TALES OF ENCHANTMENT

This column is dedicated to relating true stories of things that happen here and around this area of Tampa Bay, Florida. The names will be changed to protect the identity of people who prefer it that way.

In a few minutes I am going to be meeting with a gentleman from Louisville, KY whom I have never met before, but with whom I've spoken on the phone a few times. He got my name from another Mensa SIG he subscribes to and decided to look me up because he figured that we have some common interests -- parapsychology being one of them. As I thought about his upcoming visit the other day, I tried to get a mental picture of him in my mind. I picture him with sandy blondish hair, blue eyes, slender but healthy in build, about 6'1" tall, and perhaps with a mustache. He has gentle eyes, a warm smile and a firm handshake. His work has something to do with engineering or computers. (The preceeding is all "psychically generated" info.) What I DO know about this man is his age: 41; his marital status: soon to be divorced I believe he said; that he sometimes travels for business; that he is turned off by a lot of the Mensans he meets in his area; and that he is a Witch albeit not currently a practicing one. It will be interesting to see, what, if any, of my psychic impressions about him are accurate. There's the doorbell now . . .

. . . It has been a little over 26 hours since my doorbell rang. Jay has come and gone. It was a very enjoyable, although too brief, visit, since he was only here for about 4 hours and I was just starting to "pick his brain"! I was wrong about his hair. It is light brown, and he has a matching beard to go with his mustache. I also missed his height by an inch -- he's only 6 feet tall. But I was right on everything else! He works in engineering AND with computers. I didn't really understand his job description but that was because my mind was busily racing through all of the questions I wanted to ask him in what I figured would be too brief a time.

It is really a pleasant experience for me to meet SIG members from other areas. I love sitting and talking and sharing experiences and beliefs in this fascinating subject. I love knowing that I have friends with common interests all over the country. I was pleased to see that I had been able to "tune in" to Jay somewhat. It was funny because, when he first arrived I looked him over real well, mentally checking off what I had been typing about him. Then I took him into my den where my computer setup is and let him read what I had just finished. I said to him that I wish there was a way I could prove that little experiment for people such as skeptical Gary Posner, a local SIG member who believes in nothing, and others like him. But, the only one who knows about what I did as I did it was my guest, and of course the skeptics would not dream of taking his word as evidence! But, we were both amused.

You will notice references throughout this issue that I am planning to move. I have to sell my house this year in order to "settle up" with my ex-husband (Florida is sort of a community property state, even though it doesn't claim to be!), so a move IS imminent. I don't know how long it'll take to get it sold after I list it, so I don't really have any definite time schedule, but I expect that I will have left Florida before late Fall. I don't yet know where I'm going! I'm using psychic guidance on this move as I feel it is time for me to do this. My friends not involved in parapsychological-type thought processes probably think I'm nuts, but hopefully most of you know what I mean when I say I HAVE TO LEAVE. It would be easier if I knew where I was going, whether I'm to go alone or with someone, or what exactly is THE right move for me at this time of my life. Gee, maybe I should just get myself an RV and come and look all of you up! What do you say to that idea? What a trip that would be!

Seriously though, any input you would like to give me is welcome. I intend to continue the SIG from my new location, wherever it is! © 1988 Carole J. Rockwell

THE TAMULET is the bi-monthly publication of the Parapsychology SIG, (PPSY SIG), Social Interest Group of American Mensa. SUBMISSIONS of articles of interest to the field of parapsychology, letters, artwork, "how to" instructions, etc. are encouraged, and should be sent to the editor for typing. DEADLINE FOR PUBLICATION IS THE 15TH DAY OF EACH ODD MONTH.

REPRINTING

All material in this issue not copyrighted by others may be freely reprinted in Mensa publications provided full credit is given to the author or artist and to this publication. Requests for permission to reprint copyrighted material should be addressed to the individual author or artist or may be sent c/o Editor.

MEMBERSHIP DUES

Our Parapsychology SIG dues, which include a subscription to the newsletter, shall be assessed as follows:

$6.00 per year for Mensan* member & household

$7.00 per year for Associate member & household

This entitles the member/household to six issues of THE TAMULET, with one copy per issue being mailed to each member household.

As with all local Mensa meetings, there will be a $1.00 PER PERSON KITTY collected at the SIG meetings to help defray the cost of snacks and drinks. Your cooperation is necessary and appreciated.

*PLEASE NOTE: Formal membership is limited to Mensans per official policy of American Mensa, Ltd. Non-Mensans are welcomed to join our SIG as non-voting Associates.

OUR TAMULET LOGO

Our logo was designed by Eloise Riley Hurst, a Tampa member of our SIG. The following meanings, as defined in A Witch's Grimoire of Ancient Omens, Portents, Talismans, Amulets, and Charms, by Gavin and Yvonne Frost, Parker Publishing, 1979, are given for the various parts of the logo:

= Motion

= Growth

= Healing

= Love/Happiness

Additionally, the idea for the name of this newsletter came from the same book.

SATELLITE SIG MEETINGS

Several of you have written to me that you wish you could attend our SIG meetings. Of course, you are most welcome to do so if you happen to be in the area when one is held. But better yet, why not get a group together of your own? Usually all that is necessary is to ask around. Show them our publication and schedule a planning meeting. Ask for topics and speakers. That is how this SIG got started in 1982! I shall publish articles and reports as submitted.

"I who am the beauty of the green earth and the white moon among the stars and the mysteries of the waters, I call upon your soul to arise and come unto me. For I am the soul of nature that gives life to the universe. From Me all things proceed and unto Me they must return. Let My worship be in the heart that rejoices, for behold -- all acts of love and pleasure are My rituals. Let there be beauty and strength, power and compassion, honor and humility, mirth and reverence within you. And you who seek to know Me, know that your seeking and yearning will avail you not, unless you know the Mystery: for if that which you seek, you find not within yourself, you will never find it without. For behold, I have been with you from the beginning, and I am that which is attained at the end of desire."

JUNE MEETING / JUNE MEETING

June 3 - Friday - 8:00 PM

Our PPSV SIG meeting this month is presented by Fred Wright on the RADIANCE TECHNIQUE, formerly known as Reiki Healing. This is not a subject I am familiar enough with to describe, but as I recall, it has to do with visualization and increase of cosmic healing energies coming from one's fingertips, much like you might picture the effect of a rheostat on a chandelier as you slowly increase the power from minimum to maximum.

Our hostess this evening is new member Rita Miller. She lives at 5871-G Lynn Lake Drive South and her phone is 864-3701. She is located in LYNN LAKE ARMS APTS. Take either US 19 or I-275 to 54 Ave. So. Go East past Albertsons & Timberlake Apts to Lynn Lake Arms. Turn right (South) at Lynn Lake. Turn right at guard house & follow road around bearing left to Bldg 5871. We'll be in Apartment G. NORMAL $1 KITTY & HOUSE RULES APPLY RE: SMOKING. RSVP TO CAROLE AT 823-8343 BY 10 PM THURSDAY.

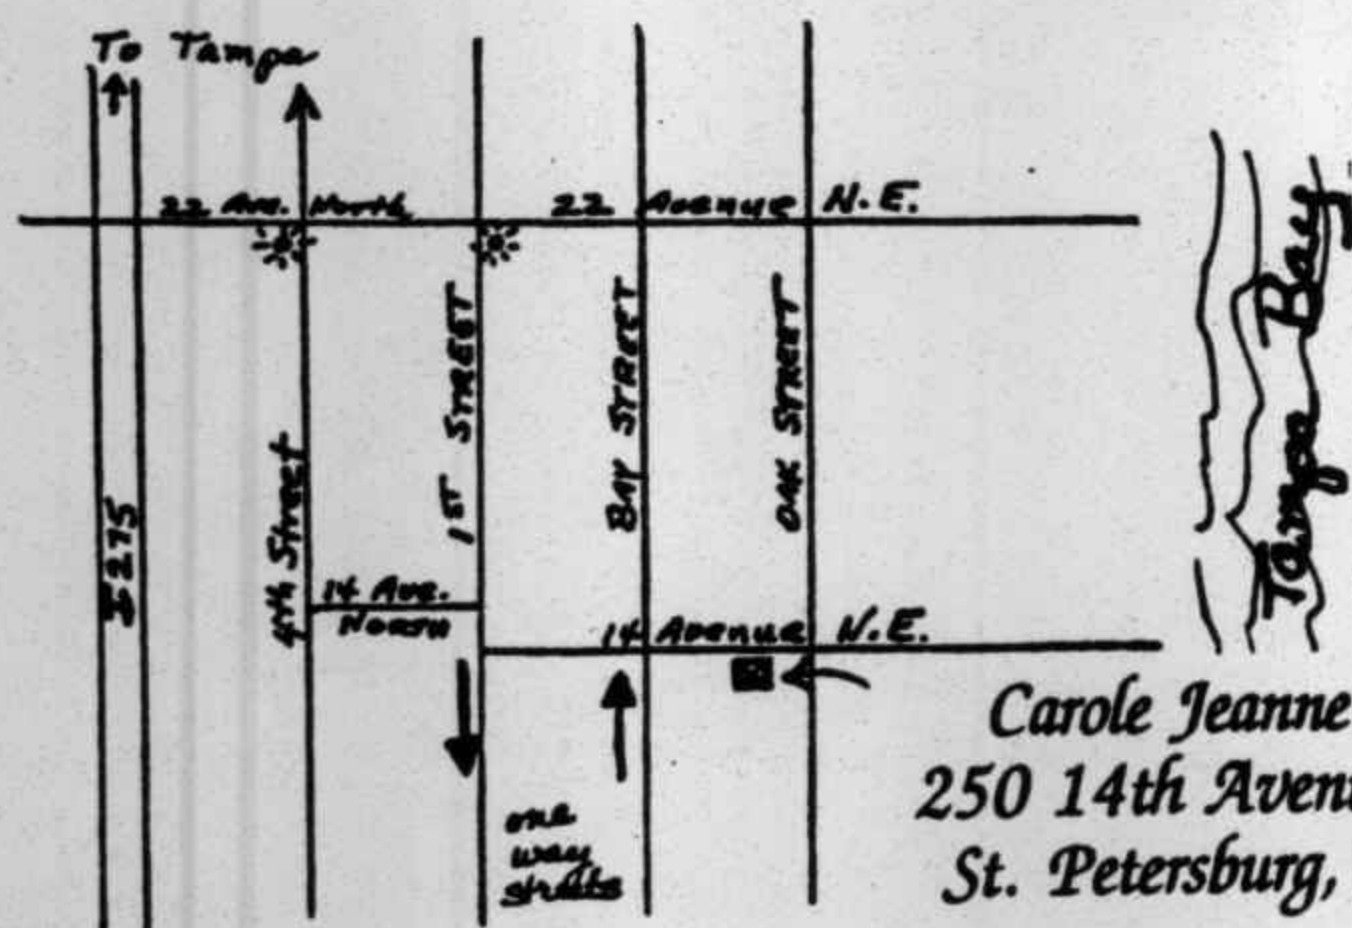

JULY MEETING / JULY MEETING

July 8 - Friday - 8:00 PM

Our topic tonight will be LIFE AFTER DEATH and it will be in the form of a Roundtable Discussion facilitated by member Sam Henson. One of the age old questions of life since humanity has existed is what happens when we die. Is that all there is? And if so, why did we bother to exist? There are as many answers to this question as there are different religious (and non-religious) beliefs. Come out tonight and share YOUR answer with us. This is to be a discussion of and sharing of possibilities . . . not a religious debate.

We'll be meeting at my home at 250 14th Ave NE, St. Pete, phone 823-8343. PLEASE RSVP BY THURSDAY, JULY 7! I don't have air conditioning, but do have ceiling (et al) fans so dress accordingly. NORMAL $1 KITTY & HOUSE RULES APPLY RE: SMOKING ON PORCH ONLY.

PARAPSYCHOLOGY SIG HELPERS NEEDED!

YOUR HELP IS URGENTLY NEEDED if you are interested in this SIG and live in the Tampa Bay Area. I am now trying to delegate some responsibility for local meetings and newsletter production. I have been doing most of the work myself since the inception of this group. Since I am going to be moving this year, it is necessary for me to have some help if you want to keep the SIG operating on a local level insofar as having regular meetings like we've done for the last six years.

Diana Peradotti (381-5284) has graciously accepted the position of Programs Coordinator and will be responsible for scheduling the speakers for our upcoming meetings. Sam Henson (384-0747) is currently assisting her in this endeavor. What we need now are the following:

(1) Volunteers to host the meetings in the upcoming months -- preferably those with air conditioning in the summer months. You will be responsible for buying the snacks and drinks and will be reimbursed at $1 per person by the Kitty collected at the meeting. Please contact Diana or Sam to volunteer to host a meeting.

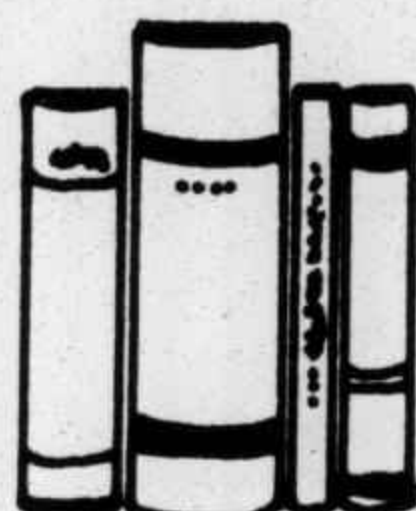

(2) Volunteers to work with me one evening bi-monthly for a couple of hours to collate, staple, fold, staple again, label, stamp and mail THE TAMULET. This activity normally occurs at 7 PM on the Monday PRECEEDING our Friday meeting, on every ODD month. Please contact Carole Rockwell to help (823-8343).

(3) A Membership Officer to greet people as they arrive at our meetings, encourage them to put their $1 in the KITTY as they enter, and check on their membership status, i.e., whether they are SIG members or a guest, and encourage repeating guests to join the SIG and pay the $6 dues. Regrettably, we have local people who are repeat guests at our meetings, help themselves to the newsletter, and have never bothered to pay the dues to join. This is not fair to the rest of the membership. The minimal dues subsidize the production and mailing of this publication. All work is done on a volunteer basis.

SHOW THAT YOU CARE ABOUT YOUR SIG AND VOLUNTEER NOW TO SMOOTH THE TRANSITION!

READING THE RUNES

This column provides an overview of parapsychological literature. Not all of the books reviewed will be currently in print. This does not mean that they are unavailable however. If a book that has been reviewed interests you, begin searching for it by contacting your local library or bookstore. Either of these sources should own an annual publication called Books In Print. If it is listed in the current edition of this reference work, it is probably in print and obtainable through any bookstore that has it in stock or is willing to order it from the publisher. If the book is not in print, a library in your area may have a copy you can read. If the book is not in the collection of a library where you have check out privileges, they may still be able to obtain a copy for you through interlibrary loan. Ask the librarian for details. It is also possible to buy out of print books. If the book is recently out of print, call the publisher and ask if they still have any copies available for sale. Also, check with any used or antiquarian book dealers in your area. Many of these dealers provide search services for out of print books at little or no charge. Mail order services, such as Publishers Central Bureau, often carry out of print overstocks which they have purchased from the publishers. If you reach a dead-end on searching for a book, or have any other questions, write me:

Swann, Ingo. Natural ESP: The ESP Core and Its Raw Characteristics. New York: Bantam Books, 1987. 216 pages. $8.95.

The book outlines the author's theory that everyone has a potential for ESP ability, the ESP core, which can be developed. The aspect that most separates Swann's method of ESP development from others is his reliance on drawing a response rather than verbalizing it. Instructions on how to develop your own core potential are provided.

The instructions are detailed and clear. Illustrations of response drawings aid in learning to interpret the closeness of your own responses. I recommend the book for anyone working on ESP development.

Ingo Swann is an artist and psychic. He has worked with parapsychological researchers for many years to develop the methodology for "remote viewing" research.

Herbert, James. The Magic Cottage. New York: New American Library, 1986. 325 pages. $17.95.

The story of Mike Stringer, Midge Gudgeon, and their rural cottage, Gramarye, near Cantrip, England. Through the forces that permeate their newly purchased retreat, the couple learn that magic is a potent neutral power which can be used for good or evil at the discretion of those who control it. As the couple grope to understand the forces at work in Gramarye and use them for good, the inevitable villains move in to use Gramarye's forces for their own evil purposes.

While it held a few suspenseful moments, overall this novel left me dissatisfied. For instance, after having shown an aptitude for utilizing magical or earthforce power at Gramarye, why was Mike unable to tap into this same force elsewhere? The author's explanation that Gramarye was a unique channel for this force is too pat. Why wasn't Midge, an artist possessing some psychic abilities before moving to Gramarye, able to use the forces there at all? The author doesn't make any serious attempt to explain that one.

James Herbert is a British novelist who specializes in horror.

Burkholz, Herbert. The Sensitives. New York: Atheneum, 1987. 278 pgs. $18.95.

This suspense novel centers around telepaths that are used by the world's intelligence services. It is told from the viewpoint of one of the US telepaths, Ben Slade.

It is an excellent spy story, full of action, suspense, romance, tragedy, and triumph. The psychic abilities of the main characters add a dimension to the story that sets it apart from other stories of this ilk.

Herbert Burkholz is a professional author.

MENSA BULLETIN September 1985

Talbot, Michael. Your Past Lives: A Reincarnation Handbook. New York: Harmony Books, 1987. 195 pages. $16.95.

The author describes several techniques for enhancing past life recall. He separates the techniques into ones for working alone, with another person, or with a professional therapist.

This book is the most thorough guide for past life regression that I have encountered. It includes explanations of the resonance method, dreaming techniques, meditation techniques, self-hypnosis techniques, guided meditations, the active imagination technique, and methods of working with a professional therapist, psychic or other metaphysical source. The techniques are explained step-by-step, beginning with the fundamentals. There is, for example, an excellent explanation of how to meditate which could be easily understood by a novice.

Michael Talbot is a professional author. Through the use of the techniques described in his book, he claims to have recalled twenty past lives.

Thurston, Mark. Paradox of Power: Balancing Personal Power and Higher Will. Virginia Beach, VA: A.R.E. Press, 1987. 208 pages. $9.95 paperback.

This book defines the personal will and its interaction with the higher will. Instructions on how to develop your personal will and attune to the higher universal will are given.

This is a practical, comprehensible guide to philosophical and spiritual development. The instructions in the developmental exercises are easy to understand and follow. Exercises are given for individual, as well as group work. This is a well-rounded work of value to anyone interested in spiritual growth.

Mark Thurston, Ph.D., is Director of Educational Development for the Association for Research and Development. He has been actively involved in the study and application of Edgar Cayce's psychic readings since 1967.

The Illustrated Guide to the Supernatural. Boston, MA: G. K. Hall, 1986. 156 pages. $25.00.

The book is composed of brief encyclopedic-type articles covering a broad range of psychic, spiritual, occult, and supernatural topics. It is heavily illustrated with photographs and drawings.

This is undoubtedly the most offensive piece of tripe purporting to impart knowledge about psychic phenomena that I have encountered in a long time. As a librarian, I am a firm supporter of the right to read, but if I were ever to burn a book, this would be it. The half truths and rumor presented as fact (not that any documentation other than the anonymous authors' opinions are offered) in this book are dangerous and inflammatory. It is the type of thing that fanatics latch onto and use to chase peaceful spiritualists and occultists from their homes and work.

The articles are unsigned. There is a list of contributors' names on the reverse of the title page, but no credentials are given. The General Editor is Sarah Litvinoff, a professional journalist and editor.

Eloise R. Hurst, Librarian

Barry, Jonathan with Strieber, Whitley. Cat-magic. New York, NY: Tom Doherty Associates, Inc., 1986. $4.95 paperback.

Full of action, terror and wonder, this entertaining and profoundly human book is a fictional accounting of modern American Witches in a sleepy little town in New Jersey. One of the townsmen, a "mad scientist" type, works in his private laboratory on his experiments in reanimation. Beginning with a little frog, he kills it for the purpose of resurrecting it mechanically, planning all the while to move up the scale of life forms with his experiments until he can successfully kill and reanimate a human.

Besides the reanimation angle, there is an intimate look into the lives of some of the Witches who peacefully reside at Constance Collier's Covenstead, and the growing uneasiness in the town about the Witches and the allegedly evil goings-on at their Sabbats. Talk eventually turns to burning the Collier Estate . . .

Whitley Strieber has authored several bestselling books, among which are Warday, The Wolfen and Communion. In this book, he teams up with Jonathan Barry, an aerospace industry consultant, who is also a practicing Witch and who has an intimate familiarity with the Witchcraft movement. Mr. Strieber visited with Witches such as Selena Fox at Circle Farm in Mt. Horeb, WI, and then travelled the talk show circuit last fall educating the public in what he learned about real Witchcraft while researching this most enjoyable book.

LETTERS

March 31, 1988

Dear Carole,

I enjoyed your April-May issue very much.

About channeling, I've been to a lot of channelers and had many messages myself, and "saw" St. Germaine once. I agree with you that the only reliable source of information is oneself, and one's own voices are to be discounted. This is what the Catholic Church taught for many years, that is, through its mystics.

I liked the letters of Laile MacDonald and Gloria Reiser especially.

Sincerely yours,
Robert M. Albrecht, M.D.
Winooski, VT 05404

(Thank you, Dr. Albrecht, for your letter and for the monetary contribution you sent to the SIG treasury -- Editor)

April 3, 1988

Dear Carole,

Like Gloria Reiser, I just received my sample newsletter, am delighted, and here is my check for membership. I think it's marvelous that you have been able to get so many people to write letters, and that they are frequently informational.

Also like Gloria, I do readings for money. Gloria has defended that position quite well, but I would like to reiterate, for those who may have missed it and for those who may have dismissed it. As Paul said (sorry, I don't know the reference), "The workman is worthy of his hire." Any time a person works, they are deserving of recompense. Now some psychics charge more than I think they ought, but so do some artists, lawyers, mechanics, etc. It is obviously not possible in this present world to devote yourself to an occupation which will not pay you money with which to meet your expenses. For example, the psychic fair I attended last week: a customer mentioned to me that she thought $20 was an awful lot of money for what we call Reader's Row, and that the other readers commonly charged $40. Well, it is a lot of money. Now consider that the meeting room was over $5000, the advertising was over $7000, and each psychic had to pay $35 to $70 a night for the hotel, along with money for eating out every night. Someone has to pay for all of that, and that's just expenses. How much is a professional worth on the market these days? $10 per hour? $20? Most Reader's Row people went home with a profit of $100 to $200 for 30 hours work. Obviously, there are many people who will pay for a psychic fair, which means that it fills a useful function in our society.

On the same subject, I wish to add my voice to Laile MacDonald. I too have an attitude of "Why should I prove anything?" The fact of the matter is that my interest in doing readings is to provide you with the information you need to get, or stay, on the life path that is best for you. If you aren't open-minded enough to listen to me, then I can't help you, so go away. If you haven't been convinced by the tremendous amount of evidence that is already out there, I'm not going to be able to convince you either. Don't waste my time. Laile missed mentioning one thing which I think is an important thought -- "Christians" are convinced that if they don't "save" you, you will go to hell, and that there will never be another chance for them to do this. Therefore they are very bold in their efforts, and I personally consider them downright dangerous to my constitutional rights! (I put "Christians" in quotes, because I don't believe they follow the original plan of him called the Christ.)

Sorry if I sound somewhat like a crusader. I'm afraid I probably am, and not everyone is willing to hear it.

On a more upbeat note, I am glad about the victory of Circle Sanctuary. It's about time this country lived up to its 'freedom of religion' standards.

Very truly yours,
Ruth E. Lydell
Buffalo, NY

Dear Carole,

April 15, 1988

Thanks for the copy of THE TAMULET. I was interested in the "channeling" and the number of "channels" around the country -- it's worse than cable TV! Last year there was an extensive newspaper article on some channelers in Lexington, KY. It sounded very realistic until they got to the part about MONEY. My friend Modred channels an entity named Dagon which is kind of a librarian on another plane. Modred is Craft* and charges no fees.

I'm going to Munich this week on business and I'm going to stop in London on the way back. Some Canadian friends gave me the names of some Craft* people there but I'll have to rely on them to contact me after I arrive. I've written to alert them that I'll be there but all I had was a Post Office Box. Hopefully, they'll call me. I'll let you know.

(*Editor's Note: Craft = Witchcraft = Wicca)

I don't know when I'll get back down to St. Pete. Probably not until late summer. (Even as I type this -- Memorial Day Weekend -- I have an appointment to meet this writer tomorrow afternoon at my home -- Editor). Let me know if you move up to Asheville anytime soon. (I'm still undecided! -- Ed)

Take care and let me hear from you.

Blessed Be,

May 14, 1988

Dear Carole,

This seems to be the right time to write. Many years ago, I was a member of the Rosicrucians, but due to money and time constraints, I had to drop out. Since my daughter's death in June of 1987, my interest has been renewed in parapsychology, metaphysics, reincarnation, etc. She was very interested in astrology, tarot, etc. and was a member of Builders of the Adytium (sic) and of Mensa also.

June 28 - July 2 we are going to attend a seminar by Dr. R. Leo Sprinkle of Laramie, WY. He is a leading UFO expert. Also speaking at the conference will be Dr. Kenneth Ring, author of Life At Death and Healing Toward Omega and Whitley Strieber, author of Communion. I shall try to write a short article on these lectures for your newsletter. Please feel free to edit or correct it, as writing is not my field.

I have an extensive library on such subjects as life after death, Edgar Cayce, Jane Roberts, Ruth Montgomery, Hans Holzer, etc. I had quite a few books and added my daughter's library to my own.

We travel extensively and I have a stepson in Crestview, FL. We are planning on being in FL this fall. We spent some time in Cassadaga, FL one year with my daughter along. If possible, we will attend one of your meetings while we are in Florida this next winter. 'Til then.

Yours truly,
Lois E. Henry

May 15, 1988

Dear Carole,

I received the sample copy of April-May, 1988, which I find interesting.

I am relatively new at reading or sharing about Parapsychology experiences, and would like information about the question of WICCAN religion, and the CIRCLE

SANCTUARY, mentioned in your recent publication. I would like to ask the following question for your newsletter:

Could someone provide me with historical background, beliefs, structure, affiliation, as well as the "raison d'etre" of the Wiccan religion? And what is the connection between the Circle Sanctuary & the Wiccan religion?

For two years now I have been receiving the Psychic Science International Special Interest Group PSI-M publication, which deals with parapsychological phenomena. That publication and yours appear to have quite a bit in common. Have you ever thought of merging the two SIG groups? Comments on the pros and cons of such merger would be appreciated.

Marielle Ritter
San Francisco, CA

(I'll limit my response to your question, because I want the readers to answer it for you. The Wiccan Religion has been around for thousands of years in one form or another. You ask about its reason for existence . . . what is the reason why ANY religious belief exists? I say, for the good of its adherents. I believe that Wicca also exists for the good of ALL life and the Earth Mother which supports life as we know it. This is evidenced by the basic tenet of the Wiccan religion -- AN IT HARM NONE, DO WHAT THOU WILL. Circle Sanctuary is a Wiccan Church located on a large, 200 acre nature preserve in Wisconsin.

The Psychic Science SIG has been around for about twice as long as this SIG. People who have been members of both have told me that the two SIGs are quite different. Their approach is more scientific than mine and is purported to have no religious and/or spiritual overtones, while my approach is experiential, intuitively- and spiritually-oriented. If our handling of this subject matter was more similar, I imagine that Rich Strong and I might be talking about a possible merger of the two groups, but in the years that we have each been publishing, the subject of a merger has never come up between us. We do exchange newsletters and his SIG has a much larger membership than mine, which I believe is due to two factors:

(1) His longevity as a Coordinator;

(2) He has done mass mailings to Mensans to solicit memberships, using computer-generated lists from Mensa's main office. -- Editor)
