

One is a plasma of energy.
Simultaneously living, dying, oscillating, passive/expanding, contracting/sending, receiving/
alert, dead/seeing, blind/hearing, deaf/breathing, exhaling.

A four dimensional space form of heighth, length, breathe, time.

Proceeding, returning with such speed in an orbital
arc of such magnitude that the path is a straight line.

And at such a speed there is no past, present or future.

Only a NOW of/for fullfillness, all or nothing.

The plasma is/was for ever present, here
from the beginning of the beginning.

Created, set up by natural formalation and design.

It will always be, never die, cease, extinguish
or reduce in strength.

Its characteristics were instantly and permanently formed at one's inception, never to be altered in any way by parents, schools, churches,
experiences or events.

It is

Nine to ten months later is was given your name

It is you, your's

And all the knowledge, experience you have, had.

Will experience.

Its container is your physical body which at death will drop away while your plasma will continue in orbit through space at speeds of no present no
future.

You will always be.
