

FREEDOM FOUNDATION CONCEPTS

A.H. Fry

The majority of our human species have little knowledge of the true foundations and principles of freedom. For the mainstream, freedom is the concept of doing what you want and to hell with what any one else wants. At the lower levels you can see this in attitudes of punks on the street & at higher levels in the writings of Aleister Crowley. Crowley advocated "Do what thou wilt - shall be the whole of the law". * Throughout the history of our species there has usually been a small circle of 'Kings' 'gods' & 'elite' who have felt their tight control of the masses was necessary for their own good... Since so few had enough self control to allow for any framework of civilization. Karl Marx even mentioned in his work on communism that his concepts would only work if individuals has the necessary self control. Obviously, Democracy and communism both have done very little to perpetuate freedoms. Our original republic with it's free choice foundation constitution has been completely eroded away and altered. * To understand freedom, it is helpful to remember that our universe and creator have all intelligent life working with CHOICE laws. Only on our Earth do domination principles rule humanity & higher forms of civilization. In the very early hermetic records we find that our forbearers were once free of matter and got locked into this material world for following the 'reflection' or unreal. This process was later distorted by the Essenes and even later by the church. Today, we can read the biblical version in the fall of Satan & his followers. What happened was simple. Thousands of higher level intelligences decided that they would like to play in matter and ignore the creators CHOICE laws. The leaders started recruiting and pushing people other intelligences into their project & this was strictly against choice laws. Once they were on Earth and captured in matter, it became impossible to escape into their original knowledge level and return to their 'god' level, until they found out about the opposite systems the hard way. Domination is the opposite to choice and there are millions now stuck on the wheels of 'karma' and spiritual learning, until they reject Domination. The ways of domination are simple to understand. examples are to take the choices of others, To kill, To steal, To lie, To threaten... and to generally go against the christians concept of the 'golden rule'. The majority of 'so called' christians continually break the golden rule when they procreate or try to pressure others into following their beliefs. This is exactly what got Satan in trouble to begin with. The book of Enoch goes into this somewhat. Enoch, I might add was once in both the christian & Jewish bibles. To much of the New Testament was stolen from it for the comfort of religious leaders. * Once a person realizes what the game here on Earth is all about and accepts the choice principles, all sorts of serious mental & spiritual advancement can take place. Miracles can be a common practice.. Simply because only persons with absolute self control in the CHOICE patterns are ever allowed this amount of power. Examples are easy to find. Uri Geller bends spoons & has the publicity in our culture for mental powers at a higher level. Other cultures have examples that put Geller in a novice status. Ben Ali Medic a Serian spice merchant has filled graneries during famines and started springs flowing during draughts Others across the world have been doing similar acts & proving mind over matter is possible. Invariably, they all stay strictly within choice laws in their actions. * To learn more of the deeper aspects of human functioning and what is really going on in the world send for Incredible Inquiry Catalog #11. ~~9237 Craver,~~ ~~Morongo Valley, CA 92256 USA (Stamps Please)~~ FRY'S INC. TO UNDERSTAND THE HUMAN SPECIES & ROLE OF MOTHER EARTH

With all the technological progress of our species, things on Earth have progressed very little in the areas that count most. Instead of working for single tyrants and kings, we give even more tribute to the governments that protect us against ourselves. Without such dictatorial & repressive overseers our species would be living still as barbaric savages, caring less about the next person. True, there are probably 20 % of any given society that retains a semblance of ethics, yet this has usually not been sufficient to keep ethical new republics intact for very long. Today, our own republic has slowly converted in to a democracy where the majority have allowed their freedoms to be eroded away for the apparent free handouts from the government. People have wanted others to take their responsibilities over for as long as there has been history. The results have come out the same. The eventual erosion and destruction of the society is as automatic as the rising and setting of the sun. The history books never tell of such automatic laws of course. No history is ever factual. History books are written for tyrants and the governments in power at the moment. Writers who present the truth have always been a danger to the state and stopped. In olden times they may have been murdered or imprisoned. today, the controlling elite simply control the publishing houses and media. To find the truth of what we have done and where we are going, we must ignore experts and books. Learning truth is as simple as observing the natural laws of our creator and his universe. The foundation laws are simple. Species of intelligence are under a mandate of CHOICE. If we break the laws of CHOICE and start domination against others, we get automatic feedback which the ancients called 'Karma'. Many of the great spiritual teachers taught such laws under concepts like 'the golden rule'. Virtually all great civilizations who lasted any length of time started out under constitutions and foundations that gave choice to citizens. To learn what transpired in the past and what will happen in the future you only need to understand the law and observe. If you see a person knowingly cheat another person, you can know that the person will lose such as they have gained in the near future. The world is full of takers and dominators who can never enjoy the wealth they have gained through domination. The principles are the same for a country. A nation like Israel who takes over an area by force and continues oppression will never be able to keep her gains over the long run. No matter how clever the country or person, the holdings will be taken at the final tally. Rome started with a reasonably free choice system and eventually fell apart as socialism spread and the subjects wanted more and more benefits without earning them. You can gage the life of any new country simply by looking at the willingness of the people to take responsibility for their own lives and grant freedom to others. If you wish to know whether the United States will prosper or perish, look at our past actions. We will be in for some very hard lessons but our lack of hard core domination tactics against other nations will assure a continuation.... The same observations will show that communism is doomed over the long run. To learn to see what kind of governments and systems will be coming there is another foundation principle that we can use. We humans are not here just to slave for tyrants or kill time. Our souls enter bodies in cultures that give us the greatest lessons to learn to deal with. Earth is a living breathing life form that once elected to serve as an environment for our particular species and group. What we have here are millions of beings with an animal based soul and a lesser number with completely alien soul origins. In a few of the most ancient records on Earth there are references to this new 'ademic' stock that became ensnared in matter and forgot that they were beings and intelligences with a home and base far removed from Earth. In legends we get a glimpse of what some of the early arrivals could do. There are many manuscripts that rival the 10001 Nights collection in the exploits of our 'gifted' ancestors. Whether you find the Earth soul based cultures in a biblical 'land of nod'... or in the 3rd world peoples of today, the story or picture you can weave together will be similar. The Children of mother Earth want to go back to their simple way of life where they can be guided by instinct... like the rest of the animal species of Earth. They will use technology and work for rulers but they will not make the technology or feel comfortable dominating others and using their labor to enrich themselves... By looking at a nation and their technology & goals, you can tell then just what types of souls inhabit the nation. To understand the origin of the great confusion and chaos on Earth, it is helpful to take all of these factors of background, soul origin and system allegiance (as to Free Choice or Domination) and start categorizing the people involved. You may have a situation where persons have animal based motivation or where they have completely conflicting intelligences of an 'alien' origin.

Planet Earth is probably the most unique settlement for advanced life forms in this sector of the universe. What makes it so special and different is the fact that there is such a wide range of intelligences and problems here. As C.S. Lewis tried to point out in his science fiction work "Out Fo The Silent Planet" most planets have life forms with only one type of intelligence. Other life forms of differing types are completely ignored and alien to such identities. Just as animals here will usually ignore other animal life forms out of their food chain, So to, huminoids with higher knowledges and one intelligence level, will simply fail to understand other levels at all. Little wonder that strange alien craft are continually testing our various Earth species. In many cases, they simply do not understand how we could be so totally massed up and radically different from them. Very few persons are aware of the source of this difference or problem, but to put it in a nutshell, our ancestors got their original intinct awareness corruted by some pretty high level visitors. Once the interbreeding took place, the usuall brain circuits for a particular knowledge level were altered and the instinct was gone. The Biblical 'garden of eden' scenario was a simplistic tale of this disaster. By eating of the fruit of knowledge and gaining new genetic brain circuits, we were literally catapulted from our lazy days under banana trees.

Unfortunately, there is a very unfair difference in some genetic lines in regard to abilities today. Certain alien intelligence patterns are centered around a technological intelligence totally alien to the original Man species. (I might add that we were 'nomes' before the time of king Menes, the 1st 'God' ruler... and our namesake.) What happens is that certain lines like the Germans are prone to carry a lot more genetic technological smarts than other races. Since making money under domination systems is also another face of this same alien intelligence, You will find some highly interbed races like the Jews with an uncanny knack at making money. 'Oh nonesence', most state educated persons will retort. Yet anyone with an open mind at all can find the truth of what I'm pointing out. 3rd world nations filled with people of less contaminated lines will usually never get to catch up with their more sophisticated brethren. Original intelligence lines on Earth centered around fishing and agriculture. The races had these knowledges to survive on what nature provided and no rockets or money systems were needed. To be sure, there are pockets of of this alien technological knowledge in most areas of the world. Korea, Japan, Italy, all have racial strains with the alien intelligence contamination. Yet for the most part, the white races carry the most... (oh I'm sure that ones got me branded as a big -ot.) Persons who are positive there is a great conspiracy going on ..headed by some 'elite' are right as rain, as far as their suspicions go, it's just that the background and foundation are different than^wis put down by most conspiracy writers. There are indeed humans that can make their 1st millions by their 20's ...or run complex computations with little training. They are 'naturals' and all to may are lacking in what we could call ethics. Wanta make your million ? well you just use and abuse your fellow species 'workers' and there is little problem. It seems this alien intelligence factor carries a propensity to produce master manipulators with very few ethics in their quest for power. Some of the great teachers pointed out that such beings would be trapped in a continual round of Earthly experince until they softened up. It seems the original contamination of our species brought on a chance for the original homo Sapien to advance up the evolutionary ladder a bit. Man the animal can attain the status of Man the 'god' if we can handle the temptation to manipulate our fellows unethically. Follow the 'Golden Rule' and we eventually get a chance at bigger and better things if we retain self control and keep responsible. Turn water to wine, make food mentally, make gold & silver. My, wouldn't it be a shock to the bankers and domination system if a lot of workers suddenly stopped working and payed their way with mentally created gold...or just because they could make whatever they needed. The Unit Value system of money was one of the greatest inventions of the domination system. The system was refined to the point that today a handfull of clever manipulators.... with an extra heavy dose of alien intelligence levels, are on the verge of running the world. If what the prophesies and great Avitars tell us is true, about the only hope for the individual is in learning to get those superhuman powers going and beat the bad guys at their own game. I was a sceptic about a lot of the potentials until I actually saw the wonders worked. Now I can only hope that enough of us get our act together and balance our various alien & Earth components. The Hidden Knowledge Of The Ancients Revived

RF 6
 PJ 4

Many of the ancient poetical works dwell on the theme of fallen angels or giants from heaven. Myths and legends are full of similar accounts. Works such as the "Thousand and One Nights" give simplistic views of the antics of the 'Gin' & super beings. This particular collection of tales was actually an input of some 3000 yrs of history and fanciful opium dreams. Fiction was virtually unknown to the culture. Sanskrit translations tell of the 'gods' and technology to equal our own (Josyer etc)

Some of the manuscripts from early Egypt are particularly helpful to piece together some of the story of early humanity and their interrelation with the 'gods'. This hermetic literature is still available in several English translations. "The Devine Pymander" collection is typical, and contains observations on the nature of man by Hermes..who was thought to have been the Egyptian god 'Thoth'. It tells of Man having two natures. One that tends to evil and another to good and liberty (1st book) Book two explains that certain immortal non material identities became wrapped in matter by nature and that the present Man with his mortal body got his chance to be immortal from their contamination with the 'substantial' men. As Pimander explains, the Mind of man which loves sensation and evil things is constantly punished and tormented. It is later made clear that harmony and balance...and contact with the creator-father can lead man to immortality (Bk 2 & 4). Coming into the material world allows the wicked soul to be tempted and abused by the actions of a wicked mind....or blessed by a pious and good Mind (Bk 4) In the 9th book or section we find that the creator God is the causation factor of Mind Spirit & Light & good, yet, there are lesser gods who are not so good. The rest of this work explains the nature of the Soul and the non envious or vengefull 'good' God.

In a similar Hermetic work called the "Virgin Of The World" collection, Hermes is painted as an emissary from the creator. Here Isis explains the nature of humans souls and how each is an intelligence unto itself...gaining experience and retaining memory through it's experience in different bodies. Isis, of course, was the soul mate or wife of the Egyptian god Osiris, and a 'goddess' herself. In this work she tells of lower man being able to rise in ability and higher intelligence through mixing with the higher 'gods'. Hermes also tells of the ascension of mankind...but through a veneration of the one creator 'GOD' and his goodness. He explains that none of the 'gods' need to study like man because they already have knowledge. Man must also overcome the evils of the flesh to gain immortality.

In Manley Halls monumental "Secret Teachings Of All Ages" there are further translations of these early Hermetic works. They tell of the coming of the 'gods' and how they become trapped in matter. Many of today's 'Bibles', borrowed heavily from these very early Hermetic works. Some refer to the 'genii' who guide mankind on a higher than physical level...but Hermetic doctrine discourages Men from seeking aid or association with any of the other dimensional elementals or other identities. All dangers are dealt with by simply knowing the creator and acting justly at all times.

The book of 'Enoch' is felt by many persons to have been a Hermetic work also. It was in both the Christian and Jewish bibles at one time. Some feel it was taken out simply because some of it conflicted with Church sanctioned material. It is very easy to see what parts of today's King James Version came from Enoch. In this usefull work we find that the unjust oppression of humanity by the 'gods' is finally dealt with by emissaries from the creator. These 'Watchers' have their wings clipped ...

Most of the earlier records hold the same theme concerning the salvation of humanity. They explain that we must not depend on any outside 'gods' or aid. we must act on our own with self responsibility and good motives. Persons who depend on saviors simply stagnate in their development. Even our own Jesus pointed this out constantly. He told his followers on the Mt of Olives that many false prophets and saviors would come in the final chaotic days, yet we were to forget it because it was his Christ PRESENCE that would be around over the planet, not his body.

In the works of A.B.Glaser we find the details on all of Mans transmutation potentials put together. In his Modern Humans texts he tells how the original animal -man species functioned, how the later contamination with the 'gods' altered the brain circuitry, and how balancing the various higher level components can lead to super function and eventual immortality. All of the early Hermetic literature becomes clarified once the basic foundation is comprehended. Glaser was born with a wide range of knowledge in such areas and one manuscript (Staff Study #1) tells of what occurs at the time the emissary came to take the 'mind over matter' ability away from the 'gods'. HIDDEN POLLUTION PROBLEMS AND SOLUTIONS

As we humans learn to deal with higher technology, the by products of such advancements threatens to pollute our planet and bury us all. Much of the problem stems from the usual greed of course, but unless we all work together a little better, we won't have many playthings to hoard. Either the ethical segments of society must get involved and put more pressure on corrupt leaders and agencies or we lose our environment... and exterminate ourselves. Typical problems at this time include illegal nuclear waste dumping. I have spoken to a number of individuals who are aware of our Governments agencies dumping 'hot' material all over the West. Remote areas of Idaho for example have gotten their skin scraped off to the bone and wound up and hot tools. Some have gotten their skin scraped off to the bone and wound up missing their family jewels for pocketing such waste. Current plans include a course to eliminate some 40 odd years of nuclear waste. Current plans include a number of Western dump sites which they hope will fill the bill. One area in the rich Great Smith farmland area of Texas is to get it's deep Salt Mines loaded up but not to worry-in ten thousand years or so, the danger will be past (they hope) Alternative sites include Yucca Mtn 75 miles North Of Los Vegas & the already heavily waste loaded area of Eastern Washington State. This Hanford area of Wash. has a great deal of underground water which could eventually bring up the 'hot' waste ..but once again we shouldn't have many Earthquakes or volcanic action to stir things up for ten thousand years or so...which is what the radioactive life of nuclear waste is estimated at.

In the 50's our geniuses dumped our 'hot' waste in the Ocean and goodness knows what will happen if a lot of this gets stirred up. What seems to have escaped our 'experts' is the fact that they must use some of the skills and technology they use for war machinery on clean up technology. Mother nature has dozens of ingenious methods of cleaning up pollution. All it takes is a little observation and R & D money to speed her techniques up a little. The greedy Military-Industrial and banking empires don't think much of extra expenses. But enough concerned citizens can usually bring home the point. Government contracts come list and as long as our financial rulers control our Oil,Uranium, and other energy sources for profits,we would do well to kick up a fuss. We are virtual slaves on a planet our creator gave us without any strings attached. Or I suppose you could say that the strings center around what we allow our fellow humans to do to us.

Natures ingenious system for cleaning up the planets 'blood' or water involve electrical and vortex actions. Water flowing around a stream, for example gets rejuvinated in several ways. Ist, a galvanic action takes place due to the metals in the rocks in the stream bed. Andly a vortex action charges the water with kinetic energy as it swirls around the rocks and boulders. Much of this natural technology was outlined in the 30's by a german named Victor Shawberger. Despite awesome results in cleaning up polluted environments of the time, he was ignored. Just as today, the entrenched energy & chemical cartels didn't want their profits to diminish.

Virtually all pollutants in water can be eliminated by simply running the water between electrical 'Anode' & 'Cathode' plates. Such Ozone technology purifies much of the city water of Europe. It is only another step or two to apply the same principle to nuclear waste. Since Carbon Atoms are the base of matter, we can simply use a solution like Carbon Tetrochloride instead of water. As we push A.T.Electricity through the 'hot' Atoms, they can be brought back to a more manageable and safe state. You do this in a pickle jar using a cap of water to contain the volatile Carbon Tet, if you have doubts about it. In our next article I will point out how we can deal with non nuclear pollution. Most of us are being poisoned to some degree through all types of chemical & electrical contamination. Since the controlled media won't spell it all out for you hang on for round two.....

In part one I pointed out how even the deadliest nuclear pollution could be rendered harmless through a simple electrical conversion & breakdown device. Now lets look at similar simple systems for non nuclear contamination.

A few years ago one of the alltime great medical breakthroughs of our time came along by accident and was totally ignored by the medical profession, for the most part. It was discovered that artificial Calcium could easily strip the heavy metals and plaque from the arterial walls of a patient. This EDTA 'chelation' therapy acted rather like a 'Roto Rooter' job on house plumbing. It eliminated many types of degenerative diseases.. Including arthritic pain and heart problems. Since the early Chelation therapists found over 70% of the patients walking through their doors were poisoned by various heavy metal pollution, there should have been rejoicing. Instead, medical men like Asleben & Halstead of California got constant harrassment. We can only assume that the drug cartels and medical profession saw some threat to the lucrative heart bypass operations and drugs they moved. This totals up to BILLIONS in profits and this is, of course, the name of todays game.

Industrial pollutants and heavy metals were spewing steadily from every major city in our time. Yet almost no one really got to hear much of it from the media. Do you think the chamber of commerce would tell a city dweller that they were getting only a fraction of the oxygen they needed to allow the bodiees immunity system to function normally. Oxygen, as I pointed out, purifies water easily. When an oxygen deficient person starts taking some shots of food grade Hydrogen Peroxide, amazing things often start to happen. Viral infections and numerous ills start to clear up. The Russians use what could be called an Oxygen cocktail in many of their hospitals. You can get the same effect by dangling a little porous Fish tank bubbler in your glass of Juice ..while hooked up to a little tank of Oxygen. Some types of safe chemicals carryOxygen in them. When swallowed, the gas is released by some acid like Lemonade. Slowly, such knowledge is getting through to health minded practitioners.

Another common form of pollution that is ignored are the Radio and electrical waves that constantly bombard us. For years tests have shown persons near high tension electrical lines, have been 'cracking up' regularly. The same with persons nest to Radio station towers. Goodness knows how all the weaker electrical contamination is affecting we humans. Some researchers feel we are becoming a world of agitated but non thinking 'sheep' due to all this pollution. The Russians have been broadcasting ELF waves at us for years through giganatonic transmitters. Some feel the frequency is the exact frequency to best break down our moral and mental health. From the drugs used on radicals in both Russia & the US, it would seem that the Governments probably want the population a little dopey and docile.

The solution to many of these electrical pollution problems is often just as simple as finding a little Gemstone with Lithium in it. These Lithium crystals can be worn around the neck like jewelry and will neutralize many injurious rays. Mental patients can keep away from their shrinks. I just liberated an aquatance who had been in and out of the 'funnyfarm' for years this way) Kunzite & Lepidolite are a couple of Lithium crystals that work well. Every day of so they need to be grounded out in some running water to run off negative accumulations.

The Sun is great at neutralizing radiations. Any one who works under Neon light or glass day in and day out is cut off from the full healthful solar spectrum and probably suffering unnecessary tension and fatigue. Eye glasses should come off now and then during the day also. Even the Aluminum shells on Mobile Homes and buildings will normally block many vital radiations. For several years there has been a special substance that could open up aluminum Atoms, so that a greater number of rays could pass through. I have fun sometimes tuning friends Beer totally flat in 10 seconds with this neutralizing compound. Some minerals and gems act in much the same way to a much lesser degree. Some times you will run across such neutralizing device ads in health mags.

One reasonably accurate way to find out what pollutants are getting to you, is considered a joke by the medical experts. Their 'cartel trained' mentality won't accept such unscientific nonsense. Dowsing, of course, has been around for thousands of years working for past and great civilizations before us. Every major temple in the world is put in a safe spot through dowsing. The way to use dowsing for health answers is through using a pendulum with percentage charts and 'yes' and 'no' feedback.

SOME THOUGHTS ON THE NEXT FEW YEARS & THE WORLD'S SURVIVAL.

BY A.H. FRY

For a number of years now there have been thousands of concerned individuals getting ready for various disasters that just never seemed to arrive according to the various schedules. There are sometimes nebulous reasons given for this, but a number of us are beginning to suspect that far more powerful influences are at work here, than meets the eye. Lets explore some of the evidence.

A friend of mine who was in intelligence during the last of WWII was given exact data on the red plans to invade the U.S. in the late 60's. As the planned date approached, a million crack Mongolian troops were trained & prepared to take us over after our cities were reduced to rubble. The troop transports were gathered across northern Russia & suddenly last hour alterations at high levels halted the operation. It was then set for a date in the early 70's. Again high level shake ups & reversals altered the long held plans. Our intelligence was pretty well aware of the facts, statistics, & period when all this was to take place, yet never could explain the reasons for the sudden changes in policy.

In the later skirmish with the Arabs, the Israelis had every intention of marching right on in to Cairo. Why they suddenly stopped a scant 80 miles away was never understood clearly by any one, including high level Israeli leaders. It wasn't to long later when the Israeli leader Golda Meir announced that Israel would do what was necessary...implying that nuclear weapons might be employed. It was shortly after this that she had some sort of strange malady & resigned for reasons that no one is still quite sure of. Did she have a 'mental' breakdown? ..or could it be possible that some 'outside' force broke her down & out. As far out as this implication may sound there is increasing evidence that we are very closely watched by certain 'outside forces'.

Every Moon shot that the U.S. sent up in the beginning had some unidentified energy form or UFO following them. While this was ignored by the major news media, a score of small independent sources gathered the well witnessed facts. The nationally distributed 'Duda' organization devotes whole issues to the subject in Mexico.

What happens when our actions endanger the planet, is becoming more apparent with passing time. Just recently an 'H' bomb test was scheduled for an obscure spot in the Pacific. At the last hour, a 'crewman' managed to see the scientist in charge, and hint of the possible ramifications & chain reactions.... After the test was halted, no trace of this 'crewman' could be located. If such cases, are indeed, examples of 'outside' help on our behalf, just how long will such help continue? The answer just might lie in a soon to come choice of citizens on this little globe.

A number of persons have long recognized that there are really only two differing factions on our planet. There are those who believe that domination & servitude are necessary...and there are those who feel that the only control needed for a 'paradise', is SELF control. Historically, we can look back & see that all great civilizations fell shortly after their FREE forms of governments & constitutions fell. We can also assume that the 'alien forces' visiting our planet are FREE...due to the fact that they do not interfere with the decisions of the people of this planet: ...ask for the most unusual catalog for freedom lovers in the world.. from:

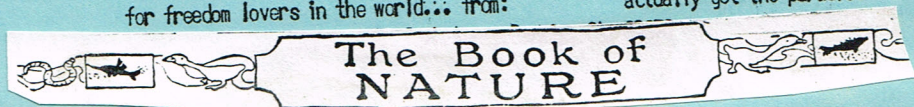

What this may well indicate then is, that right before our eyes there is some sort of separating 'the sheep from the goats' going on. Sparing various religious or philosophical views, it really would seem as though all the planets written words & people are going either; domination, Free, ..or staying in a neutral position & remaining under some sort of control.. mental & otherwise. Pick up a science fiction book at the local market & you may very well find the theme on Freedom or domination of some sort. It is often the same for other forms of popular reading. Looking at the world in general it would seem that the many domination systems of the world are breaking down in areas & in all aspects. The question arises in my mind that this should be preventable, but then the answer comes to me that again, it is up to the people. The time factor is, I suspect, centered around the upcoming 'polar shift' problem.

Back in the 1950's Emanuel Veliskovski wrote the shocking book "Worlds In Collision". in it he pointed out that there had been a number of polar shifts of the Earth's axis, & in each of these 'floods' the majority of life on Earth was destroyed. These 'floods' were not only recorded in hundreds of ancient records & manuscripts, they were supported by physical evidence strewn over the whole face of the globe. Since the furor of Veloskovskis best selling bombshell died down a bit, the subject has gotten little publicity. Yet there are a surprising number of 1st rate scientists that feel the time to start worrying, is rapidly approaching. As this is written there is great tribulation over the 200 mile fishing rights controversy. The thing that the public is not told, is that the gulf streams of the entire world are changing. As they move further out to sea, the fish move with them, and the colder waters off the coast, spell less rain for inland crops. This has, of course, happened before. It happened just prior to each of the last 4 polar shifts.

Last year in 1976 our globe was hit with 10 severe Earthquakes. Guatemala & Turkey had record numbers killed. China alone lost over 600 thousand persons & never, in all of her history, had such a severe quake.

From all the indications I can gather, the shift of the Earth's axis this time will occur sometime in the mid 90's. What is increasingly becoming more apparent to me, is the fact that the 'shift' can actually be prevented. Since the build up of unbalanced ice at the south pole is at fault, it is only a matter of the world powers pooling their technology & resources to balance this area again, & correct the problem. Could it be that the alien overseers of this planet are halting our glaring bungles, just long enough to have a say so in such a project. If we were allowed our way I am pretty well convinced that both our cities & our technology would be reduced to piles of rubble.

I suspect then, that we have about 10 years to make our choices. If enough people fail to preserve the freedoms they now possess & slide further into the dominations grip. Any outside help by the FREE beings of this Universe may get cut off. If enough persons hang on, & make an effort to keep their freedoms & the right to defense, we just may get to keep our technology intact. If we can keep the worlds technology intact for a few more years, We may actually get the paradise that has been promised to 'seekers'.
