INTRODUCTION to VIRTUES, LAWS and POWERS (excerpt) by Anonymous

Introduction

Published 1995

ISBN 1-885-186-83-5

There are people on the Earth today who hunger for knowledge of the mysteries of life. They may have sought to satiate their thirst for Truth through paths of science, art, philosophy, psychology, religion, or social services. Many, at the close of a long career in such fields, hear the hounds of death at their heels while their spiritual bellies ache with emptiness. They go to their deaths longing for the unknown, trembling with angst.

It may seem preposterous for this book to presume to fill some of that void by bringing to the reader the fundamentals of the natural Laws of the soul. Indeed, few people have ever considered that the soul of man has a type of matter, not unlike his flesh, although existing in a different octave of being. Few people are aware that there are principles, similar to known physics principles, that control the dynamics of spiritual matter. Furthermore, such spiritual Laws have a watershed effect upon the physical body of man and the Earth.

Looking out upon the sea of disorder within the major cities, one cannot help wondering why violent crime is becoming increasingly prevalent, and what could bring it to a halt. During the sixties the cry of liberals was for more social services, as though money or food could be the panacea. Others cried for gun control, more prisons, or other material solutions. Despite all attempts at controlling societal disorder the ghettos swell with violence, and the traditional family structure is almost gone.

There are some idealists who look into the heart of this disorder as though it were full of signs of wonderful societal transformation for the better. And yet, teenage pregnancies, AIDS, infections, robberies, rapes, and murders all continue to increase in number. By what criteria are these idealists measuring their success?

If one looks back over recorded history, pockets of societal peace and order rise out of the pages with haunting similarities of belief systems. Within each religion can be found keys that lead to the inner teachings of the fundamental Laws of the soul and of life itself. The fighting between religions has been due to clinging to differences rather than searching for similarities. The obvious similarities are merely echoes of the underlying mysteries which have traditionally been reserved for an inner circle of the spiritual elite.

The knowledge of the inner mysteries of life, held within the core of each religion, was withheld from the masses because of the danger of sorcery if the principles were applied without integrity. Any power that can transform a man's soul can also destroy his body if directed with malefic intent. It was safer to allow the alchemical mysteries, which were the core of each religion, to be watered down in a harmless fashion, in a way that could possibly change man's behavior through fear or promise of heaven. It was assumed by the spiritual forefathers that a man who lived decently might learn to think decently. If a man thought in a decent manner, then, later he might be able to control the spiritual forces with integrity and not run amok with unbridled passion.

For this reason, most religions focused upon behavioral instructions, rather than the reasons that certain behaviors could block the path to spiritual power. People have, by and large, decided that the behavioral instructions are no longer valid and so have developed many blocks to the higher teachings.

It is now time to reveal the inner teachings, in hope that humans can understand the reasons for behavioral sanctions and thought control.

The Laws are immutable. Man cannot break these Laws, but can break himself against these Laws. This is happening today on a massive scale. A man can tell himself all day long that fire is not hot, and yet burn himself, should he put his hand in a flame. Just as there are lower laws of the visible component of fire, there are higher Laws of the unseen components of fire. Many a man has thrust his own unseen components into fire and burned away part of himself.

It is possible to heal oneself through the application of higher Laws. If humans can bring healing order to their own lives, then they can begin to bring order to their families and to their own culture. If they do that, they can start to bring order to the world.

Healing the world must start with healing the self. This book holds the ancient mysteries through which personal transformation is made possible, if the applicant is sincere and willing to change. The dilettante will benefit little, except through some intellectual titillation. This book was written not for dinner table discussion, but at great price, and with great courage, by a traveler within such mysteries, in hope of helping humanity out of chaos. Since it merely recites the principles of the mysteries, it shall be considered anonymously and gnostically written, for man cannot hope or presume to create the Laws and Virtues. This is not a "channeled" book, but a book reflecting the experience of the traveler through many realms as real as the one before your face.

If you also dare to be a traveler into unseen realms, this book will guide you safely.

1995 SEPTEMBER LECTURES BY ANONYMOUS

The following class lectures are transcribed either verbatim from audio tapes or from class notes unrevised by Anonymous. These lectures and written lessons were given by Anonymous to audiences familiar with the general background of Spiritual Science. The emphasis was in the dissemination of knowledge that was normally hidden from the general public, but has had a haunting recurrence throughout the millennia.

NOTE:

- 1) All LESSONS, LECTURES and CHARTS were given in class, created by Anonymous. Class Notes were taken by an auditor and not corrected by Anonymous and for these, it is suggested the reader also refer to the original, unabridged audio tapes.
- 2) Please keep in mind that this library is missing many of the original audio tapes (of which there were at least 50+ per month during a three year period) as well as some of the dowsing charts, Class Notes and Lessons. These books are compiled from the resources currently available to this library.
- 3) The best introduction to the dowsing system may be found in the Advanced Esoteric Spiritual Dowsing Books, I, II, III.

“Lessons” and “Letters” were composed by Anonymous

“Class Notes” were typed during the lectures and were unrevised by Anonymous.

NOTE: Book chapters for Advanced Esoteric Dowsing Charts IV were written during this time from October 1994 through 1995. “AED IV” was completed with charts in 1995, but it was not published and is not currently in the possession of this library. The book’s contents and charts, however, are (mostly) intact and are presented here as they were originally written.

LESSON SEPTEMBER 5, 1995: Earth Consensus Holes

The magnetic field of the Earth has been injured by the malignant spiritual sounds of consensus reality which have reached a Tower-of-‘Babble’ roar above the planet. Whenever the consensus accepts as true a lie, and acts on such lies to a great degree, then the Earth ruptures in a location related to the lie.

If individuals resonate with the abnormal sounds of the consensus, then they will develop micro-holes in their own magnetic fields that resemble those above the Earth. Three years ago there were 43 planetary holes; now there are 62. That means that the population of the Earth accepts more lies about the human purpose for living than it did three years ago. What I tell you now is a great simplification, and yet if you struggle to understand the deeper meanings, you will benefit greatly.

Each of these holes/sounds has a bodily location correlation. For instance, the Earth has a left ear rupture, and a right eye socket rupture. On the map, those would correlate with South America and China. This does not mean that those countries are worse off spiritually than the others; it means that those countries are like the acupuncture meridian cores of certain disorders.

The Consensus Sound/Ruptures extend like spider webs across the planet and across the body of anyone who listens to those Tower-of-‘Babble’ sounds. Each sound has a particular complicated wave-form that can be at multiple frequencies. The severity of the spiritual disorder in a resonating individual can be measured by the loudness of the sound emitting from the auric hole. Of course, it is usually not audible, but can be perceived as a sense of bugs crawling or pain in a bodily location when you are around such a person.

If you find yourself agitated, then suspect you have an auric hole from resonance with the 62 mega-consensus sounds/holes of the planet. After being around a group of people with such resonations, you may feel like Swiss cheese.

You can dowse how many consensus holes/sounds you have in your house, on your own magnetic field, or around you from others. If you find those sounds/holes, check for the correct waveform for the body part that is associated and try to keep your consciousness in your pineal---not floating or dropping.

I have tried to close your individual holes every day, and those of your family. However, I know we need a good clearing method for you to use. I am working on a set of 62 symbols which I will place on an Earth map for you to use in a particular clearing method that I am working out. It will be easy, and a quick way to clear yourself at the end of the day. I am hopeful it will be finished in the next week and sent to you. (See end of Lesson)

More symbols may have to be added if more consensus holes open up later. I am cheerful and confident that we are about to have a great blessing, and we will put this method in the book to follow The Prophet's Story which goes to press in the morning. You will receive a home-bound version in the next couple of days. It is in a story form about a man who tried to teach Law and was murdered. It was interesting to write, in that the Holy Beings tapped three living people's akasha records for each chapter. I was astonished to look into the hearts of some of the people that I recognized. It was as though three people stood before me, all talking at once, and an angel told me how to decipher the language. Most of the people were a mess, so it was a hard book to write without head pain. However, it is quite unusual and mesmerizing. Each chapter is said to be a transcript taken by the author whose pen name is "Sophia Johanson." If you think about the name, you realize that Sophia is an alternative name for Mary or Mother of Wisdom, and Johanson means Son of Saint John. In other words, it is a book not by us, but through us. It reveals a lot about the Rapture, and is still an odd but interesting story. The peculiar thing about it is that on some level, of intention...plan...or action, everything in the book is all true. Whether the murders and other acts intended were directed toward the soul or the body of a person matters little. I think you will enjoy it. The book is a very auditory style.

We found a semi-local perfect bound printer who is a bit higher than the distant ones, but it seems important to rush this book out. We are going to send a preview copy to the reviewer who was so positive about Virtues, Laws and Powers. Two ads go out tomorrow as well.

We have had a bit of company outside the house that was unwelcome, and a few persistent knocks, and one police interview, but otherwise have just been hermits, keeping busy getting the book ready for press. The cover is an interesting smoky magenta background; I will try to fax the cover but it may not show up too well. It is beautiful, though. The illustrations throughout are quite lovely. Perhaps I can fax the preface and the prologue, just to give you a teaser.

I thank you for your help and look forward to our time together. Please send flight times/dates again relating to the location we discussed so we can be sure Cel did not lose them. I will keep you updated on the next book. You should receive your home copy of The Prophet's Story any day and then we should have the perfect bound copies by our gathering time.

Blessings

LESSON SEPTEMBER 15, 1995: Lack of Understanding and Application of the Cosmic Laws: Human/Planetary Karma

LACK OF UNDERSTANDING AND APPLICATION OF THE COSMIC LAWS and HUMAN AND PLANETARY KARMA (Date estimated)

Cosmic laws, such as the Laws of Karma and Change, have a very strong impact upon the physical forms of humans and the Earth.

Ignorance does not spare mankind the effects of Cosmic Law. It is a simple matter of certain actions producing predictable results.

Mankind has the ability to slow or speed up the death of the planet in a very real sense. The Earth degeneration occurring now can be stabilized in time if more people decide to take a very deliberate course of action to help bring order onto the planet. Man cannot isolate himself from the destiny of the Earth, for every negation in every corner will come back to haunt him and his children.

The only way to truly heal is to understand planes of causations, and then chose a method which is congruent with Cosmic Law.

Evil is the focus upon fewer traits than the correct within cosmic law for the world system in which one lives. The keys to understanding the transmutation of spiritual disorder rest in the knowledge of cosmic laws.

Wherever there is illness or suffering, the correct application of one of these laws together with correct timing in the use of certain holy traits can bring healing.

In our world, these laws include the

Laws of Polarity
Gender
Correspondence
Cause and Effect
Vibration,

Mentalism
Rhythm
Change
Non-Resistance and Use

Anything in manifestation has Polarity and Gender.

The gender is either Large Yang/Small Yin (Male), or Large Yin/Small Yang (Female). Nothing is genderless and the weakest point is exactly between yin and yang. Anything totally Yang is unbalanced without a small Yin, and unbalances the individual, resulting in a state of total Yin eventually. Anything totally Yin moves towards death.

Bisexuality or androgyny in one's life does not mean that one has the virtues of both sexes, but that one chooses to reject the cosmic Law of Gender. People are incarnated in certain gender bodies to learn specific lessons. Only when they reach a non-physical state of perfection can they be androgynous and live within Cosmic Law. Anyone in physical body must have gender.

The Universe is created by thought (Law of Mentalism). Every thought is creative and has great power to do healing or harm. Many people try to use this law at the expense of the other laws and so fail to advance. For example, many people spend a lot of energy saving money, doing affirmations and visualizing financial wealth, yet are not successful, because they are conflicting with the Law of Non-Resistance.

What you cling to in the material world, will tend to go towards the spiritual ethers. What you cling to in the spiritual world, will tend to manifest also in a material sense. Often, by giving away excess, one gets more of what one desires or needs. Also, by repeatedly saying affirmations, one creates the unspoken opposite, as if a vacuum has developed. To repeatedly say to oneself that "one is beautiful" creates the polarity of ugliness in the ethers by the Law of Polarity. However, by assuming you are becoming more beautiful, without desperately clutching toward beauty, one tends to become more lovely. For this reason, affirmations must be carefully worded.

One aspect of the Law of Mentalism has been greatly overlooked in our "let it all hang out" society. It has become very popular to rehash painful childhood memories and to blame one's parents or spouse for a "dysfunctional" home life. Every time an incident is recounted verbally it occurs again in the spiritual planes and will reflect on the lower planes eventually. This reflects the Law of Correspondence (as above, so below). By hooking into the vibrational range of traumatic memories, we draw negative energies to us and risk recreating the experience not only on the astral planes, but in the material plane as well. This does not mean that we should resist thinking about such trauma, for the resistance will draw it closer, reflecting the Law of Non-Resistance.

LESSON SEPTEMBER 16, 1995: Dimensional Clearing

DIMENSIONAL CLEARING

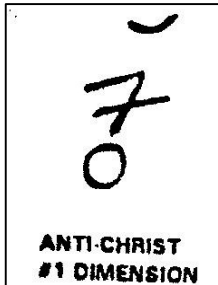

If you dowse a disorder in a specific Dimension, clear the Dimension with the following method:

Place a lock of hair on the Dimensional symbol (See Charts that follow);

On top of a black piece of paper, under a lamp facing the top of a symbol—East—. (Dowse the exact rotation).

This will provide a method to link you with the angels that stand at that dimensional door so they can help you (if you pray rightly).

Ratio Chart from "Learning the Secret Language"

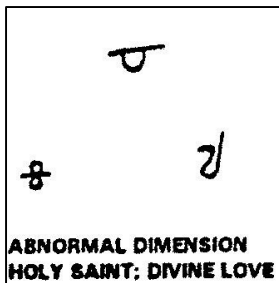

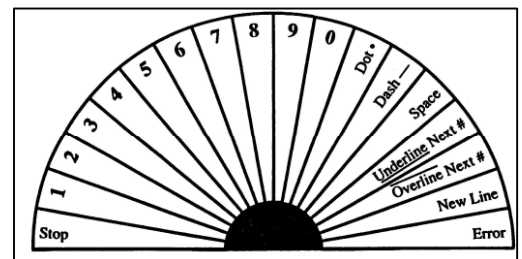

To Clear Abnormal Evil Dimensions,

➤Dowse a ratio numerical sequence Ratio Chart↴

➤Place the ratio (written in pencil) inside a circle upon the dimensional symbol facing East upon black paper.

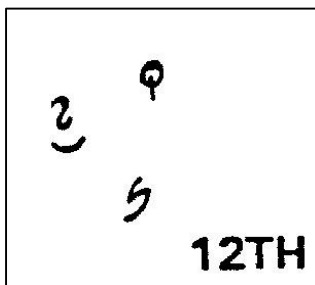

➤Place the ratio and the symbol into a dark box or between two sheets of black paper or cloth.

➤(Place) in the center of the world map for two hours' time. (World Map in follows Lesson)

If you dowse that you need an ←Abnormal Holy Dimensional Door to be opened,

Put your hair on a Holy Dimension in the light to receive help from above, after a prayer.

If you find yourself not able to dowse,

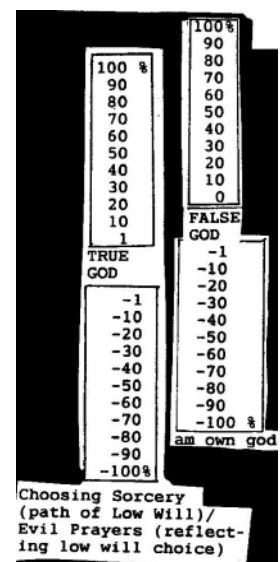

Then you may automatically put your hair on the ←12th dimension in the dark for two hours.

We will bring packets for you. You can put the fax copy in the dark as well.

Keep this map in the dark (sic).

Check each normal dimension on the True God Scale→ while thinking of your body's emanations.

Blessings

NEW ORLEANS

(TAPE #1: The very first tape before this is missing. It was the explanation of the Doppelgangers.)

I am getting something on you that is from a lawyer in his mid-fifties. I was getting Sal...it is Sullivan.

Question: -Inaudible-

Answer: It is not that he wants to harm you, per se. There is something about Sullivan that wants to have you on his side about something, about some issue. So he is thinking about you right now and I felt a filament come in the room.

Question: -Inaudible-

Answer: It was like a hell filament that came into the room with a name and all I could get was Sal/Sul all I could get was the first syllable.

Question: (Is it this(---) name?)

Answer: Oh, that's who it is. He is planning something. He might be in some way collaborating with Michael, though he is not looking out for Mike's interest. He is looking out for his own, but there is something about this Sullivan that bothers me. Let me see if I can figure out what he is thinking. It is some female. Do you know any female with a name similar to Lonnie or, it's not Laura, could be Laurie, she is fairly young, maybe mid-30's. Is there anyone in your company, or an associate of someone in your company, who is about a 35 year old female who; it feels like she has talked to Sullivan about Mike. Her Last name...? (Question: This name?) It seems like this person goes by the name of Sandra but she has either a middle name or she has an identity behind her that is something like a Lonnie, or a Laurie. But is she Sandra, is she ...now I'm seeing she doesn't work there. I was perhaps seeing (this name) behind this Sandra. Sandy (or something like it) doesn't work there but this person has something to do with Mike. She has some association with Mike. She is like a conspirator in some way with Mike. I honestly don't think you would recognize this woman. She seems to be, this is interesting. It is almost like she works for another company and it feels like Sullivan is either directly or indirectly giving company information to a competitor if course I don't know anything about your business, but it feels like there is a behind the scenes thing going on where Sullivan is giving some kind of information out. Sullivan has undermined you in some way regarding the situation with Mike. And although it feels like he doesn't like Mike, he seems to like you, but it seems the way he described your interaction with Mike to this third party is undermining, scornful. It is in his Akasha.

It feels like there are three people to some extent who are conspirators. (Question: This name?) Yes, whatever it is I am pulling a Fallen Being associated with Sullivan's matter that is on you right now. That the reason I traced this, was to try to get rid of it. I'm sure this would not necessarily have caused you harm. But even if evil people don't like each other they will often band together when they are possessed if a fallen being can use them against someone who is struggling for a holy path.

If you will look at the "Losing One's Spirit Mind" handout (Lesson follows). Towards the end; we will type this up, I just wrote it this morning. On page four I stress here that any person whose destiny is to help lead humanity toward the holy rapture, any person today who chooses the path of sainthood and struggles along to refine himself toward that goal will be targeted.

If you look at Revelations, if you look at even Nostradamus prophecies and various other things, you'll see this was predicted during the end times You could say it is the "end times" or you could say it is the "beginning of the new times." We have nothing to fear as long as we are holy. So we should rejoice in that the time for the suffering of saints will eventually back off as far as these difficult times where people attack you.

I am warning you that these voices will come from all around. They don't want someone to have the capability of going to Rapture or leading others to Rapture. It is like in order to have power one has to have Logoic connections in some way.

If you think of hells, think of them as prisons, or jails and fallen beings throughout all time have been trapped into hells to keep them there more or less until they learn a lesson. They are like hells of their own creations. It is almost like curses returning. That is how people get into hell as well. If someone repeatedly curses someone to death then they see their own death wishes coming back at them in Purgatory if it is at one level and if it is at a deeper level; in hell. Because what they have created, their evil has come back upon them.

This is a very important thing to remember because if you ever find yourself thinking of God as purely a God of Mercy, you have got to also realize that everything operates according to Law and there are ways to transmute Karma and that is what I have been studying in the last week. How exactly is karma transmuted? But you must realize that you will receive challenges until you are...when you are perfected as a saint, then you will still receive challenges. Jesus was the most holy being to walk the earth, and He certainly was tortured, shamed, humiliated and killed. But they could not kill His spirit and His soul and He was able to come back and has led the earth all these years in holiness.

They can't kill you if you are holy. They can kill your body but they will not kill your holiness. We must always remember that. We must be less concerned about the body than we are; not just about the soul, but about the spirit. There is an aspect of the tonal, what we used to describe as the tonal, to which Carlo Castaneda refers. There is an aspect of spirit there. A lot of people in the common community don't know the difference between spirit and soul. One of the keys things we should teach people is that not everyone has a soul anymore because they don't desire higher awareness. But most People have spiritual components and out of those components are aspects of the personality and of the intelligence of a person.

There are some people that lose aspects of their spiritual personality and they appear to be intellectually blunted even if they have a very high I.Q. in a linear sense. They lose an aspect of intelligence that is holistic and between words and between numbers. Holistic Intelligence: Instead of quantitative, it is qualitative. It is an aspect of spiritual nuance like color shades. I notice that as I am becoming free of some of earth Karma; the holy powers have seen fit to take away some of the intercession that I have done because it was clouding my body so much, with the burden of the pain, that it was making it difficult for me to complete the writings and the teachings which are instrumental in bringing humanity out of Chaos. Although I am more than happy to do whatever the holy powers say, I have had a release, a relief of tremendous karma weighing on me from a lot of people.

Particularly there were 54 people who were former students and at one time there were 300 active students and then it slowly whittled down. But there were 54 people who had been given Rapture Keys since I became G. The burden of those people's karma was upon me as an intercessor until recently. When the holy powers saw that I had to struggle so long, so hard to write; that I had to clear those people for 12 hours in order to write 30 minutes, sometimes 16 hours, sometimes five days to write 30 minutes. That is was slowing down the purpose of this vessel.

Although they know that my endurance is pretty strong they decided to take some of the burden of karma away. The reason I tell you this, is that when the burden of the 54 people's karma began to lift, I saw differently. I'm telling you this because you are going to notice vision changes, because the holy powers have seen fit that you continue to be helped with any karma that you might have acquired so that you can live according to Grace thereby facilitating the plan of God and not be burdened by the demon voices so much.

Because one of the pitfalls of having heavy karma of other people upon your shoulders as an intercessor is that you hear the demon voices all the time and it is very hard to dowse, you get physical symptoms of pretty great magnitude sometimes...infections. For me, spontaneous bruises that just appear and bleeding all the time so that my anemia was getting to the point that it was getting pretty crucial that something be done. So as you find that your role changes from not just primarily serving as intercessors, but by serving as facilitators of the plan of God, you will find your life getting somewhat easier on one hand; in one way. It may get more difficult in a different way.

But you will notice probably today because it has been going on for several days, particularly yesterday and today; that when you look at colors, the nuances of colors are different. Colors are more magnificent when your karma is lighter. When you see with Heaven Eyes through your spirit-and you have to see through spirit to see the spirit of the law rather than the letter of the law. You see with your physical eyes and you hear with your physical brain, and your intellect and your corpse resonance to hear the letter of the law. But you need spirit and soul to see with your spirit eyes and to see nuance.

If you look at the color of this bag; if you study differences of colors you will notice by tomorrow this bag looks different to you. The colors will look deeper somehow as though the bag is almost alive. Color perceptions are going to start changing in you, I strongly suspect. Looking at a color such as this shade of green; will seem like it has other properties other than just drabness, or the tone; whether it has blue or yellow in it, more or less, or whether it has more white in it or less white. You will see that colors have properties that are different than you have ever known if you see through spirit eyes which you need to practice doing.

One way to practice is to study things that you see over the next day or two. When you look at grass or trees, try to get the idea of smelling and tasting the floating emanations of grass and trees; what you see. This will help you to understand more spiritually and become more spiritually attuned to all spiritual phenomena. So try to think of what you see as not just seeing it with your eyes, see it with your nose, with your mouth, with your throat and with your heart and then you are going to find things become more beautiful.

Have you ever noticed that when you are highly contaminated, everything looks drab and gray even if it is a bright day? It is as though you look out of cloudy eyes and everything looks cloudy, or everything seems depressing like there is a heavy veil over it. If you look at people who are highly contaminated, they look dull. There is something about them that lacks an emanation of brilliance. They have a; you might think their skin is getting sallow or something, but it is not really their skin. You will notice differences in black people, people of all races, of Orientals, they have; like there is a beautiful Oriental skin glow and then there is a dead one where it looks almost dead when the spirit is gone. And the same with blacks, there is a glowing, beautiful mahogany look of a spiritually intact black person. And then there is a dead look where the pores are bigger and they look almost like a Naugahyde sofa or something. With whites it is often a look of gray death. It is not pale or ruddy and rosy, as Lord knows I'm not rosy. But it is a look of some kind of radiance versus a look of gray death.

When you take on other people's disorder, you may actually take on the gray death look. So if you look in the mirror at work or someplace and you find that you have a gray death look, one of the first things you should do is make sure that you don't have somebody on your magnetic field. Ask "How many?..." and you can't really say 'people', because some people don't dowse as people anymore but ask

"How many awarenesses and consciousnesses are in your magnetic forcefield?" and

"How aligned are they on the Law Clock or the True God Scale?"

You should only have one awareness and one consciousness and that should be holy according to the Law Clock and the True God Scale.

If you get to feeling bad, suspect it may be one of these Coils that I have in the written lessons where another person's spiritual matter can actually reach out and loop you and make you feel like the person that sent it. You will hear the thoughts. It is very important, if you get looped spiritually by a person who has decided to go against holiness, that you not repeat the thoughts in your head or verbally. Because if you get into the devil's advocate argument, you will start building an inertia wheel that pulls you into obsessions and hate and giddiness or a sense that "This is all there is" or a sense of being agitated and getting what you want.

It starts out as "Ok, I'm just having a bad day" but in fact at this point in your life, you can't afford to be out of control at any time because you have a destiny to help lead humanity and you must take it very seriously. And you may not know how you are going to do that, you might think "Well, I have to go to work, I have to come home, I have to do this." but God will lead you in the way that you are supposed to help manifest the plan of God on the face of the earth. And it may be when you are dreaming, it may be in other ways. But you ask to be led on how you may fulfill your mission, your individual mission within the plan of God.

One of the interesting things that I saw when I was transmuting Karma was that some things don't sound like they are karmic. For example Types of Karma chart lists one of them: "To seek power by vampirism or spiritual cannibalism" and what I found was there are other things under that particular type of karma. It can mean "Desire to bypass an intercessor against Law." And you might say "What has that to do with it?" For instance if you have been fortunate to know or to be shown the way to avoid spiritual disorder; such as I tell you "Don't merge eyes with someone and get into a circular pattern when someone is trying to lock your eyes" and yet society says that people won't think you are valid if you don't give them eye contact; that it is part of the business world and part of gaining rapport with one's clients. Maybe for a while you try to hold it to one side just a little bit, a hair's breadth, but then you start to have the desire to want to think the world is really ok instead of in a crisis.

Remember in DON's Story in A Prophet's Story when Don says "What if people had a virus that told them that the "World was beautiful just as it was" and that kept them from making changes that would save the world? What if people were just deluded into thinking that 'everything was perfect' so they never went about saving the world?"

That would be the perfect virus wouldn't it for some governments if they wanted to pacify people that were maybe rabble rousers. All they would have to do is give them a virus that would make them apathetic about changing anything at all and then the rabble rousers, the ones that wanted to end religious persecution or the ones that wanted to get innocent people--such as nuns that were being tortured out of prison, anything like that like in a South or Central American Government. If such a virus was put into the water system or the food supply then they would lose a lot of their rebels. The kids would grow up and think "Why should I fight in a war? All I want to do is eat beans and cornbread and have a farm just like my daddy did." In other words, "Don't Change". You can see how that would be a perfect military tool.

I look at what has happened in some of the ghettos and I see the degeneration of people who have come into the health care system just in the last twenty years; having worked in a hospital myself and also working in free clinics. Well I guess it was about 19 years ago I started working in free clinics and before that I was a nurse's aide. So I've got 25 years from adolescence being involved in the health care system. The difference of attitude in the recipients of health care has not just added to it...that is a very general term. It is not that they just expect it; it is they are different in a matter of some kind of honor. There is something about honor that is being lost in the lower classes. And of course there are always exceptions and I am certainly a lower class person at this time. I'm a homeless person in essence if you looked at it from a strict perspective without the kindness of strangers I would be out in the street in a soup kitchen. "If not for the kindness of strange people" I would be in the nut house or I would be in a soup kitchen because I'm sure my license must be revoked by now.

There is something about their faces. It used to be that people would have hard times and they might have been drunks and druggies. But there is a lack of resiliency (now). It is almost as if you can't pull them back as easily. It used to be, I worked in the alcoholic treatment center and we gave them beans and tried to dry them out. It was a public inebriate alternative to jail, where I would go and dish up beans and make sure they weren't dying and do nursing things for them. I volunteered. There were people that might have been sorrowed, and some people actually I think became alcoholics because they hurt all the time maybe with arthritis; old people who were all gnarled up or had some other disease. They were hurting so bad and they were not treated for pain adequately. Which I think has been a little bit of a chronic problem, in that people aren't taught simple pain relief measures that are non-narcotic. Like the proper use of heat and cold and things like that, and the proper use of aspirin. So some people would maybe have physical pain or emotional pain and they would go downhill, but you could help those people often even if they were old, by hooking them into what the bottom problem was: whether it was loneliness or pain, and by trying to see what the bottom was and then deal with that. Of course you could say if they were crippled with arthritis, they might have another problem under that; a karmic situation, or maybe they had emphysema because they were smokers and that is a physical karma. But I saw people who then somehow became reasonable. Where before when they might have had what is that Korsakoff's psychosis? I won't say (Kirc) psychosis (joke), I couldn't think of the name of it. But they could be treated with vitamins and by looking at the underlying problem.

But what I have seen in the last 10 or 13 years is an inability to find a bottom problem in people. I now know what it is. It is because their spirits are gone. About six years ago, a doctor by the name of Norman Sheeley, who wrote some books, I think his name is that, had heard about my herbal methods and exorcisms and he wrote me. He described the same problem he said "What is wrong? Why are people just losing desire to change? What do you do when a person loses all initiative to change?" I really didn't have an answer for him then. I knew it was spiritual, but I didn't have an answer. Now I realize and I would like to send the books to Norman Sheeley including the next one because I'll discuss this very thing that troubled him in trying to help people and in his own writing.

I believe that during these times, toward the rapture that people's spirits are splitting apart. It is a mega phenomenon. It is not that some people are assholes and they are just sinking ever lower. I think that some people responded to stress of losing their spiritual aspects with maladaptive vices or whatever. But maybe it was the only way they could get some relief!

I remember Hannah Kroeger describing the simian virus that came in with immunizations that she believed was responsible for the marijuana addictions over the country. She said that it produced a type of agitation and depression that was treatable by marijuana and she experimented with herbs to give them a substitute to smoke which I think she used; it wasn't oregano, but it was a common kitchen herb to try to get them off of marijuana. I experimented to help marijuana addicts because I don't care what they say, it is addicting to some people and they have a terrible time; it may not be physically addicting, but mentally it is extremely addicting. I experimented with an herb called Mugwort and Skullcap mixed and would have them smoke that with great success with a little bit of licorice root.

Hanna Kroeger's belief and I think she is probably right, was that somehow the earlier immunizations before they switched to chicken embryos when they were using simians, transferred some viral thing that caused a type of mental illness that produced a craving in almost a whole generation. Not everybody is going to respond to a virus if they get it. Not everybody is going to become manifested in it. But I found that an interesting theory. As I look at it now I see she was correct, not completely correct there were a lot of holes, but the concept is correct--that there can be types of viroids or micro-virus particles that can invade human cells that alter the brain physiology.

But what is it that gets the spirit? Does a virus get the spirit? No. A man's spirit erodes when it resonates with what his body has been hit with. You can say that the doppelganger viruses of various kinds are everywhere; the ones the government has engineered and the spiritual ones. But a person can be eaten up with doppelganger viruses and still be holy. But it requires that they go against what the body and babbling voices are telling them how to think and what to do. What that means is you have to have a standard, and you have to not let yourself go below that standard. If the voices are telling you "Oh, this is crazy. You need to be like everybody else, you need to do this..." or they try to get you riled to hate people and that sort of thing, you have to realize it is not your true self.

Because in order to reach your soul, something has to go through your spirit. If your spirit will not embrace...if your spirit personality does not embrace hate, lies, thoughts of defilement and perversity thoughts, then your spirit will protect your soul. And your body can be healed by above.

The holy powers can look down on your soul, and spirit and your body and they can heal you, but they have to come down from that level. They don't do healing on the body primarily. They do it through your higher aspects downward and if you have blown or made your higher aspects foul, then they won't heal your body because it is not the intention of holy powers to heal someone who could be a vessel for evil. If somebody who is just a shell and has blown out everything that they own, spiritually and soul-wise, then it is unlikely that a person should be healed physically, because they will drain; they will become evil. They will use their physical strength for evil.

Question: Could you say that the virus could just be a thought? An analogy: a virus in a computer is not DNA it is somebody's thought that went into a computer and it spreads. But does there have to be an infectious agent? Could it just be an evil thought that is the virus?

Answer: An evil thought can produce a cellular mutation. My theory is, of course your body is full of all sorts of microbial agents. You have intestinal flora, e-coli and stuff, but of those, they are more susceptible to mutation than your core tissue is, initially. But what I think happens is, say your Tisunals that relate to digestion are off haywire somewhere and you feel something in your gut so strongly like hate. You feel hate so strongly in your gut that it is like a knot. When I was transmuting some karma, my belly got so huge and hard...it was oh! It was so painful. Cel was laughing at how big and hard my stomach got yesterday.

Cel: I wasn't laughing at you.

Answer: She wasn't laughing with me she was laughing at me. But it was interesting to see how fast a spiritual change can occur because it was as hard as a rock and huge. What I think happens is that very low, or simple organisms can be spiritually altered more readily than more refined ones and that they have an adaptability to the environment or something that can make them mutate more readily. Say maybe hate will cause a change in your stomach acidity and emotions changing your endocrine system in such a way that the environment is altered for the microbes that are in your body naturally. Or maybe some are in there unnaturally. Maybe you have a chronic or suppressed malaria or you have a miasmatic tendency towards illness that you inherited physically that tends to cause an abundance of certain microbes or a deficiency of another.

For instance my vessel inherited a very poor ability to digest food in the stomach. So it often has to digest lower because it can sit in my stomach for so long. Things like fermented foods are very helpful, yogurt, to help digestion. I have to add a lot of microbes because I have an unbalanced (digestive system); and not so much anymore, the Lord is healing me, except when I am taking on karma. But your predispositions that you inherited tend to make your body produce differing types of microbes specific for your type and your ancestral karma and your personal karma as well.

For instance if you had a string of lovers and you got 20 different varieties of herpes in the crotch and say you get emotionally upset, it can just pop out just like that and you see it over and over again with herpes. Or women with yeast infections, they get unbalanced and...oof...they suddenly get yeast infections. The ability to use insulin and stuff; emotions strongly affect that. I am sure that "B" is aware by looking at his patients. When under great stress a person can become totally messed up. I was on insulin for a while, (during) one of my near death experiences.

But things can be healed. We get to thinking we are victims of our heredity or whatever but what I have seen more than ever, if you heal it from primarily a physical point of view, then it will reoccur downward. Because for one thing a person has a physical habit of responding to something with their physical thoughts, emotions, minds and behaviors to certain stressors so they produce the same existing conditions that unbalances the, as my (relative) called it the "Floral and the Fonda" (laughs). We were driving in Arkansas and she "I just love all this Floral and Fonda!" and I said "Oh, is Jane Fonda out there somewhere?" But I guess she meant flora and fauna. But if the person unsettles it on the physical they can attract it to the higher as well. Say if you clear it on the spiritual levels and on the soul level and you clear it on the ancestral level, so in other words the person's karma is erased, physically, and then even their body is healing...most physical healings and transformations have to be like a house of cards. If they are not, a person goes into profound physical shock and mental shock from rapid alterations, an example was (a child LG had healed earlier).

When I initially worked on (the child) as LG, I could see for a certain period of weeks rapid improvement in her Down's syndrome. Her feet which were highly clubbed and twisted in, straightened out. They were still small but they straightened out within two weeks. Her shortened curved little finger which is common with Down's, started relaxing. She started walking within a month, or less, I think it was three weeks after the initial spiritual work I did on her. She began to make sounds that sounded more like speech, when before all she did was scream. I have to say she was one of the worst Down's babies I have seen, and I have seen a lot of them. I could see her intelligence forming and her brain changing. But it was only when the mother took her back to Mexico to get the so called "Animal Fetal Injections"...END OF SIDE A

...Tissue injections are not just a physical thing. You are giving them spiritual matter of the abortions. It is a terrible thing whether it is animal or human. It is not the same to inject animal matter than it is to eat a piece of hamburger because in eating something you are supposed to have Tisunals. It is what Jesus said "It is not what a man takes into his mouth that defileth a man, but what comes out of a man's mouth that defileth a man" Paul I think, said "Ye can drink any poison, it shall not harm ye." What he is saying is that the Holy Powers have the ability to transmute all that is in you if they (the Tisunals) are aligned. But Jesus wasn't saying "Oh, it is also ok by the way to inject abortions" with a needle in your body. That is an abnormal function. Eating is a normal function.

That runs into a problem. Insulin was always made out of pigs and cows wasn't it? But now it is made from synthetic?

B: It actually comes from bacteria. It is made in E-Coli.

G: That would be more easily tolerated spiritually than using a higher level. A diabetic should be able to spiritually transmute that foreign e-coli strain if it has any spiritual contamination if he is holy.

Remember always the maxim "A master controls all that is below him and obeys all that is above him".

"A master controls all that is below him and obeys all that is above him". You need to remember that, because you must not be overly humble to defilers. That is very important. You do not throw your pearls before swine. And you do not start getting into this democratic idea that everybody is spiritually all the same; because people choose different paths; some glorious, some no better than an amoeba.

People that have gone all the way down to the plant and demon-world spiritual levels are open to mutation of their e-coli, of their viruses, of their body yeasts, because they have sunk below an amoeba in a spiritual sense. An amoeba has a spiritual component that the higher aspects of animals and humans are supposed to control; the deva forces. And if a person sinks below the spiritual level of an amoeba, that is not just a metaphor. The person then becomes open to mutations on a cellular level. Because he loses; he is no longer a master of his own body. "A master rules that which is below him and submits to that which is above him."

If a person is only master of say, viruses but not bacteria for instance if they have sunk below animal and are still sinking, they don't have any virus problems but they have bacteria problems. Well, that person may get a mutated e-coli insulin injection that somehow they have some violent battle and it may open up some door of darkness to them. Because they have no normal spiritual mechanisms to control the spiritual forces of foreign injected agents. Your normal immune system is largely on the animal level. Like many people who are animals are strong as horses. Other people are evil and have sunk to a demon level and are still physically strong and that is because they have masters above them that are evil that want them to be healthy.

"A person masters that which is below him, but submits to that which is above him." What is above a person who thinks evil thoughts? What is above a person who goes against every cosmic law, but evil hovers over the head like a vulture for its prey, looking for the road kill on the spiritual highway. So, a person who has sunk to the microcosm level spiritually speaking becomes a mere shell for darkness because he calls it with his own cells, then. He uses his brain, his physical brain to draw demons to him: He'll think: "Hate, hate, hate, hate, hate, hate" or "pedophilia, pedophilia" or "revenge, revenge, revenge" or "greed/money, money" and "How can I outsmart this person?" "How can I gamble and get something for nothing?" this is what they are thinking.

Whatever a person thinks and feels with his physical brain he will end up programming his spiritual self: whatever he has left. If a person is smug and thinks that God is going to protect him no matter what and all he has to do is go to confession, then he is going to lose his spirit and his soul and then his body. Because once the spirit and soul are gone, the body merely becomes open to all things evil. I say that, and then on the other hand a part of me is the eternal optimist. Just as I said to a person on their last day at the monastery: "Try to think holy thoughts and pray with your mouth and with your mind, constantly. Try to resonate with God with your body and maybe you will recover spiritually." That is always my hope.

I believe that anybody; no matter how low they have gone spiritually, no matter what they have done physically, they could choose to do that. Especially if they have been given an exorcism that took away their evil masters because normally when a person thinks these thoughts they are trying to hook into an energy system that gives them a rush of some kind and so, they have evil.

The question is: what do you do if you erase all their evil masters and what if you do if you bless that person and you give that person a holy thought or even a holy being over them? And then you tell that person, "Think this, pray for heaven, pray for humanity, pray for someone besides yourself...." In other words, "Be unselfish, serve others."

Telling people the steps, you almost have to tell them concretely at that point, because they have lost the spirit of the law and if they refuse? What do you do if you have erased all the evil and they have erased all of the good, and you put more good on them and they erase that? Then all that is left is a person who is just saying: "I am going to do damn-well what I please! You are not going tell me what to do!" and that person had asked for an intercessor and prayed for years to find a teacher that would lead them to holiness and they got their prayer granted and they scorned the help given. I tell you, that is a type of karma that is very, very strong.

Because there are people hungry in the world today for a teacher, to understand the gospels. They go to church and they are told "Don't gamble, don't do this, don't do that." And people think "Why? What is it?" Not everybody questions, but a lot of people question sexual mores, or behavioral things and the prosperity philosophy which is so big. They think "If I am so holy, why can't I have more money?" and maybe you should and maybe you shouldn't. Maybe it would be a pitfall. Some people have such a weakness with money and they are better off not having any. Other people don't have a weakness with money, so it is fine for them to have it.

Money is not the root of all evil. The love of money, I would say, is the root of significant evil. But the love of other things is too. So whatever you love becomes your God, if it is a person, if it is money, if it is sex, if it is revenge, a house--that is your God and that is what hovers over your head, takes over your body and becomes your master.

If a person in their body then prayed for intercession, they could be healed. There is something about it, when a person has blown away so much of themselves, like we see in the world today, they need an intercessor. Because there is a spiritual hierarchy that must be followed for the simple reason that the earth has gotten so degenerate that many holy beings recoil from entering this sphere. And it wasn't always so. You can just look around at the children, the little children, and see how few of them have guardian angels anymore. It is scary. And how many have lost the spirit glow in their face and they look drab? We must give thanks for the ones that do have it, that glow and that holiness and that potential for glory. And we must fight to protect such children because there are wolves after the prey just as they are after him (a child). They want to devour as 1st Peter 5:8: "Be sober, be vigilant because your adversary the devil as a roaring lion, walketh about seeking whom he may devour."

The devil is many things. The devil is whatever is your false god; will devour you. And then, the irony is, people who are devoured tend to blame the person that tried to keep them from being devoured. That is just the way it goes. Whoever you try to reach in and save may spit on you. You must be prepared to face that and you have to be very careful, because saints, facilitators for the plan of God, will be targeted by the major fallen beings. Not just Fallen Angels and Asuras, there are many, many fallen beings who 'fall' just like humans do. Just like the Watchers who wanted to see what it felt like to be in a human or animal body: what did they do? They reduced themselves to a sub-level which was against evolution. People who want to live according to animal laws have done the same. The people who are lawless go below that of a virus until they are nothing but demon.

Probably the greatest thing we could teach in the books in the years to come will be that man's self-determination is a key on the one hand, to his salvation in that he can choose his path. But the paths he must choose in this time in history, are to go with holy intercession or to go to Hell, to go to Hades to be destroyed. Without an intercessor on the earth today, there would be no hope for humanity. There is another one (intercessor) that has appeared on the earth somewhere, I can feel his presence, but I don't know where he is. He is unrelated to our party and he is not in the United States, but I can feel his presence. Whenever someone has evolved into an intercessor status by their own purity, I can feel the Earth change from that one glowing light. And every soul that burns brighter is seen in the heavens by the high powers and the souls that struggle the hardest to beam brightly will be given the most help. Even in times of great struggle.

Now I asked the holy beings why there has been so much attack on us. It didn't seem like it was needed for me spiritually, to have to run all the time and be in fear of being assassinated. It seemed like I could write just fine without that necessity. Some people do better if they have necessity, so they have to feel their back is against the wall, but I am not like that. I always have necessity. The holy beings said that "It is the job of each of us to be able to do spiritual battle to the level of our own development on the dark side." We are not expected to fight fallen beings that are higher than your own self. Isn't that ironic? Higher than your own angels, higher than your own....It is like you can join synergistically to fight those that are higher, or within a synergy group. But you are not...you can pray for intercession for anything that is above the level of your own spiritual development.

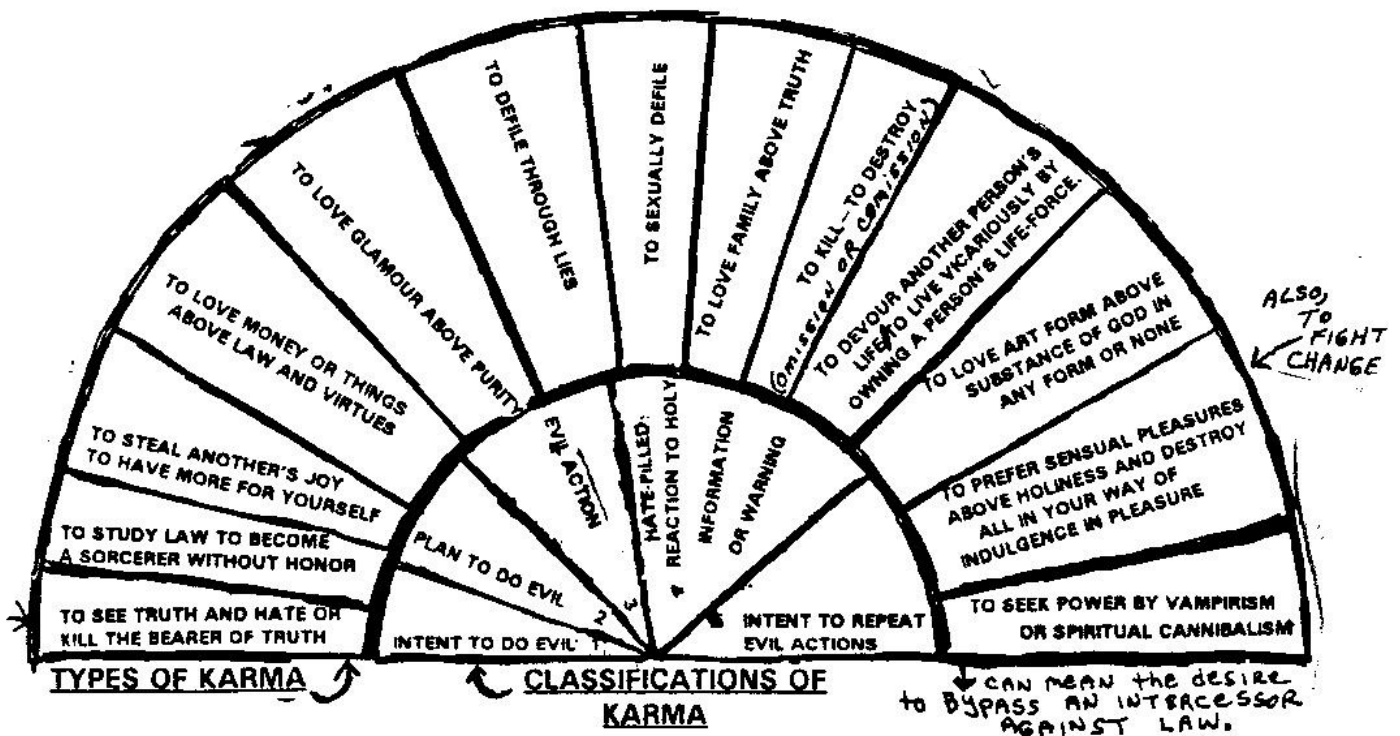

But until one reaches a certain level, an intercessor is required to reach the Grace Powers to bring about salvation. One of the biggest pitfalls in religion today is the Protestant viewpoint that intercession is unnecessary; in many Protestant churches: "Man directly with God". And what this has done is cause people to create their own religions, their own personal religions where they will exclude the part they don't like. They ask 'God to forgive them' and they rededicate their lives every time they feel like they are getting loaded up or they feel like they are going to die. They turn over a new leaf and then they always figure “Once saved always saved” and there was always a big debate at the churches I went to on that.

Well, if it is “Once saved always saved” then why did Jesus say “Fear not those that can kill your body, but fear those that can kill your body and soul in hell”? Why wouldn’t that person be saved if they had a soul, they must have been saved at some point?

No. We must teach people that they have two choices: They can pray for intercession for the face of the Earth and pray to eventually become intercessors for humanity. To pray for intercession is needed before one can become an intercessor in the fullest sense. One can fall from the state of an intercessor. One can be an intercessor and then be destroyed by poor choices if one hasn’t gained enough positive karma.

WHICH BRINGS ON THIS CHART HERE: CLASSIFICATIONS OF KARMA AND TYPES OF KARMA:

I’ve listed here types of karma that I identified within our own group and former students and people who have interacted with all of us. For instance “To steal another’s joy to have more for yourself” that sounds in some ways kind of silly in that how could you steal another’s joy? But I found this in nuances in Gar. In other words, it is kind of a loveless attitude. And it may seem like a trivial thing, to maybe make another person’s life a little harder just so you can get a thrill out of it in some way? But there is a thing there that has to do with greed and power, a nuance of that.

“To see Truth and hate or kill the bearer of Truth” is one I’ve seen in certain ex-students and this also means to scorn holiness. Say you know in your heart whether there is a holy presence in a person or not and maybe the person, for instance, B could look at C and maybe C would be taking on someone’s karma for some reason, or maybe she would be clearing a baby and C may look all possessed and mean and get real agitated, take a half bottle of aspirin and look suffering. She may get itchy and get cranky and B may think “Well C is not very holy if she is doing that!” but in essence, she would be digesting the disorder that might have jumped in on the baby and she may be in severe pain and may have to try to cope with it just from a...and you think of torture. Like if somebody is running bamboo shoots up your fingernails, you may be begging for something to cut the pain; whether it is two or three chocolates or whatever will help you.

When Cel gets under stress, she wants to go to the Chinese restaurant to get a Pu-Pu platter with 100 grams of fat in it. (Laughter) and it is like sometimes you have to weigh it. Sometimes it is as St. Paul said: “The spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak” sometimes the flesh strains against the burdens of spirit in those that decide to take a holy path. Those that have decided to take a holy path are going to be attacked with every weakness on every side. And so what would be wise would be for B to say “I don’t know why C is like this, I don’t know what the disharmony is but I pray to know to see if there is some way I can help her.”

B: I show her where the chocolate is. (Laughter)

G: There is a difference between righteous indignation and viciousness. And there is also a difference between pulling something out of someone as a mechanism of getting them unsteady so maybe something will disassociate. There are many spiritual contaminations that sit inside your body and you can't get them loose for anything, they are so identified with you on your cellular matter. The only way I can get those out of you is by making fun of it. I can make fun of somebody else's that is just the same, and yours will start to loosen and go to the side.

I've done this over and over again. You guys probably haven't noticed. Maybe you have. But I'll start making fun of something; I'll say horrible things. Like I told (--) his dad got a glass eye because the other one fell out looking at a Playboy magazine. (Laughter) and I just laughed and Cel and I laughed and it sounds like "That woman! How can she be holy? She is as mean as a snake..." but in reality (--) got so defensive about his dad, it shoved this demon that was related to a sort of a sexual demon; to the side so that I could get a grip on it and start yanking at the demon. But if it stayed in the middle, I couldn't get it. I have to loosen it. I have to get the demon loosened. So I get it mad, and it goes to the side and then I grab it.

Question: (Inaudible) Answer: Yes, but you had the same demon as your dad.

Question: Yes, but I wasn't thinking ...

Answer: No, but it made you mad didn't it? (Yes) So he got riled up and ran out of the room. And it was the same thing about Fo's mother. I am trying to remember what I said about her. Something rude, really rude. We just laughed. And it doesn't matter who it is about. You will find that if you get mad about something it is because you have a spiritual resonance with it. Humor is a device by which I have pulled to the side something that you normally defend. It is so a part of you, that you can't even see it.

An example was, and I'll tell you what I have done with you guys in the past. Look to the left side and you will see it. When C had bought chickens or whatever we were cooking at the last gathering and she had put it in Clorox water and all that, I threw the whole thing in the microwave with the giblets unwrapped and the plastic still on them inside (great laughter) and then I took six month old cooked rice from the freezer that had frost burn all over it and threw that in the microwave, cooked that and stuffed the chicken. I just took over and was just pushy and said "Oh, this is great. Don't worry about a little plastic, it won't hurt you" and I just pulled it off.

Cel: And then I let the coffee pot boil over.

G: Yes, the coffee pot boiled all over the floor. The whole kitchen appeared to be in total disharmony and C was planning this nice meal and I just went in and screwed it up. The reason, it may have looked that I was just a bad cook but what I was really doing, I was trying to loosen a food obsession. There was a residual "Food is Spirit" obsession like a Kushi type thing: "Food is holy" and "If you change your food you will become more holy." So I was trying to slide it to the side by making her not worry about it.

Normally, if you were around me a lot, you would see that I eat very well. I don't eat that well when I am around Cel; I eat Pu-Pu platters. But normally I don't eat that badly. I like healthy food. But sometimes in this case, it was appropriate. And I didn't think about it, I was just supposed to do it. After I had started I started laughing because I knew exactly why I was doing it.

Cel: Mine was an accident though, leaving the coffee pot.

C: Without a cover on it while it was perking? (Laughter)

G: See it wouldn't have worked had I told you in advance because you would have held that thing in so tight. Like how many classes have I, as LG given about Food Jones things and talked to "Aa" directly about her Food Jones over and over again and yet she never changed? That is what Don Juan called the "Trickery of the Spirit." You have to have the trickery of the spirit to entice the spiritual contaminations out. So the trickery of the spirit helps by--someone led by God can pull your weaknesses out to the forefront and make you agitated so that you can then fight that instead of the teacher, hopefully.

But what usually happens is, it has to start out as fighting the teacher. It is almost like these demons, like the Food Jones demons would want to lunge at me and choke my throat for putting that plastic on the chicken. And when it does, oh then it is easy street, I just pull it out and put it in me and hold it a day or two until it is screaming and wanting out.

C: Did we get it? G: No.

B: Not completely!

G: The reason we didn't is that you got your composure too quickly. I couldn't irritate you enough that time. Now you can get rid of it by choice and we are going to work on it this weekend. It is not that I want you to eat badly. It is that I want you to have no 'Against Law' spiritual concepts that slow your spiritual growth because that is where they come and get you. I want you to be perfect. But now I couldn't pull the same thing on you.

B: But you did with this hotel.

G: We did? Did I surprise her?

B: For her for sure. She sat upstairs and said "It smells like cat pee."

C: In the hall. I walked back and said that.

G: We need to get you down on this floor.

Cel: I had everyone booked on this floor and they said it was duplicated.

G: At the time we made the reservations, the rooms here were empty and those were booked. What happened was they could rent these rooms for twenty dollars more. So they dumped them on another floor because they had promised the same rate to others.

C: Maybe I should be there. As soon as I get off the elevator and into the room it hits me.

G: I've worked on B several times without him knowing. (Laughter). I remember a time as LG we were at the old place that Bc bought from Fo in the country and I remember you came in, in a total rage about Ml about carrying her luggage and how pushy she was, putting the big red purse out in front of everyone in classes and you said "Oh, she has a gallon of wine in that thing. I know she's an alcoholic because her luggage wouldn't have been that heavy if she hadn't had a jug of wine in there." I remember laughing because I knew Ml had about 20 prayer candles in there; she was going to give away. So I knew they were damn heavy.

C: Oh, look (the new puppy Muffin) she was on her back and just pushed herself away from the towel. You have to see that.

G: She's getting happy, she's getting relaxed. Isn't she adorable? What a pup.

C: She is going to be a sweetheart.

G: She is definitely a Juan Muffin with that position.

C: What really occurred was that we gave her and another woman a ride and B said "The next morning we are going to meet at such and such a time and we are leaving!" and he was real clear about it. It didn't work out that way. Later he said "I said that time and either they are going to be here or we are gone." They couldn't get to your place unless they got a ride and so Ml and B got into it. The other woman was somewhere eating. And in the car the other woman started yelling at B as if he were her husband. "You are just like my husband and all the other men!"

G: What that provoked in B; I think he has the "two types of women" concept. Not the Madonna/Whore per se. There is one that your mother and D were and then the one that C is. There is nothing in between, women are either/or with total loathing for the D's of the world.

B: Anger.

G: Yes, but I think there are many, many aspects of it. It almost feels like you have had experiences where; and I can only see the general concept, where you felt you were a slave to what someone wanted, barking orders and maybe they didn't bark them, but maybe you felt you were supposed to sacrifice what you wanted, what you thought, what you desired for a controlling woman who just wanted to run your life. But what ends up happening though is if you keep anchored into certain concepts of certain types of women; if you see one thing that is like any of those women that you have known before, you will assume that all of the other components are present. They are this or that or something else.

A person tends to generalize based upon one anchored-in assumption. And this is why you see this with almost all obsessions and almost all spiritual blocks. Like with C there is something about fear of starving and of raising the kids alone with the fear of food things which are all intertwined. When I was dealing with C and the chickens, she looked at me like "Are you trying to kill me?" that was the look, "If my food is not right, I'll die" like from the lean and hungry years. And I can certainly understand that, because I have had lean and hungry years.

But by anchoring in, for instance by thinking that if you don't take the innards out of a turkey for instance, you are going to die by food poisoning..."Sal Mineo" poisoning (Laughter). By having that anchor then if one time you should cook the turkey with the giblets inside, you might throw out the whole turkey in panic and fear, but it goes beyond that because then it is a spiritual thing, it becomes a spiritual obsession. You remember Howard Hughes obsessions with his food or something else. If you are open to one weakness, you are open to more than one so they tend to infringe and grow into every part of your beingness.

The design of the Trickery of the Spirit for B was, in hearing him say "Yeah, I think Ml is an alcoholic. Her bag couldn't have been that heavy unless he had a bunch of wine in there."

Comment: She had prayer candles? (Laughter)

G: She actually had a ton of prayer candles, she gave some to me. She had a huge shrine. She was a very devout Catholic, with the bright red lipstick and she would write to me "I've lit a candle for you today..." Her personality is totally abrasive, but she actually does have a lot of love for God, she just has a few other mistakes in other realms. So with B, it was easy enough. All I had to do was pull out a big box of wine and start tanking-up.

You see, if you realize that you are controlled by spirit and you know that your spirit is aligned with your soul and your soul is aligned with God, there is an aspect of control that you can present even in difficult or unusual circumstances. For instance when I was being poisoned, I was septic in the hospital and having seizures and I could hardly think. Still, I knew what to do. I knew to get La out of there. I also knew I had to go to the hospital and it was a good thing, because I would have died....or lost my foot or something.

But you see, to know what to do...for instance mercury and you know what mercury does. That is why they called people "Mad as a Hatter." The felt hat manufacturers went insane because they used mercury in the dyes for the felt. Mercury was the cause of the Mad Hatters. That is where the term in Alice in Wonderland came from because they became demented, agitated and crazy in different ways at a very early age.

See, you can be severely toxic with something physical and still somehow operate toward the plan of God if you are controlled by spirit, Holy Spirit, by your soul, by that which is above your soul and you are submitted all the way down. This is absolutely true. You could be in any environment and be protected if you keep your resonance with that which is holy, which is the New Heaven and New Earth and not with what is around you. I think it would absolutely be good to go to one of these transsexual, bottomless bars (here in New Orleans) just to see how you do. This is a town with some of the grossest people in the world in it; and those that work in the bars. Some of them are the grossest, most vulgar, AC/DC, murderous types that it would be beneficial as a test.

But you see, it would be better if I could I could have fooled you with trickery of the spirit by just saying "Oh, I want to go party!" And then I start drinking, get up on the dance floor myself and do a few whirls of the hips. Maybe that would shove you a little off of any pre-conceived notions you have about what is holy or what isn't holy. See, to be shoved by the powers that be, is a very, very beneficial method to get you to find what riles you so that then you can fight that, to get whatever is in you out. You could pray all day long "Dear Lord I want anything evil in me to be removed" But you don't know what is evil, or you don't think it is evil! So what you are really saying is "Anything I believe is evil, I want removed".

But if G says "You are evil because you have not listened to the teaching regarding this particular matter, which is your downfall. You have embraced evil into your being until it has become like a phantom self of you." If I just said that to you, had I said it in the past, it is unlikely that you would change because you wouldn't see it. How many times did I directly say to Gar "You need to learn how to love other people. You lack love!" I have been very direct and I have been indirect as well. What if your fault is that you "Love beauty or form above holy substance" which may or may not have form. It may be like the wind, like the Holy Spirit. What if you evaluated everything on earth in its holiness by a superficial view and you weren't looking from spirit and soul...you were looking through corpse eyes that were resonating with the grid. How could I teach you that holiness can take more than one lower form and even do what seems to be paradoxical actions?

Remember "A master controls that which is below him and submits to that which is above him." There have been times that the holy powers have instructed me to do things that were paradoxical as to what I taught before. But it was because it was for a higher level of teaching that I was presenting. Remember that lecture I gave to La that "She didn't need anything more than a 16" TV!" and 30 minutes later I drove out with Cel and we got a 52" for Cel. We got a big screen and that galled La! But I said "But Cel has the money and you don't! You don't have a pot to piss in! You don't have any business buying a TV!"

Comment: I'm sure that made her feel better.

B: She didn't like Cel after that....(Laughter)

G: Oh, she loved her before....

You could say, "Gosh, how could G have done that when she just was trying to teach modesty to La in buying things and yet not with Cel?" It wasn't just that Cel had the money, but that Cel does not have a money hang-up and La did. It is interesting how people can be poor, they can be rich, they can be middle class and they can have a money thing or not have a money thing. Some people in the street will kill for five dollars. It is not the amount of money, it is the attitude toward what money means to you emotionally and what its purpose is in your life.

Some people, the more they get, they have to keep thinking of more and more things to buy. Like my relatives they have to have a new house construction project or they have to get a new car. Pretty soon they had five new cars. They have the idea "If you have money you get new cars and a fancy house" so they kept doing that over and over again until they hit their limit. Then they have to think of something else to buy. Then it became computer equipment, then they bought microwaves for their RV, things like that. They had to keep thinking of things.

Other people look to what they can do for humanity and how they can live reasonably and comfortably and there is no reason to wear a hair shirt if you have been blessed with abundance and you have worked hard to get it. Because a lot of "blessings" are ones that people just bust their butts to get to and everybody else gets mad because someone is doing well and then they blame the person that is doing well! There is so much jealousy regarding people who are successful and who aren't. I say to you, a person can be a pauper, or can be very wealthy, or can be mediocre and they can be holy. There may be God's plan in their lives that it is more expedient to be one way than another. And there are ways to tell that. I knew La had a money/hoarding problem and a possession thing, she was so into possessions.

Now "A": I wonder, have I ever shaken you? Let me think. (Pause....) Yes. I know what it is. I had to go back on the left to recall because when these things occur I don't think about it, it is just the design of spirit. I remember one time; you have a spiritual block that has to do with family vs. family of God. It is kind of like you are from the old school where "Nobody talks about my family and nobody should talk about their family" without ever realizing that on the deepest spirit level that in the end It is like Jesus said "Whoever loves me and follows my teachings my mother, father, sister and brother.".....

LESSON SEPTEMBER 22, 1995: Losing One's Spirit Mind

LOSING ONE'S SPIRIT MIND

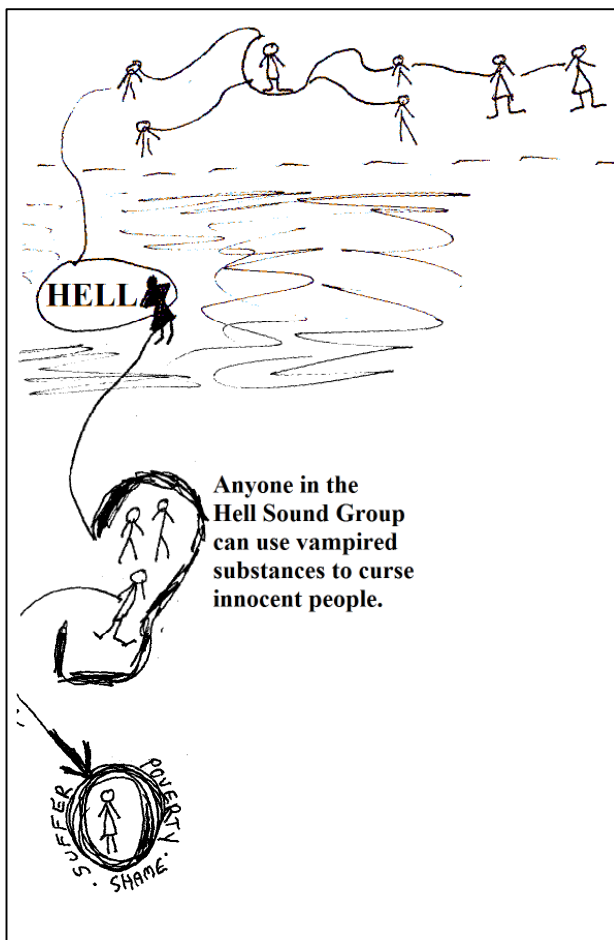

If lost, a soul cannot be held and evil takes over intent, will and desire by default.

The personality of Spirit has a set of components associated with the dimensional framework.

Problems arise when the Container takes on a resonance that is aligned with another person's personality "sound".

The container can splinter into lines of lost force that produce living possessions in other people out from the self.

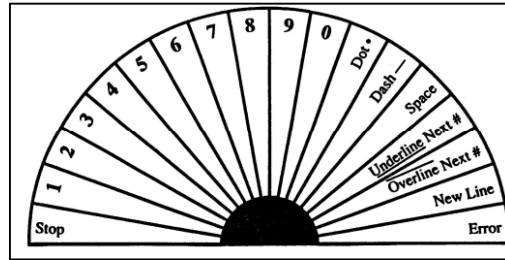

◀The lines of force can also form downline chains of vampire lines through several people.

Hell or Hades or Anti-Christ substance can back-up from those lines out, to produce abnormal personality layers and containers that also may filament out to engulf other people to allow fallen beings in Hell "Jails" to suck life force from people who are in the network of such disharmony. They all begin to take on the Hell sounds in group resonance.

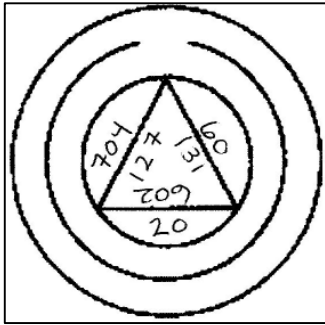

To clear abnormal magnetic field evil "songs";
Dowse a series of ratios inside the ←following diagram.

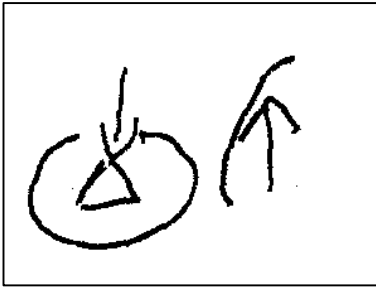

RATIO DIAGRAM

←An example of a completed clearing (radionic) device would be:
(1) Dowse up or down writing direction of numbers

(2) You must face the correct direction aligned with the top Dissonance point and opening

(Front of body sitting in direction of point)

(3) On a table without a design;

Place your Polaroid or picture with negative (or hair/saliva sample)

-Underneath the ratio design complex

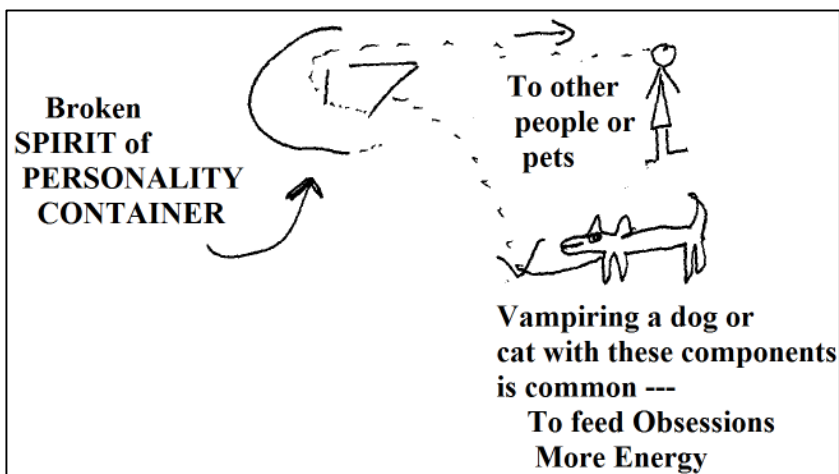

-That is pointing the correct direction.

Leave in place for as long as it takes to disable the curse song/vampire line.

(4) Change ratios as needed.

Curse/Obsessions can exhaust your Magnetic Field so that you develop holes
From people who throw out auric filaments or holograms upon you:

When the personality of spirit container is broken, the inner components may become satanic without the protective sheathing of the container. They begin to form curses and hell links as the person is no longer able to resist obsessions and possessions.

REASONS:

- (1) Wanting to own (or be owned by) another person.
- (2) Wanting to be “loved” rather than learn to love impersonally without being “loved”.
- (3) Desiring a past relationship that cannot be restored or was evil.
- (4) Wanting to sexually devour another person against law and virtue.

Without a spirit personality, a person can hear “THE LETTER” of the Law
but can’t understand “THE SPIRIT” of the Law.

Serious contaminations by an obsessing or vampiring person can be cleared by dowsing ratios inside the design...→

But instead of laying the design flat on the table,
Put on a dowsed wall:

With a polaroid taped face-out on the back;
And the design facing out on a dowsed angle.

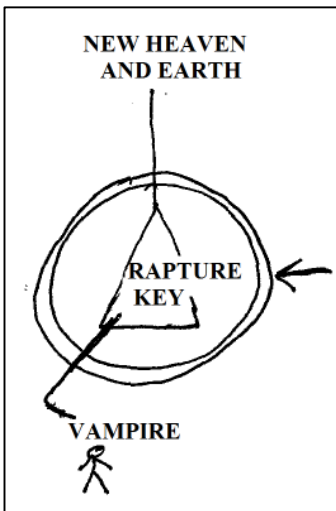

◀Note: The Dissonance Point Opening is at an angle;
While taped on the correct wall
With hair or a polaroid photo behind the design.

Any person who has the destiny to help lead humanity to God before the Rapture door closes, will be tormented by Fallen Beings using any weakness of the saint-of-future.

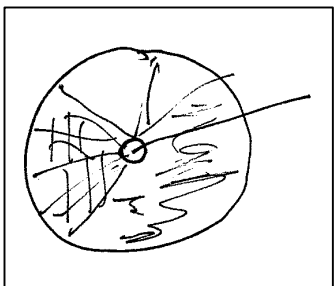

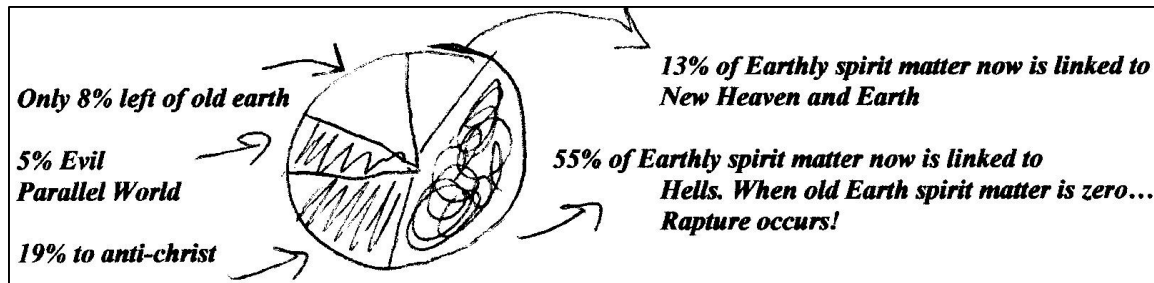

Such a person is a threat to the food supply of soul devourers.

By law, Saints must endure such tests. It has always been so!

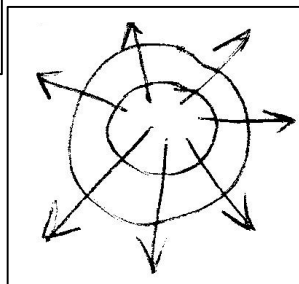

The container must be intact for a person to have the Rapture Key of Spirit protected from thieves. The Rapture Key can be tapped by evil people for the energy of the "Iridescent Sea" of the New Earth...this produces a loss of Holy matter. If such drains are not stopped, the New Earth cannot solidify---which would plunge all future holy people into a life of hell without hope.

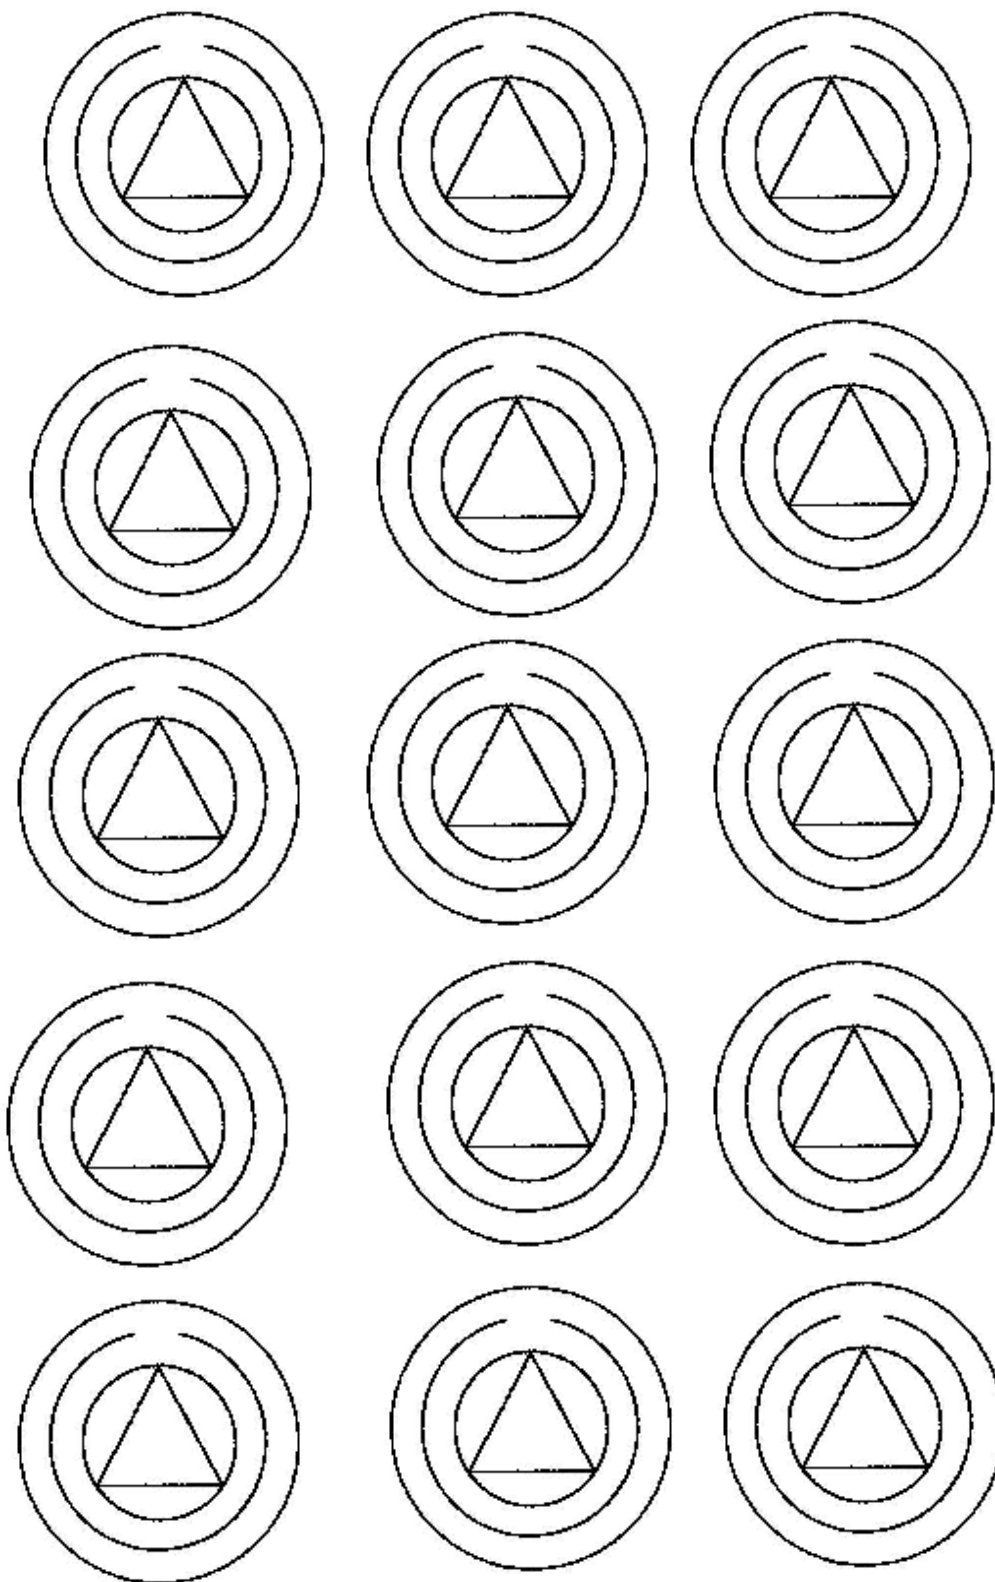

↓The parallel world and the anti-Christ 19% can be reclaimed to old Earth by people who have power of Spirit. Hell matter can only be reclaimed by Saints who have passed the tests of Spirit.

◀The CHRIST FORCE is supposed to be the core of all earthly manifestations. By prayer and holy works humans can intercede for the planet and call in HOLY LIGHT POWERS.

It takes holiness in spirit and flesh to call in higher holiness to bless the earth of the future.

AUDIO TAPE #2 Transcribed: SEPTEMBER 22, 1995 Side A (Only)

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

I think the way (the spirit flaw) is gotten--and you shook somewhat to the side, A, is by me making comments about my own family, about the LG family. For instance talking about my (relative) and I don't remember talking about her consciously, but I can see on the left side that at some point I talked about her reading romance novels and sitting around eating 90 times a day, about weighing about 500 pounds and stuff like that. Other times talking about how disgusting another (relative) was; totally disgusting from birth. Which is true, but it didn't mean I didn't love her. Somebody can be disgusting, but you always love the potential. You don't let them kill you, either.

I think what it is, whenever I would make fun of someone's family, it would pull your spirit slightly to the side, but I never could grab it. See, I am telling you guys what I couldn't grab. There are things I did grab but they weren't as deep. For B it is the two women (concept), with C it is the food/starvation fear, with A it is the "Family is god." What is it with you Cel?

Cel: It seemed you got a big one recently. (Inaudible)

G: That is what it is! Control! You see with Cel, she is the most congenial person the majority of the time, but she does have a need to be in control even when she is not in good shape. So, say she'll be half nutty as a peach orchard boar and you know why they say that because the peaches get fermented so they are like big sangria balls. The boars come in and eat those sangria peaches; they get drunk, stagger around and hit the trees. That is why they call them 'nutty as peach orchard boars.' (Laughter) It just dawned on me that you didn't know what they were. But she would get nutty and stressed if she felt that somebody else was controlling something and her eyes would go from side to side.

Cel: Just like this morning, nothing that we did was what I would have chosen to do. We were getting a dog and I thought "We are getting a dog?"

G: Isn't (the dog) adorable? You really didn't want Alice either, yet she has been more pleasure for you than anything in a long time. She just adores that Alice. Alice could have been the only one upstairs in her apartment and there will be a poo-poo log on the floor and she will swear that Lucy did it even though the door was padlocked. (Laughter) No, it really was Lucy, the last time.

Sometimes I push until they peek out. If they get too wild, or I figure I don't have the energy to take them on yet, or I can't yank hard enough, I have to let them slide back in.

C: Are these types of spirits from way, way back? Are they things that we have acquired from a situation?

G: They are actually your own spirit, spirit of personality that you have allowed to become deviant. The very amount they go out to the left or right, is the amount of deviancy they have. If I rile them all the way, push them, floorboard them, they will come out all the way; 100% deviate. That is why I excite them, so they can become 100% deviate and then I can grab them, and just fight them tooth and nail. But you see, you can never heal someone of something unless you can heal it within yourself. That is why you guys have to be able to heal these in yourselves so that you can recognize it in others.

C: Are there priorities; is there a part of the personality where one is deviant?

G: What I have found is that people often have one major one that has to do with a kind of personality dissonance point that went awry. For instance a person may be born with a spirit aspect that is more air, fire or water. If you look at today's handout: "Losing One's Spirit Mind" you will see that it has a triangle in there, doesn't it? There is an aspect of air, fire and water to that spirit aspect. But you are born with your dissonance point as an air, fire or water dissonance point. Your primary weakness will tend to echo either an air, fire or water problem.

For instance a person, who has a water predisposition dissonance, might tend to drink wine. A person with an air dissonance point might tend to smoke. A person that has a fire dissonance point would tend to hostility, or anger; be easily riled. You would think fire would be cigarettes, but it is air, because it blocks your air. So a person tends toward predispositions that align not just with his genetic tissues which are not the Spirit- Mind, but the other aspect of himself which is very much ingrained in him, his Spirit Mind Dissonance Orientation.

Say if a person has that dissonance and say he is deviant on the Law Clock. He starts torquing away as an Air type, because he believes lies, or something. Then he has a contorted spirit inside his form. In order for me to get it out of him to straighten it, and I have to get it out of him to straighten it. I have to excite it over there so that I can twist it up, pop it up. But spirit doesn't normally leave your dimensional framework, unless it leaving during obsessions or when trying to possess other people or whatever. But it doesn't leave in a way that it can be helped; let me put it that way. It has to come out all together at once, fighting mad in order to be healed.

The container where it says "Dimensional Personality Container", what I have to do is get the Triangle aspect to jut out of the container by unsettling it, because there is an aspect of the Dimensional Personality Container that protects your spiritual errors. It is like your guard. It is like the circle around the triangle. You have a certain protective mechanism in that container and the only time it opens is if you have a great Air, Fire, Water surge; it is like the aura opening. You have to get it really fired up to come out of there to attack, because in essence what I provoke is an attacking spirit which is your own spirit. You see, your own spirit can be the entity that possesses you.

Si kept asking me “When did this demon enter me?” What I wanted to tell her, but it wasn’t time yet, it wasn’t the demon energy from three or four months ago. It was that her own spirit became a demon and it needs to be healed. And that is a hard concept for someone. To realize that somehow they made a spiritual decision that shifted their own spirit to something satanic; to an attacking spirit. Then that thing can go out, and when it goes out it becomes a possessing spirit, a “devourer of children” (a devourer) of everything. That is why I tracked the reasons that people’s spirits became deviate on page three. (Page 28)

This one sounds like it is all about romance but it isn’t: “Wanting to be owned or own another person.” It could be that you want to be taken care of, or it could be that you want to be in control all the time, like Cel. Cel actually defers to me on most things; I have to find things to irritate her. For instance the way people want to own (a child). People want to own their own future with other people in it; they want to possess their families, or dogs, like Gar. (Gar is) wanting to own them, she thinks of them as people so as to devour them in a sick way. I think pets are some of the most delightful; and as you know I am a great dog lover. But they are not people and that is one reason they are so soothing, because they are not people. (Laughs).

Ok: “Wanting to be loved without wanting to love impersonally without being loved” This is a real big one, because with a lot of people, you don’t think of them as needy. What happens is, they are always mad at you because somehow you are not always fulfilling their expectations in relationship, in work, at home, or family. “By golly you owe it to them! You owe it!” is the kind of the attitude, whether it is at work or home. It may not seem that they want you to love them, it may manifest that they ‘want you to give them a raise!’ they want you to write them up as a good employee. They want a claim! In reality what they are saying is “I want everybody to love me and think I am important...” but people like that are generally very selfish because people who truly love others, care nothing about the glammers of being bragged on.

I remember Fo’s comment to me on the book: “You know, you have really gotten good at writing, G!” And I went “Huh? I have good writing?” I don’t think so. I think the Holy Spirit tells me what to write. He said “You know...” and he was patting me on the back about something, and I looked at him puzzled because I don’t need anyone patting me on the back. You see, if you do your best, you don’t need anybody to pat you on the back; you don’t need to be appreciated because you have your own integrity to reward you. Your integrity is your reward and goodness is its own reward. If you ever start wanting reward for goodness, then you run into that #2 Spirit problem. It doesn’t matter what kind of reward because you should do what is right because it is right and that sounds trite like a Clint Eastwood movie, but there are many, many subtle ways, day by day, that people do things because they figure nobody will notice or they figure it doesn’t matter because nobody ever brags on them when they do.

For instance if you have a job, and Si got some real trials with this because she was in charge, more or less of the kitchen (at Cheyenne, Wyoming) she was always cleaning up the kitchen all the time. I was working on the books and I would hole-up and work. RP was on the computer and Cel was working on other stuff. The thing was, could she just be a servant without wanting people to brag on her? I saw that, so I didn’t brag on her. Sometimes I would just go in and make a mess (laughter) to see the reaction. I thought it was interesting; the kitchen was something that she is serious about. And when she hears this tape, she will know this is true. She has a food thing, too, but it is a control variant. It is almost like C and Cel’s problems are merged together in one spirit problem.

So whenever I would go in and make messes, then she would start to cook something that was really odd, to me. Like it would be a macro-dish but with a whole lot of oil in it, you know, odd amounts of oil for cooking. It would be strange. I almost tipped her over the edge and she had a nervous breakdown, when she made spaghetti sauce and she was upstairs cooking pasta and she had the sauce downstairs. So I came in and I was hungry, so I just took a sack of elbow macaroni and threw it in the sauce and stirred it up, cooked it and ate it. It was ruined; she had all this wonderful angel hair pasta cooking upstairs with a gourmet meal all planned and I just threw in elbow macaroni and cooked it in the pot. She came down and I said “Isn’t this great? A one pot meal! That saves washing one more dish!” She said “I had pasta upstairs...!” I said “Oh, Great! We’ll have it tomorrow.” I said “This is good, mm-mmm, and I dumped all these weird spices in” (Laughter). We all sat down and ate.

She got all upset and later she came back down and said to me: “I was really, really mad at you because I thought you were laughing at me because I got so upset about the pasta” and I said “I was!” (Laughter). It was like that thing (the spirit) just started crawling to the side “E-E-E-E-E-....” it was like fingernails on a black board “How can one woman (G) be so irritating?”

B: When we were out in the country. You were pushing me to get in front of the class, were you trying to irritate me?

G: Yes, it was like “Pushy broad, pushy broad.” There was the Pushy Broad Syndrome; that is exactly right if you look at each of your situations and at other people’s. I still haven’t shoved Si’s all the way out but I came close, because while building the shelter, I nagged her so much that her control issue came up and I ordered her to dig that ditch out with a shovel and every time she would quit I would look at her like that (makes a face) and I would be digging. I dug until my fingers were bloody as an example so that she would feel guilty if she stopped and I ordered Cel to do it too.

C: “Uh-oh! Does that look familiar?” (A single shoe that had disappeared was found.)

G: Where did you find it? We looked under there! It re-manifested, great! I liked those shoes.

So I was digging and digging and she couldn’t logically think of a reason to stop if I kept digging because it would make her look bad. She said “I can’t get my pants wet, they are the only dry ones I have!” and I said “Don’t worry; I have a pair I’ll give you”. So she had no reason to not keep digging because the water would get in her pants. She was just standing on the edge and gingerly picking up a rock or two while I kept looking at her. I would get down and scoop up huge rocks and Cel and I hammed it up, too. I said “Cel, you better help me with this” and I picked up a 50 pound rock. And a child was lifting rocks right and left, so we three were working and it looked bad for Si because she didn’t want to be controlled. So finally I told them “It’s going to snow, you are going to have to build that shelter!” Which really pushed her over the edge.

I took off one day and came back and they were pouring a different concrete slab instead of putting up a shelter! They were pouring it for a tin house to store stuff in, which they didn’t even need instead of building a shelter when it was about to snow. So I said “Why are you pouring a slab? That is ridiculous! You are going to have a snow in two weeks, you better get on the move or you are going to be freezing your ass off in about two weeks!” Oh, she was mad. I said “I don’t want a child to freeze. It is one thing for adults to freeze but I don’t want a child to freeze!” So then she got into the riled attitude. It was absolutely true, but I did it for another reason, not just to order her around. There were multiple reasons. Obviously they needed a dwelling that had heat in, but also I wanted to shove that control thing out.

Granted sometimes I may do something for no reason. But the reason I tell you these things is that I want you to start looking at everything from your spirit once it gets clean. What I would like today is to have a goal after lunch, to figure out how we can clean up your spirits so that they don’t have any deviancy, so that they don’t leave the sanity cocoon. That round thing, that container is your sanity. If your spirit slips out of that sanity container, that means that you can be pushed over the edge. That means you can be spiritually crazy and therefore evil. The only person that is immune from evil, true evil and not the appearance of evil, is someone who is firmly rooted in the middle of their sanity container and nothing will push them out of it.

I don’t know if you guys remember, one Christmas I demonstrated...I had everybody practice putting their astral bodies in hells or heavens to see what would push them off/out of limits. But I remember I would describe a scenario to see if I could unbalance you. I can’t remember it exactly. It was so easy; some people could be pushed right off. I really didn’t have you-guys’ number down yet. You see the spirit is so tight in there; it has to be pushed pretty hard, normally, because you guys aren’t real nutty yet. (Comment: Yet? Laughter)

Some people like the guy with the dog are easy to push out. He was already out. He was totally herniated both physically and spiritually in psychosis. Once a person is totally herniated in spirit, there is nothing you can do except destroy everything that has become vile. But if a person is not totally herniated, they can be restored and if they are not restored spiritually, they may become evil, they will become sources of evil, and they will not be able to understand the spirit of the law, only the letter of the law.

For instance sometimes I have come down very hard and directly on people and not just to shove you. I have directly come down on people because it was God’s Vengeance and not mine. I know that at times you guys have thought that maybe I was a mean person because when I talk about the sexual stuff; actually I was riling up major ones in BJ and other people by discussing it and it was riling his (for example) by his thinking “You are being mean!” because he had the same flaw that I was talking about and sometimes I would throw in a few details that were about him, just to get him even more riled. Unfortunately, (sighs) he became totally herniated. I think if Sn hadn’t herniated, he wouldn’t have herniated. But you know, even if a person herniates completely if a person chooses physically to operate correctly and think correctly, I know I can intercede so that people become spiritually healed.

Spiritual healing is a very complex thing; it is not some pat thing that psychics do. It involves very deep manifestations that have substance in it. I know that BJ could have been healed and that Sn could have been healed had she gone ahead and admitted what she did about talking to authorities about how to find me. If she had confessed and asked for forgiveness; but all she did was say something generic and blame it on somebody else and say that she was illegally recorded telling information about me and that she is going to check with a lawyer about reversing what has happened with the authorities. But she never would tell me what authorities. She wouldn’t say who she talked to. She didn't give me one specific with which I could have defended myself, which told me she was still with them. The only reason she admitted it was because I confronted her. She was afraid I wouldn't let her come back unless she gave a pseudo confession, so she gave a pseudo confession.

If a person's realm of intention is bad, like they just don't want to tell the truth or they don't want to, for one thing, submit to an intercessor. She didn't think she had to submit to me, there was such loathing, because once she spiritually herniated, the demons came in. You see, once a person's spirit becomes bad, they become a shell for evil. It becomes...unlikely bedfellows will fall together. You know like people will coordinate their evil for a joint project; because the same fallen being might be controlling both of them as their master. One fallen being can master four or five people or ten or twenty if it is a high level fallen being. And you can be sure that high level fallen beings would like to manipulate people to get rid of me.

It is not paranoia. Just like that gun facing in the window at me through the curtain was not paranoid. I saw it. I saw it. Cel saw the man out of the window.

Cel: I also saw a man with a gun walking under the bridge near 204 in Guthrie.

B: It is 2:15 should we tell them we are late?

G: We can go later I can tell their [--] is low.

A: Can you explain the spirit so that one can try to keep it aligned, controlled and keeping (explain) about the body and physical spirit and soul....they are three different.....

G: I will give you an analogy. I want you to think of your cells which include your brain cells and the thoughts that come out of those brain cells, and your recorded memories, your recorded phobias and fears as being your body. The emotions that you feel in your gut and all that, is really your body. Your spirit doesn't feel or think in the sense that you think of, in a kinesthetic fashion. Now I want you to think of your body cells as between each cell there is a space. If you took a slice of skin and put it on a microscope you would see there are spaces between your cells. I want you to think of your spirit as living in those spaces, filling the vacuum that would exist otherwise. What holds the cells apart? Spirit! It is more than that, though.

The reason that nature abhors a vacuum in regard to spirit is that if the God-given spirit that you have, leaves you to possess other people or to lunge and devour someone, then something else gets sucked in. It is like an automatic thing and it is whatever is in the environment gets sucked in. So you think of it as a kind of a homeostasis mechanism of the body; that your body has a spirit that is between words as well, a between-words-body/between-words-spirit; spirit of the law and letter of the law. Does that make it a little clearer?

Now as far as soul goes, you could think of your soul as being a glowing mechanism that is not between your cells and it is not your cells, but you can say it is around each cell, like an aura of each cell of your body. We often draw it as something above your head, but it is a higher aspect of self so it is represented as that. But think of each cell as having a soul emanation. Say you draw two cells and this might be an illustration for the books. Between the cells you say spirit and inside the cells you call body and around the cells you draw a glow that is the soul glow, the soul light. Does that help any?

And they are intertwined aspects, of course, as I have drawn here: right and left side of personality. I am not talking about left and right hemispheres or even left or right dimensional aspects. I am talking strongly though, about yin and yang components of self; concepts of male and female. For instance B could have a problem with the left aspect of his spirit structure, because his yin receiving side might have a hate distortion for that type of pushy broad.

Whenever you have an experience and you generalize and I have told Cel this. You better figure that you have a spiritual defect. When Cel says...(hotel phone rings about check out time). If you realize that over and over again I have said that the male and female relationships are so important for your soul, for your virtue, for your powers and you see this reflected in the spirit in that if you don't have a gender orientation alignment that is correct, then you are going to have a distortion in your spirit and you are going to have a distortion in your soul as well.

It is true that "As above so below." But there is some aspect that if a person acts grossly wrongly, and thinks grossly wrongly, he is going to corrupt upward too; like a sewer back up. A lot of people just assume that "By Grace you are saved" and they never have to change their behaviors and that's wrong.

If you are firmly anchored in God then you can probably do anything. It is like Paul said "All things are allowable but not all things are expedient." It may be "All things are permissible, but not all things are expedient". If you truly have spirit that is anchored in God then you are unlikely to distort it by anything physically. That is one reason I have tried to show you misconceptions, so that you don't think that 'spirit is body' or 'spirit is food', and you don't think that women's spirits are pushy broads, and you don't think 'family is spirit is soul' and you don't think that "Control is god." Because in reality the only person who is ever in control is the one who has submitted completely.

That is why in the monasteries; the humble service for years on end, scrubbing floors and stuff was an important part of their training. However, I have seen people who have been in those disciplines and they can sort of psyche themselves to do it. like "Aa" who would go to the Buddhist places. She could psyche herself to do it in a monastery for a month or two. But she couldn't stand it on a day by day basis, when I tried to lean on her to get that control demon out of her, she went berserko on me. Almost went psychotic on me and she knew she would have to leave or be backed down because I couldn't have her being satanic-willful. She had a very strong satanic will and it had to be backed down and submitted to God and then it would be the most wonderful will.

A person with a strong satanic will could choose to have a strong holy will. Because it is their nature to be willful and you can be holy willful or you can be satanic willful. So we can resume this later on today. I think it is a very important topic and it is one that we need to look at right away: the purification of your spiritual bodies.

AUDIO TAPE #3 Transcribed: SEPTEMBER 23, 1995 Side A

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

Question: There is more of a link between the body and the soul, and the soul is more the link between the spirit and God? I'm trying to conceptualize them.

G: I would say that the Spirit is like a link between the body and soul; in that spirit, like the example yesterday. If you think of the body as the cell matter itself and the spirit as the wind between the cells and then the soul as a glowing ring around the cells....it is like the soul has a substance of a type, the body thoughts have substance and the spirit is like it exists in a different type of space. It is as though it exists between the inner and outer space. It is as though spirit is a barrier between inner and outer space.

Another way to look at it is, a person can have a spirit without a soul, but a person cannot have a soul without a spirit.

A spirit is required to have a soul because it is the interface between what is above and below in a person.

I haven't really addressed abnormal type spirit, but I would say that people who were born Nephilim, for instance have an unnatural type of spirit that is linked to fallen beings; the Watchers. And if those people were helped through divine intervention...the way they were helped was kind of like putting that spirit into a deep freeze like in Limbo and then granting a different endowed spirit that allowed a link for a soul to hold onto.

Some people I have described; have gained what feels like a Black Soul. What that is, it is not a normal type of soul matter. For instance a high level fallen being such as a fallen demi-god can grant an awareness that is evil that has an evil spirit to connect it to the body. An evil awareness (Black Soul) cannot exist in the body except through a spirit. A spirit is required to be the interface between what is...I am in the middle of an exorcism which is taking too much energy so I will have to switch here. (Break in tape)

I found that some people had a Grace Endowed Spirit Overlay. I said that cells could have like a soul emanation around them, like a glow. The space between the cells can have more than one color.

For instance say you have a bowl with cheerios in it. The cheerios could be like the cells, the milk you put in the bowl, you could say, would be the spirit. You could put in a substance other than milk. You could put in something that has several colors in it, in the bowl. Such as a substance that looks like mercury with other colors the way the oil slicks look when the sun hits them. They have blues and greens, they have a lot of iridescent colors in them.

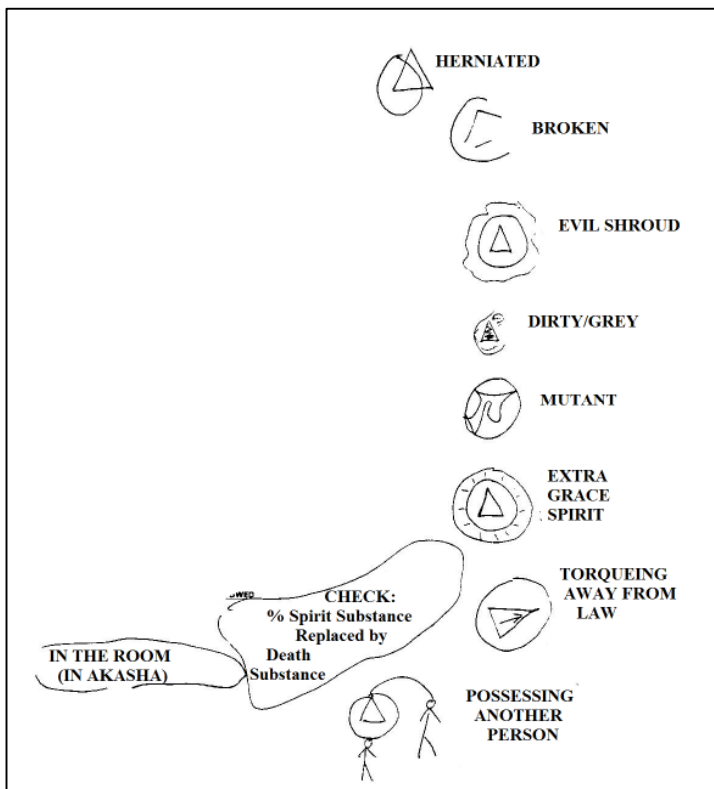

←(Add "Inflated Spirit Container")

You see if your spirit is endowed with Iridescent Sea substance, then it is like the concept of having multiple colors in your cheerios milk. The cheerios, if they have a soul, you could say they are larger and have another ring around, and be a two ringed cheerio with a different character to the outer ring.

If they had a Christ Awareness, the middle circle would be full with something. Like a donut that had never been stamped out. You could see the outlines where they were going to take out the hole before they fried it, but they didn't.

Christ Endowed Souls would have an inner core. It would have a ring of Body Consciousness and then a ring around it that would be a Soul Overlay of each cell, which would be an emanation that comes out of every cell of your body.

The space between the cells in other words the milk in the bowl, could be plain water, it could be poison, it could be some beautiful iridescent sea substance that is otherworldly, or it could be something from the moon, it could be some substance composed of elements not of the earth and that is what we see in cases where peoples spirits have Anti-Christ substances.

The spirit has within it a Communicative Substance Aspect in that it communicates from the higher to the lower. Evil beings that are of a higher position, inherently whether they have fallen or not-- in other words very evolved beings that were supposed to be of a high purpose --would have the ability to produce a different substance in the bowl to communicate what they wanted in the lower realm which would then soak into the cheerios and could conceivably poison it but also could be a way they could devour that cheerio and the soul around the cheerio, the core, the Christ Core and everything. (Laughs at the dog Muffin "She is so cute, she wants to exercise").

So if the communicative substance is shared with other people, and it does seem to come out of the eyes; remember what I called Eye Lights? Black Eye Lights? That is a power substance that is in the spiritual component of a contaminated person who has frequently Anti-Christ Dimensional substance. (Muffin barks while playing. G. says "Pretty fierce," (Laughs) "she will be a good watch dog.")

Comment: Do you think un-taping the dog's ears; did that make a big difference? Something did.

G: I think that the ears in humans and animals have a lot to do with drawing in of vitality and also communication obviously and by taping the ears, it put a stricture on the dog, straining her ability to adjust to a change of location. So we may re-tape them to make them straight later, when she is very, very sturdy. It is better to have floppy ears and a stronger personality.

Torqued spirits mean that a person's Air, Fire or Water Birth Dissonance Alignment could be evaluated on the Law Clock as abnormal. There are some times when you can't judge it on the Law Clock because it is looking in the ↓Mirror at you.

In that case you can judge it on the True God Scale and it would be good for you to Check: On a regular basis your spirit torque and the intactness of your container: your Spirit Personality Container.

The holy beings, as I said have been working on aligning all of you on your spirits and they have been working to remove those Spirit Shadows that stand to the side when you get unsettled. It is important for each one of you to Pray "That you not reform a spirit deviation like the fundamental ones that you had and that your Spirit Case be strong and aligned with the New Heaven and New Earth as they have been aligned this morning."

I told you yesterday that I wanted you to start looking at colors once your spirits became clean. Look at this color on this shoe. Look at the purple, but look at it with your left eye. If you need to cover up your right eye, fine, or you can just focus out of your left eye, and see if the color does not look somehow different than purple normally looks to you. I want you to try to remember your color perception and your nuance of color perception as it was and I want you to start looking at different colors today to start looking for different characteristics. For instance, look at that turquoise.

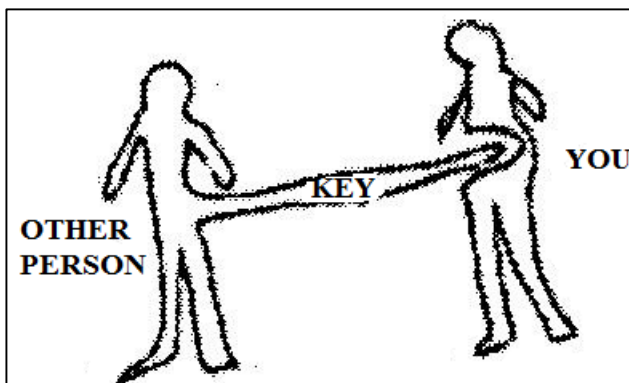

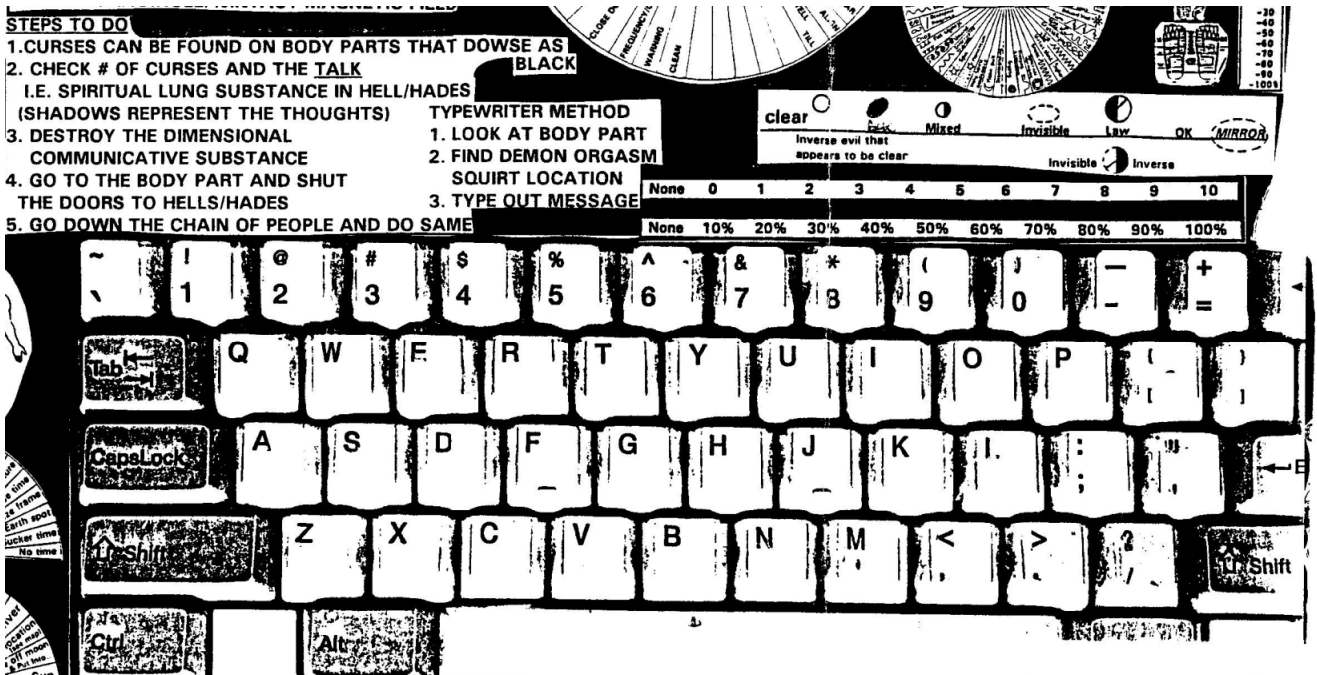

I found it was easier initially to notice the colors in car paint. There is something about metallic paint that made it easier to notice the difference in spirit clarity. So as we take walks or whatever today, I want you to look at the paint jobs on cars and see if you can get a sense of a multiple layered color. That is what it feels like. When RP was working on the cover of A Prophet's Story, as he was explaining to me, they will have four different colors stacked on each other in various ways to produce this subdued, cloudy, magenta background; burgundy background.

But when you look at it, most people would just see burgundy with a little black behind it. But I want you when you get the cover to try to see all four colors stacked. If you look at B's shirt, yellow has a different characteristic when seen with spirit than when seen with body. I would like for you to practice shifting from the body side to the spirit side and you can do it with your eyes by...your body will more readily see with the right eye. If you look at his shirt, and the spirit if it is trying to do so, can look with the left eye.

Now you have heard of cases where blind people could actually read with their fingertips. The reason they are able to, is that they can detect the spiritual emanation coming off the shapes. So they are seeing the spiritual component of letters. Letters have a lot of spiritual aspects.

One reason that I have put on some of your charts the letters on the keyboard of the typewriter (Chart next page) is that when you do numerical ratios, you are to some degree blocking disorders from your body's magnetic fields. But there is an aspect that needs to be blocked through letters. In the old Jewish writings it says "In the beginning were the 10 numbers and the 22 sounds" Well, it is like we have to find ways to use the sounds to do exorcisms and not just rely on the numbers. The reason that the old Alien clearing method used primarily numbers although it used some sounds which were incorporated...it was because people's spirits were so dirty, they couldn't have dowsed the sounds. But (the contamination) hadn't completely penetrated their physical bodies, so they could dowse the numbers. By doing that at that time, it was a good clearing method that worked very fast.

I haven't worked much with the new (numerical dowsing technique) that I gave you but then we have some more (Newer dowsing techniques: Two are at the end of this lesson and the Dimensional Clearing is under September 16). Yesterday I gave you another method as well, where you dowse the triangle and the circle and you dowse ratios inside that and you point it a certain direction related to your body. It is almost like the best way to do that is to find a body location that is a key point. A key is really important; a key or lock of the disorder. Like Cel has a left hip lock.

When you think of Locks and Keys, think of the lock as an auric hole that something can fit in, grab and open you up. A key on the other hand is what you put in someone else to grab them or you potentially could.

In most cases, keys and locks are secondary to dark force contamination because it is not a good way to grab anybody or to be grabbed. It is not a holy thing. It is downline from the Anti-Christ forces so you need to watch out for locks and keys.

So where did Cel get her Lock? Ok, she got it back when La was with the group last year. She has had this over a year relating to a resonating weakness about control, about wanting to control one's own destiny versus submitting one's destiny to God. Cel's weakness was less severe than La's but if you are around people with the same weakness, you can form... if they have a fallen being that they have invited, then that fallen being may be able to get a grip on you, and open your door when it wants.

So how do we get rid of this Lock that is in her left hip?

You find the letter associated with it and it looks like there is an H.

And if you think about the English alphabet, it has very ancient roots but we could use different alphabets. One time I had a bunch of different alphabets that I would scan and use and I found that eventually the English Alphabet has most of the sounds that you need and since it is more familiar to use because you can hear the sound when you think of it. If you were using Greek or Arabic letters or something you would have more trouble using the sounds unless you were very familiar with them. So it is better to use the English.

➤ There is an H problem.

➤ Is there a directional influence? Yes. It feels like it is coming down from above; there is a down thing.

➤ Is there a frequency aspect? Yes. If 100% is maximal frequency, this is about 54% maximal frequency for her H sound in her body. Think of your body as having every letter of the alphabet components and then some others as well. And then see which one of your letters is off.

It seems to be in her case, I'm going to focus on her hip on the letter H and I'm going to entrain with that frequency and pattern of the H sound through the instrument of her body and I'm going to gradually lower the frequency. Now this would dowse in your charts as "Hold under water and drown." This is an example of what the metaphors mean.

In essence she is like a musician playing a bad note, she has a problem hitting the H note though her instrument, her bodily instrument and she has a hole in her instrument on her left hip. So what we are going to do is “Drown” and lower the frequency. We are going to freeze it, shatter, or drown and whatever else dowses out. You have plenty of charts of To Do’s. This is probably a pretty common way to remove a lock. Sometimes you would burn them; you would raise the frequency and then you would burn and vaporize the energy.

In order to become really good at this type of clearing you have to practice raising and lowering the frequencies of various parts of your body along different letters! For instance I will give you an example.

I want all of you to think of the letter A all over your body and I want you to raise your letter A frequency.

Yes, C and B are doing it. But B is doing it and there is something on his A.

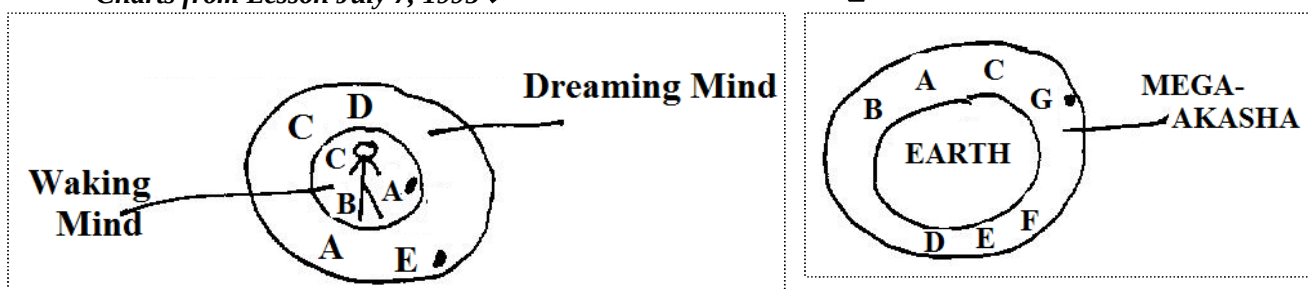

If you check B’s –A- on the Holy God of Jesus Scale, see what you get. This is another thing to check.

Check: Each letter on the True God Scale, you will get a good idea of how contaminated you are.

Right now everybody check your –A-’s.

“B” has a superficial vicinity spirit globbed on him that is throwing off his corpse sounds relating to the letter A and his spirit sounds. Ok, that is better. The thing that was globbed on him needed to be burned and vaporized. Now everyone check your –B-. It would be nice to have a little chart.

Charts from Lesson July 7, 1995 ↓

You could add it to this CHART: “Where you dowsed the following things as PROBLEMS”.

Letter MISSING is one thing to check.

ABNORMAL EVIL Letter Present

Letter Being VAMPIRED

It is almost you are trying to play a clarinet but someone has a knife in your lungs and they have put a tube in there; not in your plural cavity but they have a tube in your actual lung and they are sucking out your air (someone is coughing violently and gagging) with which you are trying to play the H, or whatever. That is the air being vampired.

Letters OUT OF ORDER:

You could have the finest orchestra, but if they don’t play in harmony, then it sounds horrible. You could say

Letter FREQUENCY is too HIGH or too LOW.

The COMPLEXITY of Pattern is inherent in the Letter

I have told you before that when you check on anything you check both the complexity of pattern and the frequency. In this case the complexity of pattern is inherent in the letter, so you Check the FREQUENCY:

For instance right now, check either the Bell Curve or the 100% line.

None	0	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
None	10%	20%	30%	40%	50%	60%	70%	80%	90%	100%

Where it is supposed to be?: At 50% or the Frequency Midline.

Check your letter U. C’s to me looks off, in fact all of yours are off. So you think “Why is that?” your frequencies are all off. Ok, here is one thing that happens sometimes, and why sometimes you get more messed up when you are around me. This morning I have been clearing a lot of disorder which in essence, I am standing on the other side of Lot’s Door to do so.

LOT’S DOOR is very mysterious and I’m sure I’m going to have to write a whole book on it. But it is kind of like The Door that stands between Spirit and Form. It is as though your spiritual body sometimes must do exorcism maneuvers on the other side of Lot’s Door. But people who vampire....if your spirit is abnormal, it can go through Lot’s Door and be in all sorts of places. Today isn’t the day to talk too much about it. But I wanted to tell you that “Lot’s Door being open” would be another category.

“Lot’s Door Stuck Open” and we will get to explaining that later. See right now, Lot’s Door is stuck open because I am working in both places. My spirit is going and collecting stuff and going back and forth. But what is happening; you guys are hearing the evil sound that is predominating. There is a U evil sound linked with what I am clearing and it is 100% satanic. You are hearing it and resonating with what I am clearing and that is something that you need to learn not to do because when you clear things, your corpse and your spirit sounds shouldn’t stick in an abnormal resonance because if your frequency is thrown off, it could put you in the realm of curses, it could it could open you up to all sorts of problems. Too high a resonance can open you to fallen angels, for instance.

You could say that the kingdom of humanity, of Animal Man, of heavens and hells and everything; part of the way that you shift to different kingdoms is by raising and lowering the frequency of your different tones; Spiritual tones.

Remember the movie Close Encounters Of The Third Kind where at the end the government was communicating by playing a series of single tones?

One of the reasons that I wanted to go to the trashy bar last night; I wanted to see if any of you would stick in resonations on any of your letters in a place like that. And it is bad enough that there is a grid sound everywhere (in this city) to which you could resonate badly, but even worse is the hells, Hades sounds and Anti-Christ sounds in a place like that where the trashiness....It is so interesting how this is the gambling weekend and gambling is intimately intertwined with prostitution, murder and drugs! It is like the mafia, wherever the mafia is, are those items: drugs, gambling, prostitution, organized murders and theft; shaking down businesses and stuff.

You can’t separate one evil from the other, really. A lot of people have tried to rationalize legalization of drugs and yet you would just end up with an even worse syndicate. It would be disastrous, it is already disastrous. I don’t know if it could be much worse, but it wouldn’t be better. The legalization of prostitution makes places like Nevada just horrible to drive through. Granted you have prostitutes everywhere. But wherever you find prostitutes, you have drugs; you have “Money is god.” Anyone who would sell their body for money....I suppose there were some Vietnamese who were starving and tried to feed their children by prostitution; but it is not that way in the United States. Nobody has to be a whore. I’ve heard people rationalize and they have done articles on table-top dancers saying “I have to do this, I have children to support” so they do that hideous table top dancing and stick their crotches in men’s faces; what we saw last night.

You just can’t separate the greed from the carnality from the drugs that are always present. What are we going to do if the world becomes like one of the Star Wars movies where you go into a bar and everybody looks like a mutant? How can we keep ourselves intact enough to lead people to the Rapture? We must do it by the preservation of our own sounds so that evil voices do not enter in through a letter that is at the wrong frequency.

You could do a little scale where 50 is at the center, 100 at the top and zero at the bottom. I would say that if something was 25% lower than optimal-- and 50% I’ll say is optimal--and I’m going to look at the letter U. Each letter would have each own range. The Letter U, if it was at 25% when 50% is optimal; you would tend to get Succubus/Incubus energies through that letter. It is almost like a window that is at a certain level, where certain things can crawl in. Say if your house window is down to the ground and you left it open you might get squirrels in there. If it was open with no screen in it, way up high, you might get pigeons flying in depending on the level it is open. But say at 50% that may be where you have your screen and nothing is going to come in.

So if 25% allows Succubus/Incubus, then at 75% there is a Fallen Being. This is not a Fallen Angel, not a Watcher, not a Guardian. Oh, what I am seeing is at 75% you have a potential; if your frequency of the Letter U went up too high, there is a Fallen Intercessor Door there. And I get that there is a Sn energy in the room relating to; and let’s face it, all of your destinies were to intercede for humanity. There is a Sn energy coming in on your U’s at 75% if 50% is optimal: a Fallen Intercessor.

B: Who is Sn?

G: It is (--'-) energy coming in here and I have to figure out how it is doing that. She has Grace substance still on her that somehow came through a vampire line on (a child) through Fo. Fo frequently, I find him embedded in (child) and tapping his substances and what has happened here is Fo is thinking about Sn and that substance that he vampired from the child is being slung onto Sn. It is the child's Grace Substance. Sn then, thinks about us wondering where we are and she just knows we are together. So Sn can track it through the child to this place, where we are. So she starts thinking about us, and wishing she were here and enters the room in a type of spirit body made out of vampired Grace Substance.

Since her destiny was to be an intercessor, she made a major karmic error that she refused to....at least at this point she has not recovered from, and I hope that she will. She dowses as a fallen intercessor just as you would had you fallen. So there she is, coming in, so what I need to do is remove the vampire lines and then remove the line that is coming here from her. Now the letter U is getting better all of a sudden on all of us.

If you had found something at 100%, that normally on any letter that would be the Anti-Christ energies. If you are resonating with the Anti-Christ, you need to look at the primary laws of humanity and the primary laws of the Anti-Christ and see what it is you are resonating with.

Holy vs. Anti-Christ Laws Chart from "A Prophet's Story"

The ANTI-CHRIST LAWS are very mysterious they are not the same laws as "Cause and Effect" but they incorporate those laws within them.

These are like the Air, Fire, Water aspects of the whole of Law. Like Jesus said: "He who breaks part of the law, breaks all the law" and that is because the Law is like a triangle and if you break one arm off a triangle, you are not going to have a triangle anymore. These laws are the triangle, you could say and the other laws are within the Triangle.

So if you look at "Deny base desires and you will find all that you need". Some people could have problems with this and you could say "Who is to say what is a base desire and what isn't?"

Base Desires are not just the desire to have enough money to get by or the desire to love and be loved and the desire to have sexual expression or anything. It is beyond that, it is that "You love experience more than you love the reason for experience."

Does that make sense? Say you are supposed to go to a foreign country to teach somebody something and your purpose is to teach holy law or to teach a spiritual class and you go there and you enjoy being a teacher so much and interacting with the students that you forget the reason you are there because you are experiencing...the teaching/student relationship is so pleasurable then you get vain and you forget why you are there in the first place.

Your purpose for action then becomes based upon your emotional neediness instead of what God needs you to do. It comes from the realm of Action rather than the realm of Holy Intention.

So you become "others" controlled rather than controlled by your inner core of the Christ Spark. So I would say a neediness to be recognized, to be appreciated, to be loved or anything would be a base desire. It would be the desire for someone to see how special you are, that sort of thing.

By recognizing weaknesses that you have in the realms of body or spirit you can pray for deliverance from that. Like the ones I showed you yesterday? You can pray and say "Lord I know this is a lifelong habit, or whatever, but I pray to be delivered, I truly pray to be delivered in spirit and body of all deviations from Divine Plan. And if I am too weak to do it, then I ask that the Holy Spirit, the Holy Powers that be, do it for me and I will do my best to do what I can from this end from my perspective."

There may be a timing when you receive healing, but it may not be to your liking! But you just trust in God, you trust that God will manifest healing to those who are worthy. If you are not healed, you have to question whether there is something within yourself that is blocking the healing.

Like the sty Si's eye kept getting bigger, bigger, bigger and bigger and she asked me about it, but there was a spiritual reason for it of her own choosing, her own willfulness, so I could not really heal it until she chose to do what she can from her end. She could ask me, or someone could pray for God for healing for a sty in the eye, but until they do what they can on their own will to clarify their spirit and body then it is not right to use a higher power to erase a lower cause in most cases. It is sometimes permissible within law. The Laws of Intercession are quite elaborate to understand. They are very intricate.

Now I put on the chart the primary problems are (---), money or sexual obsessions and I would say that those are the big ones. It is like the gambling, the drugs and the whores they all go together and murder. Base desires; a lot of people who would never think of murdering someone, if they get an obsession which is a weakness of base desire whether it is sexual, romantic, money grabbing, whatever, they can then become murderers. No matter where darkness enters you, you eventually want to destroy something.

Now whether what you want to destroy is a person's reputation, a child's life, someone's love for another person, whether you are going to destroy someone's happiness or whether you are trying to destroy someone's soul---it is to try to lead them astray. There are strong warning in the Bible against someone who tries to lead another person astray by enticing them with bad speech, enticing someone away from a path of holiness by sitting around and...one of the worst things that people can do is to sit around with a law hater and try to talk them out of it, because if somebody has decided to hate law, there is no point in talking to them.

AUDIO TAPE #3 Transcribed: SEPTEMBER 23, 1995 Side B

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

A person knows if they have intended, planned, acted or spoken wrongly against Law. But sometimes to justify their existence or to strengthen their position of power they try to drag other people into their disorder so as to form a synergy of energy of defilement or of...in businesses you see this all the time where maybe two secretaries or two other workers will just sit and gossip and gossip and gossip in such a way, they get all excited with it and there is no rational reason for it. Now, many times I have brought up cases, and reports for you but it is for your education because you are supposed to be able to learn about spiritual failures and if you haven't had enough cases in front of you, then Lord help you, because you have seen virtually every major flaw in people. And they get magnified around an intercessor. The path to sainthood is a hard path. There is more stress placed upon the individuals. So the higher you go the lower you fall.

Comment: Earlier when you pointed out you were [-inaudible-] all of us. I am trying to find the source of disorder and when I looked, what I saw was, or what came to me was it was related to our being in the bar with the strippers yesterday and there was a lady who talked to C near the male strippers and that doesn't seem to be anything related to Sn. I'm trying to figure out why I couldn't....

G: That is because you are used to [-inaudible-] in the bar. Part of Sn's energy has to do with speech. What I am seeing about this energy that came in along Sn, I'm seeing her talk to La or an archetype of La about this teaching and speculating that G is sexually obsessed because there is so much emphasis on stopping the demon orgasms and they are wanting to deny that they exist and this sort of thing, even though they have them. What it is, they are saying "G is sexually obsessed, sexually obsessed, sexually obsessed, sexually obsessed" and then you are in that bar where they are sexually obsessed.

Sn became sexually obsessed and La always was. It is interesting how 'Me think the lady protesteth too much.' For example La would say "I would never think of this or that" but it was always inherent in her behavior. You know, the sitting with the legs out like that and rubbing them and stuff. It was always there, even when she tried to look real prim; there was a denial that was....anything totally yin becomes yang-- anything that has a big front has a big back. You know those axioms are very apropos for this because if somebody spends a lot of time denying something about themselves, even when you don't ask them any questions, you've got to figure they are defending something that hasn't even been attacked in them.

Comment: What I was doing, was denying the sexual obsession! There were these young women here who were watching this guy and I was thinking "I don't understand this. This can't be" and I was denying what it obviously was, they were sexually obsessed and I was there denying it. So I could see how I could get myself stuck. Rather than being willing to not understand it and observe it until I could see. I was in denial.

G: That is very astute of you to say that because when you go into a situation that is unfamiliar, and granted none of us hang out in bars, so that is a fairly unfamiliar situation and by having a "don't know" attitude you can learn things. If you have a reaction, then that means there is some kind of defense mechanism in process. Instead if you are kind of like the wind or water, you just flow in, you flow out and I'm not saying you don't have boundaries, what I am saying is that you don't cling to anything that you see, in sound or in vision.

Some people if they see or hear something kinky, they just can't hardly get it out of their mind. Like Cel with her torture stories. She would recite the same torture stories; the Marquis de Sade type stories. If you have something like that which won't come out of your mind or you find yourself reacting; a reaction formation thing, you need to suspect that you probably do have a problem. The irony is the pseudo psychologists have taken that to mean that anyone who states something about a position of what is proper or improper is then doing the reaction formation.

Their big thing is "Since G keeps telling us to not have demon orgasms, she must be having them..." see; they could turn it around and say that. For instance when we were doing the book Virtues, Laws and Powers, La kept saying about the phrase "If I see one more time in this text that this work will make you crazy..." There were two or three chapters where it said "The initiate will not go insane if he keeps himself aligned with Law" and she said "I will go crazy if I read that one more time!"

Comment: That is what Nob said, she kept wanting to change it.

G: Nob did, but La did too. La was sitting at the computer and said "I'm going to go crazy if I see that one more time!" It is interesting that she did go crazy and Nob was always a little nutty. It is interesting that the people it bothered were the ones that going off the deep end. La had spent many years with severe depression on several drugs going from psychiatrist to psychiatrist. She had been in psychotherapy of various types for 20 years before I met her. And it was only during the time that she was in this teaching that she wasn't seeing a therapist--in her whole adult life! It is interesting that she has likely; and she has gone off the deep end, if you had heard her on the phone crying and wailing it was pathetic, and making up stories, thinking up reasons to come back to the house for one reason or another. She left Lu (the dog) there, she didn't want her and then she calls a month later saying she want to come get her and we told her Lu was happy. We didn't want to tell her she was too messed up. So then she starts calling and crying and sobbing over the phone "I raised her! She's mine!" But she left her! She was the house dog anyway, but she left her and she left her cat. We put the cat in the kennel.

Question: Was she crying out for help for herself?

Answer: She was crying out like an insane person. One time she called and she said "I guess you won't be hearing from me anymore...!" and then the next day she called and said "I guess I expected a little mercy-y-y...!(sobs)". She left, I didn't ask her to leave, nobody asked her to leave the teachings. She just left. Mercy for what? She didn't want intervention. That last day I wrote an article just for her to get her to pull her resonance and she refused to read it, she shut the door. But she wasn't whining for spiritual help, she wanted to get the dog.

Question: Physical comfort?

Answer: Yes. She said "I guess I wouldn't be so lonely if I had Lucy-y-y...! (sobs)." Then she started calling Sn and crying over and over again which was part of Sn's downfall, listening to an evil one wail and carry on. La did the same thing when we went to Vermont she cried for a week straight when all of us were there. She was already getting psychotic because she had already...whenever a person's spirit becomes evil and their dreaming mind refuses to acknowledge what their waking mind is doing or vice versa, their sanity link splits and then they are going to go insane.

The more force they use for their evil, the faster their insanity will progress. In other words if they have been granted power or if they have been able to tap power, they are going to be more insane than a person who had never met that power, who had never been around that power. I saw it in Gar, too, a strangeness, like in front of everyone, scratching her crotch. What happens when people suddenly lose their ability to see what they are physically doing in front of other people? That is kind of an insane thing.

BJ did not get really insane, but one thing I noticed was that he couldn't quit jerking his legs all the time. He would have one foot going up and down all the time. Whenever I see that, I suspect a person has a possibility of becoming insane. It reflects a weak physical sobriety core. That the person is unable to see what they are doing physically, they are not able then, to know what they are thinking. If you don't know what you are thinking and feeling, then you have a miscommunication between your dreaming and waking mind and you are usually not a good candidate to have very much power. That is one reason BJ was not granted a lot of power in relationship to this group because he had a little bit of the weakness that would have flipped him out, and it was not the desire that he flip out. Obviously, I don't want anybody to flip out.

But there was a thing that I did in Mexico that I want you to go back on your left side and see. I did a major clearing on him. You could say that I removed all the dark forces on his lower form; you could say his physical self. You could go back to the example of the cheerios, the cheerios became clean and all I left was his spirit to peek out. But I didn't tell you that. And I said "Oh, doesn't he look like a choir boy?" But I was thinking: "Straight out of hell" because his spirit showed and it looked like an animal. It poked its eyes out and it went like this. Does anybody remember that?

Comment: I don't remember exactly. I remember that you were showing everybody his eyes...

G: Yes and his eyes looked very, very strange. The design of power was to show you his spirit and had he been able to stay with us, I could have clarified that spirit later. It was just the first time I have been able to clear the spirits and maybe I'll still be able to do it, because I am very fond of him. Except for the fact that he would tell Sn everything and she would tell La wherever we are, I would be happy to have him come out and be with us. It's just that we are in a bad position because he talks with Sn every night on the phone and Sn talks to La. If I want to live, I can't let them know.

Comment #1: I thought my problem in not being able to see him look like a "choir boy" was that I had not grown up seeing very many Choir boys.

Comment #2: There was something strong, about his eyes, the look in his eyes.

G: It almost looked like a trapped animal in his eyes; an animal with the look like "Is she going to get me now?"

Comment #2: Exactly. Now that you mention it, it is very, very clear.

G: It was just like an animal in the corner afraid, thinking "OMG, they are circling me!"

Comment #1: He tried to look innocent, but he didn't look like an innocent choir boy.

G: No. See, there are times to show you things that are appropriate and sometimes I just have to show you later. For instance how I pushed your spirits to the side, the evil part of your spirits to the side to try to grab them. I hadn't told that before yesterday. If I had said to BJ at that time "See there is an evil spirit peeking out of your eyes" it would have discouraged him, and I didn't want to do that because my hope at that time was to grab his and Sn's conscious physical waking minds; grab them by the throat and say "Please, hold on." I had to do it primarily with Sn because she has the stronger personality of the two and she was leading him.

That is what happens when you get people leading each other. With one person becoming dependent on another, they all go down that are under that person. I was trying to grab Sn's will to say "Hold on. I'm doing everything I can to keep you from making a major error" because I could see it forming for about 3 weeks before that. I could see the steam building up; and her shame. How she was developing a swarthy shame around her that built steadily.

It all started, interestingly enough, because she got into several dialogues with La about her house. Sn's weakness is, she is obsessed about houses. She has a thing, and it has to do I think, with her own concept of self, you know the psychological test is "Draw a house." But she never got over her house thing. So she became obsessed with lawyers and papers. She could have turned it over to a lawyer and had a lawyer handle it but instead she got into conversations with La and then they would shift into other conversations about the group. She just went downhill. She stayed at 301 for a week after we left where she was exposed to Nob and other people in the vicinity and she got possessed and made an error which she refused to 'fess up to. But even with all that, I believe we should always be optimistic about people in general even if they make great errors. The only thing is, if you don't recognize when you are in danger, then you will be devoured by people who make errors accidentally....so-called accidentally.

One thing I must stress, if your spirit gets taken over or gets highly contaminated, you can do things physically and you won't even know you have done them. An example at the house, Si kept leaving the front door of Amber Press unlocked and I told her, I said "I know there is another hired killer coming, I can sense it. We have got to keep the door locked." At 10 PM I went in there, because I used the front area as my closet. I made sure the door was locked. I locked the screen and went to bed. Then at 4am I was awakened by the Holy Beings. The Holy Beings said "A hired killer was going to come in the front door of Amber Press." And I said "How is that possible?" They told me "The door has been left open." I got up and went in and the door was open, wide open; all night it had been. Si had apparently gone in and unlocked the door again. And I knew Si did it because she kept unlocking all the doors. Every time we turned around all the doors would be unlocked in the house. She would go from door to door to unlock them. She would say that she was just going outside to turn on the sprinkler for the flowers or something. But she had a spirit control thing going on, where her spirit directed her body to keep unlocking the doors and this was when people were trying to climb over the fence to serve subpoenas to Cel. We had hired killers around, private investigators and police knocking on the door. We have had a lot of activity there, and to leave the doors unlocked is just outrageous, and the gates as well.

Comment: And she was not conscious of it?

G: That time she wasn't. Some of the times she was conscious, she would say "Oh, I just forgot, I was just going out for a minute to turn off the sprinkler." But this time in the morning, I tried to be very gentle. I said "We are in a crisis in this house because the doors and gates keep being left unlocked. It is putting the child, this work and you guys in great danger and me physically in great danger." I told her I said "Last night you must have gone in there and unlocked the front door after 10PM." She said "Oh, no! I didn't do that. I unlocked it earlier in the day!" I said, "No, I went in at 10pm to lock the door and it was unlocked this morning after I told you a hired killer was coming."

Had it not been for the holy beings waking me up, a hired killer would have entered the house through the shrubs on the side of the house where nobody could have seen him. Sneaked in there, gone around and could have shot me and RP and the child who was sleeping downstairs.

The Holy Beings, thank Heavens, warn us over and over again. And sometimes it seems like nothing happens so we wonder "Would it have really happened?" Well, I wouldn't want to find out, would you? It is like if the Holy Beings warn us, and the Holy beings warned me the door was open and it was open when I had no conscious reason to think it would be open. I thought for sure she wouldn't come downstairs and do that after 10pm to unlock the door; but she did. That is what happens when you get spiritually contaminated. La would do the same things, often. The classic example is holding the door open with people on the street, hollering "DON'T LET THEM SEE G.!!!" real loud, standing there while I was walking by. She opens the door wide open to the street and hollers "DON'T LET THEM SEE G.!!!" It was like announcing to all the people on the street that I was hiding in there.

People always think when they have a spirit contamination like that they "meant well." They always say "I meant well!!" like La, and I said to her: "Are you nutty? Why would you be hollering like that and why didn't you shut the damn door?" and she said "I meant well!"

Cel: That was strange because I was walking into the door just as she opened it up and for some reason I knew there was something strange about her behavior so I just stood there waiting for her to shut the door and I was blocking the door until G. had walked by.

G: What is interesting; you can't talk to a person who is like that. There is no point in confronting them because they are not going to change unless they decide to change.

Comment: How do you get a grip upon yourself when that is occurring? When you say things like that. How could any of us get a grip on ourselves and just say "Wait a minute, what am I doing?"

G: I would say the number one thing you should do if you ever feel like your spirit is getting torqued away, is you should have utmost discipline of thoughts, speech and behaviors. Because If you get a strong grip on your lower physical manifestation which includes speech and thoughts and raw emotions--instead of just exuding when you feel bad--then you likely can get a grip on your spirit.

Sometimes that is the only thing you can do if it is totally out of control. When we moved into the house in Wyoming, Cel went nutty as a peach orchard boar. There were so many energies from that transsexual rental that we kicked out from upstairs. She/he still had all her stuff in there. So I found Cel upstairs looking at a TV that still had bubble wrap on it. She was immobilized.

Cel: I couldn't move. I was immobilized.

G: She was immobilized with depression, and hate and you could see her face kind of like that spirit that BJ had, but worse. Her spirit was peering out of her face. She was just a mess. So I just said "Get a grip!" and I started cleaning up the place "We are going to move this weirdo out of here" so we hired some people and moved everything to storage because she was going to be gone for two weeks on a trucking trip. It was not worth living to have somebody like this in your house for a month. So we just got it moved out.

Comment: Then she got a grip after that action?

G: No. I had to push her and I said "Let's get this place clean!" By bringing physical order into the house, her spirit started pulling in a little tighter and cleaning up. With Cel, that is usually how it has to be. She will physically start freaking out saying "Why is life always so hard!" with "always" statements. An "always" statement is an indicator of having an inventory that you recycle to keep a false god reality. Whenever you hear yourself say "Why does this always happen to me?" "Why is she always a bitch?" "Why is he always such an asshole", "Why...." "It might even sound like you are trying to solve your spiritual problems. Like you might say "Why do I keep falling into resonance with that man across the street?" but even that is an inventory: "Why do I keep doing this?...." By remembering the day before, you are not living in the now which is the only point of power. "Why do I always eat so much?" "Why do I always do this?" It is like you should almost forget one day once it is gone and you just go on. But if you find yourself doing that, know that you have a false god program if you ever say "Always, or never".

Comment: Whenever I find myself doing that now, I always ask the Lord to deliver me from that obsession. I keep saying that and praying and praying and the Lord works! The Lord helps. When I look back at the last year especially, it has been amazing some of the things that would keep coming up for me and I prayed and cleared stuff and I'm programming myself to when I get to that point to just ask for help.

G: Your holy devotion has brought a great deal of positive karma to you. It has in many ways, erased virtually everything negative. If a person has a real good trait that they exercise, often it can kind of fill the weaker spots. We are all flawed in some way but by doing your best with what you have the strength to do, such as holy devotion and asking God for deliverance, you can fill some of the gaps of where you are weak, in a sense.

This brings us to the karma chart that you have. (See also next page).

HOLY KARMA +

ZERO 0 10 20 30 40 50 60 70 80 90 100 MAXIMUM

IF 100%, one has passed the Realm of Karma And entered into the Grace Realm.

EVIL KARMA —

ZERO 0 10 20 30 40 50 60 70 80 90 100 MAXIMUM # of TIMES

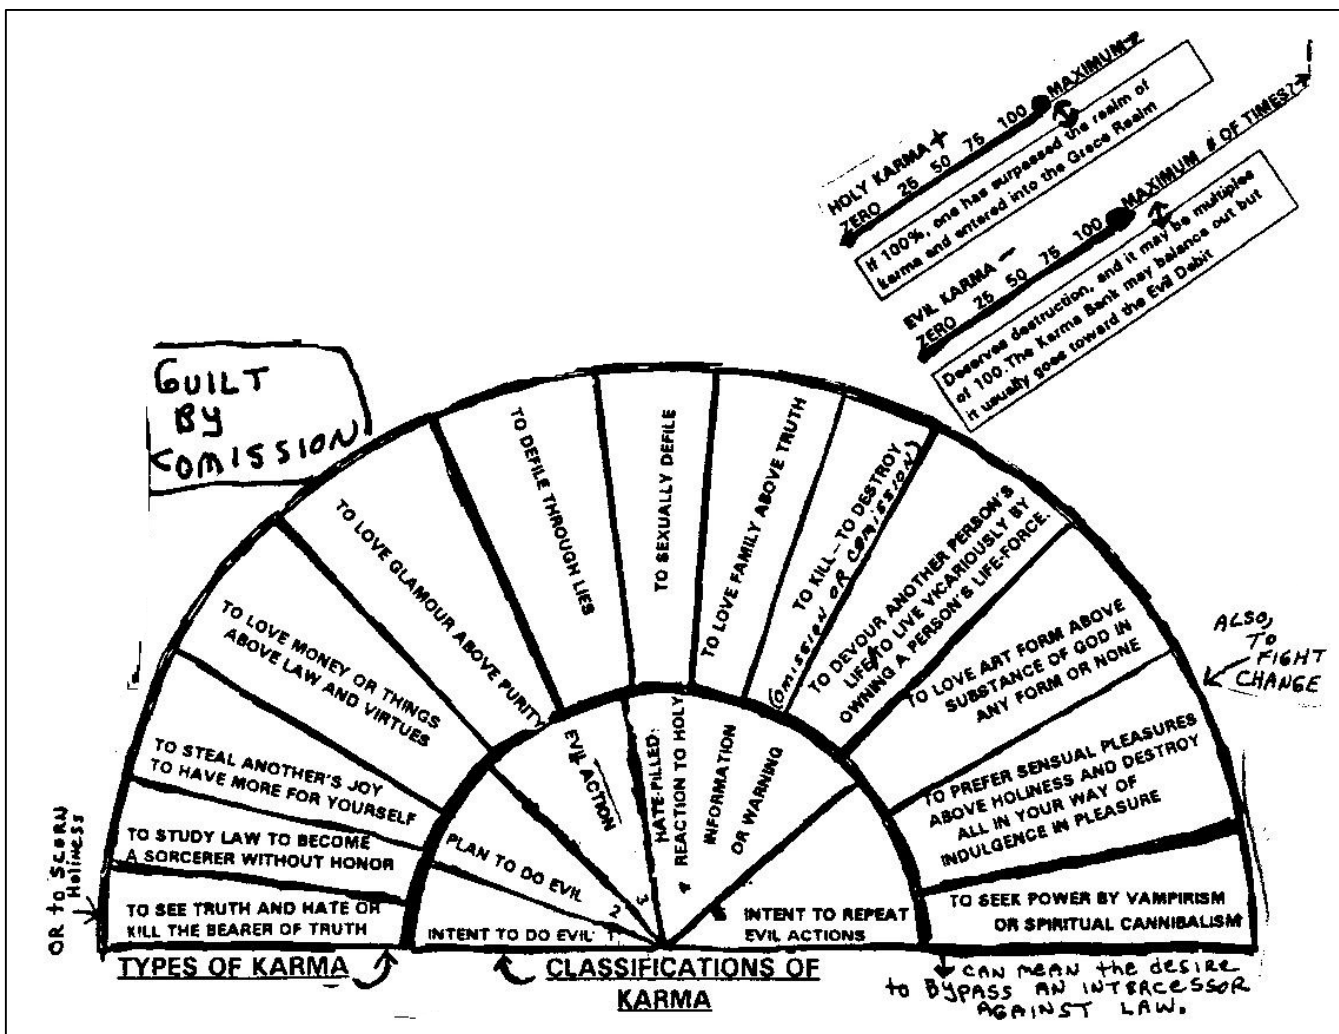

Deserves destruction. And it may be multiples of 100. The Karma Bank may balance out but it usually goes to the Evil Debit.

For instance if you look at the little charts of ⚡Holy Karma and Evil Karma; the way that I originally did it was to draw the holy karma at a different angle (instead of having two charts) just to differentiate it. But you could say; check yourself a year ago on any of these categories. Let's just start with "To see truth and hate or kill the bearer of Truth or to scorn holiness" the first type of karma on your left side. In other words "Be angry because you have found out something....." it is kind of like the old saying 'It's not the message but you want to kill the messenger' because it made you mad to know something. Or "To scorn holiness" is definitely an important one.

So check yourself a year ago and check yourself on the evil karma to see where you were as far as incurring evil karma by maybe bad speech regarding that trait, or check your holy karma by loving truth; in other words the antithesis you would embrace: loving truth vs. the other.

So check that one particular trait "To see truth and hate or kill the bearer of Truth or to scorn holiness." It can be very nuanced. You don't have to consciously think "I'm going to kill anybody that tells me that I'm a bad mother" or anything. It could be that you get irritated and you think "I wish he would just go away!" You see that is a version of annihilation thought forms.

I think a year ago you guys had some problems there. But it is interesting how you can have both 50% evil karma and 60% holy karma on the same trait. The reason is, it is kind of like a bank that is in two different accounts and they don't necessarily merge the accounts. For instance you have a poison account with black dollar bills. Those black dollar bills; i.e. every time you decide that what you have learned is bull-shit and you are not going to follow it or whatever or for example when Sn was laughing with La about my teachings on demon orgasms because they want to rationalize their own lives. That would then give them a lot of karma depending upon the severity; and I want you to think of what I have taught you before: Frequency, Intensity and Duration.

Check: by what one thinks, does and says, if it is done with a longer duration, done more frequently or if it is done with more passion, then one incurs greater karma. For instance you could make a little snide joke to someone about this teaching, that you would regret and then you would drop it and not go on. You might incur one black dollar bill in your Black karma account. But say you spent two hours on the phone like Sn talking to BJ and saying "I think G has lost her mind! I think she has really lost her mind!" and going on and on and on. As her intercessor, it was important for her to not say defiling things to other people because she is spitting on the hand that feeds her holiness. That is a great crime. So by doing that she incurred great karma by the duration of two hours on the phone and intensity because she desired to protect her obsession with great intensity and the frequency, she calls people every night and spends (hours)! I have warned and warned and warned against long phone conversations for no good reason because a lot of times what one does is get bad speech karma.

So you can get a lot of karma; you can get 100% maximal evil. Let's say 100 dollars is all you can put in that Black account. $100 means that you are worthy of being destroyed. Now "worthy of being destroyed" in what way? Physically? Mentally? Spiritually? That is where you get the Five Classifications in the middle, underneath. If a person intends to do evil, they sit around and they think or they just feel a murderous rage and think "I'm going to get her! I'm going to get her! I'm going to get her!" That is not really a plan yet. A plan is a calculation of how they are going to go about it with details.

But the Intent is just wanting to do it and feeding that. That would create a Soul Destruction; say they lose their soul for instance. If a person intends wrongly to harm others they lose their soul, that is all there is to it.

If a person Plans to do evil, if they sit and calculate how they are going to do something and they set up a regular program, such as buying 20 bottles of mercurochrome and thinking "How am I going to mix it with food and drink with Swedish bitters and tell her she needs it?" That is very serious and that is where you get Mental Destruction. Think about it. What do you do when you plan something? You set up a mental program that you plan to carry out. Isn't it reasonable that you would get mental karma? To go mentally insane?

I have to say that Cec, I'm sure, is as crazy as a bedbug. He was so crazy even two and half years ago writing a letter to Du saying "I am killing evil beings through radionics and I have dowsed that LG is an evil being." He admitted to trying to kill LG in writing and if that isn't stupid, it is more than stupid it is crazy because even from an evil person's perspective he is more or less admitting it. If we had kept that letter we could have sent it to the police. So you get soul destruction on intent; mental destruction on planning.

And Action, believe it or not and even though this may seem paradoxical, involves Spiritual Destruction. And I am talking about Spirit, that which we have been talking about today, the Triangle, and the milk in the cheerios bowl.

Evil Action involves spirit destruction. In other words if a person goes about actually doing something that is evil, they lose their spirit power. One of the reasons that this happens is that they then cannot sense spiritually, they cannot sense their own stupidity. If someone loses their ability to see nuance or to detect, for instance danger, then they may just bring danger down upon themselves. It is kind of a protective mechanism in the way that God designed Man so that if somebody is destructive, they tend to be destroyed. That is the way it is supposed to be. With the Anti-Christ however, it is more difficult right now.

So a lot of evil actions are thwarted because a person gets confused mentally and spiritually so they get demented. Mental illness has both a mental aspect and a spirit aspect. If you looked at the man who was selling the dogs yesterday; he was very demented. His spirit personality and his mental personality were both in very bad shape.

Comment: How...reacts to the issue.....good thing that is happening....

G: The way they do it is because they rationalize what is good and evil. They have their own standards of good and evil so then they can rationalize any behavior by saying that "Good is evil and evil is good."

Comment: Priority....if you don't know the difference...

G: That is right, praying to the right God. Virtually all evil is due to a person intending wrongly, a person desiring wrongly and a person willing, being lower willful to act wrongly even in the face of knowing it is wrong. If a person intends, desires and willfully acts wrongly, their standard mechanism for living with themselves is to create a disassociation between the knowledge of what is right and wrong and what they want to be right and wrong. In other words they split their dreaming and waking minds.

By splitting and becoming schizophrenic in a sense, they can act sometimes under a waking mind consciousness and sometimes under a dreaming mind consciousness and they don't know the difference! One won't know what the other is doing. Like Si opening the door. That was actually her spirit controlled body opening the door but her waking mind the next morning didn't remember it. Honestly she could say she was innocent. That is why I am saying you can't talk to anybody who has decided to intend wrongly, will wrongly and desire wrongly because they have already split their consciousness and they will use anything you say against you to the police. It is like the police "Anything you say could be used against you."

They are spiritually crazy, like in the book there is something in INGRID'S story about being spiritually crazy versus worldly crazy and how dangerous a person is if in the eyes of the world they are sane, but they are spiritually insane. They become ultimately evil and dangerous because they can calculate. How does a person stay worldly sane and be spiritually psychotic? That occurs by the introduction of an evil spirit controlling the body in a calculating manner. There is another awareness and consciousness entering the body to control it. That is how a person appears sane to the world, but is spiritually dangerous.

Comment: Is there an aspect of Guardian angel who guides and helps to prevent....?.... because [---] called me before I knew what was going on. Something helped me to block the call because I could have gotten into a dialogue.

G: I think that anyone who truly submits to the divine hierarchy is helped. The problem that Sn had was exactly what La had; in that by hating me they cut off the hierarchy. They don't like me to say that but it is true. "When God lays His blessing on your doorstep and you turn it away, it will fall to another." By hating the intercessor and willing to bypass me, they brought evil lords down as their masters. It just was their destiny to work within a spiritual hierarchy system where they were going to be taught great wondrous things such as this, in exchange for their desire to serve humanity and their total devotion to the plan of God. But what happened, they started listening to the Earth grid sounds and thinking "What about me?" (Sings): "What about me? And maybe a baby will climb upon your knee. Put his arms around you, but what about me?"

When they started thinking things like: "Why is it I've been in this work all this time and I don't have a husband or a lover or whatever it is..." Is that the reason you are in holy work? To get laid or something? I don't think so. The reason you are in holy work, is because you are dedicated to the plan of God, whatever it is. If God says to you that you are to be a monk, a nun or whatever you are to be; so be it. Whatever is expedient then you be that. But they began to be angry. Well, I honestly think that La was a great source for dragging Sn down. Because she knew Sn's weakness was phone conversations and by hooking in every night on the phone, was a very weakening experience and Gar did the same thing, she spent long, long times with Sn on the phone. Phones are very destructive.

The weakness they had; like Gar's lack of love; if you think of will, intend and desire, her desire was not to be purely loving. Her desire was to be appreciated so people would think she is a great spiritual teacher or something. But she did not want to be great; she wanted people to think she was great. It is wonderful to want to be great. You should aspire to be great but you shouldn't worry about whether people think you are great. So that was the weaknesses of desire in Gar.

The weaknesses of La; it starting with her willful decision to visualize me out of the picture and then her desire, her carnality re-occurred, which I had largely helped her recover from. She had led a life of great promiscuity and drugs and she was a bartender and all this. She was pulled out of great disorder by divine intervention through an intercessor that she betrayed. And even to the last day, I believe she could have pulled out of it. But you see, her intention was evil.

Whenever a person weakens on one of those, like desire "Desiring to see everybody as ok" or "Desiring to not want to see truth" then a person's intentions get rotten and so do their willful actions. You never just rot on one side of the triangle, you rot on all three. The more power that you have, the more dangerous you become. The more power you are interfaced with, the more dangerous you become if you choose to not desire truth, if you do not intend to live right and if you do not will yourself to comply in the lower as well as the higher realms. So these lists of types of karma that I have here, I got out of people that you know and maybe yourselves, too.

Now on the Classifications of Karma. As I go through this I am writing inside the chart: "Destruction of Soul/Mental/Spirit" on the chart categories just to remind myself what they are linked with.

AUDIO TAPE #4 Transcribed: SEPTEMBER 23, 1995 Side A

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

Question: Would you say those again? They didn't get onto the tape.

G: (Write in) the Classification of Karma, the

- Intent to do evil relates to a Soul Loss;
- Plan to do evil relates to Mental Decline;
- Action (evil) relates to the Severance of one's Spirit.

• "Hate filled reaction to holy information or warning" causes one to be Removed from Intercession.

This is Grace lost, in other words.

Just write "Grace Lost" in that category.

Sometimes Grace comes to you in odd ways. It may not necessarily come...say you are at work and you get an omen about something or that God warns you against some action, thought or plan and tells you "Don't do it!" It could be your guardian angel talking to you and you just get mad and you say "Damn it. I'm going to do just what I damn well please! I am my own boss!" Then you have become satanic and you have not listened to your guardian angel and you can lose Grace.

- "The Intent to Repeat Evil Actions" in a severe modality can even cause you to lose your physical body.

God's Vengeance is a powerful thing and I suspect that a lot of serious major illnesses occur both because of curses from people that intend wrongly, but also because if one intends to repeat an evil action against what one knows is right; then you don't deserve to live if you are going to harm other people.

It doesn't mean we are going to go and shoot somebody, but we are going to trust in God, that God knows when a person has become irrevocably evil and that person may actually just die. It is not to say that everyone who has died had intent to do evil.

There are many mysteries as to why some people live certain life spans and others don't.

- It can be sins of the father that give miasmatic diseases that erupt at a certain age.
- It can be a cultural karma that then settles in certain genetic strains.
- It could be past soul karma that has caught up with you.

There is a certain thing that you need to understand that karma is sometimes put on hold for a certain period of time and then it can unleash. At a certain point it can become like a balloon that gets too full and then it pops or maybe that balloon is a time release capsule and after a few years...the reason for that is, maybe people are given an opportunity to reverse that by penance. What is penance? Penance is taking the black dollars out of the evil karma bank by paying for them with white dollars in the holy karma bank account.

See, you don't necessarily pay for one with the other because it has to be on the same level. This is the key to the payment of karma. If I asked you to check last year: "To see Truth and hate the bearer of Truth" where were you? Some of you were like 75% holy karma and 50% evil karma. You might think "Why was I not just a +25% holy karma?" because it is two different accounts unless it is on the same classification level.

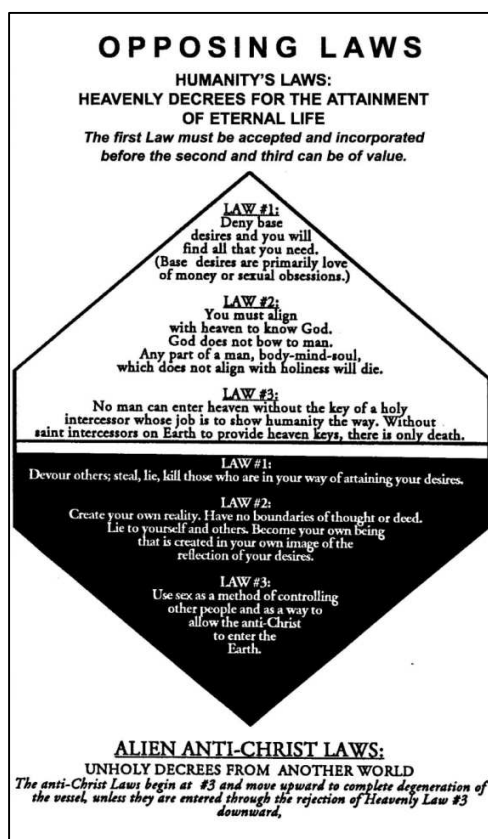

For instance if you intended to; say you were in a habit of brow beating somebody that was...like in school sometimes there is a class kid that is picked on, he is a designated loser and everybody makes fun of that kid? They all gang up on him. It is a hideous thing you see in schools and in workplaces. Everyone will pick on somebody who is weak. Say the mother or the teacher of the class says to the bully: "What you are doing is horrible you need to quit it, it is wrong. How would you like to be in that position?" But say a kid with a conscience would feel kind of guilty "Gosh I really hurt that kid's feelings, didn't I?" and he would start to analyze. A person who decided to not listen to his conscience is separated from his spirit self and would tend to gossip about the kid when the teacher wasn't looking. His morality would be dictated about whether he was caught or not in the action.

For instance sometimes people have asked me why they are a mess because they just wanted to see if I knew what they had done. And there is a law relating to intercessors and teaching that if someone asks you a question just to see what you know and not because they want to change, then you shouldn't tell them the answer, because they already know it. I've had that happen a lot where people will say "Is there just a lot (of contamination) coming out right now..." for instance they are already going to tell you the answer as to why they are upset, spasming and out of control and they say: "There must just be a lot coming out....a purification; right, right.....?" and say I look at them and I know that that person has spent an hour mentally mulling over how much they hate my guts....and that is why they feel bad, because they are hitting their head against a stone wall. If they think their will is going to back down mine, I've got another think coming for them. That is what it is; it is a butting of the wills.

Whenever a person enters a teaching where there is an intercessor, the intercessor has a responsibility to use his or her will to strengthen the wills of others towards God. And you have the strength of your intercessor relationship because you need...this is why earthly intercessors are needed because there has to be an interface between God and man in order for the transmutation of the baser matter into something finer for the rapture.

This is really true right now. Man is faced with so many grid sounds that most people would be overwhelmed if they did not have a light to show the way. Now there are unseen intercessors. But how are people going to know how to reach those intercessors if they don't have a few guideposts? This is where our books are going to be very, very important.

What we outline particularly in The Prophet's Story were the cores of the crisis on the earth and how people have to start now listening to the teachings relating to behavioral self-control. Promiscuity is not going to be allowed in the New Heaven. There has to be control of actions.

There has to be a desire to not destroy and if you look at the Anti-Christ Laws, you are going to see the whole world being taken over, practically, by those ANTI-CHRIST LAWS.

Law #1: "Devour others, steal, lie, kill those who are in the way of obtaining your desires." Kill, kill what? Maybe someone wants to get "A" out of the way so what do they do? They start defiling him; 'killing' his reputation in order to get what they want. That is killing.

Law #2: "Create your own reality. Have no boundaries in thought or deed. Lie to yourself and to others. Become your own being that is created in your own image that is a reflection of your desires." In other words, you decide you are going to take what you want from these teachings and then you are going to do damn well do what you please with them. In other words you are not going to listen to law, you are not going to take the guidance that has been offered you and you are just going to pick and choose. Se was a good one for this. She was always taking stuff out and just putting in stuff that she liked as part of her teaching. She would forget completely things I kept telling her, she wouldn't hear it. I told her not to think about her dreams because she was too possessed, and her dreams were a reflection of her desires and not revelation. She thought she was getting revelations. She had dreams about me dying. She and La would sit and talk about their dreams about me dying. Se had a dream about (Se) being in charge of the monastery and she asked La if "That was her destiny when I passed on." And this was a long time ago. I kept saying "Don't listen to your dreams" and she wouldn't give them up because she was so willful. She wanted to create her own system. She didn't realize that I didn't create this, this is God's system.

Law #3: "Use Sex as a method of controlling other people and as a way to allow the Anti-Christ to enter the Earth." As it is described in The Prophet's Story, the generative forces that feed the Anti-Christ are taken away from the New Heaven and New Earth. You have got to decide where your well water is going. You have a well and it is your power and the earth's power and are you going to put the water hose into the Anti-Christ forces to nourish the poisonous weeds of the Anti-Christ or are you going to water the garden that will feed your soul? Sex is one of the primary ways; just like the whoring, the gambling, the mafia murders, the drugs. Once, if they enter in any of those, drugs, money, sex or murderous intention, they only have to enter one and they are in all of them.

Every person who becomes sexually deviate becomes monetarily deviate. That is absolutely true. They may not appear it on the surface but they are. It doesn't mean they have money or don't have money, it means they start to plot ways to hoard money or to "get something back that they are owed." They start keeping score on how much someone owes them one way or another in a pathological way. And granted, you've got to look after your rights. But there is a difference in a person who sits and circular thinks about how somebody shit on them monetarily, or that they need a raise or something and they are not even worth a raise! They might sit and think how 'they are a better employee than another employee', and that 'they deserve more money' and they just fester in that hate if they don't get a nickel raise.

I would say that there is always an aspect that you could relate to drugs in that they get addicted to some type of euphoria or hysteria but it doesn't have to be physical drugs. It can be like Ri who would start talking and laughing "Ha, ha, ha!!" and he would get so hysterical and be spitting and he would get a mental euphoria. That is what I used to call a Mental Demon Orgasms, and Emotional Demon Orgasms from crying, sobbing and wailing, or going into a rage. Emotional D.O.'s are very, very bad because if you go back to the basest levels with the gambling, the whoredom, the drugs and murder, you never see one without the others, eventually. It doesn't mean that Ri is taking morphine. It means he is addicted to mental thrills. Like a lot of people who are into Eastern meditation i.e. Jeg who said "Oh yeah, I have done Kriya Yoga for so long, I can have an orgasm just by going into a meditative state." That is a real nice reason to be meditating.

Then of course the desire to destroy always follows if you have a weakness in any of those. The desire to destroy always follows. You could say "Well, does everybody just want to kill?" No. But they want to kill something: kill hope, kill this work. They can rationalize and say that if I am put in the mental hospital then I would get "Help". (Sings from "Man of La Mancha") "They were only thinking of me..." They just want to see me get treatment because "they love me" and that is why they want me to get treatment for my illness. But that is 'killing'. What they want to do is stop me from writing. That is exactly what they want to do; is kill the writing by putting me in the nut house. Because they don't want to be reminded of who they are.

So there is "kill" whether they act benignly or not. If they want to get (a child) they will say "I just want to protect him. I want to protect him from an unstable life" and put him in the home of two atheists and kill his soul. Somebody might think, like La when she was mixing her vaginal secretions in RP's drink, she'd say: "I just want to love him, I just want to love him..." but the fact is, she wanted to kill his soul. And they want to kill my body, too, some of them. Not all of them, but some. Jg wrote; "There are 200 people praying for you, LG." 'Preying' like an animal upon another. You know he is an atheist so that was ridiculous for him to say 200 people were praying for me. He was very sarcastic by underlining 'praying' and the 'a' looked like an 'e'. It was a threat.

Comment: And that was two years ago.

G: Yes, that was two years ago and he never gave up. So, you've got your classifications and you have got to balance the karma of each one and penance is a very important way to do that. However God has shown all of you mercy in repeatedly erasing karma for you and at the end of this gathering you won't have any karma, in fact, you don't have any now. One of the things I did the two days before you got here; I interceded as deeply as I could for you to erase any karma that you had. So, don't be surprised that you dowse that you don't have any bad karma. And I asked that your good karma not be used in payment, that it be kept in your karma bank; that they use any excess good karma of mine is payment for any of your debt, spiritual debts, so that you could keep your karma bank with still some good in it. I want you to look at "How much do you have in the good karma bank" and I didn't add to your holy karma bank, all I did was take away from your evil karma bank.

Now look at the 5th one, the body aspect "Intent to repeat evil actions."

I want you to see where your karma was a week ago on evil and holy. The holy aspect would be that you actively go about facilitating the plan of God with physical measures of some kind. For instance it was wonderful the computer equipment you guys blessed us with because RP was able to create a book that when you see it, you will be astonished at how professional it is. It is flawless and that is because he had the perfect printer, the perfect scanner, the computer that worked well, the computer programs that he needed and he was able to just turn a computer disk with everything into the printers instead of a copy which they would mush up. The difference is night and day, with clarity on every page and balance. It is just incredible and when we go to send it out trying to get a major publisher to pick it up, I think that will attract their attention. But that would be an example of how you have accrued some holy karma by facilitating the plan of God by making a product that will be appealing to help people to go toward the plan of God. "Intent to repeat evil actions" can be about any evil actions against any person, this work, against anything. So look at what it was a week ago and look at what it is now.

Now I want you to look at #4 “Hate filled reaction to holy information or warning.”

Where were you a week ago? You may not even know when you resist holy information; and

Ask: “Where are you now in evil karma and good karma?” and

“Where are you in the spirit component of evil actions?”

If you think of spirit component of evil action, that can be like a person trying to will someone else to do something their way even if it is not holy. Like trying to grab someone’s eyes to vampire them or to grab their energy in some way. It is like a spiritual sorcery thing that people do automatically without ever having any training.

“Where were you on the karma of evil action a week ago? And where are you now?”

Unless you have acquired it in the last couple of days, you shouldn’t have any.

“Where are you on the “Plan to do Evil”?”

In other words mental; this is where the Devil’s Advocate arguments come in. You don’t think this would be a plan to do evil, but entertaining the Devil’s Advocate arguments does in fact affect one’s mental purity and one incurs mental karma from it. Some of you, I am seeing that there were some aspects that you were delivered actually a week ago on this realm and you might have to check two weeks ago for this. I am seeing a higher reading two weeks ago on this one. Some was erased last week.

Comment: I’m getting multiples of 100.

G: Yes, multiples are pretty darn bad because that means you deserved to be destroyed (chuckling). If you get multiples on spirit action, that means that your spirit body deserves to be destroyed. If you get it on mental maximus, you deserve to go nutty; to be cut off from any mental power to control others. If you get it on the intent to do evil on maximal over and over again, then you deserve to lose your soul.

Comment: Should the holy positive karma be the same? How do you improve it? It is not like a fixed reservoir.....

G: You might add to it when you don’t even know it. For instance a penance is primarily on the fifth classification on the body. Instead of using your energy to repeat an obsession habit, for instance, you use your energy to do something holy. Like, Cel would have a tendency to get into hateful, circular thoughts, a circular pattern, which is an action. Thoughts are actions. So I tell her “If you find that happening, just start saying the 23rd Psalm” and when you wake up and you are possessed, just say the 23rd Psalm so that way you don’t circular repeat an evil to let it build up steam.

There is a type of penance that has to do with the 4th type: “Hate filled reaction to holy information or warning”.

You can in that case, you should pray that you be forgiven and then the re-reading what you have failed to hear, or re-listening to tapes. By deciding to listen anew without biases, you can then open your eyes to learn. That is a type of penance that you can do to correct the 4th.

The 3rd type: the “Evil action of the spirit,”

I don’t see a penance for that one. That would have to be an intercession done for you. I think with the first three you would require intercession for healing those as well. What I find interesting is, on the same level you guys might have a +50 holy karma, and you might have a -25 evil karma and for some reason even though they are on the same level; they don’t pay, or balance each other out. Let me see why it did not automatically, why the bank didn’t shift the money (to balance). It is because this has to do with disassociation of what you believe is true according to your whims.

Say one time you are devoted and pray and submit yourself to the will of God in body, mind and soul but then the next day you are cranky, and you don’t. What it is, for you to pray a whole lot, shouldn’t erase the fact that you are erratic.

There is something about a stability of purpose that is an integral part of a saint. And if you have that constancy; like every day you wake up and you just do what you are supposed to do, whatever that is! That is a constant saint and constancy is a very important virtue. If you are inconstant then it is the design of the holy plan that you get stung by your evil karma returning to you somehow so that you get reminded; as a reminder.

You have seen people who just wanted to go to confession and light a bunch of candles and say “mea culpa, mea culpa” and yet they don’t change their ways because they are erratic. They think they can just pray for a long time and they figure they have so many soul dollars, they can act like a total bitch and be cruel to somebody or something for no good reason and they think “Oh well, I’ve done so much good, this can’t possibly matter.” In the lower realm it may not matter, but in the intercessor group, it has to matter because if a person is inconstant they are dangerous as hell. If one day they are going to be totally devoted and the next day they are going to be calling up people who want to put me in the insane asylum or murdered, then they are dangerous. Just because they are possessed or cranky they are just going to get on the horn with people after I have warned them? They are going to “Do exactly what they damn well please.” But one day they are totally devoted and the next day they are betraying. Such a person like that you might think “After all those years of being good, why wouldn’t that be cancelled out?” It only takes one betrayal to bring down the whole ship. It only takes one gun shot to stop all future books. It only takes them finding (a child) once to ruin his soul.

For Gar and La to say “Well, they took Lu and Ju (two dogs) so we’ll just turn in (a child) to get back at them.” Should that have been forgiven? I don’t think so. They wanted to have that kid’s life destroyed to get back at me. So what is happening to them? Their lives are being destroyed. You could say “Well, La spent all those years doing good things”, but what would the karma be if I was dead or this work was stopped? It would be far greater than anything that she had ever done that was good because she would have impaired the teachings about the rapture to the masses and that was so terrible because it means many, many, many souls; many, many, many souls.

So no, a person’s karma can be disassociated; the evil from the good. Check La a year ago on her positive and negative karma on intent to do evil, for instance--because she had her karma erased a dozen times, you have to understand. So where was she a year ago? I don’t know what you are getting, but I am getting that she had -75 evil and +25 holy. And I’m going to ask “How many times was her karma on this realm erased completely?” 7 times. So she went maximus seven times and she was granted absolution and then a year ago it was already back to -75, she was a repeat offender.

Comment: So that is what happens when the karma is erased and you go back to old patterns, then you keep accumulating...?

G: You should put down there Ask: “How many times erased?” If you are checking someone, it is like some people you know you might think “Why is G so hard on this person?” Check “How many times has their karma has been erased” by me digesting it? You have no idea how much karma I have digested in my very body. It is that “Intent to murder” has to be translated as a physical sickness nearing death in order to erase the karma which is exactly what nearly happened to me (in Vermont). I took it on and it damn near killed me.

Check where La was on “Intent to repeat evil actions of a bodily nature?” A year ago and how many maximal times do you get? You see, her restraint (from evil) would have been measured as holy karma. You see a lot of people are tormented by things such as sexual demons and lying spirits, but they pray to be delivered and they struggle greatly and they have great torment. Whatever a person is faced against is like a spiritual trial and if one struggles against demons of murder that tell you to hate someone, to turn in a child; to struggle against it is what you must do and if you do that, then you gain holy karma If you resist and if you give in, you get evil karma.

So it looked to me and you can ask for specific karma about La, for instance: “Where was her karma one year ago on ‘Intent to poison G....again’?” What do you get? Check it before it was erased the last time.

Comment: I get over 100% times two.

G: Check before it was erased the last time.

Ask “How many times was her karma erased for wanting to kill me?”

Another answer: I get 7.

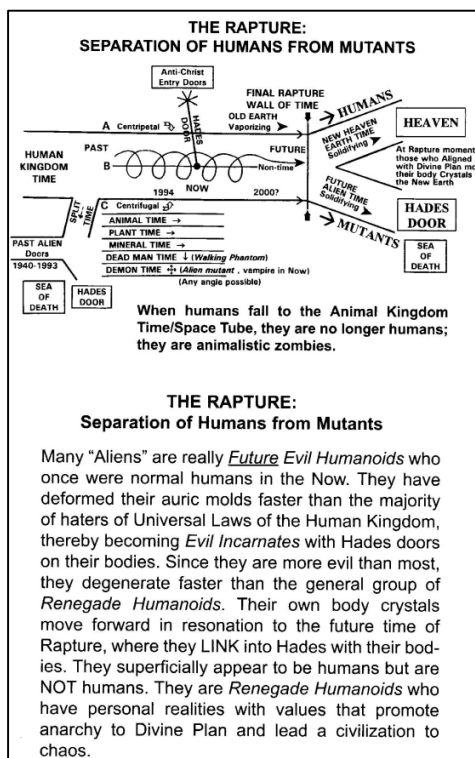

G: Yes, that is exactly right. Her karma was erased over and over again for the evil actual decision to poison me and she kept doing it.

Comment: Did you know that? That you were erasing that karma?

G: I kept interceding for her and RP did too. We worked for two solid weeks I think, before she left, for 16 hours a day just on her. I was so sick sitting on the sofa; vomiting, bleeding and gagging. I kept getting pneumonia. Of course I was poisoned too, but I was very sick with it and RP was too. We could hardly move we were so sick from it. We didn’t consciously know, all we did, we prayed “Dear Lord, if it is possible to intercede for La and it is within God’s Plan to give her another chance..” to help her to pull along because she was just getting so bizarre that we did, we did a last ditch effort and I am serious: 16 hours a day just on her, for days on end. It is not an easy thing to wipe such serious karma; of someone actually wanting, and actively trying to murder someone.

Comment: Do you still have part of La in you that keeps coming out....sometimes I still see her (on the charts).

G: part of the reason is, somewhere in one of your lessons, I have above the TIME/SPACE TUBE I have “Karma put on hold” or something like that. There is something like a place where the Holy Beings; if karma is so great that it would destroy someone; and some karma is so bad that if I tried to take it on it might kill me--it has to be doled out.

So a lot of karma that I have requested to intercede for people about, has to be put in like this big cloud that every day I will take down what I can handle and I may be paying for La's new chances for a long time. Maybe years, I don't know. I've just quit paying for Ji's errors about a month ago. That is what it is when you see a load of karma coming down from the storage.

Comment: Can we help on that?

G: I think the most important thing would be, for all of you to keep a close eye on your own karma. So that you can be strong enough to gain extra holy karma that then you can intercede for others. Say if your holy karma gets 5 times maximus in the realm of spirit: in faith. Say you pray for people and you intend to do right and you want to know the truth and all these things. Say your spirit karma gets real high, the positive karma. That means that you then have the ability to go to people in distress and soothe them with your spiritual self and you can do healing and all sorts of wondrous things if your holy karma is in excess but it has to be 100% before you can help another person.

Exceptions are in the realm of the body and the #4 and #5 sections. You can help other people without having a maximal karma storage tank, because that is the realm of penance. If you have; if you control your actions and your thoughts and you only plan to do that which is holy and to follow the plan of God then you may gain a lot of positive karma on the 2nd classification. If you get to 100% you will gain a lot more mental powers so that you can overwhelm grid thoughts in your vicinity; in other words you can bless everyone you are around. Or say, you think of someone that might need your help and it is God's will you can send a thoughtform elemental them that keeps them out of trouble. Such thoughtform elementals can be like guardian angels for babies and stuff, but you have to have at least 100% holy karma on the mental level and that means you never entertain devil's advocate arguments against the plan of God. It means you don't sit around and circular hate and it also means that you understand the difference between Divine Intervention, God's Vengeance Unfolding and righteous indignation vs. hate

There is such a thing as righteous indignation and you must not mistake it for hate, just like you must not mistake trivializing some things as hate or hateful. As I said yesterday I have tried repeatedly to shake you guys up in various ways by making fun of the very things you held dear in order to shake loose your spirit errors. I have always known that people thought I was mean. But I am not really mean. If I was mean I wouldn't care whether you got clear. I wouldn't care if you ever understood what was holy and what was unholy if I was mean and selfish....because meanness has an aspect of selfishness about it. I have given my every waking hour to the dedication of God's plan on earth. If it is facilitated by me being silly, or me being--what are the Don Juan classifications: cunning, ruthless, silly and sweet those were the different ways. And at one point I had you practice these sweet, cunning, (silly) and ruthless. Ruthless is the final one but I can't see (silly) even though I just said it. This is really interesting that I can't remember the word which tells me there is a major block in the room relating to that very trait. It might not be a trait that is Don Juan's but we need to pull it down. There is a block to it above our heads; a curse. It is an aspect of patience, but patience doesn't encompass it. So there is something here that is not patient, it is impatient.

Whenever you find that you can't think of a word....Ok, there is something, it is "Silver" (silly) here. "Impatient to have the house finished is not holy." there is a Si thought here in the room that is saying and I can hear her words. "G must not be holy by tormenting us to finish this house (in Colorado) when we could be there in Cheyenne. There is no any danger there, who is she kidding?" In fact Si is in the house in Cheyenne right now. She is thinking: "There is no reason we can't live here! The child would be ok, we will keep him inside the house. He'd be fine. G is just being mean to us. She wants us to be out there where we don't have running water, where we have to get it from the spring and we have to be in a little tacky concrete block house and Cel doesn't even want us in the mobile home bedroom because she wants to save it for herself. She's selfish. They are just being mean! Mean! Mean!...."

She is being impatient for us to finish and if we don't finish, when we get back there she will start screaming at us. She is impatient! Now if someone is holy they are patient. "In your patience possess ye your souls" I am hearing all of this and it is not the literal words. But she is rationalizing not being out there getting the roof on. Instead she wants to come back to Wyoming while we are gone and just stay there and be warm and have all the pleasures of home and she doesn't realize that (the child) has to have a house when he gets back. We will have to go out there and stay until it is finished, we will do it ourselves with Cel and RP.

Comment: Detention could come in and take (the child) if they think a child is in the house.

G: That's right. We have told them they cannot have the child in that house. That is what is in this room. How did it come in? Oh, I was scanning the house in Cheyenne because every now and then I scan with my dreaming body to see if it is safe, to see if there are private investigators or police around and I saw Si there and I heard her thoughts and I was pulling her thoughts back here because it had to do with her assumption that "If I am impatient, then I am not holy" or assumption that "If I am ruthless, I am not holy". I have pulled a little trick.

There is a Trickery of the Spirit. For instance if I try to irritate C about the food until she is practically in tears by leaving the plastic welded into the turkey while cooking, and then insist she eat it, you know. Later on someone could say “Why didn’t you tell me that is what you were doing?” “You lied, you lied.” You see Trickery of the Spirit is not lying because even the teacher doesn’t know it at the time; it is just supposed to be (occur) although within a few seconds or minutes you know why it has occurred. That is not lying. That is facilitating the plan of God by not saying everything that you know.

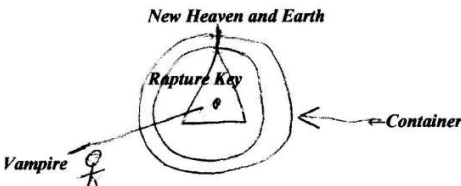

Over and over again people would ask me “What am I doing wrong?...” and they would already know so I couldn’t tell them and then later when they left, they would say “But I asked you over and over again what I was doing wrong and you didn’t tell me!” and I told them “It was because you already knew and you just wanted to know if I knew.” (Laughs) That is not a reason to ask a question.

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

I want you to start thinking again about the cunning, patient, (silly) sweet and ruthless because what exactly is being patient? I’ll tell you exactly what it is. Sometimes I have seen people make the same errors over and over and over and over again. I have erased their karma, I’ve prayed for them and then I’ve finally reached a point where there is nothing I can do but confront them full-fledged because they refuse to be moved by the trickery of the spirit. Their spirit is so willful and satanic that they can’t be shoved from their spirit so I confront them with spoken language, bodily, and I’ll say “You are so damned evil. You know you’ve done this, you’ve done this, you’ve done this...” and I’ll itemize and then they’ll think I’m mean as a snake! But in fact I have been very patient and all they wanted was to see what I knew all those times.

The container must be intact for a person to have the Rapture Key of Spirit protected from thieves. The Rapture Key can be tapped by evil people for the energy of the “Iridescent Sea” of the New Earth...this produces a loss of Holy matter. If such drains are not stopped, the New Earth cannot solidify--- which would plunge all future holy people into a life of hell without hope.

Drawing (4 of 5)

Only 8% left of old earth
 5% Evil Parallel World
 19% to anti-christ
 13% of Earthly spirit matter now is linked to New Heaven and Earth
 55% of Earthly spirit matter now is linked to Hells. When old Earth spirit matter is zero... Rapture occurs!

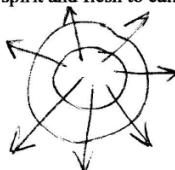

The parallel world and the anti-christ 19% can be reclaimed to old Earth by people who have power of Spirit.
Hell matter can only be reclaimed by Saints who have passed the tests of Spirit.

Drawing:

The Christ force is supposed to be the core of earthly manifestations. By prayer and holy works, humans can intercede for the planet and call in Holy Light Powers.

It takes holiness in spirit and flesh to call in higher holiness to bless the earth of the future.

There are many mysteries about intercession and about learning truth and incorporating truth that in order to benefit from holy teachings a person has to be internally directed to do that which is correct and not just be slapped on the hand by an administrator. And If I became like a teacher with a ruler to hit you; like a mean nun in a girl’s school who would hit your hand every time you did something bad, then what good would it be? Would you have a bunch of trained dogs around the house or in the intercessor group? And when my back is turned you would do what you wanted to? No, it is not proper for people on a path to sainthood to just respond to punishment. If they are not internally directed, they are not worthy. I guess that is really all that I have to say. Are there any questions about the material we have covered today?

←(This drawing is excerpted from a June 1995 Lesson.)

Comment: --Rapture....? G: The earth's substance, there is a page in your packet that was given yesterday that applies to this very subject. Look on this PIE-CHART where I talk about the substances.

Comment:convert some of this stuff to the old to get more time for people to reach the rapture....?

G: I would say energy wise...For example I could sit here all day and transmute karma all day long and shut doors to hells and stuff, but energy wise, to stop the Anti-Christ drains is the most significant thing we can do. How do we do that? Number one we have to teach people how they get Anti-Christ drains. I think education of the masses is the only hope we have of shutting the Anti-Christ doors which is the major problem. If people are pumping energy into the Anti-Christ forces and removing it from the New Heaven and New Earth system potential, then that is absolutely the most dreadful thing that could happen.

The worst thing is when they take it out of the New Heaven and New Earth Bank directly and use it for the Anti-Christ and that is why they get involved with Grace groups, with intercessor groups because they can do that. If they tap this group, they are taking it directly out of the New Heaven and New Earth. That is a tastier morsel than the Old Earth substances. The old Earth, they vampire too, but they much prefer the Grace substances because it is better tasting. The removal from heavens and hells has to be done as well, but I would say it is definitely secondary to stopping the drain, making sure there are no drains on what is already stored on the New Heaven and New Earth and making sure that the pumps which are going to the Anti-Christ from the Old Earth or from the New Earth, that those are stopped. That the pumping be stopped because it is very much like matter. It is like you have only so much water and so many containers and you are putting one in the other.

It is only a person who is unselfish would dedicate himself to solving the spiritual emergency, because in your heart you can look around and you know that it is a crisis in the world. The sounds in the bars....and you could say there has always been evil in the world; and this or that. But it is increasing at a rapid rate like the little three year old girl that got killed by gang members just because her step-dad accidentally drove down the wrong street the day before yesterday. The gang members had marked off a whole territory so they tried to kill off a whole family with a bunch of kids in the car and they killed a little baby. Why do people become so degenerate that even the teenagers are killing babies? No, the danger is in accepting the doppelganger virus thought that "You need to do nothing." We all must do everything that we can or there will be no hope for the future.

I think we are making some headway. The heavens rejoiced with this book (A Prophet's Story). This book will help pull in the sales of Virtues, Laws and Powers and the future books as well. So we must pray for the proper ways to get the book out there, to alert about the Rapture. Virtues, Laws and Powers really didn't address the Rapture that strongly, it just said that it is going to occur. You could say the time that it occurs has to do when the old Earth has lost all of its substance and it is losing it. The more people that use the generative forces for the Anti-Christ hasten that the most rapidly because the kundalini system is part of the earth system.

Using one's energies for God or within Law, in any lawful method has no harm to the earth system. It is not that everybody should just be an abstainer or anything. It just means you should operate within law and if we stop that, that is the only way we will be able to stop the earth drain because the kundalini is draining out of the old earth system.

Comment: Isn't it better to....the old earth....for the time that we have?

G: We need to battle the Anti-Christ and as it stands now we don't have enough substance in the New Heaven for people to survive. In other words there won't be a New Heaven and New Earth unless something is done.

Comment: How do we get more substance into the New Earth?

G: We have to shut the Anti-Christ pumps which means disabling evil people. In essence that is what it means. Learning exorcism techniques, learning how to stop vampirism--the very things you have been learning--and teaching people how not listen to earth grid sounds so that they don't open up to the Anti-Christ sounds. Teaching about law and stuff, these things will help shut the Anti-Christ doors before they get... because to try to take energy from the Anti-Christ is virtually impossible. What you need to do is shut the doors and gather all the energy you can out of the heavens and hells to clean it up. What I call that is "Cancelling Satanic Sales." You know when people sold their souls to the devil, I routinely cancel those sales as much as I can and your destiny will be to cancel those sales, too.

I would say that we have to look at it from a hierarchical perspective and number one is education of the masses and number two is do as much exorcism as we can, purifying the areas around us but we must be pure to do it ourselves. We must build holy karma up so that we can intercede in those ways for other people. If you have a surplus of karma you can intercede for others on the level that you have the surplus.

After that it would be methodically trying to clean out all of the hells and Hades and the only way we can do that is with surplus karma. But it helps to educate people, because by educating people about what they are doing wrong that is hooking them into hells, they are then able to start to pray to release themselves from the hells so they don't keep feeding fallen beings in hell.

Question: ...in clearing us....

G: A person who is holy in intention, plan and action, his body substance and soul substance and spirit substance are all part of the New Heaven and Earth. You should be owned....and you know what Jesus said "The kingdom of heaven is within you." What that means is that your cells will either be radio transmitters for the New Heaven and Earth or it will be for annihilation. In the past I have had you dowse how much of yourself is death in various ways and you can check a kidney or liver "How much of it is death?" And that would mean the path of destruction, the downward path. "How much of it is Light?"

When we are together, particularly this time, the Holy beings are trying to clarify your body tissues that have become tainted with the world. That why it is good for us to be together, you know, fairly often so that then the holy beings can directly work with your bodies to help you to keep on the path of the straight and narrow and to understand ever increasing octaves of what that means. It is not a simple thing. It is a path that is fraught with treachery. It can make you lonely to look out upon the sea of disorder and realize that there is so much to do, and you feel overwhelmed if you thought about it too much.

If you didn't trust that God has His ways...in that one holy person can transmute a thousand jerks; more than that, a million, two million. Look at Jesus he said "Greater things shall ye do..." and He took on the sins of humanity and we are going to do more than take on the sins, we are going to try to get them to quit sinning! Well, He did too! He tried to get people to quit sinning; He brought Christianity to the world. He stopped cannibalism in Mexico. You know, Christ through the ages has changed the course of events of everything. And unfortunately a lot of evil has come in and clouded His messages and made them a graven image instead of an ever evolving kaleidoscope of majesty of the glory of God. And by making His teachings a graven image like in the Bible "Well it says right here...!" rather than looking for the spirit of the law, people have destroyed the very thing they think they are saving.

So I would say we have a great job to do. And we have suffered a lot in that we are winning the war in my opinion, but we have lost some battles because of human decisions. We are still operating within Law and getting this book out was a major, major success. All of us had to fight so hard! We had to move, keep moving, with hired killers; imagine trying to write a holy book with a hired killer sitting in a car with a gun a half a block down staring at the door to see you when you come out? How oppressive that would be, feeling the eyes? Being warned to hide over and over again and hiding in those air ducts in 301 for hours. How that slowed down the work of God, which is exactly what they wanted. And it may be that I have to go out onto the land and write somehow, with batteries in the computer. I don't know. But I know one thing. I won't back down, just like the song says, and you won't either.

You are not going to be backed down, no matter what obstacles....that is where endurance, that is where constancy....no matter what overwhelms you. Say two weeks in a row you can't write because you are running from hired killers or from P.I.s or because of the police and suddenly you get one day to write and you can breathe deep. You don't want to sit there and say "Why God am I not allowed to write for two weeks?" No! you say "I rejoice that I can write today".

And we must rejoice as well. Like when you guys try to take a plane trip and they try to screw everything up, they try to get you to not come here. Instead of saying "Why do I have obstacles? Why are the spirit forces trying to block me from getting there?" instead just say "I rejoice, God, that I have been able to understand another octave of your Divine plan and laws and I give thanks for that and I trust that you will make the way plain before me. I pray for the removal of obstacles that I have right now that I don't worry about the ones in the past except as some way to understand the mysteries of time and space but without emotion, regret or grief." A warrior cannot afford to be out of control with grief, regret, shame or excessive thinking. A warrior is in the battle in the middle of it and deals with what is right in front of him. He puts one foot in front of the other and says "How Lord may I serve today..." when you wake up.

For weeks it was "Ok, you have to clear all of this Karma before you can write" So I spent days in my office and oh, I wanted to write that book! And for weeks I had to just sweat karmic bullets just for hours on end and it was just like total pain from sunup to sundown. I would be in my office just trying to get clear enough from the karma balloon to see. And each day I would say "Dear Lord, what am I to do?" and I was always hoping God would say "Write." But He would say "Clear the karma balloon" and I said "Yes, Yes massah...." so I would be sweating karmic bullets. Then the next day "What am I to do, master?"--"You are to sweat karmic bullets"---"Oh, Ok" over and over again.

You must be like that too, you just say "Lord..." and instead of reciting your past or thinking about the future you just say "OK, Lord, what may I do to fulfill your Plan today?" Because it could be frightening if you thought too much about the Rapture. It is a terrible thing to think of us not having enough time to save the souls of humanity. But we can't indulge in too much fear. We must just do the work in front of us as rapidly and as efficiently as we can, but as purely as we can.

There were times I would start to write anyway, and then I would realize that a fallen being was coming in. So I had to keep fighting them because they were coming out of the karma balloon and if my ultimate goal was just to produce a book rapidly, I could have put out ten because I am fast. But it was the design of power that this book be different from anything else; and to be mysterious on several levels and it had to be done purely. For that reason I just had to take each day, and it was as fast as it could have been produced given the terrible spiritual karma balloon that was above. But we are getting out of it and I give thanks that you guys are trying hard. I give thanks that (a baby) has a soul that is bright. I give thanks for improving physical health, I give thanks that RP has mastered all those computer programs and everything and I don't have to (laughs). That he knows how to do all of that artistic stuff.

I give thanks that Cel has facilitated so much since I really can't go out to a store for fear of being seen, even in Cheyenne, where I thought I would get away from that. Oh well. I can say "I thought I could be ok and I'm not. Darn, Darn...." No! It's ok! Each day...so I am in the house three weeks at a time. I give thanks that at least I can write. I give thanks that I am alive. We need to give thanks and we need to trust in God.

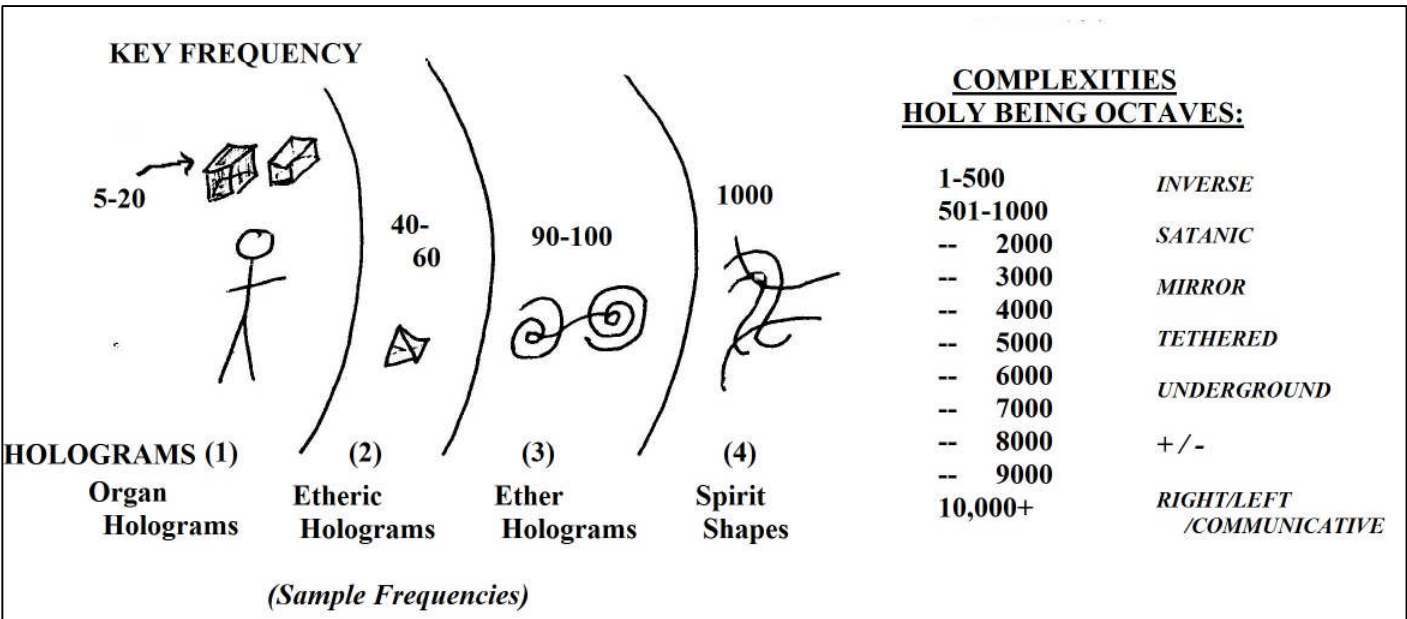

If we give thanks and we trust in God, then we will be lead to holiness: forever. And our success depends upon our impeccability and not the outcome. That is how you measure success by impeccability and not outcome. Of course the outcome that we desire is that the New Heaven and New Earth solidify and that people's souls are saved. But our success is measured by our own integrity and impeccability rather than the outcome. So when you lay down your head to rest at the end of the day, you know you have done your best, you know you are a success no matter what, if the world is in complete disarray, you know you have done your best, then you can trust in God.

You just lay yourself in God's hands and give thanks.

Alright, how about we go somewhere and do something fun?

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

One of the overriding things (re. the chapter "FREDERICK" in The Prophet's Story) is that he has "lost, lost, lost...." it is like one of those literary things where you have two reasons for choosing an unusual word. Like "losing" you don't hear that part but its undertone is "losing." Does that make sense to you?

OK, what if we say the prayers: (Break in tape)

Now we need to pray that God show us what we need to impart from this trip with most significantly. We need to pray that we be shown any gaps in the knowledge that would interfere with you doing your work in the coming months. One thing that that I want you to do while I am waiting for the holy beings to [--?], I want you to keep in mind the chart that we printed up yesterday on which I drew a few things about the torqued spirit (See page 40).

One thing that we can teach to people most readily through the writings; and the writings will begin shortly I hope, unless we get harassed tremendously for this next book, is that the spirit that they are born with, they can learn to align that, and they can do that by partially, partially, by merely aligning their body's thought choices and action choices. Deeds in themselves are not holy unless there are holy intentions but holy actions can sometimes precipitate a habit that then provokes an alignment of the spirit.

So, even though it is true "As above, so below" there is also an aspect of "By their fruits ye shall know them" and those do not contradict even though people have tried to use aspects or lines out of the Bible in order to say it is only one way or the other way. I tell you it affects both ways and a holy person is holy in action, planning and intention. And if a person is not holy in all three of those ways, then their spirit will become poison.

The spirit has an aspect of will substance, intend substance and desire substance and what a man desires in his heart becomes manifest in his spirit. When Jesus said "Let he who has never sinned cast the first stone" when the adulteress was being stoned in the plaza; and He said "Whoever has committed adultery in his heart has committed it" that was really kind of a new concept in many ways to people, and I think that it still is. People believe that they can desire, want, intend, plan and do anything and unless they actually execute the act they think they are innocent.

I remember one of the old movies that we watched where a man was falsely accused of killing his wife, but he wanted her dead. He didn't kill her, but he wanted her dead. So he decided to go ahead and be executed as guilty because he wanted her dead in his heart. In his heart he wanted her dead. And that is how he resigned himself to the electric chair. I think it was Robert Young, wasn't it?

Comment: No, Montgomery Clift.

G: There was another one with Robert Young.

Comment: He threw himself out of the window before the verdict was given. They came in with the verdict of not guilty but he had already...

G: He already decided he was guilty because he wanted her dead. Those are two different movies, but they had the same theme that sadly is missing from the way people tend to think today. One thing we need to teach humanity is that what you intend or plan to do, whether you have physically executed it (or not), you are what you plan and intend.

Anyone who has ever strongly wished another person dead is a murderer. (Pause) It may be that God decides to take somebody home, or wherever their home is supposed to be, but it is God's decision in the physical and we must be primarily concerned about the spiritual acts, the spiritual planning, the spiritual intentions and the spiritual desires. If we are to lead people we must first help them to align their non-physical components because if they align their physical components but in their heart they are plotting and planning and hating and murderous then they will just be shallow, horrible misusers of Law.

You see this in metaphysical communities a lot, and in a lot of churches you will see people where "We are friendly to everybody...!" and they smile! It is kind of like the southerners in the old movies, how the cops were when they would stop people... "Hi there, brother...!" and they would just be smiling, but in reality their hearts were full of poison. They learned to put on a veneer so as to be socially acceptable or to have people do what they wanted, but their hearts were full of poison. Of course Jesus addressed this with the rabbis as well. He said "Oh, you men you put on long robes and talk about holiness and worry about washing the feet or hands but you steal houses from widows." You see, Jesus knew that a veneer of holiness was not holiness and that...and Jesus said "If I ate meat you called me a glutton. If I drank wine with the prostitutes you called me a whore monger and a wine bibber" and He said "Damned are you...." he didn't say this literally in the Bible but I can tell you the meaning that he said after that, because I always remember the meanings of what Jesus said more than the literal words. But He said "It is a dreadful state of affairs when a people can no longer see with spirit." They see the letter of the law, or the movement of limbs or whatever but they fail to see the spirit that is behind it which is the core of what we need to look at; because many things are confusing if you look at them just on the surface.

During this time together I have pointed out to you weaknesses in your spirit that I have tried to provoke during the time of your education. And the holy beings have been working to correct those. (For "A") your physical sluggishness during the day? You said you believed it was a spiritual cause and I agree, I think it had absolutely to do with some of the things that we discussed but you are being helped with that and if you pray for the root cause to be corrected, in a couple of months hopefully this will remedy. The holy powers have been struggling to pull your spirits back up into alignment so that you can then align above and below with that communicative force of spirit.

Now, what I would like for you to get into the habit of doing, is dowsing without any fear or expectation and a calm acceptance. The reason is there are so many mysteries about your destiny, about the destiny of the world. If you are afraid to receive an answer, you won't know the way to go. You may get an answer that may seem dreadful, but it may not be exactly how you are looking at it.

At this point your dowsing should be and is, a spirit response. For instance when C couldn't take the Spirulina, she just found herself gagging. She was having a total body response that for some reason it was not compatible with Spirulina and this implies that her spirit was interfering with her body taking it in.

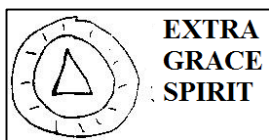

People who are completely severed from their spirit don't notice when they are incompatible with anything because the best dowsing has to go through the spirit aspect of a person.

It doesn't mean that C was not somewhat torqued spiritually, but even so, she was still adhered; her spirit was still adhered to her body which was good because it gave her a strength.

If the spirit torques away but is adhered to the body, it can produce physical manifestations like a shadow. It is almost like, if you think of the Law Clock and think of the little arrow, the top of your particular Air, Fire or Water Astrological predisposition are in alignment and as I have said, you tend to be an Air, Fire or Water type but you can change, too.

For instance if a person pushes their water too much they might become an air. They might vaporize in a sense. In other words they torque so much that their Air is up and that may be wrong for them. Say if your life purpose is supposed to be along a water line and you torque it so that the air is up, then that could produce say, a pulmonary problem because you are somehow going against the Divine plan by accentuating an Air trait that goes against your water purpose.

It sounds like I am talking pretty much about physical things but what I am really talking about is the impact of the spirit that is adhered to a physical form as it should be with a tight connection so that it doesn't wander off but that instead tends to be torqued and therefore will produce a (physical) response. A case is Cel: at birth Cel I think, was a water, now that I'm looking at her. I have to scan back and it is kind of mushy and she was torqued away, maybe a quarter of the pie, 90 degrees. But then about 4 years ago her Fire angle was up. I mean what should have been the water/up, her fire went up, the Fire angle of her Triangle and when that occurred it produced in her a tendency....whereas a water type if they are maladaptive may become depressed or something. A fire type may tend to feel hate. So then she developed a kind of hostility aberration. If her fire was totally aligned, her water and air would probably be totally aligned, too. When one goes bad the other two tend to go bad as well, so it screwed her up.

The holy beings have been working on your spirits during this time and they have done something that is unusual that I am seeing in all of you and I'll draw it. They are giving you a type of a Grace Spirit Design in which you have an Air, Fire, Water Triangle but all three of them appear to be pointing up to the New Heaven and New Earth. And the center is the Christ Impulse. So instead of looking at the Triangle as in the center...it is now up on the top and I've never seen this before and I assume that the Holy Beings have done this so that you will have power along air fire and water lines. In essence it is as though you have three lines up. It is as though you can't really torque, but you could move it away. It would almost be more appropriate to draw it with three lines up because there is not an aspect of torque. Instead of a Triangle, it is almost as if you have three lines up with a top on it, so you have a Case, but it is like they are even. This is unusual; I haven't ever seen this before.

Question: Being in the center is what?

Answer: The Christ Impulse is the Core; the line going up here...is the connection to the New Heaven and New Earth. This is an unusual shift in spirit that I can only assume must mean that God has plans for you. This may be more stabilizing too, after a time. It feels like it is not completed yet, but it may be going on for another two days. It takes three days to complete, maybe one day you do an Air and one day a fire--that is exactly what it is, the Holy Beings are saying.

Right now, C is doing her water today, B water, A fire, Cel fire, RP is doing fire too. There must be some logic to it in that the next two days you are going to be doing the other two elements. There is an overlay there of course of Intend, Will and Desire. So you will be receiving purification and you should continue to pray for that over the next two days because this is quite a gift in that this is a Grace Set-up which will help you to get over core miasmic type weaknesses associated with your predominate type if you submit yourself in body, mind and soul.

Comment: Does that mean that the predominate type for myself....or others that there is no order...

G: What this means is that the Grace Beings are trying to align your spirit so that you would have all three elements and you would be called a Christ Impulse Type or a Grace Type. Which means that it is not required that you have an underlying weakness. The normal reason for an underlying weakness is for you to learn lessons along a certain type of error. For instance C, with your fear of starvation with the symptoms of your weakness and B's with his "good woman/bad woman" and A's with "Family is god" and what was Cel's? "Hate" or something and "Control" and God knows the rest of it. But whatever that is, it is like by Grace you can be free of that burden so as to serve in the realm of Grace without the burden of the karma of your type.

In other words it is not just your karma being cleaned; it is a type of alignment so that you can serve in a special function in the Divine Army. I don't know what all that will be. It may be; I don't know. I think each one of you should pray as to how you are supposed to function in your spiritual role towards the manifestation of God's Plan on earth.

One thing you should look for though, in thinking of it now, I told you yesterday to look for torquing of spirit and you are going to need to look at that with other people. One way to look at it; say you are trying to evaluate what is wrong with someone? Of if someone bugs you for some reason? What you will do is first dowse "Were they born an Air, Fire or Water dissonance?" but don't try to think of it rationally. For example, if they are all bloated then "They must be water" or if they are red-faced "They must be a fire type." Don't think of it in a rational way because you know, if one is really torqued bad, the others will go bad. Just ask God to show you and then see how torqued they are. For your evaluation of whether someone you are wanting to pray for, or you are watching, or whatever, such as if B is seeing a patient who is really sick; then you could just dowse in your mind how torqued they are, or perhaps they might be herniated, or the other problems I've discussed (and drawn).

If their spirit is herniated that can cause physical problems. You could think of it in an organ system for instance. If a person has a disease like some type of palsy condition of any of the many variants; say they have Parkinson's or any type of thing like that. There is someone like this, and I'm trying to figure out who it is. A female, someone I am supposed to help. That is what it is. Sometimes I will start getting images of someone like that and she is an example. If someone is really troubled, you wonder if you can help them. The holy beings have brought in an image of this woman who is about 68 years old, with real bad tremors and she was born a fire type, very straight and clean, not torqued at all and not cloudy.

The characteristics you would evaluate with spirit would be:

And those are the main things.

Cloudiness	Torqued	Herniation	Loss of Substance
------------	---------	------------	-------------------

So she had all of her substance when she was born, she was a fire type and she was fine. At the age of 53 she suddenly went to a satanic torque because she wanted to hate her daughter because her daughter would not take care of her. I know who it is now, it is (someone's relative). She always said "Why would you have kids if they don't take care of you when they grow old?" Of course she has somebody else waiting on her hand and foot. That is what it is, she decided to hate her daughter for not taking care of her and somehow that torqued her completely away. Of course, she had already torqued some, but she really torqued then. There is something I am supposed to do here. Remove the lines of force that she has put out to produce harm to a child.

If a person gets a poisonous spirit, particularly if they have been given any Grace at all, they can throw out lines and start forming curses with their own spirit which can be very poisonous if they have ever had a bit of Grace, or any power at all, or any association with power. So how many lines of force would I say? Two.

If you find a person who is having an illness, you need to dowse whether they have Curse Lines Out.

What might be happening is, those curse lines are producing a back-up of poison.

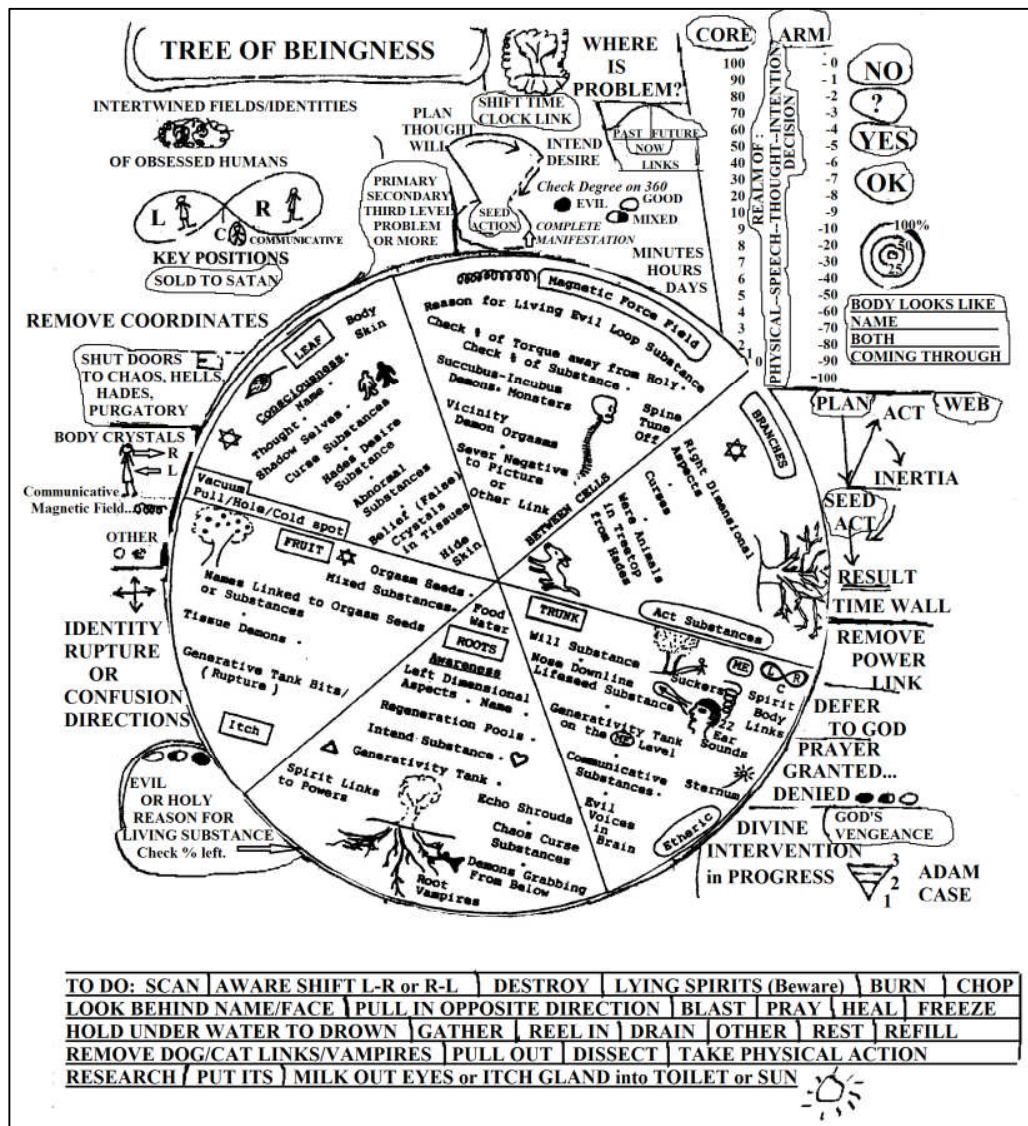

➤ If a person hates, they tend to get a type of poisoning, like an auto poisoning reaction.

These CURSES, this is something that you are going to see again and again. These curses are like big clouds that are in Akasha around the Earth. Right now I am pulling one into the room which is why I am getting a little fuzzy. But these clouds of curses....it is like she has festered and fed the memory of hating with circular thoughts about hating into her Akasha, so it is like a big poison cloud in the Mega Akasha and also on her own body. So what that is producing is an overall toxic condition of body and spirit. She no longer has a soul. The reason this should be removed is that it has like a crystallized program of hate. She may still choose to hate, but if she chooses to hate and her spirit that is in Akasha is removed, then she cannot curse people with it.

What you would dowse in a person like this, who is getting a physical manifestation and you can dowse this on yourself as of a month ago or something, Ask "How much of her spirit has been replaced with poison or with death, death energies?" So Check "What % of Spirit Substance has been replaced by Death?" We can call it Death substance.

You could Ask: "Where did her spirit substance go?" It went into that akasha cloud.

Akasha clouds are largely made of, and I have said before, it is like over the Earth, it is like the Earth's ether. The Earth's Ether is actually the stuff that gets recycled when babies are born and creates new akasha rings and new spirits. The earth's ether is very valuable because it is what babies get spirit from.

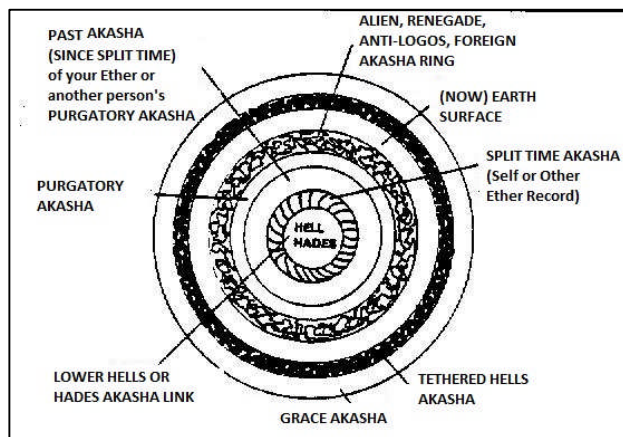

Now think of the significance of that. If the ring around the earth, the Akasha Ring; and it is not just to store memories it actually breaks down at a certain point and can be brought back in as new spirit substance so that babies then, can then see the spirit of things and hopefully have a soul. Because you can't support a soul without a spirit.

"Tree of Beingness" Chart from 1995 April

SPIRIT is like a tree. If you sat and thought of the spirit, it would be like the trunk and the soul would be the fruit and the branches and the body would be what binds it to the earth, the roots.

Now you wouldn't do any good if you chopped a tree off right at the ground and it didn't have any trunk. It wouldn't bear fruit. It has to have the top portion. Likewise a child must have spirit substance in order to hold a soul. If spirit substances become toxic, like this woman's, it should be composted rather than allowed to attract Anti-Christ energies, hells and hades creatures because otherwise those curse energies poison not just the person but the whole earth and particularly whoever is being cursed as well.

What we need to do, and one of the jobs you will have will be to remove Evil Spirit Substance from the Mega Earth Akasha Ring. I predict by our next gathering you will be able to start doing that; probably not until then. There will probably be some things you are going to have to do first.

The Mega Earth Akasha Ring, the parts that are poisonous spirit, those are the big pockets that the Anti-Christ Doors are able to open. It is kind of like the concept of the key and lock. There are certain distortions of spirit in the sky and in a person's aura produces a shape that the Anti-Christ can open by partial resonance. By removing this, we will be able to slow the degeneration of the Earth and speed up the development of the New Earth and New Heaven substance.

middle finger and I want to see if you can taste the difference with an evil spirit in the room. Who can describe the difference? The reason is, this is kind of a test. It has to do with you developing your spiritual detection skills because they affect the cranial nerves and can be translatable by this test. You can evaluate someone's spirit. All you have to do is look at them and do this (middle finger of right hand on the tongue) and you can tell if it tastes different. It may taste flatter and it doesn't have to taste bad. What it tastes like to me, it is almost like there is an anesthetic.

Comment: An iron taste. (Audio tape starts to speed up and becomes somewhat unintelligible):

G: Yes, there is a bit of an iron taste. It may be a little different with each of you. What I want you to do is to get used to detecting a nuance. Does your finger feel a little dead?

Comment: Yes, and spongy.

G: To me it feels like someone else's finger. It is almost like you are tasting someone else. It doesn't seem like your skin. If you think about it, this sounds like a gross experiment but it would actually be very good, for instance B, taste C's finger and she can taste yours. What you need to do and the way to tell is that it feels like it is someone else's hand. In other words the spirit of your hand in the room tastes like someone is dead, it is not yours. It has no life to it. That is the most sense that I have. Now taste it again, and I'm going to try to get rid of this spirit and then I want you to taste after that. Now I am going to get rid of this spirit and I want you to taste it again after that.

To get rid of a foul spirit in a room or on a person who has a poisoned akasha, the most important thing is, you must be impersonal. You must have no desire for an outcome except that it is God's will. We must have no willfulness about whether it needs to be (destroyed or) cleaned up, patched and returned back. The Holy Spirit knows whether it has to be destroyed. With Divine Forces it can be replaced if a person is worthy. If you find a poison spirit, you must destroy it, because it becomes a possessing thing. It can possess babies and stuff. So you need to destroy it, but then you can pray "If it is God's Will, that this person through an intercessor be given another chance to have a spirit, then so be it. Not my will but thine, Oh Lord". What [---].

When you have decided to have your desire (purified) and your will is submitted and your intention is to do God's will....; Ok the technique that we often describe as "Holding under water to drown" will often work to compost a rotten spirit [---] and a possessing spirit. It is in essence, reducing its frequency and holding it so that it can't get air from you. Because what is it that spirits want to do when they get into the room? They actually do seem to take your air. Now as I am clearing this, I want you to notice, is your breathing shallow? Often you will breathe shallowly in the presence of an evil spirit. You will notice that you are not breathing deeply. If you ever notice that you are breathing shallowly, it is most likely due to the presence of evil spirits. Because you can actually breathe them in and when you see people die, they come out. I have seen it.

And I got to noticing that whenever a spirit was around I would hold my breath to anticipate them. What you need to do is not breathe in these evil spirits. You don't want to hold your breath, but you want to hold it under water until it drowns. You want to grab it with your own will and drown it and how a person does this, is one of the mysteries to me. But I know that all you have to do is to think of that (action) of holding a black, foul spirit--many of which are succubus/incubus by the way. They become that. They become a type of succubus incubus. You just hold it under water until it drowns and you ask God to tell you when to release it. And then you will feel it kind of pop. Like I am holding this one under water letting it drown and there is a sense of it popping.

Now I want you to recheck your finger on your tongue. If you are having trouble, put it on more of your tongue. Maybe the end of your tongue has lost nerve endings. You should have a sense of it being salty or a sense of it being more like flesh than before because what you are really detecting is that your own spirit is what you are tasting instead of someone else's death spirit.

You can check your own spirit by merely thinking of the middle finger of the right hand and ask :

"How much of the spirit of this finger is Death?" or

You can check it on the animate scale.

"How animate was my spirit two weeks ago?"

You are going to know how much death you have invited. Right now your spirits are all animate and you have been healed by the Grace of God. And there will come a day when you will be able to heal your own spirit. But first you have to be immaculately in control of your own in order to be [---]. You have to be in control of your own. You must master your body, speech and actions in the realm of intention, plan and desire. And when you do that, you will be able to master others'.

Remember what I have said that "A man masters that which is below him and submits to that which is above him." And you cannot teach what you do not know. But then again, appearances can be deceiving as we are seeing in your own spiritual flaws that have peeked out. The Holy Beings have aligned you and (if you choose to explore your) weaknesses [-inaudible-] and you will be going against the grain of your Grace spirit so that I wouldn't recommend it because it will bring suffering upon yourselves. And you don't want that. You are to the point now that your path will unfold before you [--]. But if you try to resist that path, you will suffer because you have crossed the line [--] and there really isn't any going back. And you can never forget your path. You can never "just go back into the world" of the unknowing. And that is one reason that these books, when they come out, will be somewhat controversial. But, because once a person reads [--] they know in their heart what is true. And some part of them will be provoked by the very designs in the book to recognize it as true. And there is [--]. But there [---] different.

I am sensing that the holy beings are bringing in a spirit of a higher kind of [---] into the room for your education and blessing. When it comes in, I want you to notice if you start to breathe differently. A long time ago at conferences, particularly Christmas conferences the angels would come around sometimes and there would be a smell, a certain smell where you would find yourself breathing more deeply. And the reason was that the [--] inhibition of the breathing was often due to foul spirits of substance. If people are sitting there and their akasha rings around them are poison, it will make the room feel crowded like you can't breathe with a poisoning influence. And now the forces are coming in to fill your lungs with holy spirit blessing. And I want you to put your hand over your diaphragm and see if you can feel as you breathe, just kind of feel that expansion inhalation. Feel the warmth start to develop there as you inhale Holy Spirit substances. I want you to see if it gets warmer around your solar plexus.

[---] solar plexus and now I see why the Holy Spirit wanted us to do this exercise. If you pray and you want to evaluate whether you have enough personal impeccability and power to bring in the Holy Spirit, you are going to feel that [---].

END OF SIDE A

AUDIO TAPE #5 Transcribed: SEPTEMBER 24, 1995 Side B

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

It seems to me that “B” has something wrong with his ability to draw in the Holy Breath. Now “C”, I want you to put your hand on his (solar plexus) and I want you to evaluate before and after. Check it for not just warmth, but characteristics, like what you sense there. It seems like there is a residual hate “Lock” there that was reformed. It is important that this be removed because it would interfere with him knowing God’s plan for his life. I don’t get that it is B’s fault. It has something to do with D. Well, I guess it does have a little bit of B’s fault in it. It is like a woman reminded you of the pushy woman thing. And there was something that hooked you back into the resonation and popped your spirit back into its old Lock flaw.

If you think of your spirit as similar to your own body shape, like an overlay? It is as though right here, something triggered, it has something to do with the plantation that we were visiting earlier. It was a woman there that you looked at and there was something about her that made you recall; and you don’t have to consciously recall the “pushy women vs. good women” problem. But there was something about it made you develop the same kink. It was as if spirit is like your body, it was as though his belly just suddenly caved in a notch.

C: Caved in here? When you said check what was going on? I kept feeling mine and feeling his and I felt it.

B: I think I know what it was. We were going from one room to another and I was ready to follow C and this fat woman stepped right in front of me (laughter)

G: I remember the woman because I remember thinking “remember that woman.” But I didn’t see the incident. Now remember when I said that you have to be careful about ever thinking “They are always like that” or “Fat women are always like this or that” if you have a generalization that you have somehow stored in your inventory of truth then what happens is, you will get a knee-jerk reaction on a spirit level when you have something happen to you that hurts you, and not the other irritating person at all.

Question: But you don’t know that? I mean you can’t pick that up?

G: Well, you are going to have to be trained to do that because most people are knee-jerk all the time. Most people are so full of spirit holes, it is ridiculous. So in order for you to be a master of the spirit realm, you have to become a master of noticing when your spirit dents thereby forming a Lock that someone’s crack can crawl in and hook to you; to hook you in that Lock. So what happened, B’s spirit was smoothed out and then it dented back in from habit. I think that is something you are going to have to look at on a regular basis.

You are going to have to dowse over body parts and ask

“Where is my spirit dented in?” and

“How much deviation do I have on a body part?” and in your case ask

“How much deviation do I have in my solar plexus?”

And when you pray together you ought to check for the Warmth factor or the Sense of ‘rightness’

Because you will be able to tell it. Ok, now we are going to ask the Divine Beings.....

Now, B, before you get cured here, I would like for A to feel your solar plexus right below where it dents in. Feel there and I want you to hold your hand there while I ask the Holy Beings to please pop out that dent and fill it in with the Holy Breath.

You know a dent is not an easy thing, for the simple reason that it becomes the same complex pattern that existed; that has built up over the years in goes into the same form. It is actually a quite complicated pattern. It is not just a dent; it often has a hundred turns because it goes to the identical pattern that took years to develop. Ok, now I’m going to see if you have any more blocks to bringing in the Holy Breath.

Take a deep breath and ask “That the Holy Powers fill you and allow you to breathe in truth and the glory of God, and all that is holy of the God of our Lord Jesus in your breath.” Now, A: I want you to tell me if you can feel a temperature or a character difference.

A: There is a sense of smoothness. I feel like it is getting a little warmer.

G: Yes it is like it almost has to circulate. C, why don’t you check it now and see if you can sense a difference?

This is going to be something that you will need to check all the time.

Ask: “Are you reforming your old spirit flaws?” or in other words

“Are you forming Locks that evil spirits can use a Key on?” Or other people can!

If that fat woman can irritate you, then she's got your number. All you need then, is to have a fat woman irritate you and you will pop so full of holes that every demon in hell will crawl in there, or somebody with red lipstick and a red purse who carries bottles of wine mixed with prayer candles in her bag. (Laughter)

See, this is where being in the now is important and I have been trying and trying to (teach a child) to be patient. He has had a good opportunity while Si has been all cranky to learn patience and endurance around people that may be a little bit out of control. The fat woman was out of control, she was pushy. She just shoved right in front of you. But that was a good opportunity to learn equanimity and you noticed it. That is the first thing: I'm glad you could remember the incident because I didn't notice it. I only remember seeing the woman and thinking "I need to remember that face."

I have tried checking with the right and the left hand to see if one hand is able to perceive cool or hot more easily because if one of your hands cannot perceive the heat of the Holy forces then you may have a yin or yang block.

Question: -Inaudible-

Answer: No. I would say that it comes in for special purposes. It is kind of like the day of Pentecost when the gifts of the Spirit came in (to the disciples of Jesus). Some were given the power of speech and others were given the gifts of healing and stuff. When you are doing your Holy work there will be times when it is supposed to come in and times when it is not supposed to come in. It would be good for you to put on your dowsing charts:

Add to The To Do List:

Pray: "That the Holy Breath enters your lungs, your body and spirit." This would be better:

Pray "That the Holy Breath enters into your body and spirit." If I check right now in the room in general, on my right hand I feel a lot of warmth because the Holy Breath is here and my left hand is feeling very cold. In other words I have a lack of sensitivity....I am scanning all of you but I think it is Cel, though. When I look at Cel, I can't...but now it is starting to warm up because she is trying to rally. Before she tried to rally, when I looked at her, my left hand couldn't sense the Holy Breath, the yin side of the room was off kilter. See how it is if even one person is off kilter in some way?

Why is she off kilter? I'll just ask the Holy Beings. I think it had to do with Cel having a type of spiritual aberration starting to try to reform that has to do somewhat with; it has an aspect of the control issue but there are layers to it such as "Feeling hate but wanting to be loved"; "Giving into emotionalism but wanting to be loved anyway and yet hating" a tendency to rapidly feel hostility without patience. It was interesting that I kept saying to a child "You need to learn patience."

With children you are going to see that if adults manifest a spiritual and physical weakness the children are like mirrors. You can usually tell before a child reaches the age of accountability, they tend to reflect disorders in a group and magnify them. For instance when the child was sitting at the table and he kept doing that (G makes pounding sounds) and you could say "Oh, that is a normal kid." But you see, I have also seen him sit very still and just listen but he had an impatience with a look in his eyes that was agitated and he started to talk about Si and with hate.

You see, one could describe any incident that happened regarding a relationship with another person without hate and my favorite way to deal with such things is with humor. You can say almost anything if you don't hate. And to learn the difference behind the spirit of what the person says vs. the content is of extreme importance. I was telling you how I was tormenting RP to get his spirit aberration out by talking about the eyeball of (his relative) falling out from reading the Playboy magazine and that is how he ended up with one eyeball, which sounds so gross. Like that is a horrible thing to say about someone's relative who has lost an eyeball. But you see, the spirit behind it was not because I hated the (relative) at all, it was because I wanted to address a miasmatic spiritual weakness and it seemed to be the easiest way.

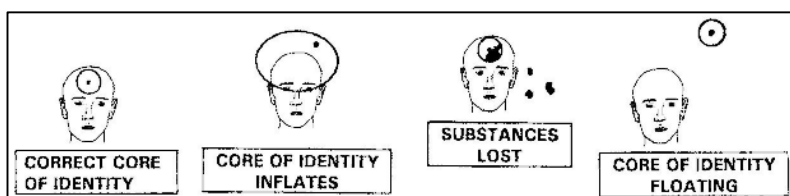

Energy is important to consider whenever you interact with other people on any level, whether it is spiritually, physically or anything. You don't want to waste time. You want to achieve God's plan with the least amount of effort. That is what we have to look at as we plan the future of this work. That is what you have to look at in regard to your own spiritual growth. Sometimes I have had to shove people by very strong means that appeared to be quite vile merely because it was the fastest way to produce a change. Remember what Don Juan said? "There are two ways people change; through fear and embarrassment" I think there is a lot to that, because people, unless they have a sense of necessity often fail to change. They fail to progress. And we need to remember that, we must present the real necessities that are present, including the Rapture.

Remember the alien situation and the Rapture? If it makes people a little afraid, I am not that worried about it because people lack necessity and they end up being lazy. (If they are lazy) then they read spiritual works as some sort of a trinket to lay on the coffee table and they don't change. It is like the story of THE MOTHER in The Prophet's Story she says "Churches are fine as long as they don't change your life! You can meet people there and get business contacts!" It was very key that that was the last chapter because that in its essence is what half of all people or half of those that go to church (believe). When it comes right down to it, they have social relationships, business relationships, but they really don't want their lives to change. They want them to stay the same! Or they want them to get better so they are comfortable mentally or physically. Do people really, really, really go to church thinking that somehow God is going to turn them over and make them more holy each time they go to church? When they are praying are they truly praying to be transformed and Christ like? Or are they praying to be comfortable, or to get their daughter's wedding paid for, or to get their slate wiped clean?

It is something that we must evaluate when we prepare these works. Getting back to Cel, though. She had this spiritual defect, she has a defect that she was not starting to torque; remember I said that one of the first things you check is the torque. Well now your spirits are kind of secure and all three parts are on top of the container pretty tightly held. But what was happening was, she was trying to blow up her container. In other words she was pumping air in the balloon in order to envelop the rest of us in a sense of a sub-conscious thing of "I wish that people loved me", or "I wish that I could be like G" or "I wish that I could be different than I am" It was almost like a Grandma's Porch thing, but it was more than that. It was a sense of...there was an undercurrent of self-hate and something like that. And I don't even know what triggered it. Usually these things have a trigger. Let me see if I can trace it.

It was yesterday, it was sometime yesterday when Cel started thinking. It seems like it was after the museum and late last night her mind got to going or something and her mind got emotional. What happens with her and you will see this with other people, their spirit container swells out and starts losing its boundaries. In other words it is going to crack and pop if you keep going. It is like your balloon was getting too big. Cel's big problem is that she tends to float out and then she loses her boundaries and then it is like she is enveloping a big area of disorder where her spirit container should be held tight. Hold it tight in. But it won't be held tight unless you have control of desire, of will, and of intend substance. That would be another thing when we do a chart of spirit disorders we need to put "Inflated Spirit Container."

Cel: What was the trigger?

G: It was something I said.

Cel: Do you remember what it was?

Comment from student:...(something about a pizza....

Cel: Really?

G: It has something to do with the "food/love" link. Of course psychologists have talked about this forever. You know love and food associations with Thanksgiving and stuff and "If you love me you give me this food." Maybe pizza represented to you something that you felt you needed emotionally and when I said "OMG, that is gross!" there was a sense of being rejected because you wanted a pizza, and you became emotional but it seemed like you didn't start swelling out just then. I'm glad (this student) noticed what happened! It is so good that you could track it to the time. You were observant and you noticed when Cel shifted gears. That is great! So the association between the food thing, tends to make you inflate spiritually.

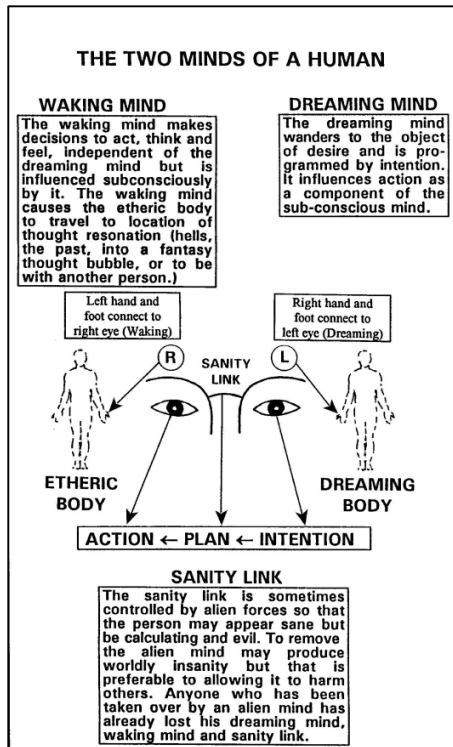

Comment from Cel: -Inaudible-

G: It is the control aspect, but you see it is almost like your Triangle has a Will/Control problem, it has a Desire thing that has linked food and love together and then it has an Intend problem like "I intend to do damn well what I please..." That is a tendency to go back to a very primary....I would say like in B's case, he was snapping back and he was getting a dent, but you tend to expand and lose boundaries because it is almost like all three components tend to get wobbly at once and they start to push out and inflate. So that is something you will probably need to check.

You could check the inflation thing on the 100% scale if 50% is the right size of your container,

"How big is your container? "

I'm going to check and now my hand is starting to warm up. See, when you are evaluating someone else who you think you might be supposed to help? When you think of them, check your right and left hand because if one whole hand is cold when you are feeling with the holy breath, that means your healing powers for that that person are blocked on one side of your...in other words the yin powers were blocked. The yin powers were blocked for her healing because there was a hostility and neediness and a love/food issue and a control issue and that is why the map thing occurred; it is the control thing: "That controlling bitch", you know. So it is fine; it is ok for you to recognize that someone is controlling, but you don't want to go back to your old inventory to create a spiritual weakness with it.

So just remember your hand on the solar plexus and I want you to get to practice of feeling the Holy Breath in, because you are going to need to do that more and more as time goes on as your duties in the divine plan increase if you are worthy enough to allow them to increase.

Question: How do you implement that? You were mentioning this shakiness and someone I know has Parkinson's...

G: What I have found is that I will spontaneously start working on someone without thinking about it. The thing you never want to do, is to do it as a response of feeling sorry for someone. You need to know from where you are generating that desire, will and intend. You want to be sure you are pretty clear and that you are not doing it out of sorrow. And then you ought to be able to Dowse "Is it God's will that I intervene for this person?"

See, even a person without a soul can be healed in spirit the question is, will they go back? What do they go back to? Something the Holy Beings are trying to tell me here. Ok, RP, did you a little bit ago think of Sn?

RP: No. A little bit. I might have been thinking of....

G: Ok, the feeling is that Sn is in his eyes. Now would you let them look at your eyes? And I want you to dowse on the True God Scale

"Where on the True God Scale is his right eye, left eye and ←Sanity Link?"

But look at his eyes, and check each one according to the True God Scale. It could be an archetype person and I will try to figure it out here.

What I think I am seeing; were you able to check his eyes? Could you see how they had changed?

What I want is for you to try to see them with your spirit eyes.

In other words I want you to look in both of his eyes with your left eye and Ask: "Where are his eyes on the True God Scale?" → They are actually fairly satanic.

It seems like there is an attempt of his spirit to pull back into an old RP shape.

Now just gaze with him with spirit eyes and ask

"How many Locks are there in his spirit?"

Why I want you to think of Locks is if your body is in the shape of your spirit,

Ask: "How many body holes does he have in his spirit?" and

"How many Black Holes would you find if you were looking at him with spirit eyes?"

Student: I get 20.

G: I tell you what I think, I think there are Core Holes and some of those have caverns that go out of them and I counted 8 major ones, but you see, the holes are like this (drawing not available). They can be a spidery hole because the shape is the shape of the lock, right? I think that there were probably about 8 holes, but (the student) was counting the arms of the holes and she counted 20. You see what I am saying? It is like an octopus. It is a shape. I want you to think of, I want you to start looking for the Core holes and where are they on his body, now?

These holes; what has happened, is that his spirit is trying to go back to a familiar shape. Remember I told you that I could draw your Name as a shape and it largely was a reflection of alignment or a misalignment with your spirit? The holy beings are showing these examples, because you are going to run into these when you start evaluating people.

What happened, there is another spirit that entered the room that I would call and Evil Double. Evil Doubles have been made over the last two years and we have all had them from time to time. They are like a spirit that has gone foul and it's been up in the Akasha Ring around the Earth. You could dowse "How many Evil Doubles do I have up there?" These are made out of your old spirits. When you have been given new spirits by divine Grace, you have kept evil doubles up there. I can see that C has three, B has three, A has two and Cel has 6. This may be your last one, RP, that is good.

So what we want to do is Pray right now, since the holy forces are with us
“To remove all Evil Doubles of ourselves or of our loved ones that which would bring harm to God’s plan on Earth.”
In essence we will pull them into the room and ask the divine forces to destroy them. (Pause) Break in tape.

I will tell you that a Rapture Key can burn up an Evil Double in the room and this is one reason why possessed people will get agitated in the presence of an exorcist. A Rapture key that is fiery, has the fiery will of God will automatically start burning up evil spirits in a room. This is one reason people get so agitated, like the dog-man when he was around me. He was so agitated; he was just about to have a fit. Your own spirit can burn up Evil Doubles, remember that. They are still coming in, but they are coming down and that is good.

If there is an evil spirit in the room and if you have done your best to align with the holy plan of God, you can pray that the Holy Spirit come down into your Rapture Key and fill your solar plexus and that will make a ring of fire around you to drive evil spirits either away, or you are going to burn them and compost them. Ideally, you will pull them to you and compost them by burning them.

You see what happened was; when RP’s (evil) double came down; and the Holy Powers pulled it down to show you for manifestation, to show you about this problem that we are going to have to keep an eye out for evil doubles. What happened was, it came down and his new spirit started resonating with his old spirit which had become evil and was supposed to be kind of locked up there in Akasha. What we need to do is pray that all evil Locks in RP’s spirit now be popped out and healed so that no demon keys can fit. This is why people would start circular thoughts and have habitual emotions of hate and stuff before demon orgasms, because they were trying to pop in demon Locks, such as Succubus and Incubus Locks; they would pop them in so that the Hades keys would fit-- or the reverse could be true as well, they were trying to form keys for the Hades door. So you also have to check for Keys. If you think about it, your spirit could change shape; it could form a hole that receives a key or form a key that goes out to open something. The key could be to open someone else’s spirit, to open Hades, hells or the Anti-Christ.

The problem is, if you make a mistake and you start resonating with evil and your spirit gets a little out of shape and you get a Lock or Key; if you reinforce that, if you sit and think, if you hear those songs and hear the same little devil’s advocate arguments--if you turn them around in your head, it is going to get worse and worse and worse. What to do if you come home all contaminated and you find yourself having given in and resonating with evil, then you need to say your prayers and ask that the Holy Breath come down fill you and burn out with the iridescent sea substance and the power of the Rapture Key to burn up all evil within you and you say it with passion, you say it with will and you say it with desire (and intend).

Saying the Prayers alone will do nothing unless you say them with will, desire and intend. If you don’t say prayers with all that you have of those three components then they are not worth a hill of beans. They are worthless. And that is why I quit saying the monastery prayers because I looked out and saw that people were just getting into the habit of it every day. I would go in every day and say prayers and I saw that there was no desire, there was no will and there was no intend, or there was darn little. So I decided that people needed to be more impeccable on their own and they needed to explore in their own hearts any lack of their own desire, will and intent to follow cosmic law.

Question: So we ask that...

Answer: Ask “That you be filled with the Holy Breath so that all disorders of spirit, soul or body be annihilated in the fires of God.” Or something like that. The thing about it is, if you do that and you say that with great passion and great intention and strong will then you will just pop out all those holes and those keys will pull back in and you will smooth out and you will not be an open door for evil.

Question: Does it matter doing it in front of a candle?

G: I think that is entirely fine to do it in front of the candle and it would be good if you had a candle in the middle of the room on a little table and you walked around the candle at different angles so that you have different directional pulls as well. Or do the Bagua or hold the candle and stand in different directions.

The key is, I want you to be able to save time. I want you to be able to get clear quickly. I don’t want to give you elaborate, difficult clearing methods. I want you to be able to use your time to help your fellow man with the least amount of effort as possible and that is not because I want you to be lazy. I want you to just be able to do more work, then, by your very efficiency.

What I have given you about the different radionic methods will help you to train yourself to pop out (the spirit dents). The numbers written in the ratios, they train you to automatically do it. (See new ratio dowsing technique under LESSON dated 22 September) But you just automatically start dowsing...I used to tell you that if you dowse a lot of ratios, you will dowse them in your sleep and then you wouldn’t need to dowse anymore. If you go back (to the ratios) and it was work to dowse ratios during the split time transition, but it is starting to work again. And I want you to practice dowsing with the ways that I have given you and in the faxes recently and also the ones I gave you the day before yesterday. I want you to practice those when you have some time, an hour or so. I don't want you to just pull in the Holy Breath because you don't want to dowse. Ideally, you would have more than one gun in your pocket; you would have a repertoire to drive away evil.

Sometimes it is appropriate to fill yourself with the Holy Breath and sometimes it is not. But always ask if it be God's will. It may be that you have to dowse some and then the Holy Breath will suddenly enter, spontaneously. Say you wake up or you are in a board meeting and all of a sudden you feel satan's presence coming in the room and I think this happens commonly in businesses and everywhere. And it could be that someone in the room is thinking a really satanic thought or hateful thought and often there is a smell to it and a sense of room temperature change. When that happens it is good to call in the Holy Breath to back it down.

You obviously can't sit and dowse a bunch of ratios in the middle of seeing a client or something, but you can call in the Holy Breath. And I think that is enough for tonight. If you review the tapes, we will get the charts typed up nicely and mailed to you and the tapes mailed out right away as soon as we get back, then you can review this stuff.

But the key things from this time together that we have had this weekend include

The aspect of Personality of Spirit as opposed to Soul and I want you to recall the Cheerio metaphor where you have the Cheerios, you have your milk and your bowl as a container. The milk is like the spirit it can be white, it can be multi-colored, it can be thick or thin. Your spirit can have many characteristics. The Cheerio is like your body and if it has two rings then it has a soul as well. But the soul cannot be supported unless one has a spirit.

A person can be on the earth without a spirit. But they are merely a shell, a phantom and evil people must be spirit-destroyed. If an evil person is controlled by an evil spirit, you are going to dowse it on their sanity link.

If you dowse "How intact someone sanity link is" (coughing) which I am feeling someone.

Oh, I have (another child) in the room. Children are dependent upon the purity of the adults in their presence. If an adult or a child has a sanity link with an evil awareness attached to it they are going to dowse as an intact spirit, but it is totally foul. And it should always be destroyed.

How do you keep them from getting more and more and more evil spirits controlling their body shell? That is a very important thing to consider because some people are just bottomless pits. Remember the last time I saw you I talked about the snot-canal and the nose septum as being a link between the dreaming and waking mind. If a person is intractably evil and that is what the Holy Breath has told you and you only evaluate this if you have brought in the Holy Breath and you have checked it with both hands and you feel the power of God in you, like you should be able to feel that tonight.

If a person is intractably evil, you have to destroy that nasal septum spirit link that allows them to...it is like it comes in there. It is almost like you will see an evil spirit come into a person's nose and snot canal. Oh, that would be not be anything we could probably put in the book. But you see, what to do is

Ask God "If it be in the divine plan that you be protected from someone who is repeatedly attacking you?"

Ask "Is it appropriate to burn their snot canal and their nasal septum of spirit?"

If a person loses their own spirit, it is totally satanic and it has gone wandering off somewhere where it is in akasha or hell or something. Then they have a stump there, it is like a spiritual stump that is coming off of their nasal septum and then something else can hook in before it seals up. What you really want to do is knock any evil spirits off and cauterize the spirit nasal septum stump.

Put that on your To Do Cauterize Spirit Nasal Stump and all you have to do is think of a fire waveform while thinking of an evil person and then nothing else can enter in to possess them.

But if God wants them to have a spirit then God can easily bypass it. It is like knocking off the scab and God brings a spirit in. God's will be done. But self-defense is one of the rights that a spiritual warrior must learn. If a spiritual warrior does not learn self-defense from a repeatedly attacking person who repeatedly brings in evil spirits to control his shell; then they are going to kill you or destroy you in some way, professionally or they are going to spiritually wear you down by sending demons to you all the time. They are going to do something dreadful like that.

That is part of (this student's) problem. Her family is all waiting there for her to come by so they can jump on her and send her to a spiritual detox treatment center. So they are all waiting there at the house with her old girlfriend waiting there to jump on her.

Question: -Inaudible-

G: That's right. I can see it all over you like a rash. So what we have got to do right now, think of J, think of T and he is not there physically, but he has a terrible spirit on him. Right now, they are within law the only two we can do. Now (to another student) Jg really has it in for you so I want you to think of Jg for me.....END OF SIDE B

AUDIO TAPE #6 Transcribed: SEPTEMBER 24, 1995 Side A

NEW ORLEANS CONFERENCE

(Checking Jg spirit from Tape #5) He must remember you pretty well. He has a terrible curse on you. He is probably trying to go through you, you know. It feels like it is gone. Think of M, the cursing guy at work? A tool for darkness--that is all we are supposed to do there.

This is just one more tool for you to have at your command when needed in times of attack. That you are going to be attacked because you will be attacked from time to time. It is not that you automatically do this. But keep in mind if a person has let their spirit to go completely evil that spirit should be destroyed, always. And that you should always cauterize the stump because the Holy Breath can always heal it and hook a new spirit up. Bringing a new spirit in is up to the Grace of God. You can't just pray for it to happen; that is wrong. What you need to pray is "God's will be done and if there is any way that you can do to help."

(Laughter over Muffin the puppy): She had her head stuck in the cup and was running around.

If it is God's will, then so be it. Even if it is somebody you are real close to. Sometimes people have really bad times when they are vulnerable to screw up and maybe the Holy Breath will maybe seal off their spirit for a while and then open it back up, hook it back up, later. There are many mysteries. I have seen over and over again people getting new souls, new spirits, new this, new that according to the Grace of God and according to the Divine Plan.

Some people are given more chances than others merely because they are needed to fulfill the plan of God. And in the past some people have gotten cocky about that, and thought: "Oh well, I am in this party, I really don't have to worry because I'm needed" or whatever. And they found out they were wrong. They must be pure in intention, of will and of desire. Unless each one of us in this group be impeccable, then we will bring down the whole party. We must be pure. Purity must be our goal; our personal purity and group purity or we will poison the whole bunch of us, the whole lot of us.

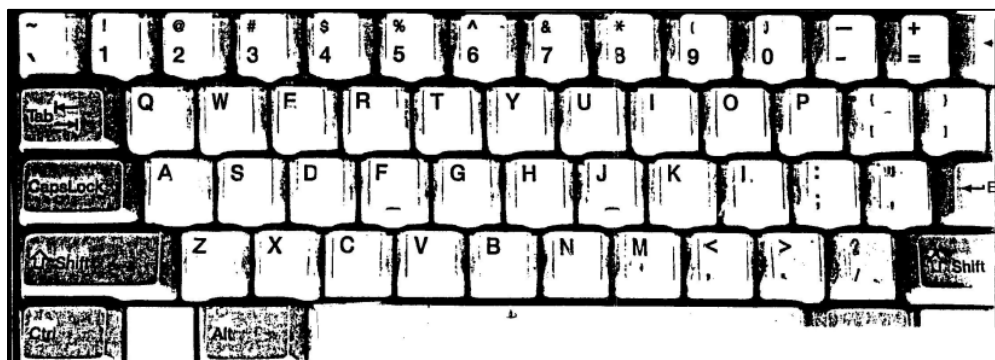

So as you go through the different things that we have discussed, I want you to also remember about checking the letters. I want you to periodically Ask: "Which letter am I blocked in right now?"

Remember yesterday I gave you a scale up and down where frequency is a good indicator of the letters being off. Right now "B's" F is down about 10, which is too low. And A's is clear off to the Anti-Christ. For some reason the rest of us are not affected. Oh, God, I'm feeling something, ugh, when I tune into this. It feels like bugs are crawling all over me. It is some female, oh, it is Gar.

Question: On both of them (Letters)?

G: Yes. It is interesting how one (person) caused B's letter to drop way down and A's to go (high). Realize that any deviation high or low is a serious problem. So we are going to destroy it. See because your letters will go off if your spirit is haywire. But it may be something that....you see you have to look at your spirit along each letter. Evaluate your spirit purity on A, B, C, D and you don't have to do this all of the time. You ought to be able to just look at the alphabet and check it. For some reason I couldn't see this too well until I just scanned and now I'm feeling really bad, like the F letter.....

Now it is coming into line. So you should at some point get a little ←KEYBOARD CHART.

"C's" Y looks all haywire. It is not haywire on anyone else, so it may be someone's spirit that we don't know. It is Std.

I don't know why. Is it an archetype? It is not exactly Std. I know who it is. There is a man who has the Key to your old Lock. What I am saying is, you had you know, the weakness of the starvation stuff? That was like a Lock pattern that you had. It has smoothed out now, but there is a key trying to hit that lock.

Now remember that if a key is trying to hit your lock then you ought to get rid of that key because it is going to keep hitting until it finally caves you in. It could wear you down by reminding you of your old weaknesses.

So One question is: “How many keys are hitting your Lock”? or “Your old Lock Position?”

Which in C, it is where that cyst is, somewhere right here. I wondered what that was from. That cyst has to do with the old starvation thing and if people’s Keys keep hitting the old spot it will wear it down again and you are going to stay sick there.

So what you have to do, and I will tell you who it is, there is some resonating weakness in (an in-law). He doesn’t have to be doing anything ornery. He has some kind of fear of future thing, of course almost everyone who is expecting a baby has some anxiety and fear of the future. Fear of not being able to support the baby. I don’t know what it is, but it is some sort of similar resonating weakness in his spirit. When you are around him, he has a Key that tends to fit your Lock deviation. It is like your.... It is kind of like the song “People” and one part of it where Streisand sings something about two halves (Sings): “Once you were half now you’re whole. No more hunger and thirst, but first be a person who needs people....” Think about that: “Once you were half now you are whole, no more hunger and thirst but first be a person who needs people.”

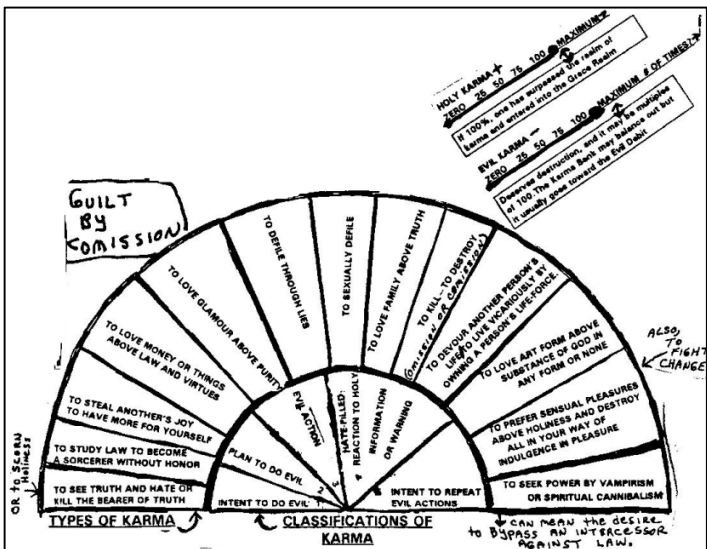

Isn’t it interesting, you and Cel both have a food thing? Hers manifests differently and yours is more cerebral in a way. But this old association with love, food, security, this sort of thing is so common that it just so happens that your (in-law) has a weakness, that when you are around him, you may start to go back to your Lock pattern. This is why people feel good around other people with similar weaknesses. They like to be around people with the same weaknesses, because they feel accepted and loved. It is not that the weaknesses manifest the same, and that is why one is a Lock and one is a Key. Otherwise you would both be Locks, right?

Question: My (in law) ...now...

G: It is interesting. I keep getting him dowsing as (a male version of his wife’s name) and I think that is because his identity is merging so much with his wife. I think they have a couple of Locks and Keys together that could be healed that would be beneficial for the baby. I can see two Locks on the wife and four in him. Five Keys on the wife and maybe ten on the husband.

See, this is another mystery: What is a Key vs. a Lock? It has to do with the karma

Question: You speak of the Rapture Key too, so they are not necessarily always....

G: This refers to extra Keys. It has to do with the karma level and let me get the KARMA CHART and I will tell you.

KEYS have to do with plan to do evil, intent to do evil and a spirit aspect of evil actions. Remember this is the one where your karma would have to do with soul loss, mental decline or spirit severance? The first three Classifications have to do with KEYS.

LOCKS have to do with #4 and #5: they have to do with “Hate filled reaction to holy information or warning” where Grace is lost and Intent to repeat physical actions which involves the loss of the physical body would be the final karma resolution. Let’s put this on a chart when we get home.

The first three Classifications of Karma have to do with KEYS the last two with LOCKS.

So you can see all keys and locks that you have, had to do with Karma.

If you are developing Keys, then you are not doing so hot on the first three classifications of Karma. And if you develop new Locks, that is pretty bad. It means you hate Truth or you just “damn will be going to do what you please!” physically, mentally, thought wise and speech wise.

I would say that the Locks are far more serious in some ways than the keys because that means any person with the first three things can just put their key in your lock. But they are all bad. They are all terrible. So keep an eye on that and this is also something you will know how to teach others.

Relating to Lock and Keys you can ASK:

"How can I help my relative?" Look on the outer fan and see aspects of that particular weakness.

"Does she have a Key?"

"Where on the body parts chart is it located?" She has a key in her left kidney area of spirit.

"Which one is it on the inner fan chart?" This key is the third classification.

"What is it on the outer fan chart?" and you can dowse that.

INNER CHART: So you are looking at the type, the extent of the karma on the INNER CHART and then

OUTER CHART: You are looking at the nuance of the karma on the OUTER CHART.

And you do this with yourself. If you develop a key or a lock you check it which it is on, on those two rings.

You will be able to see what you are doing wrong. And Cel, eventually maybe you will be able to type this up and we will rewrite it for the book.

This is important because we will know how to...and you may see how a person is intending wrongly or something. What you can do is talk to them or you can pray that they understand more about the realm of intention. But you see, if they have a primary spirit weakness, they may not hear you with words. You can't hammer a bent nail and this is where the trickery of the spirit comes into being, for the simple reason that people can't hear if their spirit is deformed.

Often Holy Powers act in such a way as to stir the spirit so that it will hear. It is more than inspirational speech. It is often no speech. It is more important (to stir the spirit) between words than words when a person is spirit deformed. Jesus said: "I speak to them in parables because having ears they do not hear, having eyes they do not see. But to you I speak plainly" about the mysteries, in other words. Why did Jesus say that? That is because he had interceded for his disciples so that their spirits were aligned, so that He could speak directly without clouding it in metaphors and parables, so that they would hear indirectly, so as to not alarm their deformed and possessed spirits. See, when people are real possessed you have to talk indirectly to them, or their spirits will attack you, or their spirits will tell them you are the devil himself.

So you see, a real possessed person must be taught indirectly. But a person that is able to have his spirit pulled into line can be taught directly. And this is why you have to know when to tell a person something and when not to tell them something. The only way you are going to know that, is that the Holy Breath will tell you. This is where caution comes into play. If you tell someone something too soon, they are likely to attack you with all the spirits out of hell. And I see that you are developing caution and I am happy about that. It is not that I don't ever want you to speak out. But I want you to speak out so that you do not bring unnecessary harm upon yourself.

It is not that I don't think that you are not going to suffer. I think there will be times when your vision will make you suffer. Remember the case of INGRID in The Prophet's Story where I talk about the difference between visualization and vision? Visualization you do to provoke an outcome because you have desire, you have intention, and you have the will for something. Vision; you must be in many ways desire-less, your will is totally submitted to the plan of God and your intention is only to see. You don't intend to get a pyramid scheme rolling or anything. Then you can see what is going on because you are not trying to formulate a pseudo-event in front of your eyes like rose-colored glasses. And you can see where people are wounded, damaged or dead and you may bring them back to life if you can see where they are dead. But if you can't see where they are dead, you cannot bring them back to life and you may not be able to bring them back to life, anyway. It may not be within Law.

But if you are courageous and you are full of divine prayers, often your own purity will be enough to pull some loved ones back into line. Often your own purity can be used for their karma banks if it is within God's will. Sometimes it cannot be. But to have the courage to see rightly, other people's flaws and your own, and then without any bullshit or making excuses for them or yourself, you make a firm commitment to devote your desire, your will and your intend substances to changing yourself and to facilitating the changes in others so that the world may change, so that the children of tomorrow have hope. Then you truly can call yourself a saint. Because the greatest burden of a saint is to see, and the next greatest burden of a saint is that others hate him because he sees. The rest is small fry after that.

In order to see, you must be courageous and you must be clear of spirit; because you see with spirit. If your intention is foul, if your will is polluted with your own lower satanic desire for this or that, if your desires have become that of an animal and not that of a man or woman dedicated to the plan of God, then you will never see and you will never (---) and you will never help anyone.

These teachings are hard teachings. We are at a point when we must speak somewhat directly even though we are hated. You know I have told you that people with deformed spirits, you can't speak to them directly? But there is a clause to that contract that is towards the end times prophets are commanded to speak directly because we don't have time for parables and little sweet stories. We need to move fast. And if that means provoking the evil spirits of all time to do battle with you because you dare to speak out, it may be that you are required to do so in some way.

We are hoping that the book will provoke that battle and the battle will rage in the heavens and it will not be turned upon you personally as it has upon me and others. But, should it happen you must be willing to suffer spiritual stings and arrows and who knows? I mean, you may have to lay down your life. But I don't think you will. I think the greater thing for you to do is to live for God and not to die for stupid people's vengeance.

It was different in the time of Jesus, Jesus did what was required for that age and the time now, it is far more important that we all live and not be martyrs, but be victors for the souls of the children of tomorrow. To do that we must be impeccable and we must be able to form a synergistic team. It is far better to have seven holy people than it is to have 100 polluted people. You cannot allow poison in the Holy Grail cup of a holy team. If you put poison in the Christ Cup, each that shares that unholy communion will become toxic; will fall from Grace. We must hold ourselves above humanity in order to have a hand down to them to pull them up in the rapture. And if we are not better than the masses, then we cannot help them. We must be better than the common man. We must be saints.

And we must find other saints and we must teach people what it means to be a saint. We must spend our very last breath, our very essence, every part of us to do that and granted we have other things in life we have to do. For example (a child) needs home schooling and we need to survive physically. We need a roof over our heads. We need to do all these things but that must always be secondary to the purity of one's struggle toward the divine plan of Christ; toward manifestation of the Divine plan of Christ. And we do the other things prayerfully and thankfully, the other functions that we do in life the other interactions with humans. We undertake the ones that are required as part of our individual path, we undertake them with grace and dignity and we do our best in whatever.

But we never lose sight of the necessity to devote ourselves to seeing without the virus of the evil Doppelganger; the Anti-Christ forces which are whispering the lies, the pretty little lies to the masses that are bringing them into ruin. We must be willing to see both glory and evil. We must look in heavens and hells and we must be able then to gather enough power to change the matter that is in hells into something divine and pure so that there is manna from heaven for the children of tomorrow to eat lest they starve because we failed to see what was there.

We give thanks to the Divine Forces that have endowed us with knowledge on how to help humanity and ourselves. We give thanks to these people for their help. We give thanks to each other for our communion with each other. We give thanks for the opportunity to serve God in a way that few have ever been asked to do. We give thanks that some part of us must have been worthy or we wouldn't be here.

We give thanks because we are winning the battle for men's souls. That the future will change because of what we are doing and will continue to do. And no matter how much victory we see before us we will never lose our necessity until every soul is saved; every child has a chance to hear about Jesus, about Law, about Virtue. We will never rest until the New Heaven and New Earth is filled with the substance that it needs to provide a safe haven for the children of tomorrow. We sacrifice all that is evil in us and even all that is good. We give all that we have to God with humility with love, with full intention to submit our wills to the divine plan of God. Amen
