two things I do remember are telling him to just lean back against a tree and let me do everything and his tan spot. You see, he preferred to sun bathe nude which left a dime sized tan spot on the head of his dick. Considering the size of his mushroom head once the foreskin was peeled back, that spot looked almost tiny.

In the following year and a half period we would be together many more times and to my delight he turned out to be a warm, sweet and cuddly bear of a man. We shared stories of our lies, he told me of his working as a hustler in New York City in the fifties and running a furniture restoration business with his long time lover. We shared a lot together, not just our bodies and I only hope he is still well remembers me as fondly as I remember him. If only there had been an FQ magazine then, however, I could have given him and me more pleasure. I do have, as I said, some very hot and warm memories of my first all natural Daddy bear.

Mmm, Mmm, Good!
*Shitaki, porcinni, or oyster
...the mushroom fans
came out of the kitchen!*

Just finished re-reading Those Delicious Edible Mushrooms for about the third time. I hope to increase the size of my own by following some of the suggestions.

I am a certified foreskin freak, but have found some wonderfully big mushrooms buried inside that especially tantalizing skin, too. To find a foreskin is wonderful. To find a mushroom lurking in the darkness inside it is truly a bonus.

One of my buddies who has the most delightfully edible mushroom has it deep under wraps. The first time I saw it I almost hyperventilated. His cock, very thick at it bone, rises from thick hair so dark red its almost mangenta colored. It quickly tapers until at the top of the shaft, just under the head its about a third as big around as the base. That mushroom head is even bigger around than his cock at the base and sort of curls up at the edges like an oriental pagoda. His foreskin is very loose, silky and floppy and when he's erect the whole thing slides past the head to expose it but can be tugged up so it overhangs the mushroom by about an inch and is easily chewed.

The mushroom is a mouthfull all by itself, because not only is it big around its proportionally long. Lee loves for me to nibble all around the edges which are almost little "leaves". To hold the copious pre-cum which oozes thickly non-stop from a cockmouth so big and wide I can get the first knuckle of my little finger easily in and play. By squeezing his huge nuts and nibbling, I get lots of his delicious man honey, before I let him cum. Its also great to get the whole head in my mouth then squeeze the shaft just below the head and feel the whole thing flare even bigger. Lee says that his wife's mouth is too small to take him like I do, so he really loves all the attention to his mushroom.

Over several months time we found that our weekly sessions of

A friend of mine introduced me to FQ by way of an old issue. I have been attempting restoration by stretching. In the last six months, I've been able to stretch about an inch. I still have four to go to cover my erection. I've enclosed two pictures—current flaccid (if I'm cold and careful) and the erection I want to cover.
—DV / St. Paul

at least two hours or more seem to increase the size of our mushroom. We also discovered a way to bring the man to such an orgasm he almost passed out with its intensity. I'd work a greased finger up inside his asshole to massage his prostate while I nibbled, licked and sucked his mushroom and tongue fucked his cocklips with a definite slow firm rhythm. He'd almost go berserk when he came.

Invariably, his big balls would zoom up inside him, completely out of sight. After he came and his nice cock was about half soft, I'd ease his foreskin up to protect his almost painfully sensitive cockhead and nibble on the two inch or more foreskin until it was time for him to go.

We'd set our dates at least two days in advance so he could try and keep from having sex with his wife, so he'd be really horny and his mushroom more sensitive for our time together. Before I was transferred, his mushroom was so big it was almost outgrowing my mouth, but I sure loved feeling it stretch my throat. So did he.

By the way, Mark's erotic art is superb. Thanks. Best I've ever seen anywhere.

DP / San Jose, CA

Something happened yesterday that has changed my whole life. I felt I had to write to make up for some of the terrible things I have said about men who aren't circumcised.

Let me start by saying I learned about sex by reading books. One of my idols when I was a teenager was the Happy Hooker. I wanted to learn how to please men, just like she did. Well, in one of her books, she said she always made uncircumcised men go and wash before she would let them put their penises in her mouth. She talked about the accumulation of dirt from using the bathroom several times in a day. From her description, I assumed all uncircumcised penises were dirty. I knew right then that I never wanted an uncircumcised penis in my mouth. In fact, I didn't want one of those dirty things in my vagina or anywhere near me.

Before I would have sex with a man, I always tried to find out in a subtle way if he was circumcised. If he wasn't, I ditched him fast. Not knowing from personal experience, and relying on the Happy Hooker not to steer me wrong, I told all my girl friends how dirty an uncircumcised penis was. When my best friend didn't have her baby circumcised, I said, how could you? Now none of his future girlfriends will want to have oral sex with him.

I've been living in Latin America for quite a while, and most of the men here aren't circumcised. Well I got the hots for this guy about six months ago and mother nature won out over the Happy Hooker. We've been living together for three months and I'm madly in love with him. Yesterday I put his uncircumcised penis in my mouth for the first time. There is absolutely no difference between putting a hard circumcised penis or a hard uncircumcised penis in your mouth. In fact, I found it very exciting to tickle the exposed part of the head with my tongue and watch the foreskin slide back to unmask the rest of the head.

I wonder how many other women think the same thing I did? I hope this letter can change all that.

MN / Colombia, South America

The superb illustrations by London-based artist Mark (Issue 11) of the lean, hairy, uncut masturbator are probably the most arousing I've ever seen. The clothing details, the loving detailed penis and testis, the mid-orgasmic facial expressions, the jetting semen make it clear that Mark loves his work and has a deep understanding of how to appeal to our voyeuristic tendencies.

Please continue to publish as much of his work as you can get. Too bad Mark doesn't have a U.S. distributor.

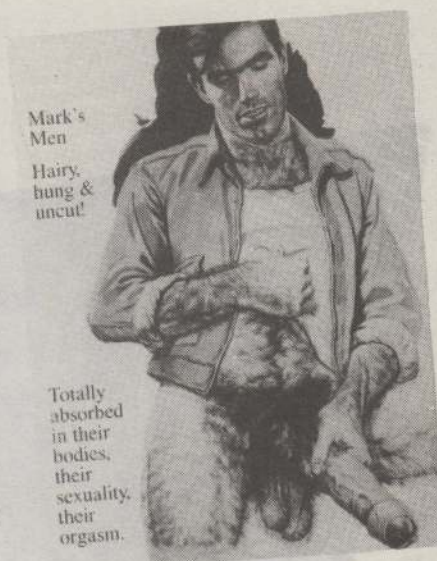

TC / New York

Issue 11 is your best one ever. Again I commend you on your fairness for publishing very detailed information pertaining to both sides of the circumcision issue. I prefer the pro-circ side after having been on both sides of the fence (cut at age 27) and glad I made the change. I feel the cut version looks better as do most Americans from all the info I read on the subject.

I feel that there will always be a future for FQ even if the circumcision rate goes to 100% in this nation due to the health findings favorable for those cut. You may want to reconsider changing your title to the American Penis Journal which I feel describes your publication more fairly anyway. The info in FQ is treasurable. I don't consider this material porno anymore because of the detailed information it provides. FQ should be part of the high school health education classes for young adults.

I hope you start publishing monthly so I'll have something good to read more often

BY LARS EIGNER

HOOD

Well, here's a special bulletin for you. . .my buddy's got his needs too. And when his needs aren't met, he's liable to get a little bit peevish. Now we can't have that, can we?

What are you doing with your hand, dick-breath?

Wouldn't you rather have a pair of tweezers for that, you needle-dick cocksucking worm? There's insects that's hung better than you, you know that. I bet you think that sucking on a man's dick will do

I got a hood on my cock.

That's why you're back, isn't it? It's the only reason you're back. Isn't it, cocksucker?

My buddy here has a big cock, too. He's got hair on his chest and a nasty tattoo he got when he took a fall once. But you don't even know he exists because he's been clipped. Yet you're going to be down on your knees begging to get your tongue under my foreskin. You'll beg for it, 'cause that's the only way you're gonna get it.

Yeah, probably some of your friends will see you here. What's it to me? They'll see you pigging out on my drapes and you'll look real elegant with my wad dripping off your chin.

Yeah, my buddy's pits stink as much as mine and his jeans are greasy, too. But you come crawling over this way just cause I got this extra piece of skin. Hell, it ain't his fault. He didn't have no say in it.

You dicklicking piece of shit. All you can think about is your own pig needs, that pig-hunger for headcheese. Is it ripe enough for ya?

something for your small stuff. Is that what you think, needledick?

Yeah, see my buddy gets peevish when he's not getting any. So, I have to buy him beer. Lots and lots of beer. And then you know what happens, fuckwad? He has to take a piss, that's what.

You feel that meat on the back of your neck, that meat you ain't got time for cause it's clipped? You feel it dangling down the back of your collar, you. . .

Hey! You bite my dick, cocksucker, and you'll be picking your teeth up off the floor!

Did anyone ever tell you you're one lousy cocksucker?

That warm stuff you feel splashing down your back. . .that's all those beers I had to put in my buddy cause a urinal like you always wants to suck up my high collar cock and won't take none of his bareheaded boner.

Hey, Matt, try to get the last of it in his fifty-dollar haircut.

Jesus, how a pitiful perverted piece like you can suck as much cock as you do and still give such lousy head, I can't figure. Don't jerk me off in your mouth, asshole, suck on it.

If you need something to do with that hand, you just work on my buddy's cock until he's as hard as me. Oh, yes you will, or I'll put my prick back in my jeans.

I can pull out and get on that bike with my buddy and we can go somewhere and jerk off. You don't know how men do it, do you? Cause you've been a pitiful dicklicker your whole life and that's all you'll ever be. And you never had a buddy. So you don't tooth of yours? Can you guess, shitforbrains?

Now look here. Look at Matt's nuts. Matt's got big bull nuts, huge big hairy balls. And they can really deliver a load. But I guess that don't make no difference to you?

Fact is, Matt's nuts are bigger'n mine, but you're just a pure-d foreskin piggy, aren't you?

Are you all worked up? Do you like that hard cock? Let me hear it. I don't hear you. I don't hear you! Yeah, slurp on it, pig.

know how buddies do it, do you?

Men stand up. Men look each other in the eye. They help each other with their business. And they don't do anything to be ashamed of.

Hey, Maxipad, I'm talking to you.

Now look at my buddy's cock. Ain't a damn thing wrong with it. It's thick around. It's long. And it's hard. If I didn't have a perfectly good cock of my own, I'd be pleased to have a cock just like his.

Here taste it.

Yeah, taste it, cumbucket.

What's the matter? The taste don't suit you?

Here, then have some more skin. Look, you shove my hood back, anyway. So what difference could it make to you? What are you, some kind of cockmeat gourmet?

Come here, Matt, I'll hold your nuts.

Look here, spermlips. Here's my buddy, Matt. See what he's going to have to do? He's gotta jerk off. Well, I'd feel sorry for him but I know his hand is a hell of a lot better than your mouth. Where the fuck did you ever learn to suck cock?

HEY! Do I have to tell you what's going to happen to you the next time I feel that snaggie

See, Matt's getting all worked up already. That's cause he don't have to deal with no loose-lipped, sissy blowjob. Suck, goddamn it. What the fuck good are you?

Think about it, cocksucker.

Think about all that cum mixed in with the nice cheesy flavor left under my skin.

Now don't that thought just inspire you to suck cock like you know how? Then do it!

Aw, look. See what Matt's doing? He's gonna help you out by massaging my nuts. See, he knows how to do that because he's got real mannuts himself, and not those shriveled-up cocksucker peanuts that you got under your cocksucking needledick.

Yeah, see. . . Matt's a forgiving kind of guy. Even though you slighted him on account of a little bit of skin he don't have, he's gonna help you. In fact, just rubbing my nuts for a few seconds Matt's done more for my dick than you've been able to do with your whole mouth in all this time.

Yeah, with Matt's help I think I might just be able to shoot a wad. But it'll be him that's doing it for me. Not you, you ugly slug.

So I think I'll just give Matt as good a handjob as I know how.

Take my dick out of your mouth, now!

What did I do that for? I did that because I warned you something like that would happen the next time you scraped me with that faggot snaggle tooth. Now ask for my dick back nicely.

See, you got the hood all pushed back. I thought know what the lesson is for today, snotrag?

The lesson for today is, eat some of everything put before you. And be pleasant about it.

You're gonna take my buddy's wad—oh yes you are, bitch and you're going to act like you like it.

Because if you don't, you won't get mine and if you don't get mine, something very unpleasant might happen.

See Matt working on his dick. See how swollen and red his bareheaded cock is. That means he's you liked that part. Now see, hard as my cock is, I pull the hood over the head and look there's skin left over.

You know what that left over skin is for? Why it's for sharing with my buddy Matt, on account of his being short changed. See, it slips over the tip of Matt's cock just like this.

Of course I won't do that with you. You're a cocksucker. This is the sort of thing that you do with your buddy if you're both men. And you know it's real nice when I can make Matt shoot off under there with me. Real nice. More fun than your mouth.

Now beg for it...

Not good enough...

Not good enough!

Look, my buddy Matt's cock is getting runny. Yeah, he dribbles a lot before he shoots. You sure you don't want some of his.

You are one pig-headed/pig-mouthed cocksucker. And it's time to teach you a lesson. Do you about to let his load loose. So, get on it!

Get on it now or I'll knock your teeth out. You'll be a grease spot in the dust if one drop of his wad hits the ground. Yeah, suck my buddy's dick.

Suck, cocksucker, suck.

That's good manstuff you're getting. All of it. Matt's dick better come out of your mouth dry as a desert.

Suck it up. Swallow. Swallow.

Now get down on mine, cuntface, cause it's ready.

Goddamn, suck. . .suck. . .suck on it for christ-sakes.

I'm gonna shoot a load right down your hood-hungry hole.

Suck...Suck...Suck...Suck!

Swallow my load. . .swallow it all. . . swallow . . .keep sucking. . .yeah. . .yeah. . .YEAH!.

Not bad for a worthless cocksucker.

We were meeting on neutral ground: dinner for three at the nicest Italian restaurant in Akron.

Daryl, meet my wife, Robin. . . Robin, this is Daryl, my boyfriend.

Sweat broke out on my brow every time those words went through my head, and they repeated over and over as I waited. Robin was in the Ladies' Lounge freshening up. Daryl hadn't arrived.

He's not late, he's just on "gay time," I thought. Typical. Well, not really. Daryl doesn't go for that "queer" stuff. He's just like any other guy, except he's got the hots for my dick—or, actually, for the long piece of skin dangling down from the end of it.

Daryl walked in just as Robin emerged from the lounge. Both seemed a little breathless. They caught each other's eyes and knew each other before I said a word. My introduction was practically superfluous.

So he's the one. . . So she's the one. . .

. . . MAYBE THIS WASN'T SUCH A GREAT IDEA. . .

I know it sounds unredeemably sleazy, but I met Daryl in a truckstop bathroom. Hey, this was a few years back, when shit like that was still "okay." I used to get my rocks off in toilets all the time when I was driving a truck, before I got a dispatch job and settled into staying in one place all the time. It wasn't 'till I was off the road that I met Robin. I don't know what it was about her, but she got me so hot I couldn't see straight, and she felt the same about me. It was true lust.

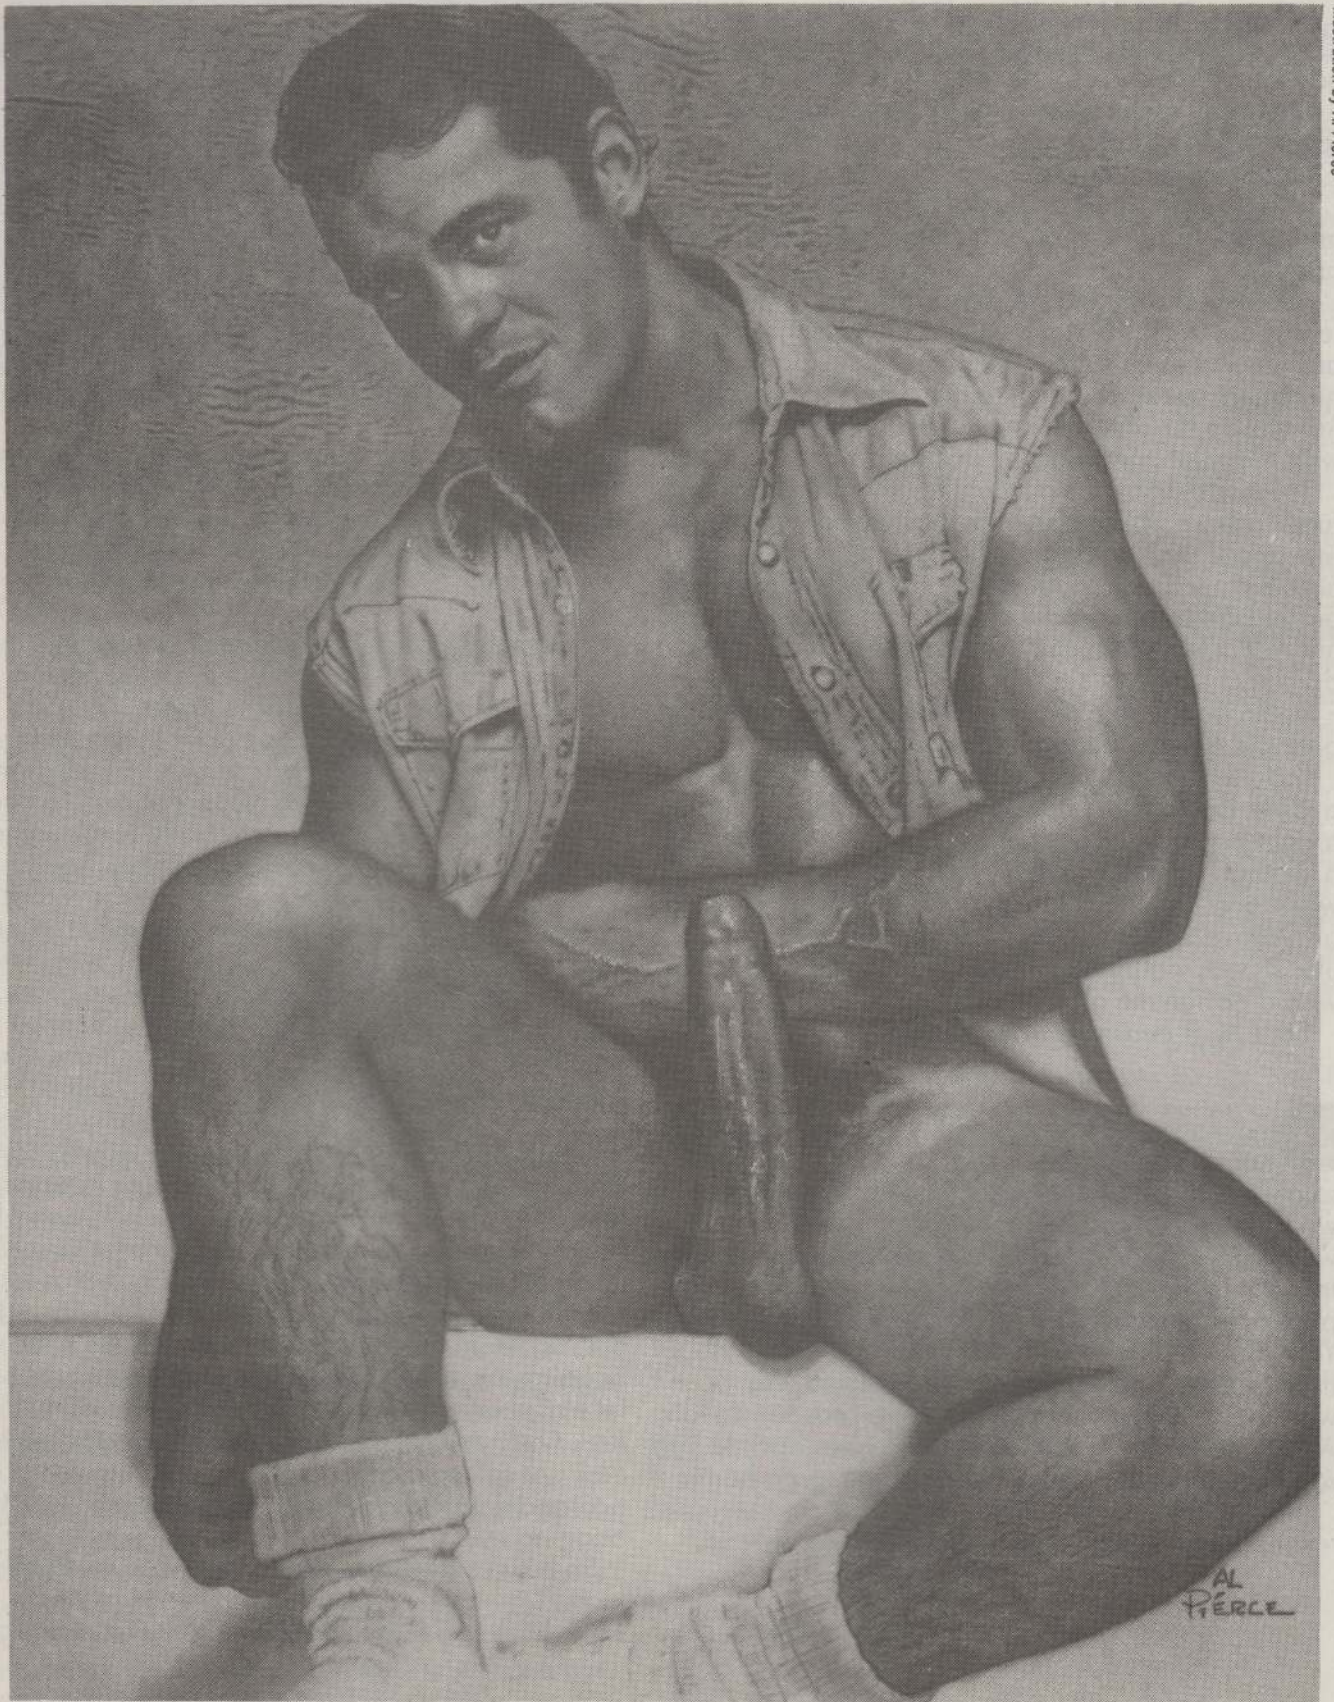

But sex for me is the greatest aphrodisiac. The more I get the more I want. Robin and I would fuck our brains out every night, and then fuck in the morning before we each left for our jobs, and I'd still be horny as hell all day long. And I worked all day with a constant stream of hot, horny truckers, on the road and never gettin' enough, and just smelling the stink of their frustrated sex made my dick ache.

So, yeah, I helped out a few buddies, got 'em off in my hand. . . And there's always guys hanging around who want to get a big, nasty-looking trucker like me off. And once most of those guys got a look at my dick, they'd be down on their knees with their mouths open.

I don't know what it is about some guys and foreskin. Maybe I'd feel different if mine'd been whacked off when I was a kid. But I've always had that long, drooping hood on my dick, and it just seems natural to me. I keep it clean, but when I skin it back there's always that smell, and sure, I like it. It smells like me. But I've seen cocksuckers nearly faint with ecstasy when they smelled that smell, and I've had a few wish out loud I wouldn't wash for a week or two. Or three.

Daryl was the first guy who really chewed on it. Surprised the shit out of me, I almost whipped him one. But then I got into it. I realized he wasn't biting through the flesh, he was just rolling it around between his teeth and tugging on it. He'd do that for a bit, and then open up his throat and sink down on the shaft all the way, sucking and slobbering, then come back up and chew some more. He took so long at it, getting me so worked up, that when I came I couldn't help it, I just grabbed his head and fucked his throat like I'd fuck cunt. He gagged but he didn't struggle, in fact he thrust his face down on my dick all the harder, till he'd sucked out every last drop.

He wasn't jacking off, hadn't even opened his fly, but when he got up off the bathroom floor there was a big wet stain spreading in his Levis. He grabbed me in a big bear hug (that was a first, too,) and kissed me.

"Thanks, Dad," he said, and I didn't know whether to be pleased or insulted. Seeing the look of pure adoration in his eyes, I decided to be pleased.

And that night, when Robin went down on me, some impulse made me say, "Use your teeth."

She stopped. "What?"

"Chew on it. Chew on the foreskin." I bunched it up and held it out to her. "C'mon, use your teeth, baby."

She did. Gently at first, but I told her I wanted to feel those teeth. She's a good cocksucker, good as any guy who ever sucked me off in a john (don't let the queers try to tell you they're the only ones who know how to do it right,) but she'd never touched my dick with her teeth, not even by accident.

The hotter I got, the harder I told her to chew. It was fucking incredible. I guess this must be how some guys feel about that whips and chains stuff, 'cause yeah, it hurt, but my dick just got harder and bigger and it felt better and better, and suddenly I was coming. I slid my dick down her throat in one motion and pumped it dry.

Later we lay side by side, relaxing, and out of the blue she asked, "So what brought that on?"

I could have lied. I could have said I read about it in a dirty book. But I'm not a lying man. My Mama taught me to be honest, except when complimenting a woman. And I couldn't see lying to my wife, not when one lie was going to have to lead to another, and then another. So I told her about Daryl. I told her, like it was nothing unusual, about the cocksucker who'd gotten me off that afternoon.

So, OK, it caused a little friction.

Dinner was a little strained. They both looked to me to order, so I did, and we made idle small-talk over the antipasto. Small talk was about all we managed throughout the whole meal, because, well, face it, none of us could quite bring ourselves to talk about the stuff we knew we had to talk about in a public restaurant. After all, this was Akron, not New York. So we played with our food and talked about the weather and finally we all realized this wasn't working. We'd gotten together for a reason—to talk. And we couldn't talk there. So we had to go somewhere we could talk. It was time to go home.

"Chew on it.
Chew on the foreskin."
I bunched it up
held it out to her.

I never expected to see Daryl again, and I didn't really care if I did. Robin had blown up about it and then calmed down. . . I think I managed to talk her into believing that her old man was just such a stud that he couldn't help fucking anything that moved. (Well, OK, it's true.) She knew I loved her, and Daryl was just some cocksucker I'd never see again. Hell, at the time I didn't even know his name. So she was pissed, and jealous—but not worried.

And then Daryl showed up again, in the same john. Like he'd been waiting for me. And he had my fly undone and my dick down his throat before I could think. This time he sucked on my balls, too, and licked the sweat out of my crotch, sniffing noisily and grunting his pleasure. Cocksucker got me so hot and so mad, I threw him up against the wall, still on his knees, and fucked his face till the snot was running down his chin like a river. Stuffed the head of my dick down his throat so he couldn't taste the 'skin, and left it there 'till he was blue in the face and gave him a pumping he'd never forget. And I called him a faggot, a faggot cocksucker with shit for brains, hanging out in a toilet sucking married-man's dick, what the hell was he doing that for, and I slapped his face a few times, still impaled on my cock, and when I shot my load I had the damnest time getting him to let go of me with that mouth of his, it was like he couldn't ever get enough. When I finally got most of it out, his teeth closed on the 'skin and his eyes were begging me, looking up at me and begging me just to let him chew on on it a little longer. And damnit, I let him. And he slurped and licked on that thing while my dick got soft and I needed to piss, but he wouldn't let go, and I told him, look, I gotta piss. And those begging eyes.

So he was a wet, stinking mess when he finally got to his feet and wrapped me in his arms again, and when he kissed me I tasted my crotch sweat and come on his tongue, and he whispered “Thanks, Dad.” And just hearing him say it gave me a funny feeling in the pit of my stomach, something like fear and something like lust. And I knew I was in deep shit.

Is this what it is, to have an affair? Oh, dear God, the trouble I’m in.

He wouldn’t leave me alone. And there was something about him, maybe those begging eyes, maybe something in his voice. And he kept calling me “Dad.” I don’t know what it was. But I couldn’t say no. I just couldn’t.

We’d meet once or twice a week. We graduated from the john at the truck stop to a private room, one of the truckers’ rooms. Then we started fucking around in his apartment. He’d beg me not to shower on the days we were going to meet. At first I wouldn’t do it, but he got off on my sweat so much that I finally gave in. I would wake up in the morning and Robin and I would fuck, and I’d make it go overtime so we would both be running late. And of course, gentleman that I am, I’d insist that she have the bathroom—I could go to work stinking like a horse, she couldn’t.

So when Daryl sucked my dick, he was getting some of Robin’s flavor, too. At first when I told him, he was disgusted, but I already knew how much he liked to be humiliated, and I forced him to lick her off me, talking dirty about how we’d screwed that morning, how much better a fuck she was than any fuckin’ cocksucker. It not only got him hot, it made him want to try to outdo her. It wasn’t long before he was wagging his ass at me and begging me to stuff my big, hard, uncut dick in there.

And then it was my turn to be disgusted, but not for long. He was damn convincing. He pulled out some rubbers, which was the first I’d ever heard of two men using rubbers for sex, and he rolled one down over my hard dick—he’d bought the kind that has an extra big “receptacle” end, for uncut men—greased it up and then sat on it, and somehow, you know, it wasn’t half bad.

And I’d get home in the evening, still unshowered and stinking like a beast, and I’d smell the smell coming off me, and my dick would get hard, and I’d grab Robin and we’d fuck ‘till we couldn’t see straight. And she started getting turned on by that smell, too. And it wasn’t long before I was getting my foreskin chewed and my crotch and armpits licked out twice a day.

I guess it was too good to last.

There was this disease going on, in faraway places, like San Francisco, and New York. And when the local headlines started talking about AIDS, Robin finally had to speak up.

She knew. Oh, not everything, not every little detail. Not even that it was Daryl. But she knew I’d been fucking around, and she had a pretty good idea it was with guys. Or one guy. She hadn’t said anything because it had actually seemed to be improving our sex life. We were as hot for each other as the day we met. Hotter. And she’d thought about it, and decided that it was OK for me to fuck around, and that since it was OK for me to fuck around, it must be OK for her to fuck around. . .

So we had an argument about that, and I finally got it through my pig head that I was a pig, expecting her not to be jealous of my playing around, and then being fucking screaming insanely jealous when I heard her tell me about the other guys she was fucking with.

So both of us were fucking around. Great.

It was time to move into the eighties. Robin and I started using condoms, where before we’d just depended on the Pill. Since Daryl and I had already been using condoms anyway, it wasn’t a big deal for me—it slowed us down some, but I’d already gotten one hint from Daryl: he always made putting on the condom a part of the sex, not an interruption of it.

And it was time for the three of us to meet, to talk about what we were doing, and where we were going.

Home. The territory was no longer neutral.

We sat Daryl down in the living room and Robin, doing her “My- Wife-I-Think-I’ll-Keep-Her” Perfect Hostess act, went off into the kitchen to make coffee. I said, “I’ll help,” and followed.

I watched her messing around with the coffemaker for a second. It looked like she was keeping herself busy so she wouldn't break down. It looked like she needed a hug.

I came up behind her and put my arms around her, nuzzled her on her favorite spot on the back of her neck. At first I didn't think she was going to respond, then she relaxed with a sigh and reached one hand behind her to grope my crotch. All was not forgiven, but at least all wasn't lost. I molded myself to her back, letting her feel the growing bulge in my crotch. My hands strayed to her nipples and I let her feel some teeth at her neck. She moaned.

I gently turned her around and kissed her, nibbling on her tongue and gently chewing her lips. I was still stroking her breasts; I stopped for a moment, found her hands, and gently raised them up to my own tits. She seemed confused. I could understand why. Before I met Daryl, I thought tits on men were about as useful as training wheels on a semi. He'd put his hands on my tits and start squeezing, and I'd slap his hand away, but sooner or later he'd be fingering them again, and pretty soon I stopped slapping his hand away. It felt good.

When her fingernails started biting into my tits through my dress shirt, I moaned and my dick suddenly got about ten degrees harder. She undid a few buttons and saw the way my nipples stood up and the gooseflesh was radiating out across my chest, and she looked me straight in the eye. "You like this?"

"Oh, yeah," I said, as she took firm hold of each tit and twisted. "I like it a lot, baby."

"Did he teach you that?" she asked.

I nodded.

She flicked my tits again. "Then I guess he must be OK," she said, and she smiled. Then she put one arm around my waist and said, "Come on." We went out into the livingroom that way, me with my shirt half open and my dick trying to burst out of my pants, she with one arm around me and the sexiest, nastiest smile I'd seen on her face in a long while.

"Daryl. Come here," she said. Daryl got up off the couch. He looked about as confused as I felt. Robin let go of me and opened up her arms, grabbed Daryl in a big hug and kissed him. Hard. I almost laughed at the comic look he threw me, like, "What the hell? This is a woman! What do I do with this?" And then her fingers were stroking his tits and I finally got the idea, and joined them.

Once again I molded myself to her back, reached around, and cupped her breasts. I stroked them briefly, feeling her nipples harden under my touch. Then I started unbuttoning her blouse. My beautiful baby doesn't need to wear a bra, and when I pulled aside the cloth her nipples were hard as rocks. I gave Daryl a significant look, and he hesitantly raised his fingers to her tits.

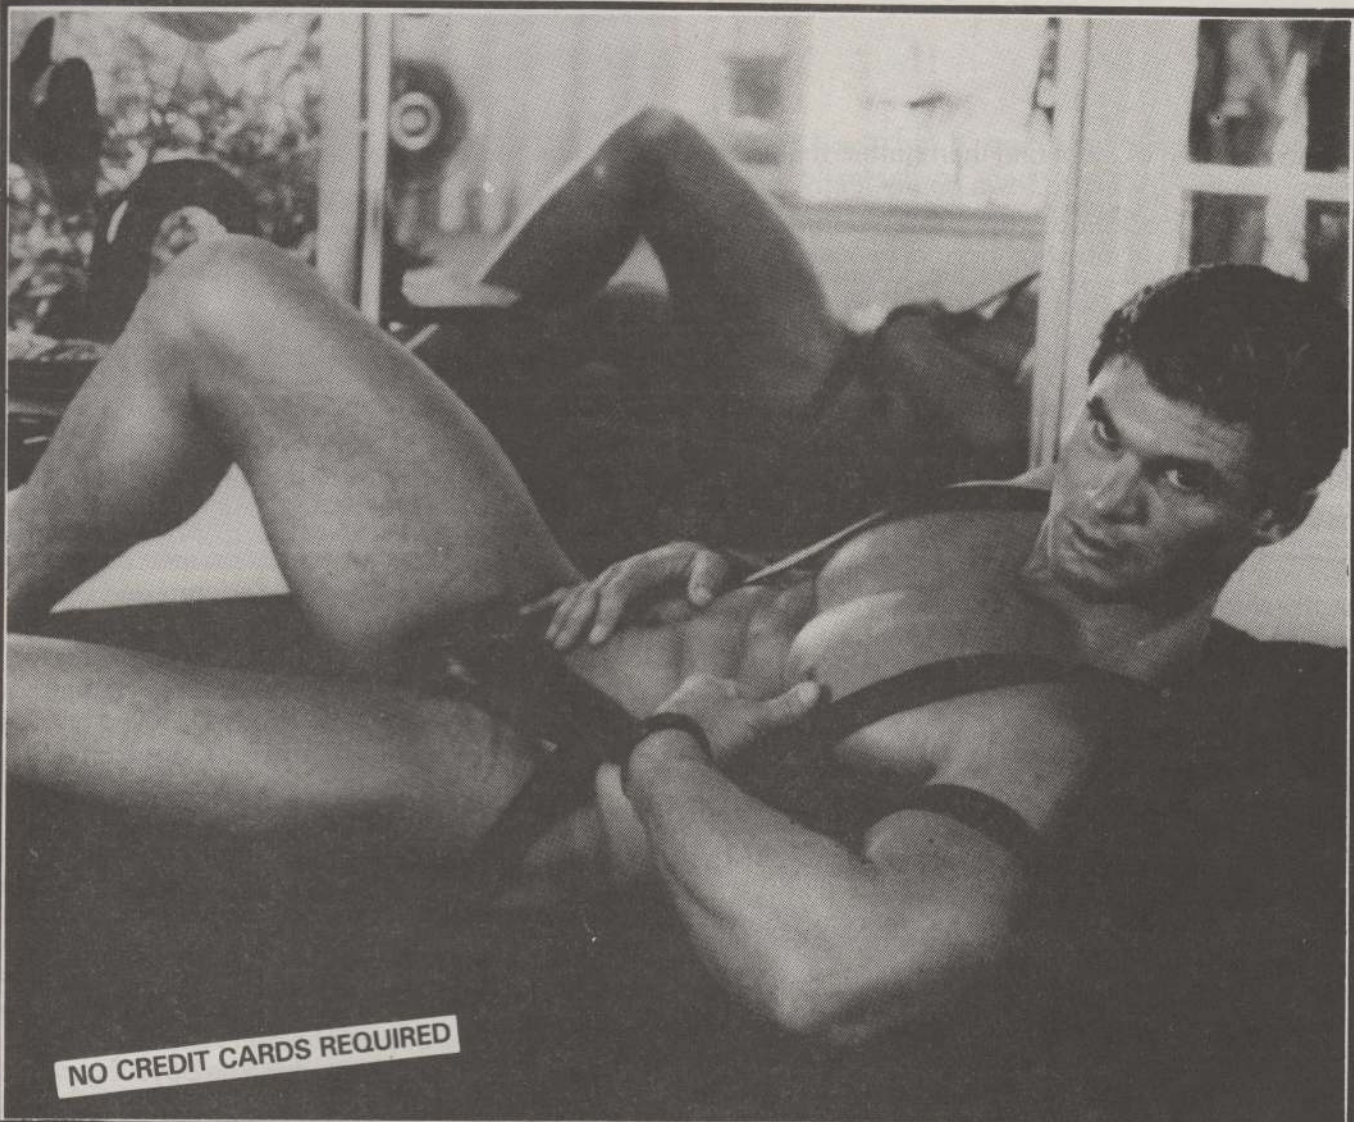

She was so turned on to her tits now that I came around in front and replaced one of Daryl's hands with my mouth, sucking and licking and gently biting. After a minute I felt Daryl's head beside me as he began slurping at her other tit. Robin's head was thrown back and she was breathing very rapidly. One of Daryl's hands started playing with my left tit; his other hand was down massaging my crotch. I was stroking Robin's back and stomach, trailing my fingers lightly over her spine, which always makes her shiver. I took a minute to let loose my aching cock from the confines of my pants, and suddenly all three of us caught a whiff of my sweaty crotch.

Daryl gave out a guttural moan and fell down to his knees, sniffing hard and long and reaming out my foreskin with his tongue. I stood up straight and thrust my own tongue in Robin's open mouth, and she responded with her tongue, her lips, her teeth. I gathered a bunch of spit in my mouth and gently spat it into her, another trick I'd picked up from Daryl. She rolled it around in her mouth and, to my joy, spat it back into me. We made a fucking slobbering mess of our faces while Daryl was on his knees making a slobbery mess of my crotch.

In a minute my legs started shaking—that cocksucker was doing his damndest to get my load in him right off the bat, and my dick was starting to swell just before cumming, so I reached down and grabbed him by the hair and pulled him off me, hard. He was gasping for breath but still I had to hold onto him with all my strength to keep him from sinking my shaft down his cocksucker throat again. I gave Robin a "watch this" squeeze and pulled away.

"Whew," I whistled, "I have got to sit down." I threw myself down on the sofa and snapped my fingers. "Boy. Get my shoes."

Robin wasn't sure how to react as Daryl, still on his knees, crawled over and started untying my shoes. His eyes were fixed on my face in adoration. Usually when we do this, I'm wearing my raunchy workboots, and he works them over inside and out with his tongue, then starts in on my socks. But tonight I was wearing dress shoes from going to the restaurant, and they didn't hardly smell, so he just slipped them off and then caressingly pulled off my socks. He took a deep whiff out of them and then stuffed them in my shoes. . . then he went to town on my feet.

"Oh, yeah, cocksucker, use those teeth—yeah—" I've had whores in massage parlors give me footrubs before, but Daryl was the first ever to chew on my feet—most relaxing thing I've ever felt. I get awful sore feet pounding concrete in those boots and Daryl fixes that right up. "Yeah, cocksucker likes sucking the crud outa my toes, don't he?"

He moaned and licked and chewed harder and sloppier. And as much as it winds down the tension down there, a good tongue bath on the feet gets me awful wound up somewhere else—my dick was jumping around like a frog in a blender. I patted it gently with one hand, then patted the couch cushion next to me. "Oh, honey?"

Robin looked like she didn't know whether to pee or shit. Apparently she chose "none of the above," 'cause without a word she climbed onto the couch. Not where I'd patted: she climbed right over Daryl and hopped up on the couch, standing with her feet to either side of my butt and leaning against the wall for balance. Then she pulled up her skirt and stuck her crotch in my face.

She was still wearing panties, of course, and even though she'd showered that evening there was a heady sweat-smell clinging to the fabric. I sucked on her underwear and chewed and licked and she humped my face—suddenly I thought I knew what it must feel like to be a cocksucker. I tore down her panties with my teeth and dove in, tongue extended and hard. She moaned. I reached up with one hand and rolled a tit between my fingers, and she moaned again.

I kicked Daryl, not hard, just to get his attention, and ordered him to stand up. If I ducked my head a little I could see between Robin's legs, and his dick was standing straight up, even dribbling a little. I ordered him to put his arms around Robin, play with her tits, then I reached into a pocket and pulled out a rubber. While I was unrolling the safe down my meat I watched them get used to touching each other—they were both a little hesitant, but soon Daryl was rubbing right up against Robin's back, and it looked like he was humping her buns. Meantime Robin was just enjoying the expert fingers on her tits.

When I was dressed, I put my hands on her hips and gently urged Robin downward. Her knees bent, and Daryl got the idea, keeping her supported but letting her crotch slip down toward my waiting cock.

The both of us moaned in stereo when it slipped in, and Robin almost immediately started bucking—slow, steady, tightening and relaxing, breathing long

"I want to see you suck your boy,
Daddy.
I want you to know what it feels like.

slow steady breaths. I leaned forward and sucked on one nipple while I reached around Robin and found Daryl's throbbing erection. I also found one of his hands there, too, and I slapped it away. His meat was hot and slippery from precum and I jacked him just a little, feeling him squirm and listening to him gasp. Then I let go of his dick and grabbed his balls. Hard.

"Unh! Daddy, please—"

Robin jerked and I looked up. Her eyes were open, questioning. I nodded, looked her straight in the eye.

"Yeah, baby. I'm his Daddy. He's just a boy. Sometimes I have to tell him what to do, make him do it, 'cause he's just a boy and he don't know better. But he knows Daddy knows best, don't he boy?" I gave a tug on his balls.

"Yes, Daddy!" A gasp. "Yes, Sir."

"Good boy." I never lost eye contact with Robin. "He does what I say, baby. Just like you do sometimes. Only if he fucks up, doesn't do what I say, I beat his ass. 'Cause he likes that, too. Don't you boy?"

A tug. "Yes, Sir!"

"Good boy."

She slowly, slowly, resumed her up and down motion on my cock as she thought about all this. One hand, seemingly absentmindedly, lowered down to stroke one of my tits. She felt my dick pulse within her and a languid smile spread across her lips. I felt her fingernails on my tit, not gouging, just. . . the potential for a lot of pain, and she said:

"You better not think you can slap me around, boy. You're not my Daddy."

With my free hand I patted her ass. "'Course not,

You've been getting it from him, and getting it from me. Now I want to see you give it, 'Daddy'!"

baby. Daryl wants it. You'll see. You'll see him beg for it, beg for a spanking. Won't you boy?"

A tug. A moan. "Yes, Sir!"

Her nails were still on my tits. She wasn't finished. "Cause maybe you're this boy's Daddy, but don't you ever, ever forget who your Mama is."

"My—"

In one motion she was off me and off the couch, with a soft thwick! and my dick was waving in the air again. There was a fire in her eyes I hadn't seen before as she looked us both up and down. . . I didn't know what the fuck she had in mind but it looked nasty.

"Big trucker Daddy likes to get his dick sucked, huh?" Jesus, where'd she learn to talk so tough? Maybe I didn't want to know. I sat frozen on the couch. Robin patted Daryl on the head like a school-boy, then reached down and grabbed him by the cock. From the looks of it, she grabbed harder than I did—he nearly buckled. She pulled him closer to the couch and reached with her other hand for my necktie.

"I want to see you suck your boy, Daddy. I want you to know what it feels like. You've been getting it from him, and getting it from me—now I want to see you give it—'Daddy'!"

It was a fucking conspiracy. She dragged me forward by the tie and I swear, he lunged at my mouth, which was wide open in shock, without the slightest prompting from her. I guess the boy'd been waiting for this for some time!

I swear, to that day I'd never sucked cock. Never even thought about it. I'd get sucked off all the time, and once or twice a cocksucker'd hint that he'd like the same back, but it wasn't my thing. I guess I just thought of myself as the straight macho stud who wasn't queer 'cause he never took it, only dished it out.

Daryl dished it out and then some. It had never occurred to me how big his dick really was—I mean, why would it? It wasn't as big as mine, and who gave a fuck anyway? But this hot slippery slab of meat slid between my lips and right away stabbed at my tonsils like he expected me to deep throat him. And I guess he did, and I guess Robin did, too, 'cause they were both telling me how to take it.

"—Open wide like you're yawning—"

"—And swallow—" "—Yeah, swallow like you're taking a drink of water—"

"—Yeah, keep swallowing—"

"—Take it like you give it, Daddy—no, wait a sec, you don't really know what it tastes like, do you?" Robin reached down and snapped the rubber off my dick, then smeared her fingers around and under my foreskin. Even though Daryl had been working it with his tongue earlier, there was still some funk there (maybe he'd been saving some for later?) and Robin smeared it on the head of Daryl's dick.

"Lemme see that tongue," she ordered, and my tongue slid out of my mouth like a Spaniel's. "Lap it up, Daddy."

Yeah. I took a whiff. It smelled like me. I guess all this time I'd spent convincing Robin how sexy that smell was, I'd been convincing me, too. My tongue went out and it tasted like it smelled, only better. I slathered my tongue all over Daryl's dick, snorting and sucking like a fucking pig. I lost all sense of who I was, of who Daryl was, who Robin was. I lost all sense of everything but that fucking smelly pole in front of me. They didn't have to tell me how to suck anymore. My body knew what it wanted.

"—Good boy. Good boy." Who the fuck was that? Their voices were blending into each other so I couldn't tell. Who the fuck was calling me "boy?"

"—Oh, yeah, good boy, good boy good boy good boy oh fuck oh FUCK OH FUCK—"

It fucking hurt like hell, his rod ramming down my throat, I was swallowing, swallowing, trying to swallow, choking and gagging but there were four hands on my head shoving me down on his prick, it was sloppy with my own fucking spit and cheese and puke, and he was shooting down my throat, there was a warmth, a warmth spreading down my gullet as I swallowed and swallowed, and I don't know where it came from but suddenly I just couldn't hold it in and I was shooting too, and I heard Robin (it had to be Robin,) crowing, watching me shoot my load sucking off my boy. . . and a picture came to me, me on my knees in front of this cocksucker boy, face dripping with slime and shuddering, shooting, cumming like I'd never cum before, my wife laughing her fucking head off. . . and I came again. And couldn't hold it in. I doubled over and tears were running down my face, strange noises escaping my lips. . .

When I began to come out of it, they were both there, Robin behind me with her arms around me, Daryl on his knees in front, stroking my chest, making cooing sounds.

Gradually I became aware of the load of slime that was oozing around inside my hood. I wasn't in any hurry to get it licked out, but I expected it to get done. And get done good. I took several long breaths, and when I thought I could speak, I fixed my sternest Daddy look on Daryl. "Boy. . ." I said.

Just the barest hint of a smile as he answered. Well, that was all right. I'd wipe it off pretty quick. "Yes, Sir."

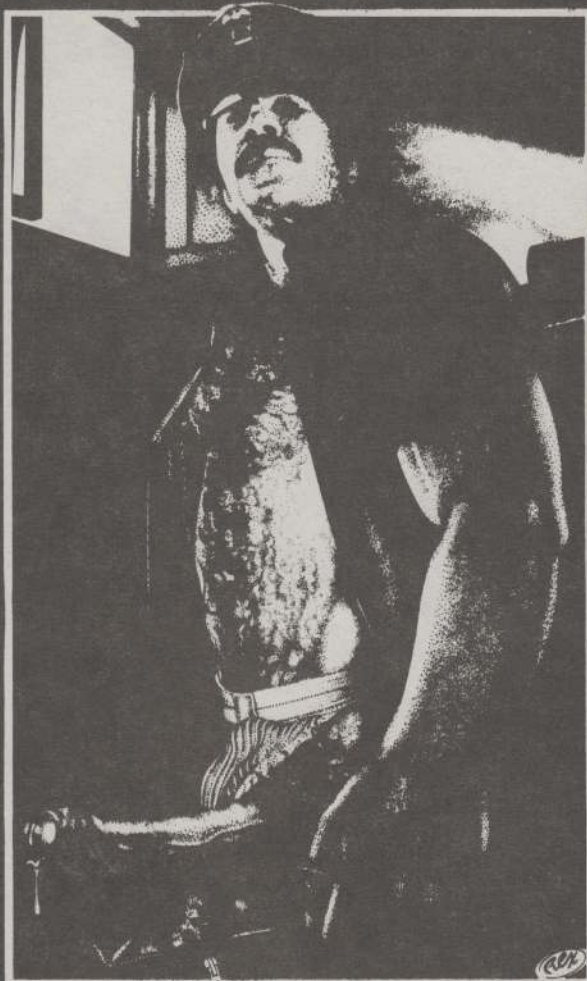

"You're in a pile of shit boy. You hear me? A fucking pile of shit, boy. You think I tanned your ass before, you ain't seen nothing."

He dropped his eyes. "Yes, Sir." After a few seconds, he said, "Are you mad, Daddy?"

I sighed and leaned my head back on Robin's breasts and blew her a kiss. Her fingertips clutched at my tits, nice this time, real nice. Mama. Where'd she come up with that one?—Didn't matter. Looked like we had us a family. "Course I'm not mad, boy. It's for your own good. Soon as I catch my breath, you'd better be ready to take your medicine, boy. For your own good."

Something about the way he said, "Yes, Daddy. Thank you, Sir," let me know I was in for a long night. We all were. ■

Foreskin Preferred

At the age of twenty-eight I have finally found an uncircumcised male with whom to have an intimate relationship. I didn't know that was what I was looking for, but now that I have found him, I realize the importance of foreskin. He's an average sort of guy; nothing out of the ordinary, except that his mother insisted that he not be circumcised. What has been most obvious to me in terms of differences have been the sensitivity, caring and gentleness of this man. I have discovered that he also has needs for going slowly, sharing what is being internally felt and equally participates in creating pleasure for the both of us.

For myself, an uncircumcised male is aesthetically more arousing. I perceive an uncircumcised penis to be natural, for this is how a male is formed. Males and females are designed according to nature so that they "fit" one another physically, emotionally, psychologically and rhythmically. Yet through the act of circumcision we seem to have forced men and women apart by creating unresolvable and deep seated anger which is unconscious to both men and women. I find the process of circumcision to be one of the most hostile and violent acts being commonly performed, and socially accepted, today.

What message is being impressed upon that infant male with this kind of act? Could it be males who have been circumcised (and let's face it, in the United States that about covers them all) tend to be less physically sensitive and emotionally less feeling as a result of having been mutilated?

At the time when they are completely helpless and vulnerable, they are attacked, yet we expect them to grow into compassionate, sensitive adults. What greater act of cruelty is being routinely carried out without any choice on the part of the individual? Certainly this "act" is the first battle in the war between the sexes on an individual basis for that baby male.

My experience has been that an uncircumcised male has been continually cared for and valued as a human being from the moment of his birth. As an infant, he was protected and allowed to grow up and make choices regarding his body for himself; that his sensitivity and feelings were valued, nurtured and allowed to be expressed.

The "macho", "tough guy" has been brutally cut off from truly feeling, for that would require acceptance of this horrible act society so uninhibitedly okays.

Sexual dysfunction also seems nonexistent in uncircumcised males, perhaps this is because their sexuality has not been violently attacked?

Probably the most enjoyable aspect of relating to a male who has not been circumcised is the increased communication. My current partner has stated that he cannot "rush in". The initial "entering" must be done with slowness and an "easing in". There is also no apparent need to "pound" one's self in and out at great speed. A more gentle rhythm with tantalizingly slower speeds seems to be more satisfying and pleasant for both of us. I am of the belief that this increased sensitivity and greater satisfaction through more subtle and flowing movements is because the head of an uncircumcised penis is measurably more sensitive. An uncircumcised penis has developed only about two layers of skin, whereas the circumcised penis has developed anywhere from sixteen to twenty-two layers. Due to the lack of skin layers, it seems obvious that the uncircumcised penis is considerably more responsive. In fact, the sensitivity of the circumcised penis can be compared to the sensitivity of one's forearm; therefore, the need to thrust more vigorously with greater force and speed seems apparent for those males who have been "desensitized" by circumcision.

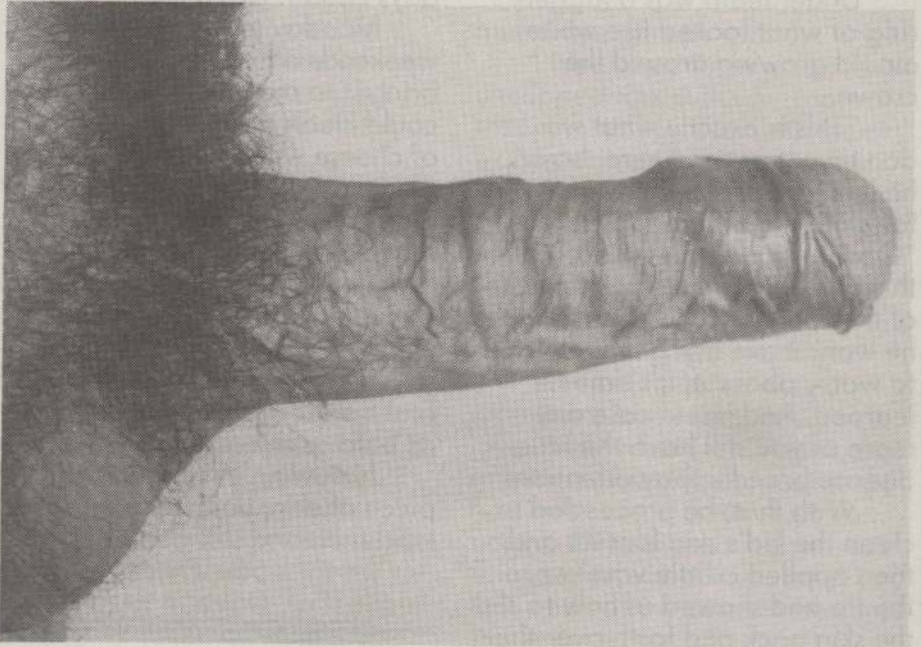

Being female, I don't know how much of what I have said holds true for all males, I can only share my experiences. I have enjoyed more sexual pleasure and fulfillment with my intimate, uncircumcised partner because we both find that expressing our individual needs, wants and choices for exploring to be effortless and satisfying. I feel included and considered throughout our "love making", which I partially attribute to the natural structure of an uncircumcised penis. I have also found my female qualities of sensitivity, gentleness, caring, the desire to touch and be touched, and general sensuousness matched by my uncircumcised partner, because he too is more aware of such feelings and wants. The advantages of being with an uncircumcised male have been so great that I would possibly suggest to any future circumcised "mate" to consider surgery for the replacement of the foreskin for his own increased sexual pleasure, as well as mine.

I look forward to those times I spend with my partner and the opportunities to learn how a male feels. Discovering the timing of another individual and then being able to match and pace that person is exciting and satisfying. Until this uncircumcised male entered my life, I did not believe such intense intimacy could be created and maintained. Perhaps all of this has been made possible because this adult male never engaged in the war between the sexes for he was truly loved and valued as a baby male by his mother, and is most definitely loved and cherished as an adult male by me.

I can still remember the first time I ever saw an uncut dick. I was twelve years old. My father had died a few months before and I had been sent to Military School (for my own good!)

The first order of business was a complete physical overseen by an ex-Army Captain obsessed with genital cleanliness!

It seemed to be the only thing on his mind. No matter what your complaint or ailment, he always seemed to be able to bring the conversation back to how you were taking care of what was hanging between your legs.

If you went to him for a bad headache, he had you drop your pants so he could handle your privates. And any kid who came to him with his foreskin still intact was just asking for trouble.

You see, in this place, skins were forbidden. New recruits who arrived uncut didn't last long that way. The first order of business was an appointment for a circumcision.

The year I "joined-up" (as they liked to put it), six guys in my class still had their skins. One of them, this big-old boy from Tennessee.

He was in line right in front of me during "pecker inspection" that first week I was there. He was only a little older than the rest of us, but boy, nature sure had been kind to that mountain boy. Even through his jockey shorts you could tell he had the biggest pecker in the room, hands down.

When he dropped his shorts to his ankles for inspection, the Doc jumped up so fast he knocked his stool over.

"Good God, soldier, don't you ever wash that thing?"

I remember wondering what he was talking about when suddenly this incredible smell filled my nostrils.

"Jesus H. Christ", the Doc cursed. "Now, take a look at this"

And with that, he turned this big boy around to face the few of us still left waiting in the room. He took (what to me was the biggest dick I'd ever seen) in his hand and slid back the thick piece of skin that covered the fat head.

Underneath was a jagged ring of what looked like white mould growing around the crown.

"This is exactly what we don't want around here, boys", he lectured us, all the while fondling the kid's floppy tool. "Obviously, no one ever taught this one how to take proper care of the foreskin. And even though he won't have much longer to worry about it, it's time he learned. And just in case any more of you still have the little disease breeder, pay attention!"

With that, he proceeded to clean the kid's skin for him and then applied a little vaseline to the tip and showed us how to slip the skin back and forth over the head.

I don't know what the rest of the guys were thinking, but I couldn't take my eyes off that big beautiful piece of skin and the smell of it still lingered in my nose. Suddenly, I realized that the kid was watching me watch his dick being fondled by the Doc. I looked up and our eyes met for just a second and I could see the cat & canary grin on his face. I was hooked and he knew it.

That afternoon, he had me down on my knees behind the outdoor bathrooms on the soccer field. The good smell had been washed away by the Doc, but I could still roll that beautiful piece of skin around in my mouth. I had never sucked cock before, but I learned fast.

I got to suck it many times in the next few weeks. In fact, most days I had it two or three times.

Monday mornings, after weekends off-campus, he would bring it to me unwashed so I could clean the two days worth of cheese with my tongue and then wash it down with those loads of cum that young men of that age seem to be able to produce.

Soon, though, our hot times were over for both of us. Doc scheduled him for a "clipping" and before we knew it, he was as bald as the rest of us.

I know he misses that big piece of skin, but not as much as I did then and still do now.

My husband has a foreskin that is really quite unique, I think. Not that I've seen that many, but Eddie likes to bring men home from the gym for me to play with from time to time.

He knows how much I love playing with his foreskin, so whenever he sees a new guy at the gym with a beautiful hang at the end of his penis, he approaches him and shows a picture of me that he carries around with him all the time.

In the photo, my mouth is wide open and the tip of Eddie's soft cock is lying on my tongue.

His foreskin disappears into the darkness at the back of my throat. The look in my eyes is as unmistakable as Eddie's invitation. Very few men have turned down the chance to stick their beautiful uncut pricks into my waiting and oh, so willing mouth.

So, I guess you could say I've seen my share of foreskins these past six years that Eddie and I have been together. And I've seen all kinds. Long, floppy overhangs; thin, tight sheaths like a natural rubber; thick, meaty hoods that almost double the thickness of the glans; all kinds.

But none as beautiful as Eddie's.

I hope this picture will give you some idea of how lucky I am to have a man with such an incredible piece of meat. Oh, it's not that big, I know, but every inch is USA Prime Meat.

And I know just what to do with it. I know just how he likes my tongue to explore under that beautiful hood. How to force a little spittle inside so it can mix with his natural juices and then flow fragrantly back into my mouth.

How to tease the head of his shaft out from under its protective covering and then let it slide back in.

How to chew on the thick skin, walking the thin line between pleasure and pain.

And finally, when he's ready, how to swallow all of it for him, letting the head sit at the back of my mouth while he slips it in and out of its skin and down my throat.

I hope, if you're lucky enough to have a man with a beautiful piece of skin, that you know how to take care of it for him. Because if you don't, Eddie may just be showing him my picture one day, and I'll be doing it for you.

Skin It Back

I guess it all started when I was brought home as an uncircumcised baby. I was wrapped in swaddling clothes and could care less at the time whether or not I was circumcised.

I was still in infancy when my mother started taking Petroleum Jelly and lubricating my foreskin by skinning it back. This was a daily ritual and as I found out later, just as good if not better than a circumcision. As I entered puberty my mother turned the job of skinning it back over to me. Explaining that it prevents hygienic and other problems later on. I really didn't mind the skinning back too much. In fact there were times when I found it stimulating and pleasurable.

As the years went by, so came the myths of not being circumcised and what it could do.

Such as you lose your sensitivity and the woman doesn't enjoy sex as much. Well, I have never had any complaints in the sex department and if it got anymore sensitive, I couldn't stand it. Then you have the one that all that excess foreskin can cause cervical cancer in women. It may or may not be true. But my response to this one is "BULL". I have been with the same mate and she doesn't have cervical cancer.

I understand that some women find an uncircumcised man a sexual turn-on. On the negative side, it could prove to be a sexual turn-off. Hygiene is the key word here. It can definitely be a turn-off to a woman who is being intimate with you and she discovers that un-welcome gunk-headcheese. This is one problem I never had. With all the skinning back with vaselining over the years, the hygiene problem never developed. I had a few other minor problems. Like the time the foreskin decided to outwit my pants zipper and lost. Talk about hurting. Then on especially cold days, the foreskin blanket decides it wants to pull itself over the head to stay warm. But gentle persuasion remedies that.

I have found over the years that not being circumcised has not caused me any sorrows, but it has afforded me many pleasures. So my advice is: if you are having problems getting to the head, it's never too late! "SKIN IT BACK"

Head Cheese

Thanks for printing my letter about Nam in FQ a couple of issues ago. Head cheese was always a hassle for us uncuts in that lousy place, and I don't think anybody much cared. The letter you printed about "Platoon" was right. In trying to be totally accurate the movie talked about foreskins and "Cheesedick", a term I haven't heard in eighteen years.

I'll bet the movie writer is unclipped too. Actually, most troopers had foreskins. Combat troops were minorities or small town white kids like me, and most of us weren't clipped. Officers usually were cut, although I didn't see many naked ones except my LTs. This difference led to some strange conversations.

We had humped in the mountains for weeks, and got a new "brown bar" as LT. He came in with a resupply chopper that had new jungle "crammies" on board. Of course, our gear was falling apart about this time, and the inside of my pants had plenty of cheese smeared around. I don't know if it was the heat in there or the nightly erections, but all the uncut guys in the fire team had cheese around the ends of their skins and on their pants. Nobody even thought about it, it was so normal.

Anyway, this blond guy from the Dakotas who wore those black Army issue glasses pulled his fatigue pants off (no shirt) and started digging around the equipment to find the right size pants. He had one of those open skins with the head showing, but you couldn't see anything because his knob and skin were covered with white cheese.

As the flies buzzed around the guy's cock while he looked for pants, the LT turned to me (I was a E4 then) and gasped about what was wrong with the guy's dick.

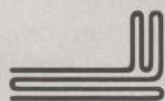

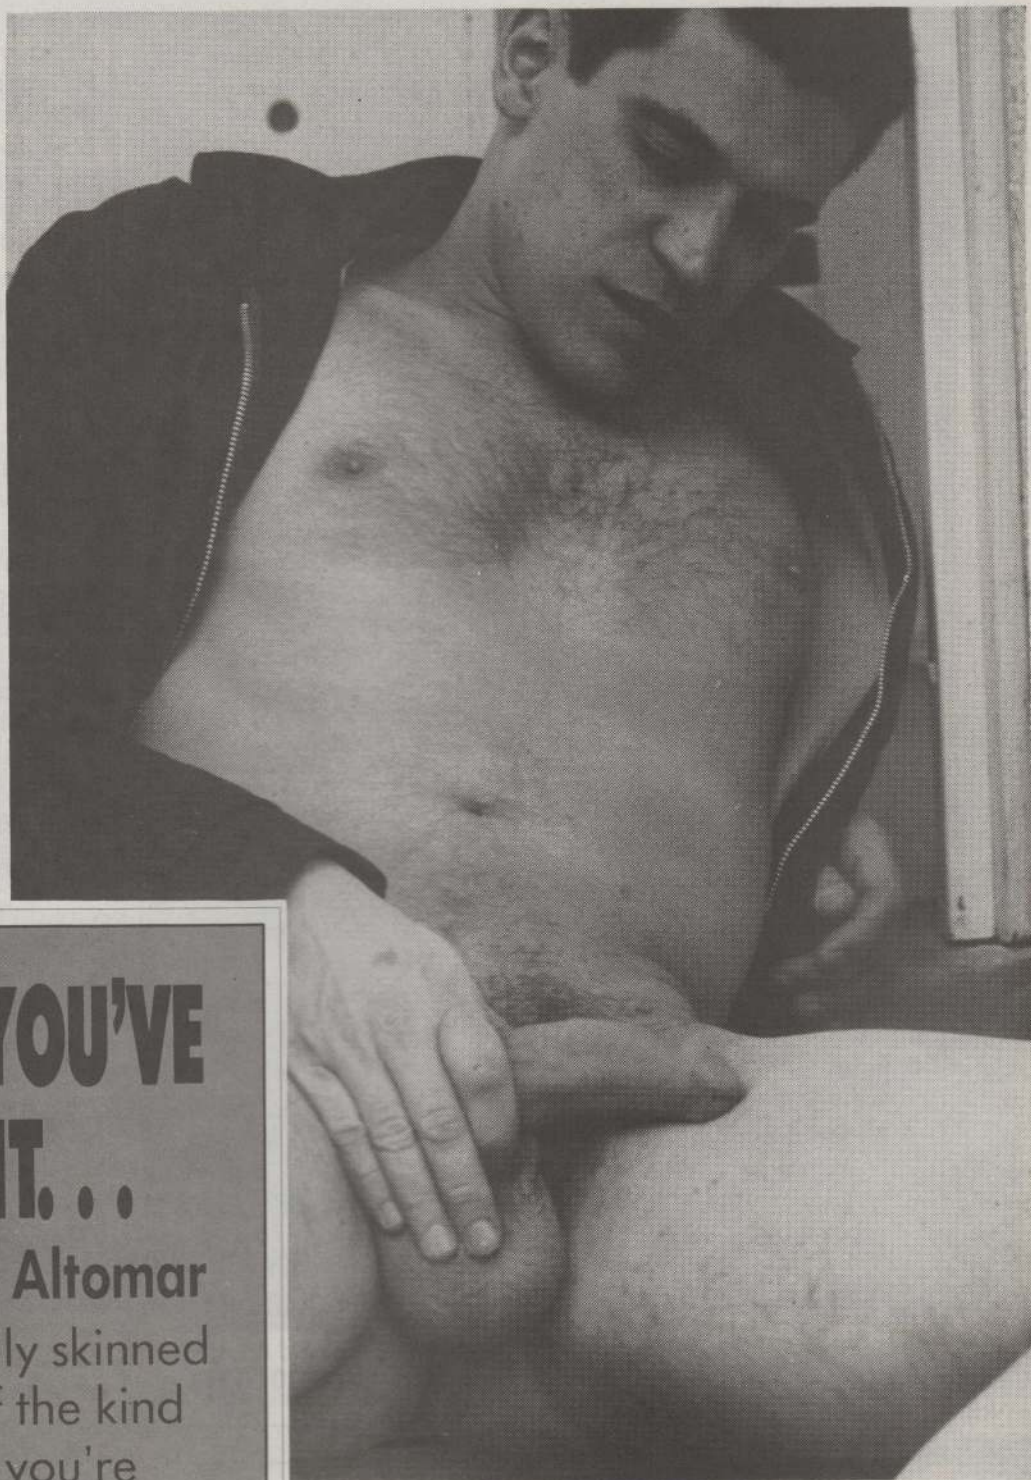

I was about to change into new fatigues myself, so I opened my pants and showed him my dick with cheese all over the foreskin tip. "It's just head cheese, LT. You got to wipe it off your dick all the time. Jimmy just doesn't do it enough." He just stared at me, so I skinned back to show him my thick load. The dude just walked away.

What "Platoon" didn't show was beating off in the bush. Combat troops didn't seem to get any with the "friendly natives". Mostly we just gave ourselves, and sometimes buddies, hand jobs.

You'd be on watch in a firehole with nothing to do, so you'd get bored and start thinking about sex. Nineteen year olds get hard real fast, so you'd pull out your dick and beat it off until it shot over the sandbags. You could tell when someone in the team was beating off, because you could smell his exposed knob.

My favorite place to beat off was on a LP. Only two of you would be outside the perimeter with a radio. One stayed awake while the other slept. Jimmy and I used to get off together all the time. He liked my long skin; his was too short. We would pull our dicks out and start stroking and after they were hard we would switch and beat each other off. I always brought a rag along because after he shot, I'd have to wipe his cheese and cum off my hand. For some reason, he never remembered to bring one.

RESTORATION

ONE MAN'S FIRST HAND EXPERIENCE

Paradise. . .

Paradise Lost. . .

Paradise Regained. . .

Some guys have had it all!

I am offering my story to my intact and cut brothers for their enrichment, in return for their stories which I have read. I hope we both can grow from each other's odysseys.

I was born in the late '40s in a small city in the South, a part of the country in which upper-middle-class couples chose, as one way to exhibit their "modernness," the circumcision of their newborn sons. Luckily my intact father valued his foreskin enough (and was encouraged by a sympathetic physician) to allow my brother and me to remain whole.

For the first 19 years of life I enjoyed an ample foreskin, which even after puberty was long enough to give me almost a full inch of loose overhang pucker. With a full erection, the thick skin still kept even the asshole from showing, and if I had masturbated to erection, the tip would peek through. (Of course, it was very loose, since I had been retracting it completely in my bath since the age of 4. The scene of my father instructing my brother and me in this part of male hygiene is still etched in my sexual memory.)

My first sexual experience (I think it was sexual, but I don't really have a memory) occurred when I was about 4 or 5, when an older neighbor boy "examined" me with my pants down in the woods, and then invited me back to his house to take a bath. My brother interrupted the bath (I was nude but not in the tub yet).

I wonder now if the boy was intrigued by my intact member (I think, but am not sure, that he was cut).

When I was about 10, I started noticing that everyone except my brother, a classmate named Henry, and I were cut (my father explained this unnecessary surgery when I asked about it, as well as telling me why my brother and I had not been subjected to it). From then on I became an avid penis watcher, seeking out every opportunity possible to see if boys and men were cut or not.

When I was about 15 I was given a blow job by an older man who had noticed my interest at a public urinal. He and the men who followed never used my foreskin in their sex acts; they either held it back the entire time they fellated me, or had me hold it back so they could grasp my butt and/or play with my balls. I never had sex with another intact boy or man until the earthshattering event of my nineteenth year.

Oh, before I leave my high school years, I must relate that I did find another boy about my age who was intact, and who also felt "different," as I did. We never had a chance to explore each other any more than seeing each others' penises at a urinal once. I started having an erection at the sight of his large, medium lengthed skinhead coming from his trim, blond body.

I quickly put my ever-swelling member back into my pants and zipped up.

In college I was becoming uncomfortable with my carefully divided bisexuality (dating girls, sex with boys), so I made a date with a psychologist on campus. He didn't quite understand my feelings about being intact (he shared he was intact, too), but he realized that it was almost an obsession with me. As part of my "therapy" for feeling comfortable with my sexuality (and of possibly increasing the heterosexual part of me), he said that my being circumcised might help decrease my extreme interest in penises. Boy, was he wrong!

I talked with my father about my wishes, and he really couldn't understand, since my physician had examined me and said my foreskin worked perfectly ("practice makes perfect?"). So I finally had to share with him about my counseling and about my bisexual side. He agreed, and sought the local general practitioner in town (who was quite old) to perform the surgery.

The doctor examined me, and satisfied himself that my foreskin was fine. It was kind of fun having my foreskin worked back and forth, although I did have to use concentration not to get hard! When I told him that I felt like all the boys were staring at me in the shower, he agreed to perform the surgery.

After the surgery, however, I surmised that he must have thought my self-consciousness was due to my overhang (compared with the more typical tip-showing length of most white men—or so it seems to me), because he only removed the overhang—leaving me with a tip-exposing thick foreskin!

My father said I should not return to him because next time he might take off too much, and then I'd really have a problem! We were getting ready to move (my father was being transferred), and my father knew a competent urologist in our new hometown (a large city).

The urologist agreed, and I was prepared for a local-anesthesia operation. The night before, a handsome young blond man came to my room, said he was an orderly, and set about to shaving my pubic area. Not long after he took hold of my penis and started his up and down shaving movements, I had a raging hard-on! I was embarrassed to death, but he didn't seem to mind at all. Maybe it made shaving a penis easier!

The recircumcision was basically a success. When I was absolutely soft, the coronal rim was covered, but with the slightest swelling I appeared completely circumcised. With a full erection I could still pull the shaft skin over the corona, but my scar (about a half-inch down the shaft from the head) proved that I was really cut!

Of course my surgery did not relieve (if that is the correct phrase) my erotic attraction to men and their wonderful penises.

In fact, I became even more intrigued in finding out men's cut/intact status—and I preferred men with skin, the more the better. I always play with the foreskin, docking when possible (I've just been aware of this practice for the past year), tonguing beneath the skin, and moving the covered head round and round while I grasp the skin head in my fist. What a shame I never had sex with an intact boy/man until after I lost my own skin: what double skin tricks we could have had!

When I told him that I felt like all the boys were staring at me in the shower, he agreed to perform the surgery.

After graduating from college (my dormitory shower-mates always enjoyed looking at my non-impressive penis, before and after my surgery), I started missing my skin and wishing I had it back. I remember daydreaming that if a genie ever gave me a wish or wishes, I would wish for more foreskin back (I won't share my other wishes with you right now).

Then a few years ago I stumbled upon a book in the public library (of all places!) questioning routine infant circumcision, and listing names and addresses to which to write for information on non-surgical foreskin restoration (through taping and weights, the shaft skin is stretched back over the head). I eagerly wrote, received the information, and immediately started in on getting back a reasonable facsimile of my former glory of thick, puckered prepuce.

Now, after a little over a year of stretching, I have enough "foreskin" to cover all but the asshole when I'm completely soft, and just the tip shows when I'm ever so slightly aroused (like in the locker room). I also have the distinctive aroma when I lightly peel my dick to piss.

What about when I'm hard? Unlike with my original foreskin, my "neo-foreskin" fully retracts with an erection. However, I can pull it up enough to cover at least half of the head (which is what I do when I masturbate).

Many men (and women) might be interested in the differences which I have noticed during my three stages of foreskin ownership. I am glad to offer them here:

GLANS SENSITIVITY—With a full foreskin, the head was extremely sensitive to the touch, similar to the eyeball: if it was touched by a moist mucous membrane (e.g. the inner foreskin, mouth, vagina, rectum) it was pleasurable. If touched by any other surface (e.g. a dry or lubricated hand, clothing, etc.) it would cause me to wince in almost painful discomfort.

Following circumcision, the head toughened (over about a month) to where it was still equally able to be aroused (no decrease in sexual capability), but it was definitely not as sensitive to the touch (e.g. being rubbed by my underwear became not a problem, as it was soon after the head was first exposed). Some intact men report having little or no change in sensitivity following circumcision, but I wonder if they had rather short-lengthed foreskins which left much of the glans exposed even before circumcision. Complete glans coverage, as in my case, definitely kept the glans moist and very sensitive. (And, yes, the sensitivity of the glans has increased since stretching—not to the extent it was with my fully-covered original foreskin, but definitely more sensitivity than with a totally-exposed glans.) Which is better? Neither is "better", I guess, but there is definitely a difference. And the foreskin can be used in so many ways during sex play (but some persons like the mushroom shape of a tightly-cut cock, so I guess preferences vary). Personally, I am against infant circumcision. I think boys/men should be given their penises "naturelle" and then have them altered (circumcised, pierced, etc.) if they wish later in life. Infant circumcision certainly is not painless, as some physicians try to say as they seek to justify routine infant circumcision.

MASTURBATION—with a foreskin I was never sore after prolonged or oft-repeated masturbation.

Without a foreskin, it was not uncommon to have "friction burns" after masturbation even when using a lubricant. With a less sensitive glans, I enjoyed rubbing my lubed fist up and down over the corona (which would have been impossible with a foreskin-protected sensitive head). Incidentally, Masters and Johnson reported that their intact subjects did not retract the foreskin completely on the "downstrokes."

Which is better?
Neither is "better",
I guess, but there is definitely a difference.

I did/do because I enjoy the feeling of the foreskin bumping against the corona on the "upstrokes"! With an intact partner, I always find out somehow if he likes full retraction during masturbation or not (and I never rub the glans directly).

INTERCOURSE—I had experienced neither vaginal nor anal intercourse before being circumcised, so I cannot compare in this area.

I know now that the sexual feelings coming from my glans are more intense since stretching gave me a "new foreskin" (and my wife insists she feels something different during intercourse since I "regained" my glans cover).

I wish I could sign this article with an address so that I could share stories/findings with other men (and women), but I am a happily-married bisexual man. My wife knows my feelings against circumcision (she was supportive of my efforts at stretching, likes the look of my foreskined-soft and loose-skinned hard penis and agreed with me not to have our two sons circumcised), but who would not understand my reading FQ.

So I handle (nice choice of words!) my gay fantasies by stroking my new skin up and down, spreading my ample pre-cum all over my sensitive pink glans, as I drool and dream about the intact men of gay magazines. Thank you, thank you, thank you for FQ, and I hope all you intact men out there will show your skins off as much as possible in the rest rooms and locker rooms of this country (as I proudly show mine to the admiring eyes of cut and intact men alike).

I hope the few men in my locker room who almost frantically fight to keep their skins retracted in order to pass as cut will stop and glory in their luck at having been spared the misdirected scalpels of obstetricians, pediatricians, and medical and civilian physicians who believed in clipping rather than stretching. Long live skin!

Declaration of the First International Symposium On Circumcision

We recognize the inherent right of all human beings to an intact body. Without religious or racial prejudice, we affirm this basic human right. We recognize the foreskin, clitoris and labia are normal, functional body parts.

Parents and/or guardians do not have the right to consent to the surgical removal or modification of their children's normal genitalia.

Physicians and other health-care providers have a responsibility to refuse to remove or mutilate normal body parts.

The only persons who may consent to medically unnecessary procedures upon themselves are the individuals who have reached the age of consent (adulthood), and then only after being fully informed about the risks and benefits of the procedure.

We categorically state that circumcision has unrecognized victims.

In view of the serious physical and psychological consequences that we have witnessed in victims of circumcision, we hereby oppose the performance of a single additional unnecessary foreskin, clitoral, or labial amputation procedure.

We oppose any further studies which involve the performance of the circumcision procedure upon unconsenting minors. We support any further studies which involve identification of the effect of circumcision.

Physicians and other health-care providers do have a responsibility to teach hygiene and the care of normal body parts and explain their normal anatomical and physiological development and function throughout life.

We place the medical community on notice that it is being held accountable for misconstruing the scientific database available on human circumcision in the world today.

Physicians who practice routine circumcisions are violating the first maxim of medical practice, "Primum non nocere", "First do no harm", and anyone practicing genital mutilation is violating Article V of the Universal Declaration of Human rights, "No one shall be subjected to torture or to cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment."

Circumcision- It's Not Necessary

Dr. Spock now believes that circumcision of males is traumatic, painful and of questionable value

What I recommended to parents about circumcision in early editions of Baby and Child Care is quite different from what I recommend now. In the 1940s, I favored circumcision performed within a few days of birth for a couple of reasons. First, there was, at the time, a commonly held belief in medical circles that women married to uncircumcised men were more likely to develop cancer of the cervix. The second reason I favored routine circumcision was that if the operation were performed on a newborn, there would be no chance of a physician scaring the bejeebers out of a boy by performing the operation when he was older. I personally had known of several instances in which an uncircumcised boy had been brought in to the family doctor because he had been holding onto his penis, which bothered the parents. The physician would then suggest that the area under the foreskin had perhaps become mildly infected, causing an irritation of the penis, and that the best treatment would be to cut off the foreskin, which was believed to be harboring the infection. But the psychological trauma of circumcising an older child cannot be overestimated.

When an older boy is circumcised, even though the body of the penis remains, the circumcision suggests to the child that an attempt has been made to cut his penis off and, in fact, the attempt has been partially successful. It is understandable, then, that a young boy would become deeply upset by the operation.

In 1971, a task force of the American Academy of Pediatrics concluded that there is no medical reason to recommend routine circumcision, and I voiced the same opinion in the 1976 revision of Baby and Child Care. I hoped that the controversy would then be settled once and for all. But today, there are again some physicians who favor routine circumcision because they are of the opinion (not substantiated by solid scientific proof) that circumcision will decrease, at least to a small degree, the risk of contracting various venereal diseases in adulthood. But many physicians, myself included, are unconvinced.

My own preference, if I had the good fortune to have another son, would be to leave his little penis alone.

*Benjamin Spock, M.D.

Presentation (excerpts)
To The California Medical Association Scientific and Educational Activities Committee
Anaheim, CA / 4-4-89
by James L. Synder, M.D.

In 1986, I presented to the Virginia Urologic Society two infants who had been circumcised with disastrous results. One had suffered a degloving injury with loss of all the skin of the penile shaft and required further surgery. The second infant suffered gangrene and necrosis of the entire glans and penis due to electrocautery. I was called as a consultant to see both of these infants within hours of their injuries and can tell you that both of these children will be lifetime genital cripples.

As a result of this presentation, the Virginia Urologic Society adopted a unanimous resolution against routine newborn circumcision.

Imagine my surprise to learn that the California Medical Association had adopted a resolution endorsing newborn circumcision as a measure to prevent herpes, syphilis, gonorrhea, chancroid and lymphogranuloma venereum. Each of these diseases has a known etiologic agent and as a physician in the US Navy I have treated circumcised American servicemen for each of these conditions, using specific and effective antibiotics to cure what circumcision did not prevent.

Recent speculation that routine newborn circumcision can reduce urinary tract infections or prevent infection due to the AIDS virus stretches reason.

Over 95% of male children never have urinary tract infections—regardless of the state of their foreskins.

Routine newborn circumcision has failed to prevent each of the conditions for which it has been proposed as a cure—even masturbation.

The part of the baby that we have been throwing out with the bathwater is the birthright of the child and should not be destroyed by the collusion of physicians and parents. □
