Foreskin Classic

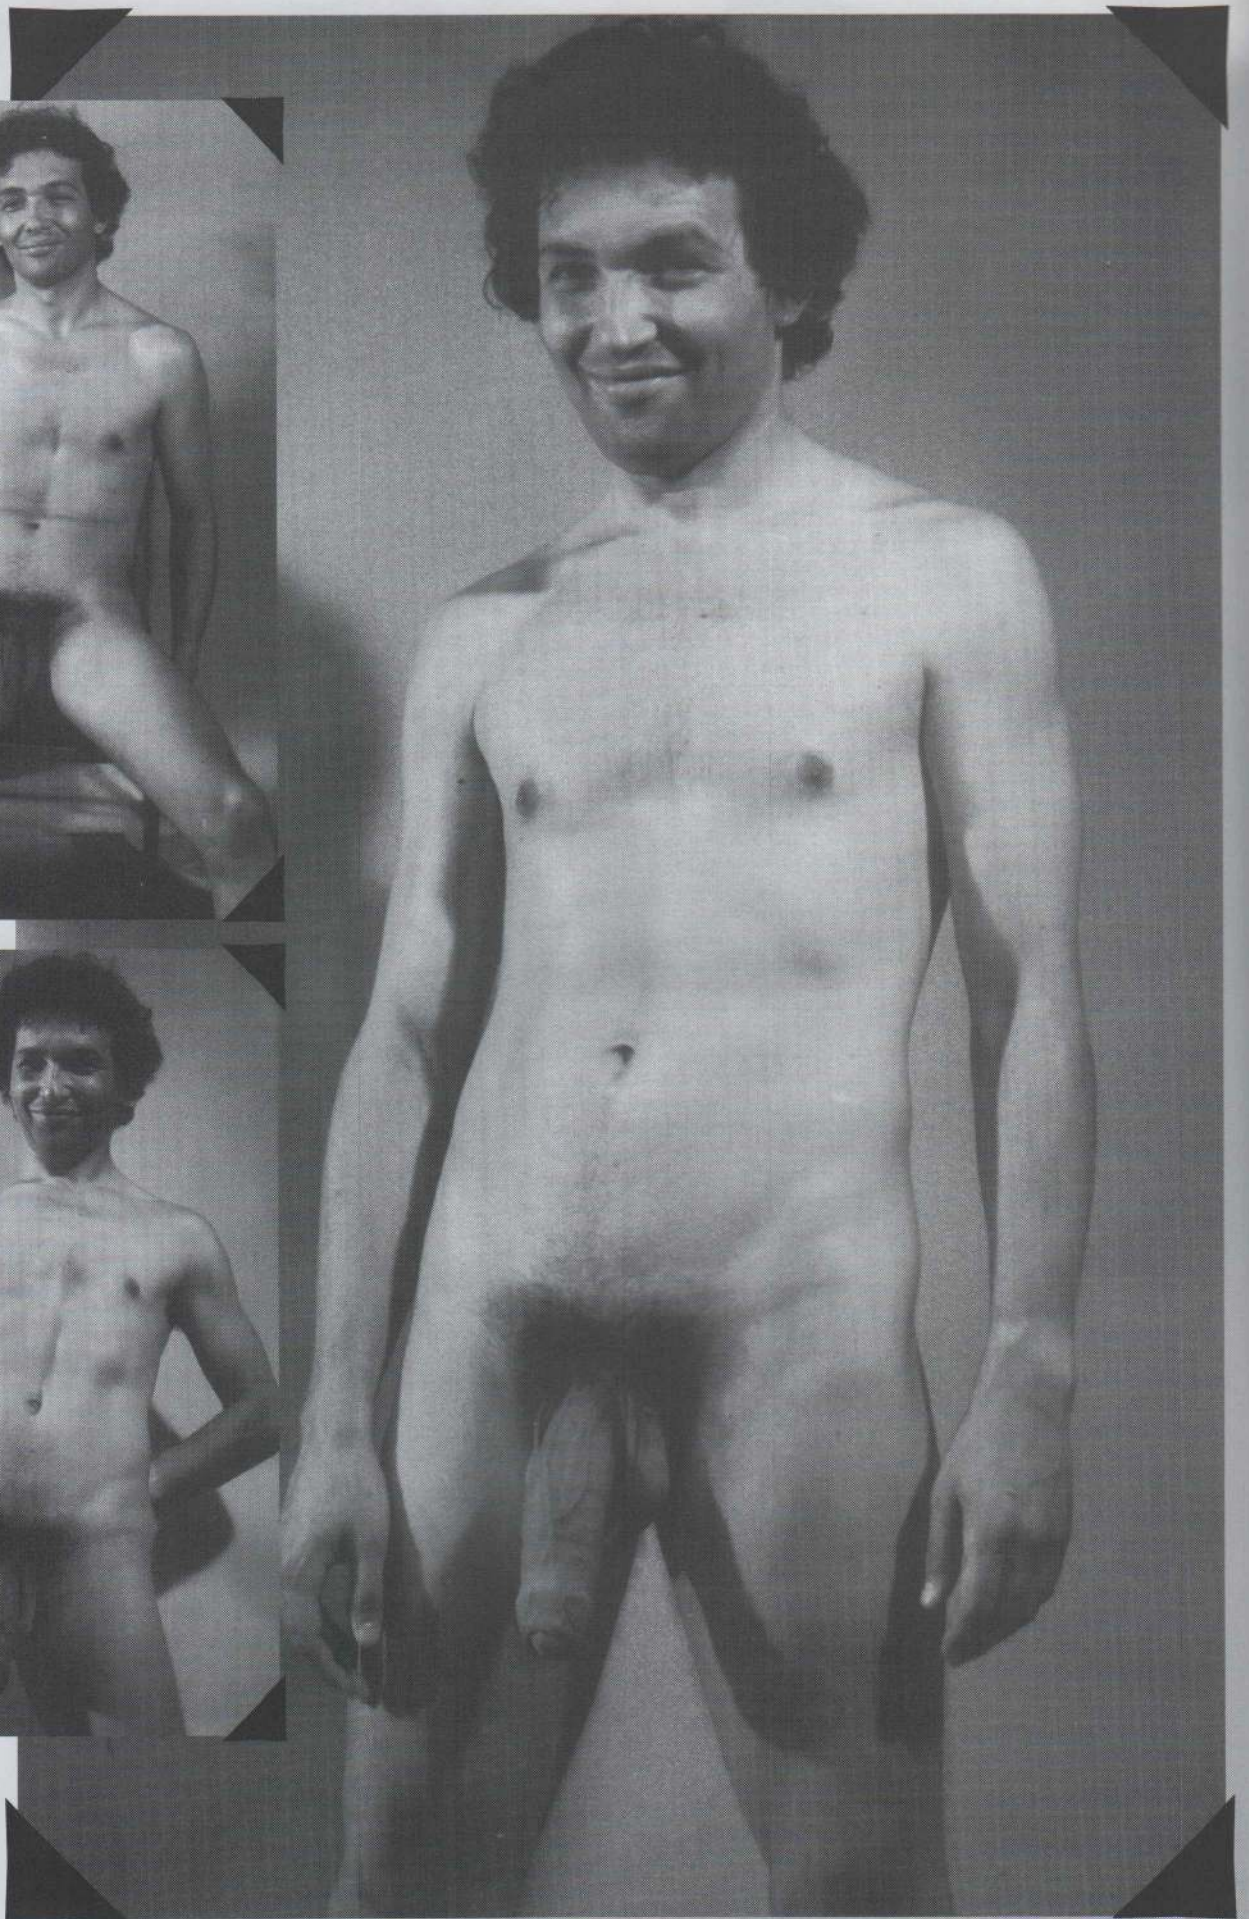

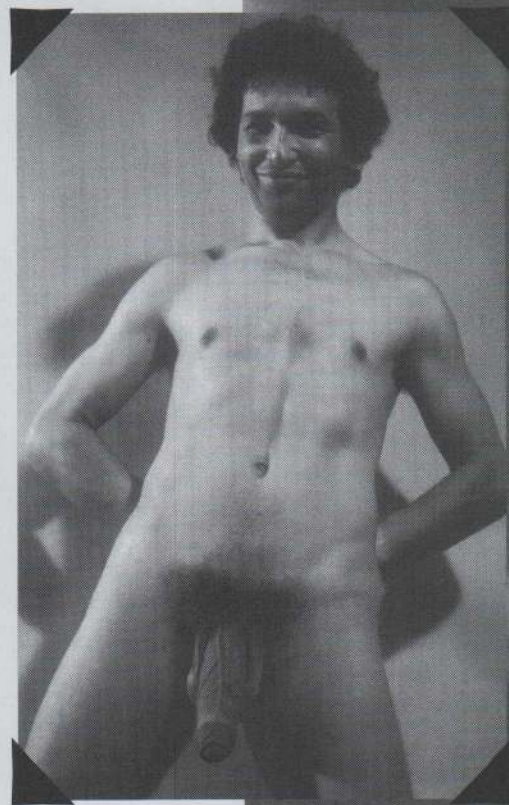

Marcel

There's something about photography from the 1970's that is so darned sexy. Even though many of the men, like Marcel here, don't fit the conventional "Macho Man" mold, we couldn't resist that heavy hanging skin covered meat of his, sprouting from that thick black bush of pubic hair. And it seems, the longer you look at photography from this era, the sexier it becomes. The innocent, almost backyard quality of the poses, the lighting, the hair and styling... and, of course, that beautiful skin-covered dick. Step back in time...

"As a British guy, I still have my intact foreskin, which I'm very proud of. I love to show it off. Are you looking for models for your magazine? I'd love to show off my foreskin to all your readers, as I think they'd really enjoy it."

Dear FQ:

I am writing to thank you for your brilliant magazine. I only discovered it about a year ago, but I have been an avid reader ever since. I can't wait for the next issue, so I can look at all of those big, juicy foreskins.

Foreskin has always turned me on; especially some of the really long overhanging ones you present.

I have a lot more to choose from over here than you probably have in the United States. Why do you cut them off?

As a British guy, I still have my intact foreskin, which I'm very proud of. I love to show it off. Are you looking for models for your magazine? I'd love to show off my foreskin to all your readers, as I think they'd really enjoy it.

JG
London

Hey JG. You lucky fella you. It's funny — so many men from around the world take their beautiful foreskins for granted. Then, they come to places like the United States, for example, and folks like us at FQ worship their beautiful skin-covered cocks as they've probably never been worshipped before.

You pose an interesting and often-asked question: Why DO we cut them off? Well, we don't, usually. Our parents do, because in many cases they've been taught that foreskin is dirty or unhealthy or "different." Mostly, I believe, it's done more out of ignorance than malice.

As far as modeling for FQ, you didn't include any pictures of yourself with your letter, but we're always on the hunt for uncut models! Drop us a letter here at Brush Creek Media (see page 2 for the complete address) and a few pictures so we can see what you look like. Remember, we need to see full frontal and back nude shots, good clear face shots, and if you can get your uncut schlong hard for the camera - well, that can't hurt!

Dear FQ:

I just received Issue #35. I found author Jens Hartmann's use of the words "dicksnot" several times in his story "Sergeant Dad 2" repulsive! Why not dick honey, nectar, pre-cum, fuck cream, love cream, etc. I'm an ex-Army Sgt., and writer and would never use Jens' words. It doesn't make either Dad or son any more masculine. Otherwise, the seduction of Sgt. Dad by his 19 year old son was very hot!

Why do you continue to use photographic backgrounds for your fiction? The small print on grey makes it difficult to read and the graphic detail "Sgt. Dad" stamp on page 20 made it almost illegible at the most climactic moment of the story.

"My Wonderful Foreskin" - like Sgt. Dad 2 - was similarly difficult to read and to enjoy. I accuse your design and production editor of "visual harrassment." No... I don't need glasses, having 20-20 vision! I enjoy reading and subscribe to numerous magazines, but most have the same visual problems - tiny print in stories, photo captions, dark backgrounds.

Hank
NYC

We really appreciate your letter and your comments, Hank. It's not often that we get criticism—constructive or otherwise—on our graphic design and layout work, and, frankly, it's nice to hear that folks actually notice what we do, even when it's something we're doing wrong.

When we're designing a magazine like FQ, more than anything we want the pages to be sexy, the models to look good, and the stories to get you up and off.

In addition, especially with this particular magazine, we sometimes include educational reference material regarding foreskin and circumcision and the growing anti-circumcision movement. But it all needs to be presented in a fast-moving, sexually charged manner, so we don't put you to sleep in the process.

We admit, sometimes we get so wrapped up in making things look "good," "progressive" or just "different than the last issue," we become complacent about the actual function of the page. You're absolutely right—it doesn't matter if a nice photograph placed behind a dirty story makes the page sexier, if you're not able to actually read the words in the first place because of that very photograph!

We tend, however, to disagree with your criticism of Jens Hartmann's descriptives. We actually find the term "dicksnot" pretty sexy, in a raunchy way. There are a million ways to describe the male anatomy and the functions of that equipment, and it becomes a real challenge for writers to invent new, interesting ways of describing, in many cases, some of the same old things.

Dear FQ:

I recently purchased your video "Trenton Takes On..." and I wanted first to congratulate you on a beautiful piece of video. All of those guys are uncut, and I have had many hours of fantasy, imagining I was there that room with that many uncut hunks.

How do I get into video work, and onto the set with guys like Trenton Comeaux and Anthony Gallo?

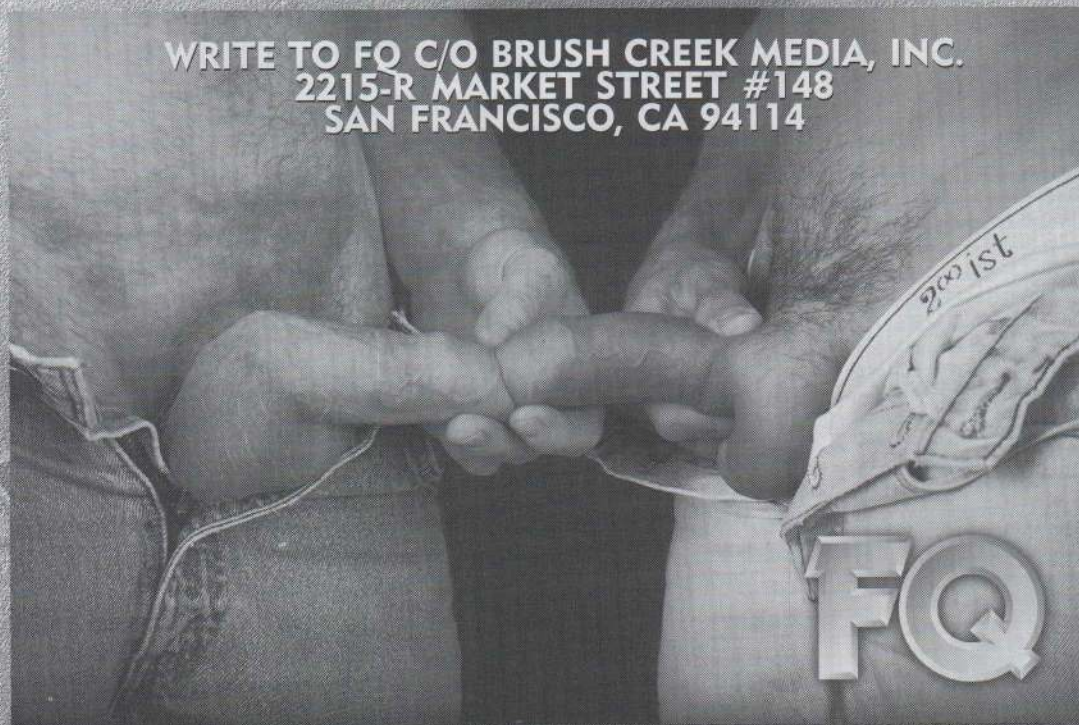

Any advice you can provide would be appreciated!

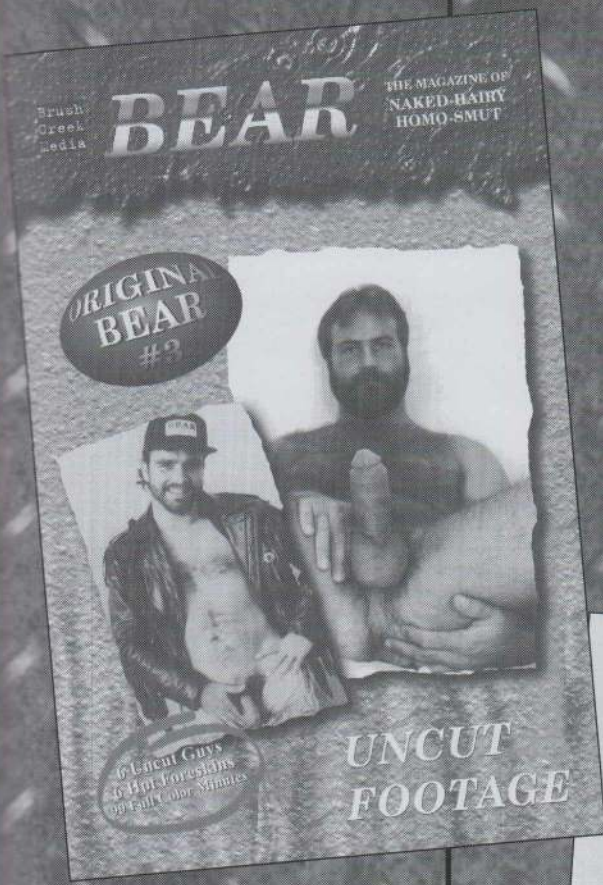

DB
Florida

The best way to get yourself into video work, if that's sincerely what you're interested in doing, is to get a handful of photographs together that truly represent what you look like and send them to video companies; companies like Hot House, Catalina, Falcon, Titan, All Worlds, and, of course, Brush Creek Media.

Remember that video is not all fun and games. Sure, you get laid and you get to be with some hot looking guys, but the hours are long and the work can be very exhausting. Plus, sometimes even the horniest toad has difficulty performing in front of the camera, and an audience of directors, lighting technicians, camera people and other performers. It is fun, but it's definitely work!

IN PURSUIT OF UNCUT HORSE DICKS!

We get dozens of videos here at FQ every month. Sometimes they're home-spun. Sometimes they're professional. And sometimes they're professionally home-spun looking, as is the case with this particular offering from L.A. Heat Video.

Horsedicks, Vol. 2 presents a stable of young, hung uncut fellows in solo scenes, with all of the dicks claiming 9" or 10" size.

That's a lot of uncut meat.

You'll like this one if your tastes run to the younger side of the spectrum. These guys look to be in their early twenties, with a real street-tough "bad-boy next door" appeal to many of 'em; tattoos, backwards ball caps, hairless torsos... pure fantasy material, we think.

Regardless of how you like the men attached to them, you can't not be fascinated by (and salivating over...) uncut dicks of this size. Beautiful long, fat schlongs with tasty dripping foreskins, for you to enjoy over and over again... On the video, of course.

Uncut Horse Dicks is available from L.A. Heat video, or you can order it directly from Brush Creek Media by calling 1-800-234-3877, extension 1.

Enjoy...

THE SUPER

“So, you the new tenant?”

The deep male voice startled me. I thought I was alone in the apartment. I had just stepped out of the shower and was drying myself off. The door to the bathroom was wide open. How long had he been watching me?

“Pardon?” I asked, “Can I help you?”

“Oh, sorry, Mac,” he answered, “I’m the super of the building and I just came up to see if everything was okay. Name’s Vincent Mancetti. You just moved in this morning, didn’t you?”

“Uh, oh yeah,” I stammered. The man was slowly eyeballing me from head to toe. He was making me nervous. He was older and larger than I was.

“So, you live alone or something?”

“Uh, yeah. Why do you want to know?”

“Oh nothing,” he began, “just wondered how come a single person like you would want to rent such a big apartment. But, it ain’t none of my business no how, buddy. Sorry that I asked.”

“No problem, man,” I said.

“I usually come up and introduce myself to the new tenants and let them know where my apartment’s at, so’s in case they need anything.”

“That’s cool,” I answered.

“Yeah, so if you need something, My apartment’s in the basement next to the laundry room. You can’t miss it.”

The beefy New York Italian reached his right hand out and shook my hand before turning and leaving. He had the callused hand of a working man. It reminded me of my father, a carpenter in my hometown in Alabama. It was his callused hands that made it possible for me to study law and become a lawyer. Damn, I’m starting to get homesick already and I’ve only been in New York City a couple of weeks!

Yeah, I was lucky to get this apartment as quickly as I did. I was staying at this turn-of-the-century hotel that was cockroach infested, but expensive as all get up and go. The secretary at the law firm I started with had just left her husband and gone back to Iowa. She gave me the keys and let me take over the place after I gave her a couple of hundred bucks for their old furniture. Sure, the apartment was huge for one person, but I would be paying less per month for this place than I was paying for the one dingy room in the decrepit hotel. Besides, Steve, the other new guy at the firm, was also looking for an apartment. He was supposed to come over tomorrow after lunch and take a look to decide if he wants to share the place with me.

“So, what do you think of the place?”

“Not bad,” Steve said, settling in on the black leather sofa and taking a sip out of his coffee cup. “So, how much will my part be of the rent?”

“Well, since you go home on the weekends, I thought you could pay a third,” I answered.

“Okay, I’m in agreement with that. So when can I move in?”

“Hey, any time you! You could move in today if you want.”

“Sounds good,” Steve answered, “but I won’t be able to till next weekend. I already paid my week’s rent in advance and they don't give refunds."

"Shit, do you smell something burning?" I asked. The odor of burned electrical wiring was coming out of the kitchen. We both jumped up and dashed into the kitchen. There was smoke coming out of the electric outlet in the which the coffee machine was plugged into. I pulled the plug out quickly, causing sparks to fly out of the ancient outlet.

"Damn," Steve exclaimed, "we were lucky to catch that before the place caught on fire!"

"Yeah," I answered, "I hope the rest of the wiring is okay. Shit, I don't want to be fried in my sleep some night!"

"I'd go ahead an report this to the superintendent of the building so you'll have a leg to stand on in case a fire does break out at some time. Get him to put it in writing that he acknowledges that the wiring in your apartment is faulty."

"You're talking like an attorney," I answered.

"Shit, Forrest, I am an attorney! Or did you forget something?"

"Yeah, yeah, yeah. You're an attorney twenty-four hours a day!"

"Hey," he said, "you've got to protect yourself nowadays. Besides, I need to be getting back home anyway. My sister wanted to call me this evening about this girlfriend of hers that's looking for a date. Cathy claims she's really hot looking!"

"No problem, man. I'll walk you down to the lobby and report this to the super while I'm down there."

"Yeah, wadya want?"

An overly-fat black-haired woman stood in the open doorway of the superintendent's apartment in the basement. Her hands were resting on her abundant hips. Her thick swollen lips were smeared over with chunky red lipstick. They pursed out, hugging the white shaft of a cigarette.

"Sorry to have to bother you," I began, "but is the superintendent in? I have a wiring problem in my apartment."

"Hell, do I know you?" She squinted her eyes and released a stream of used cigarette smoke out of the corner of her mouth.

"No, I just moved in today. I'm in apartment 6A."

"So, you took over that dumb blonde's place. Well, my husband ain't home now. You got to come back this evening."

"What time?" I inquired.

"After nine."

She slammed the door in my face. Damn, did that Vincent guy have an ugly wife! What sin did he commit to be punished like this?

I stood in front of the Mancetti's apartment at 9:30 PM, ringing the doorbell. The large brown door swung open. Mr. Mancetti stood in the doorway wearing a stained white undershirt and a pair of boxer shorts.

"Yeah, what do ya want?" He reached down and scratched his crotch.

"Sorry to bother you this late," I said, "but there seems to be a wiring problem in my kitchen. The outlet was smoking this afternoon."

"So," he answered, "that ain't nothing new." I could smell booze on his breath.

"I don't want to be fried alive in my sleep one night!" I answered.

"Shit," he responded, "that ain't gonna happen. The whole building's got wiring problems. Come on in and I'll show ya!"

I reluctantly entered the dingy basement apartment. Mr. Mancetti led me into his living room where his recliner was situated in front of the blasting TV.

"Now watch this," he said. The superintendent turned off the overhead light switch. After a few seconds, the lamp next to the sofa began to flicker on and off.

"See what I'm talking about?" he told me, pointing to the quivering lightbulb. "Almost all the apartments got the same problem. The landlord is too damn cheap to call a real electrician. He wants me to try to do it all. Hell, what the fuck am I supposed to do about it?"

"Would you mind giving me that in writing?" I asked.

"What the hell?" he answered, "you gotta be fuckin' out of your mind!"

I began to remember what my father told me when I was growing up: you can't argue with a drunk man or a crazy man. The drunk part fit.

"Here, have a seat and drink a beer with me," Mancetti offered, popping a beer can for me before I had time to refuse. I sat down on the worn-out brown sofa and took my first sip.

"Look," I began, "I'm not trying to make any problems for you or anyone else. I just don't want a fire in my place. Okay?"

The beefy Italian took a long swallow of his beer. He placed the can on the end table next to his vinyl covered recliner, letting out a long loud burp in the process.

"Hell, no!" he said, "None of us wants any problems. Take me, for instance, I got enough problems! Wait till you see my fat wife! That's a major problem! Shit!"

I chuckled when he said that. Yeah, I remember his fat wife, and her reception.

"Where is your wife now?" I asked.

"Hell, she's at work. She works as a nurse in an old folks home and she's got night duty this week."

I took another swallow of my beer.

"For example," he continued, "she don't give blow-jobs!"

Mancetti grabbed his genitals through his white boxers and began to massage them. I could see his cock enlarging. The man was hung from what I could tell through the thin cotton material. Actually, he didn't look bad. I guessed him to be about forty years old, but in good shape for his age. I noticed the USMC tattoo on his right biceps.

"Damn," he continued, in a half-whisper, "what I wouldn't give for a decent blow-job! Shit, just thinking about it has gone and made me throw a rod!"

The brawny superintendent pulled his fat Italian sausage out through the slit of the white boxers. He had a huge uncut prick. The foreskin was pulled back halfway over the purple glans-head. A wad of white pre-cum fluid oozed out of the open piss-slit. It glistened like a diamond in the dim light of the shabby living room. I felt a stirring in my own crotch as I watched this big beefy man begin to slowly masturbate his fat uncut cock in front of me. I nervously took another sip of my beer. The air in the room crackled with sexual electricity.

"I know you're queer," the Italian stud finally said. He waved his now fully erect fuckpole at me. He was inviting me to service him. "I know you suck dicks. And I know you wanna suck mine. Get over here and make love to this fat cock of mine!"

Shit, he didn't have to tell me twice. I fell on my knees and crawled over between his muscular hairy legs. I began licking the inside of his right thigh. Mancetti let out a moan of pleasure. I worked my tongue up his thigh until I reached the leg of the cotton boxer shorts.

"Yeah," he moaned, "oh yeah. I never miss 'em. I can spot you cocksuckers a mile away. Go ahead man, get your cocksucking mouth on the head of my dick!"

My tongue left his thigh and lapped at the glistening stream of pre-cum flowing down the underside of his long fat member. Damn, did it taste good! I could smell his crotch already. He was a real man; no perfumy odors here. The scent of his crotch rose up into my nostrils, making me drunk for sex. My dick was hard as a rock and about to pop.

"Yeah, go ahead, man, swallow my cock!"

I opened my mouth and wrapped my cock-hungry lips around the fat mushroom head of his prick. I pushed his foreskin back with my tongue and wrapped my tongue around the ridge of the naked glans-head. I was now tasting everything I had moments ago had the pleasure to smell.

"Oh baby! Go ahead, do me!"

My lips hugged the thick swollen shaft like a vacuum. I began to masturbate the spongy dickhead with my tongue. The stud was groaning. He was enjoying what I was doing to him.

"Shiiiiit," he whispered, "you are good!"

His compliment encouraged me even more. I was determined to give this hunky Italian ex-marine the best blow-job he had ever had in his life. I began to work my mouth down his meat. I wanted to bury my nose in that dense dark pubic bush of his. I wanted his cockhead to bang against the back of my throat and rape my tonsils.

"Baby, you are damn good!"

Yeah, I was into what I was doing. Funny how the best sex is always the sex that is unexpected. Damn, I was in the hottest mood for man-to-man sex since I left Alabama. I swallowed his long corpulent penis until I could feel the glanshead against the rear wall of my throat. Yeah, my nose was finally buried deep in his swarthy pubic fur. The hair smelled of male sweat, old piss, and stale sperm. He evidently hadn't showered today.

Mancetti groaned. I reached up and pulled his massive Italian balls out of his undershorts. Shit, a king would have been proud to have owned a pair the size of his! I began to massage his big baby-makers, increasing the pressure as my head bobbed up and down his hard fat shaft like a pigeon. I felt him place both of his big hands on the top of my head. He began to buck upwards with his hips, fucking my face like a cunt.

"Uuuuh," he moaned, "Oh, shit! I'm close to cumming!"

I sucked on his dick as hard as I could while I manipulated his sperm-filled testicles.

"Ahhh," he moaned again, "Oh shit! I'm cumming, man! Take it!"

Suddenly his corpulent dick spasmed and a hot wad of male semen was flung against the back of my throat. His sperm sprayed against my tonsils, like a soldier at target practice. His cock jerked and squirted more thick creamy cum into my belly. Damn, the dude was a major sperm factory! The thick white fluid began to leak out of the sides of my mouth and dropped unto his hairy inner left thigh. His dick spasmed one last time. I drained him.

"Oh, shiit!" Mancetti exclaimed, "Oh fuck! That was the absolute best suck-job I had ever had, man! Damn, you are good!"

I allowed his now softening cock to slide out of my mouth. It fell on his over-sized scrotum. A drop of semen oozed out. I stuck my tongue out and lapped the last drop of his fuck-fluid away.

"Damn! Oh Fuck!" he exclaimed again, "you're even better than that dumb blonde's husband that used to live in your apartment!"

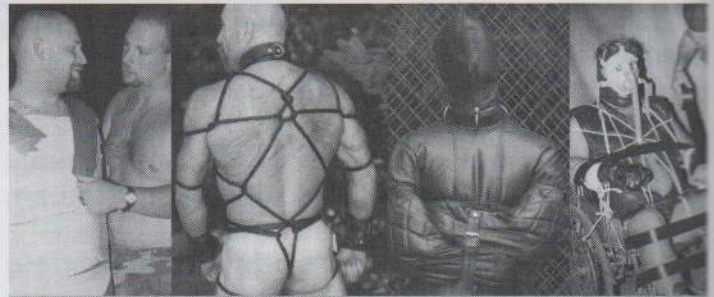

So that's why Liz left him!

"Yeah," Mancetti continued, "The cocksucker would come down at least once a week and blow me until my wife walked in on us one night. Shit, she's a jealous bitch. First she beat him up till he was black and blue, and then she went right up and told his wife. She left him the same night!"

Suddenly I heard a key turning in the lock.

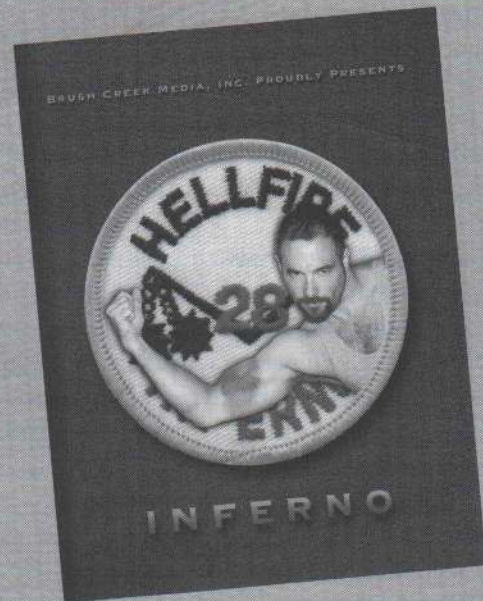

"You home Vince? I got off early tonight. That new nurse took over my shift, so I'm all yours tonight, honey!"

Oh shit! EQ

FINISHING OFF ENRIQUE

FICTION BY LANCE RUSH

HE EMERGED FROM MY BEDROOM, WRAPPED IN A WHITE TOWEL OF SURRENDER. AS HE TOOK HIS PLACE ON THE PLATFORM, A RUSH OF SULTRY HEAT SEEMED TO FLOW FROM HIM. AGAINST A LATE AFTERNOON'S SUN, THE MAN ABSOLUTELY RADIATED. EVERY OILED PORE AND CHISELED MUSCLE GLISTENED BENEATH TAUNT, BRONZED SKIN. HELLO BEAUTIFUL! THOSE LUSH BROWN, COCK-STIRRING EYES SHOT HYPNOTIC LASERS THROUGH ME.

"O, okay, Enrique. Now drop the towel, please." I said, trying my best to sound professional. Slowly, he let it fall, and there he stood in his nakedness, proud, his body hard as nails!

"OH MY DAMN!" I thought, "Somebody stop me!" His cock was very long and so fucking GORDO! At least 7 inches on soft. It curved down in a long cocoa shroud that resembled a freaking plantain! Enormous brown balls dangled below it. It's the first week, and my eight inch dick's already hard.

Now the fucker was leaking a warm river sticky down my leg! Get it a grip! Enrique is not my first nude study, but he's by far the hottest! Shit! It was becoming impossible to concentrate. Then, oh shit! It moved. The nipped foreskin slowly unraveled, revealing a large flushed cockhead, so juicy, my parched throat could only be quenched by licking that moist brown knob.

He was making me sweat. I watched, fascinated as his long shaft pulsed, its widening column bobbed, flexed into obscene dimensions. I turned to dab my brush in gold. I looked again, and in mere seconds, 10 combustible inches of bulging la pinga Grande looms bat-hard before me! But he's straight! He must be thinking of something else, like pussy, la coochie, right?

Create! Damn it! Create! I told myself. But look at those big brown freaking man tits. They're the same dark hue as his cum-heavy nuts. They're the size of fuckin mangoes! If this hombre wasn't already naked, I'd swear he'd stuffed his ballsac with some hot contraband, smuggled from his tropic island paradise!

Week 2: Okay. I'd drawn his dark, handsome face. Etched its rattler's bones, the hard, angular planes of it. The liquid eyes so full of sly, arousing mysteries. The outline of his finely sculpted body was all on canvas. But how do I sketch the perfect dick?

How do I begin to recreate a cock that changes with each throbbing moment. First dangling, the angling, then projecting straight as a pipe, long and linear from his hard brown belly. How could I capture each jagged vein, when the damned shaft kept expanding into a dangerous beauty? Shit! That fuckin charcoal was nearly melting in my hot hands.

Week 3: I'm thinking: <"If only he'd let me, I'd grab that long, thick cocoa cock, and suck the motherfucker dry! Maybe then, finally it would ease all this fuckin tension in the room." >

"How's it comin, Lance?" Enrique asked.

"It's comin down my fuckin leg!" I wanted to answer.

"Ya must really like ya work doncha, Lance?" he teased, Havana and East Harlem merging in the smoke of his sultry voice.

"Today I do," I murmured, using the back of my hand to wipe away the sweat!

"So, we almost finished for the day? Cause, man, all this standing's makin me kinda bored! Besides, it's late. Wife's probably holding dinner for me," Enrique said, killing the spell he'd cast.

His juicy cockhead slowly retreated back inside the nipple, and disappeared in its long cinnamon skin.

"Okay. I guess that's enough for today," I sighed, still horny as Hell, and a bit dissatisfied with the long, hot day's session.

As I rose slowly, painfully, to place the unfinished canvas by the window, I felt Enrique's presence. His warm breaths crawled like fingertips trailing down my spine, as he whispered,

"Looks, a little like me. But damn! The cock? You didn't get it right. Por Que.' no? (Why not?)"

I turned, and he was before me, doing IT again. That hot-blooded thing Latin men do with their eyes, as if they're unaware that those eyes are slowly stroking you in a hard place. I looked down, and he was stroking something else. That same big, hot hypnotic dick which had left my artful fingers weak.

"Maybe, you should get to KNOW it better. Maybe you should hold it. Feel it in your hands. Go 'head. It's cool with me. It spits, but it don't bite," he teased, winking one smoldering eye.

< Man! If he's not all worked-up, thinking about the wife, he must be reading my hot mind! > I thought. I wiped my hands free charcoal, reached out and gripped that big, hanging fucker. The long, heavy rod was already pulsing, growing thicker, all those warm veins jumped in my grasp.

I began jacking it slowly, enjoying the olive vision of his knobby helmet appearing then vanishing under a velvet skin. Pulling it back further, a clear dollop of man-phlegm leaked warm to my palm. Enrique shivered. A groan escaped his full, wet lips. I wanted him even more, then.

"Think you can draw it, now? Or maybe you need to feel it sliding inside your hot mouth. C'mon. Go for it! Might spit, but it don't bite!" he said. The voice seemed to come from his prick.

I fell to the floor in a horny rush and beat the long, hardening bone against my sweating face, inhaling its ripe, musky scent. Enrique lifted his rod, the whole bullish nutset, and playfully cock-slapped me. Man! Enrique had a cock few men can gaze at without drooling. One wicked vein knotted around it's mid-shaft. I licked its warm pulsing skin. The cock roused, grew harder, its crown torqued up and shot past my forehead! I gobbled the wide crown, and prowled several ropy inches down as the meaty pinga kept expanding, mounting heavier on my teasing tongue.

His tangy foreskin was full of cock oil, and as he lunged, I slurped it. When he bucked, suddenly, I was overtaken by the beast! Still, I just couldn't seem to get enough.

Drool hung in perverse white chains from Enrique's spanning pole.

"Mmmm! Oooh! Shityeah! You do that so good. Feed on my pinga, baby," he grumbled.

Enrique held the stout shaft and drove it down my gullet. Hot singes of precum emptied on my tongue. I pulled my cock free and beat it, beat it vigorously. He became a bully with his prick. Pushing, ramming with a force that grew harder, more powerful.

Oh! Suddenly he was charging forth with an eagerness that told me, he was close to the edge, burning for release. Then, those fevered hip motions quickened. His body broke out in a sultry sweat. Through the mad, speeding crush of hard dick, belly, fur and slapping nuts, part of me wanted to howl out, "Stop! Easy! Slow down! Enrique! No mas! Stop! It's, it's too damned much!"

But that howl remained silent inside me. I'd wanted this, needed it for my art. I sat on my knees, face, cheeks, jaw ingesting this big, throttling dick. Then, Enrique turned, propped one sculpted, brown leg on my art stool. Squatting down, he pushed deep, causing the obese slab to nearly gag me! Suddenly, I'm gulping down about a mile of long throbbing pinga, trying to ingest its thick sliding shaft. My mouth, my throat, my jaws were full of it! He caught a mean, swerving rhythm. His nasty hips kept bucking forth, but my lips were dick-catchers! They gripped tight and met his that big charging prick, buck for suck, buck for suck!

SUDDENLY, HIS HARD BRONZED BODY ROCKED, JITTERED WITH SPASMS AS HE UNCOCKED MY MOUTH. I WATCHED THE WIDE HEAD AS IT DETONATED. A LONG CUM-STRING JETTED ACROSS THE STUDIO. FROM THE LOOK ON HIS FACE, I THINK IT AMAZED US BOTH. MORE AND MORE OF THE IVORY SLUSH FLEW, EXPLODING HIGH INTO THE CHARGED AIR. SHIT! ENRIQUE WAS A HARD SHOOTER! EACH WHITE GUSH VOLLEYED PAST ME AT BULLET SPEED.

Suddenly, his hard bronzed body rocked, jittered with spasms as he uncocked my mouth. I watched the wide head as it detonated. A long cum-string jetted across the studio. From the look on his face, I think it amazed us both. More and more of the ivory slush flew, exploding high into the charged air. Shit! Enrique was a hard shooter! Each white gush volleyed past me at bullet speed. My excited dick towered from my zipper, hard as a rubber bat watching as cum-pellets squirted from his engorged pisshead. When he finished, he looked down at the thick wavering rod, proud and grinning, his pubic hair dotted in flecks of his jizz.

"So...Think ya could draw this fucker, now, huh?" he asked, his buffed glistening chest, panting and heaving.

But his dick had pulverized me, left my jaw too sore to answer. Gazing at Enrique's still jutting monument, a chain of cum still hanging from it's dark head, I was way too winded for speech.

I can't believe I've finally sucked his dick. Staring at that big, brown goeey fucker, I wonder what about fate. What would've happened, if I'd driven home, instead of walking by the field that day? I'd spotted Enrique in the thick of a heated soccer game in Yonkers, NY. Man! He was pure, physical energy. Powerful. Agile. His quick feet kicked and ran the ball fiercely down the field, cutting through the other buffed players.

Shirtless, and glazed in a rigorous sweat, sexuality oozed from every bronzed pore. Right there, outside the chain link fence, watching his raw animal presence in that tribe of proud El Toros, I wanted him, for purely artistic purposes - or so I told myself.

Whipping out a pad and pencil right then, I began sketching him. His body was a kinetic study of cuts and muscular lines. Shit! The guy was guapo, beyond beautiful! Something massive and wet shifted in his shorts, and wanted to lick IT, dry. On the page, he was charging down the field, his pecs, proud, his strong legs, flexing. A pencil couldn't capture the fullness of his carved, brown body, or how the awesome jut of his crotch begged for attention, for worship.

"Mira! Lance! Look at the dick on you! Por Que.? Why so hard?" he teased, bringing me back to the here and now. "I don't think ya had enough of Enrique. Got any rubbers?"

"Yy-yes. Yes, I, I do. On th-that table," I stammered, panting.

"Good. Now drop those pants, and spread that hot culo for me, baby!" he demanded.

I pulled off my jeans in a heated rush. My rigid 8 inches vibrated like a tuning fork before me. With a violent sweep of a hand, I send my supplies crashing to the floor. I climbed on my art table, gripping the edges, ass up. When I turned, I could've shot a wild blast just watching Enrique sliding a safe over that magnificent brown cock. He ran his hand along my cheeks, and I pushed my pucker out as lewdly as possible. If his hombre only knew how much I wanted him throughout all these steamy posing sessions. The hot nights I'd dreamed of his pulsing pinga fucking me, deep as my tight asshole would allow. Now it was finally, hard, steaming reality.

He stuck his fingers inside his mouth, licking them as he stared at me, at my ass. Enrique had a way of fucking a man deep and hard with the sable daggers of his eyes. Then, he jabbed two wet digits deep inside my moist pucker.

"Ooh! Nice. Deep. It's so pretty and pink. I'm gonna love opening this punta asshole up, baby!" he sighed, hot breaths rushing down my back.

"Get ready for Enrique, 'cause I'm comin through!"

He mounted me, doggie-style. The slow JOLT of his cock passed through my anal ring with a hot, pulsating heaviness that unzipped my trembling flesh. SHIT!

"OH! AW! FUCKKKK! " I cried out. Enrique pushed, and as that wide fuck tool kept burrowing through, it felt like a cock-shaped globe, like the whole fucking world inside.

"No! AH! OH! Ah! Enrique! Tu pinga es mucho grande, papi! Stop! No! Don't fuck me!"

He ignored me, and lunged that long hard Spanish rod, deeper, as I twitched and opened wider, granting it sweet passage. Oh! The hot slide of it, bore through, slowly.

What a dick! So long, so fucking thick, and it was unstoppable! A huge, growing pain centered in my aching anus, and it flooded my entire body! I could feel his every hardened inch, every pound, every muscle descending into the depths of me.

"Oh! Oh! Yes! Yeah, baby! Dig it in there!" I cried. "Fuck my hot ass!"

"You want it, huh?" he taunted, his cock ripping me in two.

"Oh! Aw! Ah! SHIT! YES! Give me that big thick, fucking, c-c-cock!"

He twisted that prick deep within, and plowed my burning hole, slowly, then rapidly. Slow, then rapidly he starts lunging, sinking, lunging and sinking, stroke for punishing stroke. He was filling me to the brim with thick, powerful dick. A dick, so wide it was pushing past the limits of this tight chute! "AWW! FUCKKK!" I gasp! He held my ass up, and drove that cock hard and deep into it. Beneath this rigorous slamming the table rocked, my mad limbs slid and chaffed against the cool metal. I didn't care. Enrique was deep in there, lunging, fucking, doing damage!

"Oh baby! Ya got such a tight butt. Give it to me. Yeah! Give all that punta to Enrique!" he shouted, as his ramming grew to a fevered pace.

His bronzed hips crashed repeatedly to my cheeks. Oh, shit! He could really fuck the daylights out of a piece of ass! Then, with a suddenness, his motion slowed. He pulled out so far, only his cock's head pulsed there. Aching for his full prick up my hungry my fuck hole, I pushed my cheeks back into his furry groin, and swooned. Oh! Enrique's Grande shaft ripped soundly through my gaping anus. I moaned, twisting beneath him, my pounding cock leaking to the metal below me. Those slapping cojones punched my ass. He kept driving faster, deeper, his breaths, quick and urgent winds. Sweat flew from his bulky body in a wet cascade onto mine.

In mid-stroke, he stopped, and flipped me over, big bronzed chest, jumping, big ripped arms flexing. Enrique's enormous pinga, throbbed long and hard in his fist. He looked at me, that fiery way he did, sensuous lips curved into a mischievous grin. He gazed my slobbering joint as I jacked off at the sight of him. He bent and licked the sweat off my nipples, then slowly ran his tongue down the hairy trail of my belly. Oh! He kept descending further, making me shiver and pitch, making me wonder, "Was he? Is big macho Enrique, going to suck my...?"

Yes! Oh! Shit yes! The warm tip of tongue teased my dick's ridge, at first, as if wanting to, but scared, tentative. But the warmth of his tongue made me shudder, and I felt my hips levitating. My cock's tip slid past his moist lips. Oh! Slowly, he started licking my pulsating crest! Mmmm! Then, he took a breath and vacuumed it deep into his mouth, treating my prick to the sultry slick of his throat.

Oh! My hips rose and fell to the table as his hot sloshing tongue encircled my shaft. It spun around and traveled down to my base, as I groaned with delight. I could feel him, smiling, yes, smiling on my hard dick, before he emitted a small gag. Releasing the 8 inch shaft, he lassoed my cockhead inside the curl of that talent tongue. Oh! I began to slowly mouth-fuck his dark, handsome face. Man! I lunged through his lips, and felt like a fraud. Enrique's The Real Artist, painting me in hot spittle; creating a new pleasure on my throbbing cock. His wet, receptive throat coated me entirely, took me for a slow and slippery ride! This was all I needed to finally shoot my load. I was so close to my edge, but then, his hot mouth, disappeared.

Enrique had other plans. Tapping his massive prick at my writhing cheeks, he stunned me with a bowel-scraping lunge, and that piping-hot poker lit into my ass, again! Oh! He commenced to fucking me, deep! AWW! Gazing at him fucking was a thing of beauty!

His whole aspect seemed to shift and glow in an expression of euphoria! I see this, feel that bigness of sliding dick tearing through me, and I can't take it anymore. Cum whipped around in my nuts. I was at my edge.

Enrique pulled his fat cock from the depths of my pucker. Yanking off the rubber, the big beastly dick flexes, as he roared, "Mira! That sweet ass, it's milkin me, baby! La Leche! (Cum!)"

Shit! He came and came blasting hot seed in wild volatile gushes as his bronzed body quaked in a violent mambo. The vision of that big shooting dick drives me, fuckin LOCO! I had to cum.

"Mira! Mira, baby! I'm cummin, c-c-cumin with you Enrique!" I shouted as long white streams exploded from my cock, chucking high and arching. My frustrated load knew no end, spurting, squirting, erupting in a copious flow, until some 20 shots later, the last drops finally petered out.

Never been fucked so deep, or cum so hard. I couldn't catch, my, fuckin, breath!

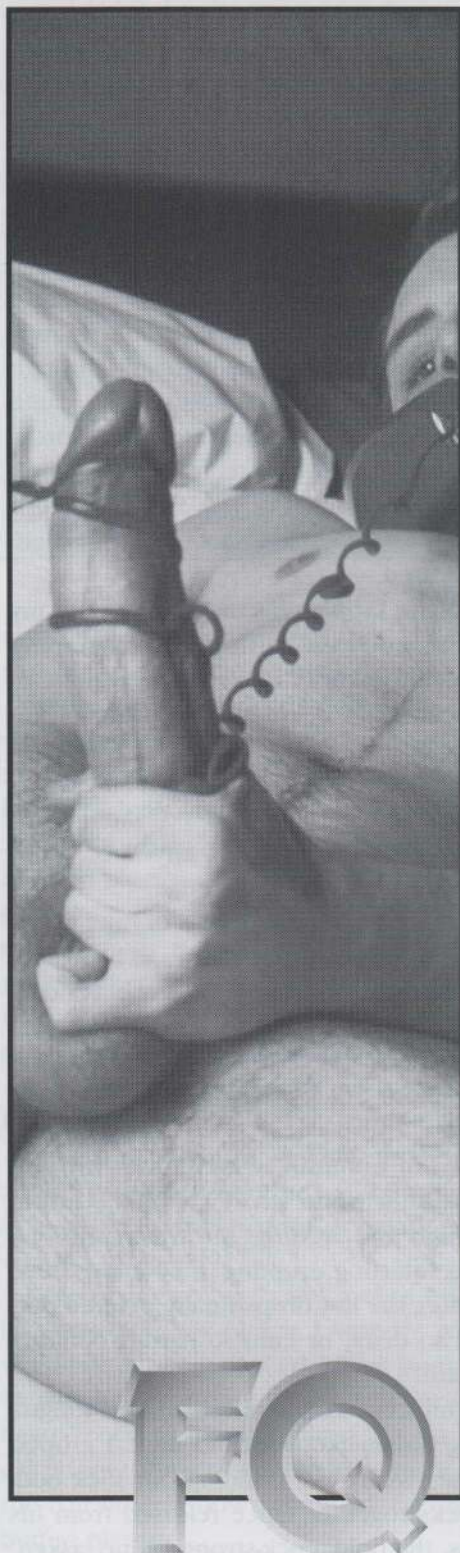

Enrique crashed to my cum-soaked chest, and his tongue plummeted down my throat like a second dick. I groped the spheres of his fine sweaty ass, grinding our slick bodies, our pounding cocks together. Once released from his deeply passionate kiss, the bold, cock-strong Latino, asked,

"So, ya held it, sucked it, felt it up your hot ass. Think maybe now, you can draw it?"

By night's end, I'd completed the fucking portrait and finished off Enrique, in more ways than one. ☑

ASK DR. WAYNE

Dear Dr. Wayne:

I have a question about circumcision: Why do some docs insist on removing the frenulum? Since my op I've become very interested in the procedure. On many pro-circ websites, candidates for the operation insist on the "total look", i.e. frenumectomy. In addition, many "cuts" had the frenulum cut away at the suggestion of the doctor.

At the website www.gay-town.com/gaycircumcision/page3.html, there is a very graphic photo sequence of a circumcision. The bloodiest, rawest picture is the frenulum removal. In addition, the removal also entails extra stitching. Is there any good reason for this extra mutilation? Also, since most infant-circ'ed guys have no frenulum at all, do docs make a special point to cut it away or do the Gomco/Plastibel methods automatically trim it away?

E-male

Dear E-male,

I do not know why other than they know not very much about the structure and function of the frenulum and that it contains the most abundant amount of Meissner's corpuscles which are the neuro-vascular endings that give man his most pleasure. Since they don't know this and they think that the foreskin is a redundant piece of skin, meaning to them it is useless, they want to make the circumcision "neat and clean." They therefore remove as much tissue and all of the nerve endings in both the frenulum and the inner mucosal tissue to make sure that over time, the man will have a quite totally desensitized tool. Most doctors are also circumcised and want you to look like them. In addition to the nerve endings there, the blood supply is returned (veins) through that area and down through the shaft to return to the heart. So circumcised men also lose the circulation of the arterial/vein system.

The Gomco/Plastibel mutilating devices do not specifically target the frenulum. The operator (doctor?) has to pull the foreskin all the way up into the device in order to take all of the frenulum. I am sure some of them might make a point of this as most of them think they have to take off as much of the 'redundant' skin as possible to make the boy/man "neat and clean" by their own personal standards.

Dear Dr. Wayne

Some time ago I wrote to you about a phimosis problem. Since ten you sent me information from a newspaper about weight reduction. Granted I could stand to lose weight, but what is the connection to phimosis? If things got mixed up, I'd repeat my problem.

I am over 50. I was recently circumcised due to phimosis. I still have phimosis. The skin of my shaft is badly chapped around the glans. According to a circumcision web site, I should fully retract the remaining skin and apply cortisone cream. I do the retraction as often as I can, but because I have a short dick, the skin usually unfolds over the glans. I don't use the cream very much because I'm concerned the cream will go into my urethra. I've called various pharmacies, but they don't know what to do.

My fear is that another doctor will recommend the removal of more skin and that would reduce my cock length even more when it is erect.

Is it safe to put a rubber band just below the glans to help keep the skin from folding back over? I put it on a little loose, not restricting blood flow.

Thanks for any help!

Dave

Dear Dave,

I am unable to look up any correspondence to you previously as I don't have your last name. I answer thousands of letters every year. At any rate I don't offhand remember sending anyone a newspaper article on weight reduction, but anything is possible.

Cortisone cream is used to soften tissue as well as reduce inflammation. So I would not imagine that using it would help keep your remaining shaft tissue back behind the glans. I agree that another surgery could only destroy more of your pleasure sensors. But that is your choice. I really don't understand why you want to keep the remaining shaft coverage from folding over the glans? Does it cause discomfort or something else that you do not like?

You can certainly use a wide band, perhaps something that can be quickly removed at will, to keep it back, but make sure you do not wear it at night unless it is really loose as you normally get several erections at night like all of us, and you don't want to have your penis... "strangled."

Dr. Wayne

I have been a subscriber to FQ Magazine for two years. I am uncircumcised and have 9". I have a very tight foreskin, with an overhang of about 2 inches. I am unable to retract my foreskin, whether my dick is flaccid or erect.

I cannot clean under the foreskin, and I continue to develop what I believe is called "head cheese." What makes "head cheese" under my foreskin?? The smell gets so strong that my doctor looked at me and suggested that I should get circumcised. I refused, and wondered why he could tell me nothing to help me correct my problem.

Short of surgery, how can I clean myself with such a tight foreskin?

Also, when I masturbate it hurts when I am hard. My cum does not shoot out. Rather, it just sort of oozes and dribbles out of the folds of my foreskin, and then dries under it, making my cock smell very pungent.

Even I enjoy a little bit of masculine odor, but not as much as I have.

Any advice you can give me is appreciated.

Robert

Dear Robert,

There are many men who are envious of your long foreskin and the size of your dick.

However, not being able to retract it is the condition called phimosis. It is regretful that your doctor does not know very much about foreskins and only wants to cut.

You can do some cleaning inside your foreskin by taking a hold of one side of it and pulling it up or away from your body and then flushing it out with a stream of clean water when you are in the shower. You need, of course, a full stream of water. If this is not convenient or does not work, then get a baster, (a 'turkey baster') which has a large bulb at one end and a long tube and pointed end at the other. Fill it with clean water. Stick the end inside your foreskin and flush out your foreskin. Do not use soap because if there is any residue, you will cause an imbalance in the pH and it might burn you. Just clean water, please. Rinse out your foreskin day or twice a day if you want.

Head cheese is what you buy in a grocery store for lunch meat. The "cheese" under the foreskin is called smegma. It is composed of the fluids that you produce as well as the dead cells that are sloughed off as new cells are made to replace them.

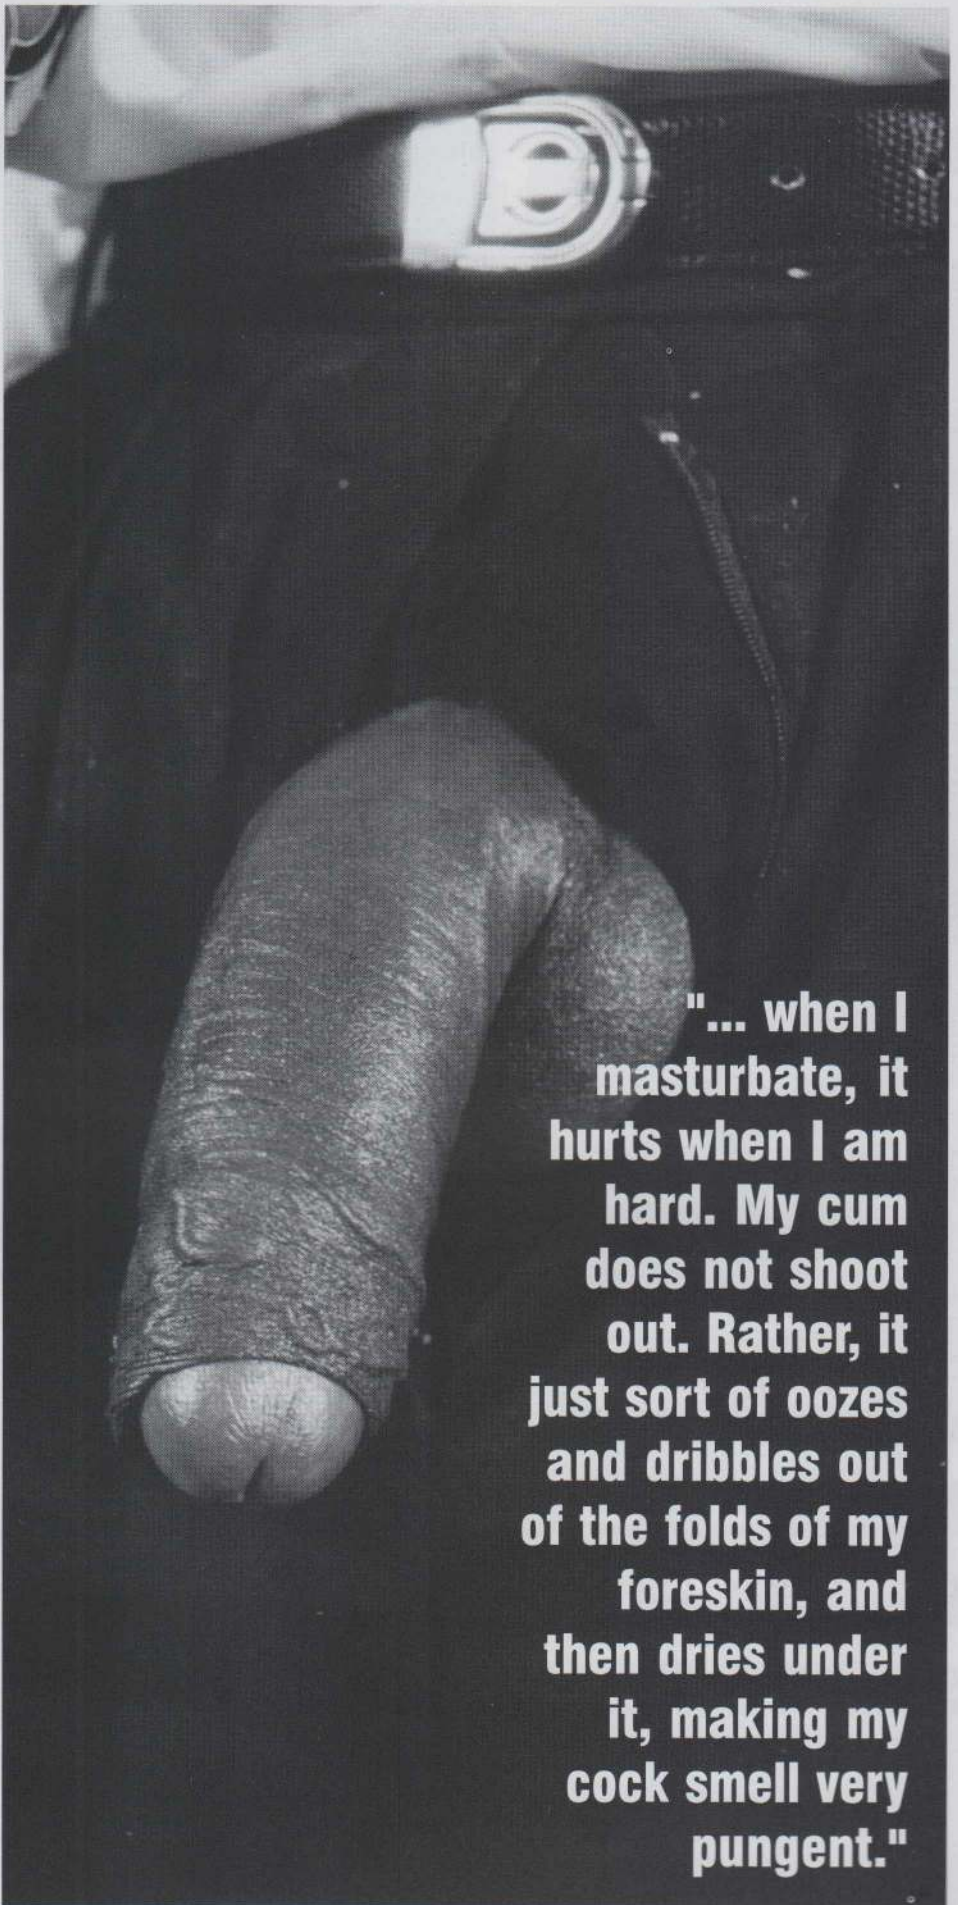

Some of the fluids are, sweat, mucus (like in your mouth), pre-cum, secretions from the Cowper's, sebaceous and prostate glands to name a few. All of these fluids mix to keep the glans penis soft, moist and flushed. These fluids are mostly acidic in nature as well as anti-bacterial. So they are a natural barrier to infection.

One of the methods above will take care of rinsing out your inner foreskin. You don't really need to retract it.

You can open up your foreskin with the methods described by Dr. Michael Beauge. Quite simply it is the stretching of the Dartos muscle sideways. After a warm shower, take your index fingers of each hand and insert them inside the foreskin lips and pull sideways stretching the opening. Hold it open as far as you can without hurting, but putting tension on the muscle. Hold it for 10 to 20 minutes at least twice a day. It will take some time a month or so to have new cells grow in and allow the opening to become larger. You then will be able to retract your foreskin when you want. You could also buy a nasal speculum. This is an instrument that doctors use to open up the nose and look inside. It looks like a pair of pliers, in reverse. You could insert it and open up the lips and hold it for the time.

I am told also that there is a foreskin stretcher; which is two half rounds with a screw spreader, so that you can insert it and screw them wider apart to stretch the lips open.

By getting your foreskin open, you will be able to rinse it and retract it and then perhaps your ejaculations will be more of the shooting kind. However I have seen circumcised men who shoot great lengths as well as those who only dribble. So who knows how you will shoot when your foreskin is back. You must write and let us know. ☺
