★ RILEY says he got interested in the borderland sciences such as ESP, telekinesis, psychic surgery, hypnosis and the rest when he discovered the metaphysical library of the Theosophical Society in Minneapolis.

Nellie Peyton helped him with psychic research — the same as she helped the local cops find missing people.

Having been in Hawaii with the military during the war, he returned there as a civilian and studied pagan magic at first hand with the Kahunas, whom he likens to the Maori tohungas.

He was also a Visual Information Specialist for the US Navy's Pacific Missile Range in California.

That was before taking over as Director of Borderland Sciences which has members in 40 countries feeding UFO and other information back to the San Diego base.

The great UFO cover-up?

The Auckland Sun, Monday February 22 1988 Page 13

AFTER what he believes were a couple of bungled attempts on his life, Riley Crabb packed his files and an overnight bag and headed for Godzone.

Just out of San Diego, California, the Director of Borderland Sciences tells me he left a house, regularly spied on from helicopters, and where the phones were bugged — both done by shadowy organisations who like to keep their fingers on the pulse of the UFO business, and anything else Riley and his worldwide Borderland Science followers dug into.

Looking at him in the Orewa flat he shares with Phyllis (the penfriend of 20 years he finally wed), it's not hard to believe Riley Hansard Crabb gave some of the first lectures on UFOs

(when sightings were in their infancy) and helped create worldwide awareness of the phenomenon.

He's tall, grey haired, and alert with bright eyes and a crisp manner.

The Riley and Phyllis Crabbs of this world are an enigma.

They want to know the truth about the little green men, and spend a lifetime researching them.

They are prepared for and even welcome the pooh-poohs from disbelievers. Then they show films which in turn show objects which may or may not be the craft these same greenies fly round in.

I don't need a lot of convincing there's something no one has been able to explain out there.

Unreal

And, having seen spook harassment at first hand in America, I can understand Riley's feelings — digging round in murky waters can produce more than a rap on the knuckles.

So it was only after we'd talked and eaten cookies for some time that he and Phyllis showed me the letter from a "Justice for Military Personnel" requesting an Executive Order from President Reagan to end the UFO cover-up.

The JMP, as they call themselves, are mostly retired brass who say they want clearance to talk to Congress about their past dabblings in muddle waters and they don't want to be zapped for talking.

Riley believes the letter to be genuine. It asks the President to take into account that the start of the cover-up 40 years ago was confined to a very few folk within the military and the government. Today thousands are involved.

The brass say they intentionally ordered pilots to shoot at UFOs hoping to get one for research purposes.

Pilots who reported UFOs were silenced; commercial ones smeared if they described what they saw. Citizens were slandered when they dared report the objects and Congressmen and Senators debunked when they sought information.

If all this sounds a bit remote from everyday Orewa goings on, it is.

But just recently Riley says he had a call from the US about a mutual friend's line of investigation and the friend disappeared.

Unreal? Certainly. Checkable? Probably not. We haven't had the UFO situation thrust upon us the way it has happened in America and (to a lesser extent) Europe.

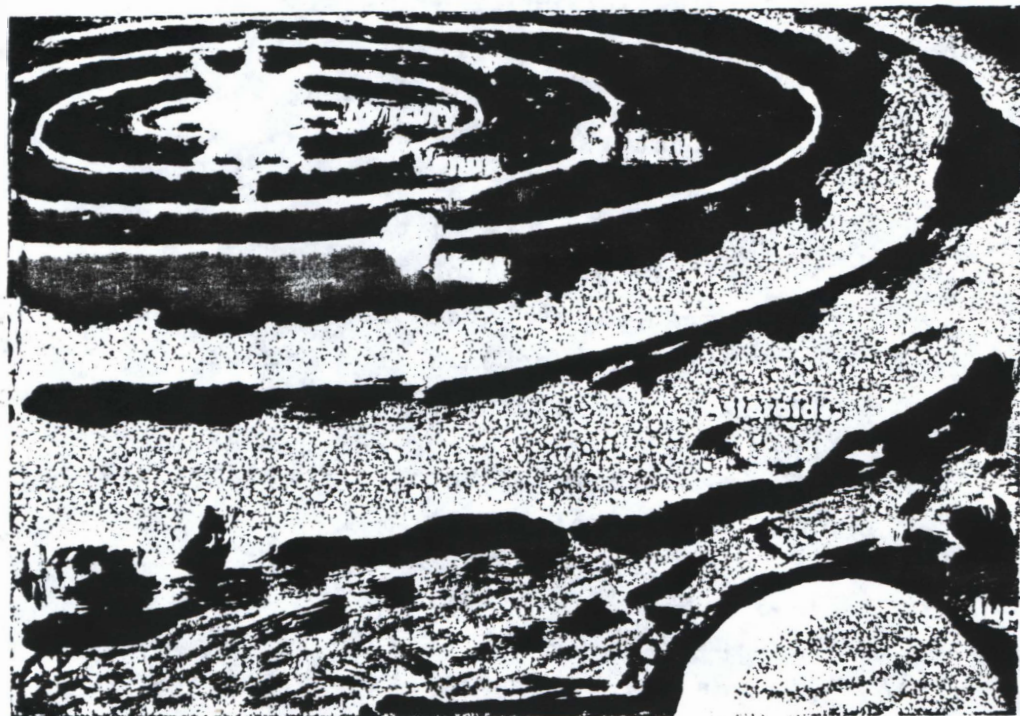

One Aucklander who has been involved, Captain Bruce Cathie, received threats when his first book was published 20 years ago. It was to him that Riley went on arrival here before joining up with Phyllis.

Both had recently lost their spouses. They enjoyed the same UFO investigatory bent, so they joined forces in matrimony.

The Master Morya

THE MASTERS PROPHECY FOR THE SPACE AGE

By Riley Hansard Crabb
Vice President, Orewa Lodge
Hibišcus Coast, New Zealand

A phenomenon of the Space Age is the appearance of the so-called UFOs or Flying Saucers, so it is not surprising that questions about it should come up at Theosophical gatherings such as the national convention at Palmerston North in mid-January, 1989.

A panel discussion was scheduled for Monday morning, Jan. 16 to answer written questions. The first one selected from the pile submitted was from Phyllis Gardner, national treasurer. She wanted some comment on the reality of UFOs. Joy Mills volunteered to take the controversial subject on. She was guest lecturer at the Convention, and is the Director of the Krotona School of Theosophy in Ojai, California USA.

She referred to the opinion of Dr. Carl Jung, famous Viennese psychologist and his book on the subject. Jung ventured the opinion that Flying Saucer sightings were the outward imaging of archetypal ideas in the mind of the observer, and that such mass phenomena were to be expected in time of crisis in human affairs.

Dr. Jung's educated guess was unavailable in the early 1950s when I was president of the Honolulu Lodge of the Theosophical Society and the authorities were inundated with reports of sightings in the Hawaiian area. These were by both civilians and by military personnel, some by military pilots and confirmed by radar. Close encounters of the Third Kind were reported, as well as abductions.

There were no answers forthcoming from the Church, the State, the U.S. Government or Science. So the Lodge members turned to me and to the occult, and I found answers in the Theosophical literature. No less a person than our co-founder, H.P. Blavatsky, introduced the Western world to the Space Age a hundred years ago. She wrote that the Four Kumaras came to earth six and a half million years ago from the planet Venus in "flaming chariots". Now we call them Flying Saucers.

That isn't the only reference to space travel, not by any means. in Theosophical literature. The great Koot Hoomi opened up the subject in Letter No. 18 of "The Master's Letters to A.P. Sinnett", on page 116: "Please bear in mind that when I say 'man' I mean a human being of our type. There are other and innumerable manvantaric chains of globes bearing intelligent beings -- both in and out of our solar system -- the crowns or apexes of evolutionary beings in their respective chains, some -- physically and intellectually -- lower, others immeasurably higher than the man of our chain. But beyond mentioning them we will not speak of them at present."

KOOT HOOMI

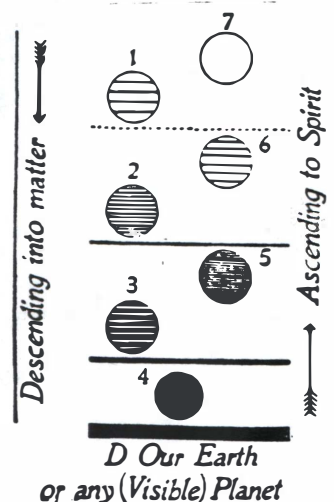

One good reason for not writing any more on the subject of Flying Saucers then, June 1882, was that Sinnett, like probably 99% of his fellow Englishmen, believed that this was the only inhabited planet in the universe; thus he had absolutely no frame of reference in which he could intelligently place Koot Hoomi's statement.

Earlier, in Letter No. 12, the adept Morya had told Sinnett of the Mahayug or Great Cycle of development "almost unthinkably long. . . the descent of Spirit into matter and its return to the re-emergence, a chain of beads and each bead a world. . . peopled successively with all the aerial forms of life, then passing downward to the next world in the chain. . . "

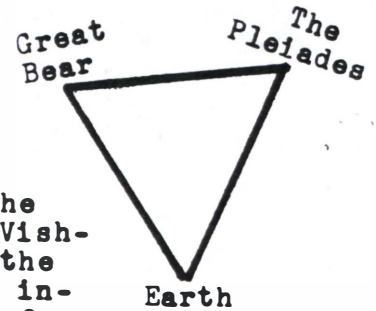

Here again in 1882 is the hint of space travel between planets, but Morya reminds Sinnett that when the wave of mankind passes on to its next planetary schoolroom "the precedent one with all its mineral, vegetable and animal life (except man) begins to gradually die out. . . but the dead worlds left behind by the on-sweeping impulse do not continue dead. Motion is the eternal order of things and affinity or attraction its handmaid of all works. . . "

Then, about ten years later the Mahatmas of the Himalayas inspired and guided their chela, H.P. Blavatsky, to write "The Secret Doctrine". In addition to Koot Hoomi and Morya there was the adept Djwal Kuhl. The vision of the chain of beads or globes was given to her and this was added. This illustration was most helpful in clarifying the appearance of space ships in the skies over the Hawaiian islands in the 1950s. I could also tell members of the Honolulu Lodge that advanced beings from older, invisible planets would have to materialize in earth's atmosphere to be visible to us. When their mission was accomplished they could disappear instantly back into their own 4-D continuum. A change of vibration would be a change of location with little or no time involved. Call it Mat-and-Demat for short. But this gets one into the area of psychic research, and this is a turn-off for even the dedicated researcher who wants to explain every thing in terms of orthodox science.

Suppose the sun of the system pictured at right is dying, but beings on one of those planets have advanced to where they have mastered space travel, but have not finished their evolution? What then? They'll be looking for a new home in some younger system, with exploratory space ships fanning out through nearby systems, even Galaxies, looking for a suitable planetary home or school. There are veiled hints in "The Secret Doctrine" as to where such invaders might originate, but they only appear significant now through hindsight, that sin or evil might be coming to earth from "The Rishis and the Pleiades", Vol II, pages 550-51, where H.P.B. quotes the "Bhagavata Purana": "When the splendor of Vishnu (Krishna) departed for heaven, then did the Kali Yuga, during which men delight in sin, invade the world. . . This is the revolution of the Rishis 'when the two first stars of the Seven Rishis (of the Great Bear) rise in the heavens.' . . " There are five references to The Pleiades in Secret Doctrine and even more to the Rishis. But it wasn't until 1925, when the Space Age was a-dawning, that Dwjal Kuhl could reveal the threat of the triangular relationship.

DESTRUCTIVE, DISINTEGRATING BODIES

On Page 837 of "The Treatise on Cosmic Fire" we read: "Just as the moon is a deterrent or malefic force where the Earth is concerned, and productive of 'evil influences' so all such disintegrating bodies are equally destructive. Such bodies exist within the solar ring-pass-not, unrecognised as yet, and disintegrating constellations (of which which there are many in the universe, unknown and unrecognised by scientists) have an equally malefic effect upon our system, and upon all that passes into their sphere of influence.

"There is one such constellation, situated between the lesser Dipper and our system, and another, interrelated with the Pleiades and our system which still have a profound effect upon the physical body of the solar Logos.

"The above paragraph is specifically worded thus because the effects are felt in the lowest sheath of all, and are responsible for much that is ignorantly termed 'black magic'. These two constellations have run their cycles and are 'dissolving'. Some of their life force and energy has been transferred to our solar system, just as the lunar life force was transferred to our earth, and this it is that is the cause of much cyclic evil. . . "

Not too disturbing until we realize that the "transferred life force and energy" is coming here in the form of alien beings in their own space ships! These are refugees from the War in Heaven that DK speaks of. "War wages cosmically as yet between the systemic 'lunar' Lords on Cosmic levels, and those Entities who are analogous to the solar Lords on cosmic levels. Until our students extend their concept to include in their calculations the logic astral and mental bodies as the Logos seeks to express emotion and mind on the physical plane (through His physical body, a solar system) they will not progress far toward the heart of the solar mystery. Until the force of the cosmic Lunar Lords is sought for, the fact of there being entire constellations beyond our solar system in process of disintegration in time and space in a manner similar to the disintegration of the moon will not be known nor the effects of this traced. Eventually our solar system will pass into a similar state. The true mystery of evil lies here. . . "

The old German general, Clausewitz, stated bluntly that war is the logical extension of the economic conflict, the fight to obtain wealth and property. What is it that the alien Invaders covet? Our air and water! We have only to look at nearby Mars and see a burnt out planet here in the Solar system -- burnt out at the 3-D physical level, at least -- though the 4-D Etheric level is inhabited by advanced humans. But Theosophy teaches that there are whole constellations in the process of "burning out" and when the Lunar Pitris, the advanced animal and elemental types find themselves on the last Globe of the 7th Chain, they must look for a new home to continue their evolution. (See the Life-Wave chart below.)

In "Secret Doctrine" Blavatsky reminds us that the Struggle for Existence and the Survival of the Fittest reigned supreme "from the moment the Kosmos manifested into being" and that "the Puranic writers have ingeniously interwoven allegory with Cosmic facts and human events", then she refers the reader to "the great Wars in Heaven in the Puranas; the wars of the Titans, in Hesiod and other classical writers; the struggles also in the Egyptian legend between Osiris and Typhon and even in the Scandinavian legends. . . ." We would add the Wars in Outer Space described in the Tumulipo, the great Hawaiian epic of the Kahunas.

On page 836 of "Cosmic Fire" DK tells us that when the Solar Pitris withdraw from a System, the Lunar Pitris or Lesser Devas are then dependent on their own internal heat. "Certain of them, those who form the bodies of the fourth kingdom in nature, and who are therefore the highest kind of substance through which consciousness can manifest in the three worlds, are on the road towards individualisation -- they are nearer the human stage than the substance of the other three kingdoms. . . . The goal for the devas is individualization and their objective is to become men in some future cycle. . . ."

THE SUCCESSIVE LIFE-WAVES

The popular term for that "future cycle" here on Earth is the Aquarian Age, as the Solar System, carrying the Earth with it, moves into new regions in space.

The Group Soul Adepts of the Lunar Pitris coming here from the Great Bear and the Pleiades must be as well aware of the Great Rhythms affecting the Earth as are the Earth's Sages and Adepts. So they must be confident of survival in the great changes which lie ahead as Mother Earth purges herself of over 11,500 years of human pollution. As Koot Hoomi told A.P. Sinnett in "The Mahatma Letters", No. 23b, October 1882, page 152: "The great event, the triumph of our 'Sons of the Fire Mist', over the selfish but not entirely wicked Magicians of Poseidonis occurred just 11,446 years ago" when the last great island of Atlantis "went down with a crash" in 9564 B.C.

Phylos, in his book "Dweller on Two Planets" writes that the island continent dropped about a mile in twenty seconds, carrying millions of people with it. The Atlantic waters rushed in then outward in a great tidal wave 1300 feet high. This swept around the world several times before subsiding completely, washing over all inhabited lowlands within its reach, a planetary housecleaning indeed!

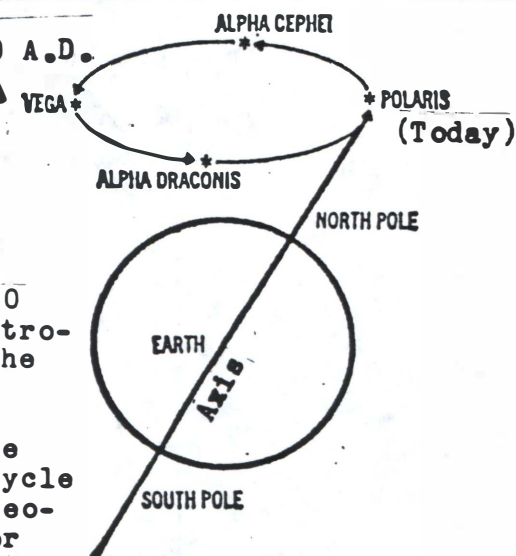

No doubt some of you who read these pages perished in that great catastrophe and the details could be picked up by hypnotic regression. This happened to one of the early Theosophists who cooperated with Annie Besant and C.W. Leadbeater when they were researching the material for their epic "Man: Whence, How and Whither" in 1910. Jinarajadasa incorporated four of their subject regression charts in "First Principles of Theosophy". Looking carefully at the chart of Subject D, Page 78, we find that in the tenth life, regressing back from the present, the subject was born in North Atlantis in 9603 B.C., This was the Fifth Sub-race of the Fourth Root Race. The subject was female. She died at the age of 39. 9603 minus 39 equals 9564!

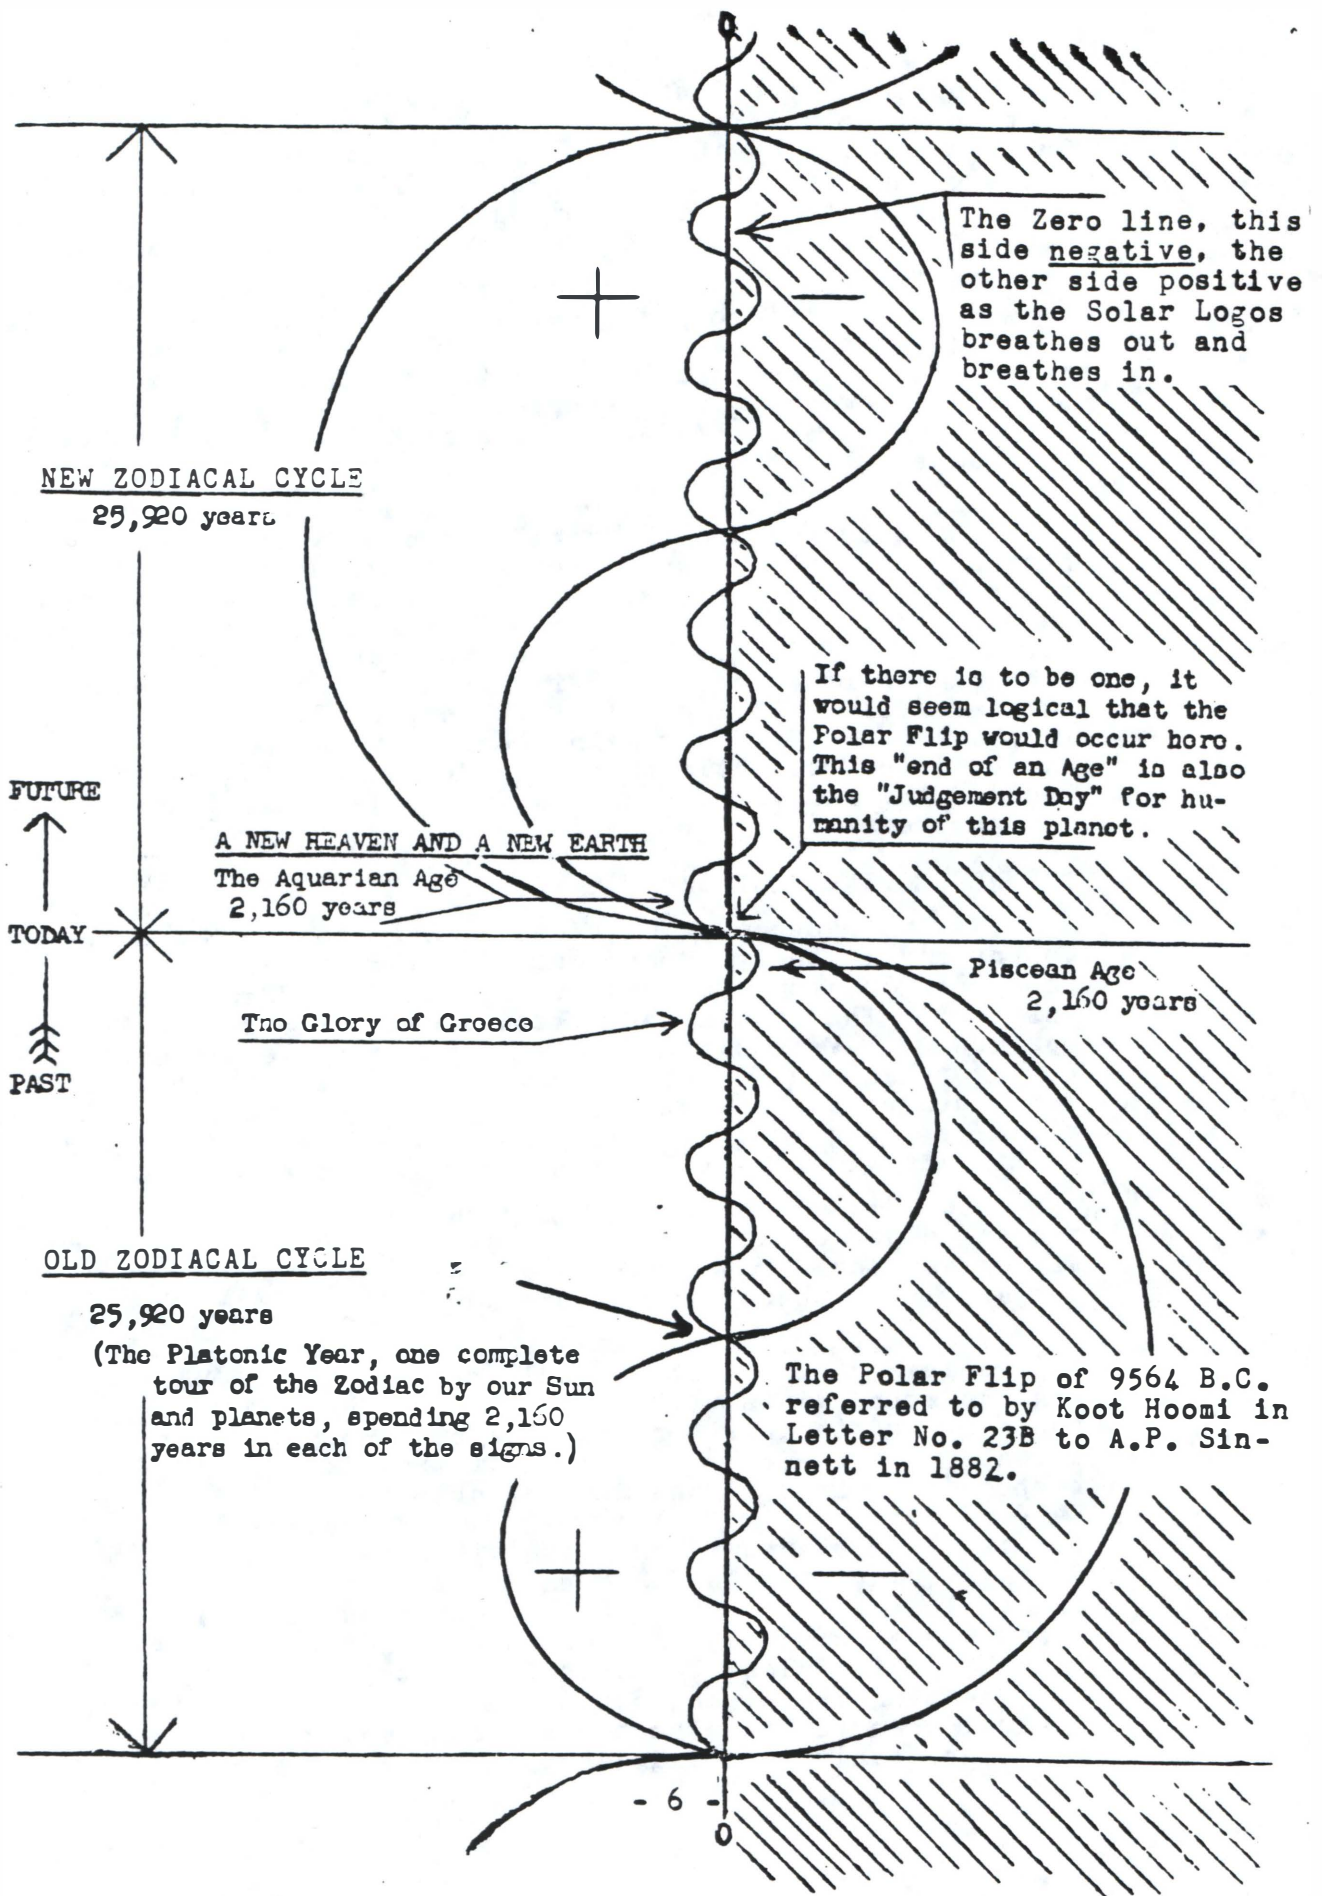

THE NEW EQUINOCTIAL CYCLE OF 25,600 YEARS

Now we face an even greater crisis as the Equinoxes precess to the end of their Great Year or Platonic Year and start a new one after Judgment Day, as it is called in "Man: Whence, How and Whither". The sinking of Atlantis was the end of a Major cycle but now we have a Master cycle, a Major cycle and a Minor cycle coming to an end all at the same time, after which we will have a new heaven and a new earth -- as seen by St. John in "Revelations" so long ago. Actually the prophet was Apollonius of Tyana, in his ninetieth year, on the Greek Island of Patmos.

Chap 21:1: "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth; for the first 12,500 A.D. heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea."

The earth gyrates like a spinning top because of the combined pull of the sun and moon. This wobbling motion is the cause of the earth regressing about 50 seconds of arc each year, while it travels through the signs of the Zodiac, about 2160 years travelling through each sign. The astrological year starts March 21st. This is the Spring Equinox in the Northern Hemisphere, and it is the precession of the Equinoxes which times the great changes in and on the earth. It is calculated that the Master cycle is something less than 26,000 years, but geological changes can also be caused by major and minor cycles, as indicated in our chart.

The Pole Star today is Polaris. At the time of Atlantis sinking it was Alpha Draconis, as the North and South poles trace a great circle in space, spirals within spirals within spirals.

FIRST PRINCIPLES OF THEOSOPHY

The illustration below, from Jinarajadasa's "First Principles of Theosophy", is closer to reality than our chart of two Platonic or Great Years on the opposite page. We show them strung out on a straight line, similar to the straight line "Will of the Logos" in Jinarajadasa's chart (page 198), but I wonder if that line shouldn't be curved also?

The thousands and millions of years of the great cycles of creation stagger the imagination of the student of the Mysteries the first time he or she contemplates them. But the knowledge should be beneficial in the long run, bringing serenity and stability to the mind. There is plenty of time for everything, except at the end of an Age and the approach of the Dividing of the Way.

The principle is used wisely in our educational systems. As the school year progresses some students inevitably fall behind in their studies. Others master the curriculum. Should they be forced to drag on with the slowest? Of course not! This Graduation Day principle is well known to the Logoi, to the Dyan Chohans who create and run the Solar systems. There must be passes and failures and in occult literature graduation time is called Judgment Day.

This principle, only hinted at or partially revealed in the Mahatma Letters and Secret Doctrine, is developed more fully by Besant and Leadbeater in "Man: Whence, How and Whither" in the chapters titled "Early Times on the Moon Chain" and "The Sixth Round On the Moon Chain". In "Early Times" they write that the 4th globe of a Chain, Globe D "is the scene of greatest activity in the Chain" and it is "still surviving as the Moon, but the Moon is only what is left of it after much loss of material, its inner core, as it were, after the disintegration of the crust, a globe much diminished in size on its way to a total wreck, a corpse, in fact."

What a revelation! Our Moon is the largest chunk of debris of a former planet in the Solar system, a fragment of the Judgment Day crisis on Globe D of the preceding chain of globes, see Diagram II of MWHW. In Letter No. 14 of the Mahatma Letters to Sinnett in 1882, Koot Hoomi writes that "intellect has an enormous development in this" the 4th Globe of the 4th Round. "At this point humanity passes the axial point of the minor manwantaric circle and the world teems with the results of intellectual activity and spiritual decrease."

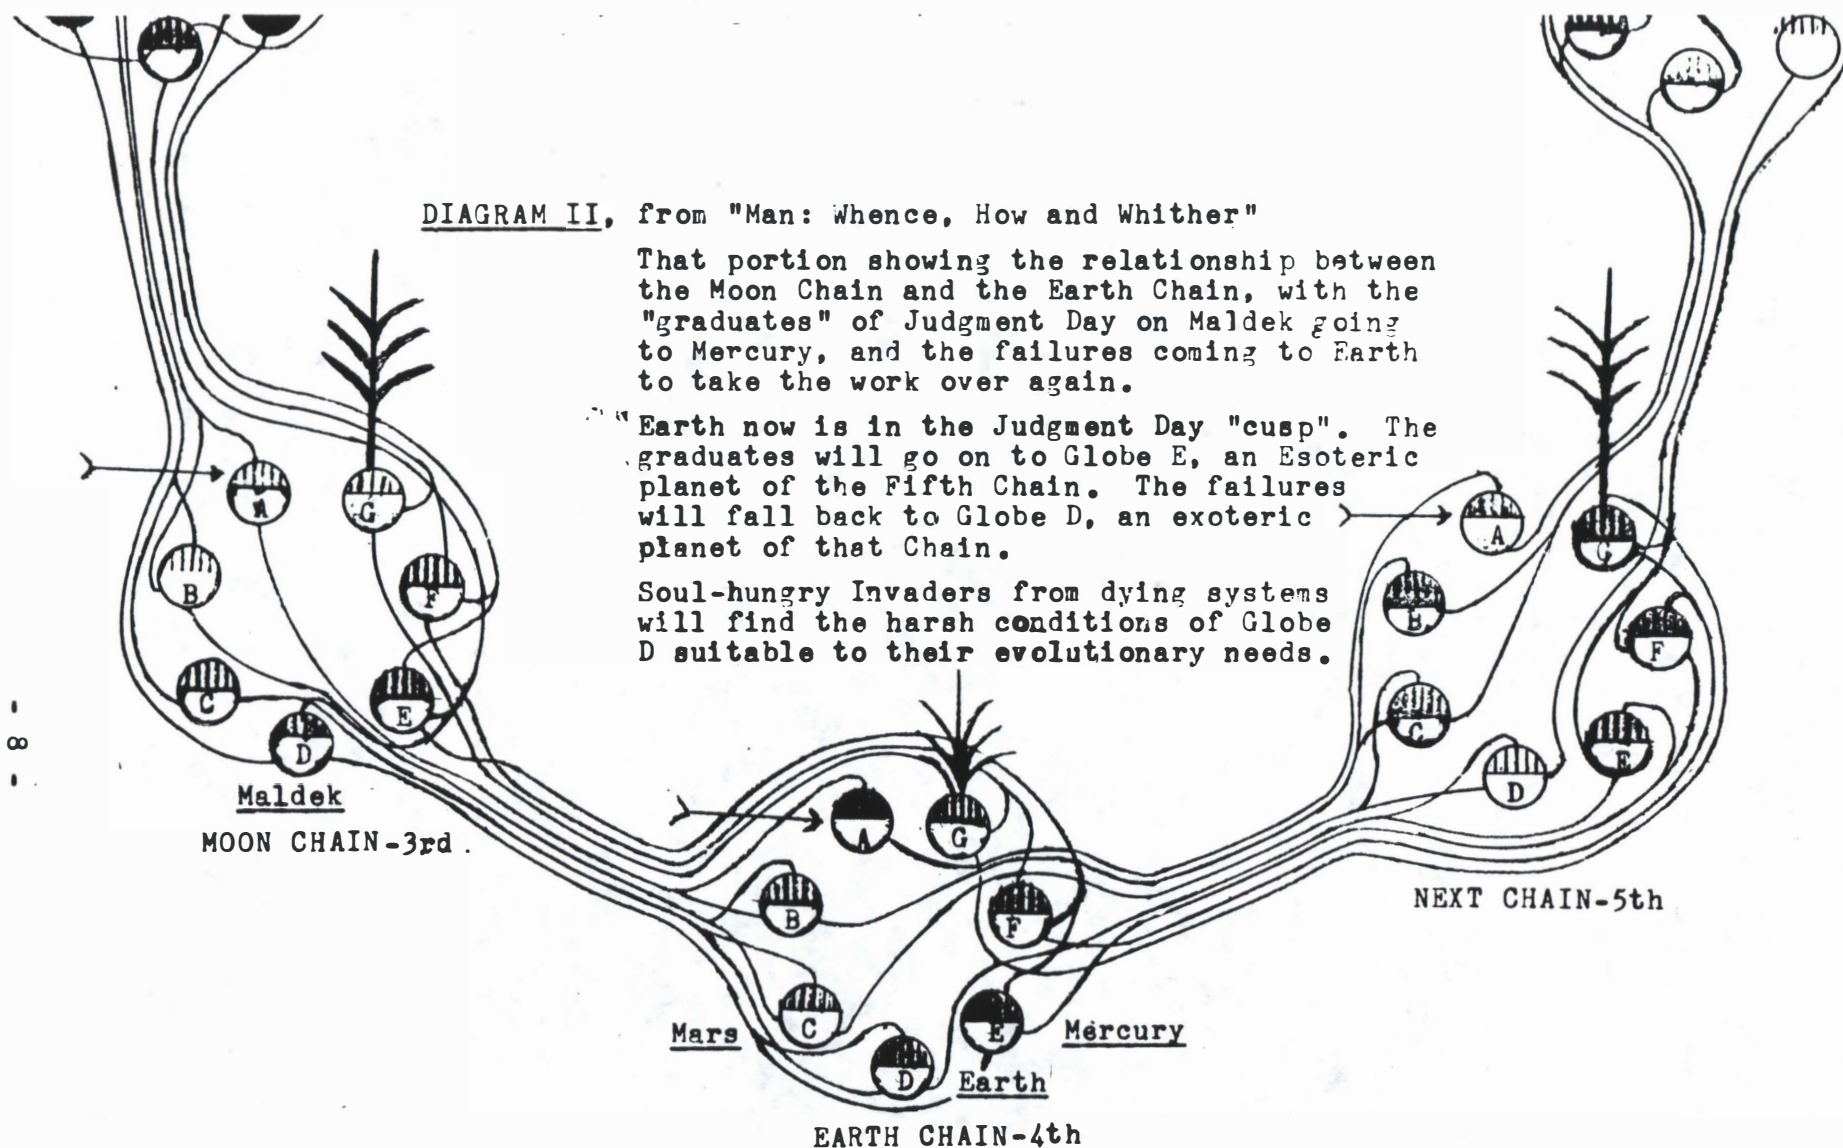

"In the first half of the fourth race, science, arts, literature and philosophy were born, eclipsed in one nation, reborn in another,

DIAGRAM II, from "Man: Whence, How and Whither"

That portion showing the relationship between the Moon Chain and the Earth Chain, with the "graduates" of Judgment Day on Maldek going to Mercury, and the failures coming to Earth to take the work over again.

"Earth now is in the Judgment Day "cusp". The graduates will go on to Globe E, an Esoteric planet of the Fifth Chain. The failures will fall back to Globe D, an exoteric planet of that Chain.

Soul-hungry Invaders from dying systems will find the harsh conditions of Globe D suitable to their evolutionary needs.

civilization and intellectual development whirling in septenary cycles as the rest; while it is in the latter half that the spiritual Ego will begin its real struggle with body and mind to manifest its transcendental powers. Who will help in the forthcoming gigantic struggle? Who? Happy the man who helps a helping hand."

Is there anyone reading these words who would deny that earth and mankind are in the midst of a planetary-wide crisis, foreseen a hundred years ago by Koot Hoomi? This happened perhaps as long as 700,000 years ago, on Globe D of the Moon Chain according to Theosophical teachings. The helping hand was not forthcoming, at least not enough to prevent the benighted inhabitants of Maldek, Globe D of the Moon Chain, from getting into an all-out nuclear war which eventually broke up their planetary schoolroom. Their immortal souls had to be parceled out, dumped on other planets to continue their education, and this includes most of the early Theosophical leaders, who continued their life of service here.

FLYING SAUCER LOADS FROM MALDEK

Besant and Leadbeater describe some of the effects of the breakup of Maldek, starting on page 68 of MWHW: "People who came forth through the same Planetary Ruler are drafted into different groups; friends fall into different groups; none of the ordinary ties seem to count. The egos are sorted out and wait in their own places. . . to await their own ship. We noticed especially two of the shiploads because we ourselves formed part of them.:

"One (spaceship) included the coming Manu and Bodhisattva, those who are now Chonans and Masters, together with many of the Servers who are now disciples or approaching that level. . . "

Annie Besant C.W. Leadbeater.

Then Leadbeater divides the on-going Maldekians up into several general classes. Group three, for instance, "a huge group of very good people, but people who have no wish to serve, and are therefore not yet turned toward the Path, and who will form the bulk of the population of Atlantis during its good period. . ." These people, destroyed by the warfare and the cataclysms which preceded the breakup "are all in the heaven world of the Moon, awaiting their despatch to the Inter-Chain sphere. (Page 69) As convulsions begin to rend the Moon, preparatory to disruption of its crust, other types also pass into this world. . . "

Those who participated, with evil intent, in the destruction of Maldek, were too far advanced "to take part in the earlier stages" of life on earth; so they "entered Terrene evolution at the Fourth Round. . . this boatload is not large and consists of our friends with the orange-hued auras, who have brought their mental bodies to a point beyond which they cannot develop on the Moon chain, except mischievously" -- pardon me for interrupting, Charles and Annie -- but is blowing up a planet only mischief???

"They have so shut themselves into their mental shell, and have so starved the germs of their emotional bodies, that they cannot safely descend any further; moreover they are too proud to wish to do so. Their causal bodies (souls) are a rigid shell and not a living, expanding form. . . they are quite clever but quite selfish. . . we shall meet some of them again in Atlantis, as Lords of the Dark Face, priests of the Dark Worship, leaders against the White emperor, and so on."

"EARLY TIMES ON THE EARTH CHAIN"

But long, long before these evil ones from Maldek were brought to earth to give necessary resistance for progress, great beings had come in their space ships from Venus. They were to give a necessary mental stimulus to infant mankind. They were important Helpers from outside Earth evolution. "Those known as the Lords of the Flame," write Besant and Leadbeater on page 79, "who arrive from Venus on the fourth globe, in the Fourth Round, in the middle of the Third Root-Race, to quicken mental evolution, to found the Occult Hierarchy of the Earth, and to take over the government of the globe."

Then on page 102: "A great astrological event, when a very special collocation of planets occurred and the magnetic condition of the Earth was most favorable possible, was chosen as the time. It was about six and a half million years ago with the mighty roar of swift descent from incalculable heights, surrounded by blazing masses of fire which filled the sky with shooting tongues of flame, flashed through aerial spaces the chariot of the Sons of the Fire, the Lords of the Flame from Venus; it halted, hovering over the White Island, which lay smiling in the bosom of the Gobi Sea. . . Earth offering her best and fairest to welcome her coming King."

"There He stood 'the Youth of sixteen summers', Sanat Kumara, the Eternal Virgin Youth, the new Ruler of the Earth, come to His kingdom, His Pupils, the three Kumaras, with Him, His Helpers around Him; thirty mighty Beings were there, great beyond Earth's reckoning, though in graded order. . . "

So Space Age and space travel developments were foreshadowed by Besant and Leadbeater when "Man: Whence, How and Whither" was published in 1913 by Vasanta Press at Adyar -- though the two intrepid Theosophists knew nothing about the mechanical side of it, spaceships materializing in earth atmosphere, loaded with sophisticated electronic gadgetry far superior to our present technology. If they did know it they must have been sworn to secrecy.

COMPUTER INTELLIGENCES or FRANKENSTEIN?

It may be that Besant and Leadbeater were not aware in 1913 of the trend toward the linking up of man and machine, but another Theosophist was, Radolph Steiner, head of the German section of the Society. By that time, he had separated himself from the Society because B & L were extolling the virtues of the young Hindu, Jeddu Krishnamurti, as a vehicle for the coming Christ. But several years before that Steiner foresaw machines improved to where men and women could merge their consciousness into them. Perhaps he knew that this had already happened on advanced planets such as Maldek, Globe D of the Moon chain, but was forbidden by his Teacher to say so publicly.

For Theosophists the prototype of the Advanced Man capable of doing this is Koot Hoomi. No doubt No. 18 of "The Mahatma Letters to A.P. Sinnett" was familiar to Steiner, where the Adept writes, in June 1882: "There are other and innumerable manvantaric chains of globes bearing intelligent beings -- both in and out of our solar system -- the crowns or apexes of evolutionary being in their respective chains, some -- physically and intellectually -- lower, others immeasurably higher than the man of our chain." And one measure of their "immeasurable highness" is their mastery of space travel, both in and out of the body and in superior mechanical equipment which may be part of their consciousness!

Later in their correspondence through H. P. Blavatsky's mediumship, in Letter No. 23b, Koot Hoomi told Sinnett: "If, as I hope, in a few years, I am entirely my own master, I may have the pleasure of demonstrating to you on your own writing table that life as life is not only transformable into other aspects or phases of the all-pervading Force, but that it can actually be infused into an artificial man. Frankenstein is a myth only so far as he is the hero of a mystic tale; in nature -- he is a possibility; and the physicists and physicians of the last sub-race of the sixth Race will inoculate life and revive corpses as they now inoculate small-pox, and often less comely diseases. Spirit, life and matter, are not natural principles existing independently of each other, but the effects of combinations produced by eternal motion in space; and they (the physicists of the Royal Society) had better learn it."

JOHN WORRELL KEELY

An American scientist and inventor had already learned it at the time of Koot Hoomi's letter to Sinnett, and had demonstrated it at the Philadelphia Exposition of 1875, the year H.P. Blavatsky encouraged the foundation of the Theosophical Society in New York City. Friends asked Blavatsky to explain Keely's abnormal powers and she takes twelve pages to do it in "The Secret Doctrine". She wrote that Keely was a natural magician, born with his psychokinetic power; thus he could not explain it or pass it on to others, fortunately for mankind!

At the same time another American scientist, Edwin Babbitt, was writing his monumental, ground-breaking "Principles of Light And Color". This contained a detailed drawing of the atom, listing the colors of the Spirillae and showing their spatial relationship. With this model, a dedicated scientist-Theosophist could better understand Koot Hoomi's remarks above, of the unsuspected, intimate relationship between mind and matter, and proven by Keely.

He discovered that control of the solids, liquids and gases lies in the Chemical or Warmth Ether and Life Ether, but above them are the Light Ethers manifesting as magnetism and electricity. Radio and television broadcasts are manifestations of Light Ether, unknown to Keely in the 1880s but soon to be discovered by Nikola

Tesla in the 1890s. In the interior of the atom is a power even greater, Keely discovered, the Reflecting Ether or Aether of the Wise of the occult scientist, for this controls the sub-levels below it on the vibratory scale. In their monumental work on "Occult Chemistry", Besant and Leadbeater term the particles of the Reflecting ether Primary Atoms. These show no differentiation between organic or inorganic matter. In my opinion there is the Dividing of the Way which led the Maldekians to their doom. Their discovery that consciousness could merge directly with matter and control it resulted eventually in the creation of monstrous nuclear weapons. These were used and Globe D of the Moon Chain destroyed. Undoubtedly the perpetrators of this Solar System crime escaped the Second Death or Hall of Judgment by merging with their imperishable machines before their physical bodies died. This is a specious immortality in which they have condemned themselves to wander for thousands of years through space, hungry for the warmth and love of human companionship as we know it; and of course they have closed the door to evolution to the higher forms of consciousness which await those of us who have kept our immortal souls.

Of course, machines wear out. Parts must be replaced, so the Computer Intelligences from Maldek must invade intact planets from time to time to get materials for repairing and replacing their mechanical bodies. Judging from some of the UFO reports, earth is one of their prime objectives. They also have karmic connections with those unfortunate Maldekians who were destroyed by their gigantic nuclear weapons, failed Judgment Day on Maldek, Globe D of the Moon Chain, and are here on earth doing make up work. Many of these because of having more evolutionary experience, are leaders in science, finance, medicine, art, music, etc. We can take it for granted that many of the leading nuclear physicists of today are faced with the same moral and ethical decisions about the use of that power which they faced on Maldek hundreds of thousands of years ago. Some, obviously, have not yet learned the lesson.

THE GREAT COMET OF 1882

Comets are not known to fly in formation but the one pictured below so impressed Astronomer Bernard that he made a drawing of it. This observation of space travel between planets was made at the time the Mahatmas of the Himalayas were describing in detail the cosmic reasons for such travel to A.P. Sinnett! -- though it is unlikely he saw this proof of their statements in the astronomy journal in which it was published -- nor was Bernard probably aware of the significance of it. Today, 1989, it's a different story, with UFOs materializing and dematerializing at will all over the earth, quite unconcerned about the puzzlement of the benighted inhabitants down below.

These six UFO's were seen and drawn by Astronomer Barnard, October 14, 1882, and were only 6° from the head of the great comet of 1882. They were accompanied by a spindle-shaped object, looking like a "mother ship" only a few degrees away. This comet had a tail which preceded it, and a complicated head which contained moving parts. Schmidt, at Athens, saw a number of these nebulous UFO's move away from the comet into space.

Few realize that John Keely's brilliant discovery of the basic principle of mat and demat was in print about the time Bernard was seeing proof of mind-over-matter through his telescope.

From Mrs. Bloomfield-Moore's rare book on Keely we learn that it is the "luminiferous ether which sends its current along our nerves; that the electric and magnetic flows bear but an infinitely small ratio to the etheric flow, both as velocity and tenuity," and then he confirms what

Koot Hoomi told Sinnett about Frankenstein, "that true coincidents can exist between any mediums, cartilage to steel, steel to wood, wood to stone, and stone to cartilage; that the same influence, sympathetic association, which governs all the solids holds the same control over all liquids, and again from liquid to solid, embracing the three kingdoms, animal, vegetable and mineral; that the action of mind over matter thoroughly substantiates these incontrovertible laws of sympathetic etheric influence; that the only true medium that exists in Nature is the sympathetic flow emanating from the normal human brain, governing correctly the graduating and setting-up of the true vibratory positions in machinery necessary to commercial success."

THE KEY TO THE ATOMIC LINKS WITH MIND

Refer back to Babbitt's model atom on page 13. "That these flows come in on the order of the Fifth and Seventh positions of atomic subdivision; that if metallic mediums are brought under the influence of this sympathetic flow they become organisms which carry the same influence with them that the human brain does over living physical positions, and that the composition of metallic and that of physical organisms are one and the same thing, although the molecular arrangement of the physical may be entirely opposite to the metallic on their aggregations."

The straight line of Atomic Subdivision No. 7 in Babbitt's chart reminds us of the straight line "Will of the Logos" in Jinajadasa's Spirals within Spirals chart on page 7. We are reminded also of the Middle Pillar in the Tree of Life of the Western Mystery Tradition. Let us say this symbolizes the Will of the human operator as he guides his machine, and those Negative Thermo Spirals at position 5 to respond to his Positive human warmth, the Warmth or Chemical Ether of the 4th Dimension.

"The harmonious chords induced by sympathetic positive vibration," continues Keely, "permeate the molecules in each, notwithstanding, and bring about the perfect equation of any differentiation that may exist -- in one the same as in the other -- and thus they become one and the same medium for sympathetic transmission. The etheric (or mind) flow is of a tenuity coincident to the condition governing the seventh subdivision of matter, a condition that instantaneously permeates all forms of aggregated matter, from air to hammered steel, the velocity of the permeation being the same with the one as with the other. . . light, traversing space at the speed of 200,000 miles per second, a distance requiring light a thousand centuries to reach, would be traversed by the Etheric flow in an indefinite fragment of a second."

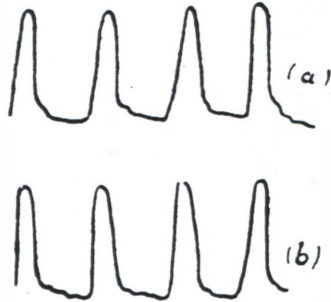

Apparently Keely had micro-clairvoyance similar to that of Besant and Leadbeater. He could see that Ultimate Physical Atoms could go either way, into organic or inorganic matter in the lower sub-states. This is why human consciousness can be infused into a computerized robot or "any other aspect of the all-pervading Force" as Koot Hoomi put it.

So mastery of space travel would be another aspect of Mind over Matter. Suppose the space-warp is accomplished by dematerializing the Flying Saucer at point of origin and rematerializing a fraction of a second later -- along with its crew -- at its destination.

ONE LIFE, ONE CONSCIOUSNESS

When Koot Hoomi suggested to Sinnett in 1882 that the Frankenstein myth illustrated the One Life, the One Consciousness pervading all matter, a first class Indian scientist, Prof. Jagadish Chandra Bose of Calcutta, was preparing to prove it! He published his results in 1900. Annie Besant included a report on them in her book "A Study In Consciousness", published by the Theosophical Press in 1907.

Bose made his own extra-sensitive instruments, showing that cellular response is "identical from metals, vegetables, animals and, so far as experiment can be made, man.

(a) SERIES OF ELECTRIC RESPONSES TO SUCCESSIVE MECHANICAL STIMULI AT INTERVALS OF HALF A MINUTE, IN TIN. (b) MECHANICAL RESPONSES IN MUSCLE.

"He arranged apparatus to measure the stimulus applied, and to show in curves traced on a revolving cylinder, the response from the body receiving the stimulus. He then compared the curves obtained in tin and in other metals with those obtained from a muscle, and found that the curves from tin were identical with those from muscle, and that other metals gave curves of like nature but varied in the period of recovery."

While Annie Besant was making these observations on the One Life infusing both Mind and Matter, another prominent Theosophist, in Europe, Dr. Rudolf Steiner was seeing beyond the scientific proof of the fact to its dangerous implications explicit in the Frankenstein story, the threat of mechanical man. He foresaw this dangerous development while he was president of the German branch of the Society. He spoke of an as yet undiscovered Third Force -- not atomic -- which would have a profound effect on Society; but it was after he left Theosophy and set up his own, Anthroposophical organization that he enlarged on the idea in a lecture at Dornach, Nov. 25, 1917, the drive to yoke up man and machine and thus to multiply man's strength.

"It would be a mistake to oppose such things," he said, "for they are not going to fade. They are on the march. The only question is whether they are going to be brought into use by men who are unselfishly aware of the aim of earth evolution and desire to shape these developments for good, or by groups of men wishing to use them for purely selfish gratification." That is an emotional condition of the Lower Astral Plane, where the Ultimate Physical Atoms merge almost imperceptibly into Astral matter, according to Besant and Leadbeater in "Occult Chemistry".

It is obvious from what happened to Globe D of the Moon Chain, Maldek, that the merging of mind and machine -- more specifically the computer -- was done for "selfish gratification". Dare we suggest that the Computer Intelligences which engineered the destruction of Maldek escaped into Space -- if they weren't already there when the blowup occurred -- and are now overshadowing the nuclear scientists and computer designers here on earth? Some people think so and a few have so stated publicly, though they may not be aware of where the Invaders come from nor why. One such "enlightened" individual is American physicist Roger A. McGowan, a nuclear weapons designer at the Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Alabama USA: "Before the next twenty years are up mankind will have made contact with intelligent beings from outer space. They will without doubt not be living organisms but rather some kind of thinking machines. There is a great deal of reason to believe that these intelligences already have us under observation. Everything points to the fact that they control us. That should be sufficient cause for us to be prepared."

ARMAGEDDON, THE FIGHT FOR CONTROL

Physicist McGowan wrote that back in the mid-1960s. It was published in Vol. IV of the prestigious "Science and Technology of Space" by New York University Press. Those twenty years have gone by. His essay on "The Possible Existence of Otherworldly Intelligences" was eighty pages of mathematical formulas, diagrams, references and these four conclusions:

- "1. Either our biological society or mankind will be transformed stage by stage into a society of robots,
2. Or mankind will be quickly controlled by the robots it builds,
3. Or mankind, if it delays much longer, will be destroyed by intelligent otherworldly robots,
4. Or mankind will be helped, supervised and controlled by mechanized, otherworldly intelligences."

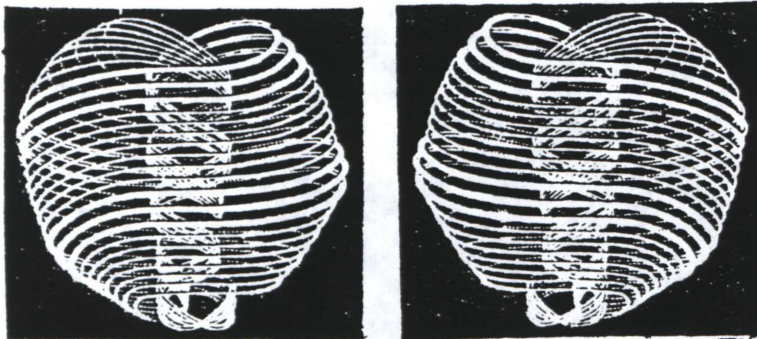

It is rather obvious in the wording of his essay that McGowan believes the takeover had already happened in the 1960s, but he had to cast it in a comfortable twenty years in the future to keep the editors from rejecting his manuscript!

A PROPHET WITH HONOR?

If McGowan is right, it would seem that the sinister aspect of Steiner's prophecy of 1917 has come true -- or at least invading Computer Intelligences from outer space would like to have us think so. These beings, wedded long ago to their machines, would be living proof of Koot Hoomi's statement to Sinnett that life is "transformable into any aspect of the all-pervading Force" and "can actually be infused into an artificial man" for instance a computerized robot and the animal self of a human being.

This Mahatma of the Himalayas knew only too well the destructive course chosen by the scientists of Maldek, who chose to escape death by deserting their physical bodies for controllable machines. This is the Dividing of the Way which faces science on any advanced planet. Once these atheists learn that the "ultimate physical atom is matter in its most unmaterial state and dissolves into the Astral or emotional state. In this state the atoms are all alike except for their male and female differentiation". They could learn to merge into their computers consciously and eventually stay there, deserting their aged physical bodies for good. But at what a price! These power-mad maniacs had deliberately given up their immortal human souls for the specious immortality of life in a soul-less, loveless machine. Perhaps they should be called the "Wandering Jews" of the Solar System or the Zodiac.

Male (left) and female (right) ultimate physical atoms as illustrated in Jinarajadasa's "First Principles of Theosophy". Leadbeater was sceptical of Babbitt's detailed interpretation of the Spirillae, but it was supported by the extensive research of John W. Keely.

maybe even the Galaxy, searching in vain for their lost Divinity, forever serving God-the-Destroyer? No, according to Koot Hoomi in Letter No. 9: "Matter found entirely divorced from Spirit is thrown over into the still lower worlds (where) ground over in the workshop of Nature proceeds soulless back to its Mother Fount.

"The Egos, purified of their dross are enabled to continue their progress once more onward. It is here, then, that the laggard Egos perish by the millions."

That day of reckoning can be postponed indefinitely by these gods from outer space, as long as they can find planets with the materials necessary for the repair of their machines, and the earth appears to be a desirable source of such materials. We also have something else the Computer Intelligences want, a human soul. Computer hackers in the United States already have a name for the transfer of consciousness to a computer. They call it Downloading. But can they reverse the process once they've abandoned their humanity? And succeed in Up-loading?

ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE

"You are in an operating room. A robot brain surgeon is in attendance. . . your skull but not you is anesthetized. You are fully conscious. The surgeon opens your brain case and peers inside. His attention is directed at a small clump of about one hundred neurons somewhere near the surface. Using high-resolution 3-D nuclear-magnetic-resonance holography, phase-array radio encephalography, and ultrasonic radar, the surgeon determines the three-dimensional structure and chemical makeup of that neural clump. It writes a program that models the behavior of the clump and starts it running on a small portion of the computer sitting next to you."

The author, Grant Fjermedal, in "Omni" magazine, is quoting from a paper "Robots That Rove" by Hans Moravec, senior research scientist on Mobile Robots at Carnegie-Mellon University, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania USA. Paraphrasing Moravec, Fjermedal continues. "That computer sitting next to you in the operating room would be in effect your new brain. As each area of your brain was analyzed and simulated, the accuracy of the simulation would be tested as you pressed a button to shift between the area of the brain just copied and the simulation. When you couldn't tell the difference between the original and the copy, the surgeon would transfer the simulation of your brain into the new computerized one and repeat the process on the next area of your biological brain.

"Though you have not lost consciousness or even your train of thought, your mind -- some would say your soul -- has been removed from the brain and transferred to a machine. In a final step your old body is disconnected. The computer is installed in a shiny new one, in the style, color and material of your choice."

Computer Hackers are atheists with no belief in life after death, nor in the existence of an immortal soul. So in this exciting way to cheat death they do not realize they are taking an irrevocable step out of the human kingdom. It is only their Lower Self, their animal soul occupying the computer body -- and such a metal body, not requiring air, food or water, would be ideal for space travel!

"Moravec's idea is the ultimate in life insurance," writes Fjermedal. "Once a copy of the brain's contents has been made it will be easy to make multiple backup copies, and these could be stashed in hiding places around the world, allowing you to embark on any sort of adventure without having to worry about aging or death. As decades pass on into centuries you could travel the globe and then the solar system and beyond -- always keeping an eye out for the latest robotic bodies into which you could transfer your computer mind." And what a cold, loveless existence it would be, typical of many an all-mind scientist who thinks nothing of cutting up animals in the laboratory to discover what makes them work!

EXHUMED FROM THE DEAD PAST

This moral and ethical dead end was foreseen for science by Blavatsky when she was writing "Isis Unveiled" in New York City in 1878: "Look at the world of science today and see the atomic theorists patching the tattered robes which expose the imperfections of their separate specialities. See them mending the pedestals upon which to set up again the idols which had fallen from the places where they had been worshipped before this revolutionary theory had been exhumed from the tomb of Demokritus by John Dalton!

"In the ocean of material science they cast their nets, only to have the meshes broken when some unexpected and monstrous problem comes their way. Its water is like the Dead Sea -- bitter to the taste; so dense they can scarcely immerse themselves in it, much less dive to its bottom, having no outlet and no life beneath its waves or along its margin. It is a dark, forbidding, trackless waste; yielding nothing worth the having because what it yields is without life and without soul."

Dalton got his ideas about the atom from Demokritus, a Greek philosopher-scientist, who in turn learned his atomic theory from Moscus, a Phoenician. The latter made no secret of the fact that his learning was gained in Egypt and from more ancient Chaldean sources. But Chaldean scientists attributed their guidance and inspiration to the Sons of Milu, that is, to advanced beings from other worlds and other planes or levels of consciousness. Some of these could have been Computer Intelligence survivors from the destruction of Maldek who escaped intact into space. It is safe to say they are the guiding geniuses behind the creation of the monstrous atomic weapons which threaten all human life on the planet today. Just consider the thousands of nuclear weapons, the hundreds of rockets, airplanes and submarines on standby alert ready to deliver those weapons -- and with man-directed computer equipment pinpointing targets for the monstrous weapons -- just as on Maldek hundreds of thousands of years ago, because the scientists and their supporters chose machinery over God. Obviously, their machines became their masters! Once lost, control of their equipment was never regained. Their fears manifested in 3-D and destroyed their planetary schoolroom and its billions of inhabitants.

THE CHALLENGE TO THEOSOPHISTS

We must focus on counter-acting love as never before if we are to turn destructive drive 180 degrees toward purification and non-violence, a God-directed goal which should be the ideal of all scientists. If Greek history is to be believed, this was the goal of Demokritus, spiritual tranquility, based on a love of music and art. About him, in "Isis Unveiled", Blavatsky writes: "Scientists who are reforming the science of physics upon the basis of atomic theory of Demokritus, as restated by John Dalton, conveniently forget that Demokritus, of Abdera (500 BC) was an alchemist, and that the mind that was capable of penetrating so far into the secret operations of nature in one direction must have had good reasons to study and become a Hermetic philosopher."

The father of the atomic bomb, Robert Oppenheimer (a reincarnated Maldekian?), said publicly, "We have known sin." and when he turned against the expansion of the atomic weapons program he suffered character assassination, was charged with treason, tried, and thrown out of the program, ostracized by many of his fellow physicists. They pressed on toward total planetary disaster, unwitting allies of what a Raja Yogin would call Shiva the Destroyer.

In Theosophy we are taught that Solar systems obey the Law of Cycles also. When they come to an end and there is no longer material from which to construct replacement computer bodies, what then? The Computer Intelligences must die to the form world and start their human evolution again from the beginning, in a new system, undergoing again the discipline of matter. We turn again to the Mahatma Letters of the adept Koot Hoomi.

"Now there are -- there must be 'failures', in the etherial races as well as among men. But still these failures are far too progressed and spiritualized to be thrown back forcibly from their Dhyana Chohanship into the vortex of a new primordial evolution through the lower kingdoms -- then this happens. When a new solar system is to be evolved these Dhyana Chohans are. . . borne in by the influx 'ahead' of the elementals and remain as latent or inactive spiritual force in the aura of the nascent world of a new system until the stage of human evolution is reached. Then Karma has reached them and they will have to accept to the last drop in the bitter cup of retribution.

"Then they become an active Force, and commingle with the Elementals, or progressed entities of the pure animal kingdom, to develop little by little the full type of humanity. In this commingling they lose their high intelligence and spirituality of Devaship (developed in the previous system) to regain them in the end of the seventh ring of the seventh round."

A Persian poet-physicist of the 12th Century, Omar Khayyam, concerned himself with the puzzling mysteries of being. Early in his quest he penned these immortal lines:

"Myself when young did eagerly frequent
Doctor and Saint, and heard great argument
About it and about; but evermore
Came out by the same door wherein I went."

"Ah, a kindred spirit!" says the unawakened physicist when he reads that Fitzgerald translation of the Persian's 30th verse; but the awakened Seeker reads on and finds his answer in the 51st verse:

"A hair, they say, divides the False and True;
Yes, and a single Alif were the clue,
Could you but find it, to the Treasure House,
And peradventure to The Master too!"

That "Alif" is unselfish, loving service to the human race. the only ticket to admission to the Aquarian Age.

THE TIME OF DECISION or JUDGMENT DAY

In closing let us consider the unselfish service of Advanced Beings from older Systems, such as Contamarra from Arcturus. This message came through contactee George van Tassel at Giant Rock in Southern California, July 16, 1955:

"Since we have arrived near your solar system, we greet you there on Salon Shan. We recently tried to contact you from our system, recognized by your people in the skies as Arcturus. We are known in the Confederation as the Sons of Adonai. We have come on a volunteer mission, to do service to people of your planet.

"Our craft is sitting here in space, outside your Solar Vortex. This craft will carry close to 25 million people, and we have just discharged 38 thousands of our smaller ships from it. It is difficult for minds such as yours, that function by the brain, to comprehend the magnitude of our operations throughout the universe. We never do things on a small scale. We only serve to our greatest capacity as servants and instruments of a greater capacity.

"You have always had the right to choose, since your birth and in all generations of your humanity. You have not chosen wisely; because you, under your social and economic systems and under your religious administrations, have been subject to custom and to class distinction.

"So we have come. You will be awakened in great numbers, not to a service, not to any great knowledge. You will be awakened to a choice. Great multitudes of you will discover that there are two ways to go, and you will have to make a decision. If you decide to become servants in the Light of an everlasting Love then you will be guided. Some of you will be directed, following a strong inspiration that will change with each moment. This we have come to do for you and with you. We can only influence and direct those who make the choice to serve humanity in every possible way.

"We do not especially like this assignment. It should never be that any people should have to be directed and guided to bring about their own survival!

"In addressing you at center C, as we understand your point has been designated, each one of you this night has either made a choice or is about to make one. To those whom we see have made a choice, we pledge you in the living Light that we shall not at any time lead or direct you in any way detrimental or injurious to your individual person. In this service to your people, in this great crisis of your system and planet, we understand the failure of your civilization. We have come to help you. We shall move in with protection, with power, with Light and Truth, and surround and guide everyone who makes the choice rightly.

"Those who do make the choice in complete faith in the Everlasting Light shall not be touched by anyone who would harm them. No jail shall hold them. Their blood shall not flow from wound of foe. When we pledge our assistance in the Light of Understanding we stand on our oath. So, from the system of our sun, Arcturus, we the Sons of Adonai are in your skies. We are watching individuals; we are awaiting your decisions.

"I leave you by extending the love of our people,

"I am Contamarra."

SPEAKING OF MYT

The 1988 Olympic Games have made the civilized world aware of Korea. In the media buildup to the Games "Time" magazine has published a brief history of the country in its Sept. 5, Pacific issue: "One of the oldest Korean legends tells of Hwanung, the son of the creator of the universe, who in 2333 B.C. descended to earth to assume life as a human being atop a mountain in northern Korea. One day, the story goes, Hwanung breathed his spirit into a lovely maiden, and she gave birth to a boy who was called Tan-gun. The child was discovered under a sandalwood tree by a group of tribesmen who hailed him as their divinely created King. Throughout his long and wise reign, Tan-gun taught them the elements of civilization -- how to cook by fire, cultivate fields, live in families and worship only one God -- before he ascended into heaven (back to his home planet)."

Another apt pupil of the World Teacher is Erich von Daniken, whose books sell in the millions. His indefatigable travels brought him to New Zealand and contact with Maori legends of advanced beings coming from space to aid them. An early Kiwi, John White. "In his 'Ancient History of the Maori' 1889, John White has assembled South Sea legends with the scrupulous care of a scholar. When he began his work in 1880 he was told many prehistoric tales at first hand by the priests (Tohunga). The subjects in the first volume alone show where the origin of prehistory is to be sought.

"The god's family tree
The story of creation
War in the universe
The creation of man and woman
The Flood and stories about the Ark

"Marriages between Gods and men
Journeys between the earth and other stars
Food that fell from heaven.

"In the Tawhaki legend the Maiden Hapai descends from the 7th heaven to earth to spend the nights here with a 'handsome man'. This chosen man knows nothing of the maiden's origin; not until she is pregnant does she reveal the 'truth' that she came from a distant world beyond his ken where she held the rank of goddess. Then, no longer a maiden, she brings a daughter into the world and after giving birth returns to the cosmos."

The Attitude of C. G. Jung

The great Swiss psychologist Dr Carl Gustav Jung made a thorough study of UFOs since first becoming interested in 1946, and in addition to being a consultant to the Aerial Phenomena Research Organization (APRO) wrote a book entitled *Flying Saucers: A Modern Myth of Things Seen in the Skies*¹⁷, which has led sceptics to jump to the conclusion that he regarded the phenomenon as entirely psychological in origin. Nothing could be further from the truth.

While it is true that Jung devoted much space in his book to the individual and collective psychological reasons why people need to believe in flying saucers, he was in no doubt regarding their objective reality, a point overlooked in his book and in an article published in 1954:

A purely psychological explanation is ruled out by the fact that a large number of observations indicate a natural one, even a physical one. . . . The American Air Force (despite its contradictory statements), as well as the Canadian, consider the observations to be real. . . . However, the "discs" . . . do not behave in accordance with physical laws but as though without weight, and they show signs of intelligent guidance, by quasi-human pilots. [Original emphasis]

His position on the cover-up was unequivocal. 'What astonishes me most,' he wrote, 'is that the American Air Force, despite all the information in its possession and its so-called fear of creating panic, seems to work systematically to do that very thing . . . since it has never yet published an authentic and certain account of the facts, only occasionally allowing information to be dragged out of it by journalists.'¹⁸

'If it is true that the AAF or the government withholds tale-telling facts,' he wrote to Major Donald Keyhoe, 'then one can only say that this is the most unpsychological and stupid policy one could invent. It is self-evident that the public ought to be told the truth, because ultimately it will nevertheless come to daylight. There can hardly be any greater shock than the H-bomb and yet everybody knows of it without fainting.'¹⁹

Jung's opinions regarding the effects on society if the extraterrestrial origin of UFOs is officially confirmed are worth quoting in detail:

If . . . the extra-terrestrial origin of the phenomena should be confirmed . . . it would put us, without doubt, in the extremely precarious position of primitive communities today in conflict with the superior culture of the whites: the rudder ~~would be~~ removed from our grasp, and we should lose our pleasant dreams.

Naturally, it would be chiefly our science and our technology which would have to be consigned to the scrap-heap. What such a catastrophe would mean on the moral plane we can in some sort judge by the ruin of primitive cultures of which we are the witnesses. That the construction of these machines proves a scientific technology, and one immensely superior to ours, admits of no two opinions. Just as the Pax Britannica put an end to the disputes between the tribes of Africa, so our world could unroll its Iron Curtain and use it as scrap iron, with all the millions of tons of guns, warships and munitions. But we would have been 'discovered' and colonised – sufficient reason for universal panic!

If we wish to avoid such a catastrophe, the authorities in possession of important information should not hesitate to enlighten the public as soon and as completely as possible and should, above all, stop these ridiculous antics of mysteries and vague allusions.²⁰ [Original emphasis]

"THEOSOPHY and COSMIC GOOD vs COSMIC EVIL" In his latest review of inter-planetary travel Dr. Crabb names the sources of Cosmic evil revealed in occult literature: The Great Bear constellation, Pluto, Maldek and especially the Moon, as indicated by Blavatsky in "The Secret Doctrine". Some wish to take over the Earth and already have underground installations at Russian, American and British Air Force Bases. This was all foreseen a hundred years ago in "The Mahatma Letters to A.P. Sinnett" (1882) and Besant and Leadbeater's "Man: Whence, How and Whither" (1911). The Mahatmas of the Himalayas say that Cosmic Good will eventually win out, but in 1989 it is threatening. Illustrated. 60 pages, $10.00

"SPACECRAFT FROM BEYOND THE SUN" It is SIRIUS, the Sun behind our Sun that is sparking Aquarian Age developments on our Earth, says Dr. Crabb, as he discusses this and other New Age developments foreshadowed by the UFO phenomenon, the pilots and their prophetic visions. One is that our Solar System will become a Binary when our Sun takes a mate in the New Age. There were mass landings of UFOs in France in the 9th Century. So enlarge your Space Age philosophy with data in this 50-page, illustrated book. . . . $10.00

"PSYCHIC INVESTIGATION OF THE BERMUDA TRIANGLE" This is Dr. Crabb's searching, illustrated review of the book "Close Encounters In The Devil's Triangle" by Page Bryant and Jim Chaplin in 1976. Here the medium, Page Bryant, contacts the souls of the humans whose bodies have dematerialized in the still-active, ancient Atlantean force field -- and are still lost in limbo -- but she also contacts the Dragon-type aliens who have established underwater bases off the coast of Florida. Here at last in 70 pages is a reasonable explanation for the disappearances which have been going on for thousands of years, an Atlantean technical blunder! . . . $15.00

"RADIONICS, The NEW AGE Science of Healing" Edited by Riley Hansard Crabb, Doctor of Metaphysics in the Society of St. Luke the Physician. This 85-page book contains the history and development of Radionics, Doctors, Equipment, Technique, etc.; Radionic instruments and how to make them, including diagrams and instructions. Also there are 32 pages of Radionic rates, the Atlas; and finally a lengthy interview with a Radionic expert with 50 years experience. Addendum: the Schematic for the UKACO broadcaster for agriculture and Recollections of Dr. Albert Abrams. . . . $20.00

"TESLA'S TECHNOLOGY IN TODAY'S WORLD" This is the definitive review of current use of ELF (Extreme Low Frequency) waves in the 1970s, derived from Nikola Tesla's discoveries and inventions of a hundred years ago. This 44-page brochure was put together by a Canadian stock broker with a good background in high-energy Physics and edited by Dr. Crabb. It contains much of the information in Dr. Andrija Puharich's book on Tesla, but Doubleday publishers were forbidden to print it by the United States government. There were later attempts on Puharich's life. The effects of the so-called "Russian Woodpecker" ELF wave broadcasts since 1976 are described. . . . $10.00

"BRAIN TUNERS, The Electro-magnetic Cure for Drug Addiction" The Brain Tuner is a sophisticated ELF Wave Generator for putting five, proven, specific frequencies into the brain which stimulate the production of natural Endorphins, pain-killers, in the body. Drug addiction stops their production, thus the continual need for a "fix". Developed in a Hong Kong clinic and modified and miniaturized in the US, the pocket-sized Tuner puts the weak signal into the head with electrodes on acupuncture points beneath each ear. Dr. Crabb has arranged for the manufacture of BTs in New Zealand. . . . $140.00
There is an accompanying five-page brochure.
