Important Notes From the New(?) Editor

Hi, Guys!

Strange, isn't it, the way things run in circles sometimes. I worked on FQ back at Desmodus, helping to put out #12, and practically putting out #13 on my own. Then I got involved with Parkwood, and worked in the wings to get out a couple more issues of THE `skin mag. Now, I'm at Brush Creek Media, and the publisher here—Bear-Dog Hoffman—has picked up FQ from Parkwood, and put it back in my hands again.

Okay. Seems like I'm "meant" to be working on FQ, and I don't mind that at all.

There are a few changes that I do mind, though, but neither I nor the new publisher can do anything about the unpleasant changes. From your point of view, gentle reader, the changes will be noticeable only in the classified ads. First, if you want your picture published with your personal ad, we need for you to send in a letter saying that you want it to be published by Brush Creek Media, and adding that you are old enough to make that choice. You also have to tell us what stage names or aliases you've used ever for any purpose, or tell us that you have used none. And, you have to supply us with a clear photograph or photocopy of your identification—something with both your birth date and face on it, like a drivers license or the personal data pages of a passport. This is a legal change, and it's very important. There can be no exceptions.

The second change is that we can't have phone numbers in personals any more. We're making an exception in cases where the phone numbers connect to telephone devices for the deaf or hearing impaired. We can not make other exceptions. There are just far too many problems, and the problems get way too nasty for us. Seems no matter how carefully we check things out, every issue of every magazine with phone numbers in the personals results in at least a few nice, straight, Bible-thumpers getting calls from nice, horny, gay guys.

One final change—which might be seen as a sort of solution to problem number two is this: A) There is now a voice mail system in place for the personal ads. It's not free, but it can be pretty inexpensive, all things considered. B) There is no longer any charge to personal advertisers to have mail forwarded to them. Of course, if you are sending mail to us to be forwarded to an FQ personal advertiser by box number, you will still pay $1 per piece of mail to be forwarded.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR & TO THE READERS OF FQ

ANNOUNCING N. O. R. M. CHICAGO

Dear Mr. Bean,

I am happy to announce the formation of N. O. R. M. Chicago (National Organization of Restoring Men). We are associated with Wayne Griffiths' group and would greatly appreciate being listed in the Organizations section of Foreskin Quarterly. At the present time, we do not have a post office box. I would prefer the listing as follows: N. O. R. M. Chicago (National Organization of Restoring Men) at (312) 883-0534.

Your including us in the magazine would really help get the word out to men in the Chicago area.

I also like to write short stories from time to time. Two of these have appeared in Uncut. If you have a prepared writers' guidelines available, I would be pleased to receive a copy. I have enclosed a SASE for this.

Thank you in advance for your help. By the way, I have been enjoying Foreskin Quarterly since the first issue. I'm glad that Lone Mountain Trading Company has taken over and plans to continue publication.

Sincerely, PJR, Chicago

Thanks for the notice, PJR—

We'll get N. O. R. M. Chicago into the Orgs list next time, and hope to have an address for you by then. Meanwhile, maybe printing this letter will attract the attention you need for your start-up.

About your short stories: I'll get guidelines out to you a.s.a.p. But, for you and any other guys who might have a tale or two to tell, the basics are as follows: We want stories that give a clear foreskin focus ranging from 1,000 to about 2,500 words with longer stories possible, and shorter ones considered. We don't mind looking at art you may create or locate for your story, but we actually prefer to assign one of our regular artists after accepting the story. We pay from $70 to $100 per story, and checks are sent out when the magazine goes to press, about one month before it arrives at newsstand vendors. We edit for style, length, and certain details of content, and do not submit our edits for the writer's approval. We can not publish stories suggesting sexual encounters involving children or animals, and choose not to use stories involving recreational drugs or sex-for-money scenarios. Stories submitted will be accepted or rejected by mail within a month, usually faster. Material may be submitted in hard copy (paper) or on disk. For disks, we prefer PC disks in WordPerfect or any format WordPerfect can read. ASCII and RTF are also acceptable. Or, stories can be e-mailed to me at: jwbean@ix.netcom.com. Before long, we'll have a company e-mail address, but my address is fine for now.

Thanks for being a loyal Foreskin Quarterly reader. You may have noticed that my involvement with FQ has a bit of history as well. When I was at Desmodus, I helped get Issue #12 out to the printer, then put together #13 (as Managing Editor) before we sold the magazine to Parkwood. Now, I'm back to FQ, and glad to be able to look forward to publishing the quarterly on a quarterly basis. I should mention here that Lone Mountain Trading Company's publishing enterprises are now completely blended into the existing Brush Creek Media operation (the publishers of Bear and Powerplay), so the name of Lone Mountain is not being used now. We are Brush Creek Media, and Lone Mountain is a separate corporate entity which may take on other, non-publishing areas of our work later.

I really appreciate the writers, photographers, artists and others whose contributions make FQ everything it is. Please, PJR and others, keep the material coming. This magazine, more than almost any other, has to be what you want it to be, what you—the readers—make of it. In effect, I work for you. Keep me busy.

'SKIN FAN SHARES EXPERIENCES

Dear Foreskin Quarterly,

I am fascinated about 'skin and feel deprived of mine. When I look at my 10-inch dick and look where the scar is I can only imagine that I lost three inches of skin—mine was done within 10 minutes of birth—at home on the dining room table by the Jewish doctor, who I'm told just pulled the skin forward and snipped with scissors.

Similar to when my son was born: I told the Jewish doctor I was Catholic—do not cut the boy. He argued, I said I would not accept—don't touch my son's dick. I went home to sleep for two hours, and while my wife was doped up the doctor got her to sign the form. When I returned, it was cut. I almost beat the doctor. I did whack his face and got in a good punch to the gut.

My son shares the same characteristic of a large and thick cock. I have convinced him that if he has a son to keep the skin and start a new trend in the family.

I also have an experience to share:

Early last spring, I was in Florence, Italy, at the Florence Sauna which I would recommend. The facility is to be rated a top-star place for being clean, large, fun and well-attended. After arriving and storing my clothes, I was in a large shower room with 25 beautiful men. I caught myself staring, and my erection was not controllable because of the sights. Every man—each with European tan skin, a nice face, smiles, deep eyes, and dark, curly hair—was a turn-on. So I looked—looked—looked and blushed.

At one point, I realized that several were staring at me. Now, I am certainly not the picture of perfection as they were, but I noticed several hot, hard cocks and well-hanging tools.

Of course I was totally mesmerized by the beautiful sights. I realized there were 25 foreskins and one cut—me! I was rock-hard looking at these men, and I was a curious fantasy for them. I was taken by the hand to a very nice room by six of the men; the door was closed and locked. For the next two hours, I got to enjoy every aspect of foreskin. I tasted all six fully as they played with my butt, and felt all six guide my cock into each mouth and ass. Finally all six loaded their cum in my mouth—I thought I was going to drown. Then two held my arms as I held a foreskin in each hand; one gave me deep tongue-kisses while another licked my hot buttock; another gave me a whiff of his 'skin while one sucked my cock and balls until I shot my load down his throat.

One thing they enjoyed was my Prince Albert. But if anyone got the best, it was me for I hungered for that 'skin and those beautiful cocks and those nice men. I don't speak Italian, and these men did not speak English, but sex in any language is sex. I was left with such wonderful memories to think of on other lonely nights of travel.

Dennis M., Atlanta

Hey Dennis,

Seems like your letter has been sitting around the offices of FQ for a long time, but it sounds just as hot now as the day you wrote it. Thanks for letting us in on your 'skin stuff.

—JWB

READER QUESTIONS PURPOSE OF FQ

Dear FQ—

What is your magazine about? Is it about foreskins, and men like myself who like to look at foreskins, and taste them, and play with them, or is it about the politics and laws and angry people who don't have anything else to do but complain about circumcisions that happened 30 or 40 or 60 years ago?

You can't please all the people, but you could make me happier if you'd just stop bothering with all the anti-circumcision stuff and get on with it.

*Anonymous letter
Postmarked New York*

Dear Anonymous,

Our magazine is about all of the things you mentioned. It is about everything to do with the foreskin: The sexual pleasures associated with foreskins, the trials and triumphs of guys who are restoring their 'skins, the movement to prevent routine infant circumcision and to inform men of what circumcision is so that there will be fewer men getting circumcised and regretting it.

FQ is not trying to be all things to all people: It is very intentionally celebrating the sexual uses of the foreskin from an almost exclusively gay perspective. Then, because gay men who enjoy their own foreskins or others are also interested in the legal and political ramifications of circumcision and the possibility of restoring the foreskin, the magazine handles a certain amount of that material.

The fact is that we here at FQ are ready to let the magazine go where you and the rest of the readers want it to go and be what all of you want it to be. So, tell us what you want. Give us a chance to give you that. But, if we have to have a few things here that are not what you want, understand that they may be exactly what someone else is asking for.

Keep us posted about how well we're doing, and we'll keep doing better.

—JWB

FORESKIN, NIPPLES, EAR LOBES

Dear FQ—

I really enjoy pinching and squeezing and rubbing my foreskin. I like for other guys to bite and nip at it, and to rub and stretch it, even put clothespins on it or scrape it with their fingernails. When these things happen, I've noticed, the sensations are very much like the physical feelings I get from similar play with my nipples and from guys nibbling or biting on my ear lobes. Are nipples, ear lobes and foreskin connected somehow? I don't mean connected like wired together, I mean connected like do they have something in common that is not obvious to me?

Curious, St. Louis

Dear Curious—

You raise an interesting question, but it is one that no one here can answer: Is there something about the nerves or skin or whatever in certain body parts that causes us to experience contact with these body parts as pleasurable and sexual? We're waiting for an authoritative answer from an informed reader.

—JWB

This picture, as far as we know, has nothing to do with any of these letters, but maybe you'll forgive us for putting it here. You don't mind, do you? (PHOTO BY JOHN KRAUSE)

A Tale of Young Love

By PETER LEKO

My balls ached!

I got home early that day because Fridays were my short day. All I had that afternoon was Phys Ed, and after my workout, I really got aroused in the shower. A cute blond kid I'd been noticing all semester was just rinsing off as I walked in, and my heart skipped a beat. He was even more beautiful naked than he was in his skimpy gym shorts with that bulging basket!

He was a year behind me in school so he must have been younger than me, but holy shit! What a crotch! His penis was magnificent. It swung back and forth, flopping from side to side against his thighs as he dried off with his aureole of fluffy pubic hair gleaming like spun gold. His pink glans stuck halfway out of a thick sheath of foreskin and his gaping slit seemed to wink at me. Just that quick glimpse of it put mine on the way up! Being circumcised myself, I'd always been fascinated by uncut cocks, and here was the most beautiful one I'd ever seen, not six feet away from me in the locker room. It was the most beautiful cock except, maybe, for my brother Jim's.

Well, watching that kid as he stuffed his half-hard dick into his jeans almost did it! Other guys were coming into the showers and I had to hide a rapidly stiffening hardon behind my towel as I dried off. I dressed hurriedly, made a dash for my bike and rushed home. Frantically stripping off my clothes while heading for the bathroom, I jacked off in front of the mirror over the wash basin. My cock was already dripping precum and it took about three strokes on my frenum and slit to get my aching rocks off.

But masturbation didn't do much for me. My balls still ached. Like the time Jim accidentally kned me in the crotch while we were horsing around, rassing like boys do. Only worse. The ache reached up into my groin and on down into my penis.

I pulled on my pants and went downstairs. My dick was pressing against the leg of my jeans and rubbing against my thigh, almost hard. The feel of my cockhead against my leg almost drove me wild. I could hardly believe that a year ago, I didn't have a clue why my cock was always getting hard. But one day I got home early and discovered that we liked doing it together. After that, we jacked each other off whenever we could.

Until I finally discovered in the high school locker room that other boys had cocks, I thought I was some kind of freak with a big piece of meat hanging between my legs nagging me all the time with strange feelings that I didn't understand. Then Jim taught me what it was for, and taught me the names for all the stuff in my crotch. Discovering that Jim's penis was even bigger than mine when it got hard took a big load off my mind. And he had even more pubic hair than I did yet.

Now I was impatiently waiting for Jim to get home. Like I said, we enjoyed jerking off together, especially jerking one another off in front of the mirror. And my dick felt even better when he sucked on it till I squirted my cum down his throat. Just watching Jim's slick red cockhead slide out of its foreskin as I peeled it back made my own hardon stiffer than ever, and the musky taste of it was usually enough to put me over the edge. But we couldn't share sex as often as we wanted because we were afraid of getting caught if Mom or our sister came home unexpectedly. We had to be careful.

But we were about to have some unexpected freedom: Mom and Uncle Cliff—Mom's brother—were going to visit Grandma, who wasn't feeling well, and took our sister with them to help. They drove off that Friday afternoon and wouldn't get back till Sunday night. And there I was with a raging hardon waiting for Jim to get home.

"Wow!" I thought to myself. "We'll have two whole nights alone! We can even sleep together!" I could hardly wait.

It seemed like hours, but at last I heard the door slam as Jim came in, tossing his gear in the front hall closet. "Man, that was some game!" he panted. "I've gotta cool off and get rid of this sweat. I'm hitting the shower!" I could see that he was hot somewhere else, too.

"Guess what!" I shouted as Jim headed toward the upstairs bathroom, shedding clothes as he went.

"Yeah, I know! They're away for the weekend!" he grinned. "Hey, get me a clean towel from the closet, willya? And get your ass in here—unless you've got something else to do."

Something else to do? It was just what I'd been hoping for! In no time I was naked and under the shower with Jim. He grabbed me in a big hug and kissed me on the mouth, hard.

"I've been thinking about this minute all afternoon," Jim said in my ear. "I've had a roaring hard hardon for three hours." No mistake about that! His erection felt hot as it throbbed against my crotch.

"Here goes," I thought to myself as I screwed up my courage. "Jimmy," I began, "can we sleep together tonight?"

"Not if you just want to sleep," he said as he gave my stiff cock a tug.

"You know what I mean, you big dope!" I shot back. I worked up a mountain of suds in Jim's crotch. "Turn around!" Lathering his shoulders and back, I worked down to his tight, round buns and slid the soap down the crack of his ass. Reaching between his cheeks I grabbed his cock from behind.

"Hey," he squealed as I squeezed his erection, "you're getting pretty fresh for a young squirt! Just wait, I'll teach you a thing or two!"

"I don't want to wait! I'm glad we have some time alone. I want to see how many times I can make you shoot!"

"Come on, Pete, let's not fuck around in here. We can do whatever we want in my bedroom."

We finished showering in a hurry and dried each other off. Jim's penis stood up so straight it almost touched his belly, and mine wasn't limp, either, believe me! I raced to my room and threw myself on the bed. Jim landed on top of me and we tussled together in a tangle of arms, legs and thrusting cocks until we both dissolved in giggles. It was so neat, being naked together, with no fear of being discovered. With my arms around his waist, I hugged Jim close. My hands caressed his firm buns as I pressed his steamy crotch against mine. Then my fingers slid down the deep cleft between his buttocks, past the soft pucker of his manhole and all the way to the back of his balls. I loved the softness of the downy hair on his cheeks, the way it got longer and silky at the bottom of his ass and around his asslips.

Jim broke loose from my embrace and trotted down the hall to his room, me hot on his heels. I was thrilled by the sight of his fabulous buns highlighted in the afternoon sunlight that was streaming through the window. He sprawled on his bed and I flung myself on top of him and crushed my crotch against his. I could feel his hardon throbbing against mine.

"Here, put your feet up on my pillow," Jim said. Then he grabbed me around my hips with his face smack in my crotch and my face in his. That gorgeous cock was just inches from my eyes!

I shivered with delight when I felt Jim's tongue running up and down the underside of my cock. I didn't have to be told what to do! I put my arms around his hips and nuzzled his musky balls with my nose. Holding Jim's throbbing penis so I could see it up close, I pushed his foreskin back and his slick, shiny glans slid out of its sheath. It was beautiful. I'd never had time to just enjoy looking at his tool before. It was a revelation, to me, anyhow. His cockhead was shaped like a plum with a cleft between little cheeks and a raised back rim that circled around and met underneath in a point leading to the deep slit at its tip.

I caressed Jim's cockslit with a fingertip and then traced the rim of his glans all the way around the crown and back to the slit again. When I gently squeezed the sides of his glans, the slit gaped like a keyhole with two little pink lips. I nibbled the wrinkles of his frenum and ran the tip of my tongue up and down the groove. I tickled his cockslit again with my tongue, and as I pulled away a thread of precum joined us like a bridge.

Jim kissed the tip of my penis and then sucked its head slowly between his lips. The sensation felt like electric shocks racing from my cock to my balls and up my spine. My whole body was trembling like it does before I shoot. He cupped my buns in his hands and pulled me closer until his face was buried deep in my crotch. Then his fingers slid down along my asscrack until they met my tender asslips. Jim pulled my legs up until my thighs were wide enough apart for him to put his head in between, so he could suck both of my balls into his mouth. His tongue tenderly rolled them around like a couple of Red-Hots from the candy machine at school, but my balls were hotter. They ached.

Jim let my balls slip from his mouth, and his tongue explored farther back until it was teasing the puckered lips of my boyhole. As Jim rimmed me, I probed the valley between his asscheeks. I put my head between his thighs and spread his buns so I could nestle my face in the musky-sweet crevice in between. Then I hungrily caressed his tight scrotum with the tip of my tongue and wet the length of his rigid shaft.

I pulled Jim's thick foreskin back down over his slippery glans and said, "Jimmy?"

"What?" he asked.

I tugged on the loose skin at the tip of his penis and asked, "How come I don't have skin over the head of my dick like you do?"

"'Cause you're circumcised. The doctor cut your foreskin off as soon as you were born!" I thought that one over.

"Why?"

"Well, they say that having a foreskin makes you want to jack off, because it feels good when you skin it back. They say that jacking off is bad, and without a foreskin you won't want to do it."

"That's crazy," I said. "I want to jack off as much as you do, even if I don't have a foreskin."

"Yeah, I know, but that's what they think so they cut it off anyway."

"Well, why didn't yours get cut off?"

"'Cause I wasn't born in the hospital, and the doctors never got a chance at my dick, I guess."

"Well, I sure wish I had a foreskin. I betcha it feels great when you skin it back and slide it up and down." With that, I pushed Jim's foreskin back with my lips and sucked his slick glans between my lips. It tasted heavenly! When I pulled it out of my mouth, all red and wet and dripping, I stroked the whole length of his shaft and a big clear drop of precum welled up from his gaping cockslit.

"Ooooooh," murmured Jim. "Do that again!" So I slid his cockhead between my lips and sucked his whole dick in again as far as I could, and then stripped his shaft down, hard, as I pulled him out. By then his balls had pulled all the way up into his crotch under his pubic hair, and his wrinkled scrotum was stretched tight across the bottom of his shaft. His slick purple-red glans seemed about to burst as it slid in and out of its hood. The trigger rim of his cockhead almost glowed dark purple and flared like the gills of some red-headed pale fish wildly gasping for breath.

Jim responded by engulfing the whole length of my rock-hard rod, sliding it in and out between his lips, each time pausing to suck real hard on my glans. By then I was really getting worked up and my balls ached so bad I could feel it all the way up in my belly. We always like to ejaculate together, but this time I was just too hot to hold back.

"Oh, fuck! Jimmy! Oh, fuck! I can't stand it. Make me cum!" I groaned, so he began jacking my shaft hard with just my glans held between his lips, the tip of his tongue pressing against my slit. Then, cupping my asscheeks with both hands, one of his fingers penetrated my pucker and twirled against the muscles of my asslips. It almost drove me wild. As Jim's tongue flickered up and down my cockslit, an orgasm surged over me like ocean waves rolling ashore. I pushed my cock as deep in his mouth as I could and ejaculated wild spurts of my young sperm down his throat.

When my climax began to ebb I wanted to watch Jim's penis squirt so, instead of sucking him off till he came in my mouth, I held his stiff shaft straight up and began sliding his skin up and down so his cockhead popped in and out of its sheath. It was just incredibly beautiful! His shaft throbbed in time with his heartbeat as I held it tight, but all at once the throbbing paused. I'd never felt his penis this hard. It was so stiff it wouldn't bend and his glans was so big the skin couldn't slip across his trigger rim. The lips of his cockslit pouted and gaped as a flood of milky cum welled up. There was a breathless pause, and blam! His penis began leaping wildly, ejaculating great bursts of thick, creamy semen that swirled through the air in long, sticky ribbons to land on his chest and belly. I had never seen Jim ejaculate such a huge load.

"Holy shit! That was something else!" Jim moaned as the spasms of his climax ebbed away. I touched my tongue to the glistening puddles of male essence and spread swirls of it down to his pubic hair.

"You almost drowned me!" I exclaimed as I licked sperm from his belly. I nestled my cheek against his damp manhood as I hugged his hips, and then relaxed beside him. We lied like that for a long while, in perfect bliss, face to crotch, heads on one another's thighs. As Jim dozed off, his leg slowly relaxed, burying my face between his legs, my lips just brushing his scrotum. The tip of my nose was deep in the cleft of his ass. Never in my young life had I experienced anything like the musky male scent that Jim's crotch and asscrack breathed out.

After a while, I carefully lifted Jim's leg away from my face so I could see all the glory of his young maleness. I almost melted at the sight of the miracle of pleasure lying softly on his thigh, foreskin down and puckered at the tip of his penis. I gently caressed his scrotum with my tongue, savoring its sweaty saltiness, and covered his cock with kisses of love and renewed desire. I thrilled at the way his penis slowly unfolded in response to my oral caresses, gracefully rising a little higher with each beat of his pulse. It was gorgeous, its slick, shiny glans gradually emerging from its sheath as his shaft stiffened.

Jim stirred and stretched rapturously as I devoured his crotch with kisses. "Sex makes me hungry!" he exclaimed. "We'd better find something to eat. Let's see what's in the kitchen!" I hid my disappointment but was glad to agree. I was hungry, too. We trotted down to the kitchen without putting on any clothes. We had the place to ourselves so we could enjoy being buck naked together without the chance of anyone seeing us that way.

"How about a peanut butter and jelly sandwich?" I suggested. Jim grunted, "Sure." While I poured glasses of orange juice and made our sandwiches, Jim rummaged around in the fridge to see what was promising in there. As he stooped in front of the open refrigerator, his balls peeked out below the tawny cleft between his bare buttocks and I could see his half-tumescent cock dangling even lower. The underside of its bare glans was shaped just like a perfect Valentine heart. He was just so beautiful, and so delicious—especially there. I giggled in sheer happiness.

"What are you snickering at, silly?" Jim shot over his shoulder.

"I'm not snickering, I'm just happy," I said as Jim withdrew from the fridge empty-handed. "Look what you do to me!" I laughed, and he glanced down at the rock-hard erection thrusting up from my crotch. As he walked over to the table, his penis was already lifting, and he said, "Well, it seems to be catching!"

"That's a real all-day sucker," I giggled. "It never gets any smaller no matter how long you suck it!" By then Jim's penis was almost fully erect. I was spreading guava jelly--my favorite--on our sandwiches and impulsively dabbed a blob on his half-bare glans. His cock jumped upright toward his belly as I pushed back his skin and smeared jelly over his whole cockhead. "Oh shit, Pete, that feels totally wild!" he gasped as I spread gooey jelly into the folds of his foreskin and down the length of his shaft. The firm trigger rim of his glans slipped though the circle of my thumb and first finger each time I stroked his slippery glans. He began moaning softly and his eyes shut.

Suddenly Jim's body tensed and he quivered all over. He whispered, "Oh, fuck! Here I cum! Fuck, fuck, fuck!" and jets of sperm began squirting out of his gaping slit. I quickly shoved his cockhead into my mouth to catch the rest of the cum that was spurting from his slit. When his climax subsided I slowly licked the jelly from his shaft and pulled his foreskin down with my lips.

"You are a sex-freak!" Jim exclaimed as I sucked the last of the jelly and sperm from his crotch hair. "I love it when you make me cum, and I love you, you skinny stud! You and that big dick!" At that he grabbed me and hugged me tight in his arms, his still-hard pecker pushing against my erection. "Now I'm gonna make you cum!"

With a happy grin, Jim reached down between us and began slowly stroking my glans, wet with streams of precum. Our ramrods were standing straight up between us, their undersides pressed together and our balls nestled between our thighs. He peeled his foreskin back and stripped his shaft down so a big drop of precum dripped from his slit. He rubbed his naked glans against mine to lubricate us both and then began masturbating both our cocks together.

The sensations were fantastic! Jim's hardon was sliding against mine as his hand stroked us to fever pitch! Imagine! Two rock-hard cocks side by side, four adolescent balls bursting with youthful sperm. Jim's slow, sensuous strokes on our two shafts joined frenum to frenum was more than I could stand. My cock suddenly erupted, flinging jets of semen up between us. My orgasm triggered Jim's and he began ejaculating wildly even before I had quit unloading.

For a minute all we could do was stand there with our bodies pressed together while our sperm trickled down between us and dripped off our balls. I felt Jim's penis slowly begin to relax against my own softening dick. He hugged me close.

I nibbled his ear and whispered "Who's the sex-freak now? You came twice in nothing flat!"

"Well, you're a pretty hot stud," he responded as he provocatively thrust his crotch against mine. "And I still love every inch of you. Especially these inches!"

"We'd better get cleaned up before we eat" I said. "Let's hit the shower again."

Arm in arm we made our way upstairs to the bathroom. "And we've got to eat something! I'm starved!" Jim said, and with that he turned the cold water on full. I shrieked and my lingering hardon wilted along with his.

"That was mean!" I gasped.

"I know, but it was the only way to cool you off enough so we can eat! You'll get over it!" We dried off and trotted naked back to the kitchen to eat our sandwiches, washed down with cold milk.

"Now let's go upstairs and try something different. Come on!" Jim said, and I wondered what he had in mind. So, off we went, cocks already swelling in anticipation and flopping from side to side against our thighs, balls bouncing as we took the stairs two at a time. As Jim climbed the stairs ahead of me the two pale globes of his buttocks bouncing in front of me were irresistibly inviting. Afternoon sunlight streaming through the window at the top of the stairs glinted off the fine hairs on his legs and ass, turning them to gold.

At the top of the stairs Jim said, "I've got to pee," and turned in to the bathroom. "So do I," I said and stood beside him in front of the toilet so we could pee together. The sight of that sparkling yellow stream arcing from Jim's beautiful half-hard penis was so exciting that my own dick lengthened even before I'd finished pissing. It came up so fast I had to hold it down to aim the stream into the bowl or I'd have peed all over the bathroom. As I stripped the last drops from my upright pecker, Jim exclaimed, "Holy cow, you are turned on!"

I left Jim flipping the last drops from his tumescent dick, and went back to our temporarily shared bed. I contentedly curled up on my side, hugging my knees up to my chest. My penis had relaxed and I was nearly asleep when Jim climbed into bed beside me. He fitted his body to mine, snuggling up against my back and slipping his arms around my waist. The hair in his crotch tickled my back and his cock fit neatly along my asscrack. Jim felt down between my legs and tousled the tangle of curls in my crotch. Then he gently held my balls in the palm of his hand, sensing that they probably were tender after our hot sex. I don't think I'd ever felt as contented and relaxed as I did lying there in Jim's arms, with his hands exploring my crotch.

They say having a foreskin makes you want to jack off, because it feels good when you skin it back. They say that jacking off is bad. . . .

As Jim slowly coaxed my penis back to full erection, I could feel his cock growing to a full-fledged hardon lying between my buns. When I straightened my legs a little, Jim slid down my back so his cock could push father between my legs. His cockhead nuzzled my balls and his slick precum covered my scrotum with slippery wetness. With another shove his penis peeked out of my crotch by the base of my dick.

I reached down between my legs until I could grab Jim's cock just behind his glans and pulled him farther out alongside my own shaft. His slit was dribbling a flood of precum and I rolled his cockhead between my fingertips until I heard his breath coming in deep gasps. Lying there clutching one another's sex, our bodies were joined together almost as one. I smothered the whole end of his penis in the palm of my hand and massaged its slick wetness.

Jim began jacking the full length of my cock, sliding the skin up and down its firm shaft. He licked his fingers and smeared spit over my cockhead even though I was already so wet I didn't really need it. He kissed me between my shoulder blades, tickling with the tip of his tongue as he blew on my naked skin, making waves of ecstasy ripple up and down my spine. Jim let go of my meat and reached up to gently pinch my nipples, one after the other. I thought I'd faint when he flicked those hard little points with his fingertips.

The sensation of his pubic fleece against my ass with his throbbing cock clasped between my legs was almost more than I could bear. Jim stroked my shaft while I fondled his glans with my fingertips. It was almost too good to be true. But there we were, sharing sex in broad daylight. I reached behind us and clutched Jim's buns so his crotch pressed harder against my ass.

By this time I was so hot that I could feel the first spasms of climax pulsing at the root of my penis deep between my legs. Jim's body began trembling against my back and, all at once, both our cocks began pumping furiously. Hot jets of my male sap squirted out between Jim's fingers as his cock ejaculated a flood of his sperm all over my balls and into my pubic hair. Oh joy sublime!

I spread puddles of slippery cum across my belly and crotch, drenching my pubic hair with our united sperm. Jim pulled my face around to meet his passionate kiss.

We moved so that we were side by side on our backs, arm in arm, luxuriating in our complete intimacy and rare freedom. Our cocks were temporarily sated, lying soft and relaxed between our legs. I couldn't help comparing us in the places that counted, and I still envied Jim's foreskin! I reached over to his penis and skinned it back to reveal that gorgeous pink head. His dick promptly responded by rearing up from its nest of curls still damp with cum.

"Looks like this thing wants to play some more," I said as I gave his stiffening penis a playful shake.

"It just wants to make the most of our time together, that's all!"

I'm convinced that my dick can see with that neat little eye at its tip, because no sooner had Jim's pecker popped to attention than my own reared up rigidly from the tangle of my pubic hair still sticky with our cum. Jim grabbed it and said, "Let's try something different! Here, sit in front of me and spread your legs." He sat in front of me and put his legs over mine so we were face to face, crotch to crotch. I pulled Jim to me and kissed him.

Our rigid hardons reared up stiffly above our paired balls, shaft pressed to shaft along their soft undersides. Jim's skin had pulled all the way back, and since my dick was cut, the bottom of our bare cockheads rubbed together where the crown comes together under the slit. We slowly rubbed our dicks together frenum to frenum, and precum began streaming from both of our slits. Slippery liquid quickly bathed our cockheads and lubricated their mutual caresses as they slid together, up and down, side to side, cocksliit kissing cocksliit. Waves of goose bumps swept across my naked body, fading and then reappearing in surges of excitement. The big vein that coursed down the top of Jim's shaft bulged and his deep red glans got almost purple as his erotic tension grew.

"Oh, shit!" Jim gasped. "I'm about to shoot! How about you?"

"Oh, fuck, yes! Yes!" I almost shouted. Moving closer to me so the bottoms of our dicks again pressed together their whole length, Jim surrounded both cockheads with one hand while he held our shafts tight together with the other hand. He jacked our cocks together faster and faster, and in seconds, spurts of thick, creamy sperm squirted from both our slits almost simultaneously. After a few final strokes Jim let our semen merge as it welled out in diminishing spurts and trickled down between his fingers and our cockheads.

I was trembling all over. To keep from falling over backward I clung to Jim's shoulders. "Holy shit, man! Did you ever feel anything like that?" Jim panted.

"Wow!" was all I could say. Semen streamed down my shaft and dripped off my scrotum. Jim put his wet hand to my mouth so I could taste our united cum. When I had slurped as much as I could, he stripped more cum from our cocks and then licked it off his fingers. Getting on hands and knees, Jim put his head between my legs and licked the sperm off my shaft and sucked the drops from my pubic hair.

"Your turn," he said, and I dove for his crotch. I licked dribbles of sperm that kept oozing from his slit and then pulled the foreskin down over his glans with my lips while I stripped his shaft. More cum seeped from the pucker of foreskin at the end of his penis as I nibbled and probed with my tongue. After I slurped the last drops from his dick and balls and sucked his curls clean, we stretched out, wrapped in one another's arms. Temporarily spent, we dozed off holding each other like that. I don't know how long we slept, but when I woke it was dark and Jim was shaking me by my shoulders.

"We'd better shower before we go to sleep," he was saying in my ear. "We're still pretty sticky." Jim turned on the bedside lamp and got up, pulling me up with him. We went to the bathroom and hopped under the shower, letting the warm spray sluice over us. It was just so comfortable there with Jim that I could have stayed in the shower all night. Jim gave me a hug and stepped out of the shower.

We dried each other off, hugging close, crotch to crotch and penis to penis, enjoying the feel of skin on skin. He shoved me toward the bedroom and into bed.

We fell asleep in one another's arms, sexually drained and sensually replete, knowing that tomorrow would be another day of non-stop sex.

Semen streamed down my shaft and dripped off my scrotum. Jim put his wet hand to my mouth so I could taste our united cum.

Ask Dr. Skinnon

Here at Foreskin Quarterly, as every one of you must have noticed, things have been going a little bit crazy. There have been five different publishers for these first 17 issues of the magazine. That's crazy enough, but there have also been two Dr. Skinnons. We're not sure whether it matters to you which Dr. writes this column—they both know their stuff—but if you have an opinion, please let us hear from you.

Dear Readers,

I received an article from Tampa, Florida.

One question asked of Drs. Marguerite and Marshall Shearer in their column was from an intact man whose female partner liked rough sex and the frenulum was torn. They are not together any longer. He went on to say that he is now masturbating sometimes two or three times a day and has been using Vitamin E and Eucerin cream but it doesn't seem to help. The doctors recommendation is the man see a urologist to enlarge the opening or get circumcised.

Since the fellow said that he had torn his frenulum during this rough sex, I guess he does not have phimosis! The opening does not need to be enlarged. I hope this fellow does not get circumcised as he will really have a big scar all around his cock. In addition he will lose all of the real fun he has been having. Better to reduce the amount of movement of the foreskin when he jacks-off so that there can be healing.

Most urologists—like the columnist doctors—just do not know what the structure and function of the foreskin is. What a shame. They would probably just circumcise for the money, not really knowing what the long-term consequences of it would be. I have seen some fellows, especially those who are phimosed, jack-off without ever retracting the foreskin. This fellow should use some different method of masturbation, and not hurt himself. We all have to take care of our own bodies, and be very careful how we treat our most precious tool.

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

I have a question concerning my foreskin. I am not able to slide back my foreskin so the head of my penis will show. I went to a doctor who told me I had phimosis. All I know is that it means I have a tight foreskin. Can you tell me more about my situation? I enjoy sex and my foreskin gives me much pleasure. But I wonder if there's anything I can do to pull my skin back further. Is there any surgical procedure that can remove just the tip of my foreskin or is that not recommended or possible?

*Also, I have heard of the term "docking" used in Foreskin Quarterly. What does it mean? Thank you very much. I hope to hear from you.*

Sincerely, P.H., Champaign, IL

Dear P.H.,

Whatever you do, do not have surgery, until you know there is no other option. There are probably millions of men who are like yourself and have never done anything about it, especially not surgery. Approximately 85% of the men in the world are whole and handle their situation by lots of finger-play and hand-work. It solves the problem quite well. As you have indicated, the foreskin brings you much pleasure. The foreskin contains well over a thousand nerve-endings and is at least 15 square inches of penile structure.

The reason for the tightness is that it also contains the "frenar band" which contracts the foreskin in front of the glans. In "The Prepuce: What, Exactly, Is Removed by Circumcision?" by John Taylor, M.B., FRCP, 2nd ISC, April-May 1991, Dr. Taylor said that the glans is a dumb organ compared the foreskin, because the foreskin has an abundance of nerve-endings. So you need to stretch it by hand. Please do not have it cut off.

All of us who are restoring our foreskins wish we had your situation. We are trying desperately to have the glans covered completely when erect. We would give our ... to be phimosed. Yours is a nice problem to have.

Most doctors who say they will "cut just a little bit off" end up cutting it all off and saying afterward, "Oh, I'm sorry!" As John in Modesto said, after that kind of surgery at 40 years of age, to his doctor-butcher, "You have ruined my sex life completely!" Don't let the doctor touch you with a knife.

After a shower and perhaps with lubricants, put your two first fingers into your foreskin opening and stretch, without hurting but with tension. Keep pulling it open for 10 to 20 minutes a day or every other day. You should see results quite soon. You can open it up as much as you want. You, I am sure, will still like it somewhat tight around the glans as it slides back and forth. Have fun doing it! Every time you do it you probably will end up with a nice orgasm.

Michel Beaugé, M.D., wrote in 1991 his article "Conservative Treatment of Primary Phimosis in Adolescents" translated by Dr. John P. Warren in 1994 that, "...alternating a few pleasurable manipulations known to the stimulative with the remodelling manipulations...it is essential that the preputial opening be stretched [around] the circumference of the fully erect glans. This technique meets the requirement of the kinesitherapy of soft tissues, gradual stretching. In some cases I have recommended instrumental dilatation with the use of a dilator in patients who agree to this procedure, or I have advised the introduction of two fingers in to the opening of the foreskin to stretch it."

"The Response of Phimosis to Local Steroid Application" by C.S. Kidiro, et al, at the Royal Children's Hospital in Australia in 1992, indicated that the use of a steroid cream makes the skin thinner as well as reduces any inflammation. In a way, it is this "side effect" of topical application of steroids that is an advantage in phimosis. It is possible that the daily, gentle retraction of the foreskin to expose that part onto which ointment is applied has contributed also to the improved retractibility.

Another study done in China, "Balloon Dilation Treatment of Phimosis in Boys: Report of 512 Cases" by He Ying and Zhou Ziu-hua, Chinese Medical Journal 1991, reported the use of a balloon catheter. The balloon was kept in place for 20 to 30 seconds and repeated two or three times. The 90 day follow-up and six month follow-up study reported a 90.4 percent cure-rate and 5.6 percent experienced an alleviated condition. So keep you fingers where they belong. Enjoy your stretching: It is safe, helpful and fun! If you are one of the very few men who have a "pin hole" opening so that using fingers or instrument-dilation are not feasible, you should be aware that there are several techniques used worldwide that do not include circumcision. (A dorsal slit, Z-Y-plasty, three vertical slits sewn horizontally, etc.) See the "The Joy of Uncircumcising..." by Jim Bigelow for references.

The other subject you asked about is docking. It is the fun two fellows can have together. It is especially delightful for circumcised men to feel the foreskin of his partner, since he probably never has had his glans covered. It is also fun with two intact men.

Depending on the length of the foreskin, you can slide forward when erect. Stand facing each other and slide your foreskin back. Your friend puts the head of his cock on the head of yours. Then you slide your foreskin forward enveloping his cockhead. You then can jack off both of you at the same time. It is a delightful feeling on your part to have another cockhead in contact with yours. For your friend, it is wonderful to have not only that but his cockhead covered with your warm moist and moving skin. If you are both intact you can have him follow your skin back with his and you will feel his warm moist skin covering your glans. When both of you cum it is a total blast! What a turn on!

Do have fun both stretching your prepuce open further so that you will have full movement of the skin over the very sensitive corona of the glans and then you can have lots more fun with your friend showing him how wonderful it is to dock.

Hi Dr. Skinnon,

I need your help. I have been diagnosed as having Peyronie's Plaque, a disease. It all started about a year or so ago when I noticed a little lump in my cock when it was soft. I would check in the shower for lumps and lumps in my balls. But I always spent more time on my cock. (Felt better.) It would disappear when I got a hardon and my cock when hard would be perfectly straight! But the lump has gotten much larger—about an inch in diameter and it's located at the top of my cock just behind the cockhead when soft and is easy to feel. When hard now, I have an acute bend in my cock tip about 3 inches from the end of my cock about a 40-degree bend. It makes intercourse more difficult with my wife. And it really doesn't cause pain, but I have some discomfort there now.

The doctor has me on 1200 units of vitamin E a day and 12 grams of Potaba a day (for four months now). It is not getting any better or any smaller. Tell me: Is there any other kind of treatment or medication that will get rid of the plaque?

Will it maybe go away by itself sometime in the future? What caused it? I must say, in the past I have done some very hard types of masturbation and I have also completely uncircumcised myself using various rings, weights and tapes and...BUFFs. I used an Ace bandage on my shaft to make my cockhead bigger. Could this have contributed to the scar (plaque)? I also would put fairly large objects inside my foreskin and tape them in. This would push my cockhead back against my shaft and compress my shaft. What about this causing it?

I live in the Cleveland area. Is there any doctor or urologist here you could refer me to for this? Anything you can tell me, please do. And thanks a lot.

Long live foreskins, G.N., Port Clinton, OH

Dear G.N.,

I am not a physician so I cannot give you any medical advice. I went to the University of California at San Francisco Medical Library the other day to see what was there. I found 93 listings of papers dealing with Peyronie's Disease. All of these articles were written in the last four years. I cursorily reviewed the 74 abstracts and nine full articles, and I am passing them on as a listing of my finding for the benefit of our readers.

So far the cause is not really known. Some of the factors associated with the disease are use of methotrexate for the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis, use of vacuum constriction devices, anticoagulant medication, other blood disorders, increased serum levels of anti-elastin antibodies, and autoimmune conditions.

Peyronie's Disease is a fibrotic induration (hardening) of the penis. It is a localized connective tissue disorder (fibrotic plaque) affecting the tunica albuginea (white outer covering) of the corpora cavernosa (shaft of the penis). It was first described in 1743 by the personal physician of Louis XIV.

Tamoxifen (1992), Peroxinorm, Minoxidil, and steroid injection/surgery are some of the mentioned treatments. Some reversal happens without treatment in an average duration of four years. One study found no convincing evidence for the efficacy of conventional (Vitamin E, X-ray treatment, potassium para-amino-benzoate) medical therapy (1990).

It appears from what little research I have done that it could well be, as you have indicated, the trauma on your shaft with Ace bandages, etc. may well have had something to do with your condition.

We all have ideas of what makes us feel good, from gentle tickling to S/M routines. I can only say that since we only have one cock, we should take care of it very carefully throughout life. The restoration of the covering of your glans, if you maintain it over the head all the time, will allow the glans to become more sensitive and therefore more pleasurable. The stretching process is in itself quite wonderful.

I personally do not know any doctors in your area. I can

... since we only have one cock, we should take care of it very carefully throughout life....

only suggest that your physician with further research, or the nearest medical university, might have some insight into the treatment that is successful nowadays.

Dear Dr. Skinnon,

I just picked up a copy of Foreskin Quarterly after having all but given up on trying to figure out how to stretch my own back to its uncut state. So, my question is: What's the best way to do it? Looking over the answer in the Spring 93 issue of FQ, do these things really work: the PUD-non-surgical method, and Second Skin foreskin cones.

Also, is the book, "Decircumcision Using the BUFF Method," the best way to go? Help! I need some recommendation on literature and procedures as soon as possible. Don't leave me hanging!

Thanks a lot, S.E., Seattle, WA.

Dear S.E.,

My apologies. Because of the earthquake and other logistical problems, I am just now able to answer your questions. Sorry to leave you 'hangin' so long. Having heard from several thousand men over the last four years, I can share with you our thoughts about restoration.

Surgical restoration is not the way to go. It is not any faster than stretching and the fact that 40 percent go wrong means that you lose the skin that was taken from the scrotum or other places to "give" you a new foreskin. You then have not only lost time, but vital skin as well as many thousands of dollars, and you have scars to prove it. The several operations usually necessary take about a year or so to be performed.

One fellow contacted my over a year ago and insisted that it had to be "instant" restoration. He decided to go to a doctor who advertises for men's surgery in Southern California. He had two surgeries (a single-step procedure) at over $2000 each and both sloughed off. The doctor now has agreed to do it for nothing. But now, he is using the Greer method of a scrotal implant. This now means that at least two more surgeries will be required over a year or so to "complete" the restoration. This poor fellow could have stretched his shaft skin and been restored by now. He has lost much skin and will wear his shaft through the layers of his scrotum for at least 90 days to six months before the next surgery to remove it!

You will be much better off using the stretching techniques that costs only your own effort and lots of tape and some kind of device costing from $5 to $150.

Although "Decircumcision" (1991) by Gary Griffin gives the basics, it is mainly a repeat of Mark Waring's book "Foreskin Restoration" (1988) without anything really new being added. It is basically the BUFF method. You can get sufficient information from it to do the job yourself.

The most current information and instructions for nonsurgical foreskin restoration are contained in "The Joy of Uncircumcising: Restore Your Birthright and Maximize Sexual Pleasure" by Jim Bigelow, Ph.D. It is a scholarly work. Curtis Rist of New York Newsday said just recently it is the bible of restoration. I know that it is the most definitive book on the subject. It has been reviewed by the major medical journals here and abroad. At this writing, Jim is updating the book and the new edition should be available soon. He, with Dr. John P. Warren in London, has written an article which appears in the British Journal of Sexual Medicine in September/October 1994 issue. Jim has also had a letter published in the Journal of Nurse-Midwifery and an article in Mothering Magazine. He has been interviewed extensively on radio programs in the United States, England, Canada and Australia, and has appeared on several TV shows.

Whatever tape you use to start the process and use to keep devices in place is whatever tape you find most comfortable and easiest to get on and off of your particular skin type. All of us are different and some tapes—even those touted as the best—can be disastrous for some and good for others. Please try various tapes if the first one you use is not satisfactory. Some of the more popular tapes in use are Micropore (paper), Transpore (plastic), Elastoplast (stretchy cloth, like an ace bandage), and Waterproof Tape (white cloth) to name a few.

The devices available are the PUD, Second Skin cones, and a variety of hardware and clothing items that can be adapted for use, such as stainless steel bearings as weights. This procedure is as Jake, an 18-year-old recently said, a "do it at home project." There is no singular ultimate device for restoration, no matter what the claims may be. -You have to decide for yourself what your daily habits are and what will allow you to keep traction on the shaft skin and thereby achieve glans coverage. If you have any reservations, you need to consult with your personal physician, and educate him. The PUD is the most versatile device. A cylinder of steel is milled with a cup and a urination hole drilled through it. It comes in three sizes and a variety of weights from 10 to 22 ounces. This will accommodate the smallest to the largest glans. And with the range of weights, it can satisfy the most conservative user to the lover of very heavy pendants. This most closely resembles the Pondus Judaica that was used first in the early centuries of this Common Era. It is made of surgical stainless steel, easy to clean and easy to put on.

The ball-bearing devices are also made of stainless steel and can be made with two bearings of whatever size fits, one inside and one out. Taping two bearings together, you use lots of tape over a period of time. Get them from a machine-bearing supplier.

The Second Skin cones are made of a silicone-like material, and even the "weighted" ones are not very heavy. These require pushing the glans back and pulling the skin over the cone. The cup is only one size and does not accommodate everyone. The hole does not allow for urination easily as it is smaller than the hole in a PUD. The traction is achieved by pressure on the glans and some men have complained of the meatus (around the piss hole) being pushed into the cone's hole.

Any device that you use should not cause pain. If you apply them correctly you should only have the wonderful feelings of stretching and tension. If you are causing blue, cold, numb pain, you are doing something wrong. Take the device off immediately and re-read the instructions and try it again, until you get the "hang" of attaching it.

Stretching your skin is permanent. It does take time and patience. You need to commit yourself to a daily regimen that suits your personal habits. It can change your life, as some have said. One fellow said in a recent letter, "Please send me info on restoring my penis to its God-given state and natural glory of manhood." It has been the best thing I have ever done. I wish I had started earlier. Enjoy your restoring!

Attention, dockers!

Bobby Joe (parts seen above) promises us that "no matter what the motel ads might say about Comfort Inns, this is a true Southern Comfort End... and this is also a double room, two heads fit fine in this double foreskin." He doesn't say anything about a dining room, but we have our own ideas, and we know you do, too. Don't you?

Bite the Bullet

by Luke and Bearboy illustrated by Dade/Ursus

Another past-due notice...

After being out of work for nearly a year, the bills piled up—big surprise. What I didn't count on was that after being back to work for six months I'd still be playing catch-up with my debtors. This time, my car insurance was in jeopardy. I was about to be "terminated" according to the letter from Dewey, Cheatem and Howe, my insurance company, unless I forked over $400 by Friday. Fortunately, pay day was Wednesday, so I would have the money in time... albeit late, as usual. There was always a stiff fee for late payments. Once again, I'd have to bite the bullet and swallow my pride.

Wednesday rolled around, and I was out of the office by 4 o'clock, paycheck in hand. After cashing my check, I headed for the insurance company's office—a tinge of dread gnawed at the base of my stomach. Somehow, it's a little humiliating when, at 28, you still don't quite have your finances in order. The cashier at the insurance office wore her usual admonishing smirk reserved for folks who make late payments... whatever happened to service with a smile? My late fees probably paid her salary, fer chrissakes. The gnawing at my stomach turned to some serious cramping as I made my way through the line. I forked over my payment and asked the cashier where I could find a rest room.

"The Men's Room is out of order," she grinned as I broke into a sweat. "Sorry."

Fuck! I really had to take a crap—no more burritos from the lunch truck, I thought to myself. As I turned around, muttering insults under my breath to the snide witch, I nearly ran into a wall of a cop. He was tall, about 6-foot-3, maybe a couple pounds shy of 300, with a big black mustache and a shaved head. Damn, was he handsome! I stood frozen in my tracks as I scanned up his uniformed barrel-chest to his face. Our eyes met briefly as he leaned down and put his lips close to my ear. I was caught between my aching bowels and the heart attack I felt from being near this cop-stud.

"There's a john in the basement," he said in a soft, deep voice. He had obviously overheard my conversation with the cashier. "S'pose to be fer employees, but the john on this floor's always broke. Downstairs, end of the hall on the left," he directed. Who says there's never a cop around when you need one?

"Hey, thanks," I managed to groan as I turned to find the stairs. I descended into a hallway lined with file rooms and made my way to the can. It was a one-holer, but all I needed was a toilet and a few minutes of peace at that point.

When I was about done, there were three stern taps at the door.

"Be out in a minute," I bellowed. The door slowly opened. "Hey, I said I'd be out in a min..." I trailed off. It was the cop. "Uh, thanks for the tip, um, officer," I stammered. "I'm, uh, just about finished, so, ahh..."

He looked right into me. My pants down around my ankles, sitting on the can—naked and vulnerable before this police god, and he has me at his mercy.

It was his intense gaze. This shit doesn't happen in real life, right? Yet the fuckin' cop knew what he wanted and wasn't the slightest bit worried that I'd say no.

Wordlessly, nightstick in hand, he leaned his crotch to my face, and straddled my bare legs as I sat on the employee john, toilet paper in hand. The radio at his belt squawked with a woman's voice and a loud alarm tone. He twisted the knob, and the babble was reduced to a low gurgle. You can dangle anything in my face and get me fairly excited; wrap a meaty hand around the back of my head, hold my face to your crotch, and I go into overdrive. I'll take anything without stopping.

He did just that. He held my head to the bulge in his uniform pants. I felt the warmth of his palm around my skull, smelled the wool fabric of his pants. With a nightstick pressed against my back, I nuzzled the wool, felt a soft, growing tension behind the cloth. I heard the bathroom door swing shut.

"That's right. Just shut up and eat my crotch." His voice was soft like before, but with a gruffness that revealed he needed something from me. From my mouth. He stroked my hair. He was soft, warm, gentle—but I knew I had no choice but to comply. His beefy hand left the back of my head and his fingers struggled with the zipper. I backed off from his crotch only far enough to let him get his dick out. I held on to his knees with both hands, bracing for what he was going to show me.

It wasn't long. It was fat. Buried beneath a sheath of foreskin, it looked like a nuclear sub: thick and wide, almost like two dicks side by side under the skin. His hand went quickly back to my head and, pointing the sheathed shaft up against my nose, he gave a gentle thrust with his hips. The skin of his cock peeled back as he slowly fucked upward against my face. I almost gasped at the heavy, vinegary smell of ripe, dirty cop-dick. My forehead was immediately coated with a warm slimy goo from his piss-slit, and my nose was buried in the wiry hair of his balls. They smelled nice, like pasta.

But that head! The tip of his dick slid back down my forehead, leaving a trail across one of my eyelids. He reared back and was about to shove that monstrous meat into my head when the bathroom door flew open, smacking him full in the back, knocking him off balance and cramming his dick into my mouth.

"Oh," a woman's voice burst in from the other side of the door. "Sorry!" she sing-songed. A bright shaft of light and the low din of the busy offices upstairs filled the small room. I struggled not to gag. The cop struggled not to yelp as his fat prick scraped across my teeth. He regained his balance, hanging onto my head and holding his nightstick, which was still planted behind my back. Fortunately he was blocking the door so the woman couldn't see what was happening. I doubted an insurance secretary was ready for what was happening in her office can.

The door clacked shut again, cutting off the sounds of a ringing phone and someone yelling about invoices. It was dim and quiet again in the bathroom. Once more, the energy of the policeman's crotch was directed at my head. He reached behind him and locked the door. He also made a ring with his fingers at the base of his cock, causing it to swell and arc off to the side a bit. I began to work at cleaning the head and foreskin of this monstrous cop tool.

The gunk inside a foreskin can smell pretty foul. But it tastes good. Sweet, almost metallic. It never stops amazing me how rugged and hard a man can be, but how soft and responsive his dick is. I circled my tongue inside the foreskin, tracing the head of his penis. I sucked, cleaned, licked. I swallowed my smegma-flavored spit, enjoying the thick taste in my mouth. Still hanging on to his knees, feeling the wool fabric under my sweaty palms, I started working his dick in earnest. I encircled the base with one hand and focused on getting it ready to shoot. I can take a dick, even the really long ones, all the way to the base. No problem. But this one was so wide and flat that I was having a hard time keeping this cop's flesh off my teeth. By tilting my head, I got his cock past my molars and down into my throat where it belonged. Yet he grunted little pleasure groans when his foreskin scraped past my teeth. I guess that's what he wanted—his foreskin pulled, hard, with my teeth getting him off.

"Ohhhh, yeah, keep it up, fucker!" he growled. "Bite it! Oh yeah, fucker. Bite the foreskin hard. That's it... thaaaat's it," he cooed. His voice was urgent yet soothing. "Pull on it with your teeth—pull the foreskin with your teeth, fucker," he demanded as he stroked my hair. I bit into the skin and pulled hard, stretching the foreskin from side to side like a dog with a chew-toy. "Atta boy," he grunted. "Uh-huh... uh-huh... yeah, boy. You're a hot little cocksucker, aren't ya?"

"Yesshir... thank you, shir," I managed to gasp between clenched teeth.

"Just keep pulling on yer cop-daddy's 'skin, boy," he said sternly. "Bite it hard, boy... yeah, bite it! You want a load from my revolver, don't ya, cocksucker?"

"Oh yesshir!" I hissed.

"Yer gonna get it, boy... yer gonna get it! Pull the foreskin, boy. C'mon, pull it, fucker. Harder. Yeah... yeah... yeeeeeah, fucker! Ahh, here it cuuuuuuuungh!"

As I bit into the skin and pulled it back and forth over the head like a hungry animal, the cop jizzed past the stretched-out skin onto my face. His chunky spunk spewed onto my cheek and lips, with one thick gob landing on my tongue. I swallowed it along with the cop's still-spasming rod, pulling the foreskin back with my lips as I slid onto him.

He pulled me off his rod, held my head tight with both hands and leaned down. He kissed me. A hard, quick kiss. He stuffed himself back into his pants, zipped up and left as silently as he'd entered. I was dazed, but finally gathered my wits and pulled myself together.

As I left the insurance office and walked to the parking lot, I looked for some sign of the cop. No cop, no bike, no cruiser in sight. As I let out a small sigh, I tasted my cop and thought of the straining foreskin I'd had between my teeth just minutes earlier. Sure beats a taffy-pull, I thought to myself.

When I got to the car, there was a scrap of paper on the windshield. The words "bite me" were printed in block letters above a phone number. Yeah, like I said before, there's always a stiff fee for late payments. I knew I'd have to bite the bullet again soon.

The regular review column by Peter Leko begins on the next page, but I wanted to use a little editorial prerogative to tell you about a video I consider a real find. It's The Wild Ones from Renegade Studio, distributed through the Tom of Finland Company. [$69.95 plus $5 s/h (foreign s/h is $8, CA residents add 8.25% tax) to Tom of Finland Co., P. O. Box 26716, LA, CA 90026.]

This tape has some of the wildest sucking and fucking scenes I have ever seen, and bits of leathersex action you certainly don't see every night—not to mention a few very special 'skins! It's not a foreskin flick, but if you can handle the SM at all, you'll want this tape in your collection.

Both of the photos on this page are from The Wild Ones. The digital blur in the one below is in the photo, not the tape, but I knew you'd want to see the action in it. If the guys in the photo at right look familiar, they should. They were in FQ 16, in photos from Palm Drive, but this is a picture straight out of The Wild Ones which has a huge cast of super-hot men, including Zak Spears!

Next issue, Don Lockwood returns, and the editor's choice video will be from of Bad Brad Braverman.

Video reviews with a 'skin seeker's point of view

A pair of domestic releases--"Latin Jackoff" from Filmco and "The Uncut Version" from All Worlds--offer an unusual amount of foreskin. Both utilize the interview format that some producers have used to introduce new performers to video fans. "Latin Jackoff" features six uncut studs, a couple of whom are more or less familiar to male video audiences, but the eight (only seven are listed in the credits) in "The Uncut Version" are unknowns who are likely to stay that way. Both videos are jackoff flicks plain and simple, an increasingly common approach to video sex these days.

What can I say about masturbation? We've all done it. In both of these releases, the models come on-camera and talk with the offscreen interviewer/photographer, strip and jack off. Nothing very unusual or imaginative here, so let's get down to basics. In "Latin Jackoff," the models come into a makeshift gym (it looks a bit like a basement) and go through the motions of a workout to stimulate themselves for the subject at hand—and work it does seem to be. Bobby Cordova, who appears first, has a Latino complexion, a trim, hairless body with nicely defined musculature, and a fairly ordinary uncut dick set off by a generous thatch of black pubic hair. As he lifts various weights the camera records different poses, sometimes underneath views with legs spread to show off his hairy perineum. During the chitchat, Bobby says how bad he needs to jack off but his dick doesn't back up his words. It's persistently soft and has to be aroused by hand. He plays with his foreskin now and then and skins it back to show a slick, shapely glans. He eventually gets his rocks off in a dribbling climax, and then goes to the shower. As he soaps up he spreads his cheeks for a view of that hairy asscrack and manually works up another floppy erection but isn't really hard. At the end of the scene he sits down in the tub and masturbates to another unimpressive climax.

The second episode begins with Eddie Perez in bed. When "waked" by the interviewer, Eddie goes to the shower and soaps his crotch but his penis shows little interest. Then he moons the camera before he dries off and pulls on shorts. He goes to the gym and works out with pushups and a session with a punching bag, during which he pulls off his shorts to continue punching. He plays with his balls and oils his floppy dick to work up an erection. He stretches and spreads his foreskin, and pushes his unenthusiastic erection up his asscrack. At the end of the session he flops a solid hardon against his belly and then beats off a fair load.

Next Angel Luis comes in and strips to shorts, showing off a smooth torso with well-defined pecs. He drops his shorts to reveal his large, dark-skinned dick. He skins it back, re-covers his cockhead and flops his genitals back and forth between his thighs. He oils up and flexes his muscles front and back, and presents his ass with cheeks spread. He exercises with dumbbells and swings his floppy genitals by wagging his hips. The camera captures frontal and side views of his awesome penis before he ties a thong tightly around his cock and balls.

He flops it more and it gets fully hard, revealed in vivid close-up. A stallion would be proud of it, and you'd have to visit a stud farm at rutting time to find a bigger cock. He peels the foreskin off his cockhead and flops his cock some more before jacking it in rapid strokes with glans bared. Then his erection wilts as he does more exercises so he has to revive it manually to jack off. His semen just dribbles out of his slit and I suspect ejaculation must have been impeded by the thong strangling his shaft. Finally he puts a leather strap around the base of his semi-hard shaft, masturbates to a second skimpy climax and promptly goes soft.

Vladimir Correa, the best-known model in this video, comes on next and begins to strip as he chats with the interviewer. Most of us are familiar with Vladimir's smooth, hunky bod. He shows it off well when he strips to a thong bikini and oils himself up to highlight his muscles as he works out. He sheds the bikini to reveal a completely relaxed penis and continues working the weights. He has to oil his penis and skin it back to manually coax it to something like an erection. He masturbates with his foreskin back, and briefly gets fully hard as he plays with his skin and beats off a skimpy load.

Eddie Valens, the fifth model, has always been one of my favorites. His tawny Latino complexion and neat pubic bush beautifully contrast with a gorgeous chocolate-brown penis and purplish black scrotum, a combination good enough to eat. You'll have to pardon me for getting carried away. Anyhow, the session begins with Eddie lying on the bed dressed. He strips and goes to the shower where he soaps his crotch which boasts a spontaneous erection, really the only enthusiastic, genuine hardon in this whole video. He spreads his cheeks to show the camera his delectable, dark chocolate asscrack and dusky balls. To his credit, he keeps a full erection as he dries off and slips on a bikini. Back in the bedroom he oils his body, takes off the bikini, strokes his penis and flexes his muscles for the camera. He lies down and humps the bed a while and oils the cleft of his ass before turning on his back for terminal jackoff to a disappointing load.

Austin Ramos, the last model in this video, strips to a red bikini and oils his body before some work with the weights. He takes off the bikini to release a floppy cock and balls circled by a cockring. He oils his penis and ass and spreads his cheeks, and then jumps rope with his inert cock flopping against his balls. He wraps the rope around his cock and balls, stretches his scrotum, and plays with his genitals to tease his penis to erection. After more work with the weights he lies back and strokes his rubbery erection to a paltry orgasm.

In "The Uncut Version," hopeful porn actors are interviewed by director/cameraman Dirk Yates and invited to strip and masturbate. Randy enters dressed in a Marine uniform, unzips his fly and plays with a very limp dick. After he drops his pants his dick perks up somewhat, and eventually he teases it to full erection. The camera captures him jacking off in several positions. He spreads his cheeks and probes his ass awhile before turning around to play with the foreskin of his soft cock. After what seems like an eternity he gets it hard and jacks off schoolboy-style to an invisible climax. He promptly goes soft even though he gives us a bit of foreskin play, running his finger around the glans inside his skin.

The second hopeful also claims to be a Marine even though he doesn't arrive in uniform. He lies on a bed and eventually gets naked as he plays with a very soft penis. It doesn't get more than floppily erect even though he teases it by slapping it in an effort to wake it up. Lying supine he frantically masturbates (sometimes two-handed) to a scanty climax. He claims to be hot for still another round, and he appears again, this time in a T-shirt so it is probably another session entirely. He manages to get it up by slapping it and sliding the skin up and down over his glans, and comes again while turning the pages of a girlie mag.

The next model is a black guy in white shorts who sits down and takes out his uncut piece. The contrast between his black penis and white shorts obviously throws the exposure control of the video camera off, because his penis is a black silhouette against the white cloth; it has lots of skin and would be nice if we could see it, even though it is soft. He plays with his skin, stretching it wide, but his dick stays soft. Even after getting out of his shorts and trying again, it stays soft. In apparent desperation he takes a candle and runs it around under his foreskin, shoving it in as far as it will go, but still it stays soft. He finally teases it to a reasonable erection and drops a load of very white semen on his dark belly.

Brett, a 20-year-old student, is the fourth guy. He lies on the bed, takes off his shorts and plays with a very soft penis while telling Dirk about himself. After a lot of coaxing, he gets it hard, and then takes his shirt off to continue masturbating. His cockhead pops in and out of his foreskin very appealingly as he strokes, but he has to wet it with spit because he must not be excited enough to produce precum. He pulls his legs up and hooks his knees behind his shoulders in a position only a contortionist could take. The camera zooms in on his widespread perineum for a close-up of his asslips, which look as if they've had plenty of experience. Finally he jacks off to climax while holding his balls and dribbles cum down his fingers.

The fifth "model" is a tall, slender guy with a military haircut and tattoos, dressed in white shorts. He sits in an easy chair and takes off his shorts to expose a (what else?) soft penis. Dirk gets him a beer as he plays with his dick to coax it to erection. Once it's hard it is easily the most interesting penis on view in this video: long, with a graceful downward curve and ample foreskin covering a nicely tapered glans, the shaft surrounded by lush pubic hair. Still reclining in the chair he masturbates in conventional style to the best climax of the video. He ejaculates in the real sense of the word and actually squirts a big, sticky load into the palm of his hand. Nice.

The next onanist is Pete, who is shirtless and wears jogging shorts as his session begins. After shedding the shorts and manually coaxing his penis to erection he indulges himself in a lengthy standard jackoff session while reclining in Dirk's easy chair, finally reaching climax in what may have been a decent ejaculation had it not been completely missed by the camera. Dirk tells Pete that he didn't warn him. Yeah.

Jerry, who appears next, is possibly the most appealing performer in this video. He has a slim, youthful body, a nice face, a very attractive penis of average size and dark pigmentation, and ample foreskin. After stripping, he reclines in the easy chair and masturbates while prodding the pucker in his perineum with his fingers. Again the camera misses the money shot, which is nothing more than small change to judge by the skimpy droplets hanging in Jerry's pubic hair.

"Bull" from Little Rock, Ark., is the final performer in this epic. He begins his session wearing only a jockstrap, which Dirk invites him to remove, commenting that Bull is uncut. He stretches out on a couch and performs a standard jackoff, finally sprinkling his crotch with sperm in a ho-hum climax.

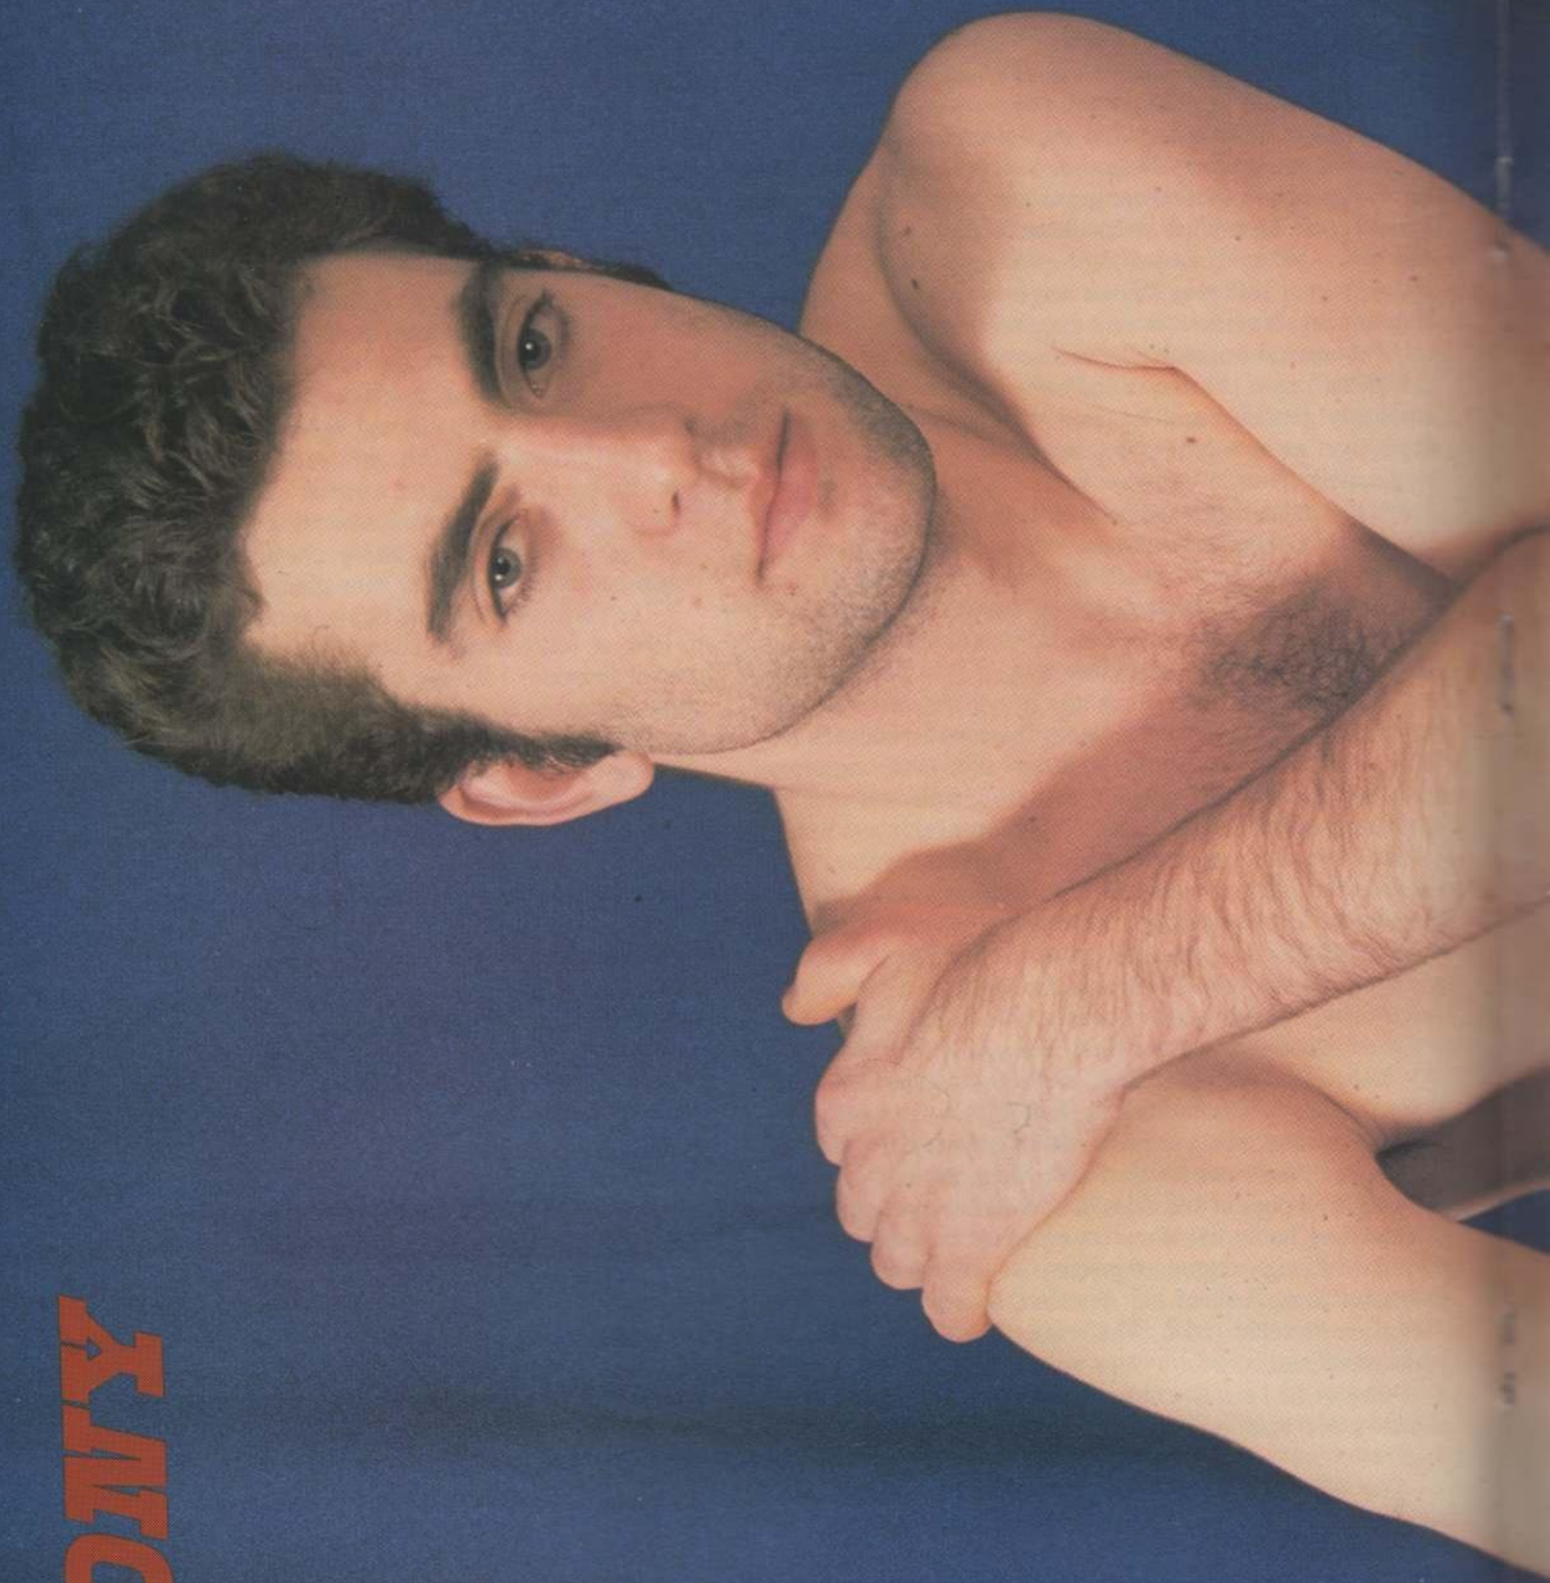

The performers in these two releases are pleasant enough to look at and have enviable cocks with ample amounts of natural foreskin, but only one of the fourteen seems to be really interested in masturbating on camera. Eddie Valens' spontaneous and persistent erection shows that he enjoys showing it off in action. The rest have to work so long to achieve even minimal tumescence that we have to conclude that auto-sex, especially homo-sex, isn't their main sexual interest. With the possible exception of Eddie Valens and Vladimir Correa, who have appeared in many all-male videos, I would guess that they are only there for whatever money there was in it.

The importance of visual signals and triggers in male sexual responses has long been known. We all recognize the power of the penis as a visual erotic signal regardless of its state of tumescence, but its dramatic visual erotic impact is achieved only with full, rigid erection. Nothing is more exciting, more arousing, than a firm, enthusiastic hardon. Nothing is more beautiful than an erect penis. Except for Eddie, no one in these videos shows us one until he's about to cum.

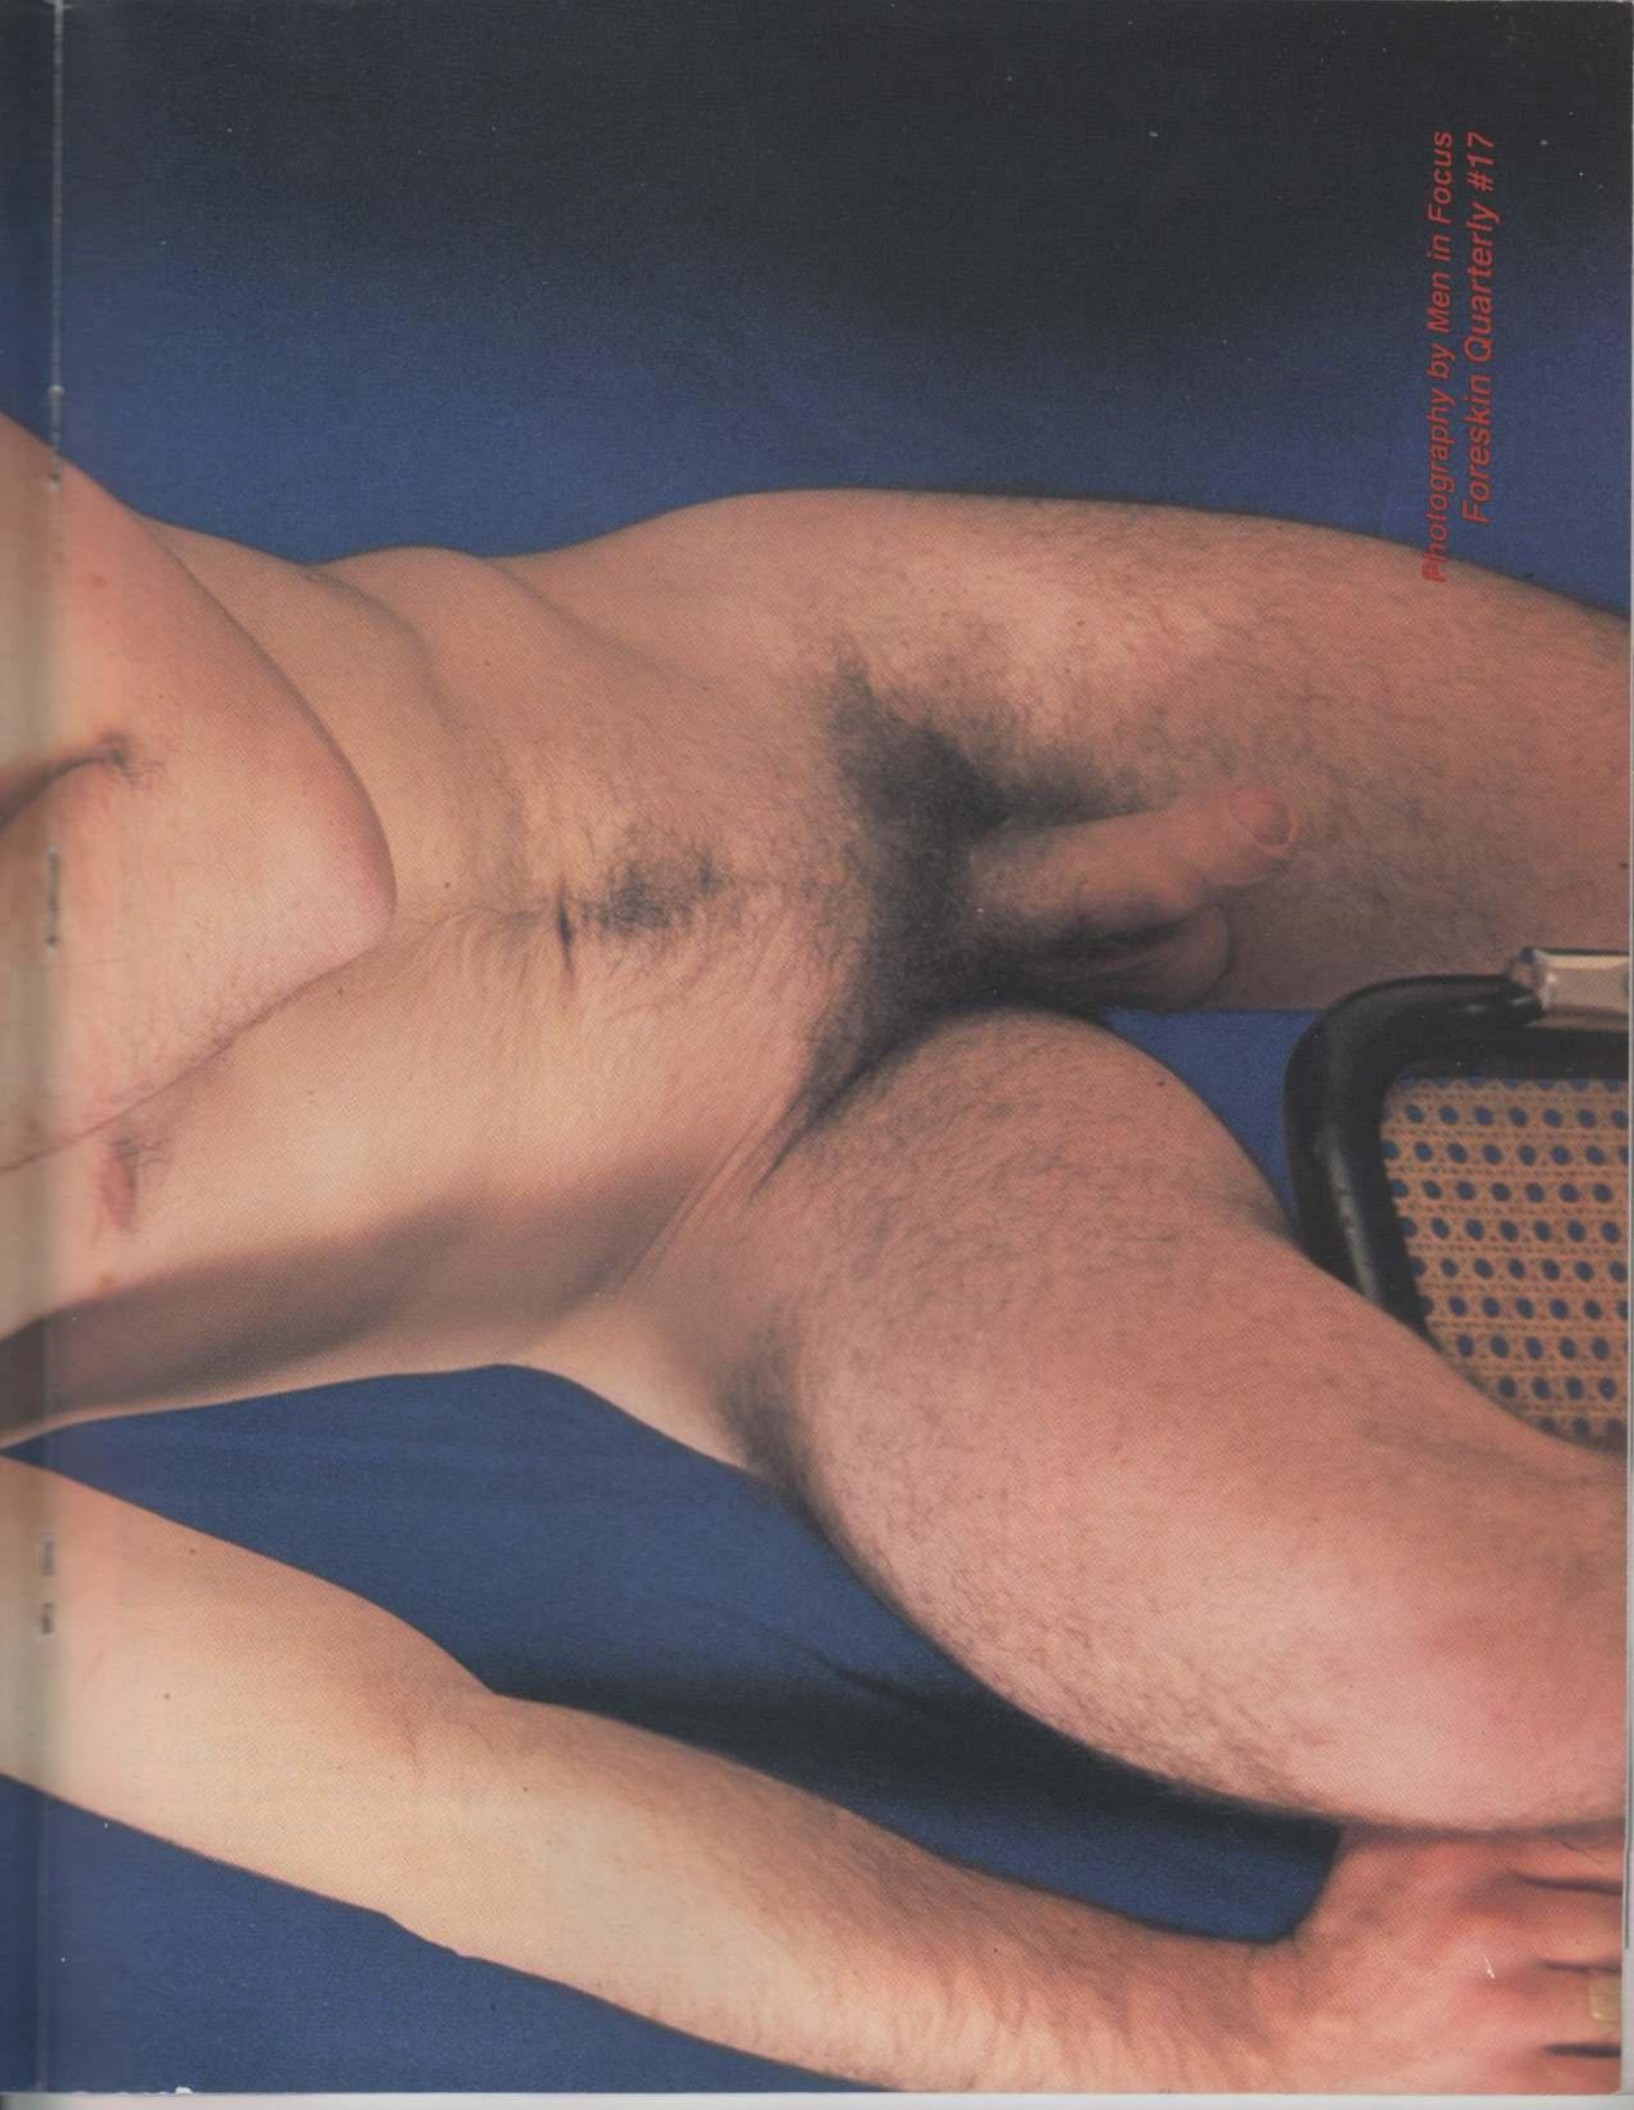

The jackoff flick provides performer, director and cameraman an opportunity to capture the physical beauty of male genitalia in action during the intensely sensual moments of masturbation and to communicate this excitement to the viewer. We all can relate to the performer and share the sensations that he enjoys while jacking off, but the expression of that pleasure must be sincere. Enjoyment can't be faked. But the skill of the cameraman, the sensitivity of the director, and the production values of the videotape all interact with the physical appearance, facial expressions, and actions of the performer to affect the success—or failure—of the video.

Not much works in these two releases because the performers are merely going through the motions of masturbation without honestly enjoying the act. The director and cameraman don't take full advantage of the visual impact of the physical beauty of the performer and male sexual anatomy in action, and production values are mediocre to poor.

I can't help but remember the intense autoerotic pleasure captured in several videos by J.D. Cadinot and Kristen Bjorn, but these directors/cameramen are no Cadinot or Bjorn. And if you want to see a thrilling jackoff performance, get—or replay—Tony Young's lyrical, aesthetically lovely al fresco masturbation sequence in "Takin' Care of Mike." There is 10 minutes of pure sensual delight, artistically videographed, beautifully produced with audio background combining romantic music with outdoor bird song. The breathtaking beauty of Tony Young's fresh face, slim, smooth body, spontaneously responsive penis, lush new pubic hair, and sweaty armpits as he enjoys all the pleasure his body feels while he masturbates is captured so perfectly that you yearn to be with Tony to hold him close and share the thrill of his orgasm. Superb.

As for technical details, camera work in "Latin Jackoff" is reasonably good, lighting is adequate, the audio track is about what you'd expect, and the minimal editing demands are met with little flair. "The Uncut Version" is a completely different ball game. It has less polish than mediocre home movies. The camera often goes out of focus; can't stay on target in the wide shots; camera angles are bad much too often; and the money shots are not captured very well. Video quality is poor and generally not crisp; color balance poor; lighting erratic and uneven; the soundtrack is cluttered with all kinds of background noise and the recorded dialogue is mostly inane. Obviously, no effort has been made to edit out the poor footage; of course if it had been, not much would be left.

There may be as much as 10 minutes worth watching in "Latin Jackoff," but I doubt there's even that much to hold your interest in "The Uncut Version." You'll appreciate your VCR's fast-forward control more than ever if you watch either of these jackoff flicks. In fact, you may wear it out on "The Uncut Version." If you don't, it will probably be the most boring hour and 55 minutes that you will ever spend.

Have we never mentioned your favorite foreskin flick? If that's the case, maybe you should tell us and our readers about it.

Just a couple more shots from The Wild Ones (reviewed on page 29). We all know there's 'skin in the picture above even if we can't see it, and obviously none in the picture at right, but wouldn't it be fun to examine that pole in search of a foreskin? You get plenty of chances to do that in the video.

FORESKIN RESTORATION Progress Report 1993

We hope to follow-up with a 1995 update sometime very soon.

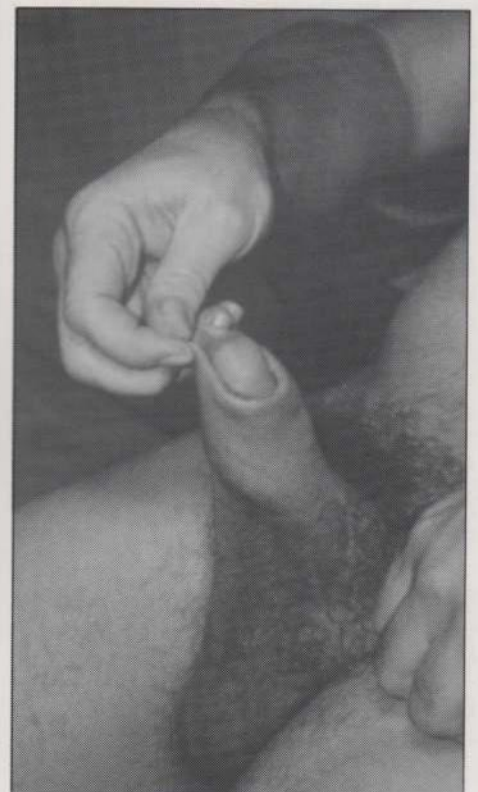

8 years?

Yeah, I've been tugging on my would-be foreskin for a long time. This summer, 1993, completes my eighth year of foreskin restoration. I try not to be impatient—but I want it so badly—and just take it a day at a time. Stretching has become part of my daily routine and when I don't do it, I miss it!

I remember reading about one man's personal quest for a foreskin in an early issue of Foreskin Quarterly (F.Q.). It was his testimony that got me stretching. Having fully restored his, he wrote: "It took nearly eight years before I had a respectable imitation of a foreskin. You may wonder if all that effort was worthwhile. Eight years is a long time. [I'll say!] If I had known it was going to take that long I probably wouldn't have bothered, but now that I have been enjoying my restored tool for over a year, I'll tell you some of the benefits... It is something to be hold to see a smooth, glistening deeply colored cap [your own] slowly protruding from its protective cover. So, my cut friends... If I can do it, so can you."

Yeah, but I didn't think it would take me eight years and then some too!

The good news is that F.Q. is back in publication. It's still the hottest magazine I've ever read. I am a foreskin restorer, thanks to the very first issue of F.Q. I read in 1985. I learned having my very own foreskin was more than just a fantasy, it could become a reality; I could actually reconstruct one similar to the one I lost during infancy circumcision by stretching my shaft skin. Soon I began a stretching regime. Now, I have the skin to prove it! F.Q. got me started. I plan on telling my whole story in a future issue. I'm working to consolidate my 8 yearly reports into a foreskin restoration diary and reveal all, photographs included.

Other good news: RECAP, an organization out of San Francisco, has a chapter established here in Seattle. "We promote foreskin restoration for those who want to be intact again," with support groups and an information network. I went to my first meeting in May. I showed the men present the foreskin cylinder I was wearing. None of them had seen the device before. I removed it and manually stretched my foreskin for them. They were impressed. Since my foreskin doesn't fit snugly over my glans, talk centered around a method of stretching that might produce a more cone-shaped foreskin. I said I didn't think it was possible.

Again I turned to F.Q. I found this information, which is corollary to our discussion: In his column, "USA Update," Bud Berkeley gave the following answer to the question about why a fellow has difficulty docking: "I'll bet your 'skin is the type which stays forward when you get erect. Right? Tapered foreskins usually have weighted tips. That is, the skin around the tip is thicker than the foreskin which covers the glans... Only about 40% of uncut men have weighted tips. Many men have long foreskins but without a weighted tip. They have to pull at their skins to keep them forward over a boner. They are easily docked, which is never easily done with a foreskin like yours."

Ron Fisher, from Portland, Oregon, said if he could restore as much foreskin as I have, he wouldn't give two hoots nor a holler if his were tapered or not!

My main method of stretching remains the vacuum pump foreskin cylinder which I have used for several years now. I wear it at work several times a day for an hour or two. The clear plastic ball slips easily under my cockskin, now. And I also note more foreskin being sucked up into the tube when I wear it. After a session of stretching, it's loose, elastic and covers all but the very tip of my penis. Indeed, my Jockey shorts will keep my glans encased in my new foreskin when I'm not stretching. Often when I stick my finger in and roll it around under my corona, I find that it's moist and sometimes fragrant when I pull it out.

The words of a head cheese freak printed in F.Q. come to mind: "Women find the smell of musk produced from a secretion harvested from the preputial-foreskin-of the musk ox so erotic that it is used as the base for many perfumes. Scent plays a large part in human sexuality. And head cheese is the only true human aphrodisiac. So when the uncut stud begins filling the air with the sweet sour aroma of smegma he is telling the world that he is ready to fuck!"

Yeah, that's me, too!

Night Stretching. I continue to tape my shaftskin around the plastic ball of my foreskin cylinder before going to bed. Often I feel my nocturnal erection pushing the ball into the skin covering it. I'll reach inside my pajamas, grasp the skin-covered ball and pull. My foreskin stretches and it's a sensation that can only be described as delectable! In the morning I save the pieces of tape, which I counted for this report: 256 nights of stretching last year!

Yeah, I would say I'm very happy about my progress. When I'm sexually aroused, the corona of my glans responds with waves of intense sensation because of its new tenderness. Keeping it covered had done that. Just touching the inside of my foreskin when it's stretched back down my erect shaft is nothing less than exquisite. And it's easier for me to reach a climax than it ever has been. All of this is happening at the time in my life when most men's sexual libido is dropping and most cut men lose glans sensations because it's weathered skin has thickened and become callous over the years.

Prognosis (more than wishful thinking): I speculate it will be at least another year or two before my restoration is complete. I can only anticipate having my preputial ring tightened and a frenulum attached. (One of the photographs for 1992 is an excellent shot of me stretching the skin on the dorsal side of my penis which is connected to my glans.) With my cockhead permanently covered, I can only wonder: Will it really get tender, silky, shiny, and turn deep, purplish-red?

I would like to close this year's report with another quote from an earlier issue of F.Q. A fellow wrote at the end of his article on "What I Think It Would Be Like Had I Not Been Cut": "Some of my conjectures may be fact, some may be fantasy, but I'll never know. Maybe some of you intact fellows can tell us who were cut what we have been missing."

Talk to me in a year or two, I'll be able to tell you!

Happy stretching!

Deeper Into Circumcision

AN INVITATION TO AWARENESS AND GUIDE TO RESOURCES . . .

BOTH BY

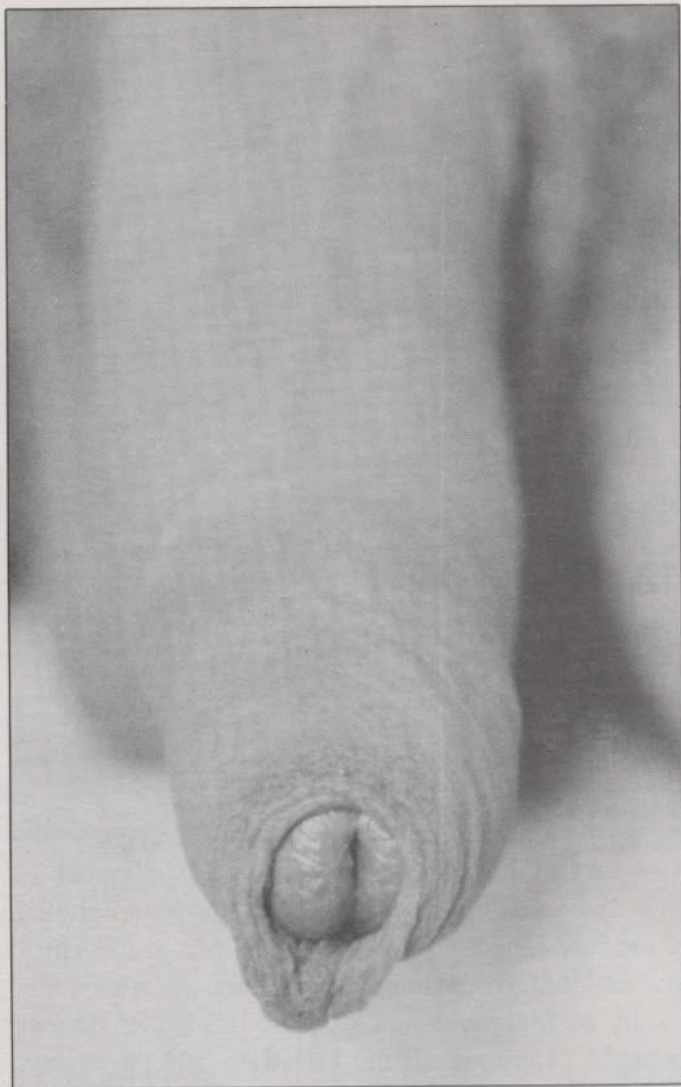

JOHN A. ERICKSON

When John A. Erickson does a thing, you may consider that thing done, capital-D done. . . as much as it can ever possibly be done. His collection of photos of the foreskin, compiled for and shown at the Third International Symposium on Circumcision at the University of Maryland, May 22-25, 1994, is a perfect example. Here are all the variations and, so to say, models of foreskin, photographed to be explanatory and educational, although we recognize that many of them could also be called mouth-watering as well.

All the pictures on this and the next two pages are from Erickson's collection. The set of 33 color prints (4" x 6")—titled A Piece of Skin the Size of a Quarter—sells for just $30. He also offers 8" x 12" exhibit size prints by special order. Besides the pictures shown here, there is a very interesting series that demonstrates the actual dimensions of the foreskin, and we're betting it's much bigger than you ever imagined. And there are some shots of the foreskin gathered and stretched in various ways. We're not going to try to show you every picture because we know you'll want a set of your own. (Address appears at end of review.)

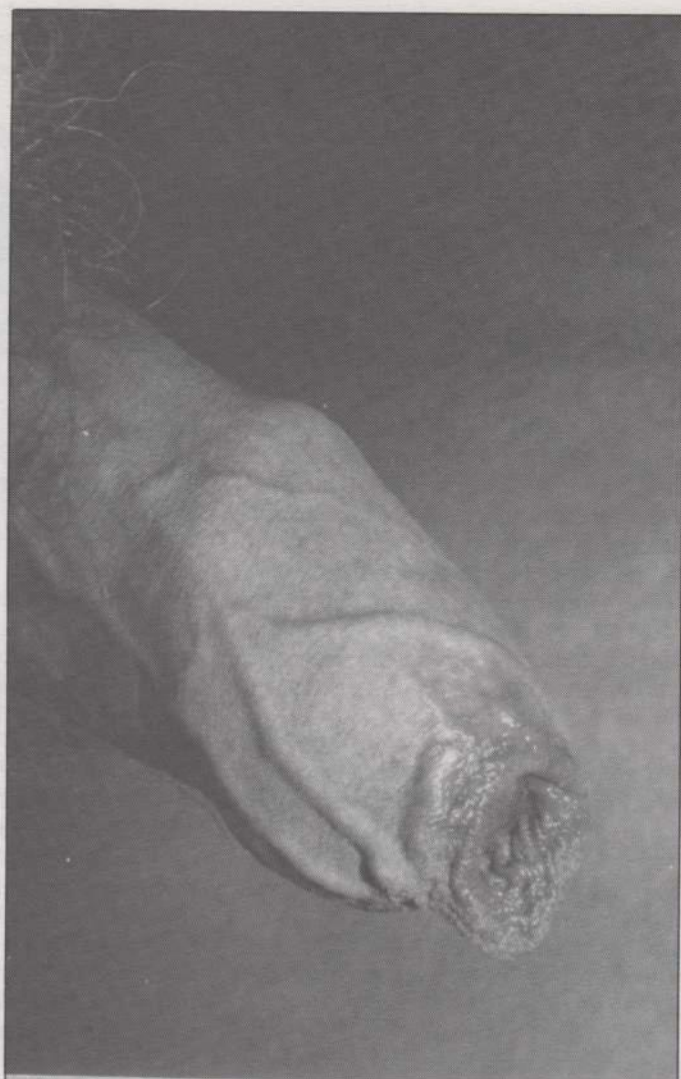

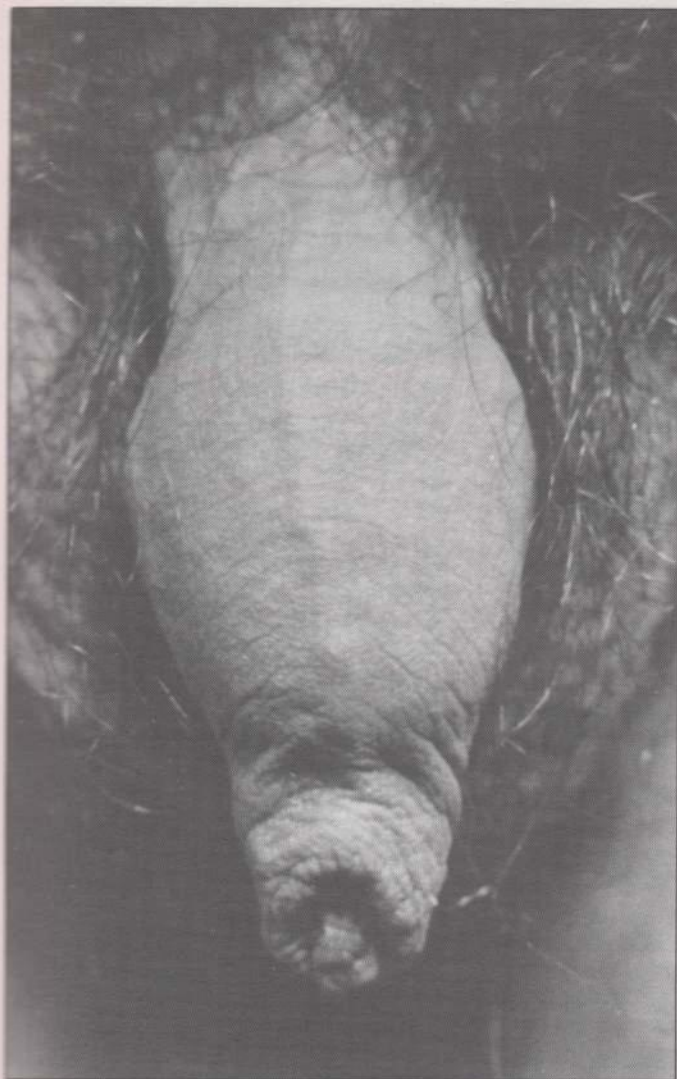

Erickson's other current project of likely interest to you is a constantly updated book called Deeper Into Circumcision. As suggested above, if Erickson says deeper, you may expect some extreme of depth, and you get it. The contents of the book are pretty accurately outlined by the lengthy subtitle on the cover:

Available from John A. Erickson

"An Invitation to Awareness and Guide to Resources for Researchers, Parents, Restorers, Activists, and the Merely Curious." He boasts a gathering of 300-plus resources about the foreskin (including, of course, Foreskin Quarterly!) and more than 30 references on female genital mutilation. Anyone with even the slightest interest in the penis or foreskin, or in circumcision or the movement to reduce or prevent routine circumcision, will want this guide at hand. It was 72 pages in March 1995, but about to go through a major and lengthening revision to about 96 pages.

Erickson takes an orderly and organized approach to his subject, but betrays a driving passion too. It's hard to understand how we could say we enjoy his work, but we do. And we expect you will also.

Both the photo set ($30) and the book ($10) are available from:

HEY BUD!

Bud Berkely, founder and director of the Uncircumcised Society of America (USA), draws from his extensive files of correspondence to give us some insight into the art and practice of living with the uncircumcised penis, the pros and cons of circumcision, its history, and the possibilities of reconstructing foreskin on a circumcised penis. Please send your questions, opinions and experiences to: Bud Berkely, P. O. Box 26011, San Francisco, CA 94126. We will not reveal your identity.

Hey Bud,

I am writing to you about a phenomenon that I have yet to see discussed in either your book or columns. I am a 30-year old uncircumcised male of Spanish descent. I would say that about 99% of the male members in my family, on both sides of my parents, are uncircumcised. Most of my family lives in Central Mexico. Since as long as I can remember I have been fascinated with the foreskin for one particular reason.

I guess I was about 5 or 6 years old when I first took notice in the appearance of my father's penis. Unlike mine at the time, which had a somewhat long foreskin that extended about 1/2" beyond the tip of the glans, my father didn't have the foreskin covering the glans. Every time I saw him, whether after the shower or when, quite often, as he left the bathroom door open to urinate, his foreskin was always retracted. At first, I just thought he pulled it back on those occasions but later when he and I visited a health sauna in Mexico, I noticed that his foreskin was retracted at all times. I also took notice that about 90% of the adult and teenage males at the sauna had their foreskin retracted.

I especially took notice of a cousin of mine which was the same age as I and he had his foreskin drawn back. I quite clearly recall seeing my cousin just a few years back having the same type foreskin as mine. It really intrigued me. I had wanted to ask my father or cousin about it, but it seemed very difficult to bring up the subject somehow. I guess it was the environment. Later, at other occasions, I noticed the same thing on other cousins of mine. Not having a brother, I just found it hard to find answers much less to be able to ask the questions.

So, what am I writing to you about, you are probably asking? Well, I have wondered whether in your own study on the subject of foreskin if this type of phenomenon where the foreskin just starts to retract itself back behind the glans or whether people manipulate their foreskin to stay that way? Since I can safely claim from what I saw in Mexico is fairly common, do you think it may be a cultural thing or more of a biological thing? I have made, during the last 20 years, numerous attempts to see if I could get my foreskin to be like those in my family but with very little success. I have been baffled and I think having seen some of your work, which is great, I would like to research the phenomenon.

Long Foreskin in Texas

Dear Long Texas Foreskin,
Machismo, Tex, machismo.

The phenomenon is the result of those virile Mexican men desiring to show off their manhood...all of it! Except for those few dicks whose glans grow too far and naturally cause the foreskin to retract permanently, the phenomenon is not biological; it is cultural. However, it is not only those sexy Mexican men who want the world to see their magnificent cock heads! Much to the disappointment of foreskin-deprived American tourists, from the bathhouses of Amsterdam to the public baths of Tokyo, a large percentage of men retract their foreskin in public.

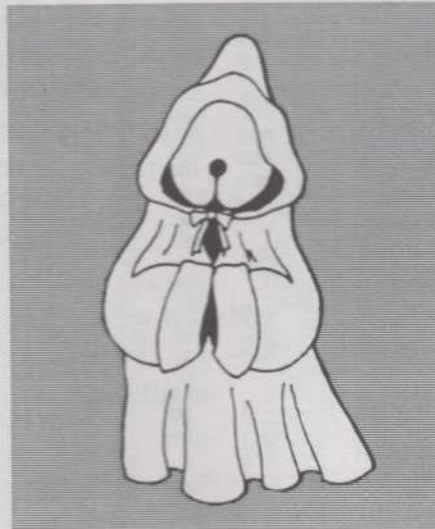

"All over the world, in peoples that do not circumcise themselves in youth, the retraction of the penis is executed manually," wrote sexologist Felix Bryke in the 1930s. "The glans is exposed; decapped (decalotte). Among Europeans it is done secretly and only occasionally, in Japan this is almost a public affair; having the foreskin constantly in a retracted state is part of the national character of the Japanese. In Japan, it is everywhere said that the often foreskin-covered penis of the European is KAWA-KAMURI (KAWA=skin, KAMURI-covered). A Japanese is very much ashamed of being kawakamuri." Allowing the foreskin to remain draped over the glans is considered a sign of immaturity or vulgarity.

Japanese writer, Alsutane Hirata ("Ibuki Oroshi") noted the difference between the always-retracted Japanese penis and the Europeans penis, comparing the European to the penis of a dog. A famous Japanese painting (circa: late 1700s) depicted the dog-like penis of a Dutch man ... the glans was covered even during erection! Heaven forbid!! During WWII, photos were confiscated from Japanese POWs which they had taken earlier of American POWs ... showing embarrassed GIs having their long foreskins pulled forward and stretched-out by their smiling captors. It was thought these photos were meant to demonstrate to the people back home just how immature were American soldiers.

Japanese physician Adachi wrote in the 1930s, "Every Japanese entering maturity asks himself in the beginning why his glans is not completely free like that of other adults and in this way arrives at an unfortunate suspicion of the naturalness of his own member. He therefore shoves the foreskin back." Adachi called the perpetually free glans of the Japanese "an artificial phenomenon." Adachi continues, "The denudation is attained in the following manner: The foreskin is shoved behind the corona and often is retained in that position by means of string, so that finally, in many cases, the foreskin cannot be extended forward any more to cover the glans."

What in hell is going on? The uncircumcised men of the world going to great trouble to shove their foreskins out-of-sight, while the circumcised men of America are tugging at their remaining penile skin to regain enough foreskin to cover their glans? Well, Tex, the blame stands with our phallic-worshipping ancestors. It seems that the skinned-back cock is fixated in the mind's-eye of the human race as being THE VIRILE MAN'S PENIS....perpetually erect (at least it looks like a stiff dick!) and ready to shoot.

"The erect penis has always had the effect of growing, fructifying life on the power and realm of human imagination and therefore worshipped everywhere as THE phallus of fertility," wrote Bryke. As you might have read in my book, FORESKIN: A CLOSER LOOK, early Ethiopians raided neighboring villages for a supply of severed penises to be hung over their doors as amulets of fertility ... and these stolen cocks were ALWAYS circumcised before being strung-up; hanging a penis which still had its foreskin somehow looked infertile and, therefore, would cause a barren household.

"Circumcision is beyond doubt intimately bound up with phallic worship," wrote Bryke. "Circumcision, insofar as it is an indigenous custom, appears in connection with the practice of cutting away the genitalia of conquered enemies in order to prove, beyond doubt, one's prowess in battle...During the recent Balkans War (1912-13) many a Montenegrin warrior proudly owned a whole string of 'fertility amulets' (Turkish circumcised penises)." To illustrate how battlefield - castration sometimes manifests as battlefield-circumcision, we need look only back to 1935-36 during the Italo-Ethiopian war. Prepuce proud Italian soldiers awoke in the mornings to find baskets of freshly-trimmed foreskins at the gate of their camps, the number of foreskins equaling the number of Italians taken prisoner on the previous day. Heavy! Well, Tex, you asked for research!

We uncircumcised Americans who can't keep our long foreskins shoved back no matter what we do to it, are among the lucky few males in the world. We didn't realize the "need" to "decap" soon enough. Our cockhead just didn't get fat enough in time to hold back all those folds of foreskin. That's OUR phenomenon! Don't feel ashamed of your hidden cockhead, Tex. I am sure that it springs to life when you orgasm, your quivering glans flaring out as fat as any other cockhead in your family. Then it goes back to sleep in its warm pocket....naturally.

Fortunately for us, the current trend in phallic-worship is towards the uncircumcised penis; the long, drooping, well-covered look. Tex, put out the word in Mexico!

Now that you have most of my readers crying over the loss of that gorgeous 3" overhang and others pulling boners out of their pants... thinking...

Hey Bud,

I have a major foreskin fetish. I think about it all the time. Every time I see a hot man walking down the street, I wonder whether he has foreskin. My mouth waters everytime I see a long, dangling foreskin at the university swimming pool. Every time I beat my meat, I fantasize about chewing on a dude's sweet-tasting overhang. I can do anything with foreskin. When I know a guy has still got his skin, I'll do anything to get at it...no matter his age or what he looks like. I just have to get my hands on foreskin!

I am a 33 year old grad student, closing in on a professional career. I am 6' 0", 150 lbs, brown/blonde hair, blue eyes, short trimmed beard, defined body, moderate body hair, hair-chested, pits, crotch, some on ball sack. Big and long, but here's the downer....It's cut. I dig all different types of men whose dicks are covered with skin. The longer the overhang the better. Tight, loosedoesn't matter. Big nipples are really hot. Body hair chests especially on bald guys gets me a bone!

As a child, I showered with my father who had a big, beautiful cock that had a lot of foreskin. I remember looking at it and liking it better than mine and wishing it was mine. That is how I got my fetish. We never talked about dicks but I thought about his all the time.

Bud, I have two questions for you. One, I have heard of a doctor in Texas who restores foreskin. I've got to contact him! Do you have his phone number? Shit, if I thought I was going to get a foreskin on my dick, I'd have a bone-on all the way to Texas.

Second question. Bud, what's your phone number? I understand you have foreskin on your dick. Ever put a rubber band on your foreskin and piss until it explodes? Piss in your sweaty, salty arm pits and have a guy eat them? Try sliding your foreskin down over the top of a 1/2 full beer bottle; shaking it and watching your skin blow up?

Dripping

Dear Drip,

A beer bottle? Great idea! Oh, pardon me. Your first question; the Texas physician you seek is Dr. Donald Greer. He has been a pioneer in surgical foreskin restoration. I have had the privilege of inspecting several of his successfully restored foreskin and, yes, they look great. But surgery isn't for everyone and instead you might be able to manually stretch out your own foreskin. You describe yourself very well (yum!) in your letter, but failed to tell us about your cockexcept that it is cut and, oh yes, big and long! Tightly cut? Fat cockhead? How big is it? How long is it? Oh, pardon me. What were we discussing? Oh yes, manual foreskin restoration. Hell, I have seen foreskins grow manually on the tightest (and longest) All-American clip cocks. Is it eight inches? Nine?

A great source of restoration information is the book, THE JOY OF UNCIRCUMCISING, by Jim Bigelow. Also, you will probably find direction to Dr. Greer (he no longer practices in Texas) by contacting UNCIR, BOX 52138, Pacific Grove, Ca 93950.

Your second question. Ever shoot off inside another fellow's foreskin? Have a foreskin taped (with ouchless surgical tape) and trapped over your stiff shaft? Beat your cut dick using another guy's skin? Is it ten inches long? Maybe twelve? What's YOUR phone number?

Hey Bud,

I saw your name in FQ and I am responding. A little about me, I am 24, 5' 9", 150 lbs, shoulder length curly blond hair, bright blue eyes, in good shape, I swim 3 to 4 miles a day. I have a little body hair under my arms and my crotch. My penis is just a bit over 8" long measured on top. It is also super thick, the most unusual thing about it is, I have a VERY long foreskin, when soft it hangs past the head about 2 inches, when hard it hangs past the head almost an inch. When hard, I can stretch the foreskin out more than 3 inches past the head of my penis. The foreskin is real wet and pretty anus fitting. It tapers to a point at the tip. The inner layer of the foreskin is almost white and the glans are a light pink and always wet.

I have always thought being circumcised would be a rush. I think about it all the time. I have talked to a few doctors about doing it but none of them were into it or they made me uneasy. I have looked into the various ways it could be done. Almost all of them excite me. I have read that some guys have as much as 15 sq. inches of skin removed during circumcision. I have measured mine and I think a super tight circ on my cock would remove more than 30 inches of skin. I think having it done without painkillers would be a real experience. I've got a comco clamp, I have almost crushed my foreskin into history several times as I get so excited thinking about it.

Do you have any material about adult circumcision? I would like to be in contact with other fellows who want to get circumcised, or who got circumcised as adult. I really get hot when I think about watching another man getting circumcised. I "circumcise" myself everytime I masturbate. Bud, can you help me fulfill my most erotic desire?

Can't Wait For The Rush

Dear Rush,

Dump the clamp! Don't circumcise yourself. I am not telling you to forget circumcision....but for chrissake be careful with that gomco! I've seen several self-circ jobs using that clamp and they are ugly! Huge areas of red scar-tissue where they don't belong. To do that to a thick, 8", blue eyed blonde penis with a light pink cockhead would be down-right sacrilegious.

Now that you have most of my readers crying over the loss of that gorgeous 3" overhang and others pulling boners out of their pants thinking about that 30" of foreskin being plucked off your 8", I must tell you that I cannot encourage or discourage adult circumcision. I am a journalist and not a doctor. If you have the slightest medical indication for the need to be circumcised, you must talk to an urologist and not to me. However, if you want that dick to be skinned-alive for erotic reasons only, let's talk! OK?

OK. Having grown up uncircumcised amongst circumcised peers, I know all about your circumcision fantasies. There's no way I can talk it out of your head. That 8" uncircumcised penis hanging between your legs is destined to become a circumcised man; I have no doubt about that. The circumcision itself WILL be the rush of a lifetime, if you are allowed to watch. That would require a local anesthesia and a broad-minded circumciser. Circumcision without anesthesia? Yikes! Wouldn't that take the fun out of it. Rush? Well, I'll admit that penile torture is definitely a part of the circumcision fantasy of many uncircumcised men. Yes, we are all masochistic (more or less) about our foreskin. Are we crazy? Not according to sexology researchers (here we go again!).

Bryke theorized that the urge to be circumcised is the result of the erotic sensations a man feels when he retracts his foreskin. The foreskin is loaded with "specific skin" (the type of skin which causes erogenous sensation) and when stretched back over a huge, raging hard cock shaft, those nerve endings feel sensational! Yaaa! So, the urge is to maintain those feelings permanently through circumcision. Of course, it doesn't quite work that way. But, as we read in a previous letter, having the skin permanently pulled back gives many men a virile feeling. Machismo!

Another "natural" urge towards circumcision does indeed come from sado-masochism. According to B. Z. Goldberg (THE SCARED FIRE), sado-masochism is normal for the human being for one brief moment in life; the moment the bridegroom must break the hymen of his virgin bride. And, Goldberg writes, "The foreskin is the nearest to the female hymen. Like the hymen, it undergoes a change in sexual intercourse. Again, like the hymen, it can be removed with pain, again with little danger to the life of the individual. We thus have circumcision at the time of puberty as a sacrifice of the male agent in the sexual process." Rush, evidently that beautiful virgin cock of yours has an urge to become a man. Right?

Well, it all sounds very exciting and natural. But, after the circumcision is over, will you like the results? That's the big risk in adult-circumcision. It is surgery and surgery is always risky. Some adult-circumcised cocks are great looking, others are not. One thing I have observed on these penises is that, while they lose some moisture (say good-bye to "wet", Rush), their glans generally remain smooth and sensitive and is still part of the total erogenous package. They definitely differ from most infant-circumcised penises whose glans are often tough, rough and insensitive having been damaged by ulcers caused by diaper abrasion, sloppy circumcision or lack of proper care by parents who were told if they had their baby circumcised they could ignore his little pee-pee. NOT!

While I am NOT advocating adult circumcision, I am convinced it should be offered as a future alternative to infant-circumcision for parents who concern themselves about their son's happiness. He may, or may not, decide to be circumcised when he is damned good and ready! If he decides to go for it because of erotic urges, he is merely following natural instincts. If he decides to keep his foreskin, he's learned what a wonderful tool of pleasure it can be for himself and his partners.

Rush, now that you've decided to become a man.....do you want an audience? I receive many letters, some from my most avid anti-circumcisionist readers, from men who'd give anything to watch a thick, 8", blue-eyed blonde penis being circumcised. On the other hand, Rush, maybe you'd just like to get together with other fellows who share your circumcision fantasies. Maybe a few J/O sessions, during which everyone gets "circumcised" over and over again, would provide such a rush that you will decide to hold onto your 3" overhang for future "circumcisions". Yeaah!

For the circumcision info you requested, and possibly some circbuddies, I can connect you with the ACORN club. Just write to: Bud Berkeley/Acorn, PO Box 26011, SF, CA 94126

ARKLATEX BUFFER

If you live in the ARKLATEX and are into nudism, let's get together! I'm also reconstructing my skin and would like to hear from other reconstructors! Especially love to hear from you mature bears! How's it hanging, Man! Ray, P. O. Box 709, Longview, TX 75607-0709 #20215 [17]

HOUSTON AREA RESTORED SKIN

My lover pumps his cock and has regrown his foreskin. I want to watch you suck on and chew his 8½ inch extra-thick cock. I keep his meat well licked clean, but I'll hold off and let it get extra cheesy and smelly for you to pig out on. I'll join in and lick his balls or go down on you, but he really likes me to eat his ass as he shoves his thick skinned dick up a tight ass. Hot and interested? Call us on FQ's Uncut Line or write our box #20153 [19]

MEAT IN HOUSTON

50s, 6' 5", uncut, married. Needs complete discretion. Outdoors, massage, big nuts, aub hair, religious. Tit, ass, nutwork, loves to get naked and play with other hot, discrete guys. Drop me a line, studs. Love other uncuts. HIV negative. Phil, P. O. Box 27701-381, Houston, TX 27227-7701. #20154 [19]

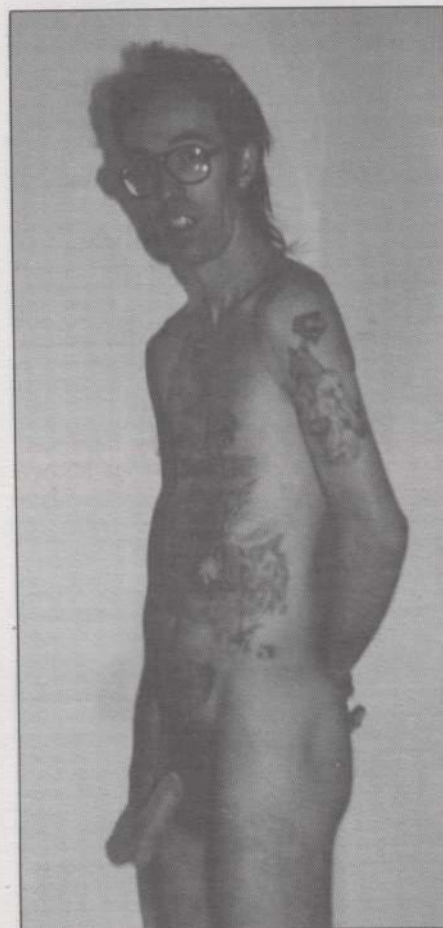

MESMERIZED BY FORESKIN

GWM, mature, cut, bottom. Fantasizes & dreams of uncut, white, masculine top with large equipment, 35 to 50 years old. For mutual, creative and versatile encounters. No photo--just you, your big uncut cock and time to do exciting, hot things together. You can write my box #20155. [19]

UTAH

CLOSET VIRGIN

36 year old closet virgin discovered a "nude" world: pumping and foreskins. Seeks someone to help me!! Tattoos: Mickey Mouse/Disneyland, 2 tigers on penis. Don't smoke or drink. I live in a depressed state where being gay is difficult and the outside is hard to reach. Pumping makes me happy and my foreskin grows. Reply: Ben, P. O. Box 732, American Fork, Utah 84003. #20200 [20]

Men's Video Seeking Funding

SAN FRANCISCO—Men Began to Scream is a social issue documentary that explores a growing men's awareness of and activism surrounding routine infant male circumcision. The project, which has completed filming, is now seeking public and private donations for editing and completion. Distribution is planned for men's conferences, colleges, high schools, medical and law school ethics programs, childbirth educators, children's and human rights groups, cable access television stations and grassroots anti-circumcision organizations.

current circumcision problem. Tracing contemporary history from Victorian attempts to control children's sexuality to military circumcision campaigns during the World Wars, the video examines how circumcision became a social custom in English-speaking cultures, with special emphasis on the U. S. Current medical ethics are evaluated by men of various ages, races, religions and sexual orientations as they share individual and collective testimony about the adverse physical, sexual and psychological impact on their lives of a surgery they did not choose.

Medical and cultural myths perpetuating circumcision are refuted by appropriate use of humor. The documentary also probes the positive steps men are taking to heal themselves, to educate others, and guarantee fundamental human rights of body ownership and self-determination for future generations of children through filming of uncircumcision support meetings, interviews with doctors who no longer circumcise infants, demonstrations against medical associations and suppliers of circumcision equipment, performance art pieces, and other art forms.

Hammond founded the nonprofit National Organization to Halt the Abuse and Routine Mutilation of Males (NOHARMM) in 1992 to educate and empower men to speak out against routine infant circumcision. The video is designed as a consciousness-raising tool. Donors of $100 or more receive film credit, with their permission. Tax-deductible donations are urgently needed to support Men Began to Scream, payable to the project's fiscal sponsor NOCIRC, and mailed to NOHARMM, P. O. Box 460795, San Francisco, CA 94146.

Video producer Tim Hammond estimates that $15,000.00 is needed to complete the project, scheduled for 1995 release. Hammond says the documentary reviews basic male anatomy, including the structure, function and value of the foreskin, as well as the scope of the
