"The Only Source of Post-Deluge Shaverania"

SPRING 1981

ISSUE 7 $1.50

Notice any changes? Right off the bat, you probably checked out the cover, which is just one of many never-before-published sketches by Rich Shaver that will appear from time to time on the front page of Shavertron. We have Dottie Shaver to thank for them. Dot is still working away on the Arkansas end of Shavertron, as she did with the original SM Magazine. She has helped to make S a worthwhile zine, and we hope she won't lose interest in us or this project.

Some of you may remember that we said that this issue would deal with the controversial book, Alternative 003. We were going to go ahead with it, but so much NEW Shaver Mystery material has come our way here at S headquarters that we just couldn't let it stew on that proverbial back burner for another 3 or 4 months. We hope that this issue will speak for itself in defense of this last minute change.

notes from the under ground

By R. Teronto

We are delighted to have a new contributor on board: Ray Archer (a classic SM name if ever was one), has written an article concerning his studies into Mantong. Mr. Archer also has some intriguing experiences to relate to S readers concerning an ancient Roman mine he has explored in England. But this will have to wait for a future ish.

For the first time in this issue, Jim Pobst, our Canadian historian/researcher on literary aspects of the SM, has put together a piece about RSS 'mystery manuscripts', with a special request of S readers. Another Jim...Jim Wentworth, has come back with his usual SM bravado in a short article detailing his impressions of derelict ships and ufos...along with his semi-regular feature, "Revisions for Giants in the Earth".

Mike Cohen has an interesting book to review, and if readers are inclined to do so, please write to Mike at 215 E. Gunhill Rd-6A, Bronx, NY.10467, and he will arrange to send you a copy of this unusual book. Mike has made arrangements with the British publisher to make this book available to S readers. Drop him a line!

Another Shaver Mystery fan and inner earth explorer you might like to get in touch with is Mary LeVesque, editor of the newly reserrected HOLLOW MASSLE. The HM met an untimely demise about 7 years ago. Those of you lucky enough to have a set of the original HM in your files, will be happy to learn that you can now continue your collection. Mary decided that the time was right for a NEW HM, to help hollow earthers in their quest as we roll into the 1980's. Your humble editor is on the board of consultants, so you'll be seeing a new era of co-operation between our two zines.....Please write to Mary at P.O. Box 255, Santa Fe, NM. 87501 for your sub @ $6 per year, quarterly.

This might be a good spot to mention future contributors. Charles Marcoux, a long-time SM follower and leader in the field in his own right, will have articles in future issues. His new book, I Search for the Portals, is a must for any SM fan. He has pubbed it himself, in a xeroxed 8 1/2 by 11 inch format, with H&W and color xeroxes of his cavern and "psychic" photos. The book has maps of the Superstition Mts., where he did extensive researches into cavern entrances. Some of the material is reprinted from articles in the BSRA Round Robin and there are repro's of the covers of every one of the original Shaver Mystery Magazines. Readers who are interested can contact Mr Marcoux at: 931 W. Pierson, Phoenix, Arizona 85013..cost of the book is $8.20 ppd.

One final book we'd like to tell S readers about is Vaughn Green's "Astronauts of Ancient Japan". Now, this might not appear to relate to Shaver or the SM, but wait! On page 74, we find a chapter called The Caves of Shaver! In it, Green relates some of his correspondence with RSS, and rounds out the SM controversy. The book is full of odd occurrences throughout history, Fortean's will like this, and other chapters read: Goblins of the Sea, Gods Underground and other Legends, Docks in the Sky, Drowned Gods...and much more. You can buy a copy of this softbound book from the author himself (maybe even get him to autograph it for you) by writing to Vaughn Green, 548 Elm Ave., San Bruno, CA. 94066.

You will also note that you are getting 4 extra pages this issue. These are donated by Henry M. Steele, who paid for their printing himself, since he deemed the information vital to Shavertron readers. See what he has to say, and then make up your own mind about his revelations. We'd like your input.

It may seem like this ish has been a long time in coming to some of you. But because our Winter 1980 issue came out last summer, you can see that we were way way ahead of schedule. We decided to bide some time, and fall in line with regular, quarterly publishing dates. So expect to see your issue of Shavertron in your mailbox around the solstices and equinoxes now.

Remember, if you like what you see, tell your friends to sub!

Shavertron is published quarterly at $6 per year, or $7 for foreign subscriptions. And that's by surface mail. We invite contributions that relate somehow to Richard S. Shaver...manuscripts, letters, or bits of information anyone might have concerning RSS or the Shaver Mystery. Mailing address:

MORE on MANTONG

One of the most fascinating aspects of the famous Shaver Mystery, I find, is the Mantong Alphabet.

After looking closely at the formation of English words, I have come to the conclusion that the underlying foundation of some words contain clues to an existence in the past of a civilization more advanced than our own.

In this old culture--which may have been the fabled MU-- they appear to have utilized RA or power from the sun, to drive their machines.

Interestingly enough, our own names for transport systems today still retain a trace element within them from that former time.

Now words such as "traffic", "train", and "trailer" take on new significance, each containing the old name RA label.

It could be that because of the dim memories stemming from that solar age, the later cultures, particularly the sun kingdoms of South America, came to look on the Sun as their god.

An apparent symbol of sun power is the ruler's crown or tiara. This suggests an obvious connection between both RA and RO.

The latter word according to Richard Shaver means "controlled"...such words signifying a monarch or ruler either contain RA or RO in them, it seems, as do the following: Royal, Emperor, Pharaoh, and Tyrant.

Take the word R-O-T-A. This is a combination of two Mantong words, RO and TA. The former we already know. The letter appears to mean a slave and sounds similar to Tar, an old word for an early sailor.

We also teg or teb our possessions. Rota means then, "controlled slave" or RO's, RULERS, TA. Today's meanings of the word is a wheel or a roster, a table of duties, or turns for workers.

There is an indication that crossing of various animals and men may have been achieved, i.e. MUTANTS, in the distant past. Perhaps, here is a clue, a connection, with VU. As well as being used for work purposes, to "amuse" (freak shows) seems to have been one other of their tasks. This may explain the word MU-SEE-UM (then). This agrees in part with Shaver's explanation concerning the mythological beings, Centaurs etc. of the Greeks.

These ancient people appear to have known of the wave form generated by the human voice. This might account for such words as "row", "whistle" and "wail". Now, the W is the common denominator in these three words, and for good reason as we shall see.

Take, first of all, the form of the W (like the flapping of wings). When put alongside one another like this: WWWWW.....as you see we get a wave shape.

The old words for (possibly) their oceans and seas, seems to have been WA and SA. More of our words today, for instance, "water", "swan" "wash", "sep", "sad" and "say" now reveal their likely source. We now have some idea of the way our words came down to us from the old tongue. I now have discovered that the letters of the alphabet must have a pictographic symbol as their origin. In other words, letters depict real observations of things...taken from everyday life. The "S" is obviously an Asp or snake symbol and means to h/issue--~~ESCAPE~~, a sound-word.

O is a very important (source) symbol which stands for a mouth or hole. It has links to the Universal Egg of life traditions of the early cultures concerning the beginning (B-EGG-IN-G)? of the world.

The W can be connected with the snake shape as well, as these two words: "Maggot" and "Worm" seem to indicate. This letter also, denotes a wavy motion (the inverted W) when coupled with any of the 5 vowels, you get a Mother concept...such words as "follow", "now", need little explanation. Moth, mole, mute, omit, mouse etc. all appear to be associated with either an orifice or entrance.

The Q seems to originate from an old circle-bar symbol (SPO). This is where the following words have their source: Spoke, Spool and Spoon. This sign Q became the modern Q and the familiar ?-mark of interrogation as well.

It takes little imagination when studying this symbol above, to see how it resembles the objects in actuality. Take for instance, WASP... (winged sting?). SP here means penetrate as Spear and spike do taken in this context. Last, but certainly not least, another bar added to the circle-bar sign meant a Dispute or Argument. These words probably refer to the change in the Sun mentioned in Shaver's stories...when "D" particles rained-- Disc-spit from (RA) upon the earth.

The second word comes from RA-GU...Sun mouth, where Rage also originated. We now understand the reason why the underground cities were hollowed out below the earth.

The Ancients' surface dwellings were called T-ICONS. This means growing cells--the T of course stands for healthy growth, if we slightly alter T-ICON we get TI-ONE, a little more, ONE being (ON-OWN) we end up with TI-OWN, much like today's word Town. The old word T-ICON changed down through the years to TEN or TENE as in the two words Tent and Tenement. The connection with buildings is again quite evident.

Another old word-meaning, the same as TI (to join with) is NE. These two antique words are often found together in presentday words, although in some cases, NE is altered to NA. This explains the following below:

--Nation...this comes from NE-TI-ON. The significance of NET is obvious from this.

There are many myths and legends throughout the world telling of a time in the past when people escaped disasters by dwelling underground in vast ancient tunnels. These tales are especially numerous among the American Indian tribes, being traditions passed down to them from their ancestors.

The name given to these subterranean abodes seems to be D-ICNs, and this word altered, came to us as DEN. Both the old word and the new mean a Hiding Place or Hid-den, and comes from a longer one..Dungion, our Dungeon, an underground cell.

I myself now suspect, that the sun was not the only reason why these people became RA-CLOSED or Recluses. RA-CELL-US in the D-ICNs could very well have been fallout shelters for nuclear attack.

This appears to be supported by such words as Engdangered, the universal color of warning: Red for Danger is present here, and today we ourselves have got the term "Red Alert" perhaps the old word for this is RED-A-T-ION, our Radiation or nuclear contamination.

So just what are we to make of all this? Unfortunately, the two most controversial persons involved in the Shaver Mystery, Richard S. Shaver and Ray Palmer are no longer with us. Perhaps the answer is that there is nothing new under the Sun. The underground D-ICNs are being built again, ready for the next conflict. Maybe the Bigfoots and other weird creatures reported from time to time are the remnants of the last nuclear war.

It certainly looks as though Shaver was right. The answer to the whole riddle is beneath our feet.

THE MANTONG ALPHABET

A—Animal.	(Used AN for short).
B—Be.	To exist. (Often used as a "command").
C—Con.	To see. (C-on; to understand).
D—De.	Detrimental, disintegrant energy. (The second most important symbol in the alphabet).
E—Energy.	(An all-pervading concept including the idea of motion).
F—Fecund.	(Used "fe," as in female—fecund man).
G—Generato.	(Used "gen").
H—Human.	(A very metaphysical concept here, not fully understood, but used in the sense "H-you-man": a human is an H-Man).
I—Self. Ego.	(Same as our English I).
J—Generate.	(A duplication of G, but with a delicate difference in shade of meaning. Actually Ja, in contrast to Ge is a very important distinction. G is the generating energy, while J is animal generation per se.)
K—Kinetic.	(The force of motion).
L—Life.
M—Man.
N—Seed.	Spore. (Child, as "nanny").
O—Orifice.	(A source concept).
P—Power.
Q—Quest.	(As "quest-ion").
R—Horror.	Danger. (Used AR, symbol of a dangerous quantity of disintegrant force in the object.)
S—Sun.	(Used "sis"; an important symbol, always referring to a "sun" whose energy is given off through atomic disintegration.)
T—Integration, Growth.	(Used TE; the most important symbol of the alphabet; the true origin of the cross symbol. It signifies the integrative force of growth; as, all matter is growing—the intake of gravity in the cause. The force is T. TIC means the science of growth. Integration-I-Con (understand).
U—You.
V—Vital.	(Used as VI; the stuff Mesmer called "animal magnetism").
W—Will.
X—Conflict.	(Force lines crossing each other).
Y—Why.
Z—Zero.	Nothing. Neutralization. (A quantity of energy of T neutralized by an equal quantity of D. Futility.)

HUNDREDS of balls found deep below the earth have got scientists in a spin. For they could have been made by prehistoric man—which would mean there was intelligent life on the planet almost 3,000 million years ago.

The balls, from one to four inches across, were found in mineral deposits at the Wonderstone Mine in the Transvaal, South Africa.

An official who cracked several open found that one kind contained a sponge-like substance which quickly powdered when it was touched.

The other type was solid metal, blue with a reddish tint and containing specks of white fibre.

By PETER ELLIS

Three neat grooves—like the seam on a cricket ball—ran around the centre of each ball.

They had no irregularities and no known geological process could have formed them, says Roelf Marx, curator of South Africa's Klerksdorp Museum.

He was amazed when he displayed one of the balls with samples of other rocks.

After some months he found that the ball had turned itself round.

Marx couldn't believe it and kept watch. Sure enough, the ball was able to revolve on its axis.

"I have no explanation," Marx says. "The sphere baffles everybody. It looks man-made, as though cast in a mould."

Geologist Professor Andries Bisschoff says: "From the position in which these things were found, it is likely that they are 2,800 million years old.

"I don't know why they revolve on their own axis—nothing in nature could make them do that."

The balls were all found in the same layer of the mineral pyrophyllite. They all fit perfectly in the hand, as if they were designed that way.

One theory is that they were primeval missiles. Now scientists are puzzling over why they were needed.

WEEKEND, July 2-8, 1960

URBANA, Ill. (UPI) — Police are trying to determine why hundreds of dollars were torn into one-inch squares and scattered to the wind.

Police answered a report at the Lincoln Trailer Home park late Wednesday and found about 10 children and adults furiously trying to recover pieces of torn $10, $20 and $50 bills being tossed about by the wind.

"It was just blowing around on the ground ...," Lt. Charles Gordon said. "If they (trailer home residents) found enough one-inch square pieces to piece together a $50 bill, it would make it worth putting the jigsaw puzzle together."

Gordon said the incident was the third time this month shredded cash had been reported in the area.

the mystery titles of richard shaver

Not the least of the many mysteries which surround the puzzling career of Richard Sharpe Shaver is the fate of some thousands (even hundreds of thousands) of words by his pen. Begun and perhaps never finished, or completed but never published, these "mystery manuscripts" continue to perplex & entice the student of the Shaver Saga. When, to them are added companion volumes by other hands, (some announced by Shaver's own Aldebaran Press), a sizeable library of material is seen to be missing from the official record of the Shaver Mystery. It is hoped that if any reader has any further information about the following items, they will write to SHAVERTRON, and through its columns share their knowledge with the rest of us.

A) WARNING TO FUTURE MAN: Paris Flamonde in his book, UFO EXIST states that this manuscript "of sorts" was scrawled on the backs of envelopes laundry bills, paper bags and other scraps receptive to a pencil".

Ray Palmer, however, claimed it was in the form of a 10,000 word letter sent to the Ziff-Davis Publishing Company offices, typed with "ultimate non-ability" on a "toy typewriter with several keys missing".

It was with this letter as a base, Palmer stated, that he produced the 31,000 word ms. "I Remember Lemuria". (AMAZING STORIES, March 1945).

In the quarterly book THE HIDDEN WORLD no.2

Palmer reveals that he added "expansive dialogue", "local colour"

"bits of action" and "battle scenes". The actual "letter manuscript" that Shaver had written was, Palmer said, filed away in accordance with Ziff-Davis policy, in company with the other manuscripts relating to that issue, all destined to be destroyed after the passage of six years. Palmer "lifted" it for his personal Shaver file but by 1961 claimed to have lost track of it.

There is another theory current among sf fans to the effect that the whole Shaver Mystery was orchestrated at least a year in advance of the initial publication and that therefore the WARNING TO FUTURE MAN ms. never existed. Only if and when this most valuable piece of Shaverania is produced can this rumour be quashed.

B) THE ELDER WORLD: By all accounts, this was to be Shaver's super-novel--a story of the caverns "replete with documentation and proof". But, says Palmer, the loss of Ziff-Davis income broke Shaver's spirit temporarily, and Shaver handed the portfolio to Palmer with the words, "You finish this book--- it has me licked". Palmer describes it as a "helter skelter collection of individual and unrelated chapters, and various conglomerations of notes". Parts of this appeared in THE HIDDEN WORLD (1961-1964), but there may have been other unedited chapters not published. Shaver was said to have begun writing this in 1949. It was advertised for future sale as early as 1948 in Vol. II, no. 4 of the Shaver Mystery Magazine as "A big lavishly illustrated and handsomely bound volume... a proper exhaustive study on the whole subject of the prediluvian culture". Though it was never to appear in finished form, it was to have cost $6, be illustrated by the author, and would include for free, a "Letters To Shaver" folio. If a more complete description of the contents exists, other than that in THE HIDDEN WORLD's pages, the readers of SHAVERTRON would no doubt like to hear about it.

C) THE ALDEBARAN LEAFLET: In 1948, subscribers to the Shaver Mystery Magazine and selected others received a list of proposed publications from Aldebaran Press. Comments on the books projected were given, as were prices. As well as the Elder World, they included: "Grey Lord of Death" by G. Archette...$3, (this saw print as "We Dance for the Dow" by RSS in AS 1/50); "The Magic That Was" by RSS...$2.50; "Letters to Shaver"...$1.50;

MAGIC NAMES!

Are you interested in the almost forgotten past of the Earth? If you are, here is the wonder book of all time concerning the great catastrophe which destroyed the civilization of 24,000 years ago!

"I REMEMBER LEMURIA!"

by RICHARD S. SHAVER

This is an incredible story of a Pennsylvania welder who began to receive strange thoughts from his electric welder. At first he thought he was going mad, but then, when the astounding story of Lemuria came to him, he realized that here was something more than mere madness. His experiences convinced him that what he was hearing was true. Whether his "memories" are true or not is for you to judge. Thousands of people have already claimed "I Remember Lemuria!" and its sequel of 10,000 years later, "The Return of Sathanas" is a revelation. The evidence of its truth is self-contained for those who will read, and think!

D) THE ROGER BACON MANUSCRIPT: In the Editor's Page feature of the last issue of the Ziff-Davis pulp magazine Mammoth Adventures, Ray Palmer announced that to hand was a new Shaver story dealing with Roger Bacon, the Franciscan monk (A.D. 1214-1294), natural philosopher and mathematician. Had it appeared it would have been the fifth Shaver tale in this magazine, the previous ones having dealt with such diverse locales as Babylon after the death of Sennacherib, Tucatan in the time of Cortez, and the Incan and Aztec civilizations. Mammoth Adventures failed to sell enough copies, folded after the eighth issue, and presumably the manuscript was either returned to Shaver or destroyed at Ziff-Davis.

E) KINGDOM OF THE GODS: The first and second issues of the science-fiction magazine Other Worlds on sale in the latter half of 1949, promised in the back cover feature for "Your Reading Pleasure", "a tremendous new tale from the thought records of the dead race who once inhabited the lost caverns of the earth. Beginning a brand new series of the world's most imaginative and stimulating stories". Nothing under this title did appear and it is not known if this mention was merely a 'teaser' or the working title for the four-part serial BEYOND THE BARRIER which did run in Other Worlds (November 1952- February 1953). Mutan Mion and his Arl re-appear in this long novel which ranks with the DREAM WAKERS as Shaver's best work.

F) THE SHAVER MYSTERY: In the May 1957 issue of Search, there appeared a small boxed advertisement: "Coming next September-the hard cover book, THE SHAVER MYSTERY". Ray Palmer announced in the June 1957 issue that University Books would publish this book in the fall. He claimed authorship and revealed that it "will explain the Shaver Mystery quite completely-- and it won't cost a fortune, either!" I have no information that the book ever saw print, or in fact even existed in manuscript, although it is possible that parts of it were incorporated in Palmer's contributions to THE HIDDEN WORLD and THE SECRET WORLD.

As would be expected from such a prolific writer as Richard Shaver, there were title changes in the transition from ms. to published story. Working titles such as THE LIMPING HAG and MULTI-MIND saw print as CULT OF THE WITCH QUEEN (Amazing Stories, July 1946) and QUEST OF ERAIL (AS: December '45). In a letter to Richard Toronto, Shavertron editor, Shaver mentioned that GREEN MAN'S GRIEF (Future: January 1951) was first called WHY GREEN PEOPLE ARE UNPOPULAR. But the above mentioned titles cannot be so easily traced as this. I think they represent separate and distinct pieces in the Shaver jig-saw puzzle-- pieces which for many and varied reasons we are unable to read, judge and assess.

Somewhere, perhaps in the Shaver File at Palmer Publications, or with the numerous and scattered Shaver collections of his old and new fans, there rest the above 'Mystery Titles'. Possibly even more.

BY JIM POBST

Book Review: WAR IN THE AIR

Richard S. Shaver blamed all wars and other human tragedies on dero and their ray machines. Is there a master plan to destroy our civilization? If such a plan exists, has it been published in books or in other literature in the past? There is some evidence that the great British writer, H.G. Wells had access to the dero's master plan to destroy Western Civilization.

Wells liked to predict the future in his famous sci-fi novels. When he wrote THE TIME MACHINE in 1895, he informed the public in an indirect way that the dero were killing and eating humans. By having the main character travel 70,000 years into the future, he shows why civilization was destroyed and why the Morlocks were eating the Eloi. Of course, Shaver claimed that this existed at the present time and has existed for thousands of years. At any rate, Wells did seem to have knowledge of dero activities at the turn of the century.

H.G. Wells was able to foresee the serious problems of the 20th century including overpopulation, air pollution and the World Wars decades before they became evident. The American people are not aware of these prophecies because the two novels which contain most of them have not been published in the USA. These novels are THE WAR IN THE AIR (1908) and THE WORLD SET FREE (1914). In this book review, the WAR IN THE AIR will be discussed and a future article will review THE WORLD SET FREE, the world's first book to predict the coming of the a-tonic age including a description of nuclear war and nuclear-powered rockets travelling to the stars.

THE WAR IN THE AIR is one of the most incredible books written in the past 100 years, and it is a great crime that the book publishers have refused to sell it to the American people. When Mr. Wells wrote it in 1907, conditions in the world were not as bad as they are today. Western civilization was at its height in culture and civilized behavior and there was a universally accepted belief that Man was improving as a species. Wells was one of the few people living before World War I who was able to see through this dream world and he was able to accurately predict how the dero would destroy our civilization by forcing human beings to slaughter each other.

THE WAR IN THE AIR more accurately predicted the events of World War II than WWI. Wells claimed that the USA was to be attacked by German, Chinese, and Japanese aircraft in the 1930's. Although this prediction was not completely accurate, because he believed that all the major US cities would be destroyed by air power (to take place in WWII), it is a fact that Alaska and Pearl Harbor were attacked by enemy aircraft. He also predicted that all the world's major cities would be destroyed by aircraft in WWII.

The attack on Pearl Harbor by the Japanese on December 7, 1941, which resulted in the destruction of most of the US Fleet fulfills another prediction he made in Chapter 5: "The Battle of the North Atlantic". This chapter is one of the most frightening in the book, because Wells describes how a German air fleet annihilated the US Fleet. It is a fact that the Germans came very close to destroying both the US and British Fleets in both world wars by using subs and aircraft in the North Atlantic. The only problem with this prediction was that the Japanese succeeded in destroying most of the US Fleet, not the Germans. This is a minor consideration, however, since the military dared not believe that aircraft could destroy large warships until the 1920's and the concept of air power destroying an entire fleet was not proven until the attack on Pearl Harbor.

How did the British people look at this book? On November 5, 1908, THE TIMES of London, one of the world's greatest newspapers, reviewed this novel and the paper attacked Wells for predicting a terrible future for the 20th century. The British critic who wrote the review attacked Wells on a number of predictions which he and most of the world believed would never come true. Among the predictions which disturbed him included Wells' description of the world wars, the use of aircraft to destroy cities and the collapse of civilization after these wars took place. He was also very upset by Wells' prediction that a World War could begin over a minor incident. Six years later, however, WWI began when one man was assassinated! Summing up his review, the critic accused Wells, one of the greatest writers of our time, of being a poor writer and THE WAR IN THE AIR as a poor piece of fiction!

Of course, Wells had the last laugh. In the 1941 edition of THE WAR IN THE AIR, he expressed his true feelings:

"Here in 1941 THE WAR IN THE AIR is being reprinted once again. It was written in 1907 and first published in 1908. It was reprinted in 1921, and then I wrote a preface which also I am reprinting. Again I ask the reader to note the warning I gave in that year, 20 years ago. Is there anything to add to that preface now? Nothing except my epitaph. This, when the time comes, will manifestly have to be: 'I told you so, you damned fools.'"

Why are humans damned fools?? Did Wells know that the human race was being controlled by the dero? Or was he a real psychic and could see accurately into the future? Nobody knows the truth about this matter, but it seems that THE WAR IN THE AIR could be classified as a real dero nightmare.

Editors note: Mike Cohen is a writer/researcher in the ufological field, having had many articles published in Beyond Reality and other zines of this area of study.

Derelict Ships and U F O S

Derelicts have been discovered on still waters-- intact and seaworthy-- not once, but many times. Here are a few examples:

A deserted, two-masted ship called John and Mary was found adrift 50 miles south of Bermuda. Time: April, 1932.

The yacht, Gloria Colite, was found abandoned two hundred miles south of Mobile, Alabama in February of 1940.

So, too, in September, 1955 was another yacht, Connerama IV, found 400 miles south-west of Bermuda.

The date of the discovery of the 60-foot Maple Bank, devoid of life, north of Bermuda, was June 30, 1969.

And, on October 31, 1971, the U.S. Coast Guard came across the lifeless Lucky Edur, a fishing vessel of 25-foot length.

Let us now put our imaginations to use and picture a cargo ship plying the calm waters of the Pacific. Everything is peaceful. Of the 15 crew members, some are eating in the galley, one is mopping the deck, two others are painting a lower corridor. The remainder are all dutifully busy.

Suddenly, the one mopping the deck lets out a yell and points a shaky finger to the cloudless sky. Some 2000 feet above is a silvery UFO, circular in shape, about 60 feet in diameter.

The piercing yell brings all personnel dashing on deck to stare fearfully at the strange object, dropping rapidly and silently toward them. When about 200 feet above, the UFO stops its descent, but keeps pace with the swiftly moving ship.

Sensing its alienness, those aboard begin to experience increasing fear and terror. This reaches a point where they go berserk. Senselessly, they hurl themselves overboard, uncaring that they are in shark-infested waters.

Soon after, the UFO streaks upward, and disappears from sight within seconds. Meanwhile, the 15 men in the water realize a new menace is upon them. A fleet of sharks begin to close in. Before long it is over. All men have been killed and eaten.

The next day the derelict is discovered by a passing ship and boarded by several sailors. They notice a number of strange things-- a half-eaten meal in the galley with chairs overturned, a scattered mop by a bucket of soapy water on deck, two brushes near a paint can below. From all this it is obvious that there had been stark panic aboard the abandoned ship. But what happened? Theories are voiced breathlessly.

One imaginative theorist says that a UFO might have been involved. Unknowingly, he was correct. He further theorizes that the alien occupants kidnapped the entire crew of the cargo ship. Here, of course, he is dead wrong.

There are UFOlogists who hold to the idea that the crews (and passengers) of all derelict ships are the kidnapped victims of aliens. Not necessarily so. Not in all cases. Perhaps some crew members were indeed whisked aboard a UFO as captives, but it could also be true that other crew members that are missing from abandoned ships suffered the same watery fate as just described in the fictional story above.

This theory is upheld by Charles Berlitz, for in his book, Without a Trace, he writes on page 155: "During the 1972 period of frequent sightings over Puerto Rico, some minor incidents concerning small boats occurred which, although receiving comparatively little attention, may have some bearing on the mystery of the many craft found over the years in the Bermuda Triangle, afloat and seaworthy but without their crews. For while more striking occurrences were being watched in the sky by thousands of observers, several abandoned boats were found in Puerto Rico waters off Mayaguez and Carbo Rojo. Occupants of these craft were known to have been aboard when the boats left port. About the time of the crew's disappearance, the crew of another craft, a yacht, were startled to observe, in the early evening, a UFO approaching them at a slow rate of speed and at an altitude of less than 200 feet. As it came closer, before suddenly disappearing, the crew experienced a common sense of terror and several of them attempted to jump overboard before being dissuaded by their comrades. This little-noted incident might possibly furnish one indication why so many boats are found abandoned within the Bermuda Triangle, in that unreasoning panic might suggest that escaping, even into the unfriendly but familiar sea, would be preferred to staying on board and facing the approaching unknown."

News helicopter lost

MIAMI (UPI) — A Coast Guard cutter searched the Bermuda Triangle today for a television news team helicopter with four men aboard, missing since Wednesday night.

The 210-foot Vigorous looked all night for the missing Bell Ranger aircraft, and planes and helicopters, which rejoin the search at daybreak, crisscrossed the Florida Straits until 10:30 p.m. Thursday, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The spokesman said the unusual after-dark air search was ordered because "we were told the helicopter had a life raft aboard and we assume the raft was equipped with flares."

Aboard the missing helicopter were pilot George Snow, 45, of Boca Raton, Fla.; NBC cameraman Randy Fairbairn, 31; Dan Cefalo, a free lancer working for NBC, and Joseph Dalisera, 52, a video technician for ABC. 11-14-80

'Ghost Voices' Threaten Flight Safety of Airlines

HILLIARD, Fla. (AP) — Mysterious male voices that have radioed false instructions to jet pilots could create "a very dangerous situation," although routine safeguards are designed to guard against such hoaxes, federal officials said Tuesday.

The latest "ghost voice" broadcast a false order to the pilot of a Delta Airlines jet when it was near Gainesville, Fla., on a flight from Tampa to Indianapolis on Saturday.

Five fake transmissions were radioed to pilots at Tampa International Airport in a three-day period in May, then stopped.

"It has got to be somebody on the lunatic fringe to do this — he's creating the potential for a very dangerous situation. Fortunately, these were caught in time," said Federal Aviation Administration spokesman Jack Barker in Atlanta.

The false flight instructions were intermanded before they caused any accidents or near-misses.

"Fortunately there are enough safeguards to catch the fake calls," said an FAA supervisor at the Jacksonville, Fla., tower. "It's routine for the pilot and the controller to repeat instructions to make sure they're understood. They acknowledge transmissions."

Barker said he had never before encountered someone trying to interfere with radio instructions to airline pilots. It is a federal crime punishable by five years in prison. The FAA, Federal Communications Commission and FBI are investigating.

Delta spokesman Dick Jones at the airline's Atlanta headquarters said the pilots were aware of the trouble. "Obviously, we are concerned about this thing. It could have an impact on the whole industry," Jones said.

HERB CAEN

YOU'VE READ about ships found adrift and deserted. Among the most mysterious of these was a schooner discovered in the mid-Atlantic in 1881 by the Ellen Austin, an American vessel. All was in order. Nothing was missing. The Ellen Austin's master put a crew aboard the abandoned ship and headed for port. A squall came up and separated them. The Ellen Austin finally found the ship again, only to see it was once more deserted, the crewmen missing. Another crew was persuaded to take her in. Another squall came up. This time the schooner simply disappeared. Nothing was ever heard again either from that final crew or the ship.

Once upon a time I found some beautiful and perfect scroll rocks in a gravel pit. They were heavy and black and dense and had fine yellow scroll/ornamental stuff on them. I gave them to Shaver...packed them carefully and they made one extraordinarily heavy small package. Took them to the post office and ran into a female hardcase (she kept telling me for five years that there was no such thing as special book mss. rates...she also told me a few times they didn't stock foreign exchange postage coupons since nobody wanted them...told her I did).

She plunked the box on the counter scales and it was too heavy for them. Offered to set it on the big floor scale for her and wuz informed that postal patrons were not allowed behind the counter--even though I usta be a mail orderly on a Navy LST. She hoveed and granted mightily and got it weighed. Told her it went first class and she said parcel post insured. About 20 minutes later, I won and it went 1st class. "What IS in that box??" she inquired peevishly. Of course, since you are also a writer, you know that when the mind has the writing habit, one comes up with things more often right when you need them instead of a month later. I had a juicy thought in a flash..."It's a war surplus atom bomb trigger", I said informatively and casually. "We don't have to know what is in 1st class mail", she said with a frozen puss.

Quite a bit later, the rocks still hadn't arrived in Arkansas. Were they being held up as evidence in a workmen's compensation case when a mail sorter got a hernia hefting them??? I got on the phone to DC--pushed a few panic buttons (atom is a magic push button word with ye establishment) and got ahold of ye postal inspektor. I had had some business with them a few years before over a phantom mail bag key. How to get through their input filter in a jiffy was easy--I just said they had an atomic incident fomenting somewhere between Chillicothe and Summit. When I got ahold of ye inner office, I explained wot had happend and offered the insight that atom bombs have detonators and no triggers, they had the opinion that the parcel was being held in Dallas. A couple of days later, it arrived in good shape at Shaver's pondoo. Forget how much of all that I related to him. He had had a big rumble years before with ye Post Office, about publishing health food advice. All of which is inadvisable to pub--it could afflict things like a 2nd class mailing permit. So, it is a rare event in my corry--a DMQ (Ed. note-- Bill has since given in and let me pub this story). (Also, your bumbling editor made a slip of the keys in Bill's last col: There def-

GIANTS IN THE EARTH - revised

by JIM WENTWORTH

"Revisions for the possible second printing of the book, Giants in the Earth", available from Palmer Publications, Amherst, Wisconsin."

The following to be inserted on page 117, second column, between 1st and 2nd paragraph:

This was at the Ypsilanti State Hospital in Michigan as a paranoid schizophrenic. The following quotes were taken from Search, Summer 1977, it is Palmer speaking:

"I had it first hand from the nurse who attended him, and was furnished hospital documents to substantiate it. Later, I found printed hospital stationery used by inmates to write letters, among Shaver's files which he opened to me. I never said anything to him about it, because I had made a sensational discovery, and didn't want him to clam up on me. He was providing me with great masses of scientific material which were not in any current textbook, and which I was comparing with another source (Cahspe) I had come across."

"I learned then that Shaver's condition in Ypsilanti had been catatonic. According to psychiatrists, he had removed himself from reality, living in a shadowy imaginary world in his own mind. He even had to be fed. All his adventures in the caves were in his own mind. So they said.

"He, Shaver, KNEW that the 8 years of his cavern experiences coincided with the 8 years of his incarceration at Ypsilanti. Even the hospital psychiatrists state that he was 'out of his mind' (that his body was there, but the personality was not)--it was somewhere in a different world which they could only call imaginary."

Editor note: Rich Shaver contested this claim of Palmer's. In an interview rebuttal in Caveat Eaptor, claimed to have spent only 2 weeks in the hospital for treatment of sunstroke. He said that RAP was being conned by the dero to discredit his material. We hope to reprint both the RAP interview, and RBS' rebuttal to it in a future issue...RRT.

Dear Rich,

I found Shavertron mag. a very good read. It's interesting how bitterly the sci-fi people oppose "amazing facts", Fortean, Shaverian science, etc. My own books (2 of them) were handled by Mrs Del Rey of Ballantine's, who told me she disliked the kind of books such as mine which she called "anti-scientific". Then I got a poor deal. My book, Natural Likeness... (reviewed in issue 4, Shavertron)... was withdrawn within a few days of publication, copies were sold to waste-paper dealer. I hope you will be able to do a book on Shaver and UUI's. It's an intriguing subject. Mary LeVesque sent me a wonderful Indian head from Wyoming, but I had no space to include it in the book. It was good to see your reproduction of Berringer's stones. Do you know that good book, "The Lying Stones of Dr. Berringer" by John Work? There are many anomalies in the modern explanation of fossils, also of rocking stones, erratic boulders, stone piles, etc. Fashions in geology change easily, so perhaps Shaver will be taken seriously one day.

Sincerely, John Michell
London

R-- I am dismayed, John, to find that the one book in recent years that gave Shaver a break (Natural Likeness) got tossed into the paper-shredder. I personally feel that it is a great book, on a most-ignored subject which should be important to every thinking person on this planet. The illustrations alone should have saved them from becoming particle board, but NO. You did a good job...more could not be asked of you. RSS was well acquainted with your problem...RRT.

Good Heavens-- It's hard to believe that a Shaver-theory oriented zine actually exists-- I do hope you keep it in the black-- its very hard to put such things out, as I can well appreciate.

To understand the problem of malific identities and their control requires some background in how the human being functions in relationship to other life forms around them. Most persons have the false assumption that other life forms think in a similar way to themselves. This is simply not true and causes great misunderstanding when trying to unravel some of the more exotic mysteries of this planet.

Exorcism and defense against any identity is very simple and complete when you can challenge them correctly. If your freedom of choice is being abridged you have the right of defense. The fact is, of course, that factions of domination on all dimensions have done a good job of keeping this fact with held. Without proper comprehension, people want to depend on others--whether ideologies, leaders or systems.

I send the Modern Humans Comp Courses all over the globe, and once the first two courses are comprehended, it answers about 80% of the questions pertaining to such mysteries as exist... you have bits and pieces of the truth in Shaver and others, but I haven't seen it all in one lump sum outside of the Corps.

Please enter me for 6 future issues of Shavertron.
Later, Al Fry

R--It's good to have a Modern Human on the S sub list, Al. If your Comp courses can answer the problem of the Shaver Mystery, it might be worth investigating. (Al has quite a book list of unique works, and other things of interest.) Here is his ad:

TAP total knowledge. Breakthrough data for stamp. Modern Humans, 22511-C Markham, Perris, CA. 92370

Dear Richard, Thank you for the sample copy of S. Overall, I was very impressed. Enclosed is a money order to cover back issues 2,3,4, 5.

The Ashtar and the Dero article was the most valuable bit of information in your newsletter. The Bible backs Ashtar's statements. When seen in this light, the Deros are the earthbound demons who fell from grace and torment man. The torments of Hell described by the Bible exist underneath our feet. RSS described them in his writings. The benevolent disc-flying saucer beings are the angels of the Bible. Their struggle with the malific forces are also described in Oahspe.

The annotated Allende Letters, many of HP Lovecraft's stories, HG Wells' Time Machine, the Bhagavad-Gita, Blavatsky's The Secret Doctrine, books I and II and Isis Unveiled, also detail this eternal struggle. Another aspect of the Bible which is hotly being disputed is the idea of "rapture" where God's chosen vanish from the Earth. I maintain this "rapture" has been going on for centuries and the annotations in the Allende Letters back me up. This might also be the answer behind the Bermuda and Devil's Triangle.

Ashtar is also on the mark about hollow earth entrances at the poles. Cigar shaped UFO's have been frequently sighted in both vicinities. UFO researchers like Bender and John Stuart, who have made this connection have been silenced or murdered, as have those who have experimented with anti-gravity and electro-magnetism. They are too close to the truth...but this is where UFO investigators must channel their efforts if they are to arrive at the truth. Not only do they face danger from Deros and VIB, but run the risk of being silenced by organizations on the surface whose heads have directly allied themselves with the forces of Erasmus in return for power and wealth. Groups like the Tri-Lateral Commission are proof.

Jason Royale, KS.

Dear Richard, On your (or someone's) piece about some author and "Ashtar": ray caused the mind to estimate this subject was good for the newsletter. NO, because "Ashtar" runs down Shaver's information "disproves it" to his fans, and makes the readers get to thinking Ashtar is good and Shaver then not too right, etc. Richard told me that this Ashtar bozo is a dero. From being a past expert of Spiritualists, I KNOW Ashtar is trusted 100% by these seance-suckers. He's a big-wig in such circles, and we know from Shaver that this faith is dero-run. Even the books on space contactees say to keep away from seances as they are negative. Take it from one who knows.

Yours, Henry Steele

R-- George Van Tassel would have disagreed with you, Henry, on the "seance" bit, but then again, Van Tassel was Ashtar's chief medium for years. Will any of you readers bear Henry out on this?? Did your humble editor goof again?..RRT

Dear Rich, In 1975, I heard a newscast about a plane crash near Mt. Weather, VA. Some newscaster that was broadcasting from the scene made the statement that he could not understand what all the govt.

men were doing at the crash site. He later came on the air again and stated that he had found out that the plane crashed right near the President's bomb shelter, under Mt. Weather. Needless to say, I never saw that newscaster again, but it stood to reason that there would be a tunnel extending from Washington, DC to Mt. Weather.

To add further to this adventure, it seems that our govt. is seriously considering moving the White House to Hutchinson, Kansas. Now Hutchinson is built over an area of large quantities of salt and already vast caverns have been dug out of the salt and are used for storage vaults to preserve a number of things for a number of people. The movie industry stores a great deal of film there, as salt keeps things dry and preserves them. It seems strange that this is the place where they are considering putting the new White House. I also heard from a couple of sources that there are tunnels leading from NORAD in Colorado to Kansas and perhaps all the way to Wash. DC at this time, as I heard the story quite some time ago and their ultimate objective was from Norad to DC. The PLOT THICKENS!!

Vary LeVesque

Dear Mr Toronto, I'm sorry to say that I threw away an interesting item I would have liked to see pubbed in Shavertron. It was from the Purdue University Exponent and sounds like there is a static variety of Deros in Lafayette, Indiana. They pubbed a letter from a student who said "There are men who walk the tunnels beneath Purdue"...and maintained that certain forms of activity were spreading across campus.

I was immediately reminded of the Shaver Mystery, but had no one at the time to communicate it with. This was 3 years ago. Dero activity would be even more advanced now...only yesterday the power went off over the city and they attributed it to a bird landing on a fuse box. I think some people here call them "Disorgs". You can publish this news item if you want, or use it in the letter column, but without my name. I hope you do. I think Lafayette should be known for its Deros.

R-- Phew! Shades of Shaver! "Disorgs" is a very descriptive word for deros. I'll have to remember that one. Thanks. Readers near Lafayette, take notice...RRT.

Dear Richard, In your Winter, 1980 issue, page two, you mentioned your experiments with infrared film, and photographing the invisible. Why not tell us readers more about this subject, as it appears to be timely.

The Philadelphia Experiment: Project Invisibility, is a book about a ship that disappeared (became invisible) in the Phila. Navy yard in WWII, during tests to make it radar-proof.

This past week, ABC-tv news told of a new US plane that will be coated with a substance that will make the plane invisible to enemy radar.

Unlike the Navy ship which became totally invisible the plane will be seen with the naked eye, but not by radar.

There are many who believe the US Navy continued the 1943 experiments (in which Dr Einstein was involved) and have perfected just such a technique that can be used in time of war. Perhaps there are others out there who can shed some light on the Invisible factor?

Regardless, we'd like to hear of the Toronto experiments. How about it?

Best, Geo. Wunder

R--Aw gee-whiz, George, you wanna see those weird little pix I took out behind the cemetery... (doing my Jimmy Stewart imitation here).

No, actually, there are plans in the works here at S headquarters for pubbing a collaborative article by myself and Charles Marcoux...I supply the pix, and Charles will interpret them. Mr. Marcoux has been photographing the invisible for almost 40 years... (make note of his address in the editorial). His book is full of his work. Don't know how well these pix will half-tone, though. We'll have to experiment at the printer's.

This Hoax A Bare Fact

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI) — A woman who stripped down to her underwear and walked through a shopping mall told authorities she was following instructions from a man identifying himself as a local disc jockey.

Police said Tuesday the unidentified woman, who had been promised prizes she thought were worth the embarrassment, was the victim of a hoax.

The woman, wearing only a bra and panties and pushing a stroller with a baby in it, was stopped by a security guard as she walked through the mall Monday.

The woman was told by a male caller posing as a disc jockey, if she would wear only her underwear while walking through the shopping mall, she would win a $16,000-a-year job at the station, $10,000 in cash, a car, a moped bike and $1,000 for each of her children, officers said.

New Pyramid Found

CAIRO, Egypt (UPI) — Archeologists have discovered a new pyramid buried beneath the sands of the Saqqara desert south of Cairo dating back to the year 2560 B.C., the newspaper Al Akhbar said today.

The newspaper said diggers have uncovered 65 feet of the pyramid, which appears to have been constructed on a 60-square-yard base. The discovery was made by a Czech archeological mission, but confirmation was not available from Egyptian authorities.

The newly-discovered pyramid was said to date to the Egyptian fifth dynasty, which would make it younger than the famous Step Pyramid of the third century Pharaoh Zoser, also located in the antiquity-rich Saqqara desert 15 miles southwest of Cairo.

The Step Pyramid is considered by archeologists to be the first important stone structure in Egypt and the forerunner of the great pyramids at Giza.

The substructure of the Step Pyramid has an elaborate system of underground passages and rooms, with a burial chamber 81 feet below ground reachable only by way of a slanting shaft carved out of rock.

There was no indication whether the archeologists suspected the new pyramid covered underground vaults, nor whether the structure was built for a king or lesser royalty. 11-13-80

Know a rhyme that cheers and amuses? In time, you'll come to one which fools and amuses. Here is a Mystery to solve-- so what can you deduce, my friend, what can you evolve?

They dance on my shoulder, they dance on my head, when I grow older, They grow younger instead. Noisy as a fife and drum, from out of nowhere they come/ What are they, can I be so dumb?

They dance on my shoulder, they dance on my head, when I grow older, They grow younger instead. Strange appealing phantoms these, They steal into my room with ease-- can They be real entities?

They dance on my shoulder, They dance on my head, when I grow older, They grow younger instead. At the end of my wits, They fairly give me fits-- when one stands, the other one sits.

They dance on my shoulder, They dance on my head, when I grow older, They grow younger instead.

A Mysterious 'Dinosaur' Lurks In Congo Swamp

Chicago

An elephant-sized animal with claws, a long neck and tail seen in the swampy jungles of western Africa may be a dinosaur, an expert on "hidden animals" said yesterday.

Scientist Roy Mackal of the University of Chicago said inhabitants of a remote section of the Congo call the swamp-dwelling beast "Mokele-Mbembe." They describe it as 15 to 30 feet long with large, clawed feet and lengthy neck and tail.

"We don't know exactly what it is we're talking about," Mackal said. "A small dinosaur fits the picture. But we hesitate to claim that. You can make an equally good case for a large monitor lizard."

Mackal, author of a book on "hidden animals," has spent more than a decade searching for Scotland's legendary Loch Ness monster.

He and James Powell, a herpetologist living in Plainview, Texas, spent February traveling through swampy jungles in a largely unmapped area asking the inhabitants about "Mokele-Mbembe." They plan to return next August.

Mackal and Powell did not see any of the creatures, but the natives told them the animals have smooth, brownish-gray skin, a long and flexible neck, a very long tail and three-clawed feet as big as frying pans.

"We would show them picture books of normal animals — buffalo, elephants — and they would identify them. We would also show them pictures of reconstructions of extinct animals. When they saw a picture of the brontosaurus, or of any of the sauropods, they pointed at it and called it 'Mokele-Mbembe.'

"The response cut across all ethnic, geographic, cultural and educational lines. We admit we're biased by the consistency of the description — we think it's a real animal rather than a bogey man type of thing."

The brontosaurus and other dinosaurs are believed to have died out 70 million years ago.

Science 80 Magazine, published by the American Association for the Advancement of Science, said in an article printed yesterday that the creatures reportedly feed on the nutlike fruit of a riverbank plant and keep to deep pools and submerged caves in the area.

Mackal said there have been reports on the creatures for two centuries and the best came in 1959, when pygmies allegedly killed one that was disturbing their fishing on Lake Tele. He and Powell have offered a reward for any bones from that animal.

The two researchers hope to return to the Congo next August 1, at the start of the rainy season, and take their equipment into the remote area in dugouts to set up a base camp for the search.

Deros Con History

BY HENRY M. STEELE

I shall write this article as if the reader knows just as much about the deros as I. All statements are not opinions but factual. Mr. Shaver told me I could comprehend the truth of his stories better than anyone; that I understood the dero set-up all too well -- their mental ray control on surface people also. From personal experience before & since I visited Mr. Shaver for a few weeks at Summit, Ark. I KNOW the mech cavern culture & related aspects are VERY true. Other articles by me gave some sources backing up myself & Mr. Shaver. No need to restate them -- agents Major Wayne Aho, Dick Williams, Rickey Gillispie, & non-govt. Leo Didway, the Indian...

DERO-HISTORY via their mental ray control is still going on. Anyone who has truths to advance surface-man is harmed socially by dero ray on others he contacts with letters, meetings, articles, books, etc. Degenerate-ray is causing this same deal for me & has done so for over ten years now. Ray causes you to be ignored so no action is taken by various leaders to advance civilization. Mr. Shaver explained how the dero communication system worked in a volume. You know details -- similar to action taken by a ganster organization up here as far as expertise goes. They phone quickly to various cities to inform members about someone who is to be "stopped" when he shows up. Another mental ray approach done thru history is to put thoughts into the minds of those leaders who can assist the fellow, to consider him just abit nutty, & his specific discoveries impossible for anyone to come across! The type of people who can get action in this kind of society we have are called "The Professional Class". Such "folks" are those having some sort of title before their names: Senator, President, Lawyer, Professor, Rev., Bishop, Mayor, City-Father & Fuhrer (opps, sorry about that). Leading businessmen are a part of this set-up too. All have an aversion toward entirely new science -- my dad's only defect.

ALL THROUGH HISTORY dero cavern mental ray on The Professional Class has assisted them to disregard almost all inventions & discoveries. Such discoveries are lost to civilization by these non-experts! This historical fact is known to scholars -- has been for generations but without knowing the cause mainly is degenerate-ray thoughts & not their own. We were taught this negative-reaction to new science in grade school in the 1930s -- from an university-study. Our sweetie-teacher explained that the great majority of citizens having inventions or discoveries they came across were ignored & thought little-of by the above type of people. The experts grew old, staying poor, & died with everyone loosing out! A low percentage of these fine self-made experts were paid attention to, she said, but not until many yrs. passed & they became old. All their science proved out factual in all cases Mr. Shaver gave the explanation (the main one): The deros, in time, get tired of their vile "trick" on all concerned & just stop the ray. Both the scatter-ray & specific-ray thoughts are used. Used on the-know-it-alls.

In my case, however, as I know of the deros, they will never let up; I'm, in dero's eyes, liable to talk to leaders about them. Also liable to relate certain truths to govt. & church taught me by The Space Travelers when a wee child in the 1930s. Deros & these Space Travelers don't ever want such people to even start considering my data just might be true & theirs wrong! No, I'm not a public-type contactee who's oened into the faked mystical!

I didn't experience anything awake. Mr. Shaver said I received communication-ray from their ship. When its done while you're asleep it seems like a type of dream. After my last mech-"dream" I had a quick impulse to look skyward & saw what we call today a scout craft zip along & bank. I was near a golf course our mother had taken us to. A silver dollar size; it banked & I saw part of its dome. A beautiful yellow-gold craft. I knew the score. Never said a word to anyone, knowing they were too stupid to trust me about such a thing, & my mech-"dreams" thru space-on planets, & the teachings. Years later I read of some of the same teachings in Mr. Shaver's volumes! "Ol' Sol" is in the worst catagory of all sun-star types -- its bad old yellow color denotes this. It throws out bad energies causing aging far too soon, etc. just as Mr. Shaver explained. My Space Travelers treated me as one of them pretty much. We'd con leaders of lower-evolved populations (& their masses) with our - their - act about the mystical being true -- best & only way (only?) to control their minds & actions. Ray from our craft on their heads helped alot. Earth leaders got this act too. People here have real weak brains - brain-power - they taught & showed me. Their prophets also are actors. The gods of ancient times were actors & this con-game goes on. They know people here can't reason thru anything correctly--- & always arrive at the opposite conclusion from the normal-way they would. Remember, schools still teach most of us nowadays are part Neanderthal; this ALSO "helps". Note: While there is a clear MOTIVE to lie about the mystical being factual to some political leaders, & church "rulers", there is NO motive to BOTHER lieing to a wee child!!! Why would they BOTHER?? They are busy doing things all the time. Via science they never age & don't need any religious moral rules to think or act by. NOTE: Bible states some Earth leader wanted his tribal-God to make up moral rules for Earth-man to abide by. This kind of request was a complete surprise to his God! He & his angels never needed any rule-book of morals; brains different. No crimes.

Remember Mr. Shaver writing a dero coned Samson with the strength-thru-long-hair story? Well, in some paperback buried someplace that's on ancient astronauts, it states Jewish-Hebrew history says Samson's tribe was backed by Yawah, the Mt. Sini Tribal-God & that Samson's tribe was an OUT-LAW tribe!! These degenerates would come out of the hills, rob the camel carivans of silver, gold & coinage, kill the guards & carry off women!! This tribe's religious leader put down how great (to them) the tribe was & how great their specific-God was -- on his say-so!! That all the good Jews & Gentiles living in cities & having caravans (no big trucks back then) were really the Bad Sinful Jews & Gentiles! I'm for the non-bigoted Jewish-Hebrew city historians! We reside today in such city-cultures plus the technical advancements called science. (So, we're all going to Hell, eh?). Sad.

MECH-MADE HISTORY: It runs religions; all faiths started as mystical cults T V harped. If you Shaver fans really desire my cancer & de-aging cure & information you'll have to go against ray-thoughts, feelings etc. & contact govt.-church leaders. I've tried for years but ray runs their minds just as Mr. Shaver wrote, & also told me. Ego helps too. Helps make them consider we're all dull-witted. A nation of dull-wits, eh? Why do these Professional Class People desire ruling such dull citizens?? Ray control does it. Some get told that if they lead a life of alot of public-action in governing others, it leads to their next life (reincarnation) being among Earth's Hollow Earth people as a plain citizen. They follow their "dreams"; such non-scientific brains CAN'T figure its mental ray control on their heads & that lies are put in they can't check out!! They mentally are fit for just The Stone Age level; none can invent or discover anymore than an ape (no science-desires either -- to start off). But they can carry a spear back guarintees mean nothing to them! Nothing wrong with the stone age cultures if you don't mind missing science. Scientists hate the stone age I was school-taught in the '30a, & know they're alot smarter than govt.

The first place my Space Travelers flew me was ----- over the ice of the so-called south pole & into the gigantic hole to the earth's "Inner Lands". I was amazed to see a small sun, hills, farms, small cities, etc. They showed me how they coned the cities' leaders & people with the mystical faith; pretending they were the ancient gods (a-la Greek type) worked just great! What an act! Ship (mech) ray beamed on their heads helped even better. I was considered one of the ship-people too; we didn't really care to be thought of as gods as this wasn't our real nature. Later we flew into other globe's "Inner Lands"; such populations were always trusting this con-deal. I was with the two highest evolved types of Space People; these possessed the strongest brain-functions -- much better in brain development too, & different sometimes in their thought-process. I was sure glad to observe this type of thought was a peaceful thought-process, per chance! The only thing about us they are very discussed about is the ultra-stupid way we reason thru anything; not only is it done wrong but conclusions are the OPPOSITE from the right way!!! This too is no lie. Getting a high-paying position comes from having high grades, right? But one uses the memorizing & memory parts of the brain for this -- not the reasoning-area! Would you like a tie-in here? Well, we were taught in that grade school from a university study that almost all people have fine retention & think fast but don't possess good reasoning. On very rare occasion someone has trouble retaining data (so lower school grades a-la Thomas Edison) & thinks slower. But this type reasons very good. On super-rare occasion comes along a person who can do both ways great she said. Space Travelers told me I could reason fine; correctly thru subjects. The only earth person doing so. I couldn't believe this & I asked them did they really mean it; they assured me they did. It was this factor, they explained, that I was selected for such trips & teachings. Also my mind (brain) was a good bit closer to theirs in likeness, in evolvment, than anyone else here, thus I could take their lessons. NOTE: The con-artist won't say such things as they are extremely hard to believe. I know there are other correct-reasoning people here. But maybe they couldn't take the specific lessons given me?? I was shown a mech cavern with good people attending the large devices; back then I wasn't told the words Mr. Shaver used -- only vital stuff for lessons. They sure knew how to teach! I sent a long manuscript to our editor detailing everything I was shown, taught & experienced in these extremely vivid, colorful & clear mech-"dreams" which he'll put into future issues of your newsletter. I mentioned the above here as it shows the fact we have Our History ray-controlled by these ship ones too! Oh yes, for you fans I wish to say that the Tero-cavern I was shown was a Tero-"have" one: plenty of strange very large devices. Guess what color they were? --- PINK! This color caused the cave to look brighter for the people I saw. Note: Our experts harp pink makes the mind relaxed, peaceful & contented & happy. How smart can Teros get? These Teros were alot stronger in their brain-function than surface people. "My" Teros shown were about half-way up to the Space Traveler's brain-power, fans. The Travelers give them (not us) help when its vital! Evolution the factor. You shall learn all about this & the other things. NOTE: I was not told to go out & "preach" my anti-mystical information, & other data like those coned-contactees were & are! They are firmly instructed to spread the word of the mystical. They are selected for their gullibility, as explained in my full story. Sad: Listen to this fans: Over a year ago I caught the end of a T V news clip. Some Wash., D.C. senator was being interviewed - rayed to not recall his name - well-known in Texas. Right at the film's end he harps, "God told me to become a senator."!! You've no idea just how GULLIBLE this fellow acted-sounded; I did not know he was a senator until I heard this about him. Note how easy for businessmen to fool this type senator! God telling him? Its deros, right fans? Mr. Shaver said so. Listen, this means all important elections are ray-controlled; folks made to "feel", "muse" & whatever, that certain senators - anyone - well, you know. Also, he appoints via mental ray! Mr. Shaver clearly stated in his writings the deros greatly desire money to be kept in the hands of the few, to make the masses' life hard & to control the money. Note there is only so much mech for specific mind-control, & thus it can just handle a relatively few leaders. Notice the papers say the real wealthy are pulling away from plain citizens in wealth; they make even higher profits while the masses make less & the govt. thinks "everything's fine". My dad was a wealthy Chicago businessman decades ago & associated with other businessmen for many years. At least twice when a child dad told me that next-to-all of them were coniving, cheating, lying, etc. all the time. That the people never catch on! Who comes from the people? Why, the top elected officials who consider these con-artists as "real good businessmen -- upstanding!" I've read this as well; a wee bit gets out. As a little child I'd over-hear them talking. They consider elected fellows stupid. Prices get raised on purpose by them -- slow enough so no one catches on; it started in the '30s when a doz. of eggs cost 6¢. They just lie to news men, harping they can't figure out how to stop the price rise. Easy for them, as they realize everyone trusts them like good little commies! I heard them talk about all this anti-citizen stuff. Deros harp they like such brain-types & ray them nice. Some of these businessmen are deros Mr. Shaver said, & wrote it too. Deros come from space also -- all together for collecting money & power; their mental-ray protects their operations, legally -- making judges think the ray-way, & others. Seen this!! My mech-"dreams" showed black space ships waring with "my people" so I know Mr. Shaver's correct on this aspect also, & he realized I got it right. "Ancient Astronauts" & "Official UFO" (same pub.) long ago had two ~~articles on top gansters being seen by witnesses, on record, coming down~~

RIGHT HERE deros cause the typer ~~to~~ goof up & from personal experience I know its hopeless to try to do anything over, fans! NOTE I was typing on gansters!! To make this typer print out well for you to read it I have to type over each line & you see how the ray moved the paper on this subject. Then they make you miss a line to take up space needed. And they know you will use up space to explain the whole thing for fans who can't believe too well ALL ray can do! ~~By~~ Trying to re-type the page is hopeless as ray ~~can~~ will cause more goof ups & a nite will pass & nothing gets done for you! I shall try again: GANSTERS -- articles on top gansters, on record, coming down at nite in some city vacent lot via egg-shaped craft!! The rayed reporters couldn't think much of their witnesses statements. No one paid any attention to these named witnesses! THEY saw the ships & men get out in ganster-suits! Note my discoveries get ignored too. Nobody helps via ray. NAMED IN TWO ARTICLES WERE "DOUCH SCHOLTS" (spl.?) & "LEGG'S DIMOND"!!! Note this second leader was always bragging he could never get shot; when the deros got tired of watching & filming him (Mr. Shaver's data) they stopped the ray & then the minds of opponents wern't "confused" about shooting him anymore. Cur-deros showed me, via scenes & entire thought-patterns that the same thing was done on the govt's. man, Eliot Ness. Very clear "moving pictures" depicting the "hero" as the actor we've seen on that T V series yrs. back .... Robert Stack, so I'd know what the deal was. Ray protected Ness via same "confusion" so films could be made by deros; then ray gets tired, turns off (scatter-ray on his area) & thus gansters get to think of killing him, & do in real life, as some of us have read. Deros desired him going around killing gansters for awhile -- the crazies. Later gansters were allowed clear thoughts about getting him & so they soon did. Mr. Shaver wrote deros love to film REAL wars & view them as we moo over Hollywood-made wars, so real-wars get created & stupid govts. never get wise. SAD. Recently deros harped they approve of the coniving businessman-brain workings, & crime brains too & stem them up to do fine, & con govt. elected leaders. I've seen just how everyone "jumps up & minds" real rich bozos as a child. Real artificial to a child's mind! Kids arn't rayed mentally, fans. Mr. Shaver's data explaines fully.
