P.D.R. Report

Two projects are being offered to start the new year. One is photo-chromotherapy. To introduce the beginning research project it was decided to bring out a low cost unit capable of supplying research data. The advertisement on the outside back cover gives details, along with a discount price to PDR members. Many items produced for PDR research will be offered to members at a discount price. Each member is entitled to purchase one of each of the items offered in conjunction with a research project at the special member's price. Any additional units must be purchased at the full regular price.

The second project is one which is of great interest at this time, not only to the scientific PDR researcher but to many others as well. The story of the Raudive voices is included in this issue, and a specially designed diode detector is being offered for PDR research, at special discount prices. Both the Solar Chromolight and the spirit voice research unit are on hand, ready for immediate delivery.

Rather than have annual dues to maintain membership in PDR, it has been decided that any member purchasing a minimum of $25.00 worth of PDR tapes, equipment, or research supplies during the twelve months of his membership will be continued for another year at no additional cost! Those who do not reach this amount will be required to pay annual dues to maintain membership.

We promised PDR members would become aids to academic research whenever possible. A letter has been sent to Professor Walter Uphoff, a researcher investigating the Raudive voices. It is our hope we will have results by our members which will be of value to him as well as to ourselves. Both projects can be performed without the necessity of buying special equipment as various phases have been outlined in each project for use of home built or readily available equipment often on hand. I have informed Prof. Uphoff of our organization and our willingness to participate in mutually beneficial research. Those who desire to participate in the experiments are requested to send for an experiment report form for the project or projects to be researched. These forms are free to members, but require a self-addressed and stamped envelope for return, preferably a large (#10) envelope. Carefully kept records are a necessity to provide competent data. It is just as important to report failures as it is to report successes. The more complete the reports, the more efficient and reliable are the summaries compiled from them.

Several new tape recordings are offered in this issue, and more are in stages of preparation. The popularity of the Ishcomar recordings have exceeded our expectations. Contact with the communicator for Ishcomar has been reestablished, and one of the tapes has recently received information. More tapes have been promised for the future.

We extend a special welcome to a new group of readers this issue. With the unfortunate transition of Beckie Chenoweth, co-editor of ESP ORBIT, of San Jose, California, the Orbit went into a spin from which it could not recover. To give those who subscribed some sort of continuation, PDR NewsNotes has incorporated some of the data from Orbit, and will fulfill subscription obligations as best we can. To what degree, beyond subscription continuation NewsNotes may expand to include Orbit features will depend greatly upon the response from our readers and members. No new subscriptions are being accepted, only PDR memberships.

Many changes have taken place, and every effort will be made to keep NewsNotes on a regular schedule this year. Lana DeJong is with us full time, and much of her efforts will be directed to NewsNotes.

The variety and extent of the projects to be offered to PDR members in the future will greatly depend upon the response to our introductory projects. Show your willingness to be a PDR researcher by sending for your Project Reports BEFORE you start your research, and if desired, the necessary equipment to fulfill them. As previously stated, whether you use all of your own equipment or order from headquarters, the project report which will guide you in your research is necessary.

WHAT I DO..... and HOW I DO IT*by GEMINI

GEMINI: Today we're talking to Mr. Ray Jaegers of the Psychical Research and Training Center of Maplewood, Missouri. So you believe in Prayer Therapy, Mr. Jaegers. Why?

JAEGER: Because I've seen it work. I know it works.

GEMINI: Are you saying that your prayers produce healing?

JAEGER: Not mine alone. And not just prayers, if you're referring to prayer in the conventional manner that we were taught as children. I would rather express it this way. The healing which is sent forth is first generated through meditation which results in a power pool formed by light. When formed, this power pool is used for each member of the group, and then directed to all the names on our request list.

GEMINI: How is this power pool formed?

JAEGER: The pool is formed during meditation while the participants are in the Alpha level.

GEMINI: Can anyone just walk in and participate, or do they have to have some sort of training?

JAEGER: We're all just ordinary people, but we have undergone study and training. One must know how to meditate, how to reach the Alpha level, and how to come into attunement with the rest of the group.

GEMINI: How many are there in your group?

JAEGERS: My original group consisted of fourteen members, and we still continue to work together. We've been together over a year now. After the first group was organized at the instigation of Mr. Richard Herzberger, vice-president of the Psychical Research Society of St. Louis, Missouri, the interest was so great that it was only three months before a second group had to be formed. These members were given the same basic training and are now having very meaningful results as far as healing goes.

GEMINI: Can you cite any instances of these healings, Mr. Jaegers?

JAEGERS: Yes, but do you mind if I don't mention names? They're on file at my office if you want to confirm them. But you know most people still feel a little hesitant admitting in public that they have been helped or cured by non-medical means.

GEMINI: I'd like to talk to some of them later, but go ahead for now.

JAEGERS: You must understand at the outset that it is not I, nor those who are members of my group, who do the healing. We simply use and direct the flow of the Power, which is limitless. The Power of the Universal Source. The Power of God. The group asks and something is received. As long as there is hope, we believe that healing can occur.

Now as to those we have been able to help, I'll mention two of the most recent. A Mrs. A who had been paralyzed for 18 years, in a wheel chair, of course, is now beginning to stand on her feet for a few minutes at a time. Every week the group continues to focus the power on her and we believe she will constantly improve.

The other is Mr. B, who, when we first added his name to our prayers, had a heart-beat rate of 38. He was scheduled for an operation to receive a pace-maker in the hopes of keeping him alive. Now, we are happy to say, his heartbeat rate is up to a normal 73 and no pace-maker will be needed. Wonderful! Yes?

GEMINI: Mr. B should be quite grateful to you. I hope he's made a substantial contribution to your Center.

JAEGERS: There is never a charge for healing. Neither expected nor accepted. Like Olga Worrall, we feel this is God's work and you can't put a price tag on God's work.

GEMINI: What about failures? Do you have any who go away muttering under their breath?

JAEGERS: Oh, yes. We don't like it; we always feel a keen sense of regret, yet we have had to realize — as every healer has had to realize — that there are some people who simply cannot be helped. Various healers give various reasons. My personal feeling is that it's the state of mind of the individual... among other things, of course, but principally that.

Some people are so negatively minded that nothing can break through their negativity. In some other cases, particularly cancer, there is not a cure, but the individual experiences a renewed "spirit." They can handle their sickness and their problems a little better. Then again there is often the alleviation of pain so that a more normal life can be conducted.

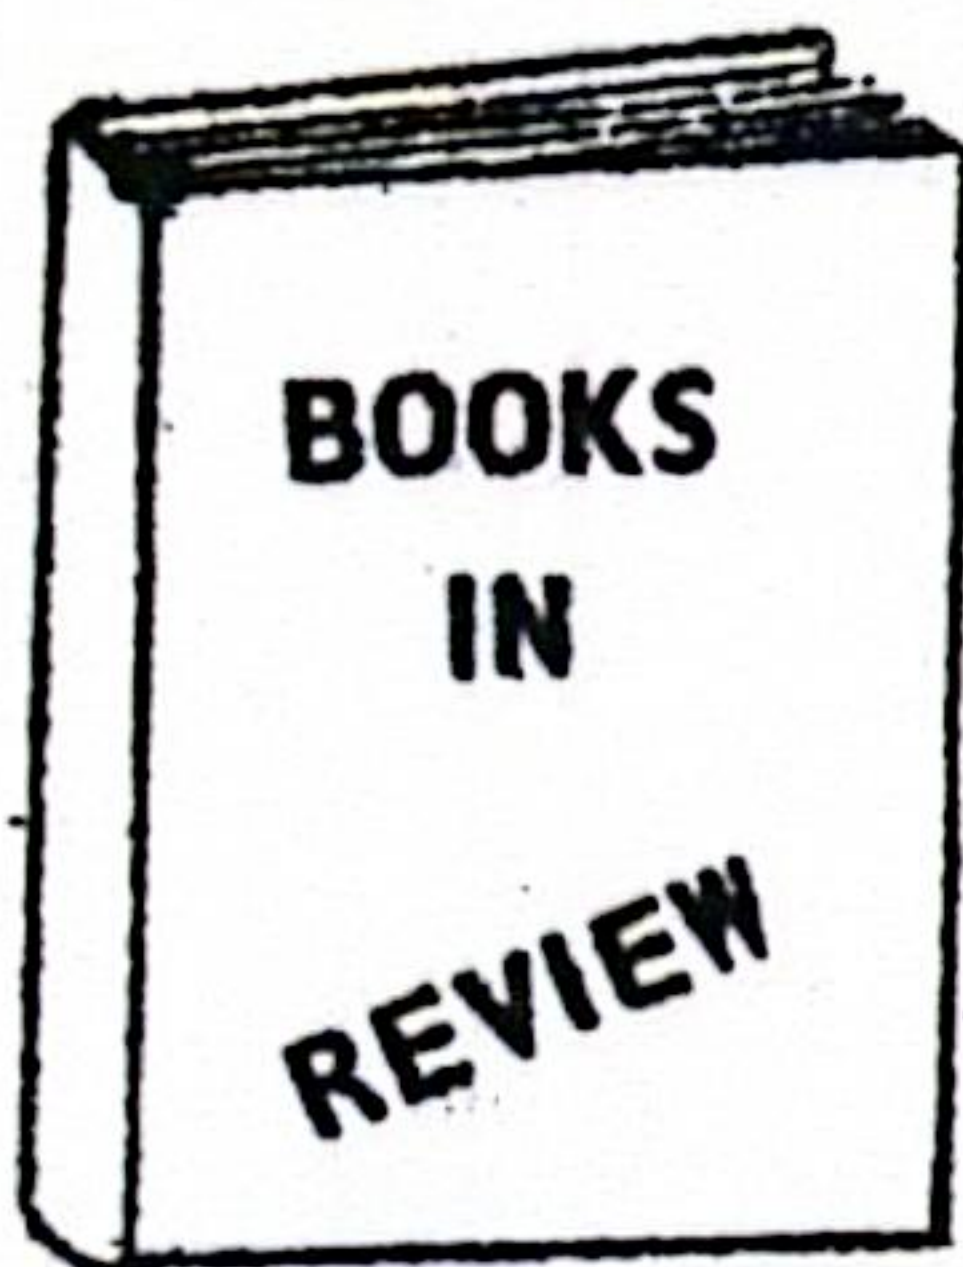

But usually we get neither thanks nor complaints. Individual names are turned in quietly by friends or relatives. We do the work without the subject knowing it is being done.

GEMINI: How long have you been in this work?

JAEGERS: I began working with healing officially last year.

GEMINI: Were you aware of having any psychic powers before you began to heal?

JAEGERS: No, not at all. I was just an ordinary farmer. For thirty years, in fact, which is a pretty long time. I was raised a strict Catholic, and strangely enough it was an acquaintance of mine who had been doing some healing, and who made a remark that angered me, that turned me on to trying it myself.

WEREWOLVES, SHAPESHIFTERS AND SKINWALKERS by Marika Kriss. Sherbourne Press, Los Angeles, Calif. Soft cover, $2.50

This book is a study of the fascinating subject of lycanthropy throughout the world. The author takes the reader on an exciting journey from the discovery by archeologists of pictorial allusions to werewolves painted in the days before man invented writing up to the present day.

Included is a chapter on the cat people and information about the American Indians and their belief in shapeshifting--humans changing their shapes to that of several different animals--and skinwalkers, an Indian term for those beings who are temporarily trapped inside the bodies of animals.

Is werewolvery contagious? Is it a matter of choice? Are they good or evil? Can they be domesticated? Are the transformations of the body or spirit?

Werewolves, Shapeshifters and Skinwalkers covers these questions and the whole field of lycanthropy in a well-written and enjoyable manner.

The Secret of Eternal YOUTH is the first in a series of seven books comprising the "whole person concept".

The author, Melita, is referred to as "a Master's Daughter"--a clairvoyant, a psychic, a mystic. She remembers the time before her birth, she regards reincarnation and karma as basic laws of the Universe.

The book contains the philosophy and teachings she has received throughout her life from discarnate entities. It is claimed to be communication from the same group of entities whose teachings were written about in The Unobstructed Universe by Stewart White. For anyone who enjoyed the past writings on this philosophy, this new series of books will be a welcome addition to their library.

ESP AND HYPNOSIS by Susy Smith. The Macmillan Company, New York, New York. Hardbound, $5.95

Hypnosis has been known to every society from the earliest times to the present. More and more is being discovered about its uses and great possibilities in the fields of medicine, psychotherapy and parapsychology.

In ESP and Hypnosis, Susy Smith traces the history of hypnosis, its uses in ESP research, age regression and mediumship. She tells of the dangers of its misuse and exciting future uses in research in the field of ESP. In her usual talented way, she tells of true experiences in the field and provides informative and enjoyable reading for anyone.

SPECIAL BOOK REVIEW ISSUE

The May-June issue of PDR NewsNotes will feature an extensive book review section. It will be limited to books published in 1973 or 1974. Send review copies promptly.

Numerology and the Lana DeJong New Year

In numerology each year is assigned a universal number. The years run in cycles of nine. The number of the year gives indications of general trends and vibrations for that year.

1974 will be a number 3 universal year. It brings forth optimism and expansion, along with restlessness and tenseness. The emphasis will be on specific individuals rather than countries.

There will be great growth and interest in all forms of art--writing, acting, singing, painting, etc. It will be an especially favorable year for those involved in artistic work, for they will be at the peak of popularity. It will be a year of expansion and prosperity for theaters, places of amusement, etc.

Fashion will also prosper. We will see some major innovations in this field. It is also likely that there will be a major fad such as the years when the hula hoop and skate boards were introduced.

We are also likely to see some important developments in the field of medicine, including one major discovery and breakthrough in the field of research.

An even greater emphasis will be placed on environmental protection with groups forming in all parts of the world to participate in wildlife conservation, etc. The beauty in nature will be appreciated greatly and the parks and recreational areas will be crowded.

Finances will improve--economic conditions will make some improvement through the first two or three months of the year and will then stabilize.

Cultural and social exchange between countries will expand. On the negative side, 1974 may find some governments and large institutions not living up to obligations agreed upon in treaties and agreements.

For the United States, 1974 will find the people restless, critical and discontented--especially in the first part of the year. There will be an increase in drug problems and a rise of interest in violence and brutality. Mass murders and brutal killings will continue. There will be at least one assassination attempt on political leaders.

There will be great activity in trade and business with economic conditions picking up. The Stock Market will improve remarkably and 1974 will see a new high in the Dow Jones.

Many new books will be written--especially in the occult and metaphysical fields. The interest in

NEWS - NEWS - NEWS

On January 14, 1974, the city council of Phoenix, Arizona decided to repeal a law written in 1919 outlawing the practices of fortune telling, palmistry, seances, spiritualism, astrology, soothsaying, etc.

Active in the efforts to remove the antiquated act was William J. Finch, who pointed out the law would prevent continuation of The Phoenix Psychic Seminar, unless repealed.

A ten month trial period with no restrictions was granted on the basis there had been no complaints made of such practices in the past five years, even though they had been operating in violation of the law. Open practices were conducted only by New Age groups, with the private astrological and psychic consultations done quietly. The feared influx of "gypsy fortune tellers" expressed by the feeble opposition will be closely watched by both the authorities and local practitioners. It was interesting to note that no opposition was presented by religious groups. The acceptance of psychic investigation by the general public has increased so much in the past few years that great progress is in store for the future.

Did your local paper carry the AP story of the sextuplets born in south Africa? If so, we hope it also carried the latest bulletin about the babies being treated for jaundice by a method called phototherapy! It consists of exposure to strong light over their cribs. Evidently the light is white. The proposed research of PDR may offer evidence the addition of color would speed the process, now anticipated to take two or three days.

BREAKTHROUGH -

The fascinating story of the research in tape recorded spirit communications which brought potential scientific proof of an existence beyond the point we call death.

Hardbound, 391 pages, $10.25, ppd.

NEW TAPES

ISHCOMAR, The Voice From Beyond Our Stars presents his views on a variety of subjects. Many are touched but briefly, but offer much to consider. The often heard question of why they don't land is answered in detail on tape no. 102.

Why we grow old when our bodies are made to repair themselves is because of the Cherub With The Flaming Sword, and Ishcomar reveals what that is. It is extremely doubtful that you can anticipate the data.

A series titled 'Technique For Learning' is introduced by tape no. 201 on Automatic Writing. It is written and narrated by Bill Finch and explains both the benefits and potential dangers of this practice. Complete instructions for different methods are included, including that of the author. Two examples, The Bisquits of Delight, a parable of the future relationship of orthodox religion and self understanding through a true metaphysical approach and another thought provoking discourse are offered.

Another new series is introduced as 'The Informative Series'. Tape 301 introduces Charles Mraz, who has spent 40 years researching bees. His offering is titled Bee Venom Therapy for Arthritis. If you have this problem or know anyone who does, the information on this tape can offer much of value. Describing his research with doctors and other investigators, Mr. Mraz offers hope where little may have existed before.

All tapes in the announced series are C-60, one hour cassettes.

Members may purchase one copy of each tape or one of any listed item at members special price. Additional copies or items are available at the regular price.

timeter antenna on the input of the diode with the output side of the diode connected to the recorder. Several circuits are suggested to reduce the "open circuit" type of hum and anyone capable of assembling such a device will know how to build one.

While the diode is the best method, according to Dr. Raudive and those who have done serious research, it also produces the sounds most difficult to interpret. Remember, it takes patience and training to understand the voices on the recordings, so if you lack those qualities, be prepared for disappointment.

Re-recording several times to amplify the signal may be helpful in hearing the voices from all three methods outlined. Maximum amplification with minimum distortion is suggested.

The first time I heard such recordings was independent of any research done by Raudive, but coinciding in time. The interpreter of the book by Raudive first heard of his work late in 1969. Raudive had been experimenting for some time. The man who recorded this phenomenon, and called it to my attention, did so early in 1968. He further produced some communications in ways not yet reported.

A tape recorder was set up as an audio amplifier, or as a public address system. The volume was adjusted to slightly below the regeneration point or just a bit lower than the squeal experienced when the microphone is too close to the speaker. By staring into the microphone, my associate produced a tone in response. I challenged him to blink his eyes, and heard that task reflected in the tone. Being experienced in audio amplification, and engaged in electronics at the time, I carefully examined the equipment for hidden gadgets, without finding any.

The recorder was an old type reel to reel from Sears. The microphone was a common variety used in the early day radio stations and of dynamic construction. I was not yet believing when my associate directed his gaze into a mirror which reflected the microphone, and produced the same tonal response. Again I challenged him, declaring if his mind was producing the tone he should be able to vary the pitch. He inquired whether I preferred a higher or lower one. I stated lower, believing it to be more difficult to produce, and listened, amazed as not only a lower tone but then both of them together came out of the speaker.

I was still not totally satisfied until I learned to produce a sound from my own mind and through my eyes. I could not hold a steady tone, but produced an interrupted signal. On several occasions after that, while I was in a lecture hall, I found I could quite easily affect the sound system if it was at the critical feedback point, until someone adjusted it.

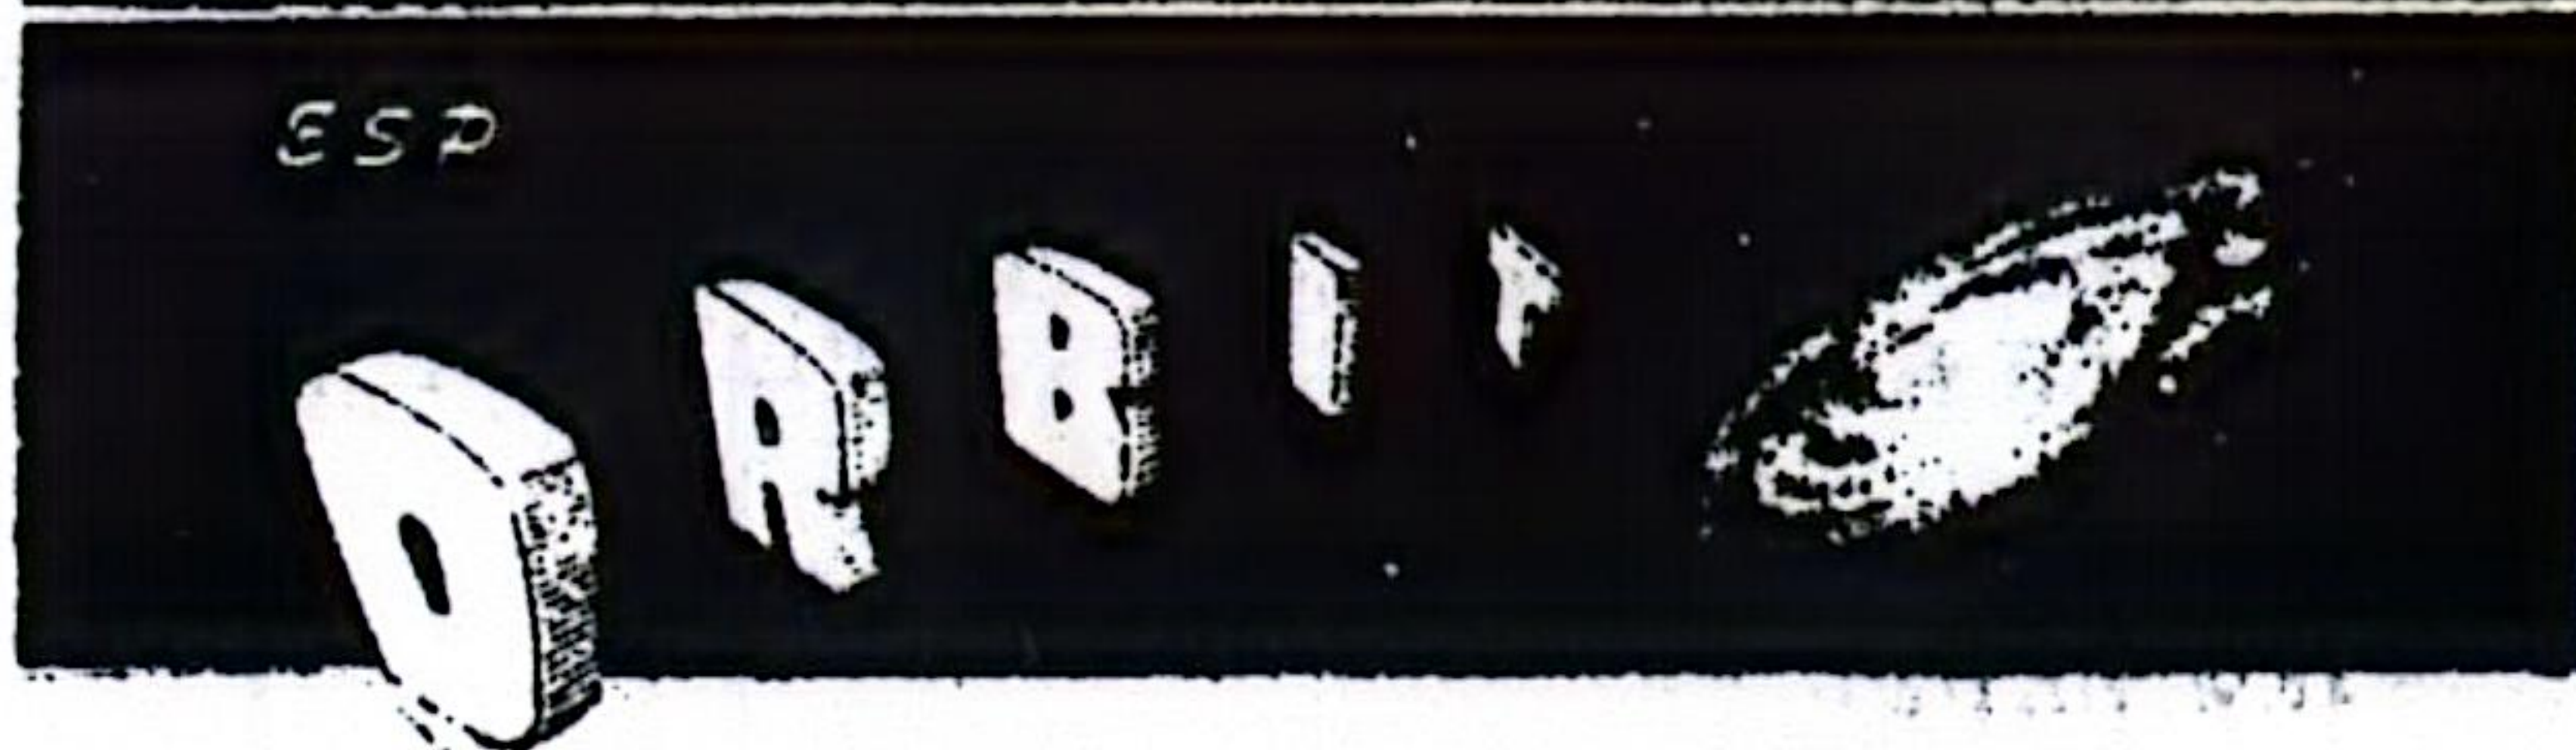

Upon my restored interest in this matter, I have tried several amplifiers, tape recorders and microphones but without satisfactory success. The lapse of several years seems to have affected the capability, but I shall continue my search for satisfactory equipment as I now desire to research the possibility of communication from other realms through a mind generated and spirit modulated channel, for I KNOW it has been done before.

Prior to this discovery, the microphone method described by Raudive had been tried, and the response recorded, but due to lack of understanding, we never trained ourselves to understand the words, and discarded them as useless and a product of our imaginations. However, some time later, while trying the gazing process as described, that

To Subscribers of ESP ORBIT:

Here is your first copy of PDR NewsNotes, which you will be receiving to fulfill your subscription to ESP ORBIT.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank you all for your loyalty and belief in ESP Orbit and to ask you to be as loyal to William J. Finch, the editor/publisher of PDRNN.

He is one of the foremost psychic researchers and editors in the USA today.

Because I could not find a suitable buyer or reliable help with the publishing of ESP Orbit, Mr. Finch has agreed to include all of you along with his regular subscribers.

Sincerely,

J. Ray Chenoweth, Editor
ESP ORBIT

It is unfortunate Orbit has reached its termination point, for I truly believed in its progressive policies.

The offer to fulfill subscriptions was made in honor of the memory of a sincere seeker, Becki Chenoweth, and the loyalty of Ray to all who who cross his path.

There is no intent to change this publication into newspaper format. We do, however, plan to add more pages in future issues. What is now needed is response from Orbit readers as to which features of Orbit they prefer to see continued. There is an obvious necessity to reduce space, but an effort will be made to provide articles, as Orbit has done in the past.

There are still two remote possibilities of other parties taking over a newspaper type publication. These will be resolved before the next issue goes to press. Your thoughts beam between the man's eyes and the microphone became modulated, and a very distinct voice was produced, saying "can you hear me?" A copy of this response is included on the tape accompanying the PDR diode test unit. I regret I do not have the original recordings we made of the Raudive voices, but then the object of this experiment is to have YOU do it, and report your findings to PDR headquarters so we can give a report in a forthcoming issue.

Whatever method you try, please send in your report of success or failure, as the case may be. If you get good response, please send a copy of your recording. I shall be watching for tricks, for there is an unmistakable thing in true communications that is not duplicated in the fake. An outstanding claim may be followed up by a personal visit, with a request to see it duplicated in my presence.

One thought must be kept in mind by those who desire to buy our diode unit. It is made in keeping with the information in the book by Raudive, but may NOT produce the desired results. For this reason, the diode unit will be offered to PDR members on a special plan. Members buying a unit will be permitted to return it for a refund, providing the request and returned unit is postmarked not more than thirty (30) days after the shipping date postmark. A rental fee of $3.00 will be deducted from the refund. This plan applies only to the diode detecting unit.

This device is built by an electronic engineer especially for PDR. It is the first of several devices he will offer for research, following his own experimentation.

One thing has become apparent in our own investigations. A competent medium, or person capable of such accomplishment (known or unknown) seems to aid reception of the voices.

WHAT I DO - AND HOW I DO IT

GEMINI: That must have been a very significant remark.

JAEGERS: He made the flat statement that one must believe in Jesus before one could be healed. Now I was Catholic and if anyone believed it would be me. Right? But when he made that narrow-minded remark I thought of all the Jewish people, and the Moslems, Shintoists, Buddhists . . . so many others. Life is tough enough without denying someone a possible healing just because he calls God by a different name. I don't know why my reaction was "If he can heal, then I can heal," but I thought that and I somehow believed it.

GEMINI: And this was your first introduction to the psychic world?

JAEGERS: Well, not exactly. I happened to fall in love with a young lady who was an accomplished palmist. Bevi Jaegers started out with a routine she had learned from books and discovered she was adding something to her hand-analysis she should not have had any knowledge of. The more she worked, the more her extra perceptions expanded. She turned me on, if I may use that phrase. I'd been looking for something all my life, and when she opened this door I knew that this was it.

GEMINI: Do you and your wife work together on the healing meditations?

JAEGERS: Some, but Bevi is a very busy woman in her own right. What we do work together on, because we both feel it is so important, is what we call psychic rescue work. We try to help those who have gotten into trouble with the occult, spiritualism and so on. Most of our cases were initiated through someone playing with "spirits," automatic writing, ouija, seances. Strange, isn't it?

GEMINI: I hear that you and Mrs. Jaegers have quite a reputation as ghost hunters, too.

JAEGERS: Well, let us say that we usually are able to alleviate the problem on any case we've gone into. Usually we have a team of four trained psychics, sometimes others go along, but no large group. I'd like to tell you more, but since we're doing this work under the auspices of the St. Louis Society for Psychical Research I don't have the authority to cite any specific instances. It would be better if you checked with them.

GEMINI: In addition to all this work, and the Center which you operate, how did you and your wife ever find time to raise six children?

JAEGERS: We never considered that work. They're great kids.

GEMINI: What is their attitude towards all this ESP, ghost hunting and the like?

JAEGERS: Each one reacts differently. Some like to participate and some do not. Our youngest, Ray, Jr., is our "reader." That is, he reads the names and the physical problems aloud during our group healing meditations. He's nine and he's been doing this for about a year.

GEMINI: What are your plans for the future?

JAEGERS: I don't feel they're our plans. Things are opening up, and so rapidly we can scarcely keep up. At the Center we offer training in ESP, Self-Hypnosis, Meditation, Yoga and so on. Workshops go on all weekend. Sunday afternoon we have the meditation healing. We now have three groups working in this. I'm preparing cassette tape instructions on how to begin such a group.

Bevi and I feel there is a great need for healing groups such as this, all over the country, and we'd be happy to share the knowledge of how to start one with anyone who is interested. Just write us, Psychical Research and Training Center, 2723 S. Patton St., Maplewood, Missouri 61343.

NUMEROLOGY & THE NEW YEAR

these subjects will continue to grow and the year will see more and more organizations formed, large gatherings of people interested in psychic subjects, and more television and movie material based on the occult.

In general, 1974 will be a year of great restlessness, activity, innovations and discoveries. The real emphasis will be on the arts. For those interested in the psychic and occult subjects, it will be a year of opportunity for great expansion and growth in the field.
