INTRODUCTION to VIRTUES, LAWS and POWERS (excerpt) by Anonymous

Introduction

Published 1995

ISBN 1-885-186-83-5

There are people on the Earth today who hunger for knowledge of the mysteries of life. They may have sought to satiate their thirst for Truth through paths of science, art, philosophy, psychology, religion, or social services. Many, at the close of a long career in such fields, hear the hounds of death at their heels while their spiritual bellies ache with emptiness. They go to their deaths longing for the unknown, trembling with angst.

It may seem preposterous for this book to presume to fill some of that void by bringing to the reader the fundamentals of the natural Laws of the soul. Indeed, few people have ever considered that the soul of man has a type of matter, not unlike his flesh, although existing in a different octave of being. Few people are aware that there are principles, similar to known physics principles, that control the dynamics of spiritual matter. Furthermore, such spiritual Laws have a watershed effect upon the physical body of man and the Earth.

Looking out upon the sea of disorder within the major cities, one cannot help wondering why violent crime is becoming increasingly prevalent, and what could bring it to a halt. During the sixties the cry of liberals was for more social services, as though money or food could be the panacea. Others cried for gun control, more prisons, or other material solutions. Despite all attempts at controlling societal disorder the ghettos swell with violence, and the traditional family structure is almost gone.

There are some idealists who look into the heart of this disorder as though it were full of signs of wonderful societal transformation for the better. And yet, teenage pregnancies, AIDS, infections, robberies, rapes, and murders all continue to increase in number. By what criteria are these idealists measuring their success?

If one looks back over recorded history, pockets of societal peace and order rise out of the pages with haunting similarities of belief systems. Within each religion can be found keys that lead to the inner teachings of the fundamental Laws of the soul and of life itself. The fighting between religions has been due to clinging to differences rather than searching for similarities. The obvious similarities are merely echoes of the underlying mysteries which have traditionally been reserved for an inner circle of the spiritual elite.

The knowledge of the inner mysteries of life, held within the core of each religion, was withheld from the masses because of the danger of sorcery if the principles were applied without integrity. Any power that can transform a man's soul can also destroy his body if directed with malefic intent. It was safer to allow the alchemical mysteries, which were the core of each religion, to be watered down in a harmless fashion, in a way that could possibly change man's behavior through fear or promise of heaven. It was assumed by the spiritual forefathers that a man who lived decently might learn to think decently. If a man thought in a decent manner, then, later he might be able to control the spiritual forces with integrity and not run amok with unbridled passion.

For this reason, most religions focused upon behavioral instructions, rather than the reasons that certain behaviors could block the path to spiritual power. People have, by and large, decided that the behavioral instructions are no longer valid and so have developed many blocks to the higher teachings.

It is now time to reveal the inner teachings, in hope that humans can understand the reasons for behavioral sanctions and thought control.

The Laws are immutable. Man cannot break these Laws, but can break himself against these Laws. This is happening today on a massive scale. A man can tell himself all day long that fire is not hot, and yet burn himself, should he put his hand in a flame. Just as there are lower laws of the visible component of fire, there are higher Laws of the unseen components of fire. Many a man has thrust his own unseen components into fire and burned away part of himself.

It is possible to heal oneself through the application of higher Laws. If humans can bring healing order to their own lives, then they can begin to bring order to their families and to their own culture. If they do that, they can start to bring order to the world.

Healing the world must start with healing the self. This book holds the ancient mysteries through which personal transformation is made possible, if the applicant is sincere and willing to change. The dilettante will benefit little, except through some intellectual titillation. This book was written not for dinner table discussion, but at great price, and with great courage, by a traveler within such mysteries, in hope of helping humanity out of chaos. Since it merely recites the principles of the mysteries, it shall be considered anonymously and gnostically written, for man cannot hope or presume to create the Laws and Virtues. This is not a "channeled" book, but a book reflecting the experience of the traveler through many realms as real as the one before your face.

If you also dare to be a traveler into unseen realms, this book will guide you safely.

1995 MAY LECTURES BY ANONYMOUS

The following class lectures are transcribed either verbatim from audio tapes or from class notes unrevised by Anonymous. These lectures and written lessons were given by Anonymous to audiences familiar with the general background of Spiritual Science. The emphasis was in the dissemination of knowledge that was normally hidden from the general public, but has had a haunting recurrence throughout the millennia.

NOTE:

- 1) All LESSONS, LECTURES and CHARTS were given in class, created by Anonymous. Class Notes were taken by an auditor and not corrected by Anonymous and for these, it is suggested the reader also refer to the original, unabridged audio tapes.
- 2) Please keep in mind that this library is missing many of the original audio tapes (of which there were at least 50+ per month during a three year period) as well as some of the dowsing charts, Class Notes and Lessons. These books are compiled from the resources currently available to this library.
- 3) The best introduction to the dowsing system may be found in the Advanced Esoteric Spiritual Dowsing Books, I, II, III.

“Lessons” and “Letters” were composed by Anonymous

“Class Notes” were typed during the lectures and were unrevised by Anonymous.

NOTE: Book chapters for Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Charts IV were written during this time from October 1994 through 1995. “AED IV” was completed with charts in 1995, but it was not published and is not currently in the possession of this library. The book’s contents and charts, however, are (mostly) intact and are presented here as they were originally written.

“Cel’s Vision” MAY 6, 1995 Cheyenne, Wyoming

(Student/Auditor) Cel’s VISION

Today I saw a battle in the sky while driving back from Guthrie alone.

Last night around 8:30PM I was outside of Hays, Kansas and the sky was threatening a storm. I saw a demon in the clouds, so large. Then I saw a gigantic hand form, the left hand. Both of these seemed ominous, so I stopped at a hotel to pray and dowsed and composed myself. It felt as though I were returning to California in the plane (June 1993).

Driving into Denver, I saw two large demons one after the other, then the sky began to light up from the horizon up. I then saw gigantic spiders rising from the horizon and all around me, and then dissipate. At that time I thought they had been killed and were dissolving. Perhaps so. Then the sky became absolutely clear.

Driving into home, the clouds were back. First I saw the dove flying down into a group of clouds and dissipate. Then I saw angels that turned into demons and then turned back again. I saw the desiccated bodies of humans floating from the horizon up and away. They were lying face down with eyes closed, and they were just grey puffs in the sky, floating away. I thought at the time they were the last remnants of people’s souls. Perhaps so.

Then along with the dead I saw one that was alive, floating face down. It was I! As I floated in the sky I was headed towards the face and body and outstretched hands of the devil and behind me floated the large body of an angel with outstretched hands, and behind that angel, in the other half of the sky were great clouds of angels, and their hands were stretched out so far. They were trying to help so fast, and from so far away, that the hands were just thin strips in the sky. But they could not reach the angel who was trying to help me.

The angel couldn’t reach me. She started to fall apart. First she broke up at the waist and then the neck and then I believe she disappeared. I turned into a rat. The devil grew stronger and was laughing and sped away across the sky whole and strong.

The great band of angels on the other half of the sky merged into a dark and most gigantic swine, with an open mouth and outstretched hands and large smile. From the belly of the swine it started to rain, I could see it in the distance, the darkness and the rain from the belly.

Then I arrived in town. It took an hour for the latter scene to unfold.

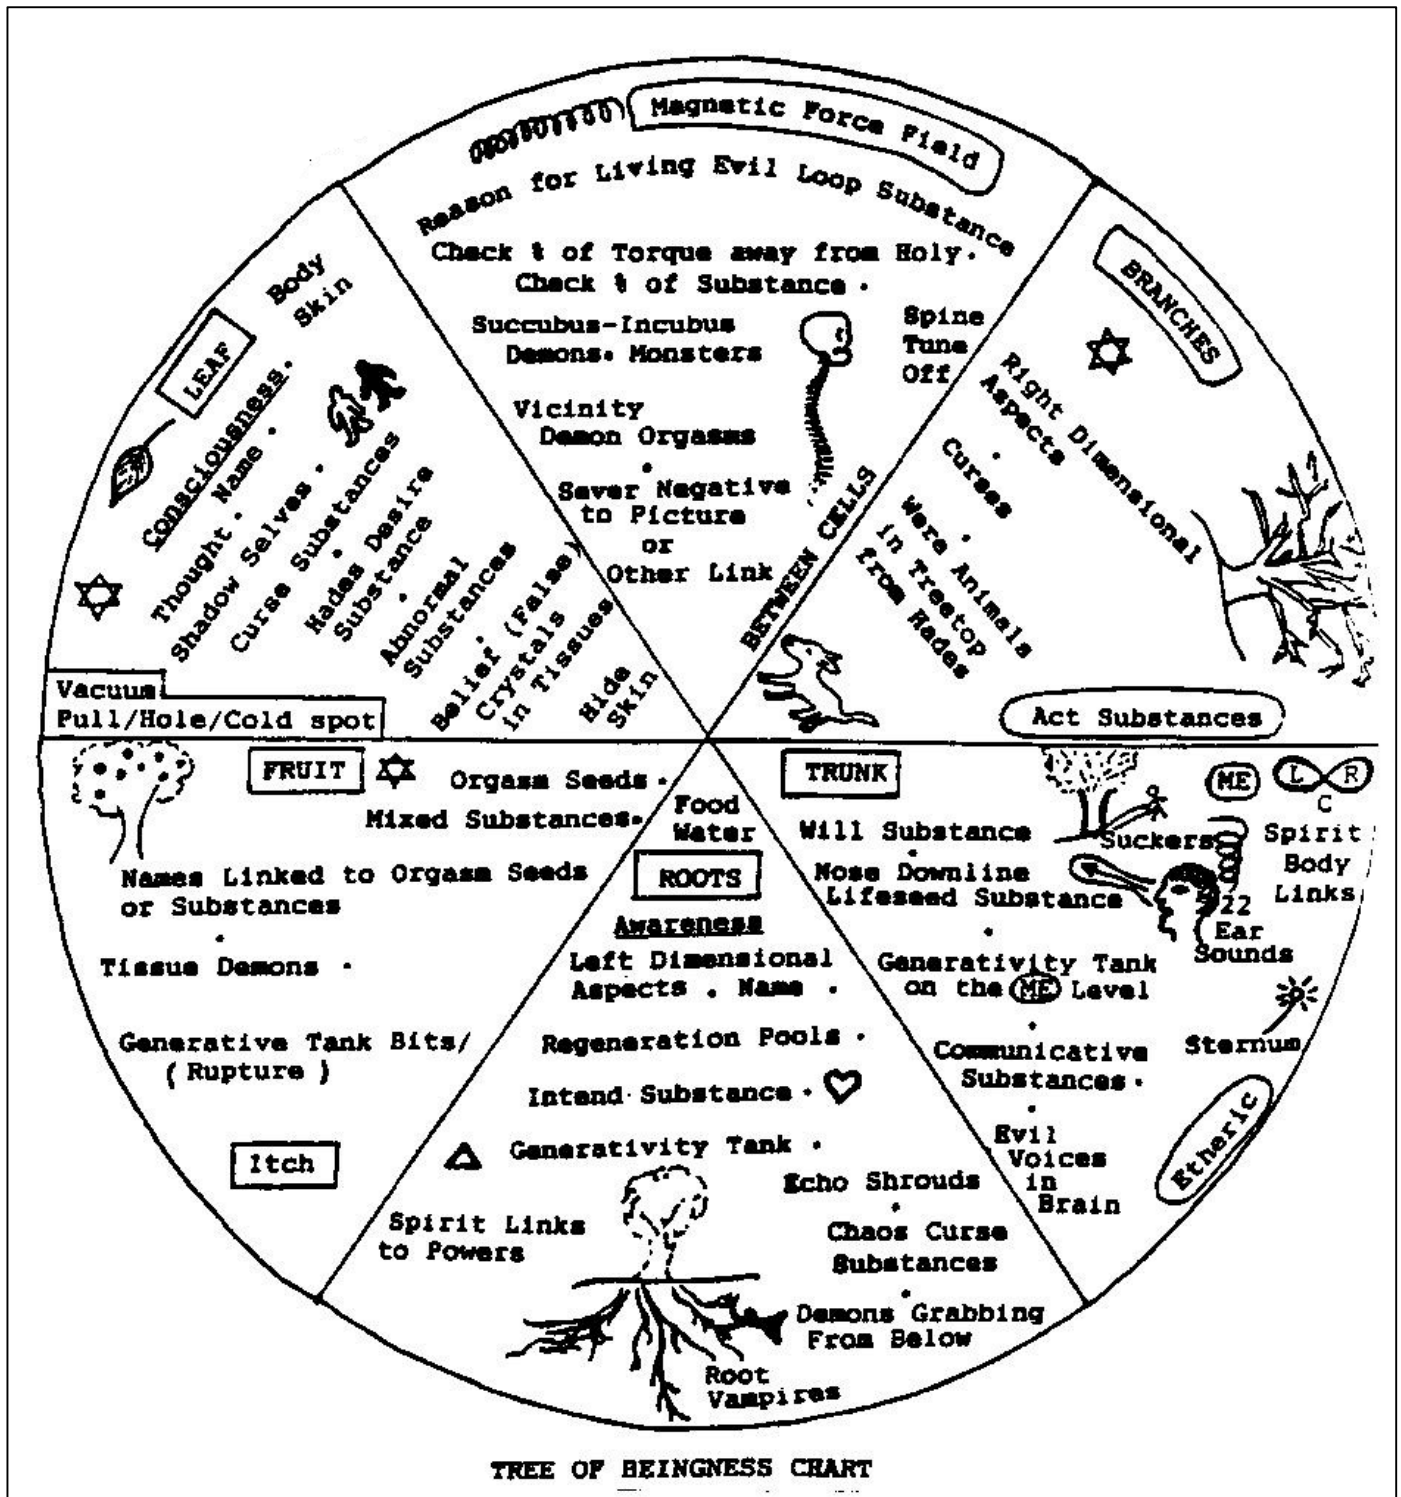

(Author had just left [T3] in Guthrie, Oklahoma and was driving to Cheyenne, Wyoming where [T2] had remained behind.)

LESSON MAY 12, 1995: Indicators of Obsessions

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

INDICATORS OF OBSESSIONS

Deep seated habits of thought/emotion/action often occur as patterned responses learned from parents or friends due to the tendency to resonate with others. Reinforcement of malefic habits occurs because of social reinforcement of the core concepts underlying the habit. The desire to live in the common consensus sense of reality is strong because man is such a social creature. The danger is that the boundaries of behavior acceptable by societal standards are the lowest common denominator before deviant behavior is defined by a declining civilization. Therefore, a man who accepts the wide range of normal habits as within his reach embraces even the door to perversion as defined by a foul society. A man who embraces the highest standards acceptable within such a society is usually considered strange, whereas a man who accepts the lowest standards is considered a “good old boy” that everybody likes.

The range of acceptable thoughts/emotions/behaviors of an aspiring saint is far more narrow than that of a declining civilization. Within all thoughts/emotions/behaviors are beliefs that are true or false according to God’s reality rather than man’s personal created satanic mini-realities that shift as sand. The only stability of mind and purpose to be found by an aspiring saint is in the rock of Law and Truth. When an aspiring saint sets his personality upon the shifting sands of societal standards rather than God’s standards, then he is likely to become mentally ill and develop a weakness of personality that reflects in a plethora of bizarre habits/obsessions.

Then, the aspiring saint will take on symptoms of mental illness even by societal standards. The person will likely not even know what he or she is doing much of the time, and will become suicidal or murderously obsessed with a desired outcome as a new reason to live.

Whereas a lowly developed “normal” mentally stable person often has his family and career as reasons to live, the fallen aspiring saint will often develop sexual obsessions as the reason to live. The sexual obsessions often appear to the fallen saint as a romance (regarding a target person) obsession reason to live. Or, the fallen saint may develop visions of grandeur, where his purpose to live is to “destroy (murder) an evil person”. The standards by which the fallen saint judges whether a person is evil or not tend to be the lowest societal standards possible. For instance, it is considered within the range of normal (by psychiatric and legal criminal standards) for a mother to openly reveal her breasts while breast-feeding her two-year-old child. It is also considered “normal” for men to become sexually stimulated when viewing uncovered breasts. For an aspiring saint to breast-feed without a modest cloth covering her breasts while in the presence of easily agitated males would be a sign that she enjoys stimulating men’s genitals as a sign of power. It indicates a lack of humility and a hatred for authority or males. It would be evil for her to do so, but not evil for an ignorant, lowly evolved animalistic woman to do so. If a breast-feeding aspiring saint decides to go against what she knows is True, she would tend to become exhibitionistic. Not only would she reveal her breasts when the child was not hungry, she would tend to sit in leg-spreading positions and to wear clothing that reveals her lower regions, as well, to onlookers. She may breast feed for three years or more, even when the child has a full set of teeth and eats off the table without problems. She would be considered pathological even by psychiatric or Le-Leche League standards.

Whatever obsession tendency that an aspiring saint may have in a dormant state before spiritual advancement will become full-blown in the face of spiritual power, unless he or she refuses to feed such an obsession by repeating the habit that reinforces it. This phenomenon may be considered advantageous if you look upon it as weakness being flushed out of hiding. On the other hand, should you fight to retain your obsession as your “right” and as societally “normal”, then you will become intractably evil and possibly insane by even societal standards. Your little secret obsession will become a bizarre and obvious series of peculiar physical behavior “tells” that even the uninitiated can observe as strange.

For instance, a man with a secret fantasy of being an exhibitionist is not considered abnormal in society unless he acts out such a fantasy. And yet, esoterically, all sexual trigger fantasies are rooted in hatred for gender/God/authority/Law. Should a man precede his sexual expression with such a fantasy after he has been granted spiritual power, then he will use his power to reinforce his obsession so that it grows. Eventually, he will become unaware of his public behaviors. He will tend to rub his genitals in front of groups of people. He will “accidentally” leave the bathroom door open when he showers, even with a house-full of guests. He will pick his nose incessantly in public. He will stare at other people’s genital areas or breasts without realizing it. He will move his feet and legs constantly while sitting in meetings. A psychiatrist would find him abnormal, and even lowly developed people would find him socially disgusting.

The most dangerous student of Law is one who has an obsession to be in power or control of others. In the “normal” societal saint standards, a true leader must be a servant of humanity first of all. If an aspiring saint hasn’t a deep desire to serve others, then he is likely to develop a full-blown power obsession.

Interestingly enough, most obsessions can be revealed by the history of a person’s sexual fantasies. That is because the sexual generativity power is a step-down aspect of the creative power of the Logos. Hatred for Logoic Law will therefore be revealed by a peculiar twist in sexual desire triggers.

What a man values will tend to be his joy trigger when he thinks of it. This is true regarding high level joy of living triggers, and generativity sexual joy triggers. Even the thoughts that give you joy in simple things that are non-sexual in nature reveal whether you love God/Law or want to sabotage the expression of God in your lower life as a sign of satanic defiance. It is difficult for most people to analyze what gives them joy in day-to-day little things, but most people can remember and analyze their sexual fantasy triggers, because they are reinforced with orgasms.

In some cases, an obsession does not reflect in sexual fantasy triggers, but only in day-to-day joy of living triggers that can be subtle. For instance, a man who likes to watch dog-fights or cock-fights most likely has a murder obsession (hopefully unmanifest toward humans). Likewise, a person who insists on fattening up every houseguest and thinks constantly of meal preparation may have an unmanifest desire to torture someone (which is similar to the murder obsession). The desire to “stuff” someone is like wanting to force something down their throat as if to block their airway. Or, withholding food from guests is like wanting them to suffer starvation in a death camp. A murder or torture obsession occurs in someone who has a power obsession and hates authority or one gender. All people with food obsessions, including gluttony or anorexia, hate authority/God. When aspiring saints are at the point where they must give up obsessions or fall from Grace, they tend to reveal their obsessions full-blown. Food binges, bulimic purging, homosexual imagery/sado-masochistic/voyeuristic sexual fantasies all are related as “tells” of a person who hates authority. Only one “tell” is needed to reveal a deep problem that must be overcome by the aspiring saint. The little hidden obsessions cannot be swept under the rug or doled out as an occasional “treat”; they must be abandoned completely or spiritual progress is not only thwarted but reversed.

The way that people act in order to reward themselves is often an indicator of obsessions that are rooted in hatred for God. To reward oneself with a long hot bath is beneficial after a long difficult day. To reward oneself with a night out in beer bars is not a good sign. Even for an aspiring saint to reward himself by going to a social “study” group for contact with a diverse group of people may be a sign that he hates the Law of Polarity. For a person to get a lot of joy out of hanging out with a lot of lowly developed people means either he is NOT highly developed on the road to sainthood so he is just like them, or that he believes that evil does not exist. To believe that evil does not exist is to believe that God does not exist.

Early in spiritual development, a person may feel great joy if he finds a group of people to socialize with who happen to be a bit higher in spiritual development than he is. Later, he would find them boring, should he surpass them in development, and so would tend to seek out a group with even higher spiritual standards. If he clings to a lower group, then he has a social-needs-obsession that is rooted in the fear and belief that God does not exist except within human relationships.

There is often pain in relinquishment of relationships for the aspiring saint; the saint must ever struggle to find the brightest light to follow. Should he waste his time in lower pursuits with lower people, then he will degenerate spiritually. Congruency of lower behaviors with higher intentions is the hallmark of the aspiring saint. Should there be a disparity between intentions and demonstration of such intentions through behaviors, then the person is torn asunder as a split personality. “By their fruits shall ye know them.” The fruits of the aspiring saints are his thoughts, his emotions, and his hidden behaviors.

For the common man, the “fruits” are considered to be overt manifestations of material/social success or failure. Therefore, a holy man (in base society) must be financially successful, have lots of friends, a family that adores him that he sees often, and have a great many joy triggers so that he is one happy guy to be around. Therefore, he must “judge” no one, so that even the most vulgar person or movie is a joy trigger. The more joy triggers he stimulates in other people make him even more desirable. So, if he brags on other people (whether merited or not), if he gives them money or time or sex, if he cooks for them or lets them “ventilate” their emotions, if he reinforces their ideas of reality as valid (even if they are satanic)...then he is considered a success.

For a saint to be congruent means that he must NOT reinforce satanic ideas by omission or commission. For a saint to be congruent means that he does not view people as gods, but as potential saints. Should people that he knows hate the path to sainthood, then he knows that he must separate from them, or else be targeted by them for destruction. In superficial relationships, he must be quiet and invisible, lest he be hated for his love of God. He must face the fact that most people do not love Truth, they love comfort. His quietude is often perceived as insanity by others who clamor for his joy trigger stimulations that he once provoked in others. Family members will often go to great lengths to force an individual to give up his spiritual path, even imprisonment/medical drugging/legal threats, so as to control the individual and force him to give them what they want from him. They do it all in the name of “love”.

As one climbs up the spiritual ladder, it becomes more and more difficult to find peers. It is a joyful happening to locate a spiritual peer, and that is why spiritual groups have banded together throughout history in churches or communities. Unfortunately, only the basest level of spiritual development is now tolerated by society as acceptable to be in groups. The major churches are being targeted by increasing numbers of people who seek to destroy them. Forces within the churches seek to lower the standards, so as to be societally acceptable. The churches least attacked are the ones that stress acceptance of all “lifestyles” as valid, or stress that “god is love” only. The “god is love” concept has now been perverted to mean that any type of emotional or sexual bond between humans or animals is part of god. The “love everybody and everything” theme is the most satanic and insidious of all lies, because it leads a person to not change himself for the better. If all one has to do is to think of oneself as good in order to be good, then there is no purpose to aspire to sainthood.

The common man finds it frightening to consider that high level spiritual knowledge brings with it power to cause even the basest man to question his life. Without such questioning of the meaning of life, there is no hope for humanity. Without the painful inner struggle to align oneself with known Law, there is no hope for the individual to rise above an animal mentality.

Because the basest of men begin to feel threatened around spiritual power, as they inwardly tremble to consider their foul lives. Such a declining society as we have today will not allow a community to form from a group of aspiring saints. The knowledge of saints is doomed to be branded “occult mystery school teachings”. The aspiring saint’s relinquishment of materialism is considered suspicious. Whereas society accepts as normal for someone to spend thousands of dollars on trivial gluttonous cruises around the world, it reacts in horror if someone financially supports the production of holy books. Since communities based on high level teachings are targeted for oppression, such teachings must now be offered through holy books rather than through contact with a true teacher. True teachers are needed and yet they may not survive if they publicly teach since the current climate of religious oppression is ever growing.

To stand at the top of a societal pyramid is a lonely path for the aspiring saint. He looks down upon his own past “needs and rights” as they manifest in lower developed people with understanding and compassion, but hopefully not with regret or longing to go back down. There is no going down a few feet; there is only flight upward or a fall to the base of the societal pyramid.

The aspiring saint must no longer live for comfort; he must live for congruency of body and mind with the standards that are based upon the immutable Laws that govern life. As he ever more aligns with those standards, he shares the power that moves the universe.

Part II: Assumptions, Habits, and Tissue Changes

PART II: ASSUMPTIONS, HABITS, AND TISSUE CHANGES

A person’s body is like a musical instrument that makes a tone or series of tones that reflect all that he has chosen as valid and true. The degeneration of the physical vessel into a foul song is due to a series of decisions by the owner. In some cases, people give up ownership of their vessels to other people, and so merely echo the tones of their owners.

All foul body emanations start as an assumption that is not true, or several assumptions that are not true. Assumptions of truth form the basis for one’s sense of higher self, and can be represented as a triangle. In order for a person to feel spiritually secure in a changing world, his personality requires him to incorporate assumptions into the sense of self-awareness so as to form boundaries within which to base personal decisions.

Most lowly developed people have simple assumptions that they accepted from their parents as facts which form their sense of God or truth boundaries. They tend to feel better if they live congruently within the boundaries of those assumptions, and tend to feel guilt or anxiety if they do not live congruently within those boundaries as reflected in their behaviors.

If a person faces overwhelming evidence that a basic assumption he has is wrong, he can: (1) change his belief system (2) find a way to protect his assumption, or (3) separate his mental awareness and actions from his assumptions altogether.

For instance, many people assume that everyone goes to heaven when they die. A child may be told that her daddy (who committed suicide) went to heaven, and yet later in church hear that suicide is an unforgivable sin that bars one from heaven. Some people are told that everyone is fundamentally good, and yet later suffer terrible experiences such as rapes and violent robberies from the hands of apparently evil people. The personality strength is measurable by the congruency of the revised assumption with truth.

If a person refuses to revise his assumption, then he becomes hostile as he struggles to defend it. Even worse is when a person disassociates what he believes is true from his apparent behaviors or reactions to other's behaviors.

The dissociative person will go to great lengths to reinforce verbally his truth assumption to others, and may appear quite pious, and yet his or her physical behaviors belie congruency with the assumption of truth. The more aligned with Law the assumptions in a person who is dissociative, the more serious the behaviors become and the more bizarre the personality defenses become. A person may (while believing he is honest) insist that he would never think of caring more for a house or living situation than for his soul's path, and yet he may thwart his spiritual advancement by finding excuses to stay in a house that is full of harmful influences. When the door to spiritual progress slams in his face, he would then whine that he meant well, but just had to finish a couple of details before leaving the harmful living situation.

The more a person learns about Law and Truth, the greater his pressure to choose what to do about his earlier false assumptions that are conflicting. Unless he releases them, he will become irregular and spastic in his spiritual studies. He will have trouble maintaining a strong personality because it is dependent upon congruency of the lower self with what one knows is True.

He cannot keep two conflicting assumptions of truth. He may, however, develop a pseudo assumption of real Truth, all the while secretly holding onto his private false assumption. The façade higher self cannot hold together a strong personality, because it tends to rub against the secret private reality, and they both begin to burn away. A man who lies to himself about what he really believes is true tends to progressively become more physically degenerate and hate-filled.

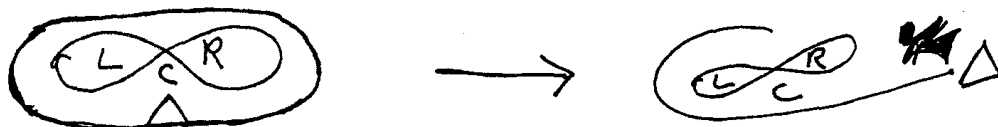

A man can tell what he really believes by the grid thoughts he accepts or has to fight all the time. Partial resonance with grid debris causes a person to be constantly possessed with inner doubt, depression, rage, fear, and sexual thought forms. Eventually, he doesn't struggle at all against the grid thoughts, and begins to believe what he hears in the demon hum. He just thinks, feels and physically acts in any way that pleases himself, without thought of humanity or anyone else. He loses a struggle within, and feels better, just "going with the flow" of what the demon voices and world expect him to do. The lack of conflict, the sense of satanic peace of soul death, is often perceived as a sign of holiness within himself. He gets a surge of energy and animalistic euphoria to be free of spiritual torment. At that point, he prays to fallen beings for money, orgasms, romance, power, or for other people to get out of his way of happiness.

Of course, he thinks he is praying to God. However, when a person has willfully chosen a lie upon which to base his decisions, than he cannot pray to the holder of Truth. He prays to the lord of lies.

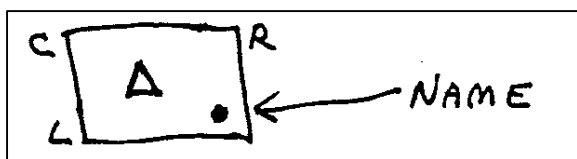

The components of an obsession include:

- (1) The lie (black Triangle aspect) such as "family relationships are the closest thing to god a man can hope to find",
- (2) The verbal or thought reinforcement of the lie as it pertains to a current situation, such as "Dear god, bring my lover back to me and show him that I am his destiny". Often, evil prayers to fallen beings occur at this stage. Also, little gossip lies begin to slip out of one's lips, as the verbal reinforcement of the assumption must be reinforced in order to keep strength. To justify a wrong position, many people lie or distort facts to other people so as to condemn an innocent person that is in the way of the liar getting his way. Such verbal reinforcement casts a satanic shadow over the left side of the tissue dimensions.
- (3) Active visualization or fantasy that reinforces the assumption as true. This may mean seeing an "evil" person punished; visualizing someone in a sexually compromising position, fantasizing about being in a position of power, or fearing that you or someone you loved/hated was going to die and imagining every little detail. Uncontrolled fantasy based upon an unstable personality is not the same thing as being warned of danger by guardian angels. This contaminates the communicative aspect of the tissue dimensional spaces.
- (4) The performance of some reinforcing ritual/physical act in order to seal the obsession and to feed the obsession. The act is often masturbation, binge eating, obsessive phone calling or acting out a desperation to talk to others so as to "ventilate" or "share ideas". This solidifies the right side aspect of the tissue dimensional spaces.

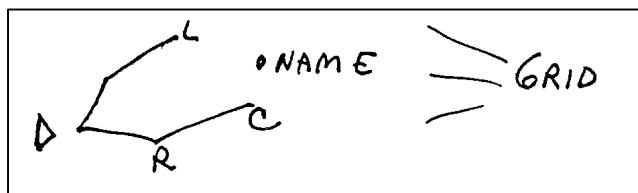

In summary, the Triangle aspect, Right, Left, and Communicative aspects of obsessions must all be present in order for tissues to become satanic. The Triangle aspect is like the ring of power around the others. The relative congruency of the assumptions with the lower self produce a relative tension upon the ring of power. If a person develops a pseudo higher self, he then splits his ring of power asunder, and becomes a pawn of evil.

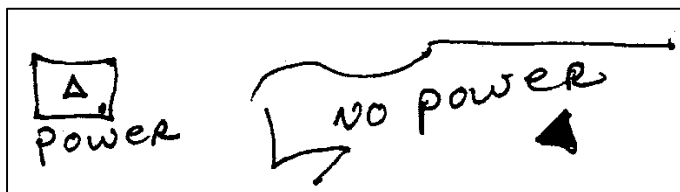

He then becomes a spokesman for the consensus of the lowest common denominator of the grid, and yet is filled with rage because his old comforts no longer seem the same. He is haunted by his knowledge of real Truth, that he rejected yet cannot deny. He seeks to reinforce his obsessions, and yet finds them wanting. He becomes a phantom of a person, crying about his fate. He is in his personal hell because he desired a personal heaven free of responsibility.

One's spiritual name is the sum total of the coordinating pulls of the left, right, communicative, and triangle aspects of the tissue dimensional spaces. If the angles are balanced, then the personality is strong, like a table with four solid legs.

If any of those components lose the correct angle from the others, due to some willful desire of the individual to "be his own kind of guy" (satanic) rather than holy, then such a person loses his Name, and his personality cracks open to receive the Names of other people that echo in the grid debris of air, fire and water elementals.

If a person loses himself to an obsession, his personality angles crack open, and he loses all his personal power of change. Obsessions are often initially fed by the ether forces that allow physical regeneration. If the tissue regeneration pools are drained dry, then several auric substances may be used (if they are present to begin with) to feed the obsessions. Ensouled people feed obsessions their own soul matter, and people who have been graced by higher intercessors feed their own holy Grace substance to the demons of obsessions. That is a terrible crime. Eventually, the very cells of the body are used as fuel for obsessions, and vampirism of other people's bodies for fuel will begin. When the cells of the body become evil, and the person becomes a vampire, then the names of his victims and his own name begin to merge so that a terrible spiritual and physical poison envelops many people. As his tissue links to earth are burned to fuel his obsessions, he loses an increasing percentage of his air, fire, and water mold.

If a person of great obsession lived all alone on a desert island, then he would quickly die. That is because a person's degeneration requires physical proximity with a least one person who can then funnel in energies from a group of people, in order to survive after he has burned out his own air, fire, and water earth ties.

When a person has given himself over to an obsession, he no longer is safe to be around. He will spend his waking hours attempting to fulfill his obsession and to feed it. Of course, most people on the street have many mild obsessions that do not become crippling forces that endanger the earth. Most common people of low spiritual development have mild obsessions that can readily flare into huge ones in the presence of a person with spiritual power. People with spiritual power excite the demons of obsession, and produce a radiating energy that draws to it hungry people who have spent themselves defending lives of lies.

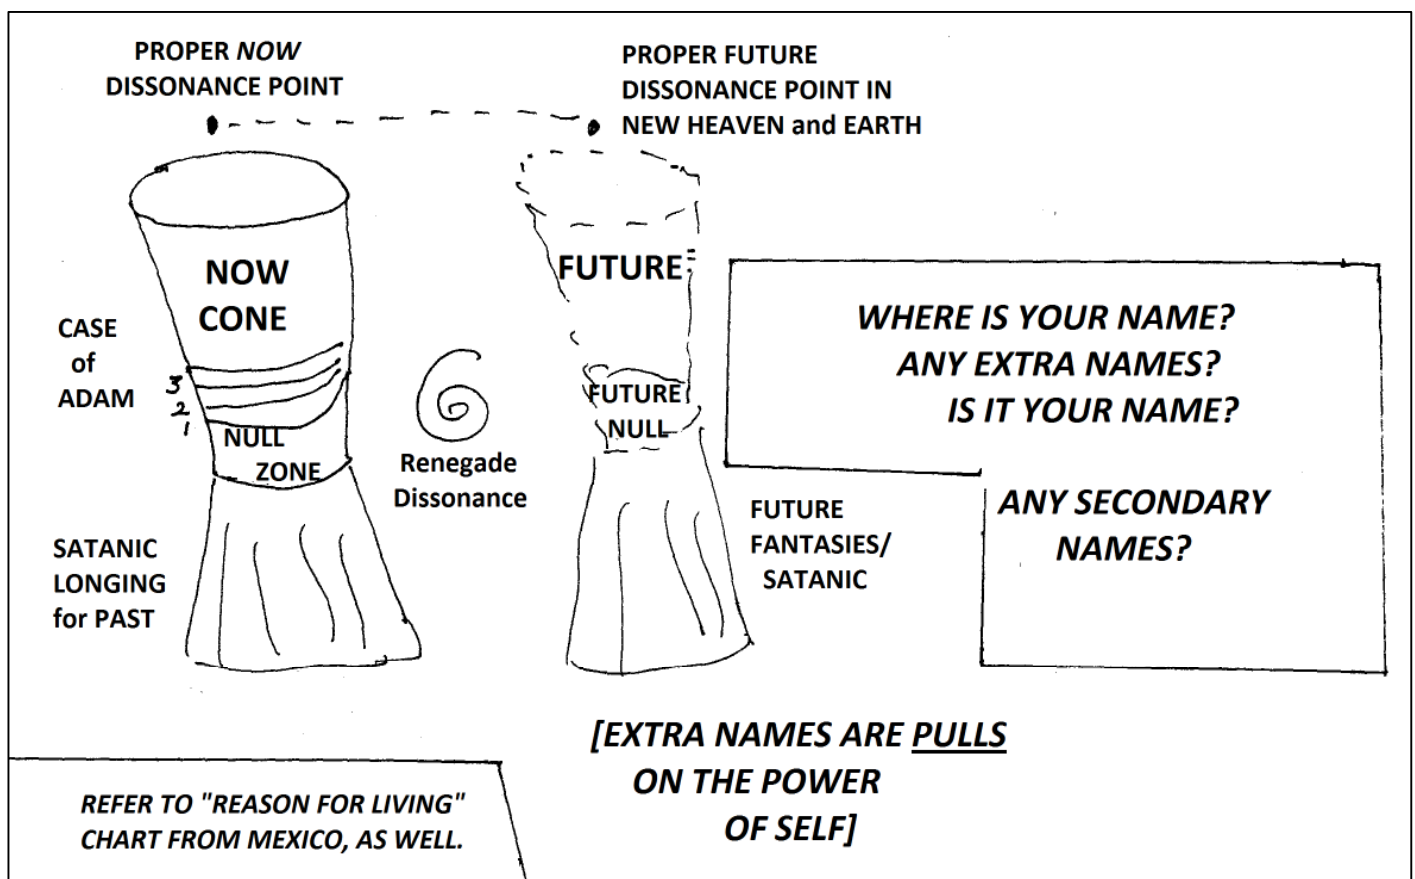

For that reason, people on the path to spiritual advancement must recognize their assumptions that lead to obsessions, and must not feed any power to the demons that result from such obsessions. Many of the demons are their own crazed Tisunals or guardian angels gone crazy. If students fail to incorporate teachings regarding right intentions, Law, thought, speech, and behavior, then such students will teach lies to others and become more evil due to their power by Grace than the average man.

Most who do so are fundamentally selfish people who choose to remain selfish. An unselfish man desires to serve God and man, and finds joy in service. A selfish man finds joy in acting out obsessions. A person who is selfish can choose to change, and can earnestly pray to change. Just as obsessions are fed by thoughts and actions, so can holiness be fed by correct thought and actions. A selfish person must force himself a bit more each day to act and think rightly, so as to exercise the underdeveloped Virtues within himself in token amounts. Should he be indulgent, and inwardly whine about how he deserves a bit of spiritual rest from responsibility, then he may be allowed to sever himself from the greatest joy in the universe.

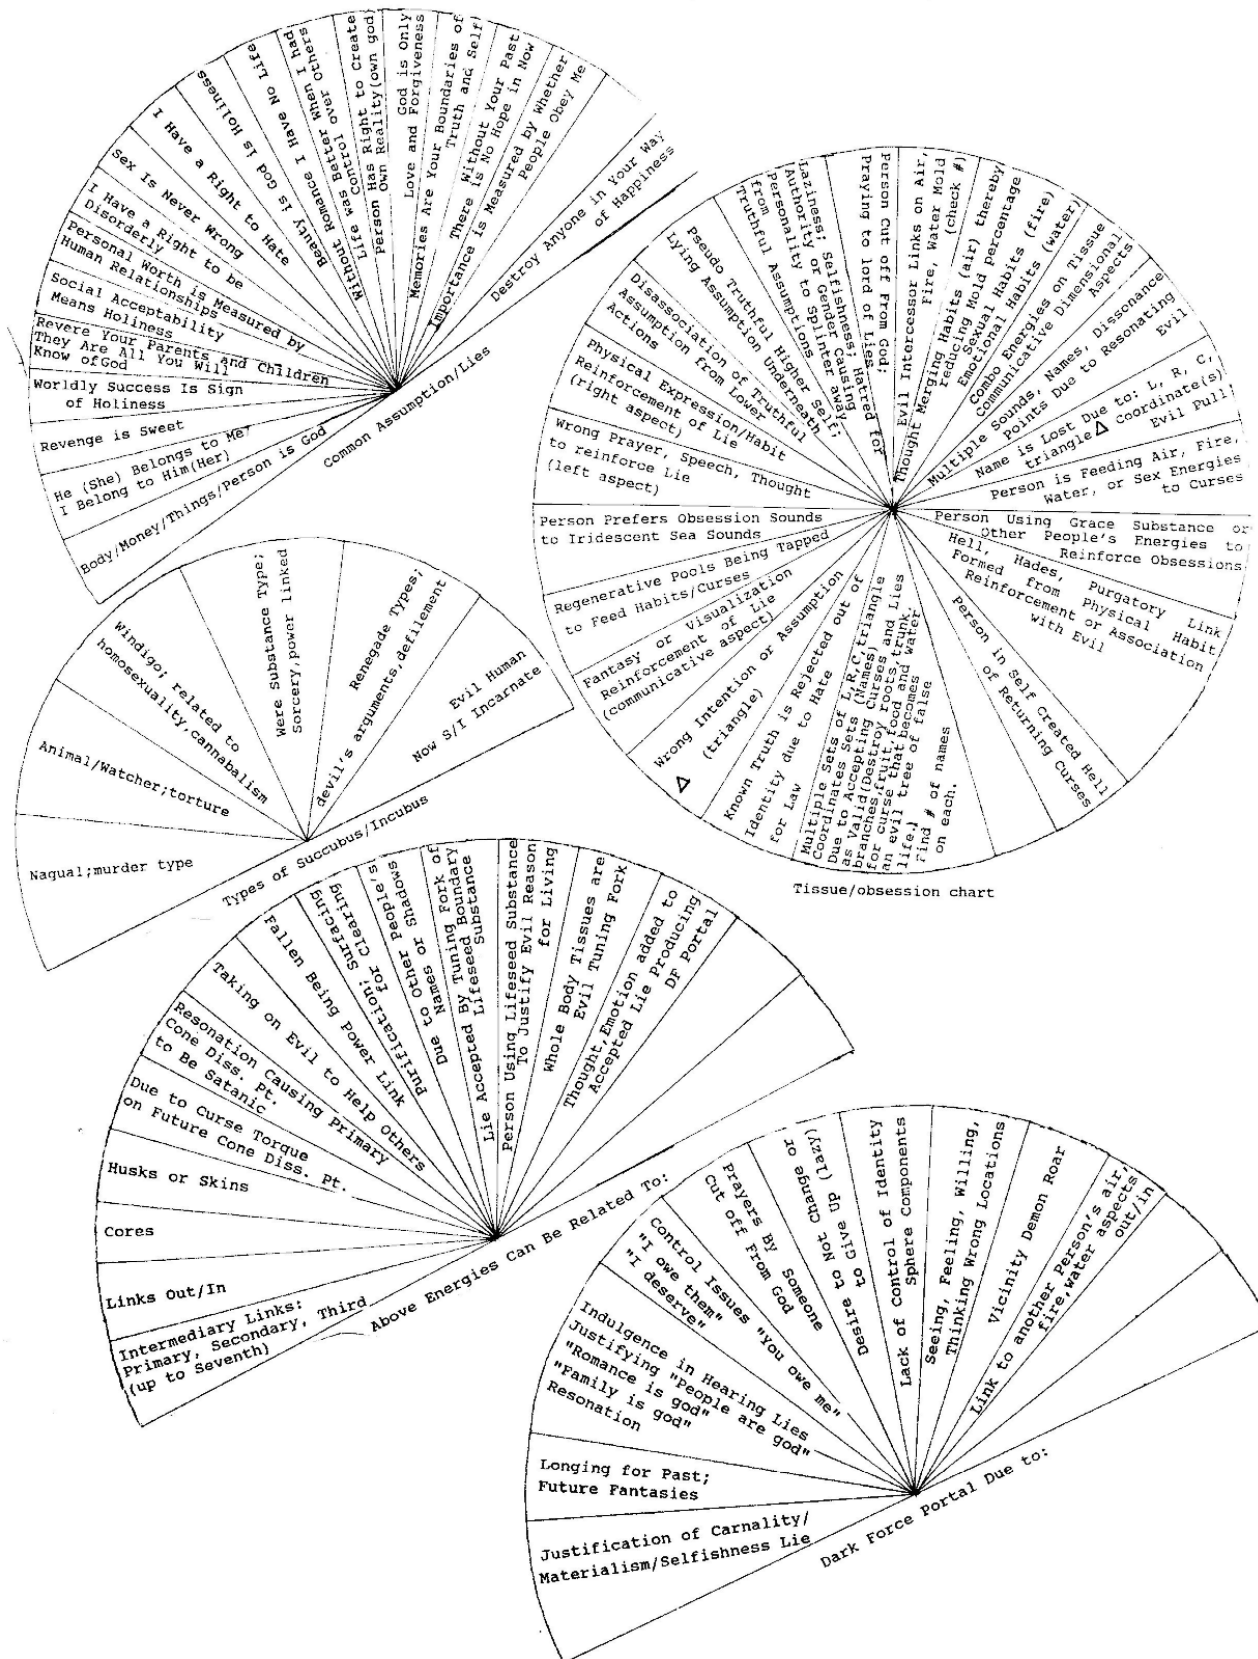

The purpose of an intercessor is to let the student hear the iridescent sea from the shell of the intercessor, for a bit of time, until the student can remember those sounds. If the student prefers the sounds of the grid, then he cannot hear the rainbow sound within the shell. A worldly intercessor should be that shell in which the sounds echo outward, reminding humanity of heaven and hope. Should the intercessor depart, the student is expected to recall the Heavenly Sea sounds, because they are the very sounds that lead him to eternity and to God. No matter what should occur on the face of the Earth or to his lower form, the student of Truth can climb those sounds to the arms of angels and to Truth. He can never be led astray by Satan sirens if he holds his own holiness to his own ear, to echo the iridescent sea. His very essence can then lead others to God, even without outward teaching.

When you hear the hounds from hell, turn your ears from them, and pray that you be worthy enough to hear the heavenly chords. Any man can choose to be worthy, if he is willing to give up lies, and thereby face initial pain of alienation from a declining civilization. Blanca 5-12-95

LESSON MAY 14, 1995: The Prevention and Treatment of Chronic Spiritual Disease

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

THE PREVENTION AND TREATMENT OF CHRONIC SPIRITUAL DISEASE

One of the most difficult concepts for the recipients of Exorcism to realize is that the underlying weaknesses that provoked the need for exorcism in the first place should be removed. Many spiritual healers look upon the risk factors of possession through the eyes of their familial education of good or bad things/acts/thoughts/intentions, without ever realizing the subtlety of darkness within the human heart and the mysteries/varieties of Lawful manifestation in the drama of human life.

For that reason, many holy people are dismissed as sinful, and many evil people are revered as holy. The Laws of the animal manifestation plane are often thought to apply to the human manifestation plane, and so harsh judgments and assumptions can obscure the vision of the aspiring exorcist. This is not to say that "situational ethics" apply (words of terror to the fundamentalist!) but rather that there are octaves of heavenly Law that apply in situations relating to different DEGREES of intention by varying species of people.

The fact that some people have reduced themselves to an animal state, and, sadly, no longer are humans is one of the most controversial and fear-provoking facts brought down by heavenly messengers of hope. Many an animalistic man has smugly assured himself of a cabana in heaven, since he had been baptized while still human, all the while as he goes about seeking to destroy all that is good and holy upon the Earth.

Good refers to what is decent among the actions of civilized men. Holy refers to all that transcends the human range of possible goodness...it refers to saints and those powers above saints. Whereas no normal man is truly good, because his actions are variable and cloudy due to his spiritually struggling state; he may choose to act good. In doing so, consistently, he may enter the Initiations of Sainthood.

Should he pass the initiations of sainthood, then he is not only good but holy. Not only his actions are good, but his very presence of form exudes goodness and holiness that radiate outward to bless the Earth.

Many people have comforted themselves in their frailties by assuming that sainthood is not to be found on Earth, except in some childish story of someone who miraculously healed lepers in some past century. Indeed, the most important saints have never been canonized because they were hated by those closest to them, and died in shame and obscurity.

True saints do not care about curing a cancer of the body; they care about cancers of the soul. They are less interested in whether a dead person comes back to life than they are as to whether a soul-dead person begins to yearn for Christ.

Since the Soul is a matter of legend to most people, and is not viewed as solid as flesh and blood matter (as it IS), then it is considered less important to the spiritual historians than the flesh. For that reasons, fleshly healings have been extolled, and soul healings have been considered too mysteriously beyond the range of human understanding to consider as possible. For anyone to dare mention that souls can die would be considered heretical and provoke strong reactions by virtually all churches. And yet, Jesus said, "fear not those that can kill the body; fear those that can kill the soul."

Likewise, we should look upon healing the soul rather than the body, to be in the proper spirit of Christ. Unfortunately, many people have killed their own souls and should have been afraid of their own powers to do so. Nonetheless, it is, indeed, possible for a person to be granted a new soul: that is the hope of all the Earth.

To be granted a soul implies that a change has taken place that would allow a new soul to take root without the poisoning that caused the former soul to die. What makes a human vessel so poison that his spiritual roots begin to rot? Should the tree of his being long for a false sun, and drink the euphoric but toxic waters of hells, then such a tree will become weak and full of vermin until it falls.

How can a man avoid such a fate? He must know the real sun, and prefer it to neon lights. He must know the true waters of heaven, and long for it more than a giddy brew. He must know when the larvae of satan are eating his core, and pluck them out.

Just as a botanist understands the laws that govern the life of a redwood tree, so must the spiritual scientist understand the Laws that govern the soul life of mankind. It is not enough, either, to merely understand such laws; one must also apply such laws in the physical realm so as to be successful. A soul must have a worthy vessel in which to live. For that reason, a potential saint must prepare his vessel with the proper thoughts, emotions, and actions so the soul will not recoil from it with disgust.

At each octave of initiation, the preparation of the vessel will change in some nuance, and so the obvious preparations may appear contradictory from person to person. Even so, a man who loves Truth and desires to serve God will not be led astray by appearances.

A man of pure intention has eyes that see proper intention, and ears that hear Truth. He, conversely, knows when he sees and hears falsehood/evil. The popular spiritual assumption is that a man who sees good will see good in everyone. Should there be good in everyone, he would see good in everyone. But, since the assumption is wrong (some people have no good in them), a man of pure intention will see rightly, not filtered through the assumption's rosy hues. Many people who read these words will find their inner anguish surfacing, and sense anger and fear at the prospect (that some people are evil) so as to dismiss the rest of this teaching as encouraging of division of men, or unloving. And yet, spiritual discernment must be found by the neophyte before any real progress can be possible. Indeed, the greatest fear to be provoked by these words is that the individual himself has evil within that must be dealt with, and can no longer be thought of as acceptably within a human normal range, if he aspires to be free of demons.

If we are to understand the complexities of goodness, we must also face the nemesis: the complexities of evil. For people to throw up their hands in lazy assurance that no man can understand such things is to say that God is cruel and therefore all is hell. The very people who say that God is love will be the first to despair at the knowledge that God is a strict task-master who expects his loved ones to pull their share of the weight of spiritual work. That includes exorcism and self-purification.

Unfortunately, many people accept (in theory) the weight of spiritual purification, but delegate changes into concepts to ponder, while failing to let changes hit them in the belly of their day to day behaviors.

Behaviors include one's habits of thought and speech. It is not so difficult for most people to quick kicking their dog, but it is another thing for them to recognize subtle language twists that they employ with others (or mentally entertain in circular complaints) regarding other humans that bring about some kind of pathetic entertainment. People who enjoy prolonged (circular) conversations regarding individuals or their pasts when there is nothing to learn from the situation usually are trying to hook into the individual or the past for a satanic reason. Such individuals usually have doorways to hell that have slammed shut so they must find the right thought/speech key to open them again for some demon rush.

This is far different than studying a situation so as to learn from it. The difference can be found in the behaviors and emotions that follow the examination of topic. If an individual or couple spends time mentally or verbally discussing the flaws of their pasts or another person before having sex, then the words have been used for demon orgasm triggers. If they are trying to understand themselves or life by reviewing a situation that happened to involve certain people, then they will feel more mentally alert and spiritually attuned afterward. Their energies will be toward the brow and halo, and not the solar plexus or pelvis. Typically, healthy sexual response occurs with few words or thoughts preceding it. People who arouse themselves or others with images and agitated recollections tend to have many demon portals.

All dark force doorways have some kind of lie behind them that serves as the key. Lies, such as "family is god", in themselves do not open a demon doorway. They must have a person who chooses to direct his will and intent with emotion to align his body with the lie.

Just as military songs and marches are intended to align a group with a single purpose of victory, so do certain obsessive thoughts/emotions/images work to unite humans to a victory for darkness. They become theme songs that excite the tissues and brain cells to hate, to love, to seek revenge, to see control over others, to reject authority, to reject teachers of Law. Twenty-four hours a day, there are many spiritual radio stations playing in your ears. Humans focus on the one that they desire.

Many a man has claimed to be a victim to the dark forces that howled all manner of suggestions into his ear. And yet, such a man could have refused to repeat the evil suggestions within himself, and could have chosen to say the Twenty-Third Psalm a few times over so as to fill his ears until the demon storm passed.

It takes a fair amount of will to fight a fierce demon attack of little lying voices, unless one chooses something else to hear that is pleasing and not likely to lead one to darkness. If a person chooses the darkness, he cannot cry foul; he is evil...he is not just tormented by evil.

It is a common psychological technique to reassure people that they may do bad things, but THEY are not really bad. For a person on a saint path to willfully do as he pleases with the comfort that he can rationalize it later as not really part of himself is a dangerous sign of deep-seated evil. The more often you behave, think, and speak evil...the more evil you become in your very flesh. Each time you choose badly, you lose a bit of your integrity. If you are fortunate, you will not have lost your whole self to such evil.

What does it mean to whittle away at yourself until you are merely a pawn of evil without any self left? What is the self? The spiritualistic person may assume that the self is, first and foremost, the soul. Yet the soul is a container of awareness of Law and Truth...it is not the awareness. The awareness of Law and Truth cannot exist unless an individual has body consciousness of the lower aspects of Law and Truth. There are increments to awareness and consciousness that exist---always---in equal amounts. Therefore, to cultivate higher spiritual awareness one must also cultivate corporal consciousness in the body.

Many people with tiny dull souls have a smidgen of a sense of right and wrong that they try to live with in their physical lives. Most of them do not translate right and wrong to have anything to do with their fantasies or memories. In short, they have a simple list of no-nos: don't kill, don't steal, etc. When a presidential candidate admitted to committing adultery "in his heart", the whole world laughed in ridicule. It was inconceivable for most people to think that there was such a thing: adultery of the heart.

As the physical brain/tissue awareness of right and wrong becomes more consciously abstract, so does the unspoken inner soul awareness of God increase. The more a man seeks to incorporate in his form, the more he knows God.

The danger is if a man should know something is wrong, but willfully choose to do as he pleases, especially after being shown the Grace of Truth through a miracle from God. Miracles do not mean that natural law has been overlooked; they mean that higher Laws have come into play so as to bring about holiness. Miracles do not occur for creature comfort, but for deliverance from spiritual disorder. The most important miracles have to do with information from God that serves as a light in the darkness. You then have the responsibility to follow that light with trust and hope. Should you fail to do so; the darkness will be ever darker from then on.

People do not lose their souls out of punishment, but from the Law of Cause and Effect. There is a practical reason for unworthy people to lose their souls, and therefore lose their ability to sense the presence of God: souls have matter that can feed demons energy so as to reproduce evil.

Souls have substances designed to carry high level non-verbal Awareness beyond time and space (therefore beyond death.) Should a soul be evil, it could transport demons from hells to walk the earth, and carry murderers into heavens to destroy saints.

Likewise, the physical body has Consciousness substances that are designed to hold thoughts of holiness and to understand the mysteries of eternal life. Should a body consciousness decide to become evil, whether bit by bit or all at once, then those consciousness substances can form webs of lies that torment innocent children. The body consciousness substances have a strong verbal and visual communicative aspect, and can be used by demons to put on a pretty face for a molester or to weave clever devil advocate arguments to justify a foul life. For such reasons, it is the plan of God that people who are evil lose all their consciousness substances and their awareness substances.

A person cannot have a pure soul awareness while his body consciousness is seeking to murder or rape another. The consciousness normally follows, down-line, the purity of the awareness. However, a man may appear to be holy in flesh while he has an evil awareness in control from above. When a person has sold his soul (which is a very real event) for material/carnal power, then he dies to himself, and may not even remember the sale.

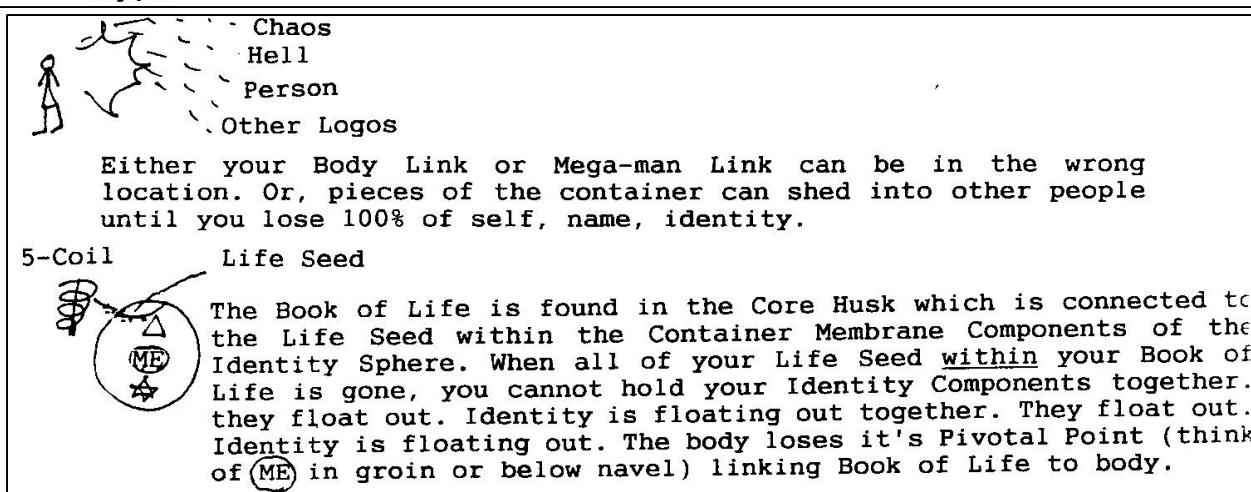

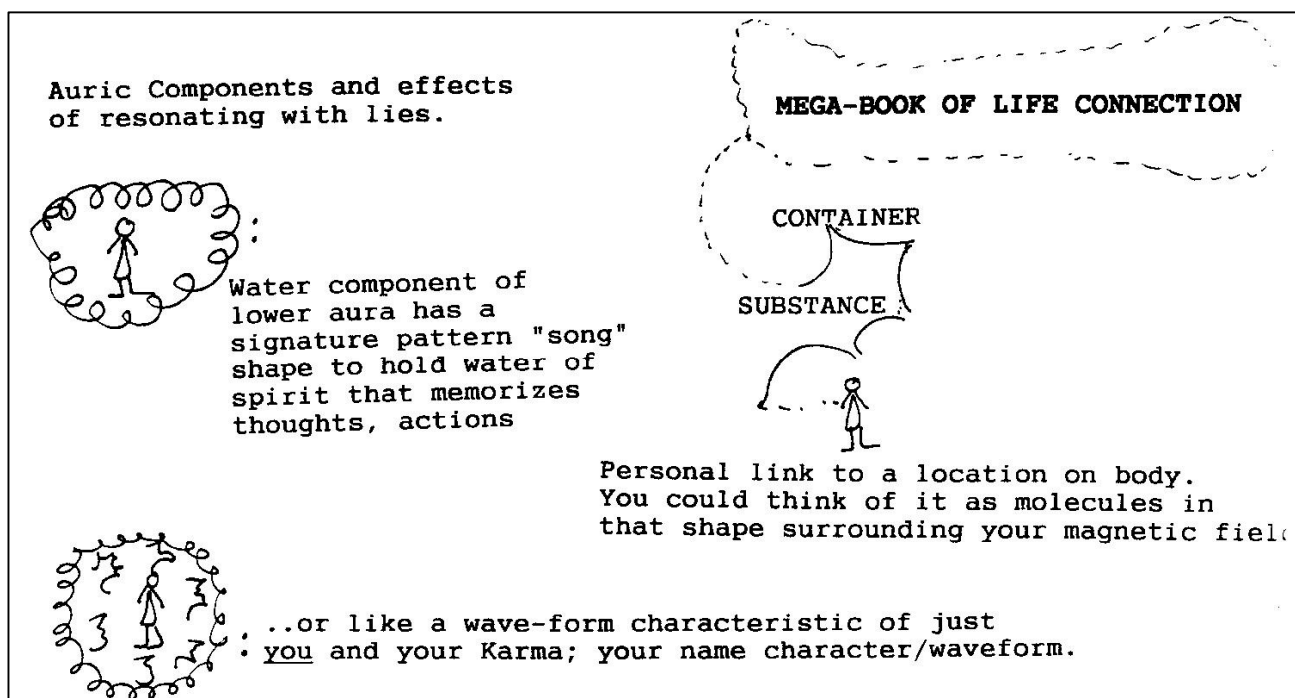

Some people have sold themselves for a house, a friend, a lover, a pet dog, a good job, food, sex, or to be appreciated by others. The sale is always conscious at the time, and yet when the dark self takes over the body, the time of sale is quickly forgotten.

Such people do not usually get what they wanted; that is the way it is when dealing with the lord of lies. And, it is possible for a sale to be canceled by intercession from above, and yet not always a good idea. This is (the) bane of exorcists. Should you spend your energy saving a drowning man who would surely drown another?

To cancel a sale of self requires the exorcist to understand the mechanics of consciousness and awareness substances that make up the self. Some people do not have souls, and yet they have a type of consciousness substance that keeps them from being empty phantoms controlled by any wind. Should those people decide to sell their bodies to satan for a desired outcome, then they would lose their remaining consciousness aspects of sense of self, and become vessels for darkness. They cannot do so, however, unless a person with a soul feeds them awareness substances. That is a major fact influencing all exorcisms. Highly malignant dark forces require both awareness substances and body consciousness substances that are mingled through being in the same person or by an ensouled person merging emotionally with a soul-less person.

Each person starts life on Earth with a personal "Book of Life" record that is connected with a mega-Earth Book of Life. The personal Book of Life is part of the energy field around the human body, and has an affinity for the water in the body. Just as Bach flower remedies and homeopathic tablets "program" all the water in a container with a type of song or series of informational tones, so does the water within the "Book of Life" container (magnetic field water mold) take on information that is allowed within the human aura and body. Emotions, thoughts, and actions put either poison or health energy into the water.

If the sense of self is projected outward to another person, fantasy, memory, or animal, then the water aura loops over the object of emotion/desire. The emotion can be love or hate. The key is that the individual feels a sense of ownership outside self, or wants to be owned by another. The giving up of self-boundaries is one of the most destructive and insidious roads to hells and beyond.

If a possessive person loops over another person who happens to have auric injuries, then bits of the water mold container of the possessor chip off and fall into the victim. This is a serious condition for both parties.

To have other people's bits of self (Book of Life container bits) inside you is to take on their portals into hells. Likewise, to lose part of your own self inside other people that you feel sorry for or just because you want to love everybody is a serious spiritual mistake. It occurs because of emotional merging, sexual desire/fantasy for the other person, hate for the other person, or because you pride yourself in being psychic or artistic.

Many people take comfort in seeing God as all forgiving, and so they recklessly ooze lovey emotion on people who use such substance to summon demons. Most people who summon demons do not sit in séances and read from obscure pentagram-laden books. Demons are summoned in the simplest ways by people who are given power from others that they do not deserve to employ.

The power may be emotional support energies that give a person a boost to do something awful against an innocent person. For instance, if you fervently encourage an unbalanced person to "express her emotions" about perceived childhood abuse to her dying mother, you may be empowering emotional torture. If you finance a lawyer for a person who wants to destroy the reputation of an innocent man through public scandal, then you have used your financial energies to feed evil. You might have wanted to believe that your friend had been injured by the sued party, and yet in your heart did not believe so. Even yet, you had a lifelong belief that "friends should stand by friends," and so paid for evil.

To pray for someone to keep a soul who has used her awareness substances for opening doors to hells is to share your own soul with her. Only a person who is willing to go about perfecting her lower consciousness of good and evil is worthy of a container of awareness (soul.) Vampires of consciousness and awareness substances abound because of do-gooders who end up feeding the hounds of hells.

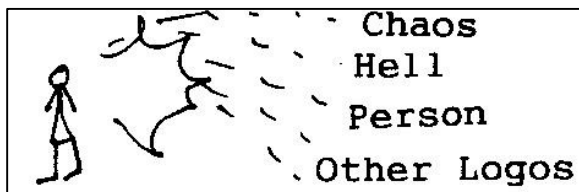

Wanting to believe that all people are just alike is one of the biggest reasons to get vampired. In such a beatific merging belief system, one easily lets the soul force surge through the physical eyes to shine upon an unworthy object. In doing so, a bond is formed, often with fallen beings that create a binding substance that glues your very soul to another person.

It may seem that there is no way out of being vampired, and the voices of darkness will whisper that no one really wants to vampire you. Most people, in their true selves, do not want to suck the various energies from other people, and are scarcely aware of doing so. They merely feel a surge of emotional joy around the person they want to vampire. This surge is not so much different than one feels around any loved one, and yet there is an undercurrent of jealousy within the joy surge that serves as a red flag of a demon mouth being present.

It is indeed possible to not be vampired and not become a vampire. All vampirism is rooted in partial resonation of a lie between the parties. There are exceptions to this rule, such as children, animals, and formless saints who are anchored to earth by someone else. Those categories of beings require impeccability of their parents, owners, and anchors in order to not be vampired. Should the parents, owners, or anchors accept a lie and so resonate with vampires, then the children, pets, or saints become meat for demons. Anchors of saints, and those people close to saints, are sought after by vampires because there is more awareness food to eat than in a normal group.

When people have used up all their consciousness substances and awareness substances to receive some kind of pay-off from demons, they have lost themselves completely, and should be considered dead. In some cases, people who have been given more temptation than the average person have been given new Books of Life and new souls. (Some have had great leniency; a dozen or more.) It is up to the divine powers as to whether it is appropriate to bestow more Grace upon a person who has mis-used his substances by listening to lies and responding in some obsessive way to feed such lies.

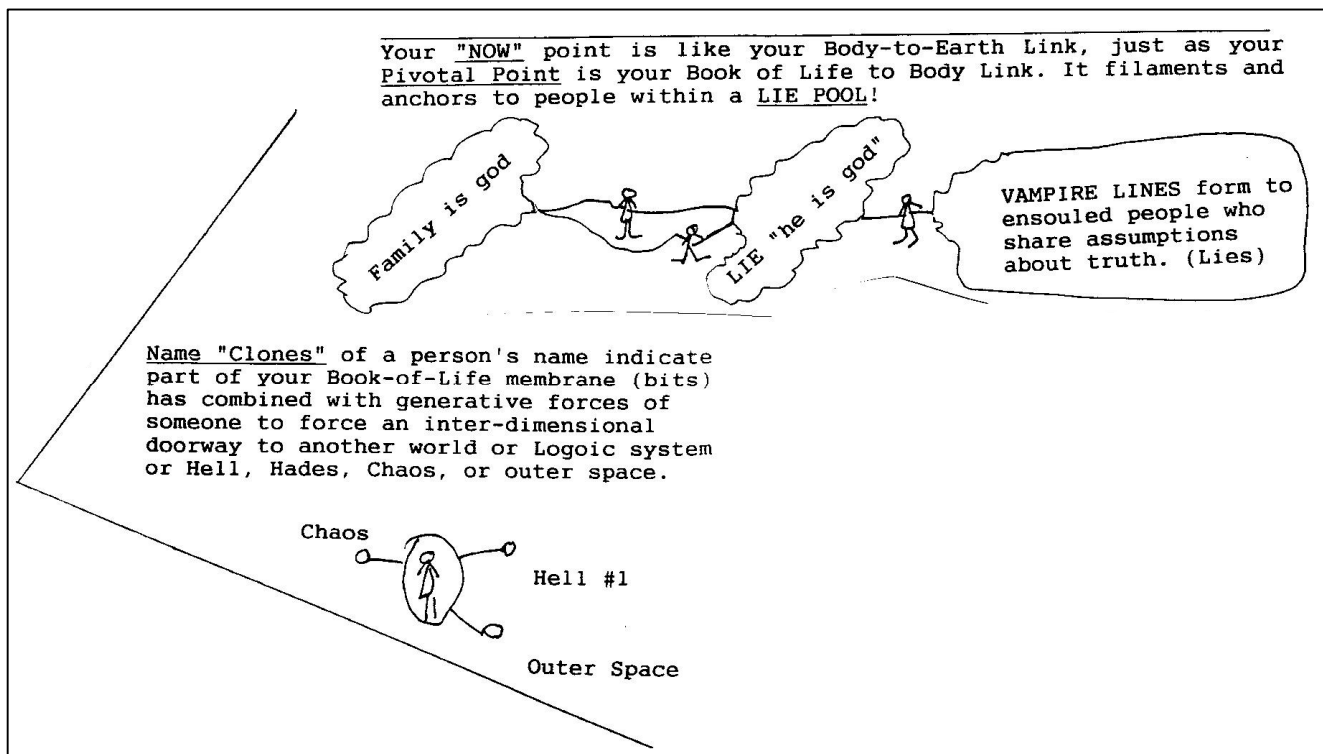

By remembering that lies first enter through the Magnetic Water Container (Book of Life) and that the pages in the book are the emotion-laden water substance, then one can more readily understand the importance of self-control in thought/emotion/action. One can dowse the percent of container present, how many bits are out floating or in people, how many people's bits are in you, how many lies are in your water substance, how many names of other people are in your water substance, how satanic is your water, how many containers from the past that have been replaced through Grace have bits out, and so on. Your name is reflected by the quantitative amount and shape of your water container and the qualitative water aspect. (See Dowsing Chart end of Lesson)

Some people's Books of Life are no longer connected to the Mega-Book, but to other people, hells, other Logos spots, Chaos, Purgatory, or past self. Such connections are due to major lie acceptance on a tissue level. This may reflect as your genitals becoming satanic on the Law clock.

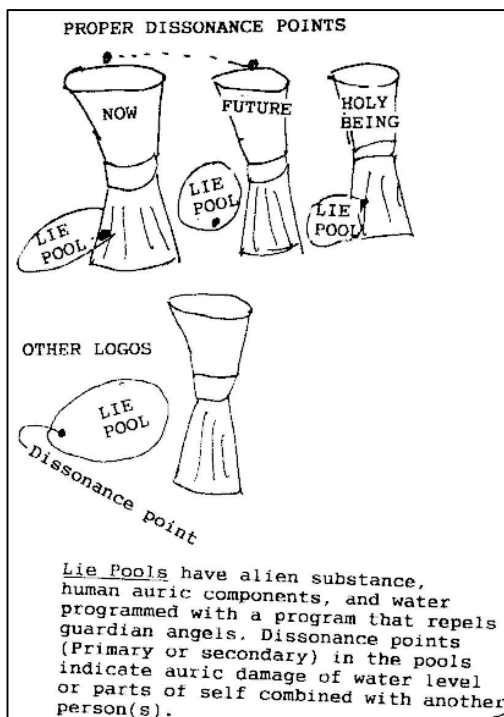

Your Book of Life has two links: one to the Mega-Book (ideally) and one to your own body. Sometimes the body link is filamented with lines going to hells, hades, chaos, and other Logos location, or to people. Such a case is sure to cause you to lose your Book of Life completely, and therefore become a name-less phantom that is blown around by the winds of Hades.

Some of the teaching illustrations in this series overlap for logical reasons that will unfold. Nonetheless, a Phantom can be said to have no Cones, no Identity Sphere, no awareness of its own, no consciousness of its own, or any generative power to contact or feed evil in any world or hell. All the food must be provided by people who still have it, and decide to share, or by poor animals, who should be freed from possession by the exorcist. Often, a vampire will dowse as a dog or cat that is being vampired.

The angle of auric pull is Key to Location: Chaos/Hell #1/Outer Space.

The most common method of vampirism used by the anti-Christ beings of another Logoic system (aliens) involves using etheric "clean-up bugs" to eat holes into the water aura. These have been called "Sylphic Biters." Normally, Sylphic Biters do not chew on any aura except a dead one; they are like maggots on dead flesh. However, they have been impregnated with a virus containing a watery lie from someone who has sold themselves over to evil. The biters arrive in a watery cloud of evil emotion or carnality from one person to another. They make you itch all over. If they have demons in the cloud, as well, then pelvic pain and agitation will be felt.

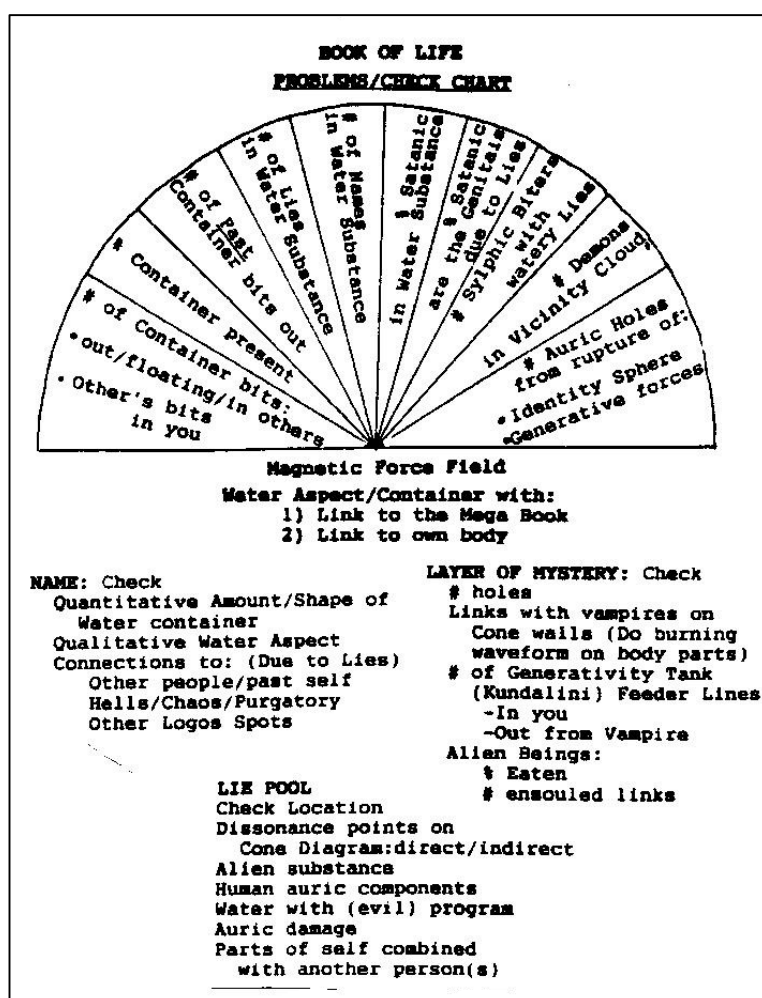

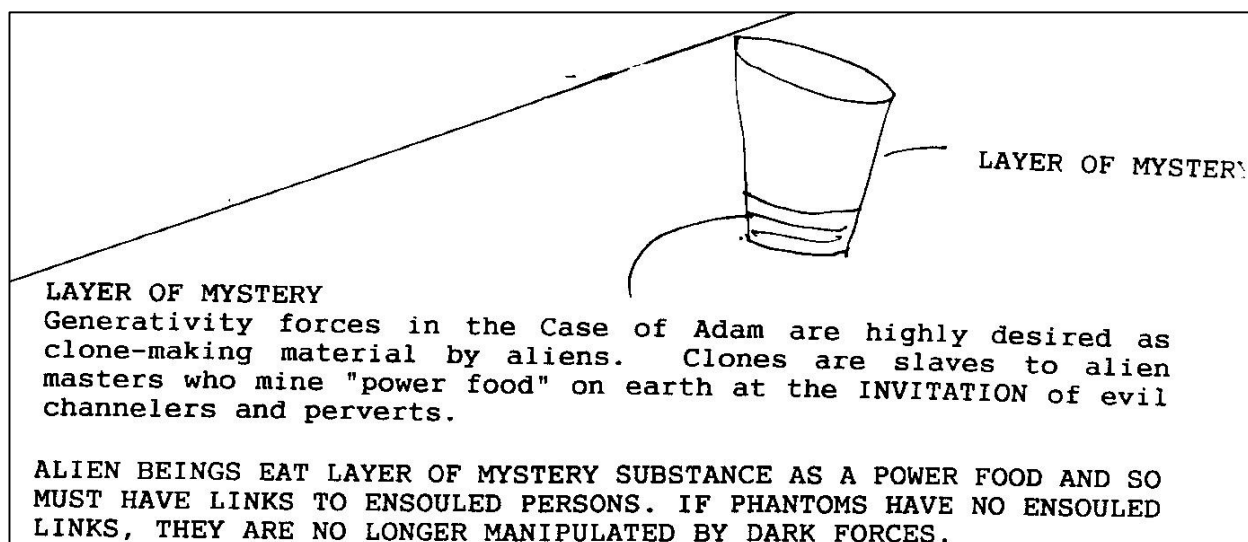

There are reasons that a lie program is included inside the biters. Lies cause generative forces to move at the wrong angles within a person's Identity Sphere, and cause auric holes to erupt following an emotional outburst or orgasm. This provides demon entry. The person is made to feel that the "release" of force at the wrong angle that tore a hole in the aura was pleasurable, for a bit of time, but that it must be repeated soon. The addiction is clearly in place when the person recalls the lie to get the ball rolling. If the surge of emotion or sex are reinforced following repeated lies, then the person soon becomes a phantom, and loses the ability to receive the surge, unless someone else feeds them.

It is difficult to clear these energies that have produced feeder lines unless you realize that they are all linked to a "Lie Pool". Lie pools exist in abnormal locations as abnormal dissonance points on the Cone Diagram.

Normally, you should have a Dissonance Now Point linked to a future dissonance point, and no more. Some Lie Pools links are secondary, or third downline, and so on, if your water substance or membrane bits are in people hooked into other people.

The Cone of Now has Layer of Mystery Substance as its boundary. That is the food of God, and hungered for by fallen beings. Holes in the Layer of Mystery Cone Walls is a serious condition (See next chart).

Generative Tank (Kundalini) feed lines are always present if a vampire continues to torment others. Finding out how many kundalini feeders are present in a vampire is important.

Also, when the globs of Sylphic Biters hit one's aura, they can erode it steadily, even without a Lie resonance. They block the spiritual sun with "Alien Sun Blocker Substance" until necrosis sets in on the air, fire, and water membranes under the glob.

That is why WILLING sun energies to black spots on the auric sphere is a good idea to do; it blocks decay until you get rid of the biters.

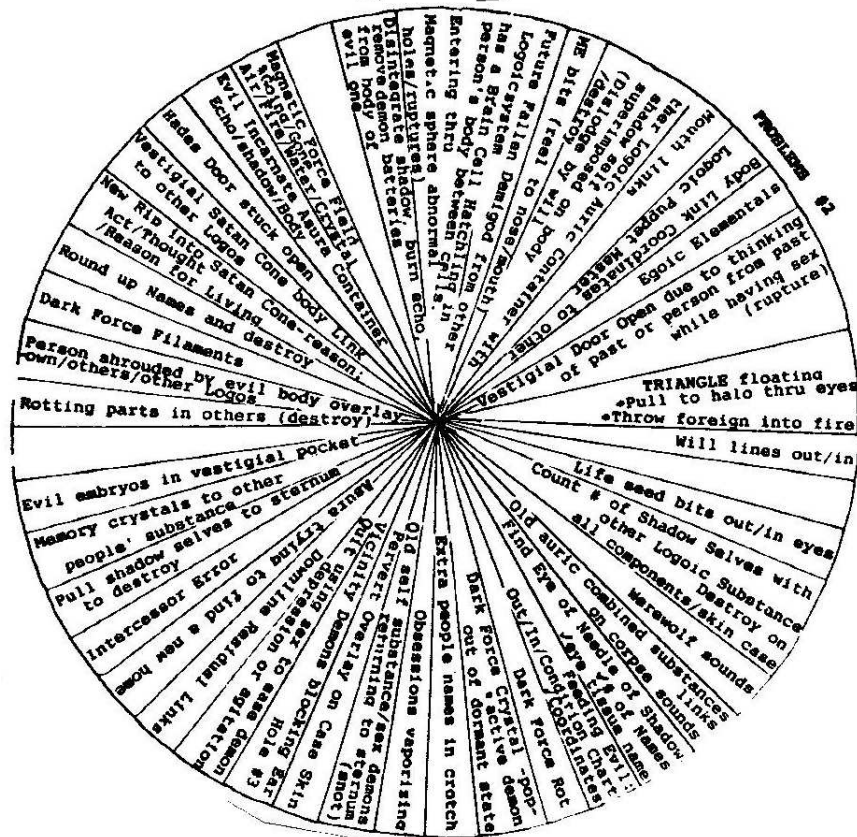

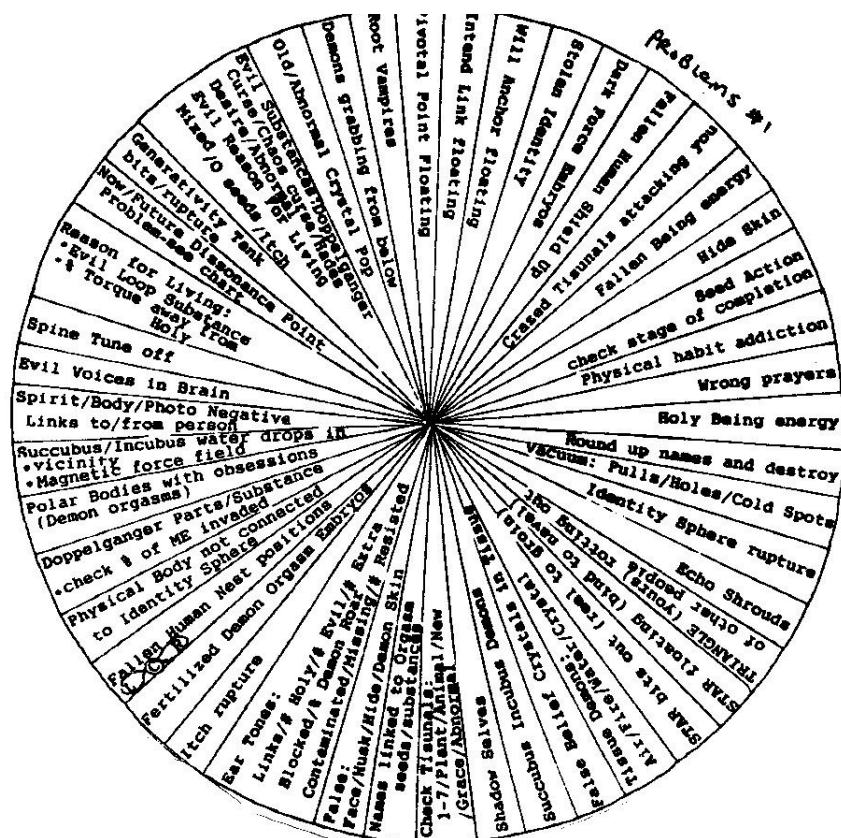

You cannot stop the biters or vampires if you still have a Layer of Mystery link with a person who is a vampire. Think of your whole body as having a layer of skin that is the Layer of Mystery. While looking over the body illustrations, send a burning waveform over any spot that has a sucker line to a vampire.

There is more to go, but this is a lot for one day. We will be mailing new charts and hard copies of lessons soon.

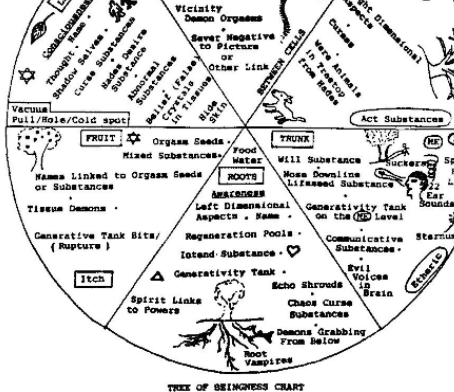

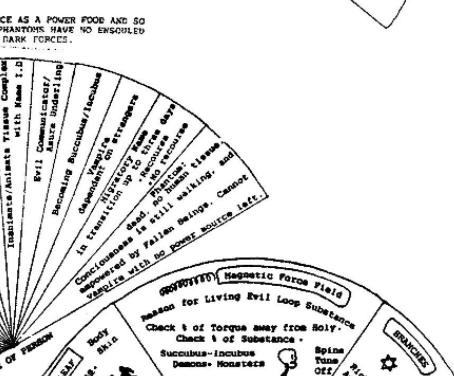

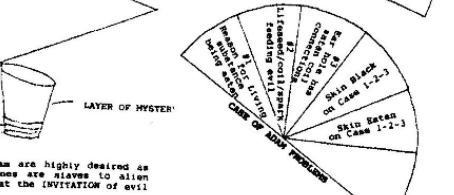

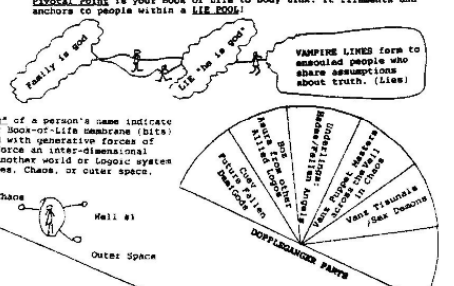

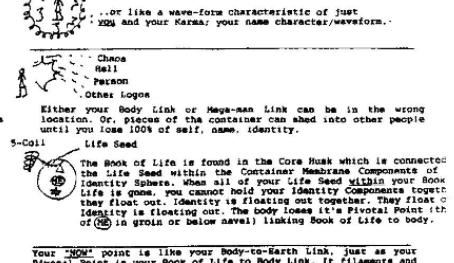

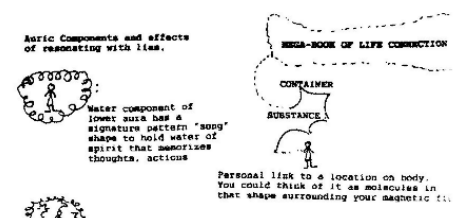

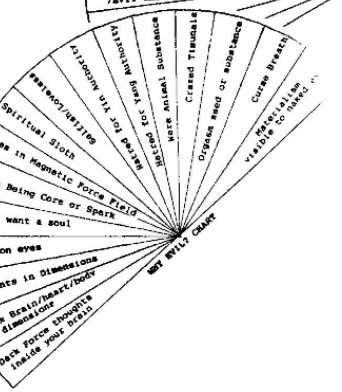

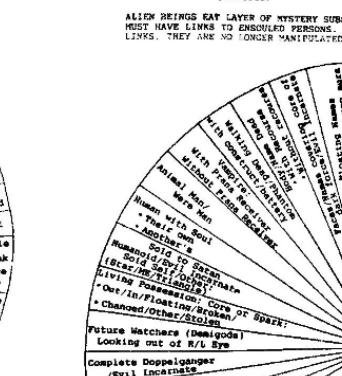

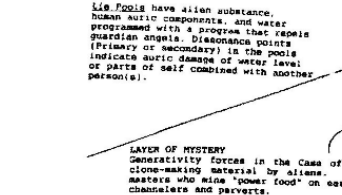

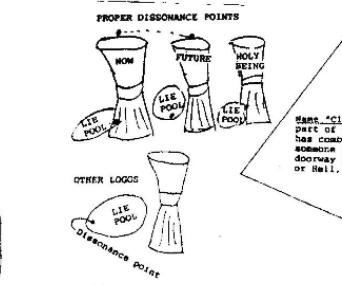

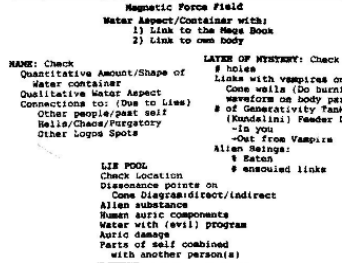

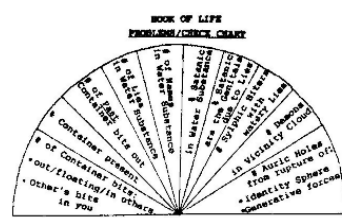

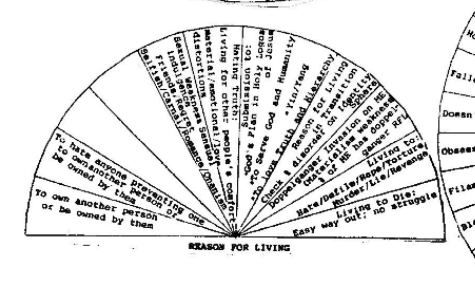

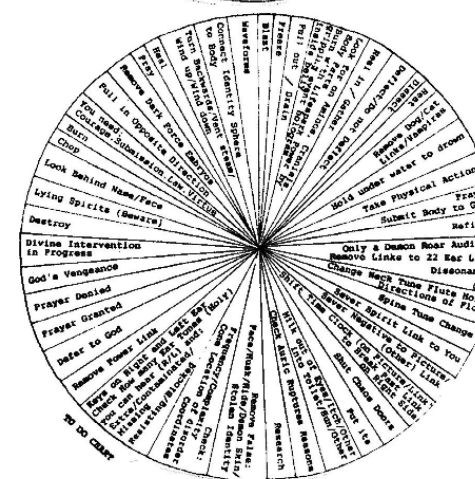

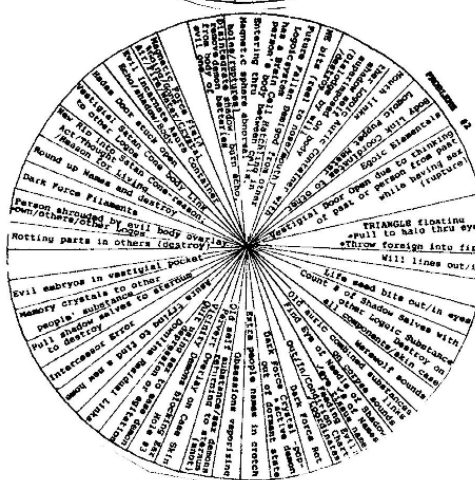

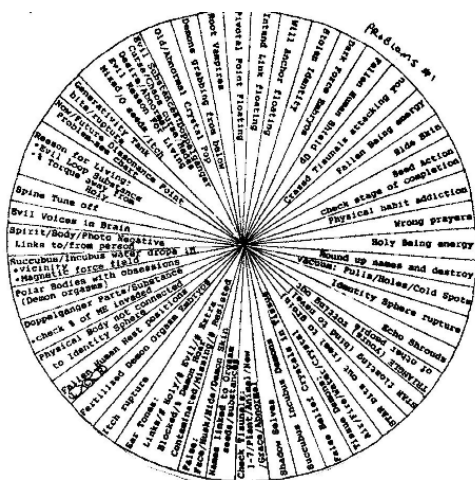

Blessings

LESSON MAY 18, 1995: Self Esteem and Holiness

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

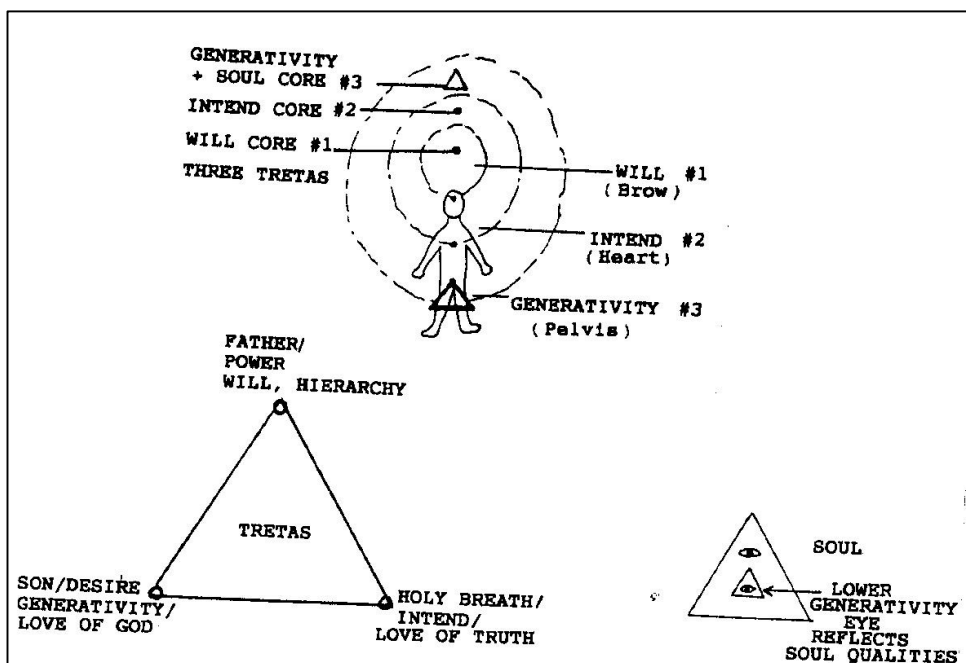

SELF ESTEEM AND HOLINESS

One of the most mysterious human attributes relates to the quality and quantity of self-esteem. Rather than thinking of self-esteem as a characteristic, one can more readily unveil the mystery by considering self-esteem an aspect of the lower anatomy. Self-esteem does have characteristics that vary, but those characteristics exist within a framework and substances of Lawful creation.

Many people have aggressive personalities that are cheerful and seemingly intelligent, and yet they haven't self-esteem, but merely a pseudo form of it...a false light. True self esteem has within it great powers due to the individual's alignment with the powers that grant self-esteem: the Father, Son, and Holy Breath. Some people who are satanically willful, such as Donald Trump, appear to be full of self-esteem, and yet they are shallow and degenerate, and could be backed down into tears in a room full of people by someone who held the power of True self esteem.

True self esteem depends upon the correct alignment of three cores of being that each have distinct substances: the Will core, the Intend core, and the Generativity core. One's Will core should be firmly anchored in the crown, so as to shine down upon the brow. One's Intend core should be firmly anchored in the halo, so as to illuminate the heart below. One's generativity core should be in the pelvis as a perfect replica of the Eye of the Soul that looks to heaven from the halo.

The three cores are the "TRETAS" that are a person's reflection of alignment with the Divine Powers.

The Will Treta reflects one's amount of respect for hierarchy, amount of submission to the Will of the Father, and the amount of power granted to one through Grace.

The Intend Holy Breath Treta reflects the purity of one's desire to breathe in Truth ...how much one hungers for Truth, and rejects Lies. It reflects degree of acceptance of the Law of Polarity, Law of Change, Law of Vibration, and the other Laws.

The Generativity Son Treta reflects ones desire to bring holiness into flesh. Whether one has chosen divine love over materialism (carnal or monetary) reflects in this Treta's condition.

The reason that the soul has been depicted as a trinity/triangle symbol relates to the importance of these three Tretas for the soul to manifest as a link between your body and God. No soul is more pure than the balance of its three Tretas downline. The Tretas should be considered parts of the soul.

Many people would dowse as having an Evil Black Higher Self (represented by a black filled triangle) but they do not have a soul. The soul would have died, and the lower generativity eye of God would have been replaced by an eye of a demon. Even if all connections to Hades, Hell, Chaos and so forth were removed, the person would still have a black higher self, because they are their own god which is evil.

The Treta Triangle must be assessed at the groin of a person, even though it should be anchored above. The Treta Triangle is the earthly manifestation and anchor of self-esteem. If a person has taken on satanic values, and is fueled by love of chaos into a euphoric thrill of pseudo-self-confidence, he may appear quite strong and impress others with his luciferic false-light devil's arguments. Also, if he has lower animal magnetism due to links with carnal hells, he will exude a sexual energy that some people may mistake as true personal power. Indeed, people who have sold their generative functions to satan have no power at all. They are robots for succubus/incubus energies that eventually toss them aside, impotent and depressed.

The only True Power is through alignment of one's Treta cores with Law and Virtues. Many people have tried to passively gain such powers through association with holy persons or through vampirism of holy persons, which is sometimes tolerated for a time in hope that the vampire will absorb enough goodness to change his ways. Other people have, for a time, aligned with Law, but then grown weary of spiritual battle and so thrown up their soul's hands in a whining gesture of dependence. They insist that God owes them salvation because they have done so much for God in the past. Their current state of disarray they seek to blame on another person or persons or situations outside their control. They degenerate to a worse state than when they began their spiritual climb, and feel the hateful heat of Hades lick at their heels. Even then, they do not submit to God's Laws, but ever whine and blame.

In the end, it is a simple matter: Intend rightly, submit one's Will, and Desire that your flesh reflect purity. There is no salvation by association or by memory of good deeds. Salvation means that you are worth saving and so you are saved to do good in this world and others. If you do not good, then what is worth saving? Somebody who sits around and whines about money, about a house, about how love has passed them by, somebody whose waking hours are spent thinking about crotchets of the past or future? Holiness is found in the Now; not in memories or longing. Not in yesterday and not in a fantasy.

It doesn't matter how many good deeds you did yesterday; what matters is whether TODAY you intend rightly, submit your will to God, and purify your desires. Above all, you must desire Truth, so that your path of purification will unfold before you, so you will not be led astray down some fantasy path of your own choosing.

A pious veneer and saintly words cannot hide a black halo, as it forms around the eyes and hair of a person who has chosen to no longer struggle for Truth and goodness. The black halo soon descends to the throat, where it brings about clever and destructive devil speech. Then it falls to the heart, where the evil reflects in the curve of spine and twist of joints. Then it falls to the belly, where the bowels form demon gas and the urine smells of sulphur. Then it descends into the genitals for reproduction of all that is evil, so as to justify for the personality some sense of self-esteem that defies all that is holy. Should the person have any connection to power, at that point, then he becomes a factory for the production of curses, sexual demons and demons of death.

Should ensouled people no longer feed auric substances to such a person, then he will use up his power, and become a shell that will be operated by minor fallen beings. Major fallen beings hunger for soul energies, and are not satiated with mere physical prana. In rare cases, such a degenerate person will become an automaton with a benign program, so as to not violate the rights of others, within Law. In any case, he has no self left, and therefore no self-esteem: he sold it or gave it away.

Self-esteem is measured by the quality, quantity, and directional pull of the three cores toward the center of the triangle. The superficial personality of the physical vehicle is unimportant; self-esteem cannot be evaluated by animal magnetism standards. However, a person with self-esteem tends to have a magnetic personality, as well.

Transitory senses of self-esteem qualities can be important clues as to when a person is spiritually contaminated. It is normal for an ensouled person to feel a sense of painful shame when one of the Tretas is contaminated.

A sense of being ugly to others is commonly felt by a person who is sensitive to generative core contamination shame. Bad skin/excretion odors, a fear of being put out like a pup on grandma's porch, and a facial appearance of greenish guilt are indicative of generative core contamination.

Desperate speech babbling with a tendency to say small untruths can be a symptom of someone who feels insecure due to contamination of the Intend/Holy Breath Treta. The seeming inability to control unholy thoughts and images, and the slipping into merging with other people without restraint, all are symptoms of Intend Treta contamination. A tendency to deny a crime before one is accused is also a sign.

A sense of unbridled anger for no good reason, a persistent irritability with self-righteous overtones, and a tendency to make rooms messy is an indication of contamination of the Will Treta. The desire to take a devil's advocate position in speech or thought is also indicative. A peculiar social desperation often takes place, as well, in which one tends to buddy up to someone of a similar contamination, as if in fear that God has left. The fear of being alone is pronounced, and the fear of death appears. Because of the fear of social isolation, all irritability becomes suppressed into an ingratiatingly polite personality that tends to undermine all that is holy while espousing mock concern for other people. The expression of piety combined with insidiously slow malignant speech is an indicator. "I am only thinking of him..."

The danger, in such cases, is that one may rupture one of the Tretas, and then desperately try to justify the mistakes by aligning other aspects of self or other people to one's defense. Often, as a person slips into spiritual decay, and sees the hounds of hell over the horizon, he tries to pull others with him by some clever ruse. He does so because the death of the soul is so frightful a prospect that even the most (lower) willful person trembles for a time, even after deciding to die within, so as to appear to be powerful without. The untold emptiness of Godlessness provokes an angst in a person who has chosen evil, for a time, until he has lost the last shred of himself, and then feels the euphoria of a demon of delight. That is the saddest sight: a person who no longer grieves over the death of his self.

Of course, the little voices would tell you that you are a fool to submit to "Laws" that are interpreted by such a flawed receptacle as myself; they would recite little things about me that do not fit in with your idea of holiness. They do so to convince you that there is no holiness on Earth except yourself as you want to be and there is no God except your buddies and yourself. They want you to believe that only people/relationships can save you from the terrible panic of the blackest night...the final night.

They want you to forget the little moments of non-time when you glimpsed eternity and goodness in a way that did not fit in with the worldly idea of reality. They want you to forget the pang of realization in your heart of hearts when you felt the presence of God touch you in your core.

Every day each person on Earth decides whether to listen to the 22 sounds of heaven or the roar of hell. Each day each person on earth, soul or no soul, decides whether to hate or love Truth. Each day, each person is looked upon by God and found wanting, or is touched by Grace.

The souls that have been cast aside, like rags! Do you not think that the holy Powers suffer? The knowledge of mercy/Grace and the gifts of new souls were intended to lead man to holiness, and yet he has grown smug, complacent, ever more sure that he can have his way while rubbing elbows with power.

Each day should be a reunion with God. Each conflict within the body or heart should be turned over to God in modest submission of your will, if you ever hope to have Divine Will. Should you wake up at night, hearing the demons howl, you should think of how Christ, too, endured such taunts and yet remained holy.

Many a lazy person has decided that they have gone too far to expect to recover, and so appear superficially submitted to their own failure....but not to God. Should they submit to God, with any little cell of their body left with an iota of will, then the angels of heaven would fly to their aid. Fatalism is an excuse for laziness.

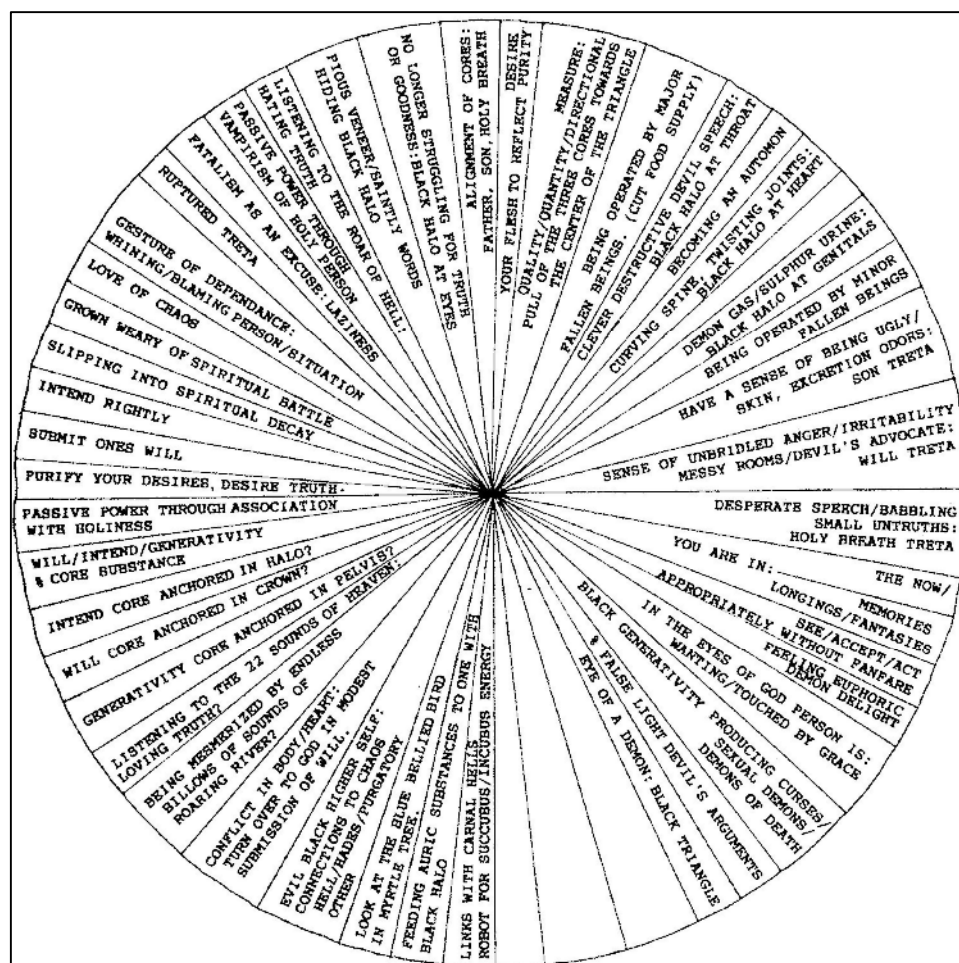

I look out upon the sea of humanity with some trepidation, and yet I am grounded in complete Trust of Law. It is indulgent to weep overmuch over losses, or to brag over victories. It is better to see, to accept, and to act appropriately without fanfare.

And so I weep, just a bit, and continue to see, and continue to act as well as I am able. I expect other people to do the same: no better, no worse. We have the same God, and I may be a bit Graced so as to see the echo of His Face a bit closer...but that Face did not approach me. I approached Him. Should you, daily, crawl a bit closer to Him through impeccability of Will, Intend, and Desire...then you can know what I know.

Until then, I stand like a big sister at the edge of a roaring river. I try to get you to look at a little blue-bellied bird up in the myrtle tree, but you long to plunge into the water, mesmerized by the endless billows of sound. Should you merge with the river, the bird would still sing, but your ears could not hear.

And I would stand on the bank forever.

LESSON MAY 20, 1995: Wrong Prayers and the Tretas

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

WRONG PRAYERS AND THE TRETAS

Many sorrows that humanity deals with are due to wrong prayers that have turned into curses. Prayers are acts of power. The actual power of the act of prayer can originate from personal connections to power or through intercessor connections to power. Therein lies the rub.

To pray for another person can be a dangerous act that swells out of a sense of personal false piety. For instance, to pray that someone else be given the power to overcome their obstacles to purity is a very dangerous prayer. In effect, you are granting them power of your own, or asking that your intercessors grant them power. Whether they chose to use that power for good or evil is up to them, according to the Law of Free Will. Also, such prayers tap on the energies of your Father Will Treta.

If your prayers are based upon an emotional decision about what is true regarding the person or situation, then you will use your available spiritual energies connected to your Holy Breath Treta to bring about a perceived positive outcome.

If you have desire for an outcome due to social, familial, romantic, materialistic, or sexual expectations/wants, then you will pour into the prayer the energies available on the Desire/Son Treta.

Whenever all three aspects of the Tretas are energized in prayer, then centers of the soul and generative triangle/eyes become a force of directed power that summons either angels or fallen beings, depending upon alignment with Law.

People reflect the purity of their prayers largely in their eyes. The right eye forms generative links to curses that form out of wrong prayers. The number of the curses/wrong prayers is less important than the toxicity of spiritual poison that reflects out of the aqueous vitae into a black light upon others, when wrong prayers are curses. When Treta substances have been used up for curses, then the Black Vitae Substance is no longer pouring out, but is already out in many people, especially the objects of curse/prayers. In many cases, the Black Vitae has fueled obsession demons that eat away at the cursed victim's auric field.

The left eye of a needy person produces a sucker pull that can draw in a doorway to drain regenerative pools in nearby people. The right eye issues a grab in the middle of some mindless conversation, while the left eye issues a suck pull. Many people who appear loving and prayerfully benign actually are going through the spiritual mechanics of dangerous prayer without knowing it, because they are using the Treta powers over other people.

If two people who have access to Generosity of Spirit (New Heaven, Iridescent Sea) substance are aligned in the same belief that does not follow Law/Truth, and align their three Tretas through speech or thought, then they form a solid synergy curse. They open doorways to Hells, Hades and Purgatory. All manner of lying spirits enter the core of their Tretas. Sylphic biters with obsession programs, Asuras, fallen angels, and other dark forces enter the open synergy door.

Therefore, be cautious about your prayers. Make sure that your prayers are grounded in holiness, and not an assumption or desire. Be cautious in aligning with nagging thoughts that may be coming from a possessed person who is thinking of you. Do not feed emotional strength, circular thought matter, or sexual energy to the dark forces that crawl out the Tretas due to former wrong prayers.

You cannot correct the wrong prayers simply by praying to do so because they are no longer prayers: they are complicated curses that web into many people and have opened the doors of darkness. You must methodically correct your errors, while trying to not make the same mistake by a similar prayer.

If your prayers could not have the power to be dangerous, then it is likely they would have no power to do good, either. Just as fire can burn or warm us in the coldest of nights, so does prayer come to our rescue or bury us. We must struggle to contain our powers with proper respect for the intentions we have within us, and seek to purify those intentions. Also, we must not wish that a spiritually immature or unbalanced person be given any power that he may use recklessly to destroy himself or others.

As you climb toward purification, you must not forget your basic lessons regarding the containing of self in the Identity Sphere. Without listening to Lehys in the chest, without submitting to God's Will in the brow, with desiring with the Son at the throat, you are likely to be led into destructive prayers.

You can locate such prayers by their trails of destruction that lead you to a sense of powerlessness. Whenever you have given lines of power to others who have misused those powers, you will feel weak/depressed, like a victim, or irritable/hostile around others for no reason. Pray to trace your errors. Bad prayers often dowse as "dead spots on mouth."

If you have prayed to get your way about a wrong issue a great many times, you may have a lot of clean-up to do. If you have lost a lot of power, you may have to ask for help, and then go about not repeating your errors, and not feeling sorry for your pitiful state since you drew it to you. A lack of power may be a blessing for some people if they have no self-control.

If you have had no self-control in your use of power, in your desires, and in your emotional decisions about what is true, then you can start today. Decide to not listen to the grid at all, but to pray the Twenty-Third Psalm if the sounds of hell are too loud. It takes more energy to go with evil than it does to go with good. Just decide to be good. Then, desire holiness, and realize that you do not know what Truth is, but God does, and so you ask the Holy Spirit to lead you. Be like a child, so as to be led.

Many people pray long prayers in fancy robes with pained expressions and yet never reach God. Prayer is not meant to be a suffering or an opiate. Prayer is an act of power, when done rightly. The reason I discouraged all the group prayers after a time was that they became an empty habit for some people, or a time to daydream. Prayers must hit you in the gut or they mean nothing.

There will be more about prayers...so stay tuned.

LESSON MAY 21, 1995: Tretas and the Light Powers

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

TRETAS AND THE LIGHT POWERS

One of the major reasons for moral decay is that people tend to disassociate what they know spiritually from their lower physical and mental lives. They tend to view spiritual people, teachings, and experiences as oddities to revere or curse. Even if they should revere spiritual experiences with holy people, they tend to go on their way in life without incorporating such experiences in their day-to-day behaviors.

This disassociation can occur at the Point of Astrological Dissonance (See Diagram page 49) or at the Point of Reverence (Diagram page 51). Corrupt genetic pools tend to produce a tendency for disassociation at the point of Astrological Dissonance, and for good reason.

If a child is being raised by corrupt parents, he is more likely to be influenced by them to use any spiritual powers for ill gain. The greater the genetic disassociation, the more difficult it would be for the child to gain spiritual powers without a great deal of individual effort. Such effort is likely to occur when he has reached puberty or beyond. That ensures that should he gain spiritual power, he would be unlikely to have followed in the footsteps of parents who have corrupted their bodies with sexual/substance promiscuity, or who have altered their genetic patterns through hate miasms, theft thoughts, and various obsessions. Since it takes discipline to go against the parental grain, it is more likely that the child who struggles against adversity toward Truth will be able to handle forces of the Logos with integrity. Of course, such a person can change his mind later on, and use his powers for ill gain just like anyone else. He could be haunted by his genetic pool demons and eventually give in to them at a moment of weakness. Should he do so, he is likely to use his spiritual powers as a sorcerer.

It is important that an Astrological Dissonance Point be present in people, because it is the grounding influence that allows holy people to endure earthly experiences with joy while struggling toward sainthood. At that point, a person should be linked to the New Heaven through a guardian angel that carries the Generosity of Spirit substance (Iridescent sea substance of power to move through time and space) that a Saint can bestow as an intercessor upon people to enable them to survive the Rapture. Unfortunately, many people have lived such sorry lives that their Guardian angels have left or gone crazy, and have used their Iridescent sea substance to reach carnal hells instead of heaven.

Saints have less of a deflection of spiritual Light at their Astrological Dissonance Points, and so experience the joy and pain of illumination while viewing the Earth under the clouds of heavenly glory. The illumination of a less deflected stream of Logoic Light can occur early in a gradual manner in a child of spiritually-minded parents or can occur suddenly to anyone that is chosen for a holy task by the forces above. When illumination occurs suddenly, you could say that such people are "called by God." Those that are called by God can choose to embrace the Light and the work before them, or reject it in little ways or big ways.

Out of those who are called, a few are chosen to accept even greater Light, as saints. Those few are the stoic ones who endured higher knowledge with courage and physical/mental/emotional purity of intention and action. They are given more power and more responsibility, and also more joy. Their joy is from goodness, and is mixed with the sorrows of seeing the Earth so clearly.

A human saint normally "sees through a glass darkly" because an Astrological Dissonance Point is the very anchor of the flesh to earthly experience. Otherwise, the sounds of heaven would lift him out of flesh. A saint is anchored in heaven, and must be anchored, as well, on Earth, so as to help those who have less Light. Should he lose his anchor to heaven, he becomes a common man. Should he lose his anchor to Earth, he dies, unless he has been chosen for the role of formless saint. Then, holy people must anchor him, as he stands perilously pulled upwards to heaven, so as to peek in the gates a bit more than other saints, and hold the door open for others to enter. Should there be no door-holders; the saints below would lose hope, and therefore their grip, on the heavenly Light rope. Door holders do not have to incarnate; there are door holders that will never be seen by man.

Above the Astrological Dissonance Point is the Light Tumbler Shield (See Chart at end of Lesson). This is also a deflection filter, relating to the barrier between Earthly physical manifestation and non-Earthly manifestation on other planes of being. At that point, there is an intersection of other world systems. It is a point that is sometimes accessed by people who summon dangerous forces that were never to have intersected Earth. Sometimes, saints must do battle to round up and remove such dangerous forces from the Earth, and take them to this portal of intersecting worlds. It is a dangerous task that often results in spiritual injuries. Any saint who risks himself for holy battle must be strong in his lower mind and body to endure such a serious task. Such a saint endures risk and injury because he loves humanity, and is erasing the effects of humans who have invited evil. Should there be no saints to do so, then the little children of the Earth would spend their nights in terror and pain.

To endure the Logoic Lights of the Tumbler Point of Intersecting Worlds takes more holiness than the lower saintly tasks that occur under the Wall of Astrological Dissonance. (See “Cones, Light and Self” Charts pages 51-52).

Under the Wall of Astrological Dissonance is the Point of Reverence, (See Also Chart Page 49) where the Logoic Lights enter the body. They enter the crown, above the eyes, unless blocked by a hatred for authority or gender. The Lights have yin and yang attributes, and will only enter a person who respects authority of God and accepts with humility the fact that God has within both yin and yang powers.

The flow ability of the forces of Light past the Point of Reverence are important, in that if they are blocked then the person will not be able to store power in the Midpoint of Kundalini Storage point above. If the Tretas are unbalanced in the soul or body, or if the soul and body are disconnected from each other, then there can be no proper flow. The forces will squirt out at odd directions, and dissipate, while producing auric holes in the Identity Sphere and weakening the personality. The more power a person is granted, the more likely an injury, unless he is impeccable. Also, if a person should vampire a person if greater power, then he is likely to suffer injury holes in his magnetic field, as the forces shoot out with his random thoughts or desires.

If a person balances his forces of the soul and body Treta aspects, keeps the soul/body links clearly communicative, and stores power, then he becomes a blessing on Earth. He could be represented as a White Star Of David, rather than a Black Hexagram, which represents a curse. Curses are formed when people who are evil (or become evil) link up with people who have stored power. It takes less to be evil when the power to curse is greater. Evil incarnate people are walking curses.

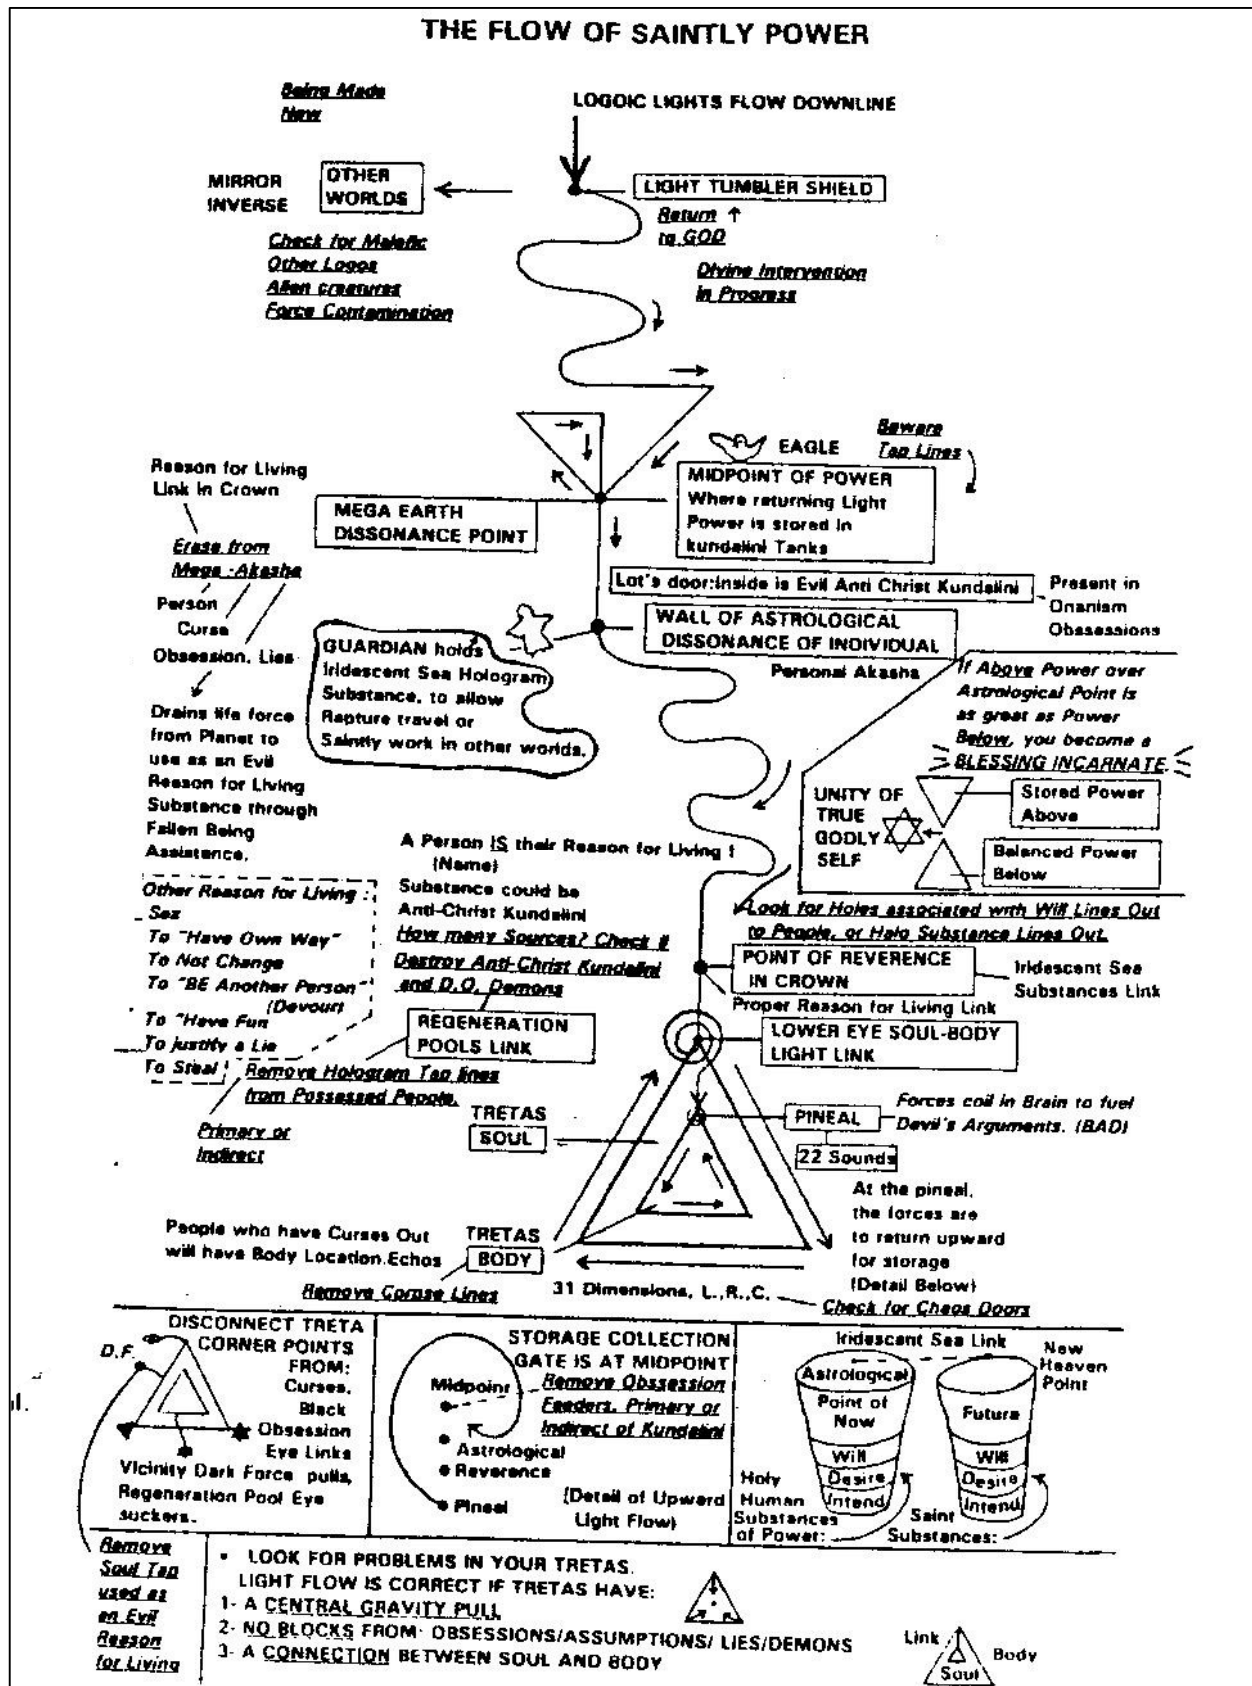

You should avoid or clear substance blocks on any of the Light paths illustrated in the diagrams and charts. As the lessons unfold, I will reveal to you more about the Tretas. They relate to the Case of Adam, for example. To be a human being means that you must have a Case of Adam, and therefore Tretas. Even people who have lost their souls do not necessarily lose their Tretas, unless they persist in error. A soul is a container for powers and awareness, and the Tretas are the channels for the power to flow through. People without souls have no kundalini storage for power, but still may have some Light flowing through their physical vessels, unless they use it recklessly.

Light is not prana; it is the stuff of glory. Logoic Light is what makes a man different than a frog; it is between Heaven and Earth.

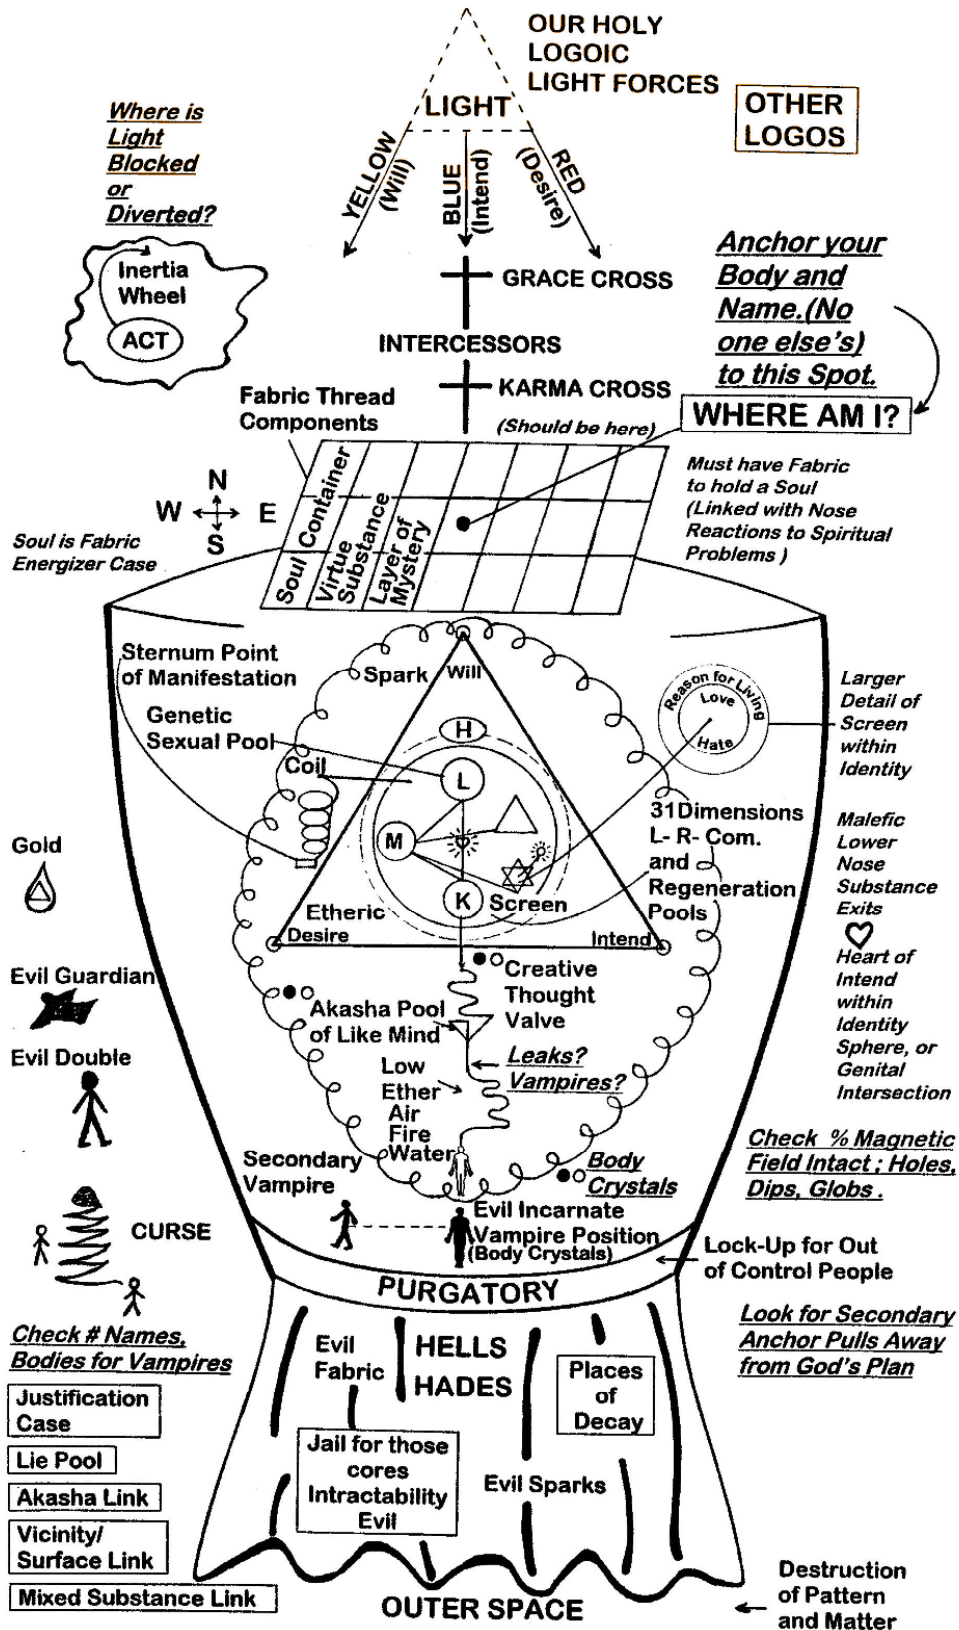

Should a person align with those Lights, then he is able to illuminate others. Should he turn from those Lights, he becomes part of the darkness.

Study the drawings and reread the text. Practice over the charts. Pray rightly, and give thanks.

REASONS FOR LIVING, POWER, AND PURITY

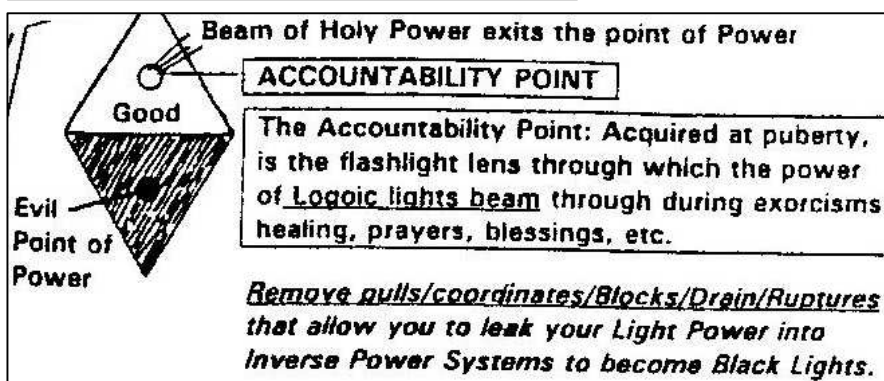

The physical spine has some correlation with the concept of Jacob's Ladder toward heaven. If an ensouled person's Will point of the Tretas is directed upward through the pineal, then he is not likely to waste any holy powers on materialism or in justifying a shallow and carnal existence. He looks up, to the top of the spinal ladder and beyond, for guidance from heaven. He does not look down to base concerns, lest his true self fall from the ladder.

On "The Flow of Saintly Power" illustration, the spine is correlated with the curling line between the Astrological Dissonance Point of the individual and the Lower-Eye Soul-Body Light Link below.

(Portion of Drawing)

If an individual resonates with, desires, intends to align with, and wills to align with his past and/or a base obsession/habit, then his Treta Triangle points down. This, in turn, changes the Light powers refraction to a beam at the point. For most people, there is so little Light going through the Tretas that it is unlikely the beam will do harm to self or others, at least in the immediate time of lower willfulness. For someone who has attained some spiritual power, or who interacts with those of spiritual power, there is more danger that the beam will be greater and pierce the veil to Chaos.

When this happens, a major rupture occurs in the spiritual anatomy. The Tretas enter Chaos, Hades, or a Hell, along with the "Jacob's Ladder" Light Container that is correlated with the spine, and the Holy Reason for Living substance no longer flows into the Light Line. Since a vacuum results within the containers, demons of a resonating type of the weakness of the individual enter the Tretas, and the container coil of the ladder becomes a case for a Group Pseudo Reason for Living Identity Sphere:

now satanically bound away from God. He feels his most normal self when he is reinforcing the obsession that became his true reason for living.

Many people think that their reason for living is to serve God, and yet they let insidious obsessions eat away at them, day after day, until their Will is whittled down by demons attracted to material, emotional, thought and carnal weaknesses. What started out as just something "fun" became an addiction. What some people think of as fun is certainly no fun to someone else. For instance, one person may have an addiction to being whipped in a leather outfit, while someone else may like to go on crying jags about how "mama loves the other (grown) kids more". Other people may look askance at how weird it is to like to cry or be whipped, and yet have an obsession that seems mild but is insidiously worse.

Someone may have learned, as a child, that if she whined about being fearful that no one liked her at school, then her mother would give her lots of attention for a day or two. The reinforcement eventually may encourage a "Grandma's Porch" syndrome, where a grown woman may be fearful and yet happy when thinking or speaking about being abandoned or disliked. If she gets reinforced only occasionally after speaking of her "worthlessness", then she will be even more motivated, like a gambler waiting to hit the jack pot. She becomes obsessed about feeling worthless, all the while somehow titillated by it, and a slow anger begins to grow within her.

Just as sado-masochistic sexual behavior is a sign of increasing evil, so is a "Grandma's Porch" syndrome personality that causes a person's face to appear guilty. Anytime a person has an obsession based upon a double agenda or a lie, then that person aligns with fallen beings, rather than with Truth. Anybody who superficially appears pious, and yet secretly lives a foul life relating to materialism or carnality, also aligns with fallen beings, because such a person lives a lie.

Many people would protest that we cannot be holy overnight, and yet there is an easy way to detect an evil obsession, rather than a flaw that God can help you overcome. An obsession involves an increase in frequency of malefic obsessed behavior (including thought/speech/emotion) after a person has made a decision to walk a holy path. At the moment of Grace, when a person turns his life over to God, all his obsessions at that moment are suspended. He may still fall into error from time to time, but the frequency, duration, and intensity of spiritual failure gradually or rapidly decrease. A steady improvement in self-control is a sign of a person who has kept his promise to God, whereas a lack of self-control and a worsening of obsessive habits indicates a person who is living a lie. People who live a lie misuse power, because they are selfish, and may mislead others who are trying to improve themselves more every day.

When a person has ruptured his Tretas, demons relating to his obsessions fill his body, and link up with elements, such as Carbon or Oxygen. If innocent people are around a person who has demons linked to Sulphur, then they may get infected, and their skin will smell burned. The contamination is most pronounced in bodily secretions, and readily transmitted by saliva. Many physical illnesses can be traced to Reason for Living demon infections.

Anybody who prefers to live a lie when he knows better has chosen the obsession as his primary reason for living. Man cannot serve two masters. Several different obsessions can intertwine as one major reason for living, because they all have satanic roots. However, a holy purpose cannot intertwine with an obsession, because holiness does not mate with satan.

Many people are fond of excusing other people for all manner of evil, and think of themselves as "kind" and Genevieve as "cruel". In such a case, be sure that the one offering excuses has the same reason for living as the one he is excusing.

A person who is truly kind wants other people to not fall off Jacob's Ladder into hells. So, he uses direct examples of failure to point out error, since metaphors just don't seem to sink in when a person has an evil reason for living. By showing how some fell, he is trying to light the way.

Even more dangerous is the person who thinks of himself as benevolent, and goes about blessing people whose reasons for living are to destroy all that is holy. Blessings are not just sweet thoughts, raised hands, and with eyes upward in a saint-like fashion. Oh, no. Blessings bestow power.

Blessings are composed of Will substance, Desire substance, Heart Intend substance, and kundalini. They include a hologram of the Reason for Living substance of the person who blesses.

This is very dangerous, indeed, if the person who is blessing another is living a lie and has his true reason for living taken over by demons relating to hate, materialism, carnality or other satanic obsession cores. Of course, few people, while in church, think they are anything but saintly, and yet in the dead of night, when under stress, their obsessions plot their course of life. A man is revealed (to True Vision) as his greatest weakness, rather than his greatest strength. That is because a saint is a link in the heavenly chain, and must not spiritually crack under stress. All people who are on the path of holiness are in training to be saints.

A contaminated blessing that lands on the head of a person, links him with the Hades or Hell Group Pseudo Reason for Living Identity Sphere. This, in turn, would encourage obsessions in the individual, and may lead him astray by all the little voices that whisper in the night out of the hellish Group. The contaminated individual may hear the same song over and over in his head, till he nearly grows crazy, which has a core lyric idea relating to the primary obsession of the group. In fact, anyone who is around an obsessed person risks contamination by eye substance, breath, touch, secretions, and the endless little demons that pour out of him to gnaw on the people in the room for fresh meat.

The severity of the danger of contamination is greater if the obsessed person had been graced by knowledge and power, and yet took them for granted, while indulgence in obsessions on the sly. The more power, the more demons.

This points out the importance of spiritual leaders (which everyone who intersects holy work is, on some level) being pure if they pray for another person or bless him. Blessings contain desire substance which can be perverted into succubus/incubus or hate elementals that attack innocent people. Even pure blessing desire substance can be taken by the receiver and used to attack the person who sent the blessing, when it mixes with a revenge obsession. Some people live for revenge, or to whine, or to prove a point, or to get famous or wealthy, or merely to get a ten dollar raise at work.

A person's obsession, no matter how minor, can turn into a bizarre reason for living in the face of any power. That is why control of desire is stressed in major religions. Many people desire to be thought of as holy, but do not want to go through the purification to actually become holy. Such people tend to be thought of as purely loving by others, because they cut everybody slack about any weaknesses, and expect no improvement..."it's just part of being human." What such people do not tell you is that to be a saint is to be slightly more than human so that you can interface with the Divine Powers. It takes holiness to see holiness, and to separate the wheat from the chaff.

In our social world it is a hard concept to accept that you are better off with one pure friend than ten mediocre/slimy ones. In fact, you are better off in holy solitude than to be with one slimy mate or friend. The clock is ticking for humanity, and an aspiring saint does not waste time on people who care nothing for God's plan.

Of course, most worldly people and all obsessed people react with indignation that any fleshly vehicle would dare set some kind of code for living that is a downline filtered interpretation of God's plan for the current earthly season. They are quick to pull out Bible verses they want while ignoring the core teachings of Jesus and of our age. They say they do not want to see the Law changed (yet they mean fulfilled,) and they do not want to know what the Law is, unless it does not threaten their real reason for living. For most people, of course, the reason for living is to have a family and a job.

Saints must be austere, and have no reason for living other than to seek out God and serve him. To seek out God means that one must love Truth more than a lying obsession, and every day to seek Truth more...not less. All the hymns and icons in the world will not heal a lying heart.

A lying heart may think it is blessing a "lesser developed person" while in fact it is poisoning the vessel with foul Intend Substance. To say loving prayers with weepy emotion is a dangerous thing to do; one may send out Intend Lines to people who will take that power and turn it back on the most holy person you know. Then, you may awaken someday, alone, except for your obsession demons to keep you warm. The Grace that fell as a shadow on your path will never cross your way again.

The most dangerous component of all the blessing is kundalini power. In a righteous person, it can shoot out the eyes and fingers to do exorcism, to heal, to nurture, to reach God, to form bonds between saints. In an obsessed person, it falls to the belly or groin, where it sends out poisoned matter to feed countless demons in evil people upon which it is directed in emotional or sexual lines.

In fact, it is the kundalini power that is hungered after most of all by the demons because of its procreative potential. It is the most addictive of all the powers, and the most dangerous. It is also the most often vampired. A kundalini line can provoke a sexual response in an innocent yet weak person, and so send the person into a downward spiral of romantic/sexual obsession. Many people automatically yet ignorantly enjoy a sense of sexual power by manipulating the kundalini forces and therefore use others as pawns. It is a terrible crime.

Many people are afraid of persons who have true personal power, and are quick to complain that such persons must be trying to take over other's lives. In fact, it is the weak man or woman who uses available powers for manipulation/control over others. A powerful person does not need to play with the feelings and sensations of others; a weak person feels titillation at seeing others squirm or respond sexually. A powerful person is driven by his reason for living; he does not dilute it into little parlor games of lower psychism. A powerful person does not waste energy.

Many people fall to ruin because they spend all their available energy trying to justify an evil reason for living, while all the time swearing that they would never think of having such a reason for living. They delight in devil's advocate arguments that go against Law, and relish little chats that pull others into their "Mentalism is god" personal reality.

Other people have a secret reason for living that haunts them, and so they tell little lies to divert attention from themselves by casting doubt upon the innocent, while casually chatting with peers. While mentioning ten meaningless items they will casually slip in a hint of lie that makes another person doubt all that he knows is holy.

Should this seem unfair, one must realize that satan has a ladder, too. The stakes are high for satan when saints take a unified stand. All the followers of satan stand to risk their very lives (reasons for living) and so must fight to the end.

For the mediocre person who never aspires greatly, satan has little use. Apathy is its own kind of hell, anyway.

For the saint, the most awful secrets of the past tend to crawl back out and not seem so bad, as the obsession demons whisper sweet nothings in your ear. You could recall anti-Law of Gender relationships, and think they were not so bad, in the same breath as thinking that maybe the Holocaust never happened. Stealing a stick of gum may suddenly seem no different than robbing a bank to pay for killing an evil guru. The point is that lies start out small and work up into full justifications of anything you want to do: you become your own god.

How to help humanity come to realization that every thought, word, deed impresses upon you holiness or death... that every moment in your Now is your time with Christ or satan...I must trust will be shown. Many people fall into spiritual decay by obsessions that are distinctly linked to memories or fantasy: past or future. In fact, that is often how you can tell if you are being led down a primrose path full of dark thorns.

Circular thoughts and emotions are red lights to tell you to get out of bed, stay busy, substitute holy thoughts, and so on. A snotty nose means there are sexual obsession clouds, or romantic obsession clouds, in the vicinity. A headache or belly swelling often means that an obsession relating to "owning" a person or thing or money is in the vicinity, as if a huge cloud. Skin breakage means that you are being eaten by demons from some Reason for Living hell, either through a cursing person or your own failures. Bug crawling sensations mean that crazed Sylphic biters are trying to chew a hole in your aura to deposit obsession matter.

Such symptoms are less important than keeping your intentions clean, your desires looking upward, your Will in submission to God and the holy hierarchy below Him. Realize that almost all soul loss is due to hatred for hierarchy or gender Law.

In the end, you will stand alone with all that you have been taught, and be weighed as far as your worth.

MEGA-EARTH POINT:

This point reflects ones decision to submit own will to God or create own reality so as to be own god.

The more deviated the point from the proper Mega-Earth Point, the more insane one may become.

Mental reality concept is closer to TRUTH at the proper point marked.

Acceptance of Lies deviates the point, and weakens Light Power.

ACCOUNTABILITY POINT

In every form of life in every type of world, each being must have a point of reference in which to anchor itself in dissonance from the divine song. Otherwise, it would be burned by deadly resonance to its creator, as a singer shatters a crystal goblet by singing the exact tone as the goblet.

Even though man cannot hope to be God, he must be nourished by God. Just as the leaf is not the tree, it hungers for the tree, and is nourished by the tree. If humans seek to bring forth fruit from the divine Tree of Life, then they will cling to the branches of the Tree: the Laws. They do not seek to bring forth a parasitic fungus, such as a mistletoe, to sap the Tree. Should they seek to do so, they will be harvested during the heat of their spiritual summer, and fall to death, below.

Because man is a creation of God, he must have an individual point of reference to hold himself a bit at arm's length from the great powers. The closer he can get to God without being destroyed by his own weaknesses indicates his power and alignment with his true parents. For in the beginning and in the end, a man's father is the True Father, and his mother is the Holy Breath. His elder brother is the Son. Should he prefer his lower family to his divine Family, he will never approach the throne of Grace, where true Power is bestowed.

The human family is supposed to be a step-down version of the heavenly family, as though a symbol of what is above. Some people have taken that teaching to mean that divorce is always evil, and that you owe fidelity to satan himself, should you repeat a meaningless vow with him in the heat of adolescence. Indeed, should a person hold dear a relationship with anyone who hates Truth, then such a person will never hold a soul. If you count someone precious who spits on your core (Christ), then you have poisoned yourself and fallen from the Tree of Life. The symbol should never be mistaken for what it represents, and should not replace in your heart the original.

The physical body, as well, is a symbol of different aspects or faces of the Divine Powers. For that reasons, religions have posed certain restrictions on foods and behaviors, so as to represent aspects of spiritual health by body disciplines. Many people have substituted their own bodies for God, in worship of tai chi or vegetarianism as the laws of God. Other people claim they have no physical laws to follow, since they are their own gods and can make up new rules at will. In losing sight of both the importance of the body as a holy vehicle, but not as the divinity itself, people have both abused and worshipped their mirrored shrines and forgotten what they meant.

It is true that the automobile (body) cannot be the driver (hopefully God.) And yet, a vehicle is needed to carry the Light within. Everything needs a container of sorts, including the consciousness of mankind.

Just as man needs a viable container, so does he need a point of reference for reality, within that container. At birth, this is indicated by his Astrological Point which is influenced until puberty by his parents. A body, and Truth, is like a map. If you want to get somewhere, you must first know a point from which you start. If your body is a house, you must know which window to look out, if you are to see the world. You can't look out all of them at once. Direction from center of being is the key. On a lower aspect, one's Astrological Dissonance Point is like a birthmark. Your sense of identity is directed at an angle from your center out to the world from that birthmark.

If parents are full of hatred for each other or for God, then a child's astrological point may become satanic. In such a case, it begins to beam inward to self, rather than searching out, for God. This is a sad situation of genetic karma, to be born with such parents. Such a child will tend to be materialistic and carnal, even if his original point position were indicative of an evolved person.

In Astrological Point positioning, there is a correlation with genetic karma, due to choices of ancestors to use their bodies for good or evil. Murderers or whoremongers would tend to alter their group genetic pool so that future generations would bear the curse of being more distant to the source of power (God) because they are more likely to abuse power. Few people today like to accept the fact that some genetic pools are so soiled that the children find it difficult to hear heaven, they are so estranged. As long as people fail to recognize their own responsibility for purity so as to help purify the future children, then the future generations will suffer.

We live in a world that cries out about saving whales and seals, and yet forgets about the spiritual survival of the children. There is a lot of talk about saving bodies, but little about saving what those bodies should contain: holy Light.

The Astrological Point indicates the distance from the source of Light. For instance, the worst point would be on the feet, and the best point would be slightly above the head within the halo. It is possible to change the Astrological Point (be "born again") so that an intercessor moves the point to the crown. However, if such a born again person goes bad, that point turns inward, and he gets a black halo that calls in a lot of hellish creatures.

If a child whose point turned inward due to parental satanic thought influence reaches puberty, he does not get the next point: the Point of Accountability. At adolescence, usually around the age of fourteen, a person is expected to separate his sense of self from his earthly parents, and to seek God (Truth) as an individual. In doing so, he may feel great turmoil, and a sense of being on shifting sand. At a certain point, there is a sort of "pop" sensation, and his focus of reality shifts to his own point of reference: the Point of Accountability.

A child whose has an inverted Astrological Point tends to be in satanic agreement with his parents, and has no struggle to find his own point of dissonance apart from genetic influence. In some cases, a holy intercessor may superimpose another point that beams outward, as a hologram of his holy self, so as to pull the child away from the satanic influence. This will cause the child to begin to care about other people and to ponder moral questions.

Later in life, a person with the inverted point and the superimposed point may fluctuate between points, as a kind of second adolescence with hatred for authority. Should he choose, with every fiber of his being, the holy point, then the other point will decay.

Some people had normal Astrological Points and normal Accountability Points, but later inverted the dominant point by resonating with the satanic influences of split time (largely drugs and promiscuity.) They produced inverted points in their children, and continue to be satanic in a "create your own reality" subculture. Some of them were interceded for by holy beings, and given new points, or shown how to purify themselves, and have become lights of the world. Others have fallen back to desiring an endorphin rush recalling the days of Woodstock, and so have spurned Grace. People who hit adolescence before 1940 have less of a likelihood of regression, once they are Graced by a point change.

The Point of Reality reference, your Accountability Point, normally overshadows your genetic influences present in your Astrological Point. Should you think overmuch about your physical parents or siblings, you tend to fall back to your Astrological Point, and so hook up with the disorders of your genetic family. Should you recall, with relish, your adolescent wildness, you will tend to move your accountability point to the instability of youth. Should you fantasize about the future, you will tend to lose your point of reality in sucker worlds of satanic creation, as it floats out in bubbles of your own indulgent creation. This will reflect as Identity Sphere ruptures or your Identity Sphere separating from your body completely and floating off like a helium balloon.

Your Accountability Point should be anchored with a sense of your navel welded by a steel rod to your halo. Your spine should feel strong and as though it has an electric current within it that beams upward. It is true that the Logoc Light also goes down, and coils at the base of the spine, but it should flow back upward to heaven unless it is God's Will to beam it outward for holy cause.

A lot of spiritual disorder occurs because people decide to beam their Light out of their throat to impress people with speech, or their hearts to impress people with love, or their guts to impress people with their power, or their genitals to impress people with their sexual prowess. If they continue to do so, they will lose their Light, because the poison that enters wrong holes of exit will scar up the halo, as it creeps upward.

The Light Flow Diagram the Identity Sphere Diagram (Appendix), the Cone Illustrations all give you dowsing tools in which to assess the purity of your Astrological and Accountability Points. The Accountability Point can purify or deviate at any point past adolescence; it is just more moveable during adolescence. People tend to repeat the mistakes that they accepted during the age of accountability.

The age of accountability is the age when lies settle into the tissues. Then, there are no more "Lie Pools" that tug at the heart and cause a child to have nightmares. Then, the lie has become part of the child. Young children suffer from the lie demons which whisper "sex is god," "food is god", "money is god" and often whimper in their sleep, as any remaining guardian angel fights for their souls in the middle of the hells that were created by parents. Some adults whimper in their sleep, as well, when some part of them fights the evil that is growing within them like a cancer.

Virtually all adults today have lies in their tissues that no longer cause them to struggle, unless they are confronted by Truth. Whether the Truth comes from a prophet, from holy writings, or from an angel from above, is immaterial. The Truth can set you free if you let It. The danger is that, at any age, a new rebellion reminiscent of adolescence, may cause you to hate, and reject the change. Anytime you feel a subtle irritability or resentment creep inside you in response to a person or nothing visible, suspect that you are being confronted by your accountability lies. The lies do not have an independent substance: they are in your water, your bones, your breath. Should you do battle with the hells adjacent to those lies, you will smell like rot.

All hope for the earth rests in people who have holy Logoc light that is directed upon the Will of God, rather than their own whims. Should you resist the holy "chiropractic manipulation" necessary to straighten your Light spine, then you will become phantom on a dying planet. Should you stiffen your upper lip and take the discomfort of change, you will become a saint.

Make your choice.

LESSON MAY 27, 1995: Lot's Door

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

LOT'S DOOR

Without boundaries of natural Law, the Earth would spin into a sea of death, and all within would be lost. The mysteries of the Earth Law boundaries are intimately intertwined with the mysteries of human individual Law boundaries that keep man from death and insanity.

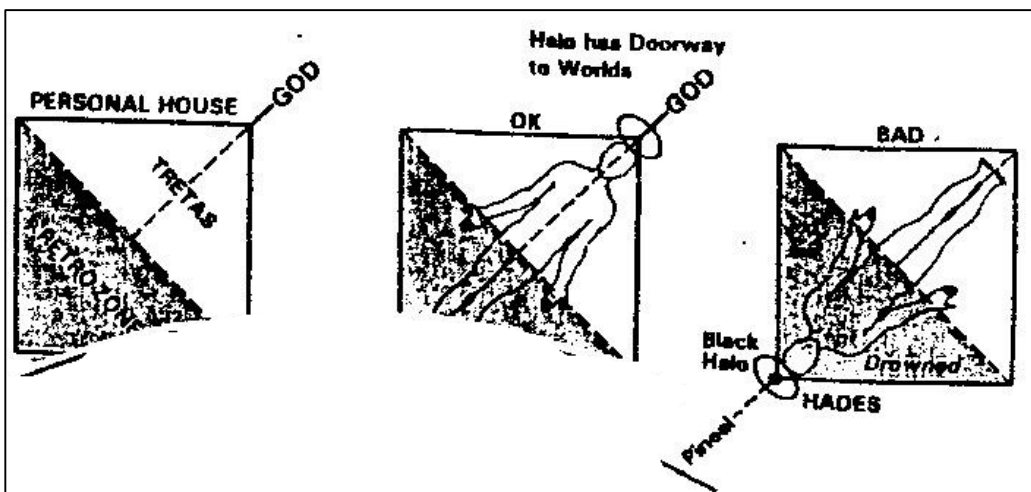

The Laws of Manifestation require that the Earth and man have a stable base of four perimeters, like the corners of a house. Interestingly, even one's physical house tends to reflect the spiritual condition of the body and one's alignment with the mega-Earth Laws. Emotional issues regarding desire to own a home, or desire to be inside someone else's home, or fear of loss of a home all relate to inner conflicts with cosmic Law. Anytime you find dreams or obsessive thoughts centering around a house issue, suspect that you are in some trial relating to the balance of yourself as an individual within the greater framework of the Earth Laws.

Some people have learned some of these truths and applied them in Feng Shui interventions so as to make their physical houses or businesses more powerful. Unfortunately, many such people failed to see the inner meaning of Feng Shui, and so their bodies and houses were poisoned from within, while the outer shells appeared harmonious. People who would shudder at the thought of having a dirty bathroom often are filled with the excrement of demons, and relish the smell of the urine of satan. They believe their flower of an outer lie will cover the smell of death within them.

Other people let the disease within their spiritual bodies reflect in the great disorder around them in their living spaces. In doing so, they reinforce their illness, and become too weak to change. Such people may not recover until they begin to purify their outer houses, by cleaning and ordering things properly so as to put before them an image that their inner selves may follow, with Divine help.

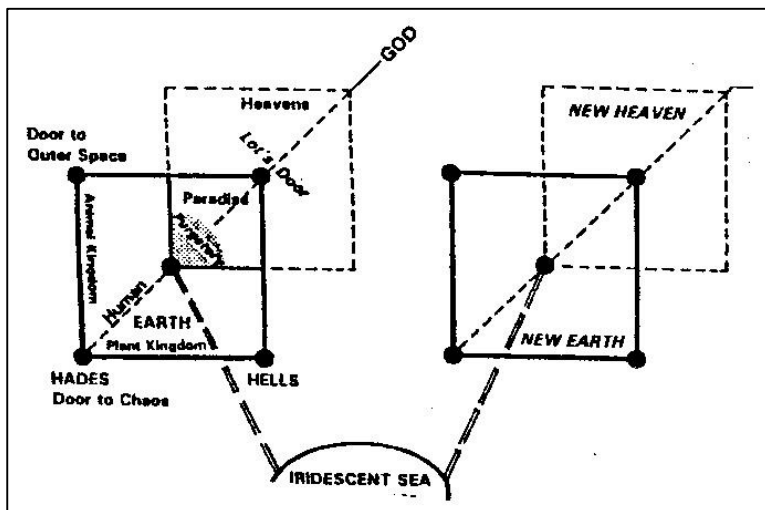

The history of the Fall of Man has within it many correlations with the concept of the Earth system existing within a house. If the overwhelming family of man chooses to leave home, so as to move into a more disordered house, then they have the group right to do so, within the Law of Free Will and group Karma. At a certain point of disorder within a house, the whole system is so chaotic that it overwhelms even those people desiring order. When that happens, the residents of the house leave and go to a lower house. That is what happened during the Fall of Man, and it can happen again, with an even lower house, if the residents desire it to be so.

(Illustrations might be from another Lesson but it is applicable.)

It is also possible for the residents of a house to move into a finer dwelling (next page), which at one time meant moving toward the heavens, where more refined and orderly worlds existed in which a holy (Lawful) person could choose to transfer and live.

These worlds were not places to sit and play the harp, but were places of happy work and interesting study and service. Unfortunately, the Earth system, and its upward worlds, received a deadly blow by the culmination of the split time influences since 1940. This required the creation of a separate system in which to move the worthy inhabitants at the correct time.

Time was split partly due to government research, which precipitated an alien problem, but the split was widened by the actions and spiritual decay of the individual "houses" of people. The reactions to the initial split created a wider split. Even when the time split was healed by divine intervention, people hungered for the decadence of the split, because it gave some of them types of hallucinogenic euphoria. Even now, they struggle to create new time/space rips, so as to float orgasmically into the sea of death, which is the natural outcome of a time/space split in an individual who hasn't the power to return his consciousness back to his house so as to heal.

The human body is a microcosm of the Earth body: a house within a house. Huge time/space splits have happened three times for Earth, and been healed each time. One was during the Dark Ages, and one was since 1940 till recently. The earliest was over four thousand years ago. The reasons for those splits are less important than the avoidance of a personal time/space split in one's individual house. The Earth system, as you know it, is being replaced, but only non-split people can survive the transfer (Rapture.)

The Laws of the body, mind, and soul are contained within these writings; should one obey the Laws, then one's consciousness can survive any Earthly catastrophe of any octave. It is more difficult to obey these Laws in the current time (post-mega-split) because the greater mass of humanity is still reeling in the chaos of the last fifty-odd years. The sounds of disorder are so great that many people have shut their ears and eyes to heaven and hell. In doing so, they lose their ability to see the path that will lead them to the New Heaven and New Earth. Because reclaiming personal power requires that one's ears and eyes open, these teachings may provoke initial suffering upon seeing the massive tragedy of human spiritual disorder. Surviving the initial grief and alienation from most of humanity is the initiation of horror which faces a potential spiritual warrior at the present crossroads of human evolution. Should he get past that initiation, then he will find others, relating to Laws other than the acceptance of the Law of (spiritual) Polarity.

If there was no hope for humans, then these teachings would not be offered. Hope must begin through the decision of an individual to clean up his own "house." Should he clean up his house, then he will become a person of power. Such a person can help others.

Cleaning up one's house implies the understanding of Laws of direction, frequency, pattern, complexity, changes through generativity, and so on. In particular, the understanding of the importance of generativity is needed.

A time/space rupture can occur on a large scale (mega-Earth) or on a small scale (a human's auric and physical bodies.) Certain thoughts, emotions, sounds, substances, and acts have the potential to change the frequency, directional focus, and pattern complexity of parts of the individual.

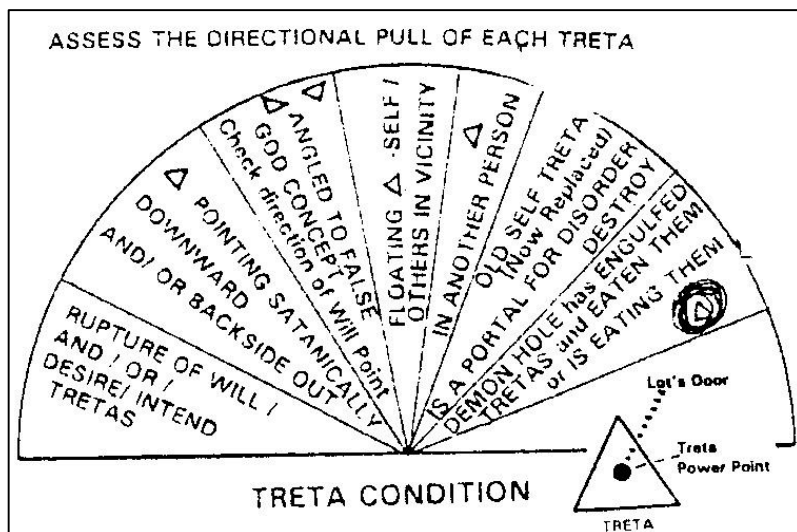

Just as a human baby, in all its complexity, starts with a simple ovum, and becomes an incredibly intricate system of beingness, so can a demon grow from a simple thought cell, if they are impregnated with emotional substance. Thoughts and emotions have matter of a finer nature than the eye can see, but it does exist. Since the creation of the microscope, mankind should be less skeptical about what his coarse vision can encompass and so accept as real.

There are situations and people that influence creativity of an orderly or disorderly nature. People who influence creativity are often considered powerful by others. Powerful people must learn to not feed malefic creations, or those creations may devour them. Containment of such power is a very high initiation that many fail. Even so, a person should pray for power, so as to be of service to humanity during these difficult days of Earth.

Every power that has strength to bless can also curse. Should power be directed wrongly, it can harm many people. Should power be granted to someone who is uncontrolled, then that person will create monsters and become mad or murderous. By understanding the flow of Logoic power (represented as Light flow on the chart) one is able to begin to control directional pulls through using will and intend powers to align with God.

Of great significance to alignment with Logoic power is the awareness of Lot's Door. It is possible to enter other worlds, haphazardly, through auric rips, but it is the design of power to not do so. A key part of an advanced spiritual student is his caution and awareness of other world travel of his primal consciousness. It is as though a man has a primal self, represented by a Triangle (Treta Diagram) that can move through time and space and enter another house in another world without dying.

(Illustration might be from another Lesson but it is applicable.)

In order for him to be able to do so, he must understand the mysteries of the Tretas and of his current house and any other house that he might choose to enter. If he defies the Laws, while directing his powers to transfer himself, then he will rupture his house and his Treta consciousness holder (an aspect of soul.) Just as a man must have his face above ground so as to breathe, so must the point of the Tretas be directed toward heaven for the soul to breathe. Many disorders can be traced to a problem with directional focus of one's spiritual/physical/emotional/ mental-self complex of being. By swimming upstream, many exhaust and drown.

A man whose body and mind are aligned with the heavens will find he does not rip his auric boundaries with power surges or attacks from others. Also, when the time comes that he is able to contact or garner any power through his own work or through an intercessor, then he will be able to go through Lot's door and pick the correct inner door for travel between worlds (such as to the New Heaven and Earth.)

Lot's door is similar to the old story of "The Lady or the Tiger." In the story, a man must choose which door to open, for the amusement of his captors. In the gamble, he will be eaten alive by a tiger or embraced by a fair maiden. Of course, some people have had variations of the story, in which a man wishes he had taken his chances with a tiger instead of a strong-willed woman.

Man does not have to be captive to the amusement of fallen angels, and held in the foyer of Lot's door to choose his fate. By understanding the signs, the language of heaven, the inner doors are clearly marked. He then chooses the lady or the tiger in full awareness.

People who pray rightly and struggle to love Truth and service are given a substance that contains within its hologram all the language of the lower gods, although not all of the language (names) of their most Holy Father. This substance is a drop from the iridescent sea of the New Earth, and has been called Generosity of Spirit fluid. Should a man's skull become like a shell it can resound with the sound of the Holy Sea, and that sound can lead a man to physical and spiritual safety. The sound gets louder as you approach holiness, and weaker as you go off your path.

This is most important in Lot's foyer, because the door you choose should have the sound of the Sea behind it. If you forget to listen to the sound within your shell often, so as to memorize it, then you will not recall the sound when you have left your shell.

Many people have been given Iridescent Sea holograms, and used them for other purpose. The substance has a purpose other than to make a sound. It is like a time/space travel bubble, similar to those of the good witch in the Wizard of Oz. Some people have used the bubbles to enter hells where sexual demons are trapped.

Hells and Hades are supposed to be storage places, like prisons, for beings who have chosen to be disorderly. For a human to use his power to enter such places to experience mental or physical rushes is a terrible mistake that costs him his soul, as the Tretas rupture and his house shifts direction on a world of blowing sands.

People who interface power can enter such places and think they are entering heaven. They mistake a drug-like thrill for happiness, and become addicted to entering hells. They forget the sound of the Sea, and hunger for the demon rush of power, sensory stimulation, or mental meditative orgasmic delights. In doing so, they dig themselves a grave.

The way to avoid such disaster is to control power, to remember the sound of the Sea, to follow guidelines that help one to align with heavenly Light, to not recklessly fly out to other worlds through rips and tears of one's anatomy, and should one need to travel, do so through Lot's door but choose the Lady and not the tiger.

Should you choose the tiger, you will turn into a spiritual pillar of salt, that poisons your Garden of Eden. For indeed, just as past generations left the Garden of Eden, so do many leave the new Garden of Eden, which is the place one's inner self lives when it listens to the Sea.

LESSON MAY 28, 1995: Animal Man Substance Contaminations

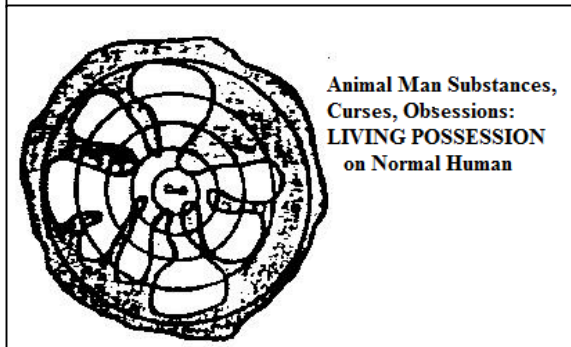

This Lesson was part of Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Book IV Unpublished

ANIMAL MAN SUBSTANCE CONTAMINATIONS

Many insidious possession problems fail to respond to normal clearing because they contain a component of Animal Man Auric Matter. Animal Man Auric Matter is coarse and virtually invisible to spiritual sight unless one trains to inspect it.

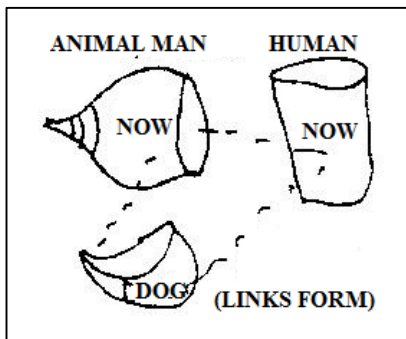

Normally, Animal Man Auric Matter does not intersect regular human cellular components. However, in cases of severe fallen being possession within a group of people who have a fair amount of Logoic Light power, the normal protective mechanisms can be overridden if an animal man links with a person of power. An animal man can never be a person of power unless he links substances with a person of power. If a person of power learns to tap animal heat pools in order to get mental or physical rush sensations, then he develops an animal substance erosion upon his cells. This is even more so if he has mental or physical sex with an animal person.

Eventually, the substance erodes into and deforms the; Right, Left, Communicative Dimensions, plus the Regeneration Pools become tapped, and the Reason for Living changes in matter.

When the Reason for Living substance takes on an animal frequency → and pattern, the contaminated individual feels like he is walking in mud, and has a blunted sensorium and intelligence. Should he get completely taken over by the animal substance, then he will feel a bit more cheerful, but have no self-control as far as delaying any gratification for food or sex, and tend to feel sorry for himself. He will lose interest in spiritual study, and find his mind wandering to the materialistic joys of the past, or to speculations about a future that would be "fun" (i.e. without spiritual study or service and with lots of friends, fame, sex, and money.)

His Tretas begin to lose shape and become a circle with a squirt point of animal power in the middle.

His Cells lose their complexity and eventually develop a blunted aspect of merely animal essence around them.

His Dimensional Framework loses its cone shape and becomes shaped like the one to the left.

Animal man can more readily torment dogs and cats by feeder lines, since their spiritual anatomy is closer to each other. Then, they can fuel obsessions and curses off of dogs and cats to torment normal man. Often, you cannot say that animal man has a "name" but you can detect a dull sound at their sternums that may be linked to complex webs of curses/obsessions that loop around a lot of people of any species.

To clear these requires that you first see them. It may be necessary to shift your awareness into a pet dog or cat, so as to approximate an animal vision, and then dowse the following:

1.) "How black with animal contamination are my following components?"

Right Dimensional Aspects,
Left Dimensional Aspects,
Communicative Dimensional Aspects, and
The Substance within my Cells that has an impression of my Reason for Living Substance?
This gives an indirect Reason for Living reading.

2.) "How many animal men (women)..."

Are in my right eye?
Left eye? (Look in the mirror.)
How many filaments of myself are going out each eye to Animal Man, and How many Eye Rips do I have?
Eyes are an indirect reading of the Tretas and the center point of power.

3.) Where is my Treta Triangle overlaid on my body?

Or you can think of your eyes at a variable location on your body.
This reflects if you have aligned your Tretas with a lower than Halo orientation.
Many people must look for their Point of Power, which is at the center of the Tretas, at the groin or feet.

TO DO:

--When you locate your Point of Power, think of your eyes being there.

--Pray the Holy Beings allow you to open Lot's door so as to excrete poison from your spiritual and physical self.

--Pump the Point of Power in an outward squirt so as to dump all animal and dark force matter into Lots door.

It will feel like it is coming out of your eyes, throat, heart, or genitals.

Focus on your Left Side, Right Side, and Center one after the other.

Then pray all feeder lines from your Treta Eyes be snapped clean; that all wounds be healed in your Treta Eyes.

You might use waveforms to expedite the healing.

Make sure to pray that Lot's door be closed, and check that it is closed, so that nothing crawls out.

Then, Check your Dimensions and Regeneration Pools for any contamination

While keeping in mind the shape of the animal cones, and realizing that

The substance is very dense and dull and may dowse as in the satanic region of your Now cone.

Next, see if any mental, emotional, or physical behaviors contributed to your contamination.

You will know you are clearer when you wake up feeling lighter and with a stronger sense of hope and trust in God. The experience of having animal contamination is an educational one; Many people in the world today lead such dull lives without the smell of angels, like pine trees, to spur them onward. It is a wonderful thing to be human enough to smell angels and to feel your chest swell with the glory of the knowledge of Lehys. Unfortunately, when the animal man contamination hits you, you may forget the joy of heaven...the 22 sounds...and feel your flesh become dull and dead to all that is glorious and fine in life. You would begin to think that movies like the Man of La Mancha were silly, and no longer be a fool for God.

To be a fool for God is a grand position, spurned by the masses, and yet your heart calls you onward. In slaying the windmills of ignorance of Law, you provoke the ridicule of others, who want to hold before you mirrors that show you as mere flesh and bone.

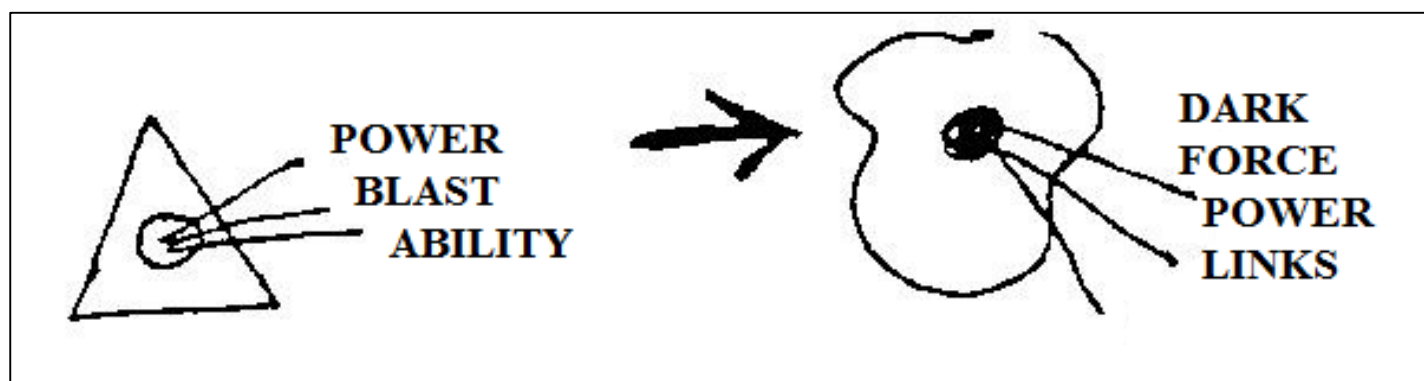

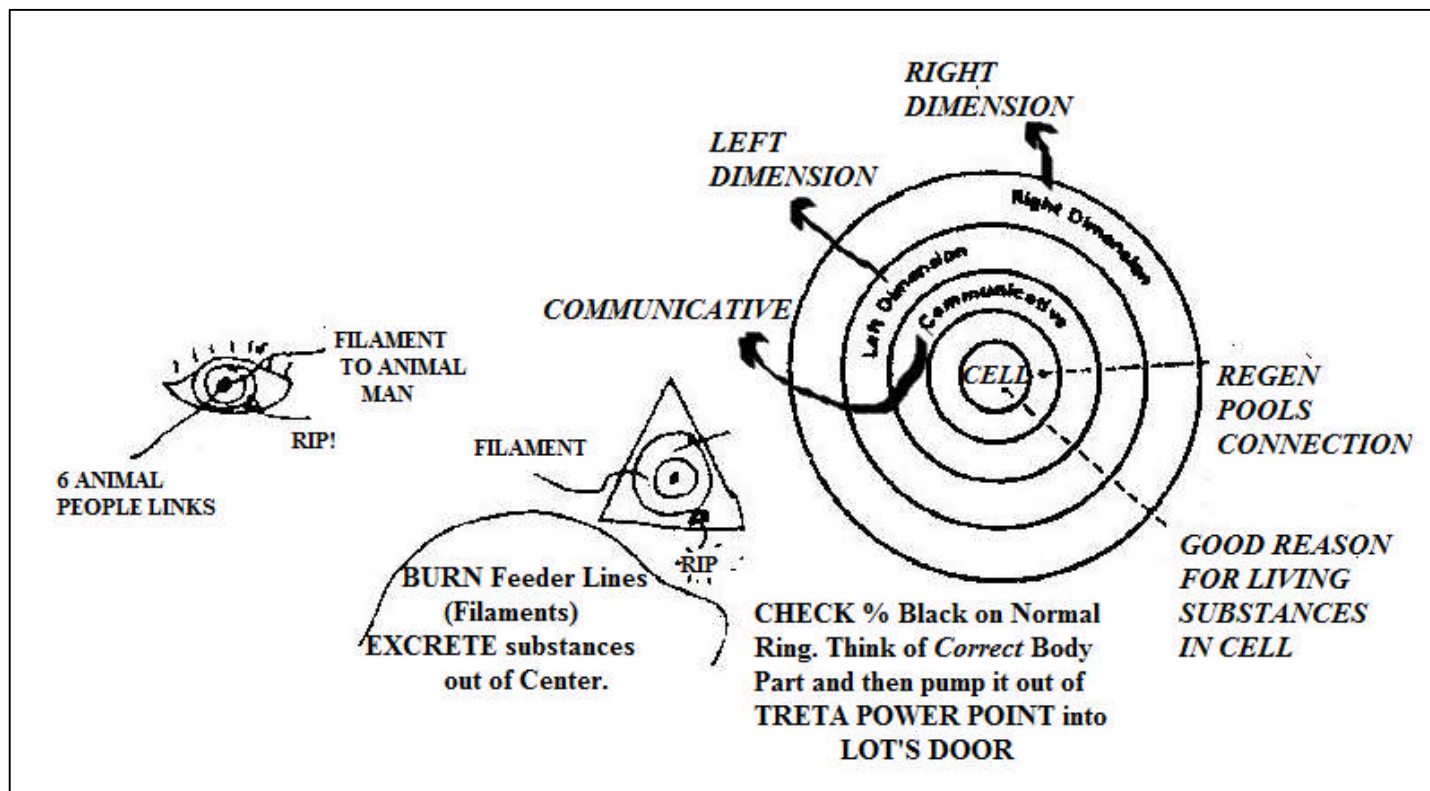

We are more than flesh and bone. We are more than mere reflex behavior lumps of mass, like amoebas.

We are the children of God. In this world, called Earth, we are supposed to take a stand of glory; we are not intended to become a fern or a Chihuahua. We may love the ferns and pups, but we are not them.

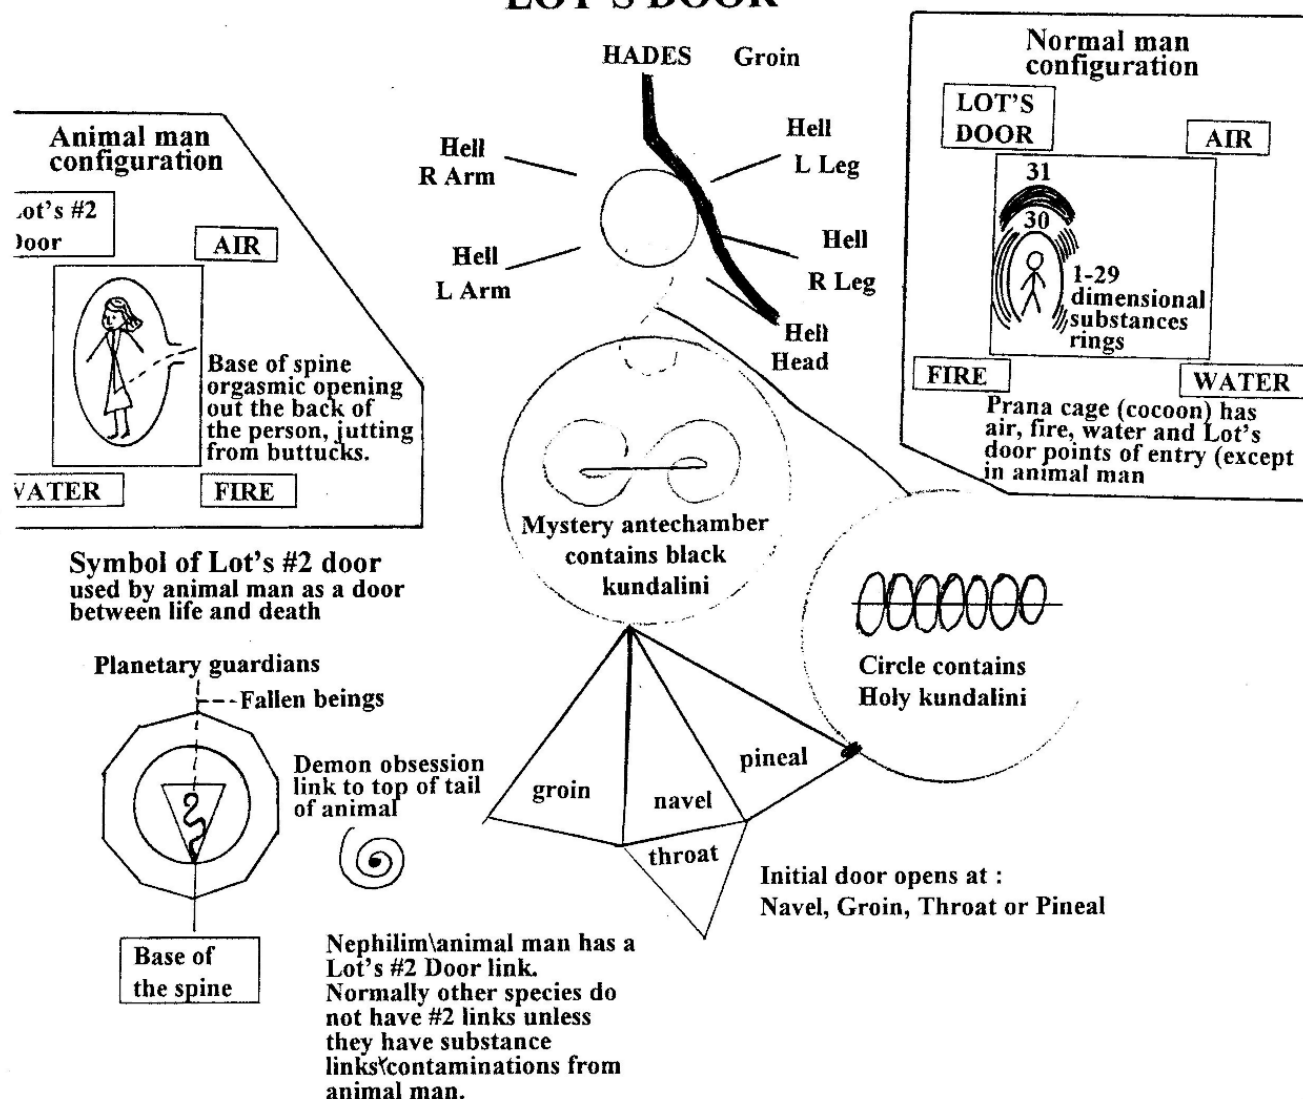

We have a legacy to fulfill that is not theirs. When we are in the process of fulfilling that legacy, true joy is ours; the powers of hell will not stop us. Only our own laziness.

EXAMPLE #3 (Drawing not currently available)

Each person's KARMA CROSS has demon orgasm echoes on it even after the demon orgasm is canceled.
Before it is canceled, it has a filament to a vampire person who is linked to the obsession behind the demon orgasm.

PREVIOUS LINK: "god is cruel. I need more fun".

Preceding thought in vicinity is "owned" by owner of Karma Cross.

FIRST: "I remember being really happy with that bi-sexual gal in Dallas".

Circular thought response builds up demon orgasm steam.

THEN ANOTHER LINK FORMS: "That bitch wants to rule my life! Fuck her!" The Karma Cross is punctured by the force of emotional thought that pops open the top head in an auric rupture demon orgasm.

Food obsession of other group mentioned in first example.
MURDER
HATE

FALLEN BEING #1: Thought construct "Linda Greene's work is evil" is the commonality. The desire to destroy this work was the reward with an emotional sense of satisfaction that felt like a mission in a life of importance (self-esteem demon orgasm).

FALLEN BEING #2: Was linked with "I am my own god, and my body is his temple" onanism obsession that is laced with defilement/lesbian/homosexual/fantasies and an overtone of hatred for all authority. This obsession linked the other participants to one person's sex-murder-torture construct fantasies that brought in an evil fallen being of a higher order.

One person was linked with the food obsession fallen being, Which infected the others in this group.

REMEMBER!!! NO CONSTRUCT-LIE, NO OBSESSION, NO HATE IS SAFE TO CLING TO, IF YOU WANT TO BE HOLY

DEMON SEED FROM AKASHA SYNERGY BANK
MAKES TRETA RESONATION FALL FROM HALO TO FEET

OBSESSION

AKASHA SYNERGY BANK OF LIKE MINDS

Some people lose their guardian angels due to accepting devil's advocate arguments that destroy trust in God. Usually, it dies, or may become an evil spiritual vampire of someone who has an injury along their Light Coil.

If it taps the Akasha Synergy Bank (where people of similar resonance form light links) then it may link with a person who is an old lover of the injured person (now very evil) or someone that the injured person had sexually obsessive fantasies about.

There may be demon seeds inside, due to a person in the synergy group who has sold himself/herself to Satan in a generative/sexual/artistic way: allowing themselves to be demon factories.

CREATIVE THOUGHT VALVE ON LIGHT COIL LINKED TO BRAIN AND REPRODUCTIVE ORGANS

The purpose of the Creative Light Valve is to allow holy elemental creation. If you merge identities with someone who has satanic thought, then you get a Case around your valve that allows obsessions to circulate the same thoughts/urges in your brain and groin as the other person. ROMANCE BE POOR HATE SEX BE LONELY

Check the number of obsessions, justifications, curses, lies and other person links that are connected At the Creative Valve and Akasha Bank Light Connections.

FALLEN BEING

One former student has 67 lines out from her Fallen Being Light Source relating to gluttony or anorexia "food is god". In such a situation, find the commonality of all contaminated.

MOUTH
GROIN

Sometimes the Treta "Mouth" takes in energies, rather than being closed or sending out energies.

At night, the Treta needs to drink iridescent sea substance to refill itself (the substance is lost during spiritual work). Around 2-4 AM, the mouth opens.

If a person's Treta mouth opens after they have fallen asleep following hate thoughts or after reinforcing a sex/romance obsession, they inhale resonating elementals from the fallen beings that are in the grid or in other people in the house (especially). This links them to any other related obsessions (romance/food, hate/food, sex/food, etc.)
